HALL — DICKSON

A former Winchester girl returned to be married in her childhood church on Saturday afternoon, June 25, when Miss Natalie Rextrow Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw Dickson of Boston, formerly of Oxford street, became the bride of Hugh Upham Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Inman Hall of Vancouver, B. C. The marriage took place in the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Dr. Howard J. Chidley, officiating.

White flowers, ferns and candelabra made an attractive setting for the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception in the parish house. J. Albert Wilson, church organist and choirmaster, played the bridal music.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Dickson wore on off-the-shoulder gown of lace over satin with a fitted bodice and a bertha of matching lace. Her chapel-length veil was arranged with a headdress of tulle and tiny seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Louise Olivier of Winchester was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. John Ridge Shattuck of New York and Mrs. John Christopher Finegan of Minneapolis, Minn., twin sisters of the bride; another sister, Mrs. Richard Sircom Bullens of Melrose; Miss Ellanor Aileen Hall of Vancouver, B. C., sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Mary Lou Glatfelter of York, Pa. Miss Nancy Jane Bullens of Melrose, small niece of the bride, was flower girl.

All the other bridal attendants wore yellow dresses having lace bodices and chiffon skirts. They wore matching coronets embroidered with seed pearls and carried gladiolas, the honor maid's being white and the bridesmaids', yellow.

Anthony Dalton Scott of Vancouver, B. C., was best man for Mr. Hall, and the usher corps included Robert Treadwell of Bronxville, N. Y.; Edgar Lloyd Barrett of Cambridge, Philip Hendrickson of Clinton, Richard Sircom Bullens of Melrose, John Ridge Shattuck of New York and John Christopher Finegan of Minneapolis.

After a wedding journey to Maine, Winnipeg and Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Hall will make their home at Port Alberni, British Columbia.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Radcliffe College, class of 1949. Mr. Hall, who is in the lumber business, graduated from the University of British Columbia and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

HITCHCOCK — GOWER

At the Eliot Church in Newton at 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, June 23, Miss Nancy Lee Gower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lee Gower of 155 Oakleigh road, Newton, was married by the Rev. Dr. Ray Eusden to Robert Norman Hitchcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Hitchcock of 121 Church street.

Miss Gower was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of traditional white satin, having a tight bodice and a full skirt extending into a short train. Her bridal veil was caught to a Juliet cap of matching white satin and she carried a white bible and three white roses.

Miss Margaret Lorraine Redpath of Milton was the bride's only attendant. She wore a full length dress of aqua organdie with red roses in her hair, matching the flowers of her bouquet.

William Edward Hitchcock of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Bruce Haskell Gower of Newton, brother of the bride; Marshall Goodwin and Dana Goodwin both of Biddeford Pool, Maine, and Lewis Curtis of Winchester.

STREET — HAWES

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Phillips Congregational Church in Watertown Saturday evening, June 25, when Miss Janet Hawes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis L. Hawes of 183 Mt. Auburn street, Watertown, became the bride of Earle Brandon Street, son of Mrs. Frances Street of 83 Pinckney street, Boston, formerly of this town. The Rev. Paul B. Myers officiated at the ceremony which took place at 8 o'clock and was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Hawes was given in marriage by her father. She had two honor attendants, her sister, Miss Jean Hawes of Watertown, and her cousin, Mrs. Glen Woodbury of Reading. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Sulmonetti of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Shirley MacKay of Watertown, Miss Jean McKenzie of Akron, Ohio; and Miss Barbara E. Couch of Pittsfield.

The bride wore an off-the-shoulder gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a sheer marquisette yoke and bertha of rosepoint, a fitted bodice with long sleeves and a bouffant skirt extending into a long train. Her full length veil was arranged with a matching Juliet cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of sweet peas and stephanotis.

All the bridal attendants wore off-the-shoulder dresses of organdy over taffeta with full skirts, the honor attendants wearing pink and carrying cascade bouquets of roses, and the bridesmaids wearing pale green and carrying cascade bouquets of mixed flowers. All wore Juliet caps to match their dresses.

Laurence Street of Boston was best man for his brother and the usher corps comprised Donald C. Cass and William R. McEwen, both of Boston, formerly of Winchester; John A. MacDonald of Boston, Roderick N. Shepherd of Cambridge, Walter J. Palmunin of Centerville and Maurice E. Frye of Danvers.

After a wedding journey to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Street will make their home in Boston.

The bride graduated this month from Skidmore College in New York. Mr. Street prepared for college at Winchester High School and Hebron Academy. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College, is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity and during the war served three years as a pilot in the Army Air Forces. He is now in the real estate and insurance business.

NICOLAIS — CLEARY

The altar of St. Mary's Church was decorated with mixed flowers, white gladiolas and delphinium Saturday morning, June 25, for the marriage of Miss Ruth Elizabeth Cleary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Cleary of 222 Cambridge street, to Michael Joseph Nicolais, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nicolais of 3452 Seventy-second street, Jackson Heights, N.Y. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of the church, officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Miss Mary Callahan, organist, played the bridal music and the soloist was Miss Virginia Ohlmuller of West Englewood, N. J.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Cleary wore a Victorian style gown of ivory satin with a mandarin collar and illusion yoke, pearl accented bodice and voluminous back folds of the skirt extending into a long train. Her three-tiered French illusion veil was caught to an ivory satin crown and she carried a satin covered prayer-book with eucharis lilies and streamers of stephanotis.

Miss Harriett U. Rady of Watertown was her cousin's only bridal attendant. She wore an ice blue taffeta dress with a net yoke and full skirt and an open-crown picture hat and gloves to match. Her flowers were yellow carnations and blue delphinium arranged in a cascade bouquet.

A. Lawrence Miglierina of Philadelphia, Pa., was best man for Mr. Nicolais and the ushers were Thomas Byron of Concord and George Davis of West Concord, both cousins of the bride.

A reception and wedding breakfast took place after the ceremony at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge. Mrs. Cleary, mother of the bride, wore a long sheer orchid crepe dress with navy accessories and a corsage of orchids. Out-of-town guests came from New York and Philadelphia, New Jersey and Rhode Island, and from as far distant as Phoenix, Arizona, and New Orleans, Louisiana.

After a motor honeymoon trip to Montreal and a week's cruise on the Saguenay River, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolais will make their home at Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y.

The bride attended the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Nicolais is a graduate of Columbia University and a real estate officer associated with the Manufacturer's Trust Company in New York.

STEPHENSON — WAUGH

A wedding of Winchester interest took place at the Church of Christ at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H., on Saturday afternoon, June 25, when Miss Barbara Louise Waugh, daughter of Mrs. Harold Beers Naramore of Lebanon, N. H., formerly of Winchester, became the bride of Dr. David John Stephenson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Stephenson of Denver, Colo. Rev. Chester B. Parks officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was attended by Mrs. William B. Weeks of New Rochelle, N. Y., ninety-year old grandmother of the bride, who flew to New Hampshire for both the wedding and the pre-nuptial festivities. A large bouquet of white delphinium and syringa with tall white candles in two candelabra decorated the altar of the church.

Miss Waugh was given in marriage by her stepfather. She wore a gown of Burmil satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline outlined in seed pearls, a fitted bodice embroidered at the waist with seed pearls, long pointed sleeves and a full train. Her matching full-length veil of illusion was caught to a twist of satin studded with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and sweet peas centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Donald R. Waugh, Jr., of Carle Place, N. Y., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a Nile green dress having a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace and a full chiffon skirt. Her large horsehair hat matched her dress and she carried an arm bouquet of mixed garden flowers with predominating shades of yellow and white.

The bridesmaids, gowned like the matron of honor and carrying bouquets of spring flowers in pastel shades, were Mrs. Russell Barnett of Boston, Mrs. George Friou of New Haven, Conn., Mrs. Alan Howland of Hanover, N. H.; and Mrs. Robert Burdett of Norwich, Conn.

Donald R. Waugh, Jr., of Carle Place, N. Y., brother of the bride, was Dr. Stephenson's best man, and the usher corps, headed by Henry Toll of Denver Col., included Dr. Warren Taylor and Dr. William Arnold, both of Hanover, N. H.; and William B. Weeks of New Rochelle, N. Y., cousin of the bride.

A reception was held at the Dartmouth Outing Club in Hanover which was banked with evergreens and mixed garden flowers. Mrs. Naramore, mother of the bride, was gowned in Daschia lace and wore a large dusty pink hat and a cymbidium corsage. Mrs. Stephenson, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in rose with white accessories, wearing orchids and a small white flower-trimmed hat.

Dr. Stephenson and his bride are spending their honeymoon on a trip through Canada en route to their future home in Denver, Colo.

The bride graduated from Winchester High School in 1941, from Mt. Holyoke College in 1944 and from the Yale University School of Nursing in 1947. She recently has been assistant director of nurses at Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital in Hanover.

Dr. Stephenson graduated from Dartmouth College in 1945 and from the University of Colorado School of Medicine in 1948. He has just completed his internship at Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital and is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical fraternity, the Denver Dartmouth Alumni Club and the United States Naval Reserve.

RICHMOND — BOND

In the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close friends, Miss Louise Herrick Bond of Medford became the bride last Saturday, June 25, of Mr. Myron C. Richmond of Winchester. The ceremony was performed at high noon by the Rev. Alexander Henderson in the First Baptist Church of Medford. Pink and blue delphinium with white stock and baby's breath were on the altar. The organist was Miss Marion Abbott of Andover.

The bride wore a Wedgewood blue sheer with insets of alencon lace. Her hat was of pink spun nylon net with tiny blue rose buds and her corsage was of Eucharist lilies and stephanotis. Her sister, Miss Marion F. Bond of Revere, as maid of honor, wore mint green with yellow glamelias. Mr. Carl G. Richmond of Winchester was best man for his brother.

The bride is the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Willis G. Bond of Revere. She is a graduate of the Wheelock School and has been a first grade teacher at the Lincoln School in Revere. The bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Richmond of Revere and is a Warrant Officer of the United States Coast Guard.

Mr. and Mrs. Richmond will make their home at 25 South Gateway Winchester.

DEACON — HOWARD

Miss Muriel Joan Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Frank Howard of Glen road, and John Dudley Deacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene N. Deacon of Waban, were married on Saturday afternoon, June 25, at St. Andrews Episcopal Church in New London, N. H. The Rev. John McGann read the 4 o'clock service which was followed by a reception at the Lake Sunapee Country Club.

Miss Howard was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of sheer marquisette and lace with a full skirt and a short train. Her fingertip-length matching veil was held in place by a simple white band with clusters of orange blossoms at both sides and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, sweet peas and roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Janet L. Bowmar of Abington was maid of honor, and Miss Suzanne Stevens of Waban was flower girl. Bridesmaids were Miss E. Caroline Thomson of Springfield and Miss Nancy Nutter of Winchester.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length dark green dotted Swiss dresses with white horsehair picture hats trimmed with dark green velvet. The honor maid and bridesmaids carried old fashioned bouquets in pastel shades. The flower girl carried a basket of the same colored flowers.

Richard P. Deacon of New York was best man for his brother, and another brother, Benjamin Deacon of New Jersey, was one of the four ushers, the others being Arthur Howard of Winchester, brother of the bride; James Kyle of Maplewood, N. J.; and Dixon Rich of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Deacon went to Oyster Harbors for their honeymoon, and will make their future home in New York.

The bride is a graduate of Colby College at Waterville, Maine. Mr. Deacon graduated from Yale University and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

THE NOONAN'S 55th

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Noonan of Sheridan Circle celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary Sunday evening with a family dinner party at their home. Assisting their parents in observing their anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O'Sullivan (Leona Noonan) of Malden, Fire Captain and Mrs. J. Edward Noonan, with their daughter, Marcia, and son, Paul; Miss Marion Noonan and Mr. and Mrs. C. Norman Noonan.

On the actual anniversary day, June 27, many neighbors and old friends of the Noonans called at their home to extend their congratulations and best wishes. There were also many cards and flowers. Both Mr. and Mrs. are 85 years old and are still able to take a keen interest in life. The Star extends its congratulations.

STILL ON THE JOB

Former Police Chief William H. Rogers may be retired, but he can still detect a statute violation without even polishing his glasses.

Last Sunday an out-of-town ice-cream peddler started to solicit business on Grayson road near the ex-chief's home, and it wasn't too long before he had officers from Headquarters checking and finding that the visitor had no license to peddle and no registration for his car.

His excuse that his boss had told him to go ahead and peddle without any license left the local police cold and the man will appear in court at Woburn.

MRS. MARY R. FOLEY

Mrs. Mary R. Foley of 3 Sheffield West, widow of Daniel J. Foley, died early Saturday afternoon, June 25, at her home after an illness of only a few hours.

Mrs. Foley was the daughter of John, and Joan (Cahalane) Sullivan Mountain. She was born January 6, 1871 in County Cork, Ireland, coming to this country as a girl of 12 years and settling in Cambridge.

She was educated in the Cambridge schools, was married in Boston and lived for a short time after her marriage in Charlestown. Later she was for many years a resident of Everett before coming to Winchester in 1943. She was a member of the Everett Court, Catholic Daughters of America; of the Branch Lady Shields, the auxiliary of the Irish National Foresters; and of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Everett.

Mrs. Foley leaves four sons, Rev. Fr. Daniel J. Foley, S. J., of Boston; John P. Foley, Gerald E. Foley and Frank J. Foley, all of Everett; five daughters, Mrs. Arthur Paradis of Boston, Mrs. Anna McLean of Dorchester, Mrs. Philip Foley of Milford, Conn., and Miss Frances R. Foley and Miss Helen B. Foley, both of Winchester. There are also surviving 28 grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Sheehan of Roslindale and Mrs. Margaret Meehan of Dorchester.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Gaffey Funeral Home in Medford with solemn high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott was celebrant, Rev. Fr. Francis O'Neil was deacon and Rev. Fr. Frederick Walsh of the Immaculate Conception Church was subdeacon. Father Foley, son of the deceased, and twenty fellow Jesuit priests were seated in the sanctuary.

Thomas Sheehan, John Carroll and Stephen Casey, nephews of the deceased, were bearers with three grandsons, John Foley, Arthur and Daniel McLean. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

MISS FLORENCE EUNICE PLUMMER

Miss Florence Eunice Plummer of 12 Clematis street, a long time resident of Winchester and for many years an employee of the Eastern Felt Company on Canal street, died Thursday evening, June 23, at the Winchester Hospital, following a short illness.

Miss Plummer was the daughter of James F., and Carrie E. (Harrington) Plummer, her mother later becoming Mrs. Carrie E. Snow. She was born April 5, 1882, in Lynn, but came to Winchester about 1887, and attended the Winchester schools, graduating from Winchester High School. She had been employed at the Eastern Felt Company as a book-keeper since 1906, was a member of the Eastern Star and of the Bethany Society of the Second Congregational Church.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at the late residence by the Rev. Donald Maccallum, pastor of the Second Congregational Church, assisted by the Rev. Elton K. Bassett, pastor of the North Congregational Church of Woburn and a long time family friend. Interment was in Chestnut Hill Cemetery, Burlington.

NO FIREWORKS HERE

Fire Chief James E. Callahan announced yesterday that fireworks will not be permitted in Winchester under Section 39, Chapter 148 of the Massachusetts General Laws which prohibits "the keeping and use" of illegal fireworks. All such fireworks are subject to seizure and those possessing them are subject to fine.

State Fire Marshall Everett I. Flanders is making an all-out drive against the bootlegging of fireworks into Massachusetts from out-of-state, reminding everyone that it is illegal to bring in fireworks afoot, in automobiles, on horseback, or in any way except in "approved vehicles." The State authorities are going to maintain a close watch for the illegal transportation of fireworks and local police and fire departments are cooperating in the ban on keeping and discharging fireworks throughout the state.

GIRL SCOUTS USE HOSPITAL BULLETIN BOARD

For July and August, Winchester Hospital is glad to lend its downtown bulletin board to one of its sister agencies in the Greater Boston Community Fund family, the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts.

The board has now been covered with an announcement of the fund drive to build a cabin for the Girl Scouts, and the sketch of the cabin in the center of the board shows it about half completed.Logs will be added as the Fund progresses.

At the end of the vacation period, the Hospital will resume its series of bulletin board panels to bring a variety of facts to the passing public.

ATTENDED 45TH REUNION

Mr. Guy Palmer, a well known Winchester boy, spent his 45th reunion with members of his class from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Osterville over the week-end. Following the reunion he paid a visit to his sister, Mrs. Fred MacDonald of Forest street and called on old friends.

Mr. Palmer retired June 15 after 47 years service from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad as engineer of construction and maintenance. He was given a testimonial dinner June 16th in Chicago.

RECEIVED HARVARD DEGREE

Forbes H. Norris, Jr., son of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, was graduated last week from Harvard with a degree in engineering.

"Ted" as he is familiarly known, made a brilliant record in swimming while at Harvard, winning many points for the Crimson swimming team, especially in the quarter-mile free stroke event.

This summer "Ted" hopes to fly to Los Angeles to compete in the 1500 meter event in the National A. A. U. Trials, so called, a big swimming meet.

From California he will fly to Indiana to compete in the National Long Distance Swimming Championship event there, a four mile race. "Ted" will be defending champion in Indiana, having won the long distance title for the past two years. He was on the Olympic Swimming Team last summer.

This fall he will enter the Massachusetts General Hospital for operations to correct the crippled leg that resulted from a boyhood accident.

BUILDING COMMITTEE INSPECTED SCHOOLS

Guided by the principals, Mr. Raymond Dickman and Mr. Wade Grindle, the members of your Junior - Senior High School Building Committee made a thorough inspection of both school buildings, with blueprints in hand.

The Superintendent recently met for a long consultation with the Committee members when the present inadequacies and future building needs of the secondary schools were discussed.

This group, which meets twice monthly and calls special meetings whenever necessary, is completing the appraisal of existing buildings, the first step in its program of study.

WINCHESTER MAN IN LONDON PLAY

Mr. Sam Main of New York City, formerly of Winchester, sailed on June 24 aboard the S. S. Media for England where he will be a member of the London company of "Death of a Salesman". Paul Muni will have the leading role, and Mr. Main will play the part of Bernard. The play will be directed in London, as in New York, by Elia Kazan, and will open in late July. Mr. Main is the son of Mrs. Charles R. Main and the late Mr. Main, former residents of Prospect street.

COMING EVENTS

WINCHESTER BOY WITH GROUP 20 PLAYERS

Bert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Smith, 119 Highland avenue, is spending his second season with the Group 20 Players, Inc., repertory theatre in Unionville, Connecticut.

His roles for the season will include those of Mr. Fitzpatrick, Stage Manager in "The Skin of our Teeth," a dual role of the soldier and the shepherd in "The Infernal Machine", an adaptation of the Oedipus story by Jean Coctau; Baptista in "Taming of the Shrew", Tom in "The Glass Menagerie", and the Rev. Canon Chausable in "The Importance of Being Earnest".

A graduate of Bates College, Mr. Smith spent six months of his Army career with the Special Service division which played for the service men. At the Wellesley Summer Theatre in 1947, he played with Bert Lytell in "Ah, Wilderness", while he was on leave from his position as instructor of speech and interpretative reading at the University of Buffalo.

During the past winter, two traveling productions of Shakespeare - "The Taming of the Shrew" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream" - a role in "City of Kings", an original Blackfriars' production in New York; and as director with the West Side Players of New York City have kept Mr. Smith well occupied.

After his summer season of acting, producing for Group 20's experimental theatre, and working as vice-president of the organization he will attend the Yale Graduate School of Drama, majoring in acting and directing.

CLEMENT RICHARDSON VISITING HERE

Mr. Clement Richardson of Kansas City, Mo., a former well known Winchester young man, was in town last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Simon D. Barksdale of Chester street, while attending the 42nd reunion of his class at Harvard University.

Mr. Richardson, who came north from Virginia as a young man, attended Brown University before graduating from Harvard in 1907. He made his home in Winchester for some years and was active in the First Baptist Church.

Following his graduation from Harvard he entered educational work, in which he has engaged for more than forty years, for the most part in the middle west. He is now president of the Kansas Vocational School.

Troop 6 Camps at Greeley Ponds

For this trip to Greeley Ponds, N. H., and Waterville Camp, only two of the three classes of Troop 6 campers went. These were groups A and B. Group A is the most experienced, can tote packs and have had more camping and climbing experience, while Group B hasn't had that much experience yet.

In Group A were John Becker, John Mooers, Mr. Elliot, Ted Elliot, Ed McElroy, John Holdsworth, Dave Holdsworth, Hank Hooper, and Mr. Hooper, our Scoutmaster.

In Group B were Craig Muncaster, Mr. Muncaster, Fred Burtt (who has had the experience, but went with this group to assist Mr. Muncaster) and Stan Godsoe.

The first group arrived at the trail (after stopping at Plymouth, N. H., to check on forest conditions) and climbed to the shelter. Insect dope was soon applied, and then camp was made. By mid-afternoon Group B had arrived at the Waterville Camp ground and they, too, made camp. John Becker and Ted Elliot were driven to the trail and they climbed to the shelter. They arrived too late for dinner, but ate their share cooled.

That evening three fishermen came in. They fished, then had supper at 10:30 p. m. They were still talking at 12:00, and Mr. Hooper had a tough time quieting them so that the boys could sleep and be rested for the climb next day. The fishermen went out fishing at 4:00 the next morning, but our group didn't wake until 7:00. Breakfast was eaten and everything cleaned. When camp was ship-shape the boys started climbing. There were quite a few rests as it was very steep and the day very hot. East Peak was the toughest part of the mountain as the hurricane had hit that section of the mountain and many trees had fallen across the trail. The boys reached the summit in 2½ hours, and everyone ran down to the spring and drank deeply of cool water. We had lunch near the spring; then went to visit the Forest Ranger, where we spent an interesting hour. The descent was made in 1½ hours.

Group B made the climb and found bear tracks on the trail, and while they were gone, a racoon had got into some of their food, and eaten butter and bacon! Smart animal!

The next morning it began to pour, and after packing down trail, we found our luck deserted us . . . for Mr. Elliot had a flat tire. Soon it began to clear, and the tire replaced by the spare one. And we all headed for the Waterville Camp for noon meal, then on homeward. As Staff Rogers can tell you, Greeley Ponds is noted for its bugs . . . and Troop 6 got its generous share of bites this time.

A Chance To Serve

Perhaps you've often thought you'd like to help the Winchester Boy Scout organization but felt you just "couldn't give up the time." Well, here's your chance to serve . . . to help lead and guide Winchester's future citizens . . . and it'll take very little of your time.

Winchester needs Boy Scout merit badge counsellors very badly. Boys are ready and waiting to pass merit badge requirements but there is no one skilled in the particular merit badge subject ready to review the boy. Boys who otherwise might become Eagle Scouts are thus being held back. As a merit badge counsellor, the boy will call you, after thoroughly preparing himself to pass the requirements, and arrange to visit you in your home at your convenience to be reviewed for his merit badge award. If you feel that your hobby or business qualifies you to review boys in any of the following merit badge subjects, you are cordially invited to call Winchester's Advancement Chairman, Bill Boune (WInchester 6-2857) and talk it over with him . . .

FIRST BAPTIST YOUTH CHOIR BEACH PICNIC

Despite a dismal appearing morning June 22, fifteen members of the First Baptist Youth Choir made a trip to Crane's Beach, Ipswitch for their final social of the season. The weather man was very cooperative, however, for the skies cleared just as the group reached the beach, and there was enough sun to send everyone home with varying degrees of sunburn.

Val Honsinger turned out to be the waterbug of the party, stoutly maintaining that the frigid water was really comfortable — once one became sufficiently numbed. Phil Dresser managed to retain his claim to the heartiest appetite, although he had some close competition. Adele "Ted Williams" Jonah and Don "Johnny Pesky" MacFeeley took the softball honors.

Although everyone agreed the trip was an outstanding success, young Bill Jonah obviously had the best time of all. Bill is a little young to belong to the choir, not yet having turned two, but he was the most enthusiastic member of the party.

Martin Bradley Millane, 14 Rangeley road, received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Adelbert College of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

ROTARY NEWS

The Rotary Club of Winchester were privileged to entertain the Championship High School Baseball Team at their Luncheon meeting this past week. Although some of the boys were unable to attend due to jobs for the summer it was, nonetheless an honor to have them there. At the head table with President Charlie Murphy sat the head of physical education for the Winchester Schools, Henry Knowlton, and head coach Ted Bartlett who has been largely responsible for the success of this year's team. "Bart", as he is so well known by all the boys of the high school, has worked long and hard for over two years to produce this winning team. Like the big league "farm systems" he has been working with these boys both during the school year as well as during the summer when they played as the Junior Legion team. This system is just paying off this year and should continue to do so. In his talk about the team and the system Bart made particular note of the attitude of the boys towards the game and spoke very highly of their loyalty and good sportsmanship. Had they learned nothing more than that the whole program would have been deemed a success but to go on and win honor and fame for themselves and Winchester also on the diamond was even more noteworthy. Much credit is due "Bart" and the type of boys that we have here in Winchester. The Rotary and all the townspeople are proud of them and wish to extend their thanks and congratulations to Bart for this fine job. He is not only carrying on this work this year but is also running the very fine playground ball team program and in the twilight soft ball games which is filling a great need for recreation among the younger men of the town (the Old Men team please note).

Before the program Allan Wilde welcomed and charged with the ideals of Rotary our newest member, Dr. Seymour Russell, who entered with title of Dentist, Pediodontist. "Russ" will be an addition to the club and we are glad to have him as one of our members.

WINCHESTER CHAPTER AMERICAN RED CROSS REPRESENTED AT NATIONAL CONVENTION

On Sunday, June 26, four senior members of the Winchester Red Cross, along with two Junior Red Cross members, left Logan Airport on a Special Eastern Airlines Plane to attend the National Convention of the Red Cross at Atlantic City. Approximately 5000 delegates representing adult and Junior Red Cross members from 3746 Chapters are expected to attend the four-day convention.

Mrs. James H. Coon, Chairman of Blood Donor Program, Mrs. Ray Mauger, Chairman of Canteen, Mrs. George Nardin, Chairman of Production, and Mrs. George A. Dutting, Executive Director, will represent the Winchester Chapter at the sessions of this convention.

Thoughtful discussions of the administration of the Red Cross and a searching analysis of the content and trend of all phases of the Red Cross program will highlight these meetings.

Convention sessions of the Junior Red Cross, planned and carried out by their own advisory committees, will be attended by Miss Margery Carroll and Miss Margery Zinn.

Everything possible has been planned to make the Convention proceedings informative, effective, and withal interesting in order that delegates may carry back to the Chapters the spirited messages and the thinking of those interested and versed in particular parts of the program.

GIRL SAVED AT SANDY BEACH

Virginia Lowe, 12, of 398 Franklin street, Cambridge, was saved from drowning Monday at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake by Life Guard Michael Ingemi, 22, of 258 Shawmut avenue, Boston.

The Lowe girl went to the beach with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Lowe, and a friend, Barbara Nowell, 13, of Green street, Cambridge. The two girls were walking in the water about 30 feet from the shore when Virginia suddeniy went under. The Nowell girl cried out for help and tried to hold Virginia up but could not do so.

A bather noticed the girls and called Mr. Lowe who ran into the water calling to the life guard. The latter went immediately to the assistance of the girls, getting Virginia ashore where he revived her with artificial respiration. She was then taken home.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS STARRED AT CAMP KIWANIS

Winchester swimmers made a great showing in the water sports that concluded the recent instruction period at Camp Kiwanis, the American Red Cross National Aquatic School in South Hanson.

Don Armstrong, Wesleyan senior and Winchester Red Cross water safety instructor; Lynn Aitkens, all around athlete at Winchester High School; and Bob McGrath, ace boy swimmer of the Winchester Swimming Club and Bowdoin College student, were the local swimmers at Kiwanis this year with Armstrong there for a second year. All worked hard at the exacting program held at the camp and made a splendid showing. Armstrong and McGrath were sent by the Winchester Red Cross with Miss Aitkens going as an individual.

McGrath was easily the individual star of the water sports, winning the 50 yard freestyle, 100 yard breaststroke and taking a second in the 100 yard backstroke, all with no rest between events. He also did an outstanding bit of exhibition diving, anchored the student relay team that beat the faculty for the first time in 20 years; and was chosen as the representative student to give the closing address at the graduation exercises.

Armstrong won the bow canoe race at the water sports, and Miss Aitkens won the 50 yard backstroke, was the only girl in the exhibition diving and swam on the student relay team for girls, as well as participating in the synchronized swimming. Incidentally Lynn is looking for a water safety or swimming instructor's job this summer and should be a real asset for any club or community.

BRAVES TOMAHAWKED WARRIORS

The Belmont Braves beat the Winchester Warriors, 4-2, in the Paul Revere League game at Leonard Field last Thursday night with Dee, visiting hurler, limiting the listless locals to two hits, both by Jim Olivier.

Joe McKee pitched good ball for Winchester, fanning nine and allowing only three hits, two of the infield variety. Two scratch hits, mixed with two passes, an error, a passed ball and an infield out gave the visitors their four runs in the third. The summary:

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT WOBURN

Roche Hero of 6-5 Win

Paul Roche slammed a long, two-run homer to right field in the ninth inning to bring the Winchester Junior Legion a bitterly contested victory over the Woburn Junior Legion by a score of 6 to 5 at Woburn on Sunday afternoon. Roche was pretty much the kingpin of the Winchester victory as he hit safely in four out of five trips to the plate and was effective in the pinches as he held Woburn to nine hits and caused them to leave ten runners stranded on the bases.

The customary Winchester-Woburn rivalry was very much in evidence as the locals knocked Woburn out of first place in the Junior Legion League. Coach Bartlett played the game under protest on an umpire's ruling in the seventh inning which deprived Winchester of a run. A few minutes later Ken Donaghey was ejected from the game for protesting too vigorously the umpire's decision of his attempted steal of home.

The game ended in an exciting manner as Woburn filled the bases with one out, Coakley hit a fly ball to left field which Corby dropped and his throw to the plate just missed McLaughlin scoring from third. Coakley had turned too far toward second and the alert Roche threw to Daniels at first who tagged out Coakley trying to return to that base. Ross tried to sneak in from third on the play but Daniel's return throw to Williams at the plate nailed Ross by the proverbial eyelash to end the game. It was a bitter defeat for Woburn to take and certainly adds interest to their visit to Manchester Field a week from Sunday.

WARRIORS WON FROM SUDBURY

The Winchester Warriors opened the second half of the Paul Revere League schedule by beating the Sudbury A. C. at Sudbury June 21, 7-3, behind the effective pitching of Lancelotta. The Winchester hurler had an effective curve and was very fast, fanning nine including the last five batters to face him. Sammy Bellino, Sam Provinzano and Jim Olivier batted well for the locals, with Dick Coon fielding well at short. The summary:

CALDWELL STATE DOUBLES WINNER

Beaten in Singles by Hartford Boy

Sheldon Caldwell, son of Park Commissioner and Mrs. Kenneth F. Caldwell of Bushcliff road, paired with Larry Harrison of Brookline to win the State older boys' doubles title at Longwood last Saturday, and was runner-up in singles, losing to Gerald Slobin of Hartford in the singles final, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Caldwell and Harrison won the doubles final by default from Slobin and Jack London of Hartford. They took the first set 6-3, dropped the second set, 1-6, and were behind, 7-8, in the third set when Slobin sustained a badly cut eye as he and his partner both strove to return a lob.

London's racquet hit Slobin under the right eyebrow, causing a gash that took several stitches to close, and the doctor refused to permit the disappointed Slobin to continue.

Caldwell was hopeful of reversing a previous singles decision Slobin won over him this spring, but the State interscholastic champ found the Hartford boy too steady and too aggressive for him as they played last Saturday. His victory won Slobin a trip to Kalamazoo later this month to play in the National Junior Championships.

The Winchester Junior Legion was beaten 12 to 5 by the Lowell Junior Legion at McPherson Field in Lowell on Friday evening. Several costly errors of omission in the field which combined with ineffective pitching and timely long distance hitting enabled Lowell to pile up enough runs to overcome the 5 to 0 lead the locals had built up in the first two innings.

WINCHESTER GIRLS PARTICIPATED IN HOCKEY PICTURE

Four members of last fall's field hockey team at Winchester High School participated in the recent making of a field hockey motion picture under the auspices of the United States Field Hockey Association at Merestead Camp, the field hockey camp in Camden, Me.

Elizabeth "Dee" Barrett, "Debbie" Symmes, Harris MacDonald and Ruth Morse were the Winchester girls who took part in the picture which was directed by two former All American hockey players, May Fogg, coach at Winsor School; and Ann Townsend of Philadelphia. Lynn Aitkens and Captain Dottie Kelley were Winchester girls considered by the local selection committee, but neither was able to go to Maine.

The film made at Camp Merestead, is the first of its kind to be filmed. It will be used at all educational institutions in the United States to demonstrate field hockey teaching techniques and skills.

Only 16 pupils were chosen from four schools in the New England area, four girls each from Winchester, Milton Academy, Winsor School and Smith College. Girls were chosen for the excellence of their stickwork and all around play, including morale.

"The Life You Save May Be Your Own!" You hear that slogan often in connection with highway safety campaigns, and it is true enough. A long holiday week-end is before us. Many will be on the roads everywhere. Care in the operation of motor vehicles can ensure a happy, rewarding three days, while potential tragedy stalks the reckless or drunken driver. Worst of all the innocent so often suffer for the sins of the driver of a motor vehicle that it is doubly important to exercise due care and to be in full possession of one's faculties when at the wheel of a car on the highway. Don't try to pass unless you can see ahead. Don't approach curves or blind intersections too fast. Don't insist on the right of way. The other fellow may be a "right-of-way boy" too. Don't depend on your horn and brakes. Use your head as well. Remember the other fellow has the same right to the road as you. Don't drink and drive. Finally, don't exceed a speed that is reasonable and proper. That could be 45 or 50 m.p.h., or it could be 10 or 15. Any one going over 50 on a holiday week-end, particularly at night with the highways crowded, is asking for it. Be careful! Be safe! Be happy! Remember, "The Life You Save May Be Your Own!"

HOCKEY CLUB THANKS SPONSORS

Editor of the Star:

We all wish to thank publicly the following sponsors whose generous financial support made it possible for our club to take part in more games than usual this past season. Winchester Hockey Club played in the Mayflower League at the Skating Club, also entered both the New England A. H. A. Senior and Junior Tournaments, and succeeded in bringing the New England Senior "B" amateur hockey title to Winchester.

LEGION THANKS POLICE!

Editor of the Star:

The following letter has been sent by Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, to both the Chief of Police and the Selectmen. We will appreciate your publishing it in the Star:

Chief Charles J. Harrold
Winchester Police Station
Winchester, Mass.

Winchester Post No. 97, the American Legion, wishes to commend you and your Department for the very prompt and efficient manner in which it apprehended the persons responsible for unlawfully breaking into the Legion Home on Sunday evening, June 26, 1949.

We particularly wish to thank Sergeant Joseph Derro and Officers John Boyle and Clarence Dunbury for their alertness and efficiency in apprehending the offenders.

We also thank the very alert person responsible for notifying the Police Department of the presence of these persons responsible for the break.

Very truly yours,
Robert F. Murphy
Commander

CHILDREN'S EVENTS JULY 4

Children wishing to participate in the program are asked to gather in the rear of the town hall between 1 and 1:30 Monday afternoon, July 4. They are asked to come in costume and prizes will be awarded the prettiest, funniest, most original, etc. Tickets permitting holders to participate in the various events of the party will be given out at the town hall and those not having these tickets will not be permitted to take part in the events to be held at Palmer Beach.

Led by three boys in costume, representing the "Spirit of '76," every one will parade to Palmer Beach, via Mt. Vernon, Main and Lake streets. A carousel, ponies, the Moxie Horse and a 1913 Ford will be in line with 15 Clowns, who will ride around town in a jeep before the parade to steam things up for the afternoon.

At the beach, commencing at 2 o'clock, there will be a professional entertainment on a platform with a public address system and there will be pony rides, rides in the Ford and on the merry-go-round of the carousel and ice cream for the kiddies.

After the show prizes will be distributed, including the portable radio to be given away to the winner of the guessing contest, which involves guessing the number of beans in a jar at McCormack's Apothecary. Incidentally there are plenty of slips for guessers still available there. Try your luck!

Concluding the party at the beach will be a watermellon-eating contest for boys, both to be held on the platform where everyone can see them.

Only a limited number of participants can get into these popular events and entry can be made at the beach, first come, first served.

Prizes for the various events, which may be seen in the window of the Edison shop, include a wading pool, sand-box, portable radio, baseball suit, glove, ball and bat; doll carriage, basketball set and tennis racquet. Remember every one MUST have a ticket to participate in the events. Tickets are free to Winchester children and will be distributed ONLY at the rear of the town hall between 1 and 1:30 on Monday afternoon, July 4.

ENTERTAINED VETERANS

Delicious refreshments, tea, punch and cookies, were served to a group of 500 people, including veterans and their families.

Although this service has heretofore been a function of the American Red Cross Canteen, recently civic groups have offered a very much appreciated helping hand.

The efficient committee who brought so much pleasure to the veterans and their families were Mrs. Lewis Moore, Mrs. Roger Burgoyne, Mrs. Bruce Salmon, Mrs. Leonard Griffith, Mrs. Donald Wilkins and Miss Dorothy Osborne.

RAINBOW MOTHER'S CLUB

The Rainbow Mother's Club held a dinner party on Wednesday evening, June 15th, at "Fieldstones" in Andover. The Club was well represented and a very enjoyable time was had by all.

President - Mrs. Francis Ray
Vice-President - Mrs. Windover Robinson
Recording Secretary - Mrs. Albert Wescott
Corresponding Secretary - Mrs. Harold McKinley
Treasurer - Mrs. Stanley Roberts
Chairmen of Committees:-
Devotions - Mrs. Albert Rice
Hospitality - Mrs. Robert Farnham
Sunshine - Mrs. Lawrence Kinney
Press - Mrs. John Hodge
Ways and Means - Mrs. Albert Finethy and Mrs. John Tutty
Advisory Board Representative - Mrs. Ernest Knoettner

The Star learns on good authority that a Nash agency is soon to occupy the Central Garage on Shore road. It is not too many years since Nash cars were sold and serviced from these same premises.

SOMERVILLE BOYS CAUGHT AT LEGION HOME

Four Somerville boys appeared in the Woburn Court Monday morning charged with being delinquents after being caught by the Winchester Police in the Legion Headquarters on Vine street.

The Police received a call about 11 o'clock saying that boys had been seen around the Legion House and Sergt. Joseph Derro went to investigate with Officers Clarence Dunbury, John Boyle and Joseph Quigley.

One of the boys got away, two were caught in the house and another leaped from a window at the approach of Sgt. Derro. Officer John Boyle gave chase, and after firing several shots in the air, finally pulled the boy from the Mill Pond as he tried to escape by jumping into the water at the rear of the Winchester Laundry. A chisel, screwdriver and hunting knife, which the boys are said to have admitted were theirs, were found in the house.

Police say the boys got into the house by forcing a rear window and were after members' dues believed to be in the house. The boy who escaped later came to Headquarters with his parents and gave himself up. His identity was known and the Somerville police were on the lookout for him. In court the boys' cases were continued until June 30.

GIRL HIT BY CAR

Nancy Mulea, 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Mulea of 10 Quigley court, escaped serious injury Tuesday evening when she was struck and knocked down on Swanton street opposite Quigley court by an automobile driven by Edward Pender, 19, of 45 Garfield avenue, Woburn.

Pender was learning to drive. He told the Police he was headed east on Swanton street when the little Mulea girl ran from the south side of the street in front of a parked car and into the path of his machine. The right front of the car struck her and knocked her down.

Nancy was taken to the hospital with her mother by Albert Tibaudo of 52 Swanton street. Dr. Charles Rooney attended her and had her held over night to determine whether she had been seriously hurt.

No broken bones were found and Nancy was returned to her home on Wednesday.

Going on Vacation?

Two things we can do to help

What would you do if you lost all your money while away from home?

How would you feel if you were to arrive home to find all your jewelry and other valuables gone?

Why take chances? Convert your money into American Express Travelers Cheques—the safest, most convenient way to protect travel and pocket cash. You sign them when you get them and again when you spend them—no other identification needed. And they cost you only 75¢ per $100. So, if they're lost or stolen, you get a quick refund.

And for those valuables you leave behind, there's no safer place than your own safe deposit box in our vaults.

Yours for a Carefree Vacation,

MRS. THOMS HEADS EIGHT O'CLOCKS

The members and husbands of the Eight O'Clock Club of the First Baptist Church held their annual picnic on Saturday night, June 25, at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoyt on Plum Island. After a delicious baked bean and frankfurt supper the group enjoyed an evening of swimming, singing and games.

President - Mrs. David Thoms
Vice-President - Mrs. David Gibbs
Secretary - Mrs. William Clark
Treasurer - Mrs. Eugene Weeks
Social Chairlady - Mrs. Seldon Brothers
Program Chairlady - Mrs. Ralph Webster

REST DISTURBED

Residents on both sides of town had their rest disturbed during the early morning hours of Saturday.

At 1 o'clock the Police received complaints of trucks dumping loam and fill at a house under construction on Jefferson road. Three minutes later a patrol car had to go to drive noisy swimmers from Palmer Beach after complaints had been received from residents near Wedge.

The trucks dumping on Jefferson road had left before the arrival of the police, but the officers caught several Somerville boys at the beach and warned them to do no further bathing there.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Members of the Police Force now on vacation are Sgt. Edward F. Bowler, and Officer Winthrop Palmer and William Callahan.

The Wakefield man found guilty of stealing flower baskets from a cemetery lot in Calvary Cemetery came up for sentence last week in Woburn Court, being fined $25.00. Despite the fact that most people will believe he got off lightly, he appealed the sentence.

Several boys were interrupted Wednesday night as they were engaged in the dangerous business of shooting lighted sparklers from slingshots up onto the tar roof of the George Washington School and the roof of the Nurses Home. It would seem such mischief is well beyond the excusable sort and steps should be taken to impress upon the boys and their parents the danger involved in this action.

The Police were called to stop boys who were reported breaking windows at the Lincoln School Wednesday forenoon. Patrolman Alfred Poole rounded up the boys responsible, one three years old and the other, five. According to the Police 12 windows were broken by the pair, with two more added Wednesday night.

Y., gave a luncheon for members of the bridal party of Miss Natalie Rextrow Dickson and Mr. Hugh Upham Hall Saturday at the Olivier home on Mystic avenue. Parents of both the bride and bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw Dickson of Boston and Mr. and Mrs. Carl I. Hall of Vancouver, B. C., were among the guests.

Mrs. William C. Catley of Henry street was a member of the bridal party at the marriage of Miss Barbara Wemyss to John Charles Fonda in the Belmont Methodist Church last Friday evening.

"Bill" Nichols, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loring P. Nichols of Winslow road, is spending the summer as archery instructor at Camp Wampanoag on Buzzard's Bay. "Nanjo" is the former star tackle on John West's championship football team at Winchester High in 1946. He is now at Dartmouth, playing on the freshman eleven last fall.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT ARLINGTON

The Winchester Junior Legion defeated the Arlington Junior Legion by a score of 5 to 4 at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. It was a nice game for the locals to win as they out-hustled and outsmarted their opponents. Charlie De Filippo made his first appearance on the mound for the Winchester Junior Legion and pitched steady ball as he pulled out of a couple of threatening situations.

The Winchester Junior Legion plays only one home game next week when they entertain the Medford Junior Legion in a league game at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. Wednesday is the regular home night for the locals and there will be Junior Legion games at Manchester Field on Wednesdays the rest of the summer. Winchester edged the Medford Junior Legion at Medford two weeks ago by a score of 7 to 6 and have high hopes of gaining another victory over the visitors on Wednesday evening.

On Friday evening of next week Winchester travels to Malden to play a return game with the Malden Junior Legion. The big home game of the season will come a week from Sunday when the Woburn Junior Legion comes to Manchester Field.

Mrs. Ruth Hilton of the Winchester Edison Office and her father, former Park Commissioner George T. Davidson are enjoying a two week motor trip through Canada and Nova Scotia.

KIRWAN PENN CO-CAPTAIN

"Tom" Kirwan of Glen road has been elected co-captain of the University of Pennsylvania track team for next year, after a brilliant outdoor season. He also was voted the "Spiked Shoe Club's" plaque for being the most improved runner on the team.

He recently returned from Puerto Rico with the Penn squad after participating in several meets there, bringing back five medals and reports of a great time and fine reception by the natives there.

Independence Day

July 4 is the most glorious date in the history of our country. Our rights as a free people were established on that day in 1776 with the Declaration of Independence.

The signers of the Declaration pledged themselves to support it with "our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honour." Let us renew this pledge, remembering that our freedom is a heritage which must be safeguarded by each generation.

Customers' Corner

Thank you for your suggestions!

Thousands of our customers have been kind enough to write us letters telling us just what they like and don't like about their A&P stores.

Every one of the letters received has been carefully studied. Many of them have contained helpful suggestions as to how we can make A&P stores better places to shop; and every one of them has helped us learn the kind of food and service our customers want.

So thanks to all our good friends; and please keep the letters coming!

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
LAND COURT

To the BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD, a duly existing corporation having an usual place of business in Boston, in the County of Suffolk and said Commonwealth; ARTHUR H. CURTIS CO., of Revere, in the said County of Suffolk; GEORGE E. MURRAY, BESSIE M. MURRAY, VIRGINIA FAMOLARI and HARRIET R. HANSON, of Winchester, in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by RALPH R. MARCHESI and DENISE R. MARCHESI, of said Winchester, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Winchester, bounded and described as follows:

Northwesterly by Arthur Street 171.83 feet; Northeasterly by White Street 208.58 feet; Southeasterly by a curved line on Swanton Street 167.78 feet; and Southeasterly by land now or formerly of the Boston and Maine Railroad 96.54 feet.

The petitioners claim as appurtenant to the abovedescribed land rights in said Arthur Street, a private way.

The above-described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), on or before the eighteenth day of July next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, JOHN E. FENTON, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of June in the year nineteen hundred and forty-nine.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

GIRL SCOUTS

Attention, all Scouters! Watch our Cabin grow on the sign on the Commons! Through the courtesy of the Winchester Hospital, Staff Rogers has made a skeleton cabin, and filling it in as contributions come in! And speaking of contributions ... Buy a log, BUY A LOG TODAY!

We are pleased to report that Camp Joy has a total enrollment of 120 girls ... How we have grown from the enrollment of the first Camp Joy (around 30)! Next week we shall give you a "Day at Camp" report.

Two important announcements:

1. After Friday, the Girl Scouts' office will be closed for the summer. If you have any business with Mrs. Metcalf, just stop by the new Cabin site, ask for the "Woodpeckers' Hole", and you will find her there ... on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday ... if it isn't raining, that is.

2. Mrs. Metcalf does not live in Winchester, so please do not try to phone the Metcalf families that do ... We regret that they have had so many unnecessary calls!

Tuesday morning shortly before 3 o'clock the Police were called to take Rizieri Riga of 365 Cross street to the Winchester Hospital. Mr. Riga became ill during the night and his illness affected his sight, making it necessary to secure aid in getting him to the hospital. Officers Clarence Dunbury and John Elliott made the trip.

BOAT CLUB PLANS BUSY HOLIDAY WEEKEND

Winchester Boat Club Members and their guests are headed for a gala week-end. In addition to plenty of swimming, sunning, fishing, boating and sailing, the week-end will wind up with a big 4th of July Clam Bake and party. The menu will be the same tempting fare that has made Winchester Boat Club Clam Bakes famous in these parts - - steamed clams, broth, lobsters, pickles and chips and watermelon. After the feast there will be a record concert, outdoor movies and dancing in the Club House. Therer are only 250 tickets available because that is as many folks as the committee can comfortably feed so you had better get yours today. They must be picked up no later than Friday, July first.

On the Holiday afternoon there will be two brand new types of racing. The first, a handicap All-Class Sailing race scheduled to start at 2:30. This contest is open to every sail boat in the Winchester Boat Club and will start and finish in front of the Club House. At 3:30 there will be an Out-Board Motor "Bang and Go" race. This event will also start and finish in front of the Club House. Better plan to be on hand for these two thrilling races.

Fleet Facts

The Fleet Flounderers continued to flounder and the fleet's leading skippers continued to sail superbly over the past week-end. Ken Cook and Jack Streeton split victories over the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet. It was Cookie's fifth first and Jack's maiden victory of the year. With nearly half the official races sailed the first four skippers are Ken Cook, Jack Streeton, Mel Moller and Dick Simonds in that order. The scores are so close that any one of them can move into first place with a couple of victories.

CIVIL AIR PATROL NEWS

In order to answer your many questions about the Civil Air Patrol, an explanatory summary follows.

Civil Air Patrol was organized December 1941, one week before Pearl Harbor by the Federal Office of Civilian Defense, to utilize privately-owned planes in coastal defense, thus releasing Army and Navy Flyers for active duty. Soon it was expanded to include recruiting, and a comprehensive pre-flight training program for Air Cadets.

A national charter was granted to CAP by Act of Congress, July 1, 1946, placing it on a permanent public basis with other patriotic organizations such as the Red Cross and American Legion. CAP now operates in forty-eight states and Hawaii, and is Auxiliary to the United States Air Force. CAP, therefore, works very closely with the Air Force, and Air National Guard and Air Reserves, for national security.

The purpose of CAP is now to provide a three-year basic preflight training course for young men and women who are interested in military or civilian aviation. Through its adult members CAP participates in air marking, lost plane search, flood and fire emergencies, promotion of air shows, and generally to foster public enthusiasm in an increasing national air power.

Further information may be obtained by writing or calling in person at the Lincoln Jr. High School on Harvard street, Medford, at 7:30 on Thursday night. NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The Fire Department was called to a Woodside road home last Sunday forenoon, a strong odor of gas being apparent through the house. The men found the wind had blown out a gas range, and took care of the situation.

Monday night at 11 o'clock the Fire Department was called to Saraco's Grocery on upper Main street to put out a fire that burned a hole in a store awning. Youngsters are believed to have thrown a sparkler on the awning, causing the fire.

A Woburn young man approached Fireman Robert Haggerty at the Central Station last Saturday evening, complaining of a pain in his arm. An examination showed the man had what appeared to be a bad infection extending as far back as his armpit from a cut on his forearm. Fireman Haggerty took the young man to Police Headquarters where the Woburn Police were notified and met a Winchester patrol car at the town line, transporting the young man to a Woburn physician's office as quickly as possible.

William Kelley, 13, of Priscilla Lane was accidentally kicked in the face last Friday afternoon while swimming at Palmer Beach. Lifeguard Robert Horn notified the Police and the boy was taken to the office of Dr. Phillip J. McManus by Officers James Farrell and Alfred Poole. Young Kelley, sustained a possible nose fracture and was taken to the Winchester Hospital from the doctor's office for X-rays.

HOT WEEK-END

The week-end of the Glorious Fourth was hot and dry in Winchester, if not as noisy as it used to in the days when everyone risked eyes, fingers and the family rooftree with fireworks.

Not that there were no fireworks in Winchester. A few "rugged individuals" who aren't going to be told what they are to do had some fun for themselves and their children and fired them off, so there! One youth was picked up by the Police for firing off firecrackers against the Winchester Theatre, but generally speaking it was pretty quiet in town. There was only one arrest, a gentleman on his own request being locked up well in advance of the holiday and there was one automobile accident on Cambridge street during the early hours of the Fourth. Some of those involved were taken to the hospital after the accident but were found to be not seriously injured and were released.

There was little Fire Department activity, the only run over the holiday being early in the afternoon of the fourth when boys stuck a red light in a hollow tree on the Skilling Path at the rear of the First Church of Christ Scientist. There were no false alarms either on the holiday or the "night before".

There may have been hotter July 4ths. Back in 1911 the glass was at 104, and it didn't get that high this year, except perhaps right in the sun at especially hot spots. Between 90 and 100 however were temperatures freely reported about town and the long drouth made it seem even hotter as grass and foliage showed parched and dry and dust appeared in and on everything.

During the late afternoon of the holiday thunderheads appeared and Winchester had a bit of a shower, accompanied by high winds for a short while and a very little rain. It was cooler during the shower, but the rain brought no appreciable relief and no blankets were needed by the sweltering would-be sleepers the night of the holiday.

Old timers about town have racked their brains to remember an equally long dry hot spell. We wouldn't know whether there have been as bad, or perhaps even worse spells of weather. We do know we have been plenty satisfied with this.

PRESENTED AT CORINTHIAN CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wyman of Herrick street presented their daughter, Miss Judith Wyman, at a tea dance at the Corinthian Yacht Club in Marblehead last week Thursday. Light colored garden flowers and bowls of water lilies made an attractive setting and there was a background of greens for the receiving line.

Miss Wyman received with her parents. She wore an off-the-shoulder ballerina-length dress of navy blue chiffon with tiny white orchids. Mrs. Wyman wore gardenias with her afternoon dress of gray, dotted with pink and white.

Pourers were Miss Nancie Steadfast, Miss Joan Obrey, Miss Carol Haynes and Miss Susan Marcy. Ushers, headed by Donald Wyman, Jr., brother of the debutante, included Gordon Morrison, Jr., Norman Logan, James Wykoff, Robert Copeland and George H. Shattuck, Jr.

Miss Wyman, a provisional member of the Junior League, plans to enter college in the fall. She attended the Mary C. Wheeler School and was graduated in June from the Beaver Country Day School.

CAR DISABLED IN BACON STREET COLLISION

A Pontiac convertible sedan, driven by Thomas J. Martin, Jr., of 6 Clark street, Woburn was disabled shortly after 8:30 last Friday evening in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, on Bacon street west of the railroad bridge at the entrance to the Mystic Valley Parkway.

According to the Police Martin was driving east on Bacon street and turning to go south on the Parkway. The Chevrolet, driven by Franklin W. Hurd of 10 Newton road, Arlington, was headed north on the Parkway and turning into Bacon street to go east.

Both cars were damaged, but auto repair men were able to get the Chevrolet away under its own power. Martin complained of injuries to his left side, back and shoulder, stating he would visit his own physician. None claimed injuries in the Chevrolet which was lucky as the baby son of the driver was among the passengers.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Haner of 25 Prospect street, Clinton, announce the engagement of their daughter Ruth, of Beacon Hill, Boston, to Francis R. Sylvester of 366 Main street.

Miss Haner graduated from Clinton High School, attended Framingham Teachers' College and graduated from Bryant and Stratton Commercial School in Boston.

Mr. Sylvester attended Boston College High School and graduated from Austin Cate Academy in Center Stratford, N. H.; he attended Tufts College and M. I. T.

PER ERIK EKMAN

Per Erik Ekman of 81 Fletcher street, a pattern maker and inventor, died Monday, July 4, at the New England Sanitarium, Stoneham, after a long illness. He was 75 years old and had lived in Winchester for the past 35 years.

Mr. Ekman was the son of Andres P., and Sofia (Svendson) Ekman. He was born in Sweden but came to this country at an early age, living first in Woburn. As a young man he went west and was granted a homestead by the Government in Cheyene, Wyoming, and raised horses, also roping and breaking wild horses, most of which were sold to the government for the United States Cavalry.

Returning east, Mr. Ekman followed the trade of a pattern maker. He had a talent for invention and was granted several United States patents for improvement in the double-action chromatic harp.

For the past 15 years he had divided his time between his farm in Gorham, Me., and the family home on Fletcher street. During the war he worked as a tool maker for the Elliot addressing machine company and for the Tool & Carbide Company.

He leaves three sisters, Miss Ingrid and Miss Louise Ekman of Winchester, Mrs. Sigrid Hagar of Portland, Me., and a brother, Gunnar Ekman of Brookline.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. Carlton P. Helgerson of the Church of the Open Bible in Woburn officiating. Interment was in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

WINCHESTER AND WOBURN JUNIOR LEGION TEAMS PLAY SUNDAY

The Winchester Junior Legion plays two home games this coming week with the big attraction coming on Sunday afternoon when the Woburn Junior Legion visits Manchester Field. Any Winchester - Woburn game is a great attraction but this one promises to be more bitterly contested than ever as considerable hard feeling was engendered in their first meeting at Woburn. Winchester upset Woburn 6 to 5 in that contest and knocked the Orange and Black out of the league lead in a game that was protested by Winchester but later withdrawn as the locals won.

On Wednesday evening the Everett Junior Legion will be the attraction at Manchester Field. Everett defeated the locals in their first encounter two weeks ago and boast an outstanding pitcher in Lefty Seward, the Everett High School ace.

HARD FEELIN'S!

The Star has heard that relations were just a bit strained at the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Assn. matches Wednesday evening, due to the fact that "Wild Willie" McLaughlin left his coat in Royal "Paper Trade" Teele's beach-wagon when riding down to Plymouth with the president of the association last Saturday. Mr. Teele went on to the Brewsters and Provincetown and of course didn't discover the coat 'till the end of the line. He figured it was up to "Willie" to look out for his dunnage and returned the coat to the champion of Nabnasset on Wednesday at the matches. Mr. McLaughlin was a bit put out over having no coat for "full dress" on both the Sabbath and the Holiday, and felt it was "up to Teele" to see that he got his property when he was leaving the car at Plymouth.

WINCHESTER ASSESSORS ATTEND CONVENTION

At the recent convention of the Association of Massachusetts Assessors held at the Belmont Hotel at West Harwich on the Cape, Assessors Pihl, Elliott and Foley were in attendance.

Mr. Pihl was the principal speaker on the second day and discussed the important points with which the assessor is concerned with respect to the records in the Registry of Deeds and the Probate Court.

SCANTLEBURY — STUART

White gladiolas and snapdragons with a background of ferns decorated Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon, July 2, for the marriage of Miss Carolyn Ann Stuart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles James Stuart of Yale street, to Clifford V. Scantlebury of Erie, Pa., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Scantlebury of Hampton, Iowa. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony, and the bridal music was played by the church organist and choirmaster, J. Albert Wilson.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Stuart was attended by her sister, Mrs. Hugh J. Rosebery of Erie., Pa., as matron of honor, and by Miss Mary D. Butler of Winchester as honor maid.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette with satin inserts trimmed with seed pearls and fashioned with a round neck, a net yoke, long pointed sleeves and a train. Her bridal veil was of hand-made French lace and she carried a bouquet of glamillias and stepanotis.

Both the bridal attendants wore off-the-shoulder dresses of green and white organza with hoop-skirts. Their off-the-face hats were of matching green and white nylon net trimmed with a small bunch of Marguerites, matching the flowers of their bouquets.

Hugh J. Rosebery of Erie, Pa., brother-in-law of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Robert D. Stuart of New York City, brother of the bride; and the bride's uncle, Frank I. McCullough of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the parish hall of the church where gladiolas, snapdragons and ferns once again made up the decorative setting. The parents of the bride and the two honor attendants assisted in receiving.

Following a wedding journey through Maine Mr. and Mrs. Scantlebury will live in Erie, Pa., where the bridegroom is associated with Louis Marx Co., Inc.

DOG-OWNERS WARNED

In a vigorous warning to all dog-owners, Dr. Erwin F. Schroeder, Chief of Staff of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital of the Massachusetts S. P. C. A., 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, yesterday urged them to exercise greater caution concerning the welfare of their pets, due to the increased numbers of automobiles that are constantly appearing on the highways.

"At our Angell Memorial Animal Hospital," stated Dr. Schroeder, "the number of accident cases brought to us daily has actually doubled."

"It is our firm belief," he continued, "that if all owners of dogs would keep their pets on a leash instead of allowing them to run loose, especially where traffic is heavy, these accidents would be materially lessened, thereby eliminating needless suffering among our animal friends."

Dr. Schroeder further pointed out that when accidents do occur, owners should lose no time in taking their pets to the nearest veterinarian for treatment, because no matter how minor the injury appears to be, many serious internal complications might ensue if prompt attention is not given.

MARRIAGE OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

There is Winchester interest in the recent marriage of Miss Priscilla L. Rabethge of Conway, N. H., and Donald Muir Urner at the First Congregational Church in Conway. A reception was held at the Eastern Slope Inn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Rabethge of Conway. Her father will be remembered by many in Winchester as organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Epiphany in the days when the late Dr. John W. Suter was rector. Mr. Urner is the son of Mr. E. C. Urner of Berwyn Heights, Md., and Mrs. T. H. Burgess of Washington, D. C.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Urner have been on the faculty of the University of New Hampshire and the bride has also been recreational director for the State of New Hampshire.

Mr. Urner graduated from Wilson Teachers College and Peabody College. During the war he served with the Naval Reserve.

MRS. HINTLIAN CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Michael Hintlian of Church street as acting as general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the fashion show and card party being given this Friday evening at the Rockport Country Club in aid of St. Joachim's Parish, of which the Rev. George W. Casey is pastor.

Local members of the large committee include Mrs. Coren Hintlian, Mrs. Leo MacDonald, Mrs. Daniel Doherty, Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. Vincent Murphy and Mrs. Thomas Dolan of Rockport, the former "Winnie" Vayo of this town. Miss Adeline Hintlian and Miss Catherine Murray are among the models.

ATTENDED WASHINGTON WEDDING

Mrs. Earle F. Spencer of Yale street left Kennebunkport, Maine, last Wednesday for Washington D. C. to attend the marriage of her niece, Miss Evangeline Joy Sprayue to Samuel Sreit Coursen of Madison, N. J., Second lieutenant, United States Army, West Point class of 1949.

The former Miss Sprague is the daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Albert Lildeu Sprague Jr. of Washington, D. C.

JULY 4TH KIDDIES' PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Parade, Costume Competition, Show and Sports at Palmer Beach

Winchester had perhaps its best Fourth of July Kiddies' Party Monday afternoon with an estimated 1500 youngsters from all over town participating in a varied program of events at Palmer Beach.

Despite the sweltering heat virtually all the boys and girls appeared at the town hall at 1 o'clock in some sort of costume, many elaborately and cleverly decked out, to participate in the parade to Palmer Beach.

Impetus was undoubtedly lent the afternoon festivities by the antics of 15 Legionnaires, made up as clowns, who spent a couple of hours during the late forenoon riding around town in the Gustin jeep, advertising the afternoon program. About 11:30 the clowns gathered in the center for a mock game of baseball, without a ball to be sure, but with plenty of noise, that attracted the attention of the forum on the common, the members of which hotfooted it to the square, under the impression that a fight was in progress.

At the advertised starting hour of 1:30 the parade got under way to Palmer Beach, led by the Jeep and the big white Moxie horse on its Rolls Royce chassis.

At the head of the line of march were Tom McKee as the old "Keystone Cop" and "Ernie" Barron in clown costume, acting as Drum-Major. Leading the line of costumed kiddies were four boys, decked out to represent "The Spirit of '76". They were Anthony Severino, Arthur Garossi, "Remmy" Johnston and "Moosie" Bellino. To the shrill of their fife, the beat of their drums and the blare of their cornet the paraders moved through the heat waves in the center, along Main street to Lake street and through Lake and Palmer streets to the beach. An indication of the number in line may be obtained from the fact that as the leaders were shuffling down the ramp beside the tennis practice board marchers were still coming over the Lake street hill.

At the beach things got under way at once. A big flat platformed wagon served as a stage, and on it a professional entertainment program was put on, opening with a clown magician, "Val" Evans, aided by "stooges" from the audience, and a real old fashioned Punch and Judy Show.

Following these features were two clever comic tumblers, Potas and Folsom, real laugh getters, the Adamsons, aerialists, whose act was breath-taking; and Hal Rodman, Hollywood makeup man, who made up kids from the crowd as clowns and historic characters.

Incidentally, Mr. Rodman put in a busy day in Winchester, making up the clowns and the "Spirit of '76" for the parade, as well as assisting greatly with putting on the show. Lester Gustin, in a striped clown's costume, acted as M.C. and made the announcements over a rather temperamental public address system.

While the acts were in progress most of the younger kiddies were having rides on several ponies, on the diminutive merry-go-round of the Carousel, a popular feature; or in the 1913 Ford, loaned by Walter Abbott of Lawson road, a member of the firm of Abbott Motors in Waltham. The "honk-honk" of the old rubber-bulbed horn was reminiscent of the "good old days" of gauntlet gloves, goggles and linen dusters.

Interspersing the show participants in the costume contest were judged by Mrs. George Field, "Mack" McKenzie of the "Woburn Daily Times" and Jim Penaligan of the "Winchester Star". A long line of contestants went individually to the platform where they were "looked over" both by the big crowd and the judges, who finally chose Janice Hashey of Governor's avenue as having the prettiest costume, Noreen and Carlene Johnson of Park road, funniest costume; Pat Boring of Winthrop street, most original costume and Margery and Billy Ring of Rock avenue, most realistic. Janice was in ballet costume, the Johnsons teamed as an organ-grinder and monkey, (with the "monk" putting the act across); little Miss Boring was cleverly garbed as a pumpkin and the Ring brother and sister were a Winchester Hospital nurse and wounded sailor.

FAMILY REUNION OVER THE 4TH

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Fossett, of Chesterford road, who have not been together at one time since the beginning of the war, held a reunion with their parents over the holiday week-end.

Richard L. Fossett Jr., Production Supervisor for Proctor & Gamble Co. at Long Beach, Cal. came by train with two of his three children. Mr. and Mrs. Charles K. Fossett and four children motored from Cincinnati where he is Training Supervisor for Proctor & Gamble Co. Mr. and Mrs. Carroll A. Fossett with three children came from Belmont, Mass. He is a C. P. A. with Arthur Andersen & Co., Boston.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Ebens of 85 High street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Joan, to Mr. Clifford Edward Bergeron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bergeron of 64 Jackson street, Cambridge, Mass.

Miss Ebens is a graduate of Winchester High School and The Fay School of Boston. Mr. Bergeron is a graduate of Cambridge High and Latin and is now employed as a television technician.

JACK WOODRUFF

WINCHESTER MAN DIRECTING TUFTS SUMMER THEATRE

The fifth season of the Tufts Arena Theatre opened July 5 with "Accent On Youth," Samson Raphaelson's three act comedy, directed by Jack Woodruff of the department of drama and speech at Tufts College, managing director for the season of seven plays to be given arena production by a company of graduate drama students at the theater in Medford this summer.

Seeing a stage play at the Tufts Arena is like watching a Harvard-Yale game from the fifty yard line, or the Ringling Brothers Circus directly in front of the center ring, or the Ice Follies from the front row. The actors are right there in the middle of things, with the audience cheering them on in much the same way as they would if an ice puck, tennis ball, or boxing gloves were involved; only in this case actors are batting laughs back and forth in a way that keeps audience's eyes swinging from one player to the other and everyone shares the laughs all the way 'round the stage.

The plays for this summer illustrate the unusual qualities of this theater which has no equal in the East. Norman Ashton, three of whose original plays have been produced at Tufts, who this month received a masters' degree in drama from the Yale School of Fine Arts, will direct three of the plays, the first of which will be the premiere of an original manuscript play by Sidney Michaels of Brookline, also a Tufts alumnus, which will open July 12.

Jonathan Seymour, assistant director and production manager for the past three seasons at Margo Jones' "Theater 49" in Dallas, Texas, will also direct three of the season's plays, the first of which will be G. B. Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion," opening July 19.

Each of the plays scheduled will be presented for five nights, from Tuesday through Saturday at 8:30 o'clock for seven weeks in the theater on the Medford campus.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL STAFF NOTES

Dr. Nelson C. Fontneau, Jr., who has been a valued member of the Hospital Staff for a year as Resident, carries best wishes from all his colleagues and his patients as he begins general practice in Winchester. His office will be in his house at 68 Church street. Mr. Paine will shortly announce the appointment of a Resident at the Hospital for 1949-50.

Members of the Nursing Staff have completed advanced courses in their special fields during the past academic year as follows: Miss Vada Ainsworth in the Pre-Mature Nursery of the Massachusetts Memorial Hospitals; Miss Mildred Bagley in Maternity Nursing at Boston University; Miss Esther Lynch in Methods of Nursing at Boston University; Miss Bagley and Miss Ella Dailey in Management in the Head Nurse Unit under the Faculty of Nursing Education at Boston College.

The X-ray Department announces the resignation of Miss Shirley Durgin of North Berwick, Maine, at the conclusion of a year of service as technician. Miss Durgin came to us from the Laconia (New Hampshire) Hospital X-ray Technicians' School directed by Dr. Albert Oppenheimer, and she will now continue her studies in electrical physics at the University of Maine. Miss Elizabeth Paynter has been appointed to the vacancy.

GEORGE HENRY HUNNEWELL

George Henry Hunnewell, of South Braintree, a native of Winchester, died Friday, July 1st, at the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Hunnewell was the son of William H., and Annie (McGuinness) Hunnewell. He was born in Winchester January 8, 1877, and spent his early life here, working as a young man for the late James J. Fitzgerald, contractor. For the past 27 years he had made his home in South Braintree with his sister, Mrs. Frank Raymond, formerly of this town.

Besides Mrs. Raymond, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Olive Asaro of South Braintree and Mrs. Frank J. Nagle of Winchester.

Funeral services were held in South Braintree on July 4 with the Rev. Stanley Plummer, pastor of the South Braintree Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in South Braintree.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

IDEAL MOTHER FOR 1949 RECENTLY IN WINCHESTER

Mrs. Lena B. Duncan of Salisbury, N. C., chosen by the "Afro-American" newspaper as the "Ideal Mother for 1949", returned to her home this week after spending several days in Winchester as the guest of Mrs. C. A. White at her home, 644 Main street. She and Mrs. White grew up together in the south, attending the same school and Sunday School. They have remained friends through the years and Mrs. Duncan has several times visited Mrs. White in Winchester.

Mrs. White held open house for her distinguished guest last Sunday and on the Fourth of July, many from Winchester and out-of-town gathering to greet and congratulate the current winner of the AFRO Ideal Mother contest, which is an annual affair. Assisting Mrs. White with arrangements for the parties were Mrs. Clara Robinson of Winchester, Mrs. Rose Kendall and Miss Constance White of Woburn and Mrs. Ella Jones and Mrs. Arthur White of Boston. Luncheon was served the guests on both days.

Mrs. Duncan was AFRO's unanimous choice for the Ideal Mother of 1949. A 68 year-old widow, she has brought up 18 children, seven of them her own and eleven others she took into her home. She has seen her own seven children through college and launched on successful careers; reared a niece from the age of 8 and sent her through college; taken into her home eight other unrelated children, all of whom have earned college degrees; and in 1948 she adopted two additional children, ages 7 and 14.

Her own children include Samuel, supervisor of high schools for the State of North Carolina; Mrs. Julia Bell, treasurer-registrar of Livingstone College; John B., U. S. Government attorney in Washington; Fred, principal, consolidated public schools, Concord, N. C.; Joseph, high school principal, Lumbarton, N. C.; Annie, teacher, Salisbury, N. C.; and William, builder and brickmason, Salisbury, N. C.

Mrs. Duncan, herself, is a graduate of Livingstone College, from which her children received their A. B. degrees. Most of the children are taking post-graduate college work and Samuel is a candidate for a Ph. D. at Cornell University. Mrs. Duncan has found time for things outside her home and family. Until her retirement only three years ago she was a school teacher for 33 years in Kentucky and North Carolina. She has also been a leader in church and civic work. Her husband, Samuel, a teacher and principal in both Kentucky and North Carolina, died in 1931.

MRS. EMMA JANE PRINCE

Mrs. Emma Jane Prince, widow of Charles H. Prince and for many years a chiropodist in Winchester, died Wednesday morning, July 6, in Melrose after a long illness. She suffered a heart attack in her office and apartment in the National Bank Building in the fall of 1947, being removed to the New England Sanitarium in Stoneham. Later she was admitted to the Melrose Nursing Home.

Mrs. Prince was born August 29, 1864, in Scarborough, Me. She practiced her profession of chiropodist and masseuse for more than 30 years in Winchester, having an office and apartment in the National Bank Building for many years. Cheerful in the face of physical ailments that caused her much pain and necessitated her walking with the aid of a cane, she lived her life fully, getting about in unbelieveable fashion and working actively in aid of the Green Street Church in Melrose and of the Christian Missionary Alliance in Boston. She was also one of the local workers in the Townsend Club.

Mrs. Prince leaves a son, Sidney of Melrose, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Robinson Funeral Chapel in Melrose. Rev. Dr. E. J. Evans of Brookline will officiate. Interment will be in the family lot in Greenwood Cemetery, Biddeford, Me.

MRS. REBECCA JANE MOODY

Mrs. Rebecca Jane Moody, widow of George Albert Moody and mother of Mrs. G. Russell Mann, died Wednesday morning, July 6, at her daughter's home, 17 Fenwick road, after a long illness.

Mrs. Moody was born in Malden February 14, 1862, the daughter of William, and Esther (McKee) Highton. She was married in Malden and lived there until she came to Winchester 16 years ago, being for many years a member of the Robinson Methodist Church. Her daughter here is her only survivor.

Private funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. David Hickey, pastor of the Robinson Methodist Church in Malden, officiating. Interment will be in Forest Dale Cemetery, Malden.

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. C. Andrew Perkins, Jr. of Emerson road, a third child, Susan Louise on June 23rd at the Winchester Hospital.

The Board of Selectmen are making arrangements with the Boston and Maine Railroad and Telephone company to have a public phone station on railroad land near the Police box behind the Winchester Drug Company which will be available after the stores close at 10

GIRL SCOUTS

A day at Camp Joy will be most enlightening to any and all leaders of Girl Scout troops. If you would like, you are cordially invited to visit any time, but especially invited on Thursday, July 14th at 2 p. m. are you and all parents of the girls registered for this summer day camp sponsored and run by the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts.

After parking on South Border road opposite the Boy Scout Cabin, we walked up "Molly Spring Road" past the girls setting up the archery target, past the "Pioneer" unit eating lunch atop the huge rock, past the "Milky Way" (formerly known as the Cow). Then a turn to the right and we follow a path 'till we arrive at a large, cleared space. There were second grade Brownies making bracelets, etc. I commented upon one little girl with what looked like a huge "shoulder pocket book" ... and I was informed that that was a "sit-upon", each girl having made these oil-cloth pillows with a strap so that wherever she went she would have something to sit upon! Nice handy gadget, in the various units in the woods!

At the Woodpeckers' Hole Mrs. Metcalf, our director, met me and showed me the various units, each apart from another, yet not too far. It was lovely in the woods, and the girls participating in Day Camp are fortunate. No wonder 120 girls enrolled!

Leaders and Program Aides were busy with their units and I am sure that all their parents and leaders would be proud of them. Those serving as leaders this year are: Mrs. Charles Russo, Mrs. Herbert Mullen, Mrs. Kenneth Cullen, Mrs. Alexander Clark, Mrs. Anthony DeAngelis, Mrs. Charles Wilson, and Mrs. Francis Parsons. Part-time helpers are: Mrs. Roswell Harding, Mrs. Paul Lamb, Mrs. Hollis Dyer and Mrs. Donald True.

We have been fortunate in having Miss Good from the Audubon Society for two days, and the girls have learned a great deal and have enjoyed the treat. Each afternoon, a period of consultation has been held by Mrs. Metcalf. First the leaders talk over plans, or problems with Mrs. Metcalf. Next the Program Aides confer with her, and finally, plans and the like are presented the "Camp Council" which is made up of two girls from each unit ... Scouting and Democracy both being lived each day.

While there, one Brownie came up and handed Mrs. Metcalf some money. It was Susan Webster who said that she and her sister Rosalind had gathered and sold sea shells and this money was for the Girl Scout Cabin Fund! Susan is in second grade and Rosalind will be in first grade .. Thank you both!

And speaking of the Cabin Fund ... have you made YOUR contribution yet? If you haven't, Mrs. Burton Miller, our drive chairman, asks that you send your check before you forget ... and BUY A LOG, BUY A LOG TODAY!

GAMAGE ON ACTIVE DUTY

Major Hall B. Gamage, United States Air Force Reserve, 43, of 64 Salisbury street, son of Irving E. Gamage of 7 Bacon street, has reported for fifteen days' active duty as supply officer for the newly organized reserve unit, the 89th Troop Carrier Wing at Hanscom Airport, Bedford.

Maj. Gamage, a Huntington Preparatory School graduate of 1925, is a wholesale beef salesman for Hicks & Hodges Co. at 45 So. Market street, Boston. He entered the service in May 1942 with a commission and he was relieved of active duty four years later. He served chiefly as a supply officer at Maxwell Field, Ala., Lockburne Air Force Base, Fla.; Reno Air Force Base, Nev.; in Casablanca in French North Africa for eleven months beginning Jan. 1945 as assistant division supply officer, then he was relieved of active duty at Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

Maj. Gamage was awarded the European - African - Middle East Medal, the American Defense Service Medal and the World War II Victory Medal.

Maj. Gamage's wife, Leonore, and children, Peter 12 and Gary 9, live at 64 Salisbury street.

EXPLORER POST SIX MOUNTAIN TRIP

On Saturday July 2, a group of boys under the leadership of Post Advisor Stafford Rogers left Winchester for the Great Gulf Shelter. Upon arrival at the Glen House, in Pinkham Notch, the boys, Ed Cullen, Bill Sullivan, Buzzey Bird, Bob Burnham, and Bob McElhinney, packed 4.63 miles into the Great Gulf shelter.

Sunday the boys climbed Mt. Adams by way of the King's Ravine Trail through the subway, a series of caves, where some ice was found. Reaching the Gateway atop King's Ravine the boys had lunch. After they finished eating they climbed Mt. Adams. On the descent we met four other hikers, three from Concord, N. H., and one from Pawtucket, R. I.

We followed the Gulfside Trail to Edmunds Col and ascended Mt. Jefferson. We then followed the Six Husband Trail back to camp. On Monday, with the boys we met the previous day, we climbed Mt. Washington by way of the Great Gulf Trail and walked the last half mile of the Cog Railway. While it was 100 degrees in Boston we were nearly freezing with a 50 M.P.H. wind and rain.

We descended by way of the Wamsutta Trail to camp. Tuesday morning we hiked out to the car and arrived home at 3 o'clock after climbing three mountains and covering twenty eight miles by foot in four days.

A good time was had by all and we all wanted to visit that part of the mountains again.

Andy Antippas, Winchester High School middle distance runner, placed third in the half mile at the City of Boston track games on July Fourth at Franklin Field. Neighbor Dick "Ree" Fowle of Woburn won the three mile. Ernest Mills of the B.A.A. won the half in 2m 2.8s.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The summer season is now upon us. To Scouts, this means the camping season, but to those who are at home, it means an absence of the usual news of troop activities to be found in this column. In a way, it is too bad that troop activities must halt so completely, for many boys feel fortunate if they are able to spend only two weeks at camp, and this is the very season when scouting can mean so much to them. However, the summer season is always a period of vacations and a change in program, whether it be on the radio, in the home, or in the scouting activities.

Under the circumstances, we plan to utilize this time to bring you, the adults of Winchester, a picture of another side of scouting — a side which is vital to the program, but which requires the cooperation of the adults. We shall tell you the story of the Merit Badges, those little symbols of achievement which your boys so proudly display. We hope this series will interest you, but more than that, we hope that you will discover a way in which your own hobby or skill can be made to pay you added dividends in fun, pleasure, and pride — the fun of showing boys the inner secrets of your hobby, the pleasure of knowing the adventures of youth again from your direct contact with teen age boys, and the pride of a good job well done in Strengthening the Arm of Liberty.

Many boys have found their future vocations in the pursuit of Merit Badges, but this seeking of knowledge and adventure cannot be done by the boy alone. Scouts must have guidance from those adults best qualified in each of the subjects they desire to study. It does not require constant attendance at troop meetings to be a Merit Badge Counselor, although many men find that they want closer attachment to troop activities after they make this contact. On the contrary, a Merit Badge Counselor merely consents to give instruction in his subject, thus having his name placed upon a list. When a boy, or small group such as a Patrol, desires to study that subject, they are referred to the Counselor, whom they contact and arrange a mutually satisfactory schedule of meetings. These may be in the early evening or on Saturday, the latter usually being preferred. In a few hours each week, time which you would normally devote to your hobby anyhow, you as a counselor can have fun and receive pleasure from showing these boys how to have the same kind of fun from your favorite Pastime.

If, as we describe the requirements of these Merit Badges in future installments, you feel that one or more of these subjects lies in the realm of your specific skills, we would appreciate your calling the Scout Headquarters of Fellsland Council on South Border road to get additional information or to arrange a conference with the Chairman of Advancement for the Winchester District. Such a call will be no obligation, but we feel sure that you will earnestly desire to follow up such a talk with active participation as a Merit Badge Counselor.

Watch for our future articles. We are sure they will interest you, even if you are not interested in becoming a Counselor. This is the road that the boys follow in seeking that high award of Eagle Scout. This is the adventure of Scouting. This is the path to good citizenship.

Camp Fellsland News

Mr. Edward W. Nelson, the local Scout Executive who is also the Director for Camp Fellsland, announces that the entire staff for Camp Fellsland has been secured for this summer. The staff includes Mr. Francis X. MacFeeley, as Assistant Camp Director and Program Director, Edward Cullen of Winchester, Assistant Waterfront Director, Mrs. Lily MacFeeley as Camp Nurse, Paul Butterworth of Wilmington as group Scoutmaster, Advancement Director and evening program director.

Mr. Nelson also announces that all religious training has been arranged for both Protestants and Catholic groups. Rev. John Nelson, Catholic Chaplain, is arranging for regular masses every Sunday for the Catholic boys and Rev. Walter Bailey, Protestant Chaplain, has arranged for six ministers from the Haverhill area to conduct Protestant services at Camp Fellsland for the six Sundays while the boys are at camp.

The new canoes made available by the En Ka Society of Winchester have arrived and a special dedication service for these canoes will be held when a delegation from the En Ka Society will visit camp, presumably on the 17th of July. This date of July 17 is tentative, but when definite plans have been made it will be published.

The Fellsland Council office has just now been informed that Camp Fellsland will be one of three New England camps to be studied by National officers during the last week in July. It will be interesting to note where Camp Fellsland stands against the rest of the camps of the United States.

The enrollment for Camp Fellsland is the greatest that it has been for many years. However, there are still some vacancies, with the exception of the third and fourth weeks.

Among recent graduates from college are two former Winchester boys, Porter H. Smith and Stuart E. Smith, formerly of 5 Wildwood street. Porter graduated from Harvard, taking the pre-medical course with a major in bio-chemistry. He will enter Medical school at University of Penn. Stuart graduated from Trinity College, taking a general science course with mathematics and physics as majors and summer courses at M.I.T. and New York U. He is now working for a New York firm. A younger brother is a sophomore in the Naval Science course at Harvard.

in North Beverly, Mass., on Route 128

As you know, Certified Milk is the finest milk that is sold. There are less than 100 dairies in the whole United States qualified to produce this superior milk. Our own Cherry Hill Farm in North Beverly, Massachusetts, is one of these carefully-selected few. It is operated in accordance with the strict rules of the local Medical Milk Commission.

Visitors are always welcome at Cherry Hill. A glance at the map will show you that the farm can be easily reached from any direction. It's a delightful drive over good roads through the beautiful country of Boston's famous North Shore.

Bring the whole family!

There is always ample parking space at Hood's Cherry Hill Farm. There are swings, slides and other amusement for the children . . . as well as picnic tables and facilities for lunching. Come and see first hand the Hood methods of producing a superior quality milk.

See the fine, healthy cows and spry, playful calves. Observe the immaculate dairy barns.

Look off over the rich Cherry Hill pasture lands and the fertile fields that produce the feed crops. Let one of the trained attendants explain how the crops are treated and preserved so that the winter feed equals summer standards, thus guaranteeing the year 'round uniformity of Hood's Certified Milk. Because of this uniformly high quality, Hood's Cherry Hill Certified Milk meets the exacting standards of infants, invalids, and those who demand the best even though it may cost a few pennies more.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The registration at the Winchester Playgrounds was increased by 61 during the second week of operation which makes a total of 292 children registered at the three playgrounds thus far this summer. This excellent attendance has held up well during the heat of the past two weeks and augurs well for the program for the rest of the summer.

The three baseball leagues went into full operation last week with the results given below. The Leonard Field Seniors have shown considerable strength in winning their first two games by comfortable margins. The Loring Avenue Intermediates look very strong in their division and will be hard to beat for the title. The Loring Avenue Juniors stand out in their division, primarily because of the pitching of Norman Delorey. He turned in a no-hit, no-run game against Ginn Field as his team won 6 to 0 and allowed only one single by Joe Bellino as he pitched a 6 to 1 victory over the Leonard Field Juniors.

The younger boys' softball program is in full swing, also, and was featured by a seventh inning rally by Loring Avenue which scored four runs and gave them a 15 to 14 victory over Ginn Field. The girls' softball game between Loring Avenue and Leonard Field ended in an 11 to 11 tie that left neither team happy but definitely clamoring for more games.

JUNIOR LEGION BEAT MALDEN

The Winchester Junior Legion defeated the Malden Junior Legion by a score of 6 to 1 at Manchester Field last Thursday evening. Paul Roche got the locals off to a good start in the first inning when he slammed a two-run homer that hit the back railing of the stands in right field. It was a prodigious wallop and marked the first time that the ball has been hit into the stands on the fly this year.

"Major" Daniels pitched good ball for Winchester, permitting only three hits which were bunched in the third inning when Malden scored its only run. He was a bit liberal with bases on balls, giving up six free tickets, but had the Malden batters popping the ball up in the air or dribbling soft rollers to the infield.

WARRIORS OUTCLASSED CONCORD

The Winchester Warriors outclassed Concord in a Paul Revere League game June 28, winning behind the effective pitching of big Sambo Tompkins, 11-3. The locals combed two Concord hurlers for 16 hits including home runs by both Tompkins and Al Plummer. Tompkins homered with two aboard while Plummer's four-baser was a grand slam affair.

"Freddie" Patterson, high school second string catcher, played first base for the Warriors and did a good job, fielding his position well.

JUNIORS BELTED MELROSE

The Winchester Junior Legion trounced the Melrose Junior Legion by a score of 13 to 5 at Melrose last Friday evening. This was the fourth victory of the week for the local Junior Legionnaires as they are now hustling and playing a much better brand of ball than they displayed earlier in the season.

The game at Melrose was not much of a contest as the locals banged out 14 hits for 13 runs in the first three innings to salt away the victory. It is difficult to see how this Melrose team could have defeated Winchester earlier in the season and serves to emphasize how much better Coach Bartlett's charges are playing at present. With a big lead at the end of the third inning, Coach Bartlett put in Charlie DeFilippo to give the youngster some added pitching experience.

MAYNARD BEAT WARRIORS, 4-2

A greatly strengthened Maynard team upset the Winchester Warriors in a Paul Revere League game at Maynard last week Thursday evening, 4-2. The Mill Town boys showed the best defensive play Winchester has seen this year while Richardson's pitching limited the Warriors to six hits.

Two unearned runs spoiled a pitching performance by Lancelotta, and the Warriors left the bases loaded, with the tieing and winning runs aboard to end the game. Maynard turned in three double plays in the first four innings to aid Richardson.

"Dick" Murphy, regular Tufts third sacker, out of competition for several weeks with a broken hand, played his first game for the Warriors. The summary:

ACE FOR McGRATH

Harry McGrath, Jr., of Rangely Ridge, got one of the big thrills of his golfing career last Sunday when he shot a hole-in-one at the Winchester Country Club while playing with Charlie Collins, Fred Brehm and Bob Harkins.

Harry got his ace when he sank his tee shot on the ninth hole, a 160 yard par three hole, using a four-iron. He made the classic shot, his first hole-in-one, while tuning up for the State amateur.

This year's Fourth of July party for the children of the town was certainly the best in recent years, and also attracted the largest attendance. Based on previous attendance figures the committee of veterans in charge of the celebration prepared to take care of one thousand kiddies, this being an outside figure. Few believed there would be more than seven or eight hundred present, particularly in view of the terrific heat. That there were the fifteen hundred estimated by the professional entertainers is attested by the fact that tickets entitling the holder to rides and refreshments were all given out early in the afternoon, with many more applicants. Surely no one would want to deny any kiddie ice cream or tonic on a day such as the Fourth turned out to be. The Legionnaires had to decide a question of exceeding their appropriation or disappointing the kids. They chose to give the kids their ice cream and appeared before the Selectmen Monday evening for additional funds. They were a little surprised that the Board seemed not too happy over the deficit, which amounted to $50. The Vets' feeling seemed to be that in view of the acknowledged excellence of the July 4th Party the Selectmen ought to be glad to take care of the extra expense involved. Yet, in fairness to the Selectmen, it should be understood that exceeding appropriations voted by the town is serious business that can be even more serious in view of provisions of the law covering such expenditures. Of course the veterans would not come under the provisions of the law, not being town officers, but the only way in which the Selectmen could immediately authorize the appropriation necessary to cover the over-expenditure on the Fourth would be to meet the bill themselves as individuals. As town officers they must go to the Finance Committee and ask for the $50. involved as a transfer from the reserve fund as an emergency measure. The money will be found, of course, and the bill paid. The veterans did a fine job planning and carrying out the July 4th party and no one wants to scold them for spending an extra fifty dollars to provide ice cream and tonic for a lot of extra kids who were hot and thirsty at a party given expressly for them by the town. On the other hand the Selectmen are right in their feeling that exceeding town appropriations is not a policy to encourage.

SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

Fosters The Unwillingness To Accept Responsibility

Editor of the Star:

It has never been a habit of mine to write letters to the newspapers, and when I tell you that I am replying now to a letter which you published on May 20th, you will see that I haven't easily yielded to the impulse to have my say this time. However, here is a subject on which I feel very deeply, and I think my experience has given me facts to support my feeling.

I am referring to the matter of socialized medicine, and in particular to Mrs. Chase's letter.

I had better begin by saying that my situation is, in some ways, not very different from Mrs. Chase's. That is, I am not wealthy. I have been for years a widow and dependent on my own efforts to get me most of the things I need. It could easily happen to me, some day, to need surgery which I could not pay for at once. And I should be just as unhappy and embarrassed as she was to ask my doctor to wait indefinitely for his pay. But I should feel it my duty to bear my own unhappiness and embarrassment for the sake of having a free medical profession; and I think I know enough of doctors to be sure that almost any of them would rather wait indefinitely for pay from a private individual than take his pay, more promptly, perhaps, from the government, since that would mean, practically, that the government owned him and his business, and his patients too, for that matter.

I worked for the government for five years in Washington during the war and immediately following the war. I almost invariably had wonderful people for my immediate supervisors, conscientious people, hard-working people. And yet, in spite of the efforts of the conscientious people around me, I saw evidences of shocking delay, crippling to the war effort, and unavoidable for anything that I or the little people around me could do. The business was too big, too clumsy, too messed up with red tape, for us to handle well; and the people higher up, who should have had it in their power to simplify things. Sometimes they did send in "expediters;" and I have never seen that done where confusion was not immediately worse confounded and the work wasn't still further slowed down.

After I had been for some time in Washington, some of the "career" Civil Service people used to talk to me quite frankly at times, and it would shock you to know what a cynical bunch they are. (Doubtless there are exceptions; but the exceptions are mostly the ones I didn't meet.) In general they are very disillusioned with their jobs. Many of them will tell you that they seriously doubt whether the work they do in peace time is really essential work. Quite often they will point to some other section adjoining theirs and admit that its work almost duplicates their own. (Method of keeping more people employed and giving the higher-up supervisors more subordinates and more salary.) A great many of these men and women would get out of their present jobs except that they have lost the courage to try anything new. After years of government "security" they have come to feel that they must have security at all costs. Some of them realize that the costs are high. I should hate to have the doctor, on whom I have to depend for medical advice, forced to join this bunch of disgruntled people.

Also, I happen to have knowledge which applies more directly to the medical profession. I married into the Navy a good many years ago; and one of the first things I learned was that, though, theoretically, a Naval man and his family had free medical care, that man and his family thought a long time before availing themselves of what was offered. For the conditions under which Naval doctors worked were not calculated to bring the best men into the service. There would be occasional brilliant exceptions. You had to be on the lookout for those. And it was especially true that a very new doctor sometimes deliberately went into the Navy for a short while for the sake of having an immediate practice and an immediate salary that he could live on.

In the service, you see, a man is really penalized for being conscientious and able. Such a man gets practically all the work there is, and the lazy and incompetent chap beside him, whom nobody will call for, if he can help it, will get the same pay and the same benefits with almost no exertion at all.

During the earlier days of the war, I was recommended to a young Washington dentist, supposed to be one of the best in the city. Like every person of middle age or past, I had already had a good deal of experience with dentists. I had come to be a pretty good judge of dentists. This man was good. He was taken into the Navy very soon after I met him and was out of Washington for two or three years. After the war ended, he came back and I went to him again.

I found him very unenthusiastic about the conditions under which the Navy's dentists have to work. He was good, as I said; and he was almost worked to death. He had to learn to be quick whether he was very fussy or not. Also he was forced to use supplies furnished by the Navy; and often the treatment he gave the men was what he knew to be obsolete in the best dental practice. He told of treating men for a mouth disease which caused them much trouble, treating them with something which he knew was going to give only temporary relief. He would fool with this useless stuff for awhile; and then when he got the chance, buy, with his own money, the medicines he knew would cure. Then miracles would happen. Men were suddenly all right after years of discomfort. And whatever could have caused it? The doctor, having used unorthodox treatment, according to old-fashioned Navy regulations, would usually let them marvel.

I found, when he came back, that he was not quite so good a dentist as before. He was quicker than he had been, in a nervous way; but he no longer had time for checking and the nice finishing touches you had had as a matter of course before his Navy experience. And I think that much of his satisfaction in his work had been spoiled. I only hope that after some years of peace, he has got it back.

I knew a great deal about a young doctor who was stationed at a Naval base not far from Washington. He was a really brilliant chap, had got some form of fellowship from the Mayos, for when he could get out of the service, after the war. He was a very popular and a very hard-worked doctor on that base. Naturally a great many young officers and their wives were stationed there. The girls were new to marriage, and to the service, and to free medicine. A good many of them probably had hardly enough to do; and they made the doctor's life miserable. They called him up or called him in on every possible occasion; and after the new babies came to the station, it was worse than ever. They called him if a child slept too long, or not long enough, if he was too quiet, or too lively. The poor young man finally claimed that he hated all pregnant women and all babies.

On the same base there was an older Naval doctor, an officer much higher in the rank than the young man, taking much higher pay and having higher privileges. He had hardly any work, even in these war days. A woman on the station told me she wouldn't have the Captain in to treat a sick cat. He was simply no good. Well, he was a Captain, and nice to meet socially.

I dare say I have used too much space, now; and yet I have hardly touched the subject, even as I know it myself. I will just say that, as I see it, the only possible way to have a Federal government that is efficiently run is to keep matters handled by the Federal government just as few and as uncomplicated as possible. The Army and Navy, doubtless, have to be run by Federal government; and they must have their own medical corps. As long as the doctors in the service have to let their work compare with that of doctors in private practice, not even the medical work in the services is going to be wholly bad. But with all doctors working for the government and hampered by the red tape that would inevitably develop. That is a situation which is completely horrifying to me, and the word is not too strong. There are no words to tell how violently opposed I am to the whole idea.

It seems to me that some people in our country are now trying to buy "security" at the price of freedom. The unwillingness to accept responsibility, even for your own health and welfare, seems to me a dangerously infantile attitude.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Laura K. Klyce,
3301 61st Avenue,
Oakland 5, California.

(Mrs. Klyce was for many years, until the death of her husband, a resident of Bushcliff road.—Ed.)

MR. McKENZIE ANSWERED

Editor of the Star:

I would like to answer the question asked by Mr. McKenzie the writer of the Winchester column, in the Woburn Daily Times.

Mr. McKenzie asked, in the June 30th edition, why the attendants at Palmer Street Beach are not on the job when air is being let out of the tires of the bicycles and cars parked there?

The attendants or guards are on the beach watching the swimmers, which is what they are being paid for, and which is where they should be. The houseman patrols the beach to help us keep order, and is kept busy in the bath-house with his duties. I have never heard of lifeguards being hired to watch parked cars and bicycles. If Mr. McKenzie thinks we should watch the cars and bicycles, he will be one of the very few. Most of the people who frequent the beach will agree that we are needed on the beach to safeguard the safety of the swimmers, and that we are kept busy enough without watching the parking lot.

Since the Woburn Times is read by some Winchester people, I felt that Mr. McKenzie's statement demanded an answer, which could be read by the people in this town.

Thank you very much.

Respectfully yours,
Anne F. Murray
Head Guard - Palmer Beach

WINCHESTER FORTUNATE IN LIBRARY SERVICE

Editor of the Star:

In a letter to the Star some months ago, I called attention to the excellent service our Public Library was rendering to Winchester.

This was confirmed last week by my asking the Library to check a list of sixty-six books published in the Saturday Review of Literature, recommended as the outstanding books of the year in the fiction and non-fiction field, by the Literary Editors of a number of leading newspapers throughout the country.

I was looking for books to add to my list for summer reading. To my surprise and delight, I found that our local Library had more than half of the above-mentioned sixty-six books already on hand and in circulation among our citizens.

I think it is safe to say that a great many city libraries could not have matched this record. Winchester is extremely fortunate in having such up-to-date, efficient service in this field.

APPRECIATED HELP ON JULY 4

Editor of the Star:

May the July Fourth Celebration Committee of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, have space in your paper to express its appreciation of the efforts of many outside the Post who aided so much in making Monday's party for the kiddies such a big success.

We particularly want to thank the Park Department for the very cooperative and effective way in which they assisted in carrying out the necessary preparations. The cooperation of Park Superintendent Mullen was manifest in many ways and the effectiveness of the men who worked with him was one of the instrumental factors in the success of the undertaking.

The Committee especially appreciates the Park Department's interest and good will as manifest in the preparation of the area in which the children's party was held, the securing of the platform used for all acts and contests and the recommendations as to the most effective utilization of the area. We will always remember this interest and good will.

To the judges of the costume competition, Mrs. George Field, "Mack" McKenzie of the Woburn Daily Times and "Jim" Penaligan of the Winchester Star, we extend our hearty thanks. The exceptionally large number of entrants and the excellence of so many of the costumes made their task a difficult one.

They handled their difficult assignment well and the Committee is grateful.

Very truly yours,
Winchester Post No. 97

Going on Vacation?

Two things we can do to help

What would you do if you lost all your money while away from home?

How would you feel if you were to arrive home to find all your jewelry and other valuables gone?

Why take chances? Convert your money into American Express Travelers Cheques—the safest, most convenient way to protect travel and pocket cash. You sign them when you get them and again when you spend them—no other identification needed. And they cost you only 75¢ per $100. So, if they're lost or stolen, you get a quick refund.

And for those valuables you leave behind, there's no safer place than your own safe deposit box in our vaults.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matthew 5:8). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Through repentance, spiritual baptism, and regeneration, mortals put off their material beliefs and false individuality" (p. 242).

WARRIORS TIED LEXINGTON

Sammy Bellino's double, followed by Jim Olivier's over-the-fence home run in the 7th inning gave Winchester Warriors a 6-6 tie with Lexington in their Paul Revere League game at Leonard Field Tuesday night.

Olivier also made the catch of the year in the 6th when he went into short center field to make a twisting leaping back hand stab of what looked like a sure-fire hit, doubling Coscio with the sacks loaded. The summary:

JULY 4TH KIDDIES' PARTY

It was unfortunate that little Eleanor Smith, in her dainty white gown and little Juliet cap with her doll in her arms, originally chosen as the prettiest, couldn't receive the prize for this designation. The contest was strictly limited to Winchester children, and pretty little Eleanor was found to live in Somerville, making her ineligible for a prize. Everyone felt badly for her, but the judges had no choice.

As a matter of fact the judges were sorry they couldn't award prizes to many more than the four chosen. There were some excellent costumes, and their choices had to be made hurriedly with no chance to "check." There were several "hula" girls that were good, a lot of cowboys, one or two good Indians, "Huck" Finn and Tom Sawyer, a court jester, a girl dressed as a lamp, one or two outstanding pirates, a blind man, a Chinese mandarin, a girl in authentic Swedish costume, another blonde youngster in English forester's dress with the "goose that laid the golden egg," Uncle Sam, a boy with a really funny false head, Miss America, Miss 1960, and a spritely young man in Irish costume that "Mack" passed with evident reluctance, after warmly shaking has hand as he arrived at the platform. There were many more surprisingly good costumes, the youngsters and their parents deserving great credit for their originality and skill as well as for their cooperation. The four winners got a good hand from the crowd.

After the costume awards, the winner of the bean-guessing contest was announced as little Judy Madden of Central street, who guessed 17,760 beans against the exact number of 17,481. She got a fine portable radio, the Johnsons got a nice tennis racquet, the Rings, a basketball set; Pat Boring, a wading pool; and Janice Hashey, a sandbox.

Final events on the program were the blueberry pie-eating contest for boys and the watermellon-eating contest for girls. "Pat" McDonough of Shepard Court was an easy winner in the pie-eating, but several girls gulped down their watermellon ahead of the field, Catherine Gangi of Irving street being adjudged the winner by the clowns who acted as judges. She got a fine doll-carriage with all the latest gadgets. "Pat's" pie-eating ability won him a baseball suit, glove, and bat. Ice cream was distributed free to all the children, with long lines in front of the store in the bath-house and the truck all afternoon.

Headed by Lester Gustin and Post Commander Sam Murphy, the hard-working clowns, to whom belongs much of the credit for the success of the afternoon, were Parker Blanchard, John Lutes, John Lynch, Ernest Barron, Arthur Collins, Tom and Joe McKee, Warren Lasky, Don Roberts, Walter Abbott, Bob Burr, Charles Meek, Jr., and Ralph Scott.

MEDFORD JUNIORS BEAT WINCHESTER

The Winchester Junior Legion was defeated by the Medford Junior Legion at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening by a score of 8 to 6. Although Winchester outhit the visitors, the locals were unable to bunch their hits successfully and left no less than ten runners stranded on the bases in the six innings played.

Medford collected only five hits but bunched four solid bingles with two passes and a hit batsman to score four runs in the third inning. Charlie De Filippo relieved Roche at the end of the fourth and twirled two no-reach innings as he looked very effective.

FOUR BOYS SENTENCED

The four boys arrested recently for breaking and entering the Legion Headquarters on Vine street were sentenced yesterday morning in the District Court at Woburn.

The youngest of the four, a juvenile, whom the Police say was the leader in the break, was adjudged a delinquent and sentenced to the Youth Service Board, the members of which decide his punishment.

The three older boys were found guilty of breaking and entering a building in the night time with intent to commit a misdemeanor. They were sentenced to three months in the house of correction with sentence suspended for one year.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB CELEBRATES GALA FOURTH

More than two hundred members relaxed and enjoyed the cooling breezes, to say nothing of the clams and lobsters cooked out of doors, which always adds zest.

The three day holiday started off with a bang, not literally, but with the weatherman pushing the mercury up into the nineties. Those who were wise enough to stay off the blistering hot highways, swam in the lake or relaxed beneath the wide spreading elms. On Saturday night the members stayed late into the evening hating to leave the coolest spot in town.

Sunday was a repetition of Saturday with the members having light suppers on the lawn. One group was smart and brought a small grill; baking potatoes and broiling a steak, to the envy of all the others.

The FOURTH dawned with the promise, or threat, of another scotching hot day. The special celebrating started that Commodore Strawbridge so painstakingly planned.

In the morning there was an inter club sailing race with Medford. The first race, each club sailed their own boats; Winchester Snipes and Medford Comets. Winchester took the honors winning by 19 points. The second race the Medford skippers sailed the Snipes and the Winchester skippers the Comets, with Medford scoring high with 23 points, outclassing our Winchester fleet, by a margin of 4 points.

At two thirty in the afternoon there was a handicap sailing race for all boats other than snipes. Norman Duehring came in first, 2nd L. Lippincot, 3rd G. Trepass.

Following that was a "Bang and Go-Back" race for the motor boats. That was won by J. L. Jenks.

Then preparations began for the big event of the day. The fires were started and the huge drums gotten ready for the clams and lobsters. By six o'clock the hungry crowd had gathered and had just started to enjoy the delicious clams when the weatherman decided to open his bag of tricks and let the rains descend. There was a wild scurrying for cover, but no one seemed to mind the cooling drenching some received. They were pretty wet through anyway from the torrid heat wave so why mind the welcome rain. The rain had pretty well stopped by the time the lobsters were cooked, and the sky was again blue for the watermellon.

A screen was set up on the swimming float and moving pictures entertained the members for the duration of the evening.

Everyone felt Commodore Strawbridge and his assistant Vice Commodore Burr did a swell job, with the day's entertaining.

The Saturday point score race was won by Mel Moller with Ken Cook second. Sunday those two sailors swapped places Ken Cook taking first place with Mel Moller second.

On Wednesday afternoon, July 13th will be held the third bridge party at the Club house. Mrs. Blamire and Mrs. John Allen will be in charge. For reservations phone WInchester 6-0807.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of contagious diseases has been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Thursday, June 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Dunn of Grove street are spending the week with their children at Ashburnham.

THE CHILDREN'S OWN SCHOOL, INC.

This week marked the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Children's Own School, which was opened in July 1942, occupying at that time two rooms in a house on Mystic Valley Parkway. During the years, both the size of the School and the scope of its work have increased, until at the present time eight rooms and two playgrounds are necessary to meet its needs. Interest in the educational methods of the School has spread beyond the immediate community of Winchester, so that children are enrolled as well from Arlington, Lexington, Medford and Reading. This week the Remedial Reading department reopened, as well as the Summer Play School.

Everyone who attended the Square Dance, held at the Town Hall in June, had a very enjoyable time and appreciated the good calling and gay, swinging music furnished by Ed. Weber and his Country Cousins. Enthusiasts have asked the Parent's Committee to schedule another such event for the coming year.

The Director of the School, Miss Dorothy S. Gove, will leave shortly on a trip to Chicago and Michigan, where she will visit various educational institutions. Among these will be Hull House, the University of Chicago and the National Kindergarten Institute at Evanston.

WINCHESTER GOLFER WON UNITED SHOE TOURNEY

Edward Martin of the Winchester Country Club won the main flight competition of the fourth annual United Shoe Machinery Country Club's invitation golf tournament on the holiday by beating 19 year-old Johnny Nies, Jr., of United Shoe in the final round, 3 and 2.

Martin, who was medalist for the tourney with a one-under-par 70, disposed of Leo Clough of Vesper in the semi-final round, 5 and 4, while Nies beat Mills White of Tedesco in the semis, 1 up.

Martin, who is the State Amateur Champion, was three-under-par for 77 holes which is real top-flight golf. Following are the championship round cards:

	Final round
Martin out	3 4 5 4 4 3 4 5 4	—36
Nies out	4 3 3 5 4 2 5 7 5	—38
Martin, 2 up.

A&P FRESHNESS CONTROL Guards QUALITY!

1. A&P has buyers who literally comb the best food growing areas to assure that the best of good things to eat find their way to A&P.

2. A&P buyers are in daily touch with all food sources—and these experts have quality standards which guide them—standards that are under the constant vigil of A&P's rigid inspections.

3. A&P has specialists who know the peculiarities of all foods—why they deteriorate—the time it takes for them to lose flavor and food value—what can be done to keep them in prime condition. And these men "write the formulas" for the correct handling of these foods—what protection to use. They set that important A&P policy of "Freshness Control"!

4. This is the process of Freshness Control up to the time your nearby A&P receives the items you buy. And, it doesn't stop there - - for A&P's policy of Freshness Control continues throughout the store up to the time you buy. Daily inspection of all foods guards quality—assures the goodness of the foods you buy. Freshness Control is another service that gives you confidence in A&P - - makes A&P a better place to buy!

Peak Of Freshness . . .

See how A&P's Freshness Control works for you. Here you'll find every item of fresh fruits and vegetables carefully inspected for uniform quality from time of delivery to when you buy. Off size and off grade items are sorted out as being not up to A&P's rigid standards, and placed on the "Quick Sale" table at a reduced price.

Customers' Corner

We believe our customers are entitled to top quality food at low prices, served in clean, healthful surroundings.

That's why we train and instruct our employees to keep all trays and cases and scales scrubbed and sanitary; to keep refuse and packing cases out of the aisles and off the sidewalks; and to keep floors and grocery racks clean and orderly.

Sometimes during rush periods it's hard to keep a store as neat as it should be. But that's our job, and you will be doing us a favor if you will let us know if your A&P store ever fails in any way to measure up to our high standards of cleanliness. Please write:

TENNIS TOURNAMENT OF LONG AGO

The Winchester annual Spring Tennis Tournament was held and completed long ago, but a belated report thereon may serve to remind us of cooler and balmier days. On Sunday morning June 12 the Tournament came to a close with the finals of the Family Doubles, the feature event of this tournament, bringing together Forbes and Marnee representing the Norris family and Jim and Dick upholding the good name of the Rileys. It was not a day for the Rileys, and Forbes and Marnee took the honors and the Family Doubles Trophy for the second consecutive year.

The results of the matches in the various divisions of the tournament were as follows:

Family Doubles

First Round: Forbes and Marnee Norris defeated Hall and Peter Gamage 6-1, 6-1; Fran and Joan McNeill defeated Dana Sawyer and Jr. 6-8, 6-2, 6-1; Jim Ware and Jr. wore down Bud and Nancy Nutter 6-3, 10-8; Maurice and Louise Freeman defeated Harry von Rosenvinge and brother 6-4, 5-7, 6-3; Art and Dot Hills defeated Jim and Roberta Coon 6-2, 6-1; Jim and Dick Riley defeated Bob Paine and Jr. 6-1, 6-3.

Quarter Finals: The Norrises defeated Fran and Joan McNeill 6-1, 6-1; Jim Ware and Jr. defeated Maurice and Louise Freeman 6-2, 6-1; Art and Dot Hills defeated Paul and Diantha Lamb 6-4, 6-1; Jim and Dick Riley defeated Fran and Diane McNeill 6-1, 6-1.

Semis: The Norrises defeated the Wares 6-4, 6-2, The Rileys defeated the Hills 6-3, 6-2.

Men's Draw Doubles

First Round: Paul Lamb and Bob Phillips defeated Ted Godwin and Ed Moses 6-3, 6-4; Deb Bellows and Ike Powers defeated Bob Forester and Bill Packer 7-5, 7-5; Roland Patrick and Blair Currie defeated Jim Riley and Dave Archibald 4-6, 6-1, 6-4; Forbes Norris and Bob Abbott defeated Warren Branch and George Bird 6-1, 6-1; Maurice Freeman and Paul Forester defeated Leo Lieberman and Harry von Rosenvinge 6-4, 6-2.

Quarter Finals: Bob Horne and Bob Walsh defeated Maurice Freeman and Paul Forester 6-8, 6-2, 6-3.

Semis: Patrick and Currie defeated Bellows and Powers 6-3, 6-3; Peter Clark and Bill McGaragle defeated Lamb and Phillips 7-5, 9-7.

Finals: Patrick and Currie defeated Clark and McGaragle 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Mixed Draw Doubles

First Round: Lynn Aitkens and Bob Phillips defeated Diane McNeill and Deb Bellows 7-5, 6-3; Joan McNeill and Dave Archibald defeated Sylvia Gagan and Tom McGowan 3-6, 7-5, 6-4; Phyllis Young and Whit Gray defeated Nancy Nutter and Jim Ware Jr. 8-6, 6-2; Diane Barrett and Bob Horne defeated Sylvia Crowelli and Warren Branch 6-3, 7-5.

Second Round: Barbara Buffum and Jim Riley defeated Marilyn Chase and Libby Moses 6-3, 6-1; Dotty Welch and Bud Nutter defeated Aitkens and Phillips 6-2, 6-2; Nancy O'Rourke and Bill McGaragle defeated Marilyn Chase and Connie Rosander 7-5, 4-6, 7-5; Sylvia Campbell and George Bird defeated Diantha Lamb and Harry von Rosenvinge 6-2, 7-5; Dot Hills and Bob Walsh defeated McNeill and Archibald 6-2, 6-1; Young and Gray defeated Barrett and Horne 6-3, 6-2.

MOTORISTS HOSPITALIZED AFTER CAMBRIDGE ST. CRASH

Two men were treated at the Winchester Hospital early last Sunday morning when the automobile in which they were riding north on Cambridge street side-swiped two trees to the north of the flasher at the corner of Cambridge, Church and High streets.

According to the Police A. Joseph Gerossie of Lexington street, Burlington, was driving the car, a Chevrolet coach, which was disabled and had to be towed away. He told the Police he fell asleep at the wheel. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the Police ambulance by Officers Thomas Hannon and James Noonan, and treated by Dr. Fonteneau for a concussion, lacerations of the forehead and bruised knees.

Riding with him was Edward J. Florek of Francis Wyman road, Burlington, who was not so badly injured. He was taken to the Hospital by Officer Archie O'Connell in a patrol car and treated by Dr. Fonteneau for a concussion, bruised knees and a sprained ankle.

CARS COLLIDED AT TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Last Friday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock a Plymouth sedan, driven by Kathleen E. Rice of 3 Columbus avenue, Stoneham, was badly damaged about the right rear in a collision at the traffic lights in the center with a Ford coupe, driven by Annie L. Pyne of 5 Blaisdell road, Medford.

According to the Police both machines were headed north on Main street and stopped for the lights. As the light went green both started and the Ford, in attempting to make a left turn collided with the Plymouth. Neither driver claimed injuries and the Ford was only slightly damaged.

AIR INSTRUCTORS WANTED

The Civil Air Patrol, an Auxiliary of the U. S. A. F. urges all air minded men and women to volunteer their time as either instructors or staff officers. There are numerous boys and girls in Winchester who are anxious to receive instruction but are unable to do so because of the lack of expert teachers.

Senior applicants are 18 years of age, or older, native born or naturalized citizens with the desire to give their time in peace and in national emergency to the U. S. Air Force as a member of the Civil Air Patrol.

Reserve Officers will receive points for their promotion and retirement as they become assigned to CAP units as staff officers or instructors.

For further information write Lt. James A. Sawdy, Public Information Officer, Group III Mass. Wing Civil Air Patrol, 48 Boylston street, Boston, Massachusetts.

Mr. Edson Laraway and family of Groton, Conn., on their way home from vacationing at Lake Wentworth, N. H., spent the week-end in town visiting Mr. Laraway's mother and sisters. Miss Marjorie Morse of Lloyd street vacationed with the Laraways at Lake Wentworth.

Beggs and Cobb	3	10

The race in the Town Softball League is still tightly bunched with five teams in a position to grab off the four play off positions. A week ago the five teams were all tied for first place but the American Legion and the White Shirts lost a game during the week to drop out of first place while the Maguire Motors did not play.

The best game of the past week from a competitive standpoint was the 11 to 9 victory of the Old Men over Beggs and Cobb in two overtime innings. The White Shirts defeated the American Legion but were in turn defeated by the Sons of Italy in the two games between the top five teams, Beggs and Cobb defeated the K. of C. on Wednesday evening to put these two teams into a tie for last place.

Next week's schedule offers several excellent contests that will attract considerable interest. On Monday evening at Loring Avenue the Sons of Italy and the Old Men will tangle and the Old Men have been playing excellent ball of late. The American Legion and St. Mary's are scheduled for Ginn Field on Wednesday evening in a game that should be well contested. On Thursday evening at Ginn Field the American Legion and the Maguire Motors cross bats in a game that both need desperately to win.

THE WINCHESTER STAR.

VOL. LXVIII NO. 48 THE WINCHESTER MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1949 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

GUILD SHOW AT LIBRARY

The Guild of Boston Artists has its usual fine summer show this year at the Library Art Gallery under the auspices of the Winchester Art Association. The show is open to the public and is well worth the trip to see and study.

There are several portrait studies headed by "Lady in Black" by Gertrude Fiske, a study of an elderly lady, strongly painted with both character and consistency, the level eyes of the subject seen through gold rimmed spectacles and a black carved necklace showing on the breast of the black silk dress.

"Scarlet and Gold" has been seen in the library gallery before. It is a striking portrait of a young girl by Marguerite Pearson, the subject wearing a red and blue kimona, which has slipped from one rounded shoulder. Behind her is a shimmering gold background and before her a table with fruit and dried Chinese flowers.

The flesh tones and hair of the "Portrait" by Frederick E. Wallace are beautifully done, the subject being a handsome, well groomed woman, prematurely white haired with a fine fresh complexion and a diaphanous wrap showing over one rounded arm.

"Miss Tisket" by Ruth Anderson is a large portrait of an engaging chubby little girl, seated sideways in a black straight backed chair with a basket hanging from the crook of an elbow. Her round face is framed in a close fitting white hat.

Very striking and imaginative is "Playground" by Loring Coleman, Jr., showing two tots playing amidst the debris in a small dump, dwarfed by two huge gasometers in the center of the picture and the stacks of factories in the background. A telephone pole rises stark and black in the foreground and to the right appears the rear verandas of a four-decker tenement house with their picketed safety railings.

Leslie Thompson's "Still Life" shows two brownish Chinese figures on a small pedestal against a red background with touches of vivid green below the figures.

William J. Kaula has two pictures in the show, the larger, "Monadnock Region" being of the panoramic type and distinguished by the fine sky and clouds for which this artist is noted. Blue touched water is seen between tall trees at either side of the foreground with a peaceful tree-studded valley stretching away to vague highlands. "The Red Mill", Mr. Kaula's smaller study, is a snow picture with the brick tones of a sturdy square building reflected in the cold looking water of a roughish stream girt by now-clad banks.

As fine a study as there is in the show is "In the Shadow of Monadnock" by Stanley Woodward, noted marine artist, who this time shows red and weathered farm buildings rambling across the canvas under a purplish mountain peak. The shadow tracery of trees shows in the door-yard with its mail-box at the entrance and behind the buildings a single tree displays its early fall greenish-bronze foliage against a blue and gray cloudy sky. A frost-touched grape vine by the barn adds a realistic touch to this excellent canvas.

Henry Brooks has an eye-catching blue and white sky in his large study, "Connecticut Elms", with its four large trees in early fall dress rising high in open country beside a rugged wagon-path.

"Gladiolus" by Ernest Major is a colorful study of these spiky flowers in a tall green glass vase against a plum-colored background. A cigarette in a metal ash-tray and a glass bowl of fruit add to the interest.

"Spring Time" by Marion Sloane is a very delicately painted landscape, full of the warmth of spring and the delicate soft shades of blooming trees and new grass. There is rugged strength and action painted into "The Trail" by Howard Smith, with its blue-shirted rider urging his straining mount up a rocky hillside and leading a packmule. A reddish-brown snub-nose mountain looms against a bit of blue sky while atmosphere is added by a graying skeleton tree at the side of the trail.

"Barbiturate" by R. H. Ives Gammell is a highly imaginative bit of painting, depicting a man who has taken a sleeping dose being held in the arms of a black-garbed woman with stars about her head. Another woman in dark draperies is lulling him with the strains of a violin, but behind the twain looms a man with a death's head whose muscular hand is twined in the snakes of a white faced Medusa with closed eyes. Two grasping hands appear below and to the left of the sleeper and the background is that of a dimly seen big city.

In wholly different mood is John Enser's "Across the Dunes", with its fresh clean out-of-doors feeling and its sailboat on the water behind the rounded dunes. A wagon and man moving over the sand add interest as do the colorful houses of a village seen across the water.

HALLOWELL — SNOW

For her marriage on Saturday afternoon, July 9, to Mr. Winslow Hallowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Longstreth Hallowell Jr. of Concord, Miss Nancy Loring Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Ellsworth Snow of Glen road, wore the wedding dress of her maternal great grandmother, the late Mrs. Henry Payson Briggs.

Made of shirred net with a full train, it had a deep border of tiny mother-of-pearl sea shells brought from the South Sea Islands by an uncle of the bride's great grandmother. These shells also trimmed the bride's fingertip veil and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of stephanotis, white delphinium and sweetheart roses.

The four o'clock ceremony was performed in the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester by the Reverend John Carlyle Tierney of Sanbornville, N. H., brother-in-law of the bride, assisted by the Reverend Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the church. A reception followed at The Music Hall in Winchester.

Given in marriage by her Father, the bride had as her matron of honor her sister Mrs. John Carlyle Tierney of New Hampshire, and Miss Nancy Carter Nutter of Winchester as her maid of honor. They wore identical gowns of lime green organza tied with yellow sashes and carried cascades of myrtle and ivy to match the wreaths in their hair.

The bridesmaids, Miss Harriet Perry Close of Madison, Conn. and Miss Barbara Proudfit Booth of Winchester, wore buttercup yellow gowns of organza tied with green sashes and also carried cascades of myrtle and ivy matching their wreaths.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Snow wore a pink flowered hat with her lilac crepe gown and had a corsage of heliotrope, Lavender candytuft and pink larkspur.

Mrs. Hallowell, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of aqua crepe, with her toast straw hat and had a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. George Loring Briggs of Brookline, grandmother of the bride and Mrs. Morris Longstreth Hallowell of Concord, grandmother of the groom, received with the wedding party.

Mr. Eliot Stetson Hallowell, of Concord, was best man for his brother and the ushers were another brother, Mr. Morris Longstreth Hallowell III of Boston, Mr. Henry Parkman III of Brookline, Mr. Peter Galloway Huidekoper of Weston and Mr. George Lyman Snow II of Winchester, brother of the bride.

SALZMAN — WOLLINA

On Friday afternoon, July eighth, in the Evangelical Heilands Kirche at Graz, Austria, Miss Gertraut Wollina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Wollina became the bride of Mr. Robert Blake Salzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Caldwell of Bushcliff road.

The candlelight ceremony was performed before the same altar where the bride's parents were married twenty-five years ago. With her gown of white satin and veil of heirloom lace the bride wore a pearl brooch first worn by the groom's great-grandmother as a gift from her husband on their wedding day. Mr. Wollina gave his daughter in marriage. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Siglinda Wollina and Miss Anneliese Wollina dressed in taffeta gowns of identical design in pastel shades of pink and blue and carrying arm bouquets of garden flowers.

In the absence of the groom's family, relatives of the bride served in place of his brothers, Mr. Harold Sheldon Salzman of Hollis, Long Island, as honorary best man and as ushers for David Booth Salzman, and John Booth Salzman, both of Hamden, Connecticut, and Eben Caldwell and Sheldon Caldwell of Winchester.

Miss Wollina is a student at the University of Graz, from which she expects to receive her degree in chemistry this fall. Mr. Salzman was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1943 and attended Kimball Union Academy. After three years in the service he studied at Newton Junior College before transferring to the University of Georgia where he was a member of Phi Kappa and Phi Delta Theta fraternities.

Following the reception held in the gardens of the Wollina home, Mr. and Mrs. Salzman left for a trip to Italy and Switzerland. They will make their home in Graz, Austria where Mr. Salzman is in business.

MISS HYLAND, ENSIGN JOHN MAPE WILL WED IN EARLY FALL

Capt. Edward A. Hyland (DC) USN and Mrs. Hyland of the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Florida, formerly of Winchester announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Patricia Hyland to Ens. John C. Mape, USN, son of Mrs. Vance C. Mape of San Mateo, Calif., and the late Mr. Mape.

The bride-elect was graduated from Winchester High School and from the Massachusetts School of Physiotherapy, etc. The groom-elect was graduated from St. Joseph college, Mountain View, Calif., and is now undergoing flight training at the Naval Air station.

The wedding will take place in the early fall.

MORANIAN — NORIAN

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at St. James Church in Watertown on Sunday afternoon, July 10, when Miss Lillian Grace Norian, daughter of Mrs. Merin Norian of 23 Sheffield road, became the bride of Thomas T. Moranian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Manuel Moranian of 3 Cliff street, Arlington Heights. White flowers decorated the altar and the ends of the pews for the ceremony which took place at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Norian was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Aram Mouradian of Winchester. She wore a gown of ivory satin having a front panel of imported Chantilly lace with appliques of satin lilies and lace along the front neckline. A coronet of lace and valley lilies held in place her fingertip-length veil of illusion, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids with white roses.

Mrs. H. Philip Hovnanian of Providence, R. I., was matron of honor and the honor maid was Miss Helen J. Moranian of Arlington Heights. Bridesmaids were Miss Mary, Miss Grace and Miss Elizabeth Norian of Winchester, and Miss Dorothy Moranian of Arlington Heights. Miss Madelyn Mouradian of Winchester, small niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The matron of honor was gowned in aqua, her dress having a tissue taffeta bodice and a net skirt. Her coronet of pink roses matched the roses in her cascade bouquet, those of the bouquet being combined with aqua-tinted sweet peas.

The honor maid wore a pink dress styled like that of the matron of honor, and her coronet and bouquet were the same. The bridesmaids wore marquisette dresses in soft shades of orchid, yellow, blue and lime. They carried old fashioned bouquets of roses, sweet peas and babies breath and wore the same flowers in their hair. The flower girl wore a frock to harmonize with the costumes of the other bridal attendants and carried a basket of fresh flowers.

Mrs. Norian, mother of the bride, wore midnight blue net lace over lavender with navy accessories. Mrs. Moranian, the bridegroom's mother, wore pink and beige lace with fucshia accessories.

Myron Ayvazian of Arlington was best man, and the usher corps included H. Philip Hovnanian of Providence, R. I., Albert S. Kasarjian, John H. Ayvazian, Leo Moranian and Leo Maserian, all of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. Moranian went on a tour of the New England States and Canada for their wedding journey.

The bride is a graduate of Weehawken High School in New Jersey. Mr. Moranian, who is an engineer in the electronics division of Sylvania Electric, graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1949. During the war he was a lieutenant in the United States 8th Air Force, serving overseas as navigator on B-24's.

FLOYD — AUTENZIO

At St. Anthony's Church in North Woburn on Sunday afternoon, July 3, Miss Yolanda Carmella Autenzio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Giulio Autenzio of Milan avenue, Woburn, became the bride of Iverson Clinton Floyd of 419 Washington street. Rev. Fr. Gerald Hogan performed the marriage ceremony at 3:30 o'clock and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Autenzio was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Gilda Autenzio.

The honor maid wore a Nile green gown styled like that of the bride with a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and babies breath.

Eugene Mottolo of Winchester was best man for Mr. Floyd and the ushers were Mario J. Autenzio of Woburn, brother of the bride; and William T. Floyd of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom.

After a wedding trip through New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine Mr. and Mrs. Floyd will live in Woburn where the bridegroom is employed by the John J. Riley Leather Company.

TOUGH FIRE AT TOWN DUMP

The Fire Department made several trips to the town dump over the week-end, fighting a stubborn underground fire there.

Spontaneous combustion, caused by the intense heat, is blamed for the fire which first broke out last week Thursday and continued over the week-end. Box 7-35 was pulled Saturday morning at 9 o'clock as the firemen made an all-out but unsuccessful attempt to root out and extinguish the smouldering underground rubbish. The department was at the dump Thursday, Friday and Saturday and again on Monday.

The new method of so-called "sanitary fill" makes it difficult to fight such fires as this, since all sorts of inflamable rubbish is covered with earth as soon as it is deposited in the dump. Under the old system inflamable rubbish was burned at the dump, and the firemen, at least, are all for the old fashioned way of disposing with such material.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

HARRIS — CONNOR

Calla lilies and blue delphinium decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, July 9, for the marriage of Miss Betty Ann Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Connor of 350 Highland avenue, to Lt. Clifford Hammond Harris, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. Harris of Canobie Lake, N. H. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o' clock, and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Miss Dorothy Hickey was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Connor wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a scalloped off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed with satin and rhinestones and a bodice and sleeves of Venice lace. Her full-length veil was of heirloom Brussels lace and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Patricia Flynn of Brighton was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Foley and Miss Miriam Russo of Winchester, Miss Marie Haggerty of Lee, and Miss Ann Twigg of St. Albans, Vt.

The bridesmaids were gowned like the honor maid except that their colors were white and yellow, and their bouquets, of white daisies and yellow carnations.

Russell Harris of Canobie Lake, N. H., was best man for his brother, and Robert Connor of Arlington, Va., brother of the bride, ushered, with Timothy Pouch of Dongan Hills, Staten Island, N. Y.; and William Daley and Manning Farrell, both of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, the setting for the receiving line being palms, white roses and babies breath.

Lt. Harris, a pilot in the United States Air Forces Reserve, took his bride by motor across the northern part of the country to California where they will sail or fly to Hawaii to spend a year at Hickam Field, Honolulu.

Both are graduates of Winchester High School and Mrs. Harris is a graduate of Manhattanville College, New York. The bridegroom is a graduate of Hebron Academy.

CARSON — MEISSE

At St. Francis of Assisi Church in the Medford Fellsway on Saturday evening, July 9, Miss Phyllis Marie Meisse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Meisse of Court street, Medford, became the bride of Jeremiah Joseph Carson, son of Mrs. Mary A. Carson of Taylor street, Medford, formerly of Winchester.

Miss June Brogetti of West Medford was the only bridal attendant. She wore a pink linen suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses, stephanotis and babies breath. George Carpenter of West Medford, formerly of Winchester, was Mr. Carson's best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Parkway Club of Everett. After a motor trip through New Hampshire Mr. and Mrs. Carson will live in their recently completed home on Pinedale avenue in Pinehurst.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High School. Mr. Carson attended the Winchester schools and is associated with Hughes Motor Mart of Cambridge as an auto-body repair man. During the war he served 18 months with the armed forces in the European Theatre.

HEITZ — PENNEY

Miss Bertha Louise Penney, daughter of Mrs. Miriam Penney of Oak street, and Robert George Heitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Heitz of Hill street, were married on Friday evening, July 1, at St. Mary's Rectory by the Rev. Fr. Francis O'Neil.

The bride wore a gown of lavender brocaded taffeta with accessories and picture hat of white and a corsage of white roses.

She was attended by Miss Sheila Ann Sullivan, who wore talisman roses with her dress of peach brocaded taffeta and white hat and accessories. Henry C. Heitz, Jr., of this town was best man for his brother.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated with freshly cut mixed flowers. The mother of the bride and the parents of the bridegroom assisted in the receiving line.

After a motor trip through Northern New England Mr. and Mrs. Heitz will make their home at 11 Hill street.

Both young people are graduates of Winchester High School, and Mr. Heitz is associated with Bonnell Motors, Winchester distributors of Ford Motor Cars.

SHOOTING ON THE HILL

A resident of Myopia Hill reported to the Police Tuesday afternoon that while working in her garden she had heard the discharge of a rifle and a shot had passed over her head.

Officer William E. Cassidy looked around the neighborhood and found a 16 year old boy employed on a neighboring estate, who admitted shooting a .22 calibre rifle at birds. The rifle was taken to Headquarters by Officer Cassidy who warned the boy about the law forbidding the discharge of firearms in Winchester.

EDWARD P. MURPHY

Edward P. Murphy, a former well known resident of Winchester, died Wednesday evening, July 13, at the Holy Ghost Hospital in Cambridge, after a year's illness. He left town 20 years ago and had been making his home at 14 Wolcott Park in West Medford.

Mr. Murphy was the son of Luke and Elizabeth (Lannon) Murphy. He was born May 25, 1864, in County Cork, Ireland, but came to this country at the age of 15 and settled in Winchester, making the town his home for half a century.

During most of his years in Winchester he made his home at 762 Main street, now occupied by the Lane Funeral Home. He was a landscape gardener, working on many of the town's large estates, including the Ginn and Downs estates and the Dr. Houghton estate on Myopia Hill. He also was for several years in the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad. He was a member of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, and of St. Joseph's Holy Name Society in Medford.

Mr. Murphy married Honora Walsh June 17, 1895, and they celebrated their golden wedding in 1945, Mrs. Murphy passing away the next year.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. John J. Morrissey of West Medford, Mrs. Alfred Frye of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Loretta Gradeski, Miss Evelyn Murphy and Miss Katherine Murphy, all of West Medford; also two sons, Vincent Murphy of West Medford and Edwin Murphy of Paris, France.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning with solemn high mass of requiem at St. Joseph's Church, Medford. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. EMMA MAY PLUDE

Mrs. Emma May Plude of 20 Mystic avenue, widow of George Plude, died suddenly, following a heart attack, Saturday afternoon, July 9, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gladys Foley of Allen road, Billerica. Mrs. Plude, who was visiting at the home of her daughter, had been for some time in failing health.

Born in Fiskdale April 20, 1876, Mrs. Plude was the daughter of James, and Cordelia (Cordette) Julian. She had lived in Winchester for 40 years. Her husband, who was well known as a painter and decorator, died April 20, 1940.

Besides Mrs. Foley, Mrs. Plude leaves a daughter, Mrs. James M. O'Neil, with whom she made her home; five sisters, five brothers, four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held from the late residence on Mystic avenue Tuesday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis O'Neil. Eight nephews of the deceased served as bearers. Interment was in the Fiskdale Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by the pastor of the Fiskdale Shrine.

MRS. LILLIAN T. WHEELOCK

Mrs. Lillian T. Wheelock, widow of Horace M. Wheelock, died Sunday morning, July 10, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, 1 Wildwood street, after a long period of failing health. She would have been 89 years old July 23, having been born on that day in 1860 at Frankfort, Maine, the daughter of Captain Henry Treat, Bangor sea captain.

Mrs. Wheelock spent her early life in Frankfort, later living in Bangor. All of her married life was spent in West Newton and Cambridge, and she was for many years a member of the Second Congregational Church in West Newton.

After the death of her husband she came to make her home with her daughter in Winchester eight years ago. Besides Mrs. Shoemaker there are surviving three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery, Auburn, Maine.

HERBERT EBLE

Herbert Eble of 25 Elmwood avenue, a veteran of World War I and long time resident of Winchester, died Thursday morning, July 14, at the Chelsea Hospital.

Mr. Eble was born in South Boston 57 years ago. He lived as a boy in Winchester, was educated in the Winchester schools and followed the trade of a painter.

During World War I he served in the United States Army, going overseas. His health had been poor following his discharge. He was a former member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post in Beachmont. He leaves his stepfather and his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Snodgrass of this town.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

TOWN DUMP FIRE FINALLY OUT?

The Fire Department was called again to the town dump on Wednesday to fight the subterranean fire which had been burning there since last Thursday. When Chief James E. Callahan and his men left the dump after their efforts on Wednesday they were in hopes that the fire was finally out.

UNION SUMMER SERVICE

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak on "The Need for Steadiness" at the Union Summer Service in that church, on Sunday morning, July 17th, at 10:45 o'clock. A cordial

WINCHESTER AND WOBURN JUNIOR LEGIONS HERE SATURDAY

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be at Manchester Field on Saturday afternoon when the Winchester Junior Legion tangles with the Woburn Junior Legion. Woburn is in a tie for first place with Lowell in the Junior Legion League and must defeat the locals to remain in the running for the Division Championship. Winchester pinned a 6 to 5 loss on Woburn in their earlier game amid considerable argument and hard feeling and the locals will be hustling to knock off their rivals again in this one. A Woburn loss would be a bitter pill to swallow for the large delegation of Woburn fans that will accompany their team to Winchester.

Winchester plays two more home games this week. On Sunday afternoon they meet the Melrose Junior Legion at Manchester Field. Each team has won a game from the other and this will be the rubber contest. For their regular Wednesday evening game Winchester will entertain the Arlington Hoboes in a non-league contest.

NEW RAILS FROM STATION TO CENTER

Work on placing new ties and rails on the B & M from the center crossing to the end of the station platform was started on Monday, a big gang of men being engaged in the project. The long rails, reaching over 700 feet, were pulled to a point below the station and the old rails and ties were taken out. The old roadbed to a considerable depth was taken out by a power shovel and carted off.

After the new ties were placed in position the old rails were spiked on again and crushed stone dropped on the roadbed, the rails being brought up to grade.

The first attempt to drop the stone direct from the cars and use the grader did not work out so well, the center crossing being obstructed by the train. The following day the stone was brought by truck and shoveled in by hand.

When the section is completed so far as the stone and ties are concerned the long rails will be dragged up and placed in position.

Following the completion of the outward track work will be started on the inward rails. Meanwhile there is occasional delay through all trains using one track.

SAIL FOR ITALY

Mr. Joseph Maggio of Florence street, accompanied by his daughter, Geraldine, both of this town and Mr. Samuel Maggio of East Boston sail today from New York on the M. V. "Sobieski" bound for Italy for a two and one half month vacation.

On the way they will stop at Gibralta, the French Riviera, Genoa, Pisa, Florence and Rome where they will be joined by Mr. Maggio's aunt, a nun in the Order of St. Ann's.

From there, they will go to Sicily where they plan to spend a month visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maggio, parents of Mr. Joseph and Mr. Samuel Maggio, and grandparents of Geraldine. It will be quite a reunion for the Maggio's as parents and sons have not seen each other since 1921 and it will be the first meeting of Geraldine and her grandparents.

FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION

Plans are being rapidly completed for the celebration of the Feast of the Assumption by the Italian residents of the town.

The feast day falls on August 15, and there will be special masses in St. Mary's Church and the Immaculate Conception Church on that day.

The celebration, which will be in the form of a carnival will precede the feast day, on August 11, 12, 13, and 14, with a big parade on Sunday, August 14, commencing at 2o'clock.

The committee in charge of arrangements will be glad to hear from any one desirous of assisting them as members of the committee. Contact John Mercurio, secretary, or Robert Fiore if you wish to help.

THE ADAMS' FIFTY-FOURTH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Adams observed their 54th wedding anniversary Monday evening when they were hosts to a group of friends and relatives at their home on Mystic avenue. Both are well known and Mr. Adams is still actively engaged as a taxicab operator in town. A native of Winchester, he was formerly for many years in the grocery and provision business, first as a clerk for the late George E. Morrill in his grocery store on the site of the present Star Building, and later, in partnership with the late George Dupee in a market on Main street near Thompson street in what is now a part of the Locatelli Building.

WATER AT WINCHESTER BEACHES O. K.

The Park Department is keeping a close watch over the water at the town beaches at Palmer street and Leonard Field because of the long drought. Frequent tests has been made and thus far the water has been considerably above the standard required by the State Department of Health for bathing.

TAX MONEY FROM STATE

Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradlee received on July 11 from the Commonwealth the sum of $139,776.00 which represents the return to the town of money paid the State in business and corporation taxes and income taxes. Of the money returned $74,802.00 is from corporation and business taxes, and $64,

MRS. QUINN JOINS NURSING STAFF HERE

Mrs. C. Rayford Quinn, R. N., has been appointed to the staff of the Winchester District Nursing Association, it is announced by the Board, through the president, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, and the Nursing Committee chairman, Mrs. Henry E. Moffette.

Mrs. Quinn has served this community in recent months as a supply nurse during the unusually heavy case load, to assist the Director, Mrs. Jane H. Lord, and Miss Alice Peterson, and is known to many patients in this area. A resident of Woburn at present, Mrs. Quinn is a graduate of the Winchester Hospital, and has taken summer courses in public health nursing at Simmons. She has worked in Concord and in Waltham for the Visiting Nurses Associations, and in the past, she has worked for the Winchester Board of Health. Mrs. Quinn has served as Supervisor in the Connecticut Hospital, and has been on the staff of the Reading Sanitorium and the Massachusetts General Hospital. She has a broad background of nursing experience, and her appointment will be welcomed by the many residents who know and call upon the splendid service of the Winchester District Nurses.

ST. JOSEPH PAPER DEVOTED EDITION TO SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

St. Joseph, Mo., is the home town of President Truman. Consequently it is interesting, at least, if not significant, to see the St. Joseph News-Press devote its Sunday morning edition of June 26 to opposing the President's proposal to socialize the nation's medical care.

An entire section of the paper is cleverly devoted to arguments against socialized medicine, some in the way of ads, some in the way of news articles, some in the way of cartoons. The entire first page is devoted to a cut of a surgeon and nurse engaged in an operation with the "Oath of Hippocrates," the oath taken by every physician and surgeon, printed in full below.

The edition of the News-Press was brought to the Star's attention by Dr. Milton J. Quinn, one of Winchester's widely known and popular physicians, who like President Truman hails from "St. Joe", but who, unlike the Chief Executive, sees no good in having the government administer the nation's medical care. It was published in connection with the 97th anniversary meeting of the Buchanan County Medical Society with headquarters at St. Joseph's on June 26.

ROADS COMPLETED AT NEW WEST SIDE SCHOOL

Superintendent of Streets Parker Holbrook and his Highway crews are expected to complete today the work of building roads around the new Lewis Parkhurst School in the west side hill district. The job which includes building three parts of Emerson road, two parts of Arlington road, and Samoset road, Indian Hill road and Andrews road, is being completed well ahead of schedule, it having been expected to be completed about August 1. The clear sunny weather has assisted the men in what was a major undertaking, and the completion of the roads has made a remarkable difference in the district surrounding the new school.

FLEW TO ROME

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vozzella of 131 Highland avenue, with their daughter, Clara, flew by TWA to Rome recently, leaving this country July 5 and arriving in Rome two days later after encountering the freak storm in Portugal.

They were met at the Rome airport by their sisters and brother whom they have not seen for 38 years. After a joyous reunion the Vozzellas proceeded to Avellino where they are to spend several days with relatives while making arrangements for a tour of Italy, Switzerland and France. They plan to return to this country in September.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. F. Glenn Hathaway (Jean Clement) are the parents of a daughter, Janice Lee, born on Wednesday, July 6, at the Virginia Mason Hospital in Seattle, Washington. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Clement of Park avenue, and Harwichport, Mass.; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hathaway of Walla Walla, Washington.

DUMP FIRE STILL ALIVE

The Fire Department was called again Wednesday afternoon to the fire at the town dump which started last week Thursday and has been burning ever since. The blaze is underground, where rubbish covered by earth in the "sanitary fill" process was set afire by spontaneous combustion caused by the heat. Care-taker "Mingie" Frongillo has completed a rough road across the dump to the river so that the firemen can drive their apparatus to the Aberjona and pump directly from the stream, saving them much labor.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

We have discussed the need for Merit Badge Counselors, and the slight amount of time needed for this work by any one individual. We hope that, as we continue this series, anyone whose hobby or business involves any of the skills represented will call the Scout Headquarters on South Border road to arrange an appointment to talk with the District Chairman of Advancement. It is essential that we obtain counselors who are well qualified in these subjects. Poor instruction by uninformed but interested Scouters is far from desirable. The skill of a professional or experienced amateur is needed to attain a true understanding of the fundamentals of a subject in a short space of time, while such a person alone can add the tid-bits of information beyond the requirements which keep enthusiasm alive and instill a greater love for a subject in the minds of the boys. This is particularly important to Scouts who are in their impressionable teens.

The whole aim of this advancement program is to build a strong nation by cultivating the youth of this country in every hamlet and city from coast to coast. This is done by providing a program of training unlike any formal schooling, but fully as valuable from the educational standpoint. At the same time, basic principles of honor, loyalty, and justice are made a part of the every day scheme by their application to every field of endeavor. In detail, the boy is provided with basic facts about Scouting and a code for behaviour. He is taught to make use of these first as a Tenderfoot in his Troop and Patrol. When this has been mastered, he presents himself for advancement to Second Class. He now finds a wider horizon for his endeavors. Certain Merit Badges are now within his reach and he may advance himself in his basic Scout Lore to attain the rank of First Class Scout.

As a First Class Scout, a boy finds the entire field of Merit Badges open to him. No one expects him to win every one in the book, but there is hardly a field which might interest him that is not available. He can pick all the subjects which will be pure fun and adventure for him or, if he needs the advice of his leaders, he will select a program for himself which will combine this pure enjoyment with gaining the necessary knowledge for further advancement. When he has gained a minimum of five Merit Badges and can show a good record as a First Class Scout for at least three months, he may apply for advancement to the rank of Star Scout. He is now well on his way toward that highly desirable station of Eagle Scout. However, another rank must first be earned, and as might be expected, the task becomes more difficult.

When the Star Scout has earned a total of ten Merit Badges and has held his rank satisfactorily for three months, he may apply for his Life Scout grade. These ten badges, however, must include First Aid, Personal Health, Public Health, Physical Development or Athletics, and Life Saving or Pioneering or Safety. Since First Aid, Personal Health, and Safety are on the list of badges available to a Second Class Scout, it is usually suggested that part of this required list be earned as soon as possible so that other badges which are strictly for fun and adventure may be interspersed to keep Scouting an enjoyable exploration of the unknown.

A Life Scout with six months of satisfactory service in that rank and a total of twenty-one Merit Badges may apply for his Eagle award. Again the list of badges must include certain required subjects covering First Aid, Life Saving, Personal Health, Public Health, Cooking, Camping, Civics, Bird Study, Pathfinding, Safety, Pioneering, and Athletics or Physical Development. Obviously, this list repeats the earlier requirements of Life Scout with some modifications and additions. Among the additions is another badge which can be earned by a Second Class Scout—Pathfinding. On the other hand, the requirement of twenty-one badges leaves ample room for a sampling of hobbies of the boy's own choosing. By careful planning, the boy can spread his required subjects in such a manner that he will not face a blank wall of "requirements," since "requirements" usually become distasteful if for no other reason than that they are required. At the same time, good counselors make subjects interesting regardless of the reason for study.

It is apparent that the Winchester District must be able to offer a list of counselors to meet the required Merit Badges if the boys are to have any chance of advancing. At the same time, filling the required list is only part of the job. If the boys are not able to find good guidance in the multitude of other subject on the Merit Badge list, there will be little incentive for them to continue in Scouting. Premature departure from the program falls far short of the amount of experience in living which should be a basic part of the background of every boy as he progresses toward his ultimate goal—being a good citizen.

The number of boys who achieve the highest rank in Scouting—the Eagle—is comparatively few. It is a tremendous thrill to see a young man win this award, but it is even more thrilling to feel that you have had a vital part in his progress to that state. Won't you make a point of following this series to see if there isn't some way that you can make your hobby or skill pay extra dividends in fun and adventure by taking a part in this great movement?

VACATION NOTES

Vacation is a period of release from our regular duty, work or activity. This release is during the summer for most of us. It may be interrupted or continuous and vary from a few days to a few months. We may but range the dandelions of our own back yard, or choose the mountain summit, the bounding main or any of the countless byways in between.

An important goal of vacation is to maintain, recapture or store good physical and mental health. It should be a period of leisure when we engage in harmless and enjoyable pastimes, for which we have so little opportunity when busy with our regular duties. By and large such activities are not only harmless but may be most helpful to the health and peace of mind of ourselves and possibly to others as well.

These activities should be well within our own capacity for accomplishment. A kaleidoscopic environment is the medium through which our life journeys. For our purpose this medium is of sufficient magnitude to include the Earth and reach out to the Sun and back.

The main highways are well marked and lighted for the traveler to read and heed. The side lanes are speckled with pitfalls and booby traps.

We need only review the press of the recent July 4th week-end to find that many of those 800 dead disregarded their own limitations and the power of their environment. This list, tragic and warning enough, did not include the much larger group who suffered loss of limb, vision or mental anguish because of tragedy to family or friend killed, burned or otherwise maimed.

The driver was unable to see the oncoming train which crashed them at the crossing. The capacity of the swimmer was not sufficient to master his environment of strong tide and choppy sea. The mountain climber misjudged his ability to jump back when the edge of the cliff crumbled under him. The man went beyond his limitations when he collapsed with a heart attack while chopping wood for the cooler evenings. Two of the neighbors at the farm would not now have Undulant Fever had they boiled or pasteurized that delicious rich but raw milk which came from down the road.

In a less serious vein, Mary would to-day be much more comfortable had she properly estimated her skin's capacity to withstand sunshine. Tommy would not have been denied two weeks swimming had he not rolled in the brush while playing Indian too near some poison ivy. Aunt Sally, Mother and Dad are all in and will have to rest at least a week after coming home. Aunt Sally took a teacher's summer course for a month, then chauffeured and chaperoned two debutantes over the road to and from California via Vancouver and Mexico City in six weeks. Then poor Mother had a house full of relations, all the way to the 4th cousin, for the entire summer. Dad, the office man, during his two weeks played golf and rowed to the mainland every day but two, he simonized the car, plastered the kitchen and painted the house.

If we would reap the benefits of a safe, happy and healthful vacation, we should give very serious consideration to our individual capacity and the hazards which surround us.

BOYS CAUGHT AFTER THEFT AT CONLON'S GARAGE

Sunday afternoon shortly after 1:30 Police Headquarters was notified that boys were in Conlon's Garage at 972 Main street. Officer James E. Flaherty was sent to investigate in Patrol 53.

Upon his arrival Officer Flaherty found a 13 year old Charlestown boy being detained by Robert C. Cook of 965 Main street. The boy was taken into custody and Officer Flaherty started after another boy who was reported to have run from the garage down Glenwood avenue.

On his way to the garage Officer Flaherty had spotted a boy who was a stranger to him standing in front of the barber shop on Main street near Canal street. Driving through the district this boy was picked up at the corner of Salem and Rumford streets.

At Headquarters, where both boys were questioned by Sgt. Cassidy, the boy picked up at Salem and Rumford streets, a 15 year-old Charlestown youth, stated that he had climbed up a boiler-room door, held by his younger pal, and gotten into the garage through an open toilet window on the second floor above the door.

He told the Police that he had gone into the garage to get tools with which to repair bicycles. Inside he had seen a cash register and when picked up by the Police had $5.40 in his pocket which he said he got from the machine. Some change had been left in the register and some more was found scattered on the floor.

Both boys were booked as delinquents and appeared in the District Court at Woburn yesterday.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for the week ending July 7 as follows:

New dwellings at 414 Highland avenue, 9 Stone avenue and 34 Westland avenue.

The Police have erected a new self-lighting traffic warning sign on Highland avenue on the southerly side of the Parkway, Mt. Vernon street intersection, warning of the stop sign at the foot of the hill. Motorists have complained that they did not see the stop sign in time to stop.

Miss Margrit Weber, niece of Mrs. Edward Weber of 22 Allen road, is attending the six-weeks Summer School of French at Northampton School for Girls, Northampton.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Registration at the three playgrounds during the third week of operation totalled 372 youngsters making use of the equipment and facilities offered. The varied program being presented is constantly attracting additional children to the fields and will undoubtedly pass the 400 mark this week.

Competition in the baseball leagues is keen with most of the games being evenly contested and well played. The Loring Avenue Juniors and Intermediates both remain undefeated, although the Intermediates had to rally for two runs in the last inning to nose out Ginn Field 7 to 6. The Leonard Field Seniors went down to their first defeat as Leo Williams pitched 5-hit shutout ball to give Loring Avenue a 7 to 0 victory.

The younger boys' softball league really produced keen competition as two of the three games were decided by one run and the third game provided only a 2-run margin. Loring Avenue lost its first game in this competition as Leonard Field edged them 11 to 10. It is a treat to watch those youngsters wrapped up in the game and give it one hundred percent effort.

In the only girls' softball game played last week the Loring Avenue girls defeated the Leonard Field girls by a score of 13 to 8. A tennis tournament and a croquet tournament being conducted at Ginn Field is attracting considerable interest with the winners ready to challenge the best at the other two fields.

LEGION LOST AT MALDEN

The Winchester Junior Legion lost to the Malden Junior Legion at Malden on Friday evening by a score of 8 to 6. The locals seemed to have the game pretty well under control going into the last half of the seventh inning but Malden rallied for four runs to pull out a victory.

"Major" Daniels pitched good ball until the seventh in spite of ragged support by his teammates. In that inning an error and two singles filled the bases and then a base on balls forced in one run. After Daniels retired the next batter on a fly to right field, he was relieved by Roche who was greeted by a two-run single, with the final run scoring after a fly to left field.

PALMER BEACH HORSESHOE NOTES

Regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association were held as usual on Wednesday and Friday evenings of last week on the beach courts. Week-end matches have been discontinued for the summer, due to the fact that President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele is busy week-ends chasing the elusive antique to its lair in Provincetown and the Brewsters while Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dix Street Magnate, is in Hancock, N. H., from Friday to Monday. The absence of the President and Mr. Gardner, now that Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, has forsaken the game for the much-easier-to-win-at golf, and "Willoughby" Mobbs is away out on the west coast, leaves the Association too short-handed for matches that can come under the head of regulation.

Of Wednesday's matches we know little enough. The absence of specific details on the part of Messrs. Teele, McLaughlin and Pridham leads one to the supposition that Mr. Gardner's "secret practice" up in Hancock is bearing fruit and that he handed out "the works" to the remaining members of the Wednesday quartet. Mr. Teele was particularly non-committal while neither Mr. McLaughlin nor Mr. Pridham could recall the scores.

So far as "Wild Willie," the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset, is concerned lapses of memory with regard to scores is nothing to worry about. Next to Mr. Teele and the Secretary, he has the poorest memory in the Association for scores. But when it comes to old "Thin Finger" Pridham, not even his predilection to measure all the close ones in his favor can exceed his unerring ability to recall the score at any and all times. When he can't remember 'em, he just doesn't want to.

So Mr. Gardner must have given the other warriors the business on Wednesday. On Friday Mr. McLaughlin was the champ, winning even when handicapped by the partnership of the Secretary. He lost only one match, Mr. Pridham and the Scribe winning the opening match of the evening, after which the Secretary reverted to his usual form and won only when carried on the broad McLaughlin shoulders.

There was both good and bad pitching during the evening, with Mr. Teele's performance improving noticeably as visibility decreased. When the stakes could no longer be seen at all he really got the range and slammed on ringers with reckless abandon.

Unfortunately, however, Mr. Teele's partner, Mr. Pridham, pitches best when he can see and consequently did not give the President the necessary support to offset the combined efforts of Mr. McLaughlin and the Scribe.

There was a good deal said about the "sportsmanship" of some of the competitors who were obviously playing for safety, to Mr. Teele's intense disgust. The McLaughlin contention that "They all count" did little to sooth the ruffled feelings of the champion of the Boston Paper Trade, if not of Palmer Beach.

WARRIORS, 7; SUDBURY, 6

After playing weird ball over the the first three innings on Leonard Field last Thursday evening the Winchester Warriors finally settled down and pulled their Paul Revere League game with Sudbury out of the fire, 7-6.

Behind 5-2 in the 7th, the Warriors went out in front with a four-run rally that included singles by Patterson and Farrell, a double by Vern Slack and a home run by Sammy Bellino with the ball rolling to the tennis courts in right.

Sudbury tied it in the 8th with two away on a base on balls and a triple by Phelps.

The Warriors won it with two out in their half. Farrell worked Peterson for a walk, and went all the way in when Balmforth kicked around Dick Coon's drive to center.

COOKIE CONTINUES TO BEAT FLEET

Ken Cook clung to his lead over the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet last week-end when he scored another of his sensational victories in one of the closest races of the season. It was a four lap windward-leeward race and a hotly contested battle every boat length of the way. In fact, the race was so close that Judge Don Simonds reported the first seven boats finished within a period of 45 seconds. Jack Streeton and Mel Moller kept in the running for the fleet championship by finishing second and third respectively. Bob and Roger Swanson set some sort of new record by upsetting three times during the morning. Once while racing and twice getting back to their mooring. In spite of the upset they finished seventh in the race.

Saturday afternoon's race was won by Jack Streeton and his "WILD HARE." The victory was scored in typical Streeton manner—Jack jockeying his ship to the front and holding off every challenge from the rest of the Fleet. Ken Cook brought his "FANTASY" in second and Ted Burleigh finished in the money for the first time this season.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

The Fire Department had two brush fires on Sunday, the first at 9 a. m. on Russell's Hill, and the second, believe it or not, after the shower in the afternoon, at 4:30, at the foot of Salem street.

Capt. Pauline D. McGuigan, of 29 Salem street, a member of the Army Nurse Corps Reserve, is now at Camp Edwards where she is participating in two weeks of intensive field training with the 351st General Hospital, an Organized Reserve unit of Boston and vicinity.

Mrs. Aline Poirier with her son-in-law and daugnter, Mr. and Mrs. R. Richard Carens, and her granddaughter, Pamela, is spending the summer at Windy Hill, Rye North Beach, N. H.

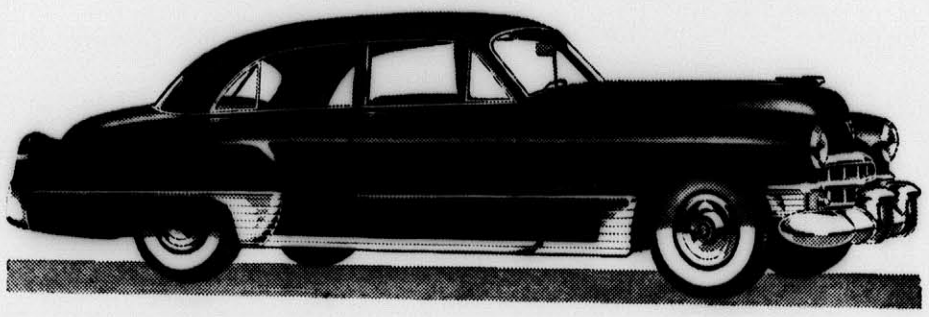
Why a Man Buys a Cadillac



If you were to ask the owner of a 1949 Cadillac why he bought his car, he would doubtless find it difficult to put into words the way he feels about "the Standard of the World".

He would probably tell you that he bought his car because it's a Cadillac.

Of course if you wanted to ask him specific questions, he could give you much specific information.

Did he buy his Cadillac for performance?

Why, surely he bought it for performance—for the 1949 Cadillac is powered by a great new V-8 engine, so smooth and effortless that only a demonstration can tell the story of its superiority.

Did he buy it for comfort?

Yes—for a ride so quiet and restful and easy that every mile is a joy and a relaxation.

Did he buy it for safety?

He certainly did! He has such confidence in the steady steering, the quick acceleration and the powerful hydraulic brakes that his peace of mind is worth the purchase price!

Did he buy it for long life and durability?

There can be no doubt of it. For he knows that many individual Cadillacs have covered the highways for over half a million miles and are still in active service!

Did he buy it for . . . . . ?

Why, of course he did! And he bought it for a lot of other reasons: for beauty, for distinction, for quality, for background, for character, for craftsmanship, as well as for engineering.

He bought it, you see, because it's a . . . Cadillac.

And that is the reason why you should buy one—for Cadillac's superiority lies not in any one thing but in the whole of its substance. Why not come in for a ride that's a revelation?

REPLY TO MISS MURRAY

Writing for 30 years as a reporter I seldom if ever pay any attention to letters, with names or without them, that are sent to me from people who do not agree with an item I may have written; but when a young woman without any authority whatever takes it upon herself to find fault with such an item, when if anything was wrong, it should have been answered by the Department about which it was written, I feel a reply is in order.

In the first place I did not ask any question, if the young lady will read the item again, and also I said nothing about life guards, as I am well aware of what they do and what they do not do, and this applies to Miss Murray! She seems to think Palmer Street means the beach when it is Palmer Street Playground, and her job is to take care of the beach, if she can, and mind her own business, which is not looking for trouble or trying to find fault with any citizen or taxpayer who can see something wrong at this playground.

It is not the first time this young woman has written about what I had to say, and while I never try to offend any one, when I write in so far as town departments are concerned I do not want a reply from any employee who has no authority to speak for the department. From the tone of her letter residents of the town who do not visit the beach would get an idea that she and her assistants were taking care of Revere Beach when the fact is half the time they have nothing to do, but chase each other in the sand.

When I visit Palmer Street playground or any other place where the town pays for supervision and I do not find things satisfactory, Miss Murray and the citizens of the town will read about it again.

Finally, my advice to this young woman is to do what she is paid for, if she can, and let the proper authorities do their own writing, and they probably will be able to do a better job than the writer of the letter last week in the Star! The best thing she can do is tend to her knitting and I will take care of my writing!

Winchester, Mass.

Dear Sir:

In behalf of the United States Army and United States Air Force Recruiting Service, I wish to extend my sincere thanks for the excellent service you rendered, when the Army Ground Forces Band visited Winchester.

The courteous and efficient service furnished the band by you and your empolyees was more than appreciated. The excellent standard of the food, the cleanliness of your establishment and the fine work done when you were given such short notice are more than commendable. It was superlatively handled.

It is with deep regret, that upon returning from leave, I find this letter had been delayed. Please accept my apologies for the delay and again my thanks for your fine cooperation.

FIREMEN COMMENCE 56 HOUR WEEK

Members of the Fire Department commence on Sunday the 56 hour work week voted them at the March town meeting. On that day the fourth temporary fireman, Joseph Donahue of 2 Upland road, will go on duty at the Central Station. It was necessary to get several additional men for the department before the 56 hour week could be put in effect.

SCOTT AND MARKEN ABBOTT TROPHY WINNERS

Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, and Navy Chaplain, Captain R. S. Marken, won the annual four-ball handicap golf tournament for the coveted John Abbott Trophy last Sunday afternoon at the Winchester Country Club, defeating F. O. Adams and J. Norton Kidder, 2 up, in a tight-lipped match that was played for the most part in a drenching rain.

Only Ralph Purrington was on hand to start away as gallery, but by the time the match got well under way spectators began to straggle onto the course and toward the end of it there was an intrigued gallery of fair size, despite the weather.

For "Jim" Scott the match and occasion were fraught with significance. Not only was it the first tournament in which the local bank prexy had participated, but along with his winning performance he turned in an 89 for the round, therewith breaking the 90 he has been trying to fracture since the Star called attention to his 100-busting low nineties accomplishment some time ago.

All in all it was a great day for "Scottie," and it is only fair to state that the excellence of his short game contributed very materially to his team's win and championship.

Not that Captain Marken did not also have his moments. As a matter of fact it was his chip shot for a birdie 3 on the 18th that won the match, 2 up. It was also the Captain who provided the vocal gem of the match, when after a shot which he played somewhat more poorly than he had intended he rasped out an "Aw nuts" between clenched teeth.

The Captain and Referee Dave White, club pro, had umbrellas against the downpour, but Mr. Scott's sole protection from the elements was a turkish towel draped about his shoulders. This, the natty Scott cap, and in fact, the entire Scott frame were well soaked by the time the 15th hole was reached, so much so that "Jim" was obliged to remove and pour out the water from his sodden cap before he could play a pretty long put.

Wiping the excess moisture from his eyes, "L. J." addressed his ball and with the gallery in tense silence sank his put for the play that really broke the opposition's back.

Messrs. Adams and Kidder kept trying ,and Mr. Kidder contributed a spectacular drive from among some trees to land within a foot or so of the pin on the 16th, but this served only to prolong the agony and eventually set the stage for the Marken chip shot on the 18th.

The Scott-Marken combine was one of 32 playing in the championship flight of the tourney. They won their way into the finals by beating J. J. Bullock and Ken McNeill in the semi-final round, 2 and 1. Adams and Kidder accounted for Dr. W. R. Hill and H. A. McGrath, Jr., in the semi-finals, 1 up. The Scott-Marken victory was duly celebrated by Pete Kramer, the team's staunchest supporter, who gave the two champions dinner at the club with all the fixin's and also presented them with beautiful Ronson lighter sets. Scott was at the bank as usual on Monday but the far-away look in his eye was indicative that his thoughts were back there at the scene of his triumph on the links.

The tourney's second flight of 16 was won by those dental clubwielders, Drs. R. B. Blackler and I. R. Hakanson, from E. C. Zirkel and W. S. Cannon in the final round, 5 and 4.

Consolation honors in the championship flight were won by Judge J. W. Monahan and State Champ Ed Martin, of all people, from E. L. Hubbard and A. M. Bond, 1 up.

In the second flight consolations top honors went to R. S. Hayes and G. W. Brown, who won 2 and 1 from R. M. Wilde and J. P. Bushell.

Niblicks and Divots

O. D. Clark recently won the final round in the Spring Cup tournament from S. E. Neill, 1 up.

The championship round of the President's cup is still to be played with the finalists, Horace Ford and Jim Harvey. "Hod" beat Doug Wilde in the semi finals, 1 up, while "Emmie" won from Bob Roundey in the next-to-last bracket, 4 and 3. It is expected that the final will be played off this week-end.

As a tune-up for the final Horace shot a 76 to tie for low gross honors in the field day that celebrated the closing of the Greater Boston Spring Twilight Four-Ball League Tuesday at Weston. One hundred golfers participated in the tournament.

Winchester golfers who played in the four-ball league went down to Weston for the day and watched their president, Ralph Bonnell, accept the handsome big plaque, emblematic of Winchester's win of the League Championship. Merrill Delano, president of the League, made the presentation.

WINDSHIELD BROKEN BY CHILD

While driving his Oldsmobile sedan south on Washington street Tuesday evening John Davitt of 19 Highland avenue had his windshield broken as he was passing Governor's avenue by a rock thrown by a four-year old girl living in that neighborhood.

Mr. Davitt reported the matter to Officer Robert Elliott, on duty Washington streets. The latter accompanied him to the home of the child where the four-year-old's father agreed to replace the damaged windshield. What further action was taken did not, according to Officer Elliott, come under the head of Police business.

WINCHESTER BOYS AT FELLSLAND

Gerald Post, Earl Carrier, Philip Dresser, George Saurman, Jr., Mortimer Downey, Rilly Laverty, Robert Farnham, William Davis, John Mooers and W. Guerry Eaton.

CAUSE OF GRATIFICATION

It is a source of gratification that our Assessors were able to keep the tax rate down to that of a year ago - $16.30 on $1,000. While our Assessors may not be as successful in the next few years, when the parkway and other expenses will become factors, yet it is believed the constant growth of the town and the increase in valuations will to a great extent offset these. Winchester proposes to have the best there is in improvements, and the business sagacity of its citizens can be relied on to keep the tax rate down to figures that will not retard the growth of the town.

TOWN MEETING

About thirty citizens attended the special town meeting Tuesday evening. After Moderator Russell had called for any clergyman present to open the meeting with prayer without any response he stated that in Brookline which has a similar by-law to ours the Selectmen arranged for some clergyman to be present and suggested that our board do the same and not have this continued any longer in what appears to be a farce. Authority was voted the Selectmen to contract with the State Highway Commission to build Cambridge street, and the layout of Prospect street to Highland avenue extension was accepted and adopted, the meeting then adjourned after being in session sixteen minutes.

SELECTMEN'S MEETING

Frank A. Cutting was present and presented petitions of Massachusetts Telephone and Telegraph Co. for permission to construct, operate and maintain a telephone system in the streets of Winchester, and from Lewis Parkhurst and 80 others to have the Board grant a franchise to construct an independent telephone system to the Massachusetts Telephone and Telegraph Company, and a letter from the Massachusetts Telephone and Telegraph Company requesting the Board to substitute their petition received this evening for a former petition, and grant a hearing if the Board thinks necessary after Sept. 1, next .... It was voted that the two petitions and letter received this evening and the petition received April 17th last, be referred to the Town Counsel for advice.

G. A. Pulsifer of Maine was in court Monday for painting advertising signs on rocks within the limits of the Fells Reservation. There is a universal demand that the disfiguration of public and private lands and highways cease. Our Selectmen and Chief of Police are to be commended for what they have done in the past to abate this nuisance on the public highways.

Isn't it possible to put another cup at the ice water fountain in the center and charge expense to the incidental account without straining the town's credit? One hot night last week fifteen people by actual count were waiting to get a drink.

While band concerts properly conducted and in a suitable place are desirable, the town building lawn is not such a place, and the concert last week was not a benefit to our town; the place is positively dangerous and with a runaway horse or an alarm of fire several people would certainly get hurt. That wretched looking bandstand is also a disgrace and damage to the town. The crowd from out-of-town was very large and 'f some of the worse than fresh young people sixteen or seventeen years of age will stay away next time, their absence will be appreciated and the enjoyment of those who wish to hear the music increased.

Thursday was a delightful day for Charles A. Lane's annual fishing trip to Swampscott and some thirty gentlemen attended; including Charles A. Lane, George Purrington, J. P. Boutwell, N. H. Taylor, Emmons Hatch, H. G. Young, E. F. Jones, B. T. Morgan, C. T. Main, Rev. D. A. Newton, Rev. S. W. Adriance, Rev. F. B. Harvey, J. C. Kennedy, W. H. Herrick, Dr. H. L. Houghton, Charles Herrick, E. H. Rice, H. A. Wheeler, W. E. Blaikie, D. P. Blaikie, H. C. Bagley, Farnum Dorsey, Harrison Parker, George G. Walker, F. J. Clark, H. T. Dickson, W. P. Hancock, T. P. Wilson and Masters Parker and Lane. Mr. Lane thought his 18 pound pollock had captured the $2.50 for largest fish until Dr. Houghton pulled in a 24 pounder. The latter's jubilation was short and quite disheartening to see when Mr. Boutwell with the aid of help landed on deck the grandfather of the codfish tribe weighing 46 pounds. Mr. Lane got the dollar for the first fish and Mr. Purrington, with 12, got the $1.50 for most.

The Winchester C.T.A.S. ball team has challenged the Woburn C. T.A.S. to play a game of ball at an early date. The home team is said to be willing to forfeit $25. if it does not beat our neighbors.

On Friday afternoon, July 7, Mrs. Charles A. Lane broke both the 9 and 18 hole record on Winchester Golf Club Links by making a 36-1 over bogey and a second round in 41 - making a total for 18 holes of 77.

The Metropolitan District Commission has advised the Board of Selectmen that under the Resolves of 1924 it is directed to investigate and report on the feasibility, desirability and probable cost of constructing, operating and maintaining public bath-houses on reservations or parkways under its control which border on rivers or ponds... All Winchester will hope that adequate bathing facilities for the town will soon become a reality.

It has been reported that the classes in life saving held this week daily at 4 p. m. at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake have been well attended by bathers anxious to obtain the expert instruction offered by the life saving corps of the American Red Cross.

The annual "Kiddies Day" given Winchester children by Winchester Lodge of Elks will take place on next Wednesday at Lynn Beach. The party will leave Manchester Field at 8:30 a. m., returning in time for supper. Nathaniel M. Nichols is chairman of transportations.

Last Monday evening our Board of Selectmen were treated to some first hand information on the riding qualities of the buses which the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company plans to run on their proposed bus line through town. One of the three big buses, each capable of carrying 22 people, called for the Board and took the members for an extensive and somewhat novel spin through the district.... The Selectmen's decision on granting permission for buses to operate on the town highways is pending. It is reported that there is some opposition to the project in Arlington.

Two electric fans have been installed in the Visiting Nurse room at the Health Center over Randall's store. They have been greatly needed to keep the room comfortable for the baby clinic every Tuesday from 2 to 4. Last week there was an attendance of 22 babies and their mothers.

Exercising the Stutz on Monday by driving to the Cape for a swim at Centerville the Editor was held up in Hyannis by a snappy State patrol officer in the person of John F. Dempsey, a Winchester boy, doing duty between Middleboro and Provincetown. He makes an efficient and snappy officer, and one whom Winchester people will be glad to encounter — within the rules of the road.

Mr. Daniel V. Glendon was in a collision near Sandy Beach Wednesday night when his car was struck by an automobile driven by Thomas J. Martin. Miss Annie A. Glendon, who was riding with him, received injuries to her knee.

Miss Mabel Wingate started this week on a trip to the West where she is to give some violin concerts in association with Mrs. Vernita Corbett Whited, the well known pianist, with whom Miss Wingate was formerly associated in concert work in the East.

Officer Edward O'Connell has been assigned to the motor cycle patrol about town and will ride the new "Indian Chief" received by the Police Dept. last week.

Three well known Winchester young men, Messrs. Chris Powers, James McFeeley and Erskine Kelley, are being felicitated upon a momentous week-end spent at Provinectown. They had hired a cottage but upon their arrival were unable to locate either it, or any other accommodations. Following a busy evening they retired shortly after 3 a. m. on the beach where a heavy fog rolling in from water added little to their attempted outdoor nap. Promptly at 6 the weekenders decided to call it a day and return to town for some much needed rest. Mr. Powers reports that the "back-to-nature" movement can be overdone.

P. A. Hendrick, W. A. Jackson and S. T. Hicks are among the Winchester golfers entered for the State golf title play at the Woodland Golf Club.

In the men's singles tournament at the Unitarian Young People's Religious Conference held last week at Star Island, N. H., Lars Sandberg of this town was runner-up for first prize to Murray Morse of New Bedford.

In the Ipswich Bay races held by the Annisquam Yacht Club last Saturday Mr. Henry E. Worcester's Skate, competing in the fish class, jammed her rudder and was the last boat at the start of the race. After getting the rudder to function properly the Skate staged a brilliant spurt and finished second.

An automobile driven by Mr. Joseph Donahue of the Central Hardware store was run into Monday evening at the corner of Highland avenue and Mt. Vernon street, the rear of the car being badly damaged. The other car was driven by L. Goldstein of Everett.

WARRIORS BLANKED MOHAWKS

Slack scattered Lincoln's seven singles and was aided in his well-deserved shutout by excellent support. The entire warrior team fielded well, sometimes brilliantly, with the infield, especially Al Plummer at third base, doing an excellent job.

The Warriors won the game in the first inning when singles by Tim Connors, Olivier, Modoono and Sam Provinzano, followed by Murphy's long sacrifice fly, were good for three runs.

Dick Coon's long double and Tim Connor's single added a run in the 4th and in the 7th Bellino's hit, a sacrifice by Connors and Jim Olivier's single to center ended the scoring.

Lincoln loaded the bases in the 9th with one away, but Bellino made a nice running catch of a pop fly in short center and Slack threw out the next batter to end the game.

EVERETT JUNIORS EDGED WINCHESTER

Three Run Homer and Men Left Beat Daniels, 5-4

The Winchester Junior Legion dropped a tough ball game to the Everett Junior Legion by a score of 5 to 4 at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. It was a close game all the way, with several good plays that held the interest of the crowd, and one that could easily have gone to the locals with a nod from Dame Fortune.

"Major" Daniels pitched one of his best games as he allowed only six hits in the nine innings and did not issue a base on balls. Iandola spoiled Daniel's bid for a victory when he belted a home run to left center with two mates aboard in the fourth inning. The story of the game, however, can be seen in the fact that Winchester left eleven runners on the bases while Everett had only three runners stranded. A hit or two in the clutch would have given the locals a well-deserved victory.

Attendance at the Town Softball League games is growing by leaps and bounds as the crucial stage in the league race is at hand. Only three more weeks of the regular schedule remain to be played and the league standing remains well scrambled with the playoff positions still in doubt. They probably will remain that way right down to the final game as the teams in the lower half of the standing have improved to the point where they are capable of beating the top teams on any given night.

This past week saw many well played games and several upsets which will undoubtedly set the pattern for the last three weeks. On Monday evening the Sport Center upset the White Shirts in two overtime innings by a score of 8 to 7 on some alert base running by Dee Young. On the same evening the Old Men knocked off the Sons of Italy 10 to 3 on the strength of a four hit pitching performance by Harry Chefalo. On Tuesday evening the Beggs and Cobb sprang a surprise by beating the Maguire Motors 4 to 2 behind superb twirling by "Rugged" Muraco. On Wednesday evening the K. of C. continued the string of upsets by beating the Sons of Italy 7 to 5 in an extra inning game featured by excellent relief pitching by Bill Walden.

Next week's schedule promises to continue the frenzied pace set this past week with several crucial contests on top. The feature contest is set for Tuesday evening at the West Side field in a meeting of the top teams, the American Legion and the Atomics. This is like the old Sachems versus V. F. W. games of last year. On Wednesday evening the Sons of Italy and the Maguire Motors offer a good attraction at Ginn Field. The picture will be complete on Thursday evening when the Atomics and the Sons of Italy clash at the West Side field. All of these games will result in considerable change in the next published league standing.

In view of the strong recommendation of the chiefs of the fire nd police depts. and in the interests of public safety, the Board reluctantly declined to issue the license for fireworks on August 15th.

The police officers are being given thorough instruction in the use of the new resuscitator, and the firemen will also become proficient, thereby insuring excellent first aid in case of accident.

Joseph F. Donahue, 2 Upland road has been appointed a provisional private in the fire department, as of July 17.

Complaints have begun to reach the Board on the old story of the starlings on Wedgemere avenue. It is hoped the police will be able to cope with the situation.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Utah's Great Salt Lake, Utah Lake, and Sevier Lake are tiny remnants of an ancient ice-age inland sea which geologists call Lake Bonneville. Its level was 1,000 feet higher than Great Salt Lake is today, and it covered what is now western Utah, eastern Nevada, and southern Idaho.

Within the three score and ten years of a life span the population of Los Angeles County, California, has increased from 33,381 to almost 4,000,000. Into the area new settlers come at the rate of 10,000 a month.

William the Conqueror fathered the present-day jury system by summoning "twelve lawful men" from each district of England to act as fact finders in determining taxes that each landowner should pay. Two centuries later, says the National Geographic Society, trial by jury was adopted when the sworn twelve became, not the witnesses to fact, but the judges of evidence.

The first world's championship yachting race was sailed August 22, 1851, around the Isle of Wight and was won by the New York Yacht Club's entry, the America. The trophy, awarded by the Royal Yacht Squadron at Cowes has since been known as the America's Cup. It has remained in American possession since the first race, despite repeated efforts of British contenders to regain it for Britain.

Volcanologists count about 500 active volcano craters in the world — active by virtue of eruptions within recorded history. Three-fourths or more of the total are in the Pacific half of the globe, notes the National Geographic Society. About 40 are under the American flag in Alaska and Hawaii. In the United States proper, Mount Lassen, California, is the only one.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor is now launched on his 51st year as Editor of the National Geographic Magazine. He is the only editor of a major publication on the American scene today to have completed a half century as an editorial chief.

Wednesday testimonial meeting 8 p. m.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson Street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

"LIFE" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 17.
GOLDEN TEXT: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent" (John 17:3).
"No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?" (Matthew 6:24, 25). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"If we follow the command of our Master, 'Take no thought for your life,' we shall never depend on bodily conditions, structure, or economy, but we shall be masters of the body, dictate its terms, and form and control it with Truth" (p. 228).

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Assistants: Rev. Thomas F. Sennot, Rev. Francis O'Neil and Rev. John O'Neil.

Masses at 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 11:50 a. m. Sunday School after the 9 o'clock Mass.

WEST ELIGIBLE FOR HARVARD FOOTBALL

Big John West, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. West of Wedgemere avenue, was declared eligible for football at Harvard next fall at the close of the University in June. After a fine showing on the freshman team two years ago the former Winchester High captain and star fullback picked up a deficiency in mathematics which kept him out of sports during his sophomore year.

West is expected to make a great bid for the regular fullback position at Cambridge, having the necessary weight and speed to make the bucking slot the threat it should be in the Valpey system. Lack of a heavy bruising bucker hurt the Crimson last fall.

John is spending the summer as a counselor at Camp Wyanoke on Winnepesaukee where he and his old high school coach, Henry Knowlton, undoubtedly find many a moment to talk over football, past, present and future.

MISS HOMER WOMEN'S CHAMP AT COUNTRY CLUB

In the recently concluded Women's Club Championship golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club Miss Adelaide Homer upset the defending champion, Mrs. Allen Kimball, in a hotly contested match, 1 up in 20 holes.

Miss Homer beat Mrs. Paul Collins in the semi-final round, 2 up, and Mrs. Kimball won in that round from Miss Marion Wilcox, 5 and 4. A year ago Mrs. Kimball won the Championship from Mrs. Donald M. (Kay) Belcher, 3 and 2.

TO COMMENCE WORK ON FOREST STREET

Highway Department crews under the direction of Superintendent of Streets Parker Holbrook are expected to commence on next Wednesday the work of removing the small section of street car rails remaining in Forest street, between Washington street and the old turnout at Maple road. The underground rails have caused the street to washboard at that point.

With the removal of the rails the work of resurfacing the street from Washington street to the Stoneham line will commence.

CAMPERS MEET "RICKY," THE RACCOON

WINCHESTER SCOUTS TO HAVE VISIT FROM CAMP TOURS

"Ricky", the raccoon, always attracts plenty of curiosity and admiration from boys in the New England camps visited by the Hayden Camp Tours, conducted by the Boston Museum of Science. He is one of the several live, wild animals traveling in the two nature vans along with educational aids and collecting equipment, and four trained Leaders who give each camp a day of fascinating nature study. Scenes like this will be repeated in 70 nonprofit camps this summer for the benefit of over 10,000 youngsters.

Winchester Boy Scouts will be visited today at Camp Fellsland in Amesbury, and with "Ricky", the raccoon, will see a skunk, 22 snakes, a great horned owl, a crow, two large snapping turtles, two black widow spiders and a giant bullfrog.

This is the third year that such a cavalcade has set out from the Museum to take an exciting day of nature study to 10,000 youngsters through the generousity of the Charles Hayden Memorial Foundation, which sponsors the Tours. Norman D. Harris, Director of Education at the Museum, supervises the summer program, while four trained nature leaders, two to a van, make the camp circuit.

The Camp Tour animals are pets, with "Pesky," the crow, delighting his audience by hiding a penny, untieing a shoelace and taking the center of the stage with all the arrogance of the confirmed show off. The raccoon takes milk from a baby's bottle or rides on shoulders, and "Chanel No. 5," a skunk of course, is placid in a boy's arms. "Solo," the flying squirrel performs in his running wheel, and "Myrtle" the turtle may oblige by producing a batch of round white eggs, like ping pong balls.

There are other things in the van worth seeing. The "Whoo's Whoo" electrical bird board attracts a line of customers, and specimens and models prompt eager questions. At camp lunch a souvenir folder containing a nature quiz and compact information that makes good rest hour reading is distributed. The Museum's vertebrate census is also announced, and boys are asked to help by hunting for birds, mammals, reptiles, amphibians and fish during the afternoon and bringing in their catches.

Before supper, leaders identify specimens brought in from the afternoon's explorations. From the educational aids in the van, boys can learn how to identify mammals' skulls by studying the tooth structure and also get training in accurate observation.

The evening demonstration before the whole camp is the high point of the day. Results of the vertebrate census are announced and prizes of sets of colored bird cards awarded those who collected the most unusual animals. A nature quiz uses mounted specimens, skulls and large cut-out silhouettes to make questions interesting and visual. Winners are given large colored bird charts. Top attraction is the demonstration of all the New England snakes except the timber rattler and the copperhead, and of the black widow spider, only deadly spider in the world.

Aside from opening boys eyes to nature around them, the Tours stress substituting accurate information for superstitions often responsible for timidity in the face of wild life. Nor are the Tours one day affairs, quickly forgotten. Tour leaders discuss the camp nature program with camp directors and counselors, make suggestions, and leave identification keys for camps which have no nature libraries.

APPOINTED ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER

Appointment of Thornton C. Jesdale of Winchester as assistant general manager of sales for the Merrimac division of Monsanto Chemical Company has been announced by H. J. Heffernan, Merrimac general sales manager.

Mr. Jesdale, former sales manager for organic and phosphate divisions products in New England, will assume responsibility for sales of heavy chemicals and resales.

Joining Monsanto in 1927 in the company's Chicago sales office, Mr. Jesdale was transferred to Boston iin 1940. He is a member of the Chicago Drug and Chemical Association, the Boston Group of the American Chemical Society's Rubber Division, and the New England Confectioner's Club. He lives with his wife and two children at 48 Cabot street.

APPEARING WITH SYLVIA SIDNEY

Miss Catherine Cazale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cazale of 38 Prospect street, is appearing this week with Sylvia Sidney, well-known actress of stage and screen who is the star of the Wellesley Summer Theatre's first play of the season, Pygmalion. Miss Cazale takes the part of "Clara," daughter of Mrs. Eynsford Hill, played by Johanna Douglas, a member of the Wellesley Summer Theatre resident company and of Broadway acclaim herself. Frank Sanderford returning for his second season with the company, appears in the role of "Freddy," Clara's brother. Miss Cazale, a graduate of Friends Seminary in New York City, is studying at The Wellesley Summer Theatre and School, unique in being the only integrated professional theatre and school sponsored by a college. Aside from acting with the professional company, Miss Cazale is with a group of thirty-four students from six different countries studying acting and directing, production technique, costume and scene design.

Three Winchester residents are among the more than 500 Massachusetts veterans expected to attend the second post-war encampment of the state's only army reserve division, the 94th "Bay State" Infantry at Camp Edwards from July 10 through 24, it was announced today by Brigadier General Ralph A. Palladino of Winchester, division commander. They are: Brigadier General Ralph A. Palladino of Winchester, commander of the 94th, who compiled a brilliant war record with the 26th "Yankee Division" during World War II, and Captains Francis E. Carlson, 239 Forest street; and George A. Blair, Jr., 2 Lloyd street.

Cool vacation in the White Mountains and the lakes region of New Hampshire is being spent by Joe Cussen, Jack Coakley, Billy Morton, Mike and Ernest Cantella, Roger Bainbridge, Peter Quine, and Don Crede.

These boys found the cool breezes on Stinson Mountain very pleasant after their long trek up the mountain. A swim in crystal clear Stinson Lake ended the hike in a refreshing way. Jackie Coakley complained of the coolness of the water. Upon returning to camp the boys had formal retreat with campers Crede, Quine, and Bainbridge as flag bearers. The evening meal consisted of a weiner roast, with baked beans, rolls, marshmallows and all the trimmings. Again Jack Coakley complained because he couldn't have his 12th glass of punch.

Dud Samoiloff of Winchester, did a fine job as the Great Spirit, an Indian Chief's representative from the tall spruce land atop of Mount Pero, in leading the first campfire. ton, and Ernest Cantella, were tno, and Ernest Cantella, were among those who entertained at the council ring.

Blueberry pie was enjoyed Sunday after Peter Quine and his pickers collected a few quarts of the delicious little fruit.

Saturday the campers had an inter camp track meet. Several Winchester boys were in the high scoring. Roger Bainbridge was top point getter as he compiled a total of 22 points. He won top honors in the 50 yard dash and the standing broad-jump. He was second in the baseball throw, softball throw, the long run, and the 25-yard dash. Mike Cantella won the softball throw and was third in the baseball throw. Billy Morton took third in the 50-yard dash while Joe Cussen came in third in the long running race. Local boys who were on the winning team were Roger Bainbridge, Mike Cantella, Don Crede and Joe Cussen. The winning team feasted on the huge watermelon they won as a prize. They were good sports however and shared some slices with the losers.

Tuesday the campers are spending the day at Wellington Beach, Newfound Lake where they will have a swimming meet and a watermelon race in the water as well as a hamburger cook-out.

BIKE THIEF PICKED UP

Saturday forenoon Police Headquarters received a tip that a suspicious appearing man was at the Second Hand Shop of Michael J. Foley on upper Main street. Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Patrolman William E. Cassidy went to investigate.

They found at the shop a man who wanted to sell Mr. Foley a bike estimated to be worth $45 for $6. The man said a Chelsea party had given him the bike, but a phone call to Chelsea by Chief Harrold disclosed that the machine had been stolen in a break at a Chelsea shop early that morning.

Faced with this information the man is said to have admitted to the Police that he broke into the shop at 3 o'clock and stole the machine. He gave his name as Chester S. Konof, 32, of 60 Walnut street, Chelsea, and was locked up to await the arrival of police from Chelsea.

MILK CHART FOR APRIL, MAY, JUNE, 1949

Published by the Winchester Board of Health

The bacteria count in this chart gives the number of bacteria found in one c. c. taken from the center of the sample after it had been well shaken. It should be remembered that another c. c. taken from the same sample might give a somewhat different count, but the difference would rarely, if ever, exceed 10 per cent.

A. A. U. SWIMMING MEET HERE AUGUST 6

The New England A. A. A. U. will hold its annual Championship Swimming Meet in Winchester as usual this summer, the date having been set for Saturday afternoon, August 6, at 2:30 p. m.

The meet will be held as usual at Leonard Field Pool which the A. A. A. U. authorities consider one of the best outdoor courses in New England. Some fine times and excellent performances have been recorded at Leonard in past meets, and many swimmers of national caliber as well as prominent New England performers have competed in past championship meets here. It is expected that several National men and women outdoor swimming champions will be entered in this year's events.

Anyone interested in the meet can contact Beach Supervisor Anne Murray at Palmer Beach, Wedge Pond, for any information. Entries will positively close Friday, July 29.

These include events for both men and women, as follows:

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS TRAIN FOR BRITISH ISLES CYCLE TRIP

Shown about to leave South Station this week on one of the New Haven Railroad's air-conditioned trains for Woods Hole, these scouts are checking their itinerary with New Haven Railroad Conductor Edward Laracy. The girls spent four days this week on a bicycle trip on Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket. The group plans to visit England on a similar trip next summer. Left to right are: Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, Executive Director of the Scouts. Joan Bodman, Mary Cullen, Catherine James and Virginia Bullard.

THIRD NATIONAL REUNION OF WAVES

Former Navy Waves all over the country are brushing up on their salty talk, hiring baby sitters or wangling a special weekend off from the "boss" in preparation for the third annual national reunion of the Waves in Boston on July 30th.

Their Navy sisters who stayed in uniform and joined the regular Navy will be there too, for the gathering at the Hotel Statler.

The reunion will also mark the seventh anniversary of the founding of the Waves organization.

Rear Admiral Thomas L. Sprague, Chief of Naval Personnel will speak. Also, Captain Joy B. Hancock, USN, director of the Women's Reserve for the Navy, will be present to tell the ex-Waves just what's happened in the Navy since they were discharged.

The Navy band from Boston will provide music during dinner and accompany the Waves singing the songs they learned in "boot" camp when they first started their Navy careers.

State, city and Naval officials will attend the dinner program at 7 o'clock which will be preceded during the afternoon by registration, a brief business meeting and a social hour.

More than 7000 announcements of the reunion have been mailed to former Waves and tickets are now being sent to those who have made reservations. Full details of the reunion program can be obtained by writing the Waves Reunion Committee, Box 302, Back Bay Post Office, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Robert A. Shillady of 5 Orient street, Winchester, is serving on the committee planning the Reunion.

BURNED BY HOT COFFEE

John W. Butt of 89 West Emerson street, Melrose, was badly burned about 4 o'clock last Friday afternoon when a coffee percolater upset at the restaurant and food shop on Common street, known as "Peg's Doughnut Shop."

Mr. Butt, proprietor of the shop, was in front of the stove when the percolater full of boiling coffee upset. He was in a squatting position in front of the oven and the scalding liquid struck him just below the chest and ran down his body and legs, quickly soaking his clothing and burning him badly.

Just as the accident occurred Aram Mouradian of Mouradian's Oriental Rug Company came into the shop and he quickly put in an emergency call for Dr. William F. Hickey while employees worked frantically to remove Mr. Butt's wet clothing.

Upon arrival, Dr. Hickey ordered Mr. Butts removed to the Winchester Hospital, to which he was taken in the Police ambulance by Officers Alfred Poole and James E. Farrell. He sustained for the most part second degree burns extending over his body and legs from his chest to his feet.

At his shop the first of the week it was reported that it will be some time before he is able to leave the hospital.

HOME FROM OKINAWA

1st Lt. Kenneth R. Symmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Symmes of Main street, is expected home the end of this month from Okinawa in the Pacific where he has seen two years of service with the United States Army Signal Corps. His parents have received a cablegram that he sailed from Okinawa on July 7.

SEVERAL AUTO ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

The first of three automobile accidents to take place over the week-end occurred shortly after 1 o'clock on Friday morning when a Ford sedan, being driven north on Main street by Leo J. Herlihy of 3A Winchester terrace struck an Edison Light pole between Stowell road and the traffic circle at Symmes Corner. The pole was moved several inches at the base and the front of the car badly damaged. Mr. Herlihy fortunately escaped injury. He told the Police he must have fallen asleep at the wheel.

Last Friday evening shortly before 7:30 a boy riding a bicycle was knocked from his machine in a collision with an automobile at the junction of Cambridge street and Wildwood street. The operator of the car, Charles E. Young of 49 Wedgemere avenue, told the Police he was driving south on Cambridge street and making a left turn into Wildwood street when Richard Mason, 9, of 140 Cambridge street, riding a bicycle north on Cambridge street, collided with the right rear of his machine. Young Mason was knocked from his bike, but told Mr. Young he was not injured and rode away on his wheel. Later his father reported he was taking the boy to the hospital for a checkup.

Sunday morning shortly after 10 the occupants of a Ford coupe were injured about the face and head when their machine struck a tree on Cross street near East street. Police say William H. Gibbons, 3rd, was driving the Ford west and told them something went wrong with the car, causing him to lose control. The machine struck a tree on the northerly side of the road and was damaged about the right front end. Mr. Gibbons and his son, James, 10, were the occupants of the car. The boy was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated for abrasions to his face and head. Mr. Gibbons was treated by Dr. Charles Rooney for injuries to his face and nose.

WARRIORS TO PLAY TWO GAMES AT MANCHESTER FIELD

Manager Lew Warsky of the Winchester Warriors, local entrant in the Paul Revere Baseball League, announced yesterday that his club will play two games at home next week on Manchester Field as an experiment to see what the fans reaction is to playing there regularly.

Sudbury will be the attraction Tuesday evening at 6:15 with the strong Lincoln Mohawks here next Sunday afternoon, July 31, at 3 o'clock.

The Warriors have been playing their games at Leonard Field. The diamond there is in wretched shape and the games, despite the fact that most of them have been well played and interesting contests, have been poorly attended.

Manager Warsky is interested to see whether his team will draw better at Manchester where the Junior Legion Team, at least during its League season, played to pretty fair crowds.

The Warriors have a fast team of Winchester boys and had a winning record of 19 out of 24 at press time yesterday. There ought to be quite a few fans eager to see them in action on a field a little nearer the center than Leonard Field.

McGRATH IN SUCCESSFUL TITLE DEFENSE

Bob McGrath, ace boy swimmer of Winchester and Bowdoin College sophomore, successfully defended the Men's N. E. A. A. A. U. senior 100 meter backstroke title he won last year in the Leonard Field pool by winning this event in the approved A. A. A. U. meet at Worcester Sunday afternoon.

Bob beat Bob Mattson of the Ionics and George Kouch of Wanskuck, R. I., in 1m 13.9s. Marion Senior of Wanskuck won the women's senior backstroke, as usual, in

HOLLIS — FREYGANG

At a 4 o'clock ceremony in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Saturday afternoon, July 16, Miss Jean Marie Freygang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Freygang of Ardley place, became the bride of Windsor Parton Hollis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Hollis of Paul Revere road, Lexington. Rev. Donald B. Tarr was the officiating clergyman and the ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride wore a portrait gown of lace and net over white satin with a fingertip-length veil of illusion caught to a bonnet of Chantilly lace and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet combined white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Kathryn Irving of Winchesret was her sister's honor attendant and the bridesmaid was Miss Mary V. Power, also of this town. Both wore hoop-skirted dresses of white marquisette with Nile green picture hats and carried Colonial bouquets.

Paul M. Mitchell of Holbrook was best man and the ushers were Edward B. Humphrey of Newton Highlands and Richard Jennings of Newtonville.

Upon their return from a wedding journey through Maine and New Hampshire Mr. and Mrs. Hollis will make their home in Fitchburg.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University. Mr. Hollis graduated from Northeastern University Engineering School and served with the Naval Air Corps during the war.

MISS MacISAAC SHOWERED

Miss Mary C. MacIsaac, daughter of Mr. John MacIsaac of Salem street, was given a miscellaneous shower last Saturday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas J. Drapeau, 78 Sylvester avenue, in honor of her approaching marriage to Mr. Gerald Colette which is to take place in New York on August 20. Miss MacIsaac, former secretary at the Winchester National Bank, has been in New York for the past year.

The shower was a complete surprise to Miss MacIsaac, who went to her aunt's home to discuss plans for the marriage. There she found a group of 35 relatives and friends who extended best wishes for her marriage and presented her with many attractive gifts.

After the packages were opened a luncheon was served, Mrs. Drapeau being assisted in serving by her cousin, Mrs. Catherine MacDonald of Woburn, and by Miss MacIsaac's sisters, Miss Eileen and Miss Betty MacIsaac of this town.

MISS ANNE PENNIMAN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Penniman of 177 Emerald Bay, Laguna Beach, California, formerly of 36 Everett avenue, recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Anne Courtenay Penniman, to William Edward Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Ferguson of La Jolla, California.

Miss Penniman was graduated from Winchester High School in 1944 and from Smith College in the class of 1948. Mr. Ferguson received his B. A. degree from Pomona College in 1943 and served as an army lieutenant during World War II. He continued his education at the University of California, Berkeley, and was graduated from The School of Jurisprudence in 1949.

TRADERS DAY AUGUST 3

August 3, Wednesday, will be Traders' Day. The first Wednesday in August has always been the designated day for a general closing of the Town stores. In accordance with past custom, a few stores will remain open, but the majority of the business houses and stores will close.

Housewives are warned to do their shopping early the first week in August.

MORE HEAT

Thunder Storm Put Out Lights Wednesday

Winchester has sweltered through another hot week, light showers last Sunday bringing temporary relief from Saturday's high temperatures.

By Monday the heat was back, increasing in intensity until Wednesday was as hot a day as the town has seen for some time, with most thermometers well above 90 degrees and temperatures in the center, even with the glass in the shade scaling up to 98 degrees.

Some of the town offices closed and also some of the business houses in the center. The Star press-room shut down early in the afternoon, after the staff had faced a sickening heat for two days. The center was virtually deserted, even beyond the usual conditions on a Wednesday afternoon with many stores closed. Palmer Beach was jammed, but at Leonard Beach bathing could not be allowed because of trouble with the well from which the water for the pool is pumped.

Toward mid-afternoon the air became most oppressive and thunder clouds commenced to gather. Shortly after six the storm broke, with intense lightning and heavy thunder. The rain came down hard for a short while but did not continue long enough to do much real good. The storm circled around the town returning about ten when there was another shower.

Several trees were brought down by the storm, one falling on a transformer near McLatchy's on Cross street, another on Main street near the Revinious residence at 346, another on Hemingway street, this one taking down part of a fence at the home of Mr. David Hammond; and still another on Swan road at the brow of the hill.

Several electric transformers were out of commission and lights were out generally around town for as long as three hours in many places. A new transformer on Holton street was set afire by the storm, the burning oil sending flames high into the air. The Fire Department was called to this fire, but could do nothing but keep people away from the danger zone.

Lightning struck the home of Mr. Wilbert Callanan on Englewood road, ripping away some shingles as it entered the roof and went out through the side of the building. An alarm from Box 64 called the Fire Department to the scene but there was no fire.

FREEBURN STILL WINNING TENNIS TOURNEYS

(The following clipped from the Danville, Ill., Commercial News for July 5 should prove of interest to the many friends of the Freeburn family in Winchester. "Larry" is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Freeburn of Cabot street, and while living here was winner of the town singles championships in 1930, 1932 and 1934. He was a doubles champion in 1930, '31, '32, '33, '35 and '37. He is married to a Winchester girl, the former Phyllis Dalrymple..... Ed.)

Lefthanded Larry Freeburn, General Motors personnel director, won the Danville city men's singles championship July Fourth, whipping young Paul Johnson in the finals, 7-5, 6-3.

A steady, deadly serious player, Freeburn won over the youthful defending champion by never letting up on his retrieves. Freeburn didn't exactly outclass Johnson, but the younger player was definitely beaten.

Freeburn won over a total of 50 players entered in the tournament, one of the most successful of recent years. Glen Robertson, newly elected president of the Danville Tennis Club, helped supervise the tournament.

Johnson and Collings defeated Freeburn and Ken Bentley in the finals, 11-9, 6-1, wearing out their older rivals. Johnson and Collings reached the finals by taking Frank Sailey and Tom McDonald, 6-4, 6-3, while Bentley and Freeburn had a hard time in edging Robertson and Chuck Supple in the semi-finals, 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.

VISITED THE HAYWARDS

Mr. and Mrs. Otis W. Leary have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ray V. Hayward at the Hayward's summer camp on Birch Island, Me. "Raymie" gave the Learys a thrill with a canoe ride on the bay, the thrill being intensified by a verbatim and advance account of what befell "Dan" O'Donnell on a previous trip in the Hayward canoe. Otis insists that any untoward event that befalls one while a passenger in a canoe paddled by Mr. Hayward is strictly the fault of the passenger, but we withold judgement until we get a chance to contact that local authority on "Bobby Burrrns," Mr. O'Donnell.

UNION SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Motive Test" will be the sermon subject of the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey at the Summer Union Service at the First Baptist Church, Sunday morning, July 24th, at 10:45 o'clock. Mildred Zwicker Abrahamson will be the soprano soloist.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to worship at this service.

BORN

To Mr. and Mrs. John O. McGillivray (Harriet A. Whitten) of Weston a son, Stuart Ferguson July 17th at Richardson House.

Mrs. Clifford W. Bergere and her children "Beth" and "Del" are spending the rest of July with Mrs. Paul M. White, Linda and Paul at the Whites' summer home So. Wellfleet, Cape Cod.

JOHN A. VOLPE

WINS RE-ELECTION

John A. Volpe of Winchester who was unanimously reelected Grand Financial Secretary of the Order of Sons of Italy. Mr. Volpe is head of the Volpe Construction Co., Malden, and a leader in civic and philanthropic organizations, currently heading the committee on the enlargement and renovation of the Mystic School.

MRS. MAUDE CROWELLI

Mrs. Maude Crowelli of 16 Collamore street passed away Wednesday, July 20, at her home after a short illness. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital three weeks ago following a heart attack, but had returned to her home after remaining at the hospital a week.

A native of Woburn, Mrs. Crowelli was 52 years old. She had made Winchester her home for more than 25 years and was widely known, both in Winchester and Cambridge, where she was active in the work of the Auxiliary to Isaac Wilson Taylor Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. She was also a member of Phyllis Wheatley Temple, Elks Auxiliary of Boston.

Mrs. Crowelli leaves four daughters, Mrs. Phyllis Mayre of Cambridge and the Misses Elouise, Sylvia and Lorraine Crowelli, all of Winchester; a son, Ellsworth West of this town; two granddaughters and three sisters, Mrs. Elsie Lee, Mrs. Bertha Barksdale and Mrs. Clarice West, all of Winchester.

Funeral services will be held on this Friday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with the Rev. Edwin Clemens of Cambridge officiating. Interment will be in Woodbrook Cemetery, Woburn.

JOHN T. NELSON

John T. Nelson, a resident of Winchester for fifty-six years, died at his home on Cedar street, Friday morning, July 15, after a long illness.

Born in Kalmar, Sweden on September 11, 1867, the son of Greta Sophia and Nels Nelson, he came to America as a young man of seventeen years. After spending several years in the Middle West and Canada, he traveled east and in February 1896 married the late Emily (Peterson) Nelson.

A painter by trade, many of the older residents of Winchester will remember him as an associate of the late David I. Carlue.

He was a member of the S. Randia Lodge.

Surviving him are two daughters, Mrs. Hugh J. Grimes and Miss Ruth S. Nelson, both of Winchester.

Funeral services were held at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel on Monday, July 18, at 2:30 P. M. with the Rev. Donald B. Tarr of the First Congregational Church officiating.

Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. AGNES M. LEE

Mrs. Agnes M. Lee, wife of Michael Lee of 29 Grove place, died early Saturday morning at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness. She entered the hospital on July 3.

Mrs. Lee was the daughter of Norris, and Helen (Parker) Marshall. She was born in Wells River, Vt., 75 years ago and had been a resident of Winchester for the past 40 years.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Robert, of this town; a daughter, Mrs. James McGrail of Hudson; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Lane Funeral Home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Mr. Bailey also read the committal prayers at the interment in Wildwood Cemetery.

BADLY HURT IN AUTO CRASH

William Denhard of 22 Springvale road, Reading, sustained severe head injuries shortly after 6 o'clock Wednesday evening when the Plymouth sedan he was driving north on Main street was in collision at the junction of Highland avenue with a Buick sedan, driven by Edward J. Callahan of 69 Exeter street, Lawrence.

According to the Police Callahan was entering Main street from Highland avenue to go south. Denhard was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. William F. Hickey for a deep cut on the forehead, a possible fractured skull and bruised knees. Callahan was shaken up. Both cars were damaged, the Plymouth having to be

SWIMMING POOL CLOSED

Leonard Beach Declared Unfit For Bathing

At a meeting of the Park Commissioners held Tuesday evening, July 19th it was voted, dependent on the report of the State Health authorities, the Company which installed the Leonard Beach pumps, and the company that drilled the wells, to close the Pool at that location because of the danger of pollution. The increased seepage from the pool due to the low level of the River, coupled with the high degree of evaporation and the lowered supply of water in the wells because of the continued drought, leaves the Board no alternative but to take this step.

It is unfortunate that it has to occur during a period when so many have enjoyed relief from the heat in frequent plunges in the Pool. However, we feel secure in the belief that thinking people will realize that the Commissioners have in mind the well being of the citizens of the Town.

The reports received from the authorities mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, dictate for an immediate closing. The Leonard Beach Pool is therefore closed until further notice.

Signed,

WOMEN'S INVITATION DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Seventy-five women golfers from Bear Hill, Vesper, Tedesco, Weston, Salem, Oakley and Myopia were guests of Winchester Country Club women Tuesday morning at an Invitation Day medal play individual tournament with full handicap.

Bear Hill and the home club won a major share of the prizes with Mrs. W. J. Reeves of Bear Hill carding an 81 for low gross, and her sister club member, Mrs. Ian Drysdale having an 84 for second.

Mrs. A. C. Buffum of Winchester won the first net prize with a card of 85-13-72. Another home club entrant, Mrs. David A. Wilcox, was second with 99-23-76. There was a three-way tie for the third net prize among Mrs. F. A. LeCour of Bear Hill, Mrs. C. L. Daly of Winchester and Mrs. John Martin of Oakley, the latter being the only player outside Bear Hill and Winchester to get a prize. All three had 77s.

Nearly all of the guests stayed on for luncheon at the club after the tournament and at the conclusion of the luncheon the prizes were distributed by Mrs. Donald M. Belcher, chairman of the club's Ladies Golf Committee.

SHORE ROAD FLAG POLE TO SCOUTS

The flag pole on the former Shore Road field was taken down recently by town employees as the field is no longer used for high school games. It has been erected at the new scout headquarters where it will serve a useful purpose. This steel flag pole was presented to the town by the American Legion Post 97 while Marshall W. Symmes was commander. A foot ball game was run in the fall and the proceeds of this game paid for the pole. It was so firmly erected in cement that it had to be cut off at the level of the ground when moved.

CORRECTION

Through an error the date for the receiving of sealed proposals for the construction of additions to the Mystic School was incorrectly given in the advertisement appearing in last week's issue of the Star. Bids will be received by the Mystic School Addition Committee, of which John E. Volpe is chairman, at the office of the Superintendent of Schools, 84 Washington street, Winchester, until 4 p. m., Daylight Saving Time, Thursday, August 4, 1949. The advertisement is being repeated in this week's issue on Page 7.

"LIST OF RESIDENTS" BOOKS READY

The "List of Residents" books, giving the names, ages and occupations of residents of the town 20 years of age and over are ready for distribution at the town hall. This is the book that every one used to want when they were free, but which do not go out so rapidly now that they sell for $1. You can get one at the Town Clerk's office.

MISS NORRIS FINALIST

IMPORTANT PLAYGROUND NOTICE

Because of recent incidents it appears advisable that the Park Commissioners inform the Citizens of the Town that our Playground Supervisors are responsible only for the supervision of play and not for the Custody of Children.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farrell of Stoneham are the parents of a son, born July 15 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stowell of Stoneham and Police Officer and Mrs. James

HORACE H. FORD

FORD WON PRESIDENT'S CUP

Horace Ford beat Jim Harvey for the President's Cup, one of the featured tournaments at the Winchester Country Club, last Sunday forenoon, 2 and 1.

The President's Cup tournament is a strictly scratch affair with the low sixteen in the qualifying round competing at match play and four wins being necessary to cop the cup. Ford, former big league baseball player, and Harvey, one of the best of the Club's younger players, a seasoned tournament performer and three times winner of the Club's Member-Guest Tourney with Ernie Doherty of Woburn, were well matched and their battle on Sunday was a good one all the way.

It just wasn't a case of youth being served this time, however! Horace had his short game working well and was 1 up at the end of nine. Harvey evened the match on the 10th with a birdie three, and many in the gallery, which just happened to be pro-Harvey, figured their favorite would go on from there to win. Not at all!

Ford came right back with a birdie two on the 11th and then for good measure had a four for another birdie on the 12th. From then on Horace was out in front though he had to keep bearing down all the way.

Birdies and Chips

After the match Harvey and Ford agreed that the deuce on the 11th was the deciding factor. If Jim could have taken that hole after his birdie on the 10th he would have been hard to beat, or rather, harder to beat!

Both Horace and Jim had nice things to say about each other's game with Harvey especially lauding Ford as a real tough competitor.

Harvey has the lower handicap of the two, being a four-man. Ford's handicap is away up to seven! "Just a hacker," says Horace.

This year marked the second time Ford has won the President's Cup, he having previously won the event during the war, when as he said, the competition was not nearly so tough. He had a 74 for this year's match with Harvey carding figures two strokes higher.

For the first time this year the President's Cup winner received a take-home trophy, a handsome Paul Revere Bowl, suitably inscribed. Previously the winner had his name engraved on the cup kept in the clubhouse. Mrs. Ford, among others, thought the take-home trophy for the winner, an excellent idea.

MAJOR RENOVATIONS AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Major renovations are being carried out this summer at the First Congregational Church, much-needed work on the big building being done both inside and outside.

The exterior is being painted, two coats, with the final coat to match as near as possible the stone work of the attached parish house. The building is not painted white, as some believe it should be, because, according to report, it is not architecturally the type to be painted this color. Architecturally, the Star learns, the church is of the stone type and should be painted a shade to suggest this construction.

In addition to painting, the roof is to be checked to guard against damage to the redecorating being carried on inside the building.

The entire auditorium is being redecorated, though the decorative scheme is to be the same as it has been. Discolored plaster-work in the auditorium is being renewed and the ceiling and some of the arches are being repaired and strengthened. The auditorium presents a strange sight during the repairs with its huge network of staging extending from the floor to the lofty ceiling and completely filling the open space. Wherever the eye is turned there is a labyrinth of beams, cross-beams and boards, from which appears occasionally the head and shoulders, or the arm of a workman, high above the pews and aisles and chancel.

Besides the repairs and renovations in the auditorium, the organ is to be overhauled and electricians are replacing the last of the church's old electric wiring which was rapidly approaching a dangerous condition.

The work is being done with funds secured in the church rehabilitation drive last spring. Major as the present renovations are they by no means complete what is necessary to be done in and around the church property.

POLIOMYELITIS

Poliomyelitis is a word that strikes terror in the hearts of most parents at this time of year. The reason for this fear is largely the mystery connected with the disease and the fact that as yet there is no specific drug of any proven value against the polio virus. Yet actually when compared with the prevalence, complications and mortality of many of the commoner diseases such as measles, whooping cough, pneumonia and rheumatic fever, we find poliomyelitis far behind.

Again, when we consider the effects of polio, many people think that it always cripples the person it attacks. On the contrary, thousands of people each year may have it in such a mild form that it is never recognized, and of those cases that are definitely diagnosed as polio, between 40 and 60 percent will recover completely or almost completely without any visible evidence of paralysis. Another 25 to 30 percent will recover with only a mild degree of paralysis and live pretty much as they had planned to do. Only 15 to 25 percent will be left more or less severely handicapped, but surgery, rehabilitation and special appliances can do wonders for them. Finally, about eight percent may die if it reaches the brain.

This is in no way meant to minimize the seriousness of the disease but, instead, to maintain our respect for it in its proper perspective. Certainly it is a serious disease and recovery is a long, expensive process in most cases.

How do you get polio? There is no definite answer to this question. The enemy is one of the smallest of the viruses. There is evidence that it passes from one person to another by intimate contact, but it has been found in healthy normal persons with no signs of illness. It has been found in sewage and on flies but there is no conclusive evidence that flies spread the disease to humans and only circumstantial evidence that sewage and pollution of water are factors in its spread. There is further evidence that overfatigue in a person seems to increase his susceptibility to the disease. Constant study of this problem of how polio is spread is being carried on, and some pieces of the puzzle have been fitted together. Several strains, or families, of the virus have been isolated and we know how they act in animals. A new method of purifying the virus has been developed, and from this a vaccine that will protect animals, and only animals, from a certain strain of the virus has been successful. Thus the goal of an effective vaccine for humans has been brought closer.

What should parents do? The answer to this is a little more definite. Avoid crowds if polio is epidemic in your vicinity. Keep your child and yourself from becoming overfatigued and chilled. Do not bathe in polluted waters. Keep clean, and wash hands thoroughly before eating. Keep human waste and garbage covered and make sure there is prompt sanitary disposal. Screen your house against insects. At the first sign of illness consult your family physician. Early treatment is important and an attack can be made worse if the person fights the disease and keeps trying to be active.

In guarding against infection with polio, every good citizen will follow the simple rules we have given, and, if illness comes, he will cooperate promptly and fully with his doctor. The expense of treatment during illness and throughout the period of recovery need not cause anxiety to anyone, since ample funds are available through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The foundation has also supplied generous aid for the research through which the disease will certainly be finally conquered.

AUTO BADLY BURNED

Box 44 was sounded for the fire and the firemen found upon arrival that the fire had spread from the car to the garage, burning the doors and scorching the dwelling house.

How the fire started is not known. The interior of the car was practically destroyed.

WOBURN BEAT LOWELL IN PLAYOFF HERE

Woburn's hustling and aggressive Junior Legion baseball team beat Lowell for the district championship Monday evening, 5-3 on neutral Manchester Field in a playoff of the tie between the two teams at the end of the league season.

It was the third win for Woburn in three days and none could deny that the Tanners were the better team Monday evening. The big Lowell boys appeared dead by comparison with the hustling Orange players, and could do next to nothing with the pitching of the slim Gaudet. For a championship contender Lowell looked anything but potent at the plate.

Woburn scored its two winning runs as things turned out on a muff of a routine fly to left field and a topped roller along third base that no one could field in time. The latter wasn't a "squeeze" bunt, but a swung-at pitch that dribbled out there with a man on third too slowly to make a play anywhere.

Alert play on the part of Woburn, or stupid play on the part of Lowell, whichever you like, cut off scoring opportunities for the losers.

With men on first and second, well along in the game, a Lowell boy drilled a hard one over Gaudet's head into center field. One run came in, but the runner from first overran second looking for a throw to the plate. Instead McLaughlin's smart peg to second erased him and ended what looked like a rally.

An inning or so later Lowell had men on second and third with two out. The batter hit a high bouncer that McKinnon barely deflected with his glove after a leap in the air at third. The runner on third scored of course, but the runner on second was a year getting to third and McKinnon's lightning recovery and smart tag got him sliding into the bag, snuffing out another rally.

That broke Lowell's heart and seemed to revive Gaudet, who fanned two of the three batters to face him in the ninth and forced the other to sky to "Doc" Sweeney in right field.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Loring Avenue Junior and Intermediate baseball teams won two more games apiece in the Playground Baseball League to remain undefeated through six straight games. The best game was the 4 to 3 victory of the Loring Avenue Intermediates over Leonard Field in an extra inning contest. Jim Carroll was on the mound for Loring and Roddy Delorey twirled for Leonard Field and both boys pitched excellent ball as indicated by the closeness of the contest.

The Ginn Field Seniors came up with two victories to put themselves into the contention for honors in that division. The best game was the 4 to 1 victory of Ginn Field over Loring Avenue as Charlie Murphy pitched one-hit ball for the winners. This Senior division is all knotted up now and any one of the three fields can win it.

The younger boys' softball league continues to provide keen competition with Loring Avenue in first place by a margin of one game. Loring Avenue nosed out Ginn Field 14 to 13 in a thriller to remain in first place. The Loring Avenue girls won their softball game from the Leonard Field girls by a score of 16 to 13. This was a tremendous victory for the Loring girls as they were behind 9 to 1 at one point in the game and, sparked by the Anderson twins, they came from behind to win it.

ZIRKELS OUT OF JUNIOR GOLF

The Zirkel twins, Winchester entrants, failed to make the grade in Tuesday's qualifying round of the Massachusetts Junior Golf Tournament at the Woodland Golf Club, and this was on the unexpected side because Bob Zirkel was the defending champion. Few of the experts were picking the Winchester boy to epeat this year, due to the fact that so many of the top-flight contestants had played so much more golf than he had been able to get in since last year's tournament.

Even though they hadn't installed him a favorite to retain his State Junior crown the experts were hardly expecting Bob, or his twin, Bill, to finish outside the qualifyers, and they didn't fail by much.

Eighty was the dividing line and the Zirkels missed it by a measly stroke, both carding 81s. Their figures were identical, 38-43-81.

Besides the Zirkels, Tom Cosgrove and Fred Cameron were Winchester entries, Tom having a 92 and Fred finishing further back. Leo Grace of Commonwealth, Joe Grochmal of Ludlow, Jim Bernard of Westboro and Bob Magee of Albamarle tied for medal honors with 74s.

Larry Warren of Woburn, whom Bob beat in the championship round of the tournament a year ago, 1 up, just barely got under the qualifying wire this year with an 80.

NEW K OF C POST FOR MR. YOUNG

Mr. George F. Young of 153 Washington street was announced recently by State Deputy John W. McDevitt of the Massachusetts State Council, Knights of Columbus, as one of the State Chairmen for the Knights Five Point Program.

Mr. Young, widely known in local K of C circles, has been named Fraternal Activity Chairman, his appointment to take effect immediately and continue until June 30, 1950.

Past Grand Knight and prominent in the affairs of Winchester Council, 210, Mr. Young is past state warden of the State Council and former district deputy. He is one of the best known members of the Knights of Columbus in Massachusetts and has long been prominent in civic, fraternal and charitable circles.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The last Afterglow of Camp Joy's 1949 summer day camp was held in the Pine Grove last Thursday. It was perfect, for the day was warm and clear, and the natural amphitheater was cool amidst the pines, especially after exploring the woods to find our children's units.

After seating ourselves, Mrs. Metcalf gave a few words of greeting and expressed pleasure that so many parents and families had come. She introduced Mrs. Burton Miller, the chairman of our Cabin Fund drive. Mrs. Miller spoke briefly on the vision of the founder of Scouting in America (Juliette Low) and on the vision, too, of our many Commissioners here in Winchester for their share in building such an outstanding Council and such a large Scout enrollment. But, she pointed out, it took the necessity of moving from the old and small cabin plus the courage and vision of our present Commissioner, Council, and Executive Director to plan and carry out a drive for a larger cabin which would afford all out Scout and Brownie troops an all-year-round recreation center with troop and inter-troop activities. To aid in achieving this each and every Scout family (present and former) is urged to BUY A LOG TODAY!

Then each unit sang its theme song which was appropriate to its spot in the woods.

Mrs. Miller then accepted Cabin Fund money from Gail Cullen who earned it by washing dishes; from Ellen Glowacki who had picked blueberries; and from the little Dowling girl.

The Girl Scout laws were enacted by various girls with all the Scouts saying each law after each skit. All Scouts and Brownies sang the favorite "Ash Grove" while the older girls sang the Chalet song by themselves. The Program Aides read in unison "When You Walk Through the Woods" by Ross McKinney. This was followed by "The Beautiful Unbuilt Cabin".

Thereafter we all assembled on the play field to witness "Retreat." Our beautiful, shining, new flag pole (sunk in concrete, thank you!) was so reassuring with the Flag flying free. It told us of Town and State cooperation, of Council and Scout families' efforts, and gave promise of summer day camps to come, and all the other activities too that will come with the building of our new Cabin in the Fells. HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR LOG TODAY?????

The Winchester Junior Legion was edged 6 to 5 by the Melrose Junior Legion at Manchester Field on Sunday afternoon. Lack of timely hitting again haunted the local Junior Legionnaires as they put 24 runners on the bases and left 19 of them stranded as they failed to hit in the clutch.

Stowell Symmes made his first appearance of the year on the mound for the Winchester Junior Legion and turned in an excellent performance after getting over his early nervousness. He struck out eight Melrose batters, gave up only three bases on balls, and showed good poise over the last half of the game.

MAYNARD BLANKED WARRIORS

Gerry Dee held the Warriors to a pair of singles by Connors and Modoono Saturday afternoon and the Maynard Polish-American Club won its Paul Revere League game from Winchester on Leonard Field, 2-0.

Skewes triple and Condon's single gave Maynard a run in the 1st. Sheehan's hit and steal in the 4th meant a run as Sablone singled him in. The Warriors loaded the bases in the 1st and had runs on the bases in every inning but the 6th, but couldn't get that old clutch hit. Two nice double plays by the Maynard infield didn't do Dee a bit of harm, and the Warriors also gave Farrell good support.

COUNTRY CLUB BOOSTING TENNIS

The Tennis Committee of the Winchester Country Club is working to stimulate club interest in the game, now the fine courts at the club have been completely renovated and been put in excellent playing condition.

Tournaments are being arranged for and a bumper list worked out with present plans calling for Wednesday evenings and Sunday mornings as regular tennis dates at the club so that those interested can ount on a game at either time without making prior arrangements.

SNIPE FLEET STAGES STARTLING INVASION

Last Saturday Evening, the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet staged an invasion that would have done credit to the Marines at Okinawa. Only in this instance the objective was food instead of foe. The point laid out for the landing was that strip of lush green grass known by one and all as Blamire's Backache. And about 50 members of the Snipe Fleet and their families made the landing without a single casualty (unless you count overeating).

It was strictly a case of "none if by land, but as many as possible if by sea", and they came in sailboats, scows, dories, canoes and dinghies.

Once the beachhead was established the men took over and proved they were skippers of the skillet as well as Snipes. Hot dogs and hamburgers disappeared like buttons in a laundry and copious quantities of tonic and bee-verages were consumed

And there's little question but what the cook-out would still be in progress, except that a few of the unmusical members of the gang started some close harmony that brought a quick close to a perfect party.

Club Chatter

Last Wednesday's Bridge Party under the chairmanship of Anne Blamire brought another full house to the Club. As always, the card playing was skillful and enjoyable and the refreshments were tasty and beautifully served.

Next Wednesday's party is under the guiding hands of Mrs. Merton Ober, Jr. and Mrs. Theodore Burleigh, Jr. Please, please help them to make the party a success by letting them know you plan to attend at least a day or two before the party. Another sailor was added to the Snipe Fleet when "Ginger" Streeton presented Jack with a son last Wednesday. Next time you visit the Boat Club look at Mrs. Tom Sanborn's thumbs. They must be very, very green on the strength of the magnificent flower show she is staging on the Club grounds. There's a Shipwreck Dance scheduled for Saturday evening, August 6th. Better keep that date open.

The Winchester Junior Legion plays only one home game this coming week when they entertain the Arlington Junior Legion at Manchester Field in their regular Wednesday evening game. The teams have met twice before this season with each team holding a verdict over the other and this will be in the nature of a rubber contest and should be a good one.

The Junior Legion has completed its league schedule but Coach Bartlett is planning to keep the team in operation the rest of the summer. This will give the boys some valuable experience for next year and will also pay dividends in high school ball next spring as it did this past season. With this in mind the three graduates, Junie Reardon, Paul Roche and Ken Donaghey, will no longer be seen in Junior Legion competition. Their long hitting and colorful play will be missed but it will give three younger boys an opportunity to learn more baseball in actual competition.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Connor left this week for Harwichport.

WARRIORS EDGED LEXINGTON T. T.

Vern Slack won his fourth in a row Monday evening as the Winchester Warriors edged Lexington, 4-3, at Leonard Field. He allowed only five hits over the abbreviated 7 inning route, but his control was faulty and he walked six men while hitting two.

With two away in third Provinzano walked, moved up as an error gave Dick Murphy a life and scored on Al Plummer's single, Murphy reaching third. Dick Coon's clutch single was good for two runs and the ball game as things turned out, the locals having tallied in the opening frame.

Lexington put over two in the 5th on two errors, a walk, a hit batter and an infield single, all with two out. In the 7th Slack walked two, erred himself on the next batter and then forced in a run.

With the bases loaded and one out Slack forced Furden to pop up to Modoono, after which Dick Murphy made the play of the game by taking F. Harrington's harshly stroked grounder in back of second to end it with a force at that base.

WARRIORS SET BACK CONCORD

Winchester Warriors beat Concord 6-3 in a Paul Revere League game at Concord last Thursday night behind the four hit pitching of Sambo Tompkins. Big Sam had a one hitter as late as the 7th with two out, but a walk to Mulcahy, followed by Hayes triple and hits by Dempsey and Flynn accounted for all three Concord runs.

Winchester put over two in the first and scored its winning runs in the 7th, an error, sacrifice bunt, singles by Connors and Olivier and two more Concord errors adding up to four big tallies.

Tompkins had one stretch of very effective hurling, retiring ten men in a row. Plummer accepted seven chances with a slip at third while Dick Murphy and Jim Olivier teamed in a beautiful double play.

TEELE AND THE SCRIBE

Not often does it fall to the lot of Royal "Paper Trade" Teele, doughty president of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, and the lowly secretary to win when joined together as partners in the weekly matches of the Association. Usually these two willing but apt-to-be-elementary warriors have trouble enough winning with some one else, able to carry them on his back, so when they have to depend upon each other for support the result is likely to be nothing that either wants to remember while spooning down his soup at the meal nearest the match in which he paired with his officer pal.

Consequently it was quite a red-letter night for both Mr. Teele and the hornswoggled Scribe last Friday when in the final match of the evening they won two straight from none less than the famous "Lake Street Lancers", "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of All Nabnasset, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. When any two Palmer Street pitchers take this combination they are doing something and when the President and Secretary can turn the trick it is little short of epoch-making.

However it happened last Friday, and each of the two games was won by a double-header in the final box with the score both times 23-19 against the Association's officers.

Darkness had settled on the courts even in the first game of the two, but the contestants were recognizable at each end when the Secretary sent Mr. Teele into transports of delight by flinging two on the pin to wrest victory from Mr. Pridham who had two close counters with only two points needed to go out.

Toward the close of the second game you couldn't tell friend from foe around the stakes, which were themselves apparent only when a shoe happened to strike sparks as they hit.

True to form, Mr. Teele's game perked up surprisingly as the shadows lengthened and when darkness finally fell he commenced to get the range and his ringers kept his side in the ballgame despite Mr. McLaughlin's best efforts to discourage the "Paper Trade Champ."

Mr. Pridham and the Scribe were fairly even though the edge belonged to "Thin Finger" in general accuracy, an occasional lucky ringer by the Scribe keeping the Officers' hopes alive.

So it was that with the count again 23-19 against him Mr. Teele let fly a vicious ringer that rasped onto the stake to the exceeding joy of both the President and Secretary. When his second shoe landed on the first Mr. Teele's exuberance knew no bounds and manifested itself in ringing whoops of triumph that caused lights to spring up and heads to pop from windows across the pond, and apparently utterly confounded the sturdy Mr. McLaughlin.

"Wild Willie" did his best, but his shoes merely skimmed the pin for near misses and the match was over, the delighted Mr. Teele telling both Mr. Pridham and Mr. McLaughlin that when he got back from Wells River he would be in to see them.

You don't often hear that crack nowadays, and Mr. Pridham chose to ignore it. Mr. McLaughlin grunted something about "bull luck", to which the happy President and Scribe paid scant attention.

Winchester Country Club had two semi-finalists in last weeks' Massachusetts Amateur Golf tournament, but both big Ed Martin, defending champion, and Frank Richard, the local entrants, were eliminated in that round which was played at The Country Club.

Martin was eliminated by Bobby Knowles of The Country Club, 3 and 2, the winner playing the 16 holes in par and never being worse than two up after the 5th, which both players admitted was the decisive hole.

Richard lost to Dick Chapman of Oyster Harbors, Knowles' house-guest for the tournament, 4 and 3, with Chapman having a two-up lead at the half way mark. Knowles won the final from his pal on Saturday and is the new State champion after 17 years of campaigning for the State Amateur crown.

WOBURN BEAT WINCHESTER IN JUNIOR LEGION GAME, 7-5

The Winchester Junior Legion was defeated by the Woburn Junior Legion at Manchester Field on Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 5. The locals chose this day to put on their poorest exhibition of the season and literally handed Woburn the game as no less than five of the seven Woburn runs were unearned. Poor pitching, careless base running, and lack of alertness in the field by the local Junior Legionnaires handed Woburn unearned runs as well as deprived Winchester of scoring opportunities.

After a shaky start Winchester seemed to settle down during the middle innings of the game and looked as though they might pull out a victory when Dick Burns slammed out a three-run homer in the sixth to give Winchester a 5 to 3 lead. They handed back those three runs to Woburn in the next inning, however, after two were out. A hit batsman, a base on balls, and another hit batsman filled the bases. A routine ground ball was bobbled and the hurried throw was wild as two Woburn runs crossed the plate to be followed by a third run on a single to left.

Reil, on the mound for Woburn, did not seem to be too effective as he fanned only three batters but he was always around the plate with his pitches and kept the Winchester hits pretty well scattered. Roche, on the other hand, could not seem to find the plate and was constantly in trouble as Woburn left no less than 19 runners stranded on the bases.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

Base on Balls,
Base on Balls!
What's the matter
With a base on balls!

The answer is nothing, for the side that gets the walk, and mostly everything, for the side that hands it out. Woburn got 14 free tickets last Saturday, and it is seldom that a team getting free transportation to that extent is going to be on the losing side.

Winchester outhit Woburn, 12 to 8, but got only three passes from "Lefty" Reil, who kept that soft ball of his right around the plate and got a lot of help from Winchester batters who went after balls which were far from "fat" pitches.

Woburn, for all it won, and looked like much the better team, didn't appear too potent at the bat. Leaving 19 men stranded wouldn't indicate too strong a clutch attack. The locals had far fewer chances to knock in runners than the Tanners.

Defensively the big break of the game for Winchester came in Woburn's 3-run 7th with the locals missing chances twice in a row to retire the side scoreless. With two out Woburn loaded the bases on two hit batters and a walk. A pretty cut-off play with Burns pegging to Donaghey looked like it really had McLaughlin caught off first. Donaghey, however, partially screened the play and Umpire Keer called the runner safe. Ross then rolled a routine grounder to Donaghey who bobbled the ball and then threw over Roche's head as he was covering first, Paul timing the chuck poorly and arriving ahead of the ball. Two runs came in on this play which should have, and would have retired the side nine times out of ten, for Donaghey and Roche have been good on that sort of thing generally.

So an umpire's decision, or an error, or both, got Woburn in the playoff with Lowell, and who will say they didn't deserve to be there! The Tanners hustled, tried for everything and played well afield. The hustling team usually gets the breaks and deserves them. "Still and all," as Ring Lardner used to say, the three runs Woburn got after the side should have been retired in the 7th meant the game. The Tanners got only one in their 9th and Winchester had a 5-3 lead going into the 7th.

Of course Winchester got a nice break when Ross fell down trying for Burns single to left and the ball went for a three-run homer. Offensively the big break against the locals came in the 7th when with two on and one out Roche lined a vicious drive right into Goldman's hands at second for a double play. Had that got by one run would have been in and two on with Donaghey, Williams and Burns coming up and only one out. However, it didn't get by!

Coach Bartlett of the Winchester Juniors naturally didn't like losing the game. "Bart" never likes losing, but he has met Woburn four times this season twice in high school ball and twice in the Junior Legion League. He has three wins which he figures in par for the course.

MR. CULLEN DISCUSSES HARVESTING

July 12, 1949

Editor of the Star:

We arrived in the Town of Sydney, Nebraska, about 9:30 Tuesday, July 12, and drove to the Buick Service Station for a few repairs.

We found this a thriving western city full of combine outfits waiting to start the harvesting for the local wheat growers. Because of poor crops south of Nebraska they are here about 10 days ahead of schedule. The local crop isn't quite ready.

I talked with a Mr. Robert Briley of Abeline, Texas, who has two combines which he runs with an outfit of eight men including himself (he also works). Mr. Briley is 42 and has his wife and two children along with him. He drives a Buick and has a house trailer along.

Today he told me his outfit is finishing up a harvest in Colorado and will then move on to Wyoming. His men get $1.50 an hour when working and feed themselves although he provides a cook-house and trailer for them. When working, these combines can each harvest the crop from 60 to 65 acres a day, getting $3.00 an acre at the lowest and .10c per bushel for all over 20 bushels per acre. Mr. Briley says that amounts to about $4.00 an acre around here.

This big money is the reason for providing a cook shack since about two hours would be necessary for a trip to town each meal.

A local wheat grower, Mr. Germaine, who is on a semi-retired basis looking after some of the town property, says that his land consisting of 28 sections of 160 acres each is now cared for by his three sons and two hired men and that they have 22 acres of it sowed to wheat with an expected yield of 30 bushels to the acre.

What stirs most local residents is the fact that an oil well has come in locally and a boom is starting. Mr. Briley has leased his oil rights on 2800 acres at .50c an acre per year and he says it is worth $250 an acre. Originally he came here 28 years ago and bought a quarter section 160 acres on which he borrowed. Now he owns his farm free and clear and has had many inquiries to sell. He doesn't want to, but says he knows a woman who sold a quarter section of $10,000, plus one-half the oil rights. He has never paid over $70.00 an acre at the most for it.

BEER OR NOT BEER, THAT IS THE QUESTION

Whether beer cartons actually contain beer or not meant a lot to two local clergymen this past week in Mass. These two clergymen, Rev. Joseph P. Sawyer of Bridport and Rev. John P. Mahoney of Hinesbury were travelling in Mass., headed for Vermont in Father Sawyer's car, driven by Father Mahoney when they were suddenly pulled to the side of the road by a Mass. State Trooper. They were stopped not for speeding or other such road infraction, but of all things for carrying too much beer. The Officer informed the two clergymen that they could not take more than seven gallons of beer with them. But this time the laugh was on the officer (and he did enjoy a good laugh out of it too) when it was explained to him that the beer cases marked clearly Croft Ale, which were piled high in the back seat of the car, plainly visible through the windows were Bazaar goods bought in Boston for St. Bernadette's Bazaar to be held in Bridport on August 10th and 11th and for the Hinesburg Church Bazaar to be held the following week. There is a lot of publicity lately about the purchasing of liquor outside of the State of Mass., because of the lower taxes so this may have been one reason for the alertness of the officer on this score. The big question seems to be when does a beer container contain beer or when does it hold something else.

WARRIORS EDGED ARLINGTON IN FAST GAME

In a fast game on Leonard Field Tuesday evening Winchester Warriors edged Arlington D. A. V., 2-1, in a Paul Revere League engagement with Lancelotta pitching three-hit ball. Both teams sparkled afield with the Arlington outfield especially holding the Warriors' scoring to an absolute minimum with several great catches.

Arlington scored first in the 2nd on a walk, passed ball and Hodgins' single. Winchester threatened in its half and again in the third, but fast double plays in both frames kept Corbett out of trouble. Jim Olivier lost an extra base hit with two on as Bowen took his line drive off the left field fence.

Neither team was able to score again until Winchester's 9th when the Warriors iced the game.

Sam Provinzano started with a walk and Olivier laid it down, being safe on a fielder's choice as Provinzano beat the throw to second. Ed Modoono moved up both runners with a sacrifice and Plummer's infield hit scored Provinzano with the tieing run.

"Kenny" Donaghey, former high school and Junior Legion first sacker, playing his first game for the Warriors, hit the first pitch served to him between center and right to score the winning run. The belt was good for a triple, but because the winning run came in from third Donaghey gets credit only for a single.

Ed Modoono hit safely for his 13th straight game, getting two blows for good measure. Lancelotta twice retired seven men in a row, and once got five batters in order.

The Atomics consolidated their hold on first place by defeating the American Legion 7 to 6 during the past week. It was one of the best games of the season as Andre Redding bested Bob Saunders in a pitching duel as first the Atomics led 3 to 1, then the Legion took the lead at 6 to 3, and the Atomics surged back to score four runs and hold on for a victory.

The Maguire Motors also beat the American Legion during the past week by a score of 7 to 2 as Marty Joyce twirled excellent ball for the winners. The victory kept alive the playoff hopes of the Maguire Motors and was a serious blow to the Legion as they dropped from second place to fourth place in the League standing. If the Maguire Motors can defeat the Sons of Italy tonight in a game postponed from Wednesday, they will be in an excellent position to challenge the Legion for the fourth playoff position.

The Sport Center won two more games during the past week to move up from eighth position to sixth in the league standing. This team has improved considerably in the past two weeks as they have received good pitching from Scotty Connor and have many young ball players who can really run those bases. Because of their poor start they may not qualify for a playoff spot but they may very well ruin the chances of some of the leaders.

With just two weeks remaining of the regular schedule, every game becomes a crucial one for the top five contenders. The feature contest of next week should come on Wednesday evening at Ginn Field in the meeting of the American Legion and the Sons of Italy. The Maguire Motors versus the Sport Center contest the same evening at Loring Avenue also should be a good one.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS DID WELL IN NEW HAMPSHIRE MEET

Seven swimmers of the Winchester Swimming Club had a pleasant trip to Wentworth-by-the-Sea, at Portsmouth, N. H., to participate in the annual N.E.A.A.A.U. swim meet there Saturday, July 16.

The team gave an excellent account of itself, with Bob McGrath the individual star, taking a first in the 100 meter backstroke and second in the 100 meter breaststroke.

One of New England's swimming aces, Bob easily retained his backstroke title by finishing a good two strokes ahead of his nearest rival in 1m 5.6s. After leading in the open 100 meter breaststroke for two-thirds of the distance, Bob was edged by Bob Pelliter of M. I. T. The winning time, 1m 7.8s, was very good for an outdoor course.

Roberta Coon, Sonia Smith, Joan McNeill annd Judy Nanry finished in that order in the women's 50 yard novice freestyle event. With the exception of Roberta, these girls were having their first taste of real N.E.A.A.A.U. competition.

Roberta and Sonia each won their heats and staged a real battle for first place in the final, swimming evenly all the way until the last few yards when Roberta's previous experience enabled her to put on the faster finish.

The Winchester Swimming Club extends its sincere thanks to Mrs. Gladys Dutting of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter for securing the transportation which made this fine trip possible.

CHARLES CRAVEN "BEST CAMPER OF THE WEEK" AT CAMP STELLA MARIS

Charles Craven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craven of 8 Wyman Court, Winchester, received the "Best Camper of the Week" award at Camp Stella Maris for the week of July 10th. This was Charles second year as a camper at Camp Stella Maris, Wingaersheek Beach, West Gloucester and he has shown himself an excellent camper in every phase of camp life.

His particular interest in the crafts program was in model airplane work and in this field he showed fine craftsmanship.

Among the Winchester boys at Camp were:

Charles Craven
Danny McLeod
Harrison McLeod
Brian Colella
Roderick Munroe
Daniel Brenner

The girls camping season opened on Sunday, July 17, and will continue until August 27. Any girls who may be interested in attending the Camp may write to the Camp Secretary, 27 Sheridan Circle, Winchester.

WINCHESTER BOYS OUTSTANDING AT CAMP MOUNT PERO

Camp Mount Pero in Plymouth, N. H. resembled 'ole home day' last Sunday with the many parents and guests spending the week-end with their sons. Scheduled field events were cut short as many of the campers visited with their parents. New campers arrived and were welcomed by Director Roland A. Nault after which campers and staff saw a cartoon followed by a feature entitled, "Tom Brown's School Days."

Monday the boys were kept indoors due to inclement weather. Dud Samoiloff did a fine job as pin boy while campers Al Simone, Jack Coakley hit top scores in the 101 class. The two bowling alleys proved popular. Ernie Cantella was high scorer in the shuffle-board games. The grey team, consisting of "lungs" Peter Quine, Joe Cussen, Roger Bainbridge, and Mike Cantella defeated the green team in the blowing ping-pong football game.

Tall tales were spun around the huge fireplace after siesta with Jackie Coakley spinning the tallest. Jackie is getting to be a great all-around camper—especially in the cleaning details.

Last Thursday the boys left for a scenic as well as camping trip to Franconia Notch. Ernie Cantella was the first to sample the cold mountain stream water of the Flume, in an unorthodox manner of course! Next to follow in the footsteps of water-testing was Joe Cussen who 'slipped' near the cascades of the waters above the Basin. After seeing the bears in Lincoln and the Old Man of the Mountains, the boys had lunch then a long rest after which they started off from Lafayette Place taking the Lonesome Lake Trail to tall timbers and Lonesome Lake. Here they set up camp. Ate cube steaks over an open fire then climbed to the west shoulder of Cannon Mt. to see the gorgeous sunset. Campers Joe Cussen, Ernie Cantella, and Peter Quine decided the log shelter was more comfortable at 4:30 A. M. when the rains came.

At Newfound Lake last week windboy Coakley was able to hold his breath longer than anyone else as he took first in the breath holding and buddy check contests. Roger Bainbridge, training for the 1960 Olympics, outswam a large field as he broke the tape in the 50 yd. breast stroke races. His understudy, Peter Quine, was able to take a third in both of the dashes.

Last Friday night a few Winchester boys wanted to show their muscles as they paired off in several wrestling matches. Billy Morton proved to have a little too much weight for windy Jack Coakley while Ernest Vantella and Joe Cussen battled to a draw in the flyweight class. Roger Bainbridge and Mike Cantella staged a set-up match with referee Dud Samoiloff pinning them both.

A hike to the summit of Mt. Mooselaukee with Camp Se-Sa-Ma-Ka is among the coming events.

FISHERMAN'S CAR STOLEN

While fishing in Wedge Pond last Sunday night Nelson S. Hoyt of 128 Brookside Parkway, Medford, had his Ford sedan stolen from where he had parked it on Linden street.

In the car were fishing poles, some clothing and blueberries and the key to the ignition. The machine was last seen turning left from Lake street onto Main street heading toward Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Driscoll of Church street have been vacationing in Quebec this week.

WINCHESTER MASS.

Two former Winchester High School football players, Tom Derro and Johnny Rutherford, who are spending the summer on the West Coast, hitchhiking to California after driving west as far as Chicago, recently met another Winchester boy, George Dolloff, while in San Diego. George is the twin brother of Betty Dolloff, secretary in the law office of Judge Curtis W. Nash.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Paine Worthen and their three sons are spending the month of July in Winchester. Their home is in Buenos Aires, Argentina where Mr. Worthen is employed by the Atlas Corporation. Mrs. Worthen is the former Helen Farnsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Farnsworth and Mr. Worthen is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen.

"TRUTH" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, July 24.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth" (Psalms 86:11).
"Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:4, 5). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"The Science of Christianity comes with fan in hand to separate the chaff from the wheat. Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making mankind better physically, morally and spiritually" (p. 466).

WHO SENT THE MONEY?

Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradlee has some money at his office with nothing to indicate for what it is in payment and the identity of the sender a mystery.

Mr. Bradlee received part of the amount about six months ago. At that time a large bill was received in an envelope with simply the name, Mary Allen and the address, 37 Salem street, Woburn; nothing else. No one by the name of Mary Allen could be found at 37 Salem street in Woburn.

Recently Mr. Bradlee received a large money order, this time with the signature Mary Collins and the address, 14 Munroe street, Woburn. Again no one by that name could be found at this address.

There does seem to be quite a similarity between the writing of the names and addresses of both letters. Mr. Bradlee is in hopes that the sender, or senders can be traced in some way so that he can find out what the whole thing is about. Meanwhile the town has money waiting around to be credited to something or somebody.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

"DAYS OF YORE"

50 YEARS AGO

July 21, 1899

The town should purchase the narrow strip of land between the town hall building and the river and thereby prevent its being used as a storage space for all manner of things. No fault can be found with the owners of this small piece of land for using it for whatever purposes they choose, considering that they pay an annual tax to the town. If it is not taken possession of, some day a building may be erected on it that will certainly not harmonize with the surroundings.

(Editorial)

Assessors' returns show the value of real estate in Winchester to be $7,130,490.00. Personal to be $1,089,470.00. The total amount to be raised by taxation, $137,715.34 with the tax rate $16.30 per $1000. The polls, 1805, at $2.00 total $3,730.00 with the total number of houses, 1353; horses, 513; and cows, 214.

An entertainment was given at the residence of Hon. S. W. McCall last Friday evening in aid of the Floating Hospital. A large and appreciative audience was in attendance and a good sum was realized to help on this good work. The "Peak Sisters" opened the Concert with solos. Those of Doty, Elizy, and Ariminity showed great talent and were greeted with applause. Narcisey's solo, "The Muffin Man," was strikingly characteristic. Tableaux followed, including a patriotic one, also Gibson pictures and coon songs. Mrs. Cole and Miss Emma Mills took charge of the entertainment which was quite a success. The following young Misses were instrumental in giving the entertainment: Martha Tuttle, Ruth McCall, Edith Kendall, Florence and Stella Perry, Beth Kendall, Hattie Cole of Winchester, and Miss Dora Homer of Medford. Harris Cole and Hal McCall also filled a prominent place in the business management.

Judge Littlefield's personally conducted trolly trip to Salisbury Beach, Thursday was a complete success, 18 gentlemen attending. There is so much to be said of this trip that a description will be given next week as there was not time to prepare it for this issue.

Three new box-cars have arrived for use on the local street railway.

The picnic of the First Baptist Sunday School at Billerica last week Friday was successful and in every way most enjoyable, over 100 going in a special electric from the center. It was held on the spacious homestead grounds of Mr. J. T. Underhill's mother—a most pleasing and suitable location. In addition to the many other enjoyable features there was a croquet match between Mrs. F. O. Corell and Mr. MacDonald on one side and Mrs. Mary Winn and Mr. McConaghy on the other. The former were a little too much for Mrs. Winn and Mr. McConaghy, as they easily captured two games out of three. The defeated team were evidently out of practice. During the day ice cream, lemonade and an abundance of other refreshments were partaken of, the excursionists arriving home at about seven o'clock, tired but happy.

Ned O. Fowler of Washington street caught a black bass weighing three and three-fourths pounds, in the North Reservoir.

About 100 residents of the Highlands enjoyed a picnic at Pine Hill Grove on the shores of the North Reservoir, Wednesday. Games and a pleasant social time with refreshments including an excellent chowder and hot coffee, made the occasion one to be called for again before the summer is over.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Elder, and Margaret, Fanny and Ruth are passing the summer at Osterville.

Last Friday evening, Ralph Carter of Winchester, while riding on Maple street, Stoneham, ran into a rope that was stretched across the street from two trees. Carter was thrown from his wheel and was rendered unconscious and was taken to the home of his grandfather. It is feared that his spine may be injured.

The sale of dynamite firecrackers will in all probability be prohibited next Fourth of July because of the numerous accidents in the State during the last celebration.

A large gang of workmen has been at work this week on the road-bed of the Southern Division of the Boston and Maine Railroad, repairing the tracks for sprinkling with crude petroleum for the purpose of laying the dust. The entire stretch through West Medford has been prepared for the baptism of oil and the work will be done in a few days. It costs about $100 a mile to sprinkle the road-bed and the work must be repeated for three years, after which it is carried out only once in three years.

While the hook and ladder truck of the Wakefield Fire Department is being painted they are using the old ladder truck from Winchester.

"Echoes"

I did not advocate raising the water in Mystic Pond "Mr. Observer," but objected to its being drawn down artificially, and if you think it improves things to do so I hope you will stand at Whitney's Dam (Mill pond) and get your fill of it. There is a drug store handy to lever your head afterward.

Why should the Selectmen let the steam roller to private parties when every minute of its time is needed on the public streets. Washington street needs all the rolling possible. There are private rollers that can be hired and the town can not spare it an hour at present.

The Selectmen are in duty bound to finish up Harvard and Irving streets this year. Because they had a falling one with the contractors last year resulting in stopping the work, is no good reason why it should not be completed. They were given the sum asked for to build these streets and there is a balance of $1100.00 still on hand. Are the dwellers on these streets to wade through that moat another winter?

Why is not the Hose 3 watering cart used to wet down the macadam on Washington street, now building, when it has nothing else to do? They do not begin to get enough water on the macadam to roll it to best advantage.

There is not a boy in town who believes there is ever to be a Playground and yet we have planted $70,000 there; work seems to have stopped on the filling in but the interest still goes on at about 4 per cent. What are the plans now Messrs. Park Commissioners.

The visiting nurse scheme is a boon and it is also probably the first use from the Asa Fletcher fund expended as he desired. He never intended to give this fund to help pay the taxes of the town and that is the way it has been used; it should be kept entirely separate from the appropriation for the poor and it seems to many that we are violating our trust.

If you don't drive or ride a bicycle you may sit on the ground along the Parkway and watch those who do. Of course most people would like a seat to sit on but they are very expensive luxuries. A drinking fountain would also be much appreciated, but the Commission really have no time to consider these plebeian things.

Several residents of this town were reported as passengers on the Eastern Steamship Company's new steamer Boston when she was rammed by the heavily laden oil tanker Swift Arrow two miles south of Point Judith in Long Island Sound. Among the names as listed were Miss Rose E. Maguire, Mr. Nathan Thumin, and daughter, Miss Nathalie Thumim, of Sheffield road, Mr. John Watters of Wildwood street, Mr. S. K. Page of Arlington street, and Mr. H. A. Wadleigh of Sheffield road. None of the above was reported among those injured in the crash.

The Boston Tigers colored team beat the Winchester Legion 10-8 last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field. The score would have been larger except for a "sweet catch" by Tansey in right field cutting off at least two runs.

St. Mary's newly organized baseball team beat the Arlington Juniors, 7-3, at Arlington. In the infield for St. Mary's are Quigley, 1st; O'Connor, 2nd; Halwartz, 3rd; J. Dolan, short. The outfield is Tom Dalan, center; Chamberland in left and Dooley in right. Donlan and Murphy are the battery.

The Benedict Club beat Lexington 6-1 in an Old Colony League match at the home courts on Park Avenue. Riley, Bugbee, Blanchard, Blackler, L. Smith and Smalley were the local players.

The prize contribution collected at the ball games on Manchester Field thus far this season was that given by a man last Saturday. When approached to buy a ticket he handed out three cents.

Mr. Nathaniel M. Nichols has filed an application with the Selectmen for the appointment to the office of Town Treasurer. The present Treasurer, Mr. George H. Eustis, is understood to desire to terminate his office by August first when he expects to go on a western trip.

There is some talk about town regarding the advisability of Consolidating the offices of Collector and Treasurer of the Town. An actual consolidation cannot be effected without a vote of the Town, although it is possible for the Selectmen to make appointments to each office of the same man. No expression has been made by the Town as a whole regarding the consolidation of these offices, although it is understood that State officials generally frown upon the scheme, claiming it is difficult for one man holding both positions to keep his cash and books wholly separate. From such expression of opinion given when the idea was broached some years ago, the general sentiment may be declared as opposed to the consolidation in the Town at large.

It is reported that Winchester is to have another baseball team in the field composed entirely of local boys. The backbone of the team will be members of this year's championship High School nine and will include Tansey, Fitzgerald, O'Donnell, Tom Dolan, Robinson, and others. It is also expected that Glen Kendrick, "Muggins" Tansey and possibly Mark Kelley will play with the team, which will play home and home games at night so as not to conflict with the Saturday games of the Legion.

It is reported that the Winchester Hotel has been sold to a Somerville buyer who will remodel the building into a tenement house with stores on the first floor.

"Momji," Sydney Beggs' yacht made the nine and one half miles at the Eastern Yacht Club races on Saturday in 1:49:50.

The C. D. of A. is to hold its annual outing at Canobie Lake Saturday, August 9 with the time and place from which the buses will leave to be announced in next week's Star. A program of sports has been worked out by the committee in charge with attractive prizes for the winners, and the Court will provide ice cream and coffee for the members and their families who are directed to bring along a basket lunch. The Minstrel Show cast and candidates will be special guests and will be served a most attractive dinner by the Committee.

Word was received from Francis Melly, crack catcher for the past three seasons on the high school nine and captain-elect of the team for next year. Melly is a counselor at Camp Wyanoke, Wolfeboro, N. H., and reports himself as keeping in great shape for next year's campaign. He should be a welcome addition to Coach Roberts football team in the fall, having been one of the dependables on the wonder team of two years ago, which won the Mystic League title without suffering a reverse.

Leonard MacNeill of Washington street has returned from an auto tour of Canada. Among places of interest which he visited while away was the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre.

Mrs. Alonzo Woodside has as her guests her niece, Miss Evelyn Nelson and her friend, Miss Elizabeth Turner, of Minneapolis, Minn., who came east as delegates to the 50th National Anniversary Convention of the Signia Kappa sorority at Colby College, Waterville, Me.

The work of grading the grounds around the new Methodist Church was started this week. The new edifice, now nearing completion, is much admired and commented upon.

Sgt. William Rogers of the Winchester Police Dept. started his vacation last Monday.

Nearly 2000 merry makers at Hampton Beach last Sunday enjoyed an impromptu concert which was put on by a party of Winchester and Woburn young people who had motored to the beach. Among the entertainers were Frank McGowan, "Silk" O'Loughlin and "Tony" Gigliotti, leader of St. Mary's Mandolin Circle; and the Misses Ruth McLaughlin and Violet Carroll. Reports are to the effect that the program was much enjoyed by the crowd and entirely too short.

Customers' Corner

To assure you of honest weight at A&P we buy the finest scales, have them constantly checked for accuracy and put them in plain sight where you can see the dials

And, of course, all our employees are thoroughly trained and strictly instructed to conform to our policy of 16 ounces to the pound.

If we should ever make a mistake in weighing your purchase, you will be doing us a favor if you call it to our attention.

We would appreciate any suggestions you may have to help us maintain our strict standards of honesty and accuracy, or anything else we can do to make your A&P a better place to shop.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Last Saturday afternoon at 3:35 the Fire Department was called to the home of Dr. Charles Rooney on Washington street where the cellar was reported as full of smoke. The firemen found the trouble to be a defective chimney. The smoke ejector was used and little if any damage was believed to have resulted from the trouble.

Twenty-five big buses of happy children went through Winchester during the early and late afternoon filled with children attending Woburn Day at the Braves baseball game in Boston. Alderman Charles J. Riley was in charge of arrangements. The Winchester police convoyed the buses and their yelling load through town.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Dawson Blamire whose home on Mystic Lake is just over the town line in Arlington, entertained a number of their fellow Winchester Boat Club members, including many of the "snipers," at a cook-out on their grounds last Saturday evening. All the guests were required to go to the cook-out by boat.

NELL STEWART

Miss Nell Stewart, who was "Miss Ohio of 1946" in the Atlantic City beauty pageant, and who is now one of the few women wrestlers who combine top feminine beauty with athletic skill, will be featured in the main event opening the outdoor wrestling season at the Medford Bowl next Monday night. The Bowl is located on the Revere Beach Parkway.

Miss Stewart will be matched against Cecilia Blevins of Oklahoma, a rising star on the wrestling firmament. Both young ladies have promised that they will provide plenty of action for the fans on Monday.

The semi-final of the night will be a battle between Arthur Giroux, known as "Mr. Europe," and Leslie Ruffin of Lawrence. The special of the night will bring together Mike Clancy of Woburn and Ivan Vakturoff, known as the "Russian Lion."

GRANTED PUBLIC HEALTH FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Victoria M. Cass of 20 Ridgefield road, epidemiologist for the State Department of Public Health, has been granted a fellowship for continued study in public health, Commissioner Vlado A. Getting announced today. Dr. Cass, who has been with the department since March 1947, will attend the Harvard School of Public Health where she will work toward a master degree in public health. The fellowship is made available through special funds for graduate study in public health by the department.

A native of New York City, Dr. Cass is a graduate of Wheaton College and Tufts Medical, cum laude. From 1942 to 1944, she was at Tufts Medical with a teaching fellowship. During the period she also served as an interne and assistant in pathology at Mt. Auburn Hospital in Cambridge. A year later, she interned at Boston City Hospital and in 1947, entered the State Department of Public Health as epidemiologist in the division of administration.

Married in 1941 to Leo J. Cass, M. D., she is the mother of two children. Her husband is a practicing, Boston physician and the director of Harvard Law School Clinic. He is a veteran of the Army Air Force and saw overseas duty in the southwest Pacific.

Following a year's leave of absence from the department of public health, Dr. Cass will resume her duties in the division of administration where she will continue to do editorial research and act as coordinator for the department.

While with the department of public health, Dr. Cass was coordinator for the Special Committee on Public Health Matters. She assisted in the preparation of House 2100, a study and investigation of preventable disease and the establishment of full-time local health units throughout the Commonwealth, which was published this year.

Dr. Cass is a member of the Massachusetts Medical Association; the American Medical Association, the Massachusetts Public Health Association, and the American Public Health Association. In 1938, she was named New England Women's Fencing Champion.

WINCHESTER WOMEN IN ESSEX GOLF

Several teams of Winchester women were entered in the Women's Four-Ball Golf Tournament which opened Tuesday at the Essex Country Club.

Mrs. H. P. Hood, Jr., entered from Tedesco and pairing with Miss Phyllis Darling of that club tied for top medal honors in the qualifying round Tuesday with Mrs. Marion R. Clark and Mrs. Alan F. Howard carding a 77 to qualify for the first flight of match play.

Others in the qualifying round were Mrs. A. A. Kimball and Miss Marilyn Wilcox, 81, Mrs. Albert C. Buffum and Mrs. Bonnie Sprague, 82, and Mrs. David Wilcox and Mrs. Paul F. Collins, 86. The Kimball-Wilcox and Buffum-Sprague teams qualified for the second flight with the Wilcox-Collins duo bracketed in the third.

In the quarter-final competition on Wednesday Mrs. Hood and Miss Darling defeated Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Howard, 2 and 1. Mrs. Charles P. Smith and Mrs. Kirk A. Neal of Essex eliminated Mrs. Buffum and Mrs. Sprague, 2 and 1.

Mrs. Kimball and Miss Wilcox, only all Winchester winners, beat Mrs. Christopher Haigh and Mrs. William Paterson, Jr., of Winthrop in the quarter-finals, 5 and 4. The Tedesco team of Mrs. W. E. Carter and Mrs. Osmund O. Kelver put out Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Collins, 2 and 1. The tournament is a handcap affair.

NOTES FROM MT. PERO

A two-day canoe trip around Big Squam Lake with camping on Loon Island proved to be quite an experience for Roger Bainbridge, Mike Cantella, Joe Cussen, Peter Quine, David Petri, and Dud Samoiloff. The evening's campfire on the island was interrupted by a spectacular rescue by Roland A Nault, the camp's director and Dud Samoiloff. In this rescue the canoe proved to be the better of a speedy motorboat which crashed on some protruding rocks. Two women of the power-boat's crew were taken to shore two miles away for treatment while another craft was sent to rescue the still floating speedboat.

Star right hander, Mike Cantella, pitched Camp Mount Pero to a 9-5 victory over Camp Hunter's Rest, Joe Tansey's Camp, Groton, N. H., last Saturday afternoon. Two big innings were all that the green and gray boys needed to put the game on ice. Al Simone was the big sticker of the day as he had a home run, double and single in three times at bat.

A Plymouth Playground team came from behind to score an upset over Camp Mount Pero last Tuesday. The only bright spot of the game for the local boys came in the first inning when Dudley Samoiloff hit a grand slam home run.

DR. FOWLKES TELLS OF TEACHER NEED

Paints Startling Picture of Elementary Teacher Shortage

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, dean of the School of Education at the University of Wisconsin, authored a challenging article in a recent issue of "Look," magazine, telling of the shortage of teachers in general and of elementary teachers in particular and stressing the importance of the first years in school to the ater educational development of the child.

Dr. Fowlkes' views are of particular interest here because several years ago he conducted a survey of the Winchester schools which resulted in a general shakeup of educational policies and a change in the professional administration of the Winchester system.

Dr. Fowlkes begins his article in "Look" with the statement that unless a million teachers can be found in the next ten years all the admitted effort on the part of American parents to provide the best for their children at home will be lost when the youngsters enter school.

According to Dr. Fowlkes, young people are no longer going into teaching, especially elementary teaching, because neither teaching conditions nor remuneration is such as attract them to that field. Some communities were paying elementary teachers this spring as little as $600 a year, and the requirements for teaching in such communities are correspondingly low. In some places just a high school education is required to teach elementary school or kindergarten.

Dr. Fowlkes feels that low pay and standards for elementary teachers is very bad, for both the children who attend our schools and the nation. The rate of learning during a child's earliest years is faster than at any other time and that capacity to absorb new facts and ideas needs expert direction. If a child becomes a problem child in adolescence, a good part of the cause may be traced back to primary days, but if he gets the kind of care and understanding he needs in his first school years, he may breeze through the difficult teen years without difficulty.

Primary teachers, says Dr. Fowlkes, should be thoroughly educated in the growth of infants and young children. They should know hygiene and biology to check on a child's physical and mental health and they should know psychology to understand the patterns of a child's mental growth. They can not be just glorified baby sitters. They must be competent professional people.

Schools for elementary classes are also of prime importance. They should be comfortable, light and attractive, since children are essentially creatures of comfort and progress best in pleasant surroundings. Teachers must be well trained and able to make elementary education an exciting social and intellectual adventure, not an assembly line.

All this is going to cost money, and parents and tax-payers, in addition to providing this money, are obligated to see that their community gets full value for its educational dollars spent.

They must demand adequate pay for teachers, the best tools and materials possible, the careful professional, not political, selection of teachers, and suitable teaching conditions, including adequate buildings.

Dr. Fowlkes does not believe that Federal aid can carry the whole burden of public education. He feels that the responsibility is essentially with communities and individuals. The individual has the right to expect full value for every dollar spent, but, he must pay his share.

FELLS HARDWARE CHANGES HANDS

James C. Chisholm and John R. Ryan, both of whom have been associated with the establishment for some time, have taken over the Fells Plumbing and Heating and Builders Supplies at 654 Main street and will continue the business at the same location under the new name of Fells Hardware, Inc.

The new owners announce that they will carry a full line of paints, hardware and builders supplies as well as household wares.

Mr. Chisholm is widely known in Winchester where he has been associated with the hardware business for nearly twenty years. He entered the business in 1908 with the Henry Duncan. Corporation, working first for this concern in Everett and then coming with Duncan to Winchester in 1930.

He was for several years with Winton after the latter bought the Duncan store on Mt. Vernon street and for the past five years had been with Fells. Mr. Ryan came to Fells directly from the Army after World War II.

McFADDEN — DUNBURY

White flowers decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, July 24, for the marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Dunbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Dunbury of Wedge Pond road, to Alfred James McFadden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred James McFadden of Bromfield road, Somerville. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, and the soloist was Miss Dorothy Hickey.

Miss Dunbury was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor attendant her sister, Miss Barbara A. Dunbury of Winchester. Bridesmaids were Miss Eleanor Donovan of Winchester and Miss Joan Molway of Dorchester, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of blush pink organza trimmed with matching Chantilly lace. It was fashioned with a cameo neckline, a wide bertha of Chantilly lace and organza and a bouffant skirt which extended in soft flowing lines into a long train with Chantilly flounces. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion was held in place with a bandeau of pink and white lilacs, and she carried a cascade bouquet of ivy and pale pink gardenias.

The honor attendant and bridesmaids wore dresses of nylon marquisette, the honor maid wearing lime green and bridesmaids, pale yellow. All wore horsehair hats with streamers matching their dresses and the ivy of their California cascade bouquets was combined with gardenias matching their frocks.

George Doherty of Somerville was Mr. McFadden's best man, and Austin Ahearn of Cohassett, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, ushered with William Clarke of Somerville.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Music Hall on Bacon street with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Dunbury was gowned in aqua chiffon and lace, wearing a pink nylon hat and a corsage of baby orchids. Mrs. McFadden, mother of the bridegroom, also wore baby orchids with her gown of blue crepe and natural shade straw hat trimmed with flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. McFadden are spending their honeymoon on a motor tour of Canada. The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's School and of Winchester High School. Mr. McFadden is a member of the Somerville Fire Department.

HAGGERTY — GRAHAM

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at the rectory of St. Patrick's Church in Stoneham on Friday evening, July 22, when Miss Muriel Ann Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Graham of Central street, Stoneham, became the bride of Roger Charles Haggerty, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Haggerty of Baldwin street. Rev. Fr. David Burke performed the 7 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a largely attended reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Graham was attended by Miss Barbara Matthews of Stoneham and James J. Haggerty, Jr., of Winchester was best man for his brother.

After a motor trip through the White Mountains Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty will make their home at 77 Central street in Stoneham. The bride is a graduate of Stoneham High School and Mr. Haggerty, of Medford High School.

TO VACATION IN IRELAND

Mr. Luke P. Glendon, widely known resident of Lake street, with his sisters, Miss Annie E. Glendon and Mrs. William A. McLaughlin, sailed Wednesday on the Mauritania from New York for Cork, Ireland, and a month's vacation in the British Isles.

From Cork they will go to the old family home in Kilkenny where they will visit relatives and plan the itinerary of a trip to points of interest in Ireland and Scotland. They expect to return by plane during the latter part of August.

Among the more important duties which Mr. Glendon will assume during his stay in Ireland is the acquisition of new expressions in the original Gaelic to spring on members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association from time to time.

MISS SMITH ORGANIST

Miss Sylvia Smith, who will be organist for the next two weeks at the Union Church Services being held at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, is a Woburn girl and daughter of the Church Custodian, Leon A. Smith, and Mrs. Smith of 87 Prospect street, that city.

Miss Smith is an organ pupil of J. Albert Wilson, organist and choirmaster at the First Congregational Church. A graduate of Woburn High School and a student at Northeastern University, she is taking the librarians' course at Northeastern and working part time at the Kirstein Library, the business men's branch of the Boston Public Library on City Hall avenue. Miss Smith is the regular Sunday School organist at the First Church.

Miss Betty Dolloff, secretary in the office of Curtis W. Nash, is reported as ill with polio at the Mt. Auburn Hospital in Cambridge. Her illness is reported as non-paralytic which is good news to her many friends in Winchester.

ELISHA GEORGE PIERCE

Elisha George Pierce, Jr., of 319 Main street passed on very suddenly Tuesday, July 26, aboard his cruiser Sabre, in Boothbay Harbor, Maine.

Mr. Pierce was born in West Medford May 28, 1907, and was the son of Jennie (Johnson) Pierce and the late Elisha George Pierce, long prominent in banking circles in West Medford. Mr. Pierce attended the Medford schools and graduated from Williams College, where he was a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

For many years he was affiliated with the Commercial Refrigeration of the General Electric Company of Boston, and of recent years and at the time of his passing was president of the Boston Filter Company, an old established firm in Charlestown.

Mr. Pierce was well known in Winchester, where he resided since his marriage to the former Marion Dow of Winchester, on October 11, 1930. He was an ardent sportsman and enjoyed cruising while summering at his home on Westport Island, Maine.

A generous and tireless worker in both church and civic circles, he made a host of friends in all walks of life and will be greatly missed.

Mr. Pierce was a devoted and loyal member of the First Church of Christ Scientist and services were held Thursday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel with Mr. Ernest G. Wright as reader. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Ushers were Mr. Don S. Greer, Mr. Alvin M. Litchfield, Mr. Langley Keyes, Mr. Guy B. Howe, Mr. Guy B. Howe, Jr., Mr. Richard Gardner, Mr. Everett Studley and Mr. Alfred Hartridge.

Mr. Pierce leaves his wife, a son, Elisha George Pierce, 3rd; a daughter, Maryanne Dabney; his mother, Mrs. Elisha G. Pierce; and three sisters, Mrs. William Parks, Mrs. Richard Gardner and Mrs. Preston Higgins.

MRS. ANNIE A. COSS

Mrs. Annie A. Coss, widow of Peter J. Coss and a widely known resident of the North End, died Monday evening, July 25, at her home, 30 Salem street. Her passing was wholly unexpected and came suddenly while she was watching a television program. She had been in her usual health during the day.

Mrs. Coss was the daughter of Michael, and Mary (Fitzpatrick) McGrath. She was born Nov. 19, 1881, in Medford and was educated in the schools of that city, being married in Medford June 11, 1902. She and her family came to Winchester 32 years ago and during much of her long residence she lived at her Salem street address.

Mrs. Coss' husband died in December of 1946. She leaves five daughters, Mrs. Alfred D. Elliott, Mrs. Walter J. Carroll, Mrs. Arthur P. Cunningham, Mrs. Robert S. Paine and Mrs. John F. Kinton all of Winchester; three sons, Richard F., Peter J., and Daniel E. Coss, all of Winchester and the latter two members of the carrier staff at the Winchester Postoffice; twelve grandchildren and three brothers, James B., Christopher M., and Daniel E. McGrath, all of Medford.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott was celebrant with Rev. Fr. John O'Neil, deacon, and Rev. Fr. Patrick J. Kelley of St. Joseph's Church, East Woburn, subdeacon. Interment was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several calls for the Fire Department over the past week-end was Thursday night for a brush fire at the Handel Pond estate at Cambridge and High streets. Later that same night the brakes of a truck caught fire in the center near the traffic tower.

Saturday morning box 7-7-35 called the men again to the town dump where more inflamable rubbish was burning under ground. Box 7-7-35 sounded again Sunday morning for a resumption of the same fire and the men were called to the dump again Monday morning. Sunday afternoon there was a brush fire on Forest street.

ATTENDED DUBLIN AUCTION

Winchester people seen at the Grand Dispersol Auction of Bond's Corner Antique Exchange in Dublin, N. H., last Saturday, were Mrs. Herbert S. Gardner of Dix street, Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes of Main street, and Mrs. James W. Russell and her son, Mr. Sherman B. Russell of Wolcott road. Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Fuller of Hancock, N. H., former well known Winchester residents, were at the auction, and a Winchester man "Bob" Gardner, was one of the auctioneers.

TWO ALARMS FOR CAR AFIRE

Two boxes, Box 27 and Box 262, were pulled late Tuesday afternoon for a fire in the left rear door of a Buick sedan which at the time the fire was discovered was at the junction of Main street and Highland avenue. The car, owned by a Somerville man, was not too badly damaged. Careless smoking was blamed by the firemen for the trouble.

THOMAS J. SMITH

Thomas J. Smith, a resident of Winchester for more than half a century, died early Saturday morning, July 23, during his sleep, following a heart attack on the previous day. He was in his 84th year and had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Smith was the son of Patrick and Rosanna (Martin) Smith. He was born Oct. 22, 1865, in Woburn and grew up in that city, attending the Woburn schools. He had lived in Winchester since his marriage to Katherine E. Lynch of this town 55 years ago. Mrs. Smith died in 1942.

Mr. Smith learned the leather trade and for many years was employed at the Beggs & Cobb tannery, retiring ten years ago. He was a member of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E.; and of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Besides his daughter in Winchester, Mr. Smith leaves three sons, Thomas J. Smith, Jr., of Boston; Frank A., of Winchester; and Harry A., of Woburn; also two sisters, Mrs. Annie Bovia of Woburn and Sister M. Gabriel, stationed at St. Mary's of-the-Hills, Beaverton, Oregon; and six grandchildren.

The Elks funeral ritual was exemplified Monday evening at the late residence by the officers of Winchester Lodge headed by Francis W. Tansey, exalted ruler. The funeral was held Tuesday morning with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church.

Rev. Fr. John O'Neil was celebrant, Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott, deacon; and Rev. Fr. Patrick J. Kelley of St. Joseph's Church, East Woburn, subdeacon.

Bearers were Charles, Edward and John Mahoney of Woburn, nephews of the deceased; Joseph Haggerty of Winchester and two grandnephews of Mr. Smith, Frank Smith, Jr., of Winchester and John J. Lynch of Dorchester.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. MARY JANE JENNINGS

Mrs. Mary Jane Jennings, wife of Francis H. Jennings, of 24 Calumet road, and mother of Mrs. Percival A. Smith died suddenly Thursday evening, July 21, in Hartford, Connecticut, while on vacation.

Mrs. Jennings was born in Glens Falls, New York. She lived in Arlington for a number of years, then moved to New York city and later to Omaha, Nebraska. Recently she came to Winchester to reside with her daughter. She is survived by her husband, daughter and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel on Monday afternoon with Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating.

Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

MRS. GLENNA M. PRISLEY

Mrs. Glenna M. Prisley, wife of Leonard C. Prisley of 3 Lewis road, died Wednesday afternoon, July 27, at her home after a three months illness.

A native of North Haven, Conn., Mrs. Prisley lived the greater part of her life in Connecticut, coming to Winchester 10 years ago. She attended the Church of the Epiphany, and besides her husband, is survived by a daughter and three sons, living in Connecticut.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon at the Beecher and Bennett Funeral Home in New Haven, Conn. Interment will be in that city.

COES LEAVING TOWN

Captain Benjamin Coe, USN, and Mrs. Coe and their son, Ben, left town Monday and will make their future home in quarters at the Naval Air Facility in South Weymouth. They have sold their home on Lagrange street to Mrs. Beatrice Perry of Yale street.

Captain Coe is Assistant Chief of Staff of the Administration for the First Naval District, stationed at the Fargo Building. Ben Coe completed his freshman year at Bowdoin this year. The entire family have many friends who regret to see them leave town, but are pleased to know they are within easy visiting distance.

PLENTY OF WATER

Water Commissioner Edmund C. Sanderson informed the Star yesterday that although the reservoirs are down four feet there is an adequate supply of water, both for drinking and use on lawns and gardens.

The town is using its west side wells to add to its water supply and prevent the reservoirs from getting too low. Mr. Sanderson reports that he has seen them seven or eight feet below the full line, but that this is a condition he does not want to see repeated.

NEW FRONT FOR NATIONAL BANK

Work was begun on Thursday of this week on the remodeling of the front of the National Bank. This job will complete the program of modernization of its banking quarters started in the summer of 1947.

MISS LEONARD, MR. JOY ENGAGED

Mrs. Edmund J. Leonard of Portland, Me., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Alecha G. Leonard, to John D. W. Joy, son of Mr. John H. Joy of Church street, and the late Lucy Waterman Joy.

Miss Leonard is a graduate of Northeastern Business College, Portland, Me. Mr. Joy was graduated from Kimball Union Academy

Housewives of the town will do well to remember that next Wednesday, August 3, is Traders Day in Winchester, and on that date most local stores will be closed all day.

Traders Day is an annual event of long standing though its observance has changed in recent years. In the old days local merchants with their families, employees and friends held an outing on Traders Day, going to some ot-too-far distant resort like Salem Willows or Bass Rocks or something.

There a sports program was held, featured by a baseball game in which the west side of the center played the east side. There were bag races, fat ladies races and usually a tug-o-war. The gastronomic portion of the program usually revolved around a shore dinner or a clam bake, or both and there was always plenty of watermellon, ginger-pop, tonic, hot-dogs and pickles. All hands did themselves proud at the festive board and usually no one was much account on the next day, or the day after.

Now all that has changed. The stores close and the employers go home to figure up how in this-and-that they can raise the ante for the next batch of taxes due. The employees take the kids to the beach, help the little woman with the Japanese beetles, or if fortunate enough, sneak away to the ballgame.

The point is, the Winchester stores will be closed come next Wednesday. Get in your provisions and notions the day before, or wait until the day after!

ABROAD WITH MEDDIBEMPSTERS

Bob Johnston, a graduate of Winchester High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Johnston of Washington street, is a member of the "Meddibempsters," a featured singing octette of Bowdoin College students who left Westover Field in Springfield last Friday by plane to sing for American "G. I.s" in Europe. Their concert tour is a Government mission and they will sing at Army camps in Germany and Austria and possibly in Italy and Switzerland.

The "Meddibempsters" are members of the Bowdoin Glee Club who sing their own arrangements of music scored for male voices and whose performance has been acclaimed at Town Hall in New York and Jordan Hall in Boston. They have appeared with Jinx Falkenburg on television and have made an enviable reputation at leading colleges where they have sung. The balance and blend of their voices as well as the unusual arrangements of the selections they sing have won them a place high in the college singing field.

The boys recently spent a week at the home of one the group's members in Francistown, N. H. rehearsing for their European tour. They left Westover Field at noontime on Friday, arriving in the Azores eight hours later. At 5 o'clock Saturday morning they were in Frankfort, Germany, 17 hours after leaving Westover Field.

CONTINUED HEAT

The weather man was right when he predicted another hot spell for this week, at least insofar as Winchester is concerned.

After an ideal week-end the glass commenced to rise on Monday and it continued to soar until temperatures in the upper nineties and 100 degrees and better were reported around town Tuesday and particularly Wednesday.

Wednesday night was a beauty with late temperatures of 89 and 90 degrees reported and little sleep, if any, in Winchester beds. By midmorning yesterday the glass was fluctuating between 90 and 96 in the center, and was at 98 at Police Headquarters, with still no rain!

ARLINGTON HOBOES HERE WEDNESDAY

The Winchester Junior Legion plays only one home game this coming week as they entertain the Arlington Hoboes at Manchester Field on their regular Wednesday evening game. The name Hoboes is a bit misleading as they are not dressed as hoboes but are a smartly uniformed team of Arlington High School performers.

The Hoboes boast an outstanding record of nineteen victories in twenty one games played this season. They are an older and more experienced group than the local Junior Legionnaires but Coach Bartlett figures that it will be valuable experience for his boys to go up against such strong opposition.

UNION SERVICE AT RIPLEY CHAPEL

On Sunday morning at 11 a. m. the Union Summer Service of the Protestant Churches will be held at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church.

Miss Sylvia Smith will be the organist and Mr. Albert Hiatt, bass, the soloist. His selections will be "Fear Not Ye, O Isreal!" by Dudley Buck, and "The Earth is the Lord's" by Frank Lynes.

The subject of the sermon by the Rev. Donald B. Tarr will be "Where Does God Lead Us?"

The public is cordially invited.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Boardley, Jr., of Boston are the parents of a daughter, born July 18 at the Boston Lying-in Hospital. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Boardley of Cross

COMING EVENTS

Aug. 2, Tuesday, "Flower Mission." Contributions of flowers received at Winchester Railroad Station before 9:00 a. m.

August 2, Tuesday, 8:00 p. m. Regular meeting of Winchester Lodge of Elks, Lyceum Hall.

SCHOOL CUSTODIANS HELD OUTING

The custodians of the Winchester schools, led by Building Superintendent "Tom" Drapeau, held a most successful outing recently at Salem Willows with a clam bake and sports program that kept everyone busy, and happy in proportion to his ability to win in fast company.

Aiding and abetting the clams was a "yummy" Spaghetti "feed" with meat-balls expertly prepared by Pasquale Mazzei.

"Alf" McKenzie and "Pete" Benson were crowned horseshoe champs, with honors in checkers going to Fred Morris, and Ben Cullen winning the forty-fives.

The special 100 meter swimming race was won by "Larry" Kean with "Tom" Drapeau, second, and Oscar Johnson, third. The winner's time, loosely estimated at about half an hour, is surely some sort of a record for the distance.

Henry Drown and "Bill" Gibbons distanced the field in dart-throwing and Dan O'Donnell's team won the six-man soft ball game, 100 to 83, with a double steal by "Dannie" and "Weenie" Pratt the deciding factor. Playing with "Dan" and "Ken" were Fred Morris, Oscar Johnson, "Alf" McKenzie and "Tom" Drapeau.

The party returned home happy but tired, that is, with the exception of Ken Pratt, who found outing activities a slight touch after regular competition in the square dance field.

MISS BALME ENGAGED TO MR. DONAHUE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Balme of New York City announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Joan Marie Balme, to George F. Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Donahue of Mystic avenue.

Miss Balme was graduated from the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Maplehurst, and from Marymount College, Tarrytown, N. Y., in the class of 1947. Mr. Donahue attended Harvard University and was graduated with the class of 1946 from the Sheffield School of Engineering at Yale University, where he was a member of Scroll and Key, Torch Honor Society and St. Elmo.

PIER AWARD TO VOLPE

The Volpe Construction Company of Malden of which John A. Volpe is president, has been awarded a $677,340 contract to build the superstructure at Hoosac Pier No. 1 in Charlestown, it was announced this week.

The building will be erected adjacent to the Charlestown Navy Yard and is to be seen from the bridge at City Square. It will be a one-story structure, about 25 feet in height and will have a structural steel frame with a metal roof deck. Four lines of railroad track will run through the building to handle freight and cargo, thereby enabling several ships to unload simultaneously.

Construction on the new project is expected to start in the very near future.

TREACY ON USS MISSOURI

Leo P. Treacy, seaman, USN, son of Mrs. Gertrude Treacy of 48 Water street, Winchester, Mass., is scheduled to arrive at Annapolis, Md., July 25, from Portsmouth, England, after a 15-day stop at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, as a crew member aboard the battleship USS Missouri.

The Missouri was flagship of the Midshipmen Practice Cruise Squadron which carried 1,235 Naval Academy and Naval Reserve Midshipmen.

Before their departure they were hosts to a group of opera stars from the La Scala Opera House in Milan, Italy, who are appearing for a season in London. This was one of the many forms of entertainment arranged for the visiting Navy men, which included tours, parties, dances and sports programs.

SWIMMING MEET TRANSFERRED TO PALMER BEACH

Miss Anne Murray, beach supervisor, has announced that the New England A. A. A. U. Swimming Meet to be held in Winchester Saturday afternoon, August 6, has been transferred to Palmer street due to the closing of Leonard Field pool.

This week Dennis Maher of Woburn, an experienced well man, has been investigating conditions at Leonard Field pool, and though no official statement has been made by the Park Commissioners, it is reported that the trouble there is not water but pumps, and can be corrected.

Meanwhile the beach is closed and will remain so until an official announcement to the contrary from the Park Commissioners. The meet will definitely be held at Palmer Beach, even though Leonard Field pool should be in service again by August 6.

WINCHESTER NOT AFFECTED BY WATER BREAK

The break in a 36-inch supply pipe of the Metropolitan Water system in Brookline yesterday affected the whole Metropolitan area, all towns and cities served by the system being warned not to use water unnecessarily. Although Winchester received water from the Metropolitan system, our town is not affected, we being able to obtain all water from our own reser-

BOY SCOUT NEWS

In our first two articles, we told the importance of the Merit Badge Counselor and the need for volunteers for this duty in the Winchester District, as well as outlining the steps for a Scout's advancement to Eagle. In this, our third of this series, we continue with more specific information.

Last week we pointed out that a First Class Scout could apply for rank as Star Scout when he had earned any five Merit Badges of his own choosing, but that a boy who heeded the advice of his leaders would intersperse his required badges for future advancement with those that he chose entirely for the fun and adventure to be found. We also pointed out that a Second Class Scout could earn certain Merit Badges, and that these badges included four of those which are later required for advancement to Life and Eagle Scout, First Aid, Personal Health, Safety, and Pathfinding.

A Second Class Scout has a choice of forty-six Merit Badges which he may study. They are:

Aeronautics
Aerodynamics
Airplane Design
Airplane Structure
Agriculture
Animal Industry
Art
Basketry
Beef Production
Bee Keeping
Blacksmithing
Bookbinding
Bugling
Carpentry
Cement Work
Corn Farming
Cycling
Dairying
Farm Home and Its Planning
Farm Layout and Building Arrangement
Firemanship
First Aid
First Aid to Animals
Fruit Culture
Gardening
Hog and Pork Production
Home Repairs
Horsemanship
Leathercraft
Leatherwork
Masonry
Metal Work
Music
Painting
Pathfinding
Personal Health
Photography
Pottery
Poultry Keeping
Printing
Reading
Safety
Sheep Farming
Soil Management
Weather
Woodcarving

From this list, a Second Class Scout is allowed to earn any five badges of his own choosing. In addition he may earn Aeronautics, Aerodynamics, Airplane Design, Airplane Structure, and First Aid. This gives him a maximum of ten Merit Badges which he may earn as a Second Class Scout. If he follows the advice of his leaders, earning First Aid, Personal Health, Safety, and Pathfinding at this early stage, he will still have a chance to select two badges for fun and adventure from this list, and may pursue four aviation subjects as well if his interests are so inclined. His winning his First Class rank then puts him well on his way to the higher steps with very little immediate effort demanded.

Here are the requirements for the four available required badges at this stage:

FIRST AID:

1. Review Second and First Class First Aid requirements including demonstrations.
2. Show correct way to: (a) prepare for transportation a person with a compound fracture of the forearm; (b) make and apply splint for broken thigh.
3. Show how to: (a) stop bleeding from a ruptured varicose vein in leg;(b) control arterial bleeding on wrist and calf of leg simultaneously
4. Explain what to do in the case of a man grasping, or otherwise in contact with an electric wire, or lying across the power rail of an electric railway.
5. Tell briefly what to do for a man found in a starving condition.
6. Show what to do in the case of a person who chokes from drawing water or food into his windpipe while eating.
7. Demonstrate with a small piece of cloth how he would sterilize and make safe a part of his shirt if he had to use it for an improvised dressing.
8. Tell what fatal disease germ is likely to be carried into a wound from a gunshot, knife thrust, rusty nail, pitchfork, or garden rake, or from a powder burn; why the patient in every case must be taken to the doctor for a supplementary treatment.
9. Tell the dangers involved in the immediate transportation of an injured person where the extent of the injury is not known.
10. Explain what he would do if a companion dived into shallow water and struck his head, staggered ashore and fell unconscious.
11. Show treatment for extreme shock, using cover, correct position, and heating devices.

PERSONAL HEALTH

1. Submit evidence of having had a medical examination within a year. State what has been done or will be done to correct any remediable condition found.
2. (a) State whether examination by a dentist has been made within one year and show what has been done to correct any remediable conditions found. If no examination has been made within one year, explain how to care for the teeth properly, and show by general condition of his teeth that he practices such care; (b) Show by condition of his own hands and feet that he takes proper care of them. Tell briefly what that care is. Tell how to care for his feet on a hike; how to guard against "Athlete's Foot." Explain the value of (1) a shoe made on a Munson last and (2) wool stockings in winter and wet weather; (c) Explain the importance of (1) washing hands after leaving a toilet, as well as before eating; (2) soap baths at least once each week and always after hard exercise, and (3) daily elimination. Describe how the body disposes of its wastes.
3. (a) Make up a bed on the ground or floor, showing how to get the most warmth and comfort from ground cloth and two blankets, and ground cloth and one blanket; (b) explain five ways, other than using bed clothes, of keeping warm while sleeping out doors; (c) tell how to ventilate a sleeping room properly. Give number of hours sleep needed by a person his age. Tell why a person should sleep by himself, and what distance should separate his bed from others.
4. Demonstrate proper breathing and explain how it affects health.
5. Explain how disease is spread by drinking water, common drinking cups, dirty dishes, dirty dish towels, soiled bath towels, unpasteurized milk, and personal contact.
6. (a) Name the basic foods essential to daily diet of a person his age. Tell what food elements each contains. Explain why he should not eat between meals, eat irregularly, or eat too much candy, rich food, or very sweet foods; (b) bring in, or write out at time of examination, a list of foods eaten at each meal over the previous three day period.
7. Explain the danger of taking a laxative when suffering from a pain in the stomach; neglecting a break in the skin surface; opening or squeezing a pimple.
8. Give three reasons why alcohol and tobacco are harmful to a growing boy.
9. Discuss the value of clean moral habits to general health.

It is obvious from the above requirements that the Merit Badge Counselor for either of these subjects should be a person trained in medicine, such as a doctor or nurse, or an exceptionally well qualified trainer such as an athletic director or coach of recognized standing. We shall continue our discussion in successive articles which, we hope, will ring a responsive note among your readers to induce you to offer your skills for this worthy cause. Only you who know well the details of these skills can offer the extra bits of information so necessary in keeping interest alive.

GIRL SCOUTS AT YOUTH HOSTEL

The Star received a "hello" last week-end from a group of Winchester Girl Scouts on a bicycle trip around Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, getting experience for that trip to England next summer, for which the Scouts are waiting.

The Scouts were at the American Youth Hostel at the Airport at Martha's Vineyard when they wrote the Star, the group including beside Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, executive director, Mrs. Hollis Dyer and Scouts Katherine James, Mary Cullen, Eugenia Flaherty, Virginia Bullard, Catherine Goss, Nancy Dowling, Tina Tonon, Diantha Lamb and Joan Bodman. All are senior scouts and Winchester High School students.

It is an unused Bachelor Officer's Quarters at the Martha's Vineyard Airport which was formerly under the Naval Air Corps. Hostels are facilities such as barns, school houses, or any unused building sponsored by a Local council and operated by resident houseparents.

Hosteling is a European idea which has taken root in the United States and enables young people to travel for 50c a night (40c under 21 years) provided they arrive under their own power such as hiking, biking, canoeing, horseback or skiing. There is neither smoking nor drinking in the hostels. Lights go out at 10 P. M. Hostelers make up sandwiches and go sight-seeing by day; they return to the hostel in the evening.

Hosteling is partly subsidized in foreign lands such as England and France because of the recognized need for this form of travel. It is hoped that some day there will be a network of hostels, about 20 miles apart zigzagging across the United States.

Late last week Thursday afternoon the Police of Station 9 in Boston notified the local authorities of the recovery of the Ford sedan, stolen from Linden street on the night of July 17. The machine, owned by Nelson S. Hoyt of 178 Brookside Parkway, Medford, contained clothing and a quantity of fishing equipment.

SHIPWRECK DANCE SET FOR SATURDAY AUGUST SIXTH

Here's the opportunity you guys and gals, especially the gals, have been waiting for — a Shipwreck Dance. Those two good old alibis (his) "I hate to dress up" and (hers) "I haven't got a thing to wear" won't foul up attendance to this dance cause you can wear whatever you please.

That's the idea, just pretend you were on an ocean liner and suddenly it sank — come to the dance wearing just what you had on when it went down. Perhaps you were in the ships pool, or were playing deck tennis or shaving or (heaven forbid) having a bath — imagine yourself in any situation and come dressed accordingly. Or, if the mood suits you come wearing whatever remnants you'd have left after being shipwrecked on a deserted island for a long, long time. In any event, the important thing is to come.

There'll be plenty of good music, a real, honest-to-goodness Treasure Hunt with some nifty prizes, plus refreshments and a prize for the most original costume. Proceedings start at 8:30, so come early so you won't miss any of the fun. Only 200 tickets available, so act accordingly.

Fleet Facts

Jack Streeton scored a pair of vital victories over the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet last week-end to draw into a virtual tie for first place with Ken Cook in the Fleet standings.

Ken's "Fantasy" was in dry dock so Ken didn't figure in the week-end festivities at all, Ted Burleigh was second to Jack on Saturday, and Mel Moller finished third. Sunday's runner-up was Mel Moller with Dick Simonds in the show position.

Still another sailor was added to the Snipe Fleet last Sunday when "Peg" Powers presented John (call me Otto) with a six pound son.

The Building Commissioner issued permits for the week ending Thursday, July 21, as follows:

New Dwellings at 10 Ridge street and 15 Ware road.

Alterations to dwellings at 37 Holland street, 8 Everett avenue, 11 Sanborn street and 12 Lebanon street.

Reshingle buildings at 26 Cabot street, 371 Main street and 47 Wedgemere avenue.

ALL WINCHESTER FINAL AT TEDESCO

Mrs. Courtland Campbell (Sylvia Hatch) beat Lois Ladd, 7-5, 6-4, in an all-Winchester final of the Women's Singles in the 27th annual North Shore Tennis Tournament at the Tedesco Country Club last Saturday. The result was an upset insofar as the seeding was concerned for Miss Ladd was top seeded with Mrs. Campbell, number 2.

Miss Ladd was twice a runner-up in the tournament, she and Mrs. Leighton C. Wood of Cambridge being defeated in the championship round of Women's doubles by Gene Davis of Waban and Nancy Norton of Cambridge, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1.

ARLINGTON JUNIORS BEAT WINCHESTER

The Arlington Junior Legion rallied for seven runs in the sixth inning to defeat the Winchester Junior Legion by a score of 12 to 9 at Arlington last Friday evening. The locals had previously rallied in the top of the sixth to score four times to break a 5 to 5 tie and take what seemed to be a safe 9 to 5 lead.

Stowell Symmes started on the mound for Winchester but was derricked in the sixth and replaced by Charlie DeFilippo after two Arlington batters hit safely. DeFilippo did not have it, however, as four Arlington hits, a base on balls, and two costly errors added up to seven Arlington runs and a victory.

SUDBURY BEAT WARRIORS, 8 - 6

The Winchester Warriors, playing their first game of the season on Manchester Field Tuesday evening, lost their Paul Revere League engagement to the Sudbury A. C., 8-6.

In the first inning two singles, two errors by Donaghey and a miscue by Sammy Provinzano with a base on balls resulted in four runs for Sudbury and a handicap the local team never quite overcame.

The Warriors made a game out of it and just missed collecting in the last inning when with two out and the bases loaded Borowy, visiting center fielder, made the catch of the year off Dick Murphy, taking his great bid for a homer in deep center field on the dead run going away.

WOBURN OUT OF PLAYOFFS

Woburn was knocked out of the Junior Legion playoffs last Thursday evening when the Tanners lost their second straight game to Lynn in that city, 17-7.

Woburn just did not have the pitching to cope with the Lynn hitters. Its hurling staff, after eight games in ten days was tired and ineffective. Gaudet came up with a lame arm after stopping Lowell last week Monday, and the tired Rex Reil supported by Carter and Maraschio, just didn't have. Whether Gaudet and Reil in top form could have stopped Lynn is any one's guess.

The Winchester Junior Legion won their second victory of the season from the Bedford American Legion by a score of 8 to 4 at Bedford on Sunday afternoon. It was a good team that the locals beat, too, as Bedford boasts several Lexington High graduates plus John Adams, a good southpaw for Lexington High last spring. Winchester was the master of the situation throughout the game with the exception of the sixth inning when Bedford scored all four of their runs on a combination of four Winchester errors and two Bedford hits.

"Major" Daniels was on the mound for Winchester and turned in one of his best performances of the year as he yielded only one hit and three bases on balls in five innings while holding Bedford scoreless and striking out six batters. With a 6 to 0 lead Coach Bartlett inserted Charlie DeFilippo and after he weathered the hectic sixth inning in which his support failed him, he pitched three scoreless innings.

STONEHAM TO HAVE SWIMMING POOL

Bids have been let for the Swimming pool which the Metropolitan District Commission is to have built in Stoneham on North Border road, near Fellsway West in the Fells Reservation.

The entire project will consist of a pool, 60 by 150 ft., a wading pool and a bath house, the latter to have a large amount of tile construction. It is said that both pool and bath house will be the most modern in New England.

The bath house will be 43 by 112 ft., with facilities and accommodations for as many as 500 bathers an hour. It will be fully equipped with showers, clothes containers, public health safety guards and toilet facilities. There will be a public toilet in the general lobby of the house.

The pool will be built of concrete with diving boards at the deep end. It will be enclosed with a chain link fence and supervised by guards. Water will be furnished from Spot Pond with additional chlorination if necessary. The pool will use as much as 250,000 gallons of water a day at peak times.

The Stoneham pool and bath house will be something of an experiment. If found to be successful and sufficiently popular, other similar pools will be built in other M. D. C. Areas, such as along the Charles River.

A pool in Stoneham should be a boon to youngsters and adults of that town, large numbers of whom came to Winchester to Leonard Field pool while out-of-town swimming was permitted there.

The general contract went to the Jamaica Contracting Company of Jamaica Plain with a bid of $103,985.00.

WARRIORS OUTSLUGGED LEXINGTON

The Winchester Warriors beat the Lexington Town Team, 11-5, in a Paul Revere League game at Lexington last Thursday evening.

The Warriors clubbed Dick Parker, Lexington High ace, for 10 hits and nine runs in two and one-third innings, giving the veteran Joe McKee a nice lead to work on. Joe coasted during the final innings, letting Lexington hit the ball.

Two great catches of long fly balls by Slack featured the defensive play, with Al Plummer continuing to look impressive at third. Connors, Coon and Bellino ran wild on the bases. Modoono's hitting streak was finally stopped after 14 consecutive games.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Loring Avenue Juniors remained the only undefeated team in the Playground Baseball League as the result of winning two more games during the past week. They have now won eight straight games and look strong enough to go hrough an undefeated season which would be the first time that feat has been accomplished in the present Playground League.

The Loring Avenue Intermediates were toppled from the undefeated ranks by the pitching of Chuck West of Leonard Field who beat them 8 to 1 as he held them to three hits. Ginn Field added to Loring's woes by beating them 6 to 5 behind the pitching of "Red" McLaughlin. Ginn Field won their second game of the week as they defeated Leonard Field 10 to 7 behind good pitching by "Moe" Mahoney who suffered from poor support.

All three games in the Senior Division were decided by one run as each field won and lost one game during the week. Ed Crowley hit a three-run homer over the fence at Leonard Field as he pitched and batted Leonard Field to a 4 to 3 victory over Ginn Field. Ginn Field won a hotly disputed 7 to 6 victory over Loring Avenue in an extra inning contest.

The younger boys' softball league continued to provide extremely spirited competition as Ginn Field upset to win twice during the past week. The best game of the season was the 4 to 3 decision of Ginn Field over Leonard Field as Ray Pooler bested Charlie Gavostas in a pitching duel. The Loring Avenue girls' softball team made it three in a row over the Leonard Field girls as they beat them 14 to 4.

An added attraction during the past week was the invasion of a Stoneham Senior and an Intermediate baseball team on Thursday morning. The Stoneham Seniors defeated the Ginn Field Seniors by a score of 6 to 5 in a good game at Manchester Field. The Loring Avenue Intermediates evened up the honors for the day by defeating the Stoneham Intermediates by a score of 10 to 8 behind the pitching and batting to Tom McDonough

While all this athletic competition has been going on the arts and crafts program has likewise been flourishing. The ever-popular potholders are being made in large numbers by the enthusiastic youngsters, both boys and girls. Some of the girls are doing beautiful work in embroidering table scarves for the homes. The weaving of gimp bracelets and lanyards is very popular and some of the color combinations are striking. The real young children enjoy making bed dolls out of crepe paper, coloring and painting in the picture books provided by the instructors, and modeling toys in clay after which they are painted in gay colors. The older girls are enjoying the instruction being offered in crocheting and knitting, with the crocheting of hats and the knitting of socks being the two most popular projects.

A water main on Marshall road broke the first of the week, causing quite a loss of water. It broke at a point where it crossed a filled-in section which at one time was the road-bed of the old narrow-gauge Mystic Valley Railway which originated in the vicinity of Medford and finally got as far as Winter Pond on its proposed way to Woburn. Quite a few people lost quite a bit of money in this venture in the old days.

FORD AND CONNERS WON AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

The Winchester Country Club team of Horace Ford and Don Conners won the Senior Division of the Jaques Cup Golf Tournament at The Country Club, Brookline, on Sunday, defeating none less than Jesse Guilford, former State champ, of Woodland, and G. R. S. Denton of Brae Burn in the championship bracket, 3 and 2. The Winchester pair teamed beautifully in the final round, and played consistently good golf all the way along, winning a 2 to 1 decision over another former State champ, Elmer Ward and his partner, Frank Craven of Charles River. This was a sweet win for Ford and Conners since Ward and his partner upset the Winchester team a year ago.

Winchester had a finalist in the Jaques Cup competition, Jackie Harvey and Dave Sullivan of Norfolk reaching the championship bracket before losing 4 and 3 to the current State Champion and Country Club titlist, Bobby Knowles, and Jimmy Paul of Piping Rock, Long Island, and Daytona Beach, Fla.

Winchester was well represented in the Clyde Cup, or second division competition of the tournament. Ed Martin and J. W. Monahan, Jr. were one all-Winchester team with Walter and James Wilcox, another. Judge J. W. Monahan teamed with Joe Kierce of Concord and Harry McGrath, Jr. played with Jack Flynn of Oakley. The Wilcoxes and Harry McGrath and his partner lost their opening matches, each team in 19 holes.

Martin and Monahan won their first round match as did Kierce and Judge Monahan. Both teams, however, were put out in the second round, the Martin-Monahan combination losing to C. R. and J. H. Nies, Jr., of United Shoe, 4 and 3. Bill Harding and F. Austin Harding of Dedham upset the Judge and Kierce, 5 and 4.

Besides the Ford-Conner team in the Senior Division were Prexy Ralph Bonnell of Winchester Country Club and Dave Wilcox. They were eliminated in the first round by the old "Siege Gun," Jesse Guilford, and G. R. S. Denton in 19 holes.

The Senior division is not a left over group from the Jaques and Clyde Cup competitions. It is a tournament of its own limited to golfers 45 and over. All three tournaments are at scratch.

McGRATH EDGED AT CAPE CODDER MEET

Bob McGrath, outstanding swimmer from Winchester and Bowdoin College, was defeated in an attempt to retain his N. E. A. A. U. senior 100 meter freestyle championship by Kerry Donovan at the Cape Codder Hotel pool in Falmouth, last Saturday afternoon.

Frances Buzzotta of Winchester won the novice 100 meter freestyle for girls in her first competitive swimming attempt. Roberta Coon, Sonia Smith, and Diane McNeill all placed second in their heats in the novice 100 meter backstroke for girls, but their times were not fast enough to qualify them for the final.

In the feature event of the afternoon, Kerry Donovan, standout young swimmer from the Wanskuck Boys Club in Providence, Rhode Island, barely nosed out Winchester's Bob McGrath in the good time of 1 minute, 1.4 seconds. The race was close all the way with McGrath and Donovan far ahead of the rest of the field right from the gun. Both boys hit the last turn together, but Kerry got under the rope just ahead of Bob to become the new champion. The decision was a tough one for the judges to call due to the extreme closeness of the race and the fact that the finish line was a rope stretched over the pool about ten yards away from the last turn.

The meet was well run, and attracted some of the best swimmers and divers in the East. Mary O'Connor from Worcester won the N. E. A. A. U. senior 100 meter freestyle for women. Bill Sonner from Ohio State University gave a beautiful exhibition while easily winning the open 100 meter backstroke for men. The three meter diving produced a good exhibition, with Pat Huddleston of the Cape Codder Hotel and Springfield College being the high man.

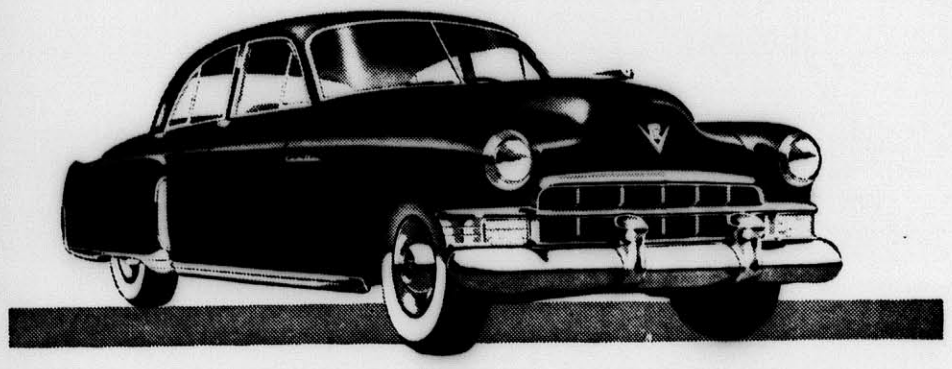
Economy is Also a Cadillac Word!



OVER THE YEARS, there has come into being what amounts virtually to a Cadillac vocabulary.

There are literally scores of words which, applied to automobiles, call Cadillac almost instantly to mind.

Few can bear such words as "Character," "Prestige," "Quality," "Craftsmanship," "Precision," "Distinction"—and a host of others—without associating them with Cadillac.

But there is one potent word which applies with equal emphasis to Cadillac—but which motorists, in the past, have not so readily associated with the car.

That word is Economy.

With its marvelously efficient new high-compression engine, the 1949 Cadillac delivers gasoline mileage which actually approaches that of the popular low-priced cars. It is almost unbelievable for a car so large and luxurious.

And, of course, Cadillac dependability and long life have become traditional. In fact, the full life-span of a Cadillac has never been accurately measured.

Yes, "Economy" is also a Cadillac word and belongs in the Cadillac vocabulary.

Have you inspected and driven a 1949 Cadillac? If not, you owe it to yourself to do so—for it is truly a revelation in what a motor car can be and do.

You are most welcome to visit our showrooms.

That stop line and sign at the junction of Waterfield road and the Parkway either ought to be better enforced or discontinued. Too many drivers coming from the traffic circle at Thompson street pay no attention to it while others who do observe the regulation get a sharp horn on their tails for holding up the "go through" boys and girls. Drivers coming from Main street never know whether the car they meet at the intersection is going to stop, as it should, and the result is that oftentimes both machines stop and hold up things unnecessarily. There is no question that cars crossing traffic at that point ought to stop first, but unless the stop sign is going to be generally observed it ought to be removed.

We suppose that conditions brought about by the severe heat and drought have been unusual, but it does seem that the new "sanitary fill" method at the town dump is going to pose quite a problem for the Fire Department with underground fires. The Chief of the Fire Department is concerned over the time he is having to put in at the dump and the use of his apparatus there. He is still one who believes inflamable material should be burned upon its arrival at the dump.

THE STEEL STRIKE

After claims and counterclaims, disputes, and conferences, a threatened strike by workers of the United States Steel Corporation was at least temporarily averted by a sixty-day truce. A so-called fact-finding commission was appointed by the President and directed to find if the Steel corporation can afford to give its employees a fourth increase in wages.

The commission was misdirected inasmuch as it should have been ordered to find if the steel employees are now receiving fair wages, not if the corporation can "afford" to pay more; that is the business of the managers and owners of the United States Steel Corporation. Therefore, the real question which we, the public, have the right to know is, "Are the employees paid a fair wage now and entitled to no more?" Wages of the workers in Steel have increased 97.7% in the last nine years, while the cost of living has increased only 68.9% in the same period.

Are the workers in the great motor industry, as well as those in Steel, receiving their fair share from the pool of organized labor's wages? The answer is, yes. They are paid the highest wages of any workers in these industries anywhere in the world. It does not follow that because a corporation is large it is bad. Its very size may make it economically sound and best for everybody. When a great corporation refuses to grant unfair, excessive wage increase to a selfish, autocratic Union, it becomes the protector and friend of the unorganized masses of the poor who must pay the increase if allowed When organized labor demands repeated increases in wages beyond what is fair, it becomes the oppressor of the poor. After a corporation has paid fair wages to its employees and reasonable dividends to its owners, it is to the advantage of labor and all the people that its surplus, if there is any after taxes, be used, not to increase wages, but to aid its skilled scientists in their research to improve existing methods and discover new ones that may result in the establishment of new industries, giving more employment, thus contributing to greater prosperity.

Shall organized labor exact one increase in wages after another just because a corporation can afford it, until, at last, there is no surplus left for research and expansion? Shall a small, organized minority be allowed to rob and enslave a poor majority that must pay for every increase in wages received by the extortionist? The corporations won't pay it; it is passed on to the consumers of their products who are already overburdened with the high cost of living.

A domineering, organized labor dictator is neither better nor worse than a totalitarian dictator of the Hitler or Mussolini type. Continued existence of either is detrimental, the poor suffering the most. The President's fact-finding commission has been given some two months to perform its labors, cogitate, and report. One day would suffice for a competent business executive to find the answer to the pertinent question, "Are the steel employees paid a fair wage?" because the facts have been published and are a matter of public knowledge.

The President and organized labor constitute the socialist, left wing of our Government. "Socialism," said Mr. Churchill recently, "has never succeeded anywhere." The latest example of its complete failure is seen in England where the Labor party has been in complete control. In a ringing, "hard hitting" speech at Wolverhampton, England, on July 23, Winston Churchill declared that, "Socialist policies have proved the government's most expensive failure to date and brought Britain low alike at home and aboard. The Labor government has dissipated every overseas asset they could lay their hands on. What was the sense, or indeed, sanity, of borrowing one billion from the United States with one hand to enable us to get on our feet again and giving it away to foreigners with the other."

Not alone in England have our charitable millions been dissipated. It may yet be revealed that Washington's counsel to avoid foreign entangling alliances is as applicable today as when it was given, and are we sure the isolationists will not some day be classed with our wiser, elder statesmen?

Dear Mrs. Toye:

The pictures and clippings which you sent me regarding the trips to Squantum Air Station and Chelsea Hospital were most interesting. Plans have been made to use some of them in forthcoming issues of the Naval Recruiter.

The work being done by you and your committee is outstanding and is deeply appreciated. Your efforts in bringing the Services before the public—as well as taking the public to the Services—has been of material aid, not only to recruiting, but to the security of the nation.

When I say "Well Done," I speak, not only for myself, but for the entire Naval Establishment.

Cordially yours,

DUTCH LIBERALS WERE HOSTS TO CONGRESS

The International Congress of Liberal Christianity and Religious Freedom has just come to a close in Amsterdam. The hospitality of the Dutch is unsurpassable, they have even given us beautiful weather with sunshine and fair skies. One underfed Englishman says he actually had enough to eat (the rest of us have had too much) and that when he returns to England he will dream of the ample meals he had in Holland. In addition to delegates from England and Australia and America, others came from Switzerland and France, from Ireland and Sweden and for the first time since the war there were delegates from Germany. The readmission of the German delegates was a moving occasion. It is quite understandable that it was difficult for the Dutch to have them here in Amsterdam and for them to come to Holland as members of this Congress when the memories of the German occupation are still very vividly in the minds of the Dutch. Dr. van Holk, one of the Dutch Liberal Christian leaders and Dr. Carola Barth, the renowned leader of Liberal Christianity in Germany gave personal testimonies of their distress and disapproval, not only of the events of the war, but of the unchristian attitudes it created and still leaves in the minds and hearts of men. They declared their belief in God and in man and their allegiance to human brotherhood and their desire to further it in every way possible. This may be said to be the spirit of the Congress as it discussed the application of Liberal Christianity to the problems of the ministry; to the social and economic problems of our time; toward the problem of the relationship between the religious of the world; and in relation to the great task of the education of the children and youth of the world, who are the hope of the future. The Congress was an experience of warm fellowship, of encouragement and inspiration for each to go back to his task conscious that others in other parts of the world are working for the same great purposes.

QUITE A TRIP!

Johnny Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rutherford of Winslow road, and Joe Derro, Jr., son of Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Derro of Washington street have been traveling since June 20th. On the way west, their first stop was at Detroit visiting Sgt. Derro's uncle in Dearborn, Michigan and then on to Chicago, stopping with Miss Betty Rutherford, John's sister, and spending a few days with her. Their travel continued through Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah and Nevada and then on to San Francisco taking a trip to the "Top of the Mark" of the famous hotel Mark Hopkins.

Their stay in California included the town of Arroya Grande with John's uncle and then on to Los Angeles where they visited for a week with relatives of Mr. Rutherford. A trip to Catalina Island and a fishing trip in the Pacific was enjoyed by all and contacting George Dolloff, Jr. U. S. Navy, stationed at San Diego, reuniting the three classmates of Winchester High, climaxed their stay in California. They are now homeward bound traveling east by way of Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, St. Louis and Chicago.

Latest reports are that they are now back in Chicago with Miss Rutherford and enjoying her hospitality. They should have some interesting experiences to tell when back in Winchester.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Standing

Atomics	14	4

Sport Center	7	11
St. Mary's	7	11
Old Men	7	11
Beggs and Cobb	5	12
K. of C.	6	13
Comets	4	14

As the Town Softball League enters the final week of its regular schedule, the standing does not present a clear picture of what four teams will qualify for the playoffs. Not only that but the possibility exists of a tie for any one of the first four positions which would have to be settled before the regular playoffs could begin This has been the closest race in the history of the present League and as a result interest is at a fever pitch and will remain that way right down to the final game.

The Sons of Italy has completed its schedule and is assured of second place with the possibility of tying or even winning first place if the Atomics slip in their final two games. The White Shirts and the Maguire Motors are tied for third place and the schedule calls for them to meet at Ginn Field on Monday evening. The loser of that contest drops down to a tie with the American Legion and would be in a bad spot because the Legion has the break in the schedule with the Comets and the Beggs and Cobb to meet. It is even possible to have a three-way tie for third place which would present a headache to the League officials.

The Sons of Italy won two important decisions during the past week to assure themselves of at least second place. "Hokey" Procopio bested Andre Redding in a pitcher's duel as the Sons of Italy defeated the Atomics 6 to 4. Their other victory came in a slug fest over the American Legion by a score of 15 to 11 in a hotly contested game. The K. of C. really hurt the White Shirts as they came up with two runs in the last inning to beat them 7 to 6 and put the White Shirts' playoff position in danger. The K. of C. had previously upset the Sons of Italy in a similar manner but later had to forfeit the game as the Sons of Italy protested the use of an ineligible player.

The Warriors handed the Arlington D. A. V. ball team six unearned runs and the Paul Revere League ball game between the two clubs last Sunday at Arlington, 7-4. Winchester left 14 men stranded.

This was the first loss of the season for Vern Slack in 14 games, including nine games hurled for the high school.

VISITING SCANDINAVIAN AND DUTCH PORTS

George F. Rushworth, seaman, USN, brother of William J. Rushworth of 24 Garfield avenue, is visiting Copenhagen, Denmark, aboard the destroyer USS Samuel B. Roberts, while the Roberts is escorting the heavy cruiser USS Columbus on a cruise to Dutch and Scandinavian ports.

After the Copenhagen visit, scheduled to terminate July 27, the ships will pass through the Kiel Canal on similar visits to ports in The Netherlands.

Mr. Richard K. Caldwell of 5 Euclid avenue has been drawn to serve as a traverse juror at Superior Civil Court to be held in East Cambridge.

TEACHER NEED

The gravity of the teacher shortage is brought home by the fact that the American birthrate climbing steadily for a number of years, has now skyrocketed. Nearly 45 per cent of all the children born in this country between 1931 and 1948 were born during the last six years of that period. When they start going to school enrollments will increase about a million a year starting next fall. By 1956 there will be about 26,394,000 children enrolled in our elementary schools. That gives seven years to meet an increase of more than 41 per cent in the elementary school enrollment.

On the teacher side we have been losing teachers at an alarming rate, and to repair the teacher-loss damage alone we will need 143,000 new elementary school teachers. To handle the huge new enrollment expected 306,000 teachers will be needed with 560,000 more to replace those who will leave their class rooms during the next 10 years. These figures total the million Dr. Fowlkes mentions at the opening of his article in "Look."

Starting next September there will be a demand for about 165,000 new elementary teachers with a recent national survey showing 13,500 young men and women, college graduates, prepared this year to teach in elementary schools!

MR. TEELE SKUNKED!

That report of the horseshoe matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, in which Royal "Paper Trade" Teele perennial president of the Association, and the Secretary, handed out "the works" to "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham, seemed to get under the epidermi of the famous "Lake Street Lancers" with the result that they were loaded for bear when the four warriors next foregathered at the beach courts for a session with the irons.

The session was not held as usual last Friday, due to the fact that Mr. McLaughlin took the night off to go to see a ballgame, much to Mr. Teele's disgust.

Mr. McLaughlin's defection postponed play until the following Tuesday, but on that evening the boys got together, and it was easy to see that "the Lancers" had chips all over them, let alone their shoulders. There was purpose in every blow of the Pridham hammer as he rammed home the stakes in the hardest ground he could find, so the Teele shoes would bounce to glory, and there was a glint in the McLaughlin eye as he lighted his old dudeen and rolled up his sleeves in anticipation of the fray.

Truth compels the statement that the match was pretty one-sided. Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham won hands down, two straight each time the combinations played. The first game Mr. Teele, for all he tried like the dickens, and the Secretary didn't even get into the doubles, though they are saying nothing about this ignominious fact. Undoubtedly the erudite Mr. Luke P. Glendon would have characterized the rout of the Association's ranking officers as a "deflocuation" which regular readers of this column will doubtless remember is Gaelic for "disgraceful defeat." Fortunately for Mr. Teele and the Scribe Mr. Glendon was not at the beach. His comment upon the quality of their play would have been nothing the President and Secretary would want to hear!

Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham each won three out of four matches, dividing championship honors fairly in the middle. Each lost only with Mr. Teele.

The Secretary had for him a pretty good night, winning a match with Mr. Pridham and one with Mr. McLaughlin. Both were rip-snorters despite the fact that Mr. Teele and Mr. Pridham won the first game of their series, 25-5. Both teams were in the 20's in the last two games of each match, and in the one won by the Scribe and Mr. Pridham both teams were at 24 when the last box was flung. Mr. Teele had plenty to say about the McLaughlin form in this game!

JUNIOR LEGION EVENED ARLINGTON SERIES

The Winchester Junior Legion evened their series with the Arlington Junior Legion by defeating them 8 to 2 at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. The visiting hurler, Swanson, looked like a good pitcher but could not find the plate and passed twelve men in the three and one-third innings that he worked. The locals rallied for six runs in the fourth to break a 2 to 2 tie on five bases on balls, an error, and timely hits by Tommy Dee and John Power.

"Major" Daniels pitched very effective ball for Winchester as he gave up only two hits, three bases on balls, and struck out six batters in the five innings. Daniels is pitching with more of an overhand motion now which seems to make him more effective and give him better control than his former side arm motion did.

EXPEDITIONS TO FAR PLACES PUT EDITOR'S NAME ON MAP

What's in a name?

Quite a lot, sometimes. A mountain range, a trail, an island, and a fish; a glacier, a peak, a shell, a lake, an arch, and a Chinese drug plant — all have one thing in common, a name.

The name is Grosvenor. The source is Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, President of the National Geographic Society, who this spring is celebrating his 50th anniversary as editor of the National Geographic Magazine. Through the years he has been instrumental in launching research and exploration expeditions which the Society has sponsored, either alone or in cooperation with other institutions.

It is in recognition of this geographic service that the findings of some of the expeditions bear the Grosvenor label, a label found in Antarctic and Artic regions, in

From Pole to Pole

Peru, China, Alaska, and Utah.

Near the South Pole, Grosvenor Range rises among the mountains of the Queen Maud Range, deep inland on the Antarctic continent. It was seen and named by Admiral Byrd on his first South Polar expedition of 1928-29.

In Antarctica, too, is Gilbert Grosvenor Trail, which follows a southward route over Ross Shelf Ice from the Byrd coastal base of Little America toward the forbidding glaciers of the Queen Maud Range.

Far north of the Arctic Circle, Grosvenor Island is a tiny land dot amid Canada's big and little islands that stretch from continent's end toward the North Pole. One of the Findlay Group of the Parry Islands, it was named by Arctic explorer Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who visited the island and shot caribou there in 1916.

For the fish story, the locale is the valley of the Rio Urubamba high in the Andes of southern Peru. Carl Eigenmann on an expedition to this region some 30 years ago turned up a new species of Characidae, known afterward by its scientific name of Bryconamericus grosvenori Eigenmann.

Ten-Glacier Scoop

Grosvenor Glacier also has a Peruvian background. This glacier waas named by Hiram Bingham in 1912, when he led a National Geographic-Yale University expedition into the mountains beyond Cuzco, to uncover the lost Inca city of Machu Picchu. The glacier to be called Grosvenor was one of ten which Bingham came upon in explorations of near-by mountains and valleys.

Mount Grosvenor is a 21,190-foot peak that rises in Sikang Province of southwest China — a discovery of Dr. Joseph Rock during his Society-sponsored 1927-30 explorations into that wild and rugged country.

The shell, (Margarites grosvenori) was among an extensive collection of fish, mollusks, birds, and plants taken in Greenland on the MacMillan Arctic expedition of 1925, under Geographic auspices with U. S. Navy cooperation.

Lake Grosvenor is situated in what is now the Katmai National Monument of Alaska. It was so named in 1919, during numerous scientific and exploratory investigations of that remarkable volcanic region.

New-Old Stories

Grosvenor Arch, in the canyons of southern Utah, is a new-comer to the world's map. Of gleaming white sandstone, this massive, double-arch formation created by wind, water, and sand, was known to only a few cowmen before 1948, when naturalist Jack Breed saw and named it on his expedition into the area.

There it was found that the lohan kuo was grown by the non-Chinese Miao, a primitive people who probably had never before seen a white man. In 1941, the plant was finally identified as a new species of Momordica, and named for the veteran editor because of his encouragement of geographic and botanical exploration of China.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The Rebild National Park near the city of Aalborg in Jutland, Denmark, was the scene of elaborate exercises on July 4, American Independence Day, as it has been annually, except for war years. Danish-American citizens presented the park to Denmark in 1912. Some 10,000 people attended the 1948 celebration, including Denmark's King Frederick IX, says the National Geographic Society.

Galileo constructed his first telescope at Padua, Italy in 1609, 340 years ago.

The sun is a pretty hot article. Its surface temperature is estimated at about 11,000 degrees, and the heat in its interior is believed to reach many million degrees, the National Geographic Society notes.

About half the annual U. S. egg production is laid in the four-month period from March through June.

The length of a standard nautical mile in U. S. usage is 6,080.27 feet. British, French and German versions range from two inches to four feet shorter.

One of history's most spectacular consolidations is nearing completion in India, where the two new dominions of India and Pakistan are absorbing the hundreds of formerly prince-ruled states. The consolidation is going on in a vast sub-continent that has extraordinary variety in peoples and culture, observes the National Geographic Society. It has all kinds of climate and products, and a Noah's Ark of birds and beasts, whose habitats range from the high mountain regions of the north to the inland deserts, and the far-south hothouse coastlands.

The oldest known map in the world was produced about 4,500 years ago. A clay tablet unearthed in ruins 200 miles north of the site of Babylon, it is now preserved in the Semitic Museum of Harvard University.

WINNIPEG PLANS WEEK-LONG CELEBRATION ON 75TH BIRTHDAY

Winnipeg, Canada, which holds title to this distinctive location, will celebrate its 75th birthday with a week-long schedule of festivities from June 5 to 11.

Actually, this metropolis of the Canadian prairies can trace its beginnings back much further than a mere three quarters of a century, notes the National Geographic Society. Although the city was not officially incorporated until 1873, as early as 1738 a French explorer, Sieur de la Verendrye, set foot on the ground at the confluence of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, now the site of Winnipeg. He established a fur-trading post there, but growing restive, soon pushed westward, leaving his settlement to fall into ruins.

An Old Trading Post

In the opening years of the nineteenth century the site got a fresh start. Two British companies, the North-West Company and the Hudson's Bay Company, built trading posts at "The Forks," as Winnipeg was then called, and imported colonists from England. Hudson's Bay Company absorbed its competitor in 1821, and exerted almost uninterrupted control over Winnipeg and the territory to its northwest until the fledgling Canadian government purchased the land and made it the province of Manitoba in 1870.

Now, more than 200 years after De la Verendrye raised his first crude buildings at the river junction, Winnipeg ranks as the world's largest wheat mart and second largest fur market in the Dominion.

The city's growing importance as an international air terminal in these days of sky travel and transport has been pointed out by many aeronautical students. The prairie metropolis as actually as close to Japan as Los Angeles is in plane flight time.

Winnipeg also is the leading manufacturing center of the prairie region. The city's meat packing, flour milling, and butter making industries account for about 40 percent of the entire area's total output. Hydroelectric power, harnessed from the abundant water resources available, is plentiful and cheap.

A City of Sun

The word "Winnipeg," literally translated, means "dirty waters," and the city derived its name from nearby Lake Winnipeg, a 260-mile stretch of water, so large it looks like an ocean.

In climate the Winnipeg area draws a strange ration. Temperatures are given to violent fluctuations, bringing intense heat in the summer and extreme cold in the winter. Rarely, say meteorologists, does the city enjoy a "normally cold" winter, since the polar air masses which sweep down on it from the north vary in strength, almost invariably producing "unusual" winter weather.

The silver lining is that Winnipeg's citizens may count on about five-and-one-half hours of unclouded skies every day of the year — which fact has given rise to the nickname, "the City of Sunshine."

NEW FIRE ALARM CABLE

Men from the Gamewell System have been busy this week laying new fire alarm cable in Main street from Salem street to Box 45 at the Woburn line. Last year the cable was replaced from Lake street to Salem street and this year's replacement will complete the job on upper Main street.

The cable being replaced is between 30 and 35 years old. That being currently laid is not lead covered like the old cable, but is covered with a neoprene jacket called "Anhydrex." This new covering is said to withstand exposure to earth, alkalies, acids and water much better than the old lead jacket. The new cable has six to ten wires in the jacket, excepting in the center, where commencing next Monday the Gamewell crew will commence to lay a new 30-wire cable from the Central Fire Station to Box 21 at the corner of Common and Church streets.

WINCHESTER SENIOR GIRL SCOUT - SUMMER ACTIVITIES

The girls of Storrow Troop I have made many wonderful trips and have participated in many outings, but the canoe trip planned for the end of the scout year was by far the most exciting and instructive for the girls.

Mrs. Hersey, the girls' leader, was able to interest Mr. Ross McKenney, one of the outstanding Maine guides of the country, in the troop and as a result he offered his services as guide and companion for the week-end of June 17.

The aim of the girls was not only to enjoy themselves but to add to their knowledge of campcraft the fine points of outdoor cooking and camping as taught by the Maine guides.

All possible time was spent on the water, learning the fundamentals of canoeing, but when these lessons were over they found the water very inviting for swimming.

Ross McKenney's campfires were one of the highlights of the trip. After telling several of his famous guide stories, he told us a few of his experiences as a woodsman.

He made a lasting impression on the girls in many ways other than the arts of camping. Friendship, loyalty, kindness, and an awareness of God are a few of the characteristics that make up his creed. During one of his campfires he recited a poem that the girls enjoyed so much that they asked him to send it to Winchester.

The Winchester council liked it so much that it was used at the closing of day camp. We thought you might enjoy it also.

When you walk through the woods.
I want you to see the floating gold of a bumblebee,
Rivers of sunlight, pools of shade, and toadstools, sleeping in mossy
jade,
A cobweb net with a catch of dew,
treetop cones against the blue,
Dancing flowers, bright green flies and birds that make rainbows in your eyes.
When you walk through the woods,
I want you to hear a million sounds
in your ear.
The scratch and rattle of wind tossed trees—a rush, as a timid chipmunk flees.
The cry of a hawk from the distant sky—the purr of leaves as a breeze rolls by—Brooks that rumble, stones that ring and birds, that teach your heart to sing.
When you walk through the woods,
I want you to feel, that no mere man can make this real,
Can paint the throb of a butterfly's wing—or teach the wood thrush how to sing—
Or can paint the wonders of earth and sky.
There's something greater than you or I,
When you walk through the woods and the birches nod—folks-meet a friend of mine named God.

The nine of us left Winchester center at 7:10 on Monday. When we got in Boston we took the bus to South Station and from there we were escorted to the train by a representative of the New York, New Haven and Hartford.

When we arrived at Woods Hole we once more looked at our bikes and put them on the ferry boat. After a nice thirty minute boat ride we got to Martha's Vineyard and Vineyard Haven. Then we rode out to the Martha's Vineyard Airport Hostel. Next we stowed our gear and picked out the bunks that we wanted then we started on a 14 mile trip for a swim at Edgartown Beach.

This hostel was made over from officers barracks and is completely equipped with a coke machine, a large store, a pool table, ping-pong table, victrola, room for square dancing and space enough for 200 hostelers. Colonel and Mrs. Sherwood were most gracious house parents and helped make our stay there most pleasant.

The next morning, after a strenuous evening of square dancing we cycled to Oak Bluffs and while waiting for the Nantucket boat we explored the town. The trip over took two hours and we spent two hours over there. The houses and shops were very interesting and we rode with a bit of trouble on the cobble stones. Both going and coming we were out of sight of land and it was very rough and cool but still very nice.

Wednesday we started out to Gay Head, some bluffs at the highest end of the island. The trip up was beautiful and we weren't even worried when Mary Cullen had a blowout. The view was lovely at Gay Head and we were fascinated by the Indians making multicolored pottery and the rusty red bluffs. After a leisurely trip back to the hostel we washed up and then loaded into a truck to the sailing camp. The camp's full name is Martha's Vineyard Sailing Camp, it is a camp for Massachusetts Senior Girl Scouts. We were shown around the camp by some of the older girls.

July 28, 1899

President F. E. Clarke of the Lawrence Board of Trade and William Foster and Co., real estate agents, are cooperating in the endeavor to get the United Shoe Machinery Company of Winchester (McKay Co.) to locate in Lawrence. The payroll of the Company is about $20,000 a week which would be quite an item for Lawrence. Two propositions have been made to the company, one that they have a piece of land of 85 acres, touching the Shawshin River with nearly a mile frontage on the railroad track, without cost. The other involves attractive land which, however, must be bought. Officials from the Board of trade and real estate interests have been to Winchester to see the United Shoe officials and prominent Lawrence citizens have offered to assist with the taxes if the Company will move there. Meanwhile the company is considering propositions from other cities, including Brockton, but is still undecided what to do. Winchester's real estate and business men should get together in this matter and ascertain just what should be done to keep the company here.

On Saturday afternoon a birthday party was given to Miss Marion Newton. Many of her little friends spent several happy hours swinging and playing games. The tables, with a bountiful supply of good things, were spread on the lawn where the children were all made happy. Among those present were Miss May Lund, Lou McConaghy, Elizabeth and Frances Hemingway, Mildred, Dorothy and Harold Pratt, Luella Farrow, Rachel and Everett Kimball, Edith, Albert and Arthur Donehey, Ollie Winstead, Lou Nicholson, Leslie McElhaney, Ernest and Veta Polley, Claire Patterson and Arthur Creigh, Lawrence and Kerk Campbell.

A petition having been sent to the Selectmen to lay out a town way from Winchester place or Railroad avenue across the pond to Swanton street by way of Spruce street, the Board has voted to give a public hearing on Saturday, August 12, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

This petition eminated with the business men of the town who desire a more direct route to the new freight yard, and is the first instance in the history of the town, it is believed where the storekeepers have united in an appeal for what in this case amounts to protection—a saving of two thirds in the distance to this new yard.

The principal reasons for this street are a lessening of the expense to tradesmen in cartage which has to be figured in the cost of goods. The street, if connected with Winchester place, puts the central fire apparatus in close touch with that rapidly growing section north of the center, and will later save expense for additional apparatus.

The residents near Swanton street want it, and are entitled to quick communication with the center. Besides, it will prevent the vexatious question of sectionalism which already exists and will in time grow stronger if the street is not built.

A fourth reason is, it will obviate the necessity of children walking to the center over the tracks of the railroad going to and from school. During the school term, dozens of children go and come this way daily and it is certainly singular that there are not shocking accidents from doing so. Of grown up people there are scores taking this route every day.

The street is for no one's special benefit, and neither is it a scheme to open up land, but a necessity that has been growing for years.

At the request of people living in the vicinity of the Town Hall Building the Selectmen have revoked the order permitting band concerts to be held on the town hall lawn. The bandstand was taken down Tuesday. The attendance at the two concerts thus far held, taken as a whole, has not been up to par, a great deal of the hoodlum element coming here from surrounding places and causing disturbances. The location is not a good one for holding concerts, as the great crowds interfered with travel on Pleasant street and there was continued danger that some one would be run over by the cars and teams. Then, again, neighboring property was overrun with people who took possession of lawns, yards, etc.,—any place where there was grass to lie or sit on.

As the common is also not a suitable place, it is suggested that the concerts be held on the new park land off Walnut street near the station.

A new station on the B. and M. R. R. is nearing completion for the Wedgemere section of Winchester on the west side. The station is built on the Mystic Valley Boulevarde, on this side of the bridge over the tracks, on Bacon street, and is a roomy, attractive structure with a decidedly, picturesque effect in its location among the trees. Driveways and walks are being laid out on the grounds, leading to the station, the new walk along the border of the riverway under the willows, making a decidedly pretty stretch of pathway. We hope the new station will revert to its old name of Mystic, which has a local historical value, is suggestive and appropriate, while to the general public the name of Wedgemere means nothing and merely advertises a land syndicate's enterprise—[Arlington Advocate]

It is some years since a course of lectures and entertainments was given in Winchester. Now the local Y. M. C. A. proposes giving this fall a first class course. The Salem Cadet Band has been engaged, also Rev. Peter McQueen who will tell of the people and the war in the Phillipine Islands from personal observation, and also the "Adelbert Concert Company," composed of well known artists, including Miss Annie Laura Tolman, Winchester's popular 'cellist. The remainder of the course has yet to be decided upon, but it certainly will be equal to that given above. It is hoped that interest will be aroused to make the undertaking successful, for certainly the Association is striving to give the town the best.

The Selectmen have voted to request the Water Board to introduce water into the watering trough on Washington street opposite Cross street and also repair the drinking fountain tank in the center of the town.

The "stay-at-homes" ought to organize and get up entertainments, of which there are many kinds to be availed of,—for instance: choosing sides and having a fishing tournament in the reservoir with prizes for the largest and most fish for the individuals of the winning team. A basket picnic would go with the tournament and all could take part, old and young, boys and girls.

One of the largest contracts ever given out in this vicinity is that for the digging out of Spy Pond. It will take from two to five years to complete the work, and it is said thousands of Italians will be employed on the job.

Nothing has been heard from the wheels stolen last week from Letter carrier Foley and Arthur Littlefield. Chief of Police McIntosh will make it warm for the thieves if caught.

The work of building the extension of Highland avenue was commenced on Wednesday. The length is about a mile, and there will be several deep cuts, the greatest opposite Crescent road where it will be from 10 to 13 ft. It will take about two months to complete the work.

Is Winchester to have a Traders Day?

Mrs. Winn and Mr. McConaghy believe an injustice was done them in the report of the Baptist Sunday School picnic published in last week's Star, when it was stated that they were defeated in the croquet match two games out of three by Mrs. Couell and Mr. Macdonald That was the result of the play in the morning. In the afternoon they won from their opponents by the same score and left matters even. The tie will be played off at a later date and it is needless to state will be hotly contested.

The elegant piece of road on Main street from the Woburn line to the rail road crossing in the center is getting to be a great speedway for bicyclists and almost every evening some very fast riding can be seen. As there are several small streets running into Main street it is a wonder that some of the scorchers are not seriously hurt.

August 1, 1924

Many spectators witnessed a turtle's verdict of the water in the Mill Pond last week at the water bridge on Main street. A citizen of the old school, weighing anywhere from 30 to 60 pounds, according to the imagination of the spectator, appeared from unknown ponds and floundered into the river just below the falls.

It took him but a short time to come to a rapid conclusion that whatever he thought he was going into was not water—at least, water to which he was accustomed. Not being versed in State Board of Health water nor Aberjona River water, he at once made attempts to get back to more congenial elements.

Swimming to the steps of the falls, he laboriously and with many tumbles finally reached the top step and started to flounder into the water of the Mill Pond. Whether it was the sight of the thick, sticky soup, or whether it was the over-powering odor which overcame him, no one knows.

At any rate, after one short survey he decided that land was better for him, and without hesitation started, by way of the shore of the pond, to make his way to the Fells where he is probably now enjoying the clean, clear waters of our reservoirs.

Winchester Post will entertain the J. A. Cigar Company baseball team tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field at 3:30. The J. A. team comes here with wins over Saxony Mills, Malden City Club and Stoneham and expects to give the locals a tough game. Manager Le Duc expects to present changes in his lineup at second and third and announces that a local battery of Francis Tansey on the rubber and "Ernie" Mathews behind the bat will be in the points for Winchester.

Miss Jean Ryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ryan of Cliff street, and Miss Gwendolyn Maddocks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Maddocks of Woodside road, have passed their comprehensive examinations for Smith College and will enroll in the freshman class this fall. Both young ladies were among the 1924 graduates from Winchester High School.

The Selectmen have granted the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company permission to run three motor buses through town. This grant was made in connection with the company's new line from Boston to Lowell. The buses will run over Cambridge street from the Arlington to the Burlington line. Not more than three buses are to be operated.

The annual Traders' Day of the Winchester store keepers and merchants takes place next Wednesday, August 6. Housekeepers should note this date and make their purchases early in the week, for every store and place of business in town will be closed all day.

The Sigma Beta Society has given a bed on the Floating Hospital, to be named after the sorority.

Mildred Benson of Winchester won the Middlesex County championship for canning this week at Camp Gilbert in competition with 68 boys and girls from all over the state.

Winchester radio listeners will be interested in tonight's program from Station WBZ. Included in the numbers which will be broadcast are a group of violin solos by Dr. Oscar E. Wasgatt of Webster street. He will play between 10 and 11 o'clock from the Hotel Brunswick, Boston, giving among other numbers two solos and an obligato.

The campaign for the building of an adequate and beautiful church for the community of 200 families in Winchester Highlands, a church of Gothic style which will add greatly to the architectural structures of Winchester, is rapidly progressing. On the first anniversary of the opening of the campaign a celebration was held, with a birthday cake adorned with one candle, and the pastor of the church, Rev. John E. Whitley, announced the total amount raised during the year in pledges, gifts and from various activities, as $10,719.85. The Second Congregational Society has paid for the new site at the corner of Washington street and Kenwin road, as well as made part payment to the architect, Mr. Frank A. Bourne, and paid the surveyor and sundry expenses of furthering the building campaign. A substantial balance is on hand and the confident spirit now is—it can be done!

Miss Doris W. Redding and Walter A. Redding of Lakeview road are in Europe for a 10-weeks' tour. Their itinerary includes England, where they will visit the British Empire Exhibition at Wembly, Scotland, Belgium, Switzerland and France.

Instructor Roberts reported last Monday that one of the boxes at the Palmer street playground used to house supplies had been broken open over the week-end and some racquets and balls stolen.

Henry McHugh of Sheridan Circle dove and brought to the surface Leon Dion, 17, who was seized with cramps while swimming at Foley Beach, Woburn, Thursday. He, with Life-saver Flaherty resuscitated Dion and sent him home.

Mr. William E. Beggs and his son, William Nichols Beggs, of this town, sailed from Quebec July 25 for Liverpool. They will go to London where they begin a motor trip through Scotland and Wales. Returning to London, they expect to fly across the channel to Paris. After a short stay in Paris, during which William N. Beggs will add to his already fine collection of firearms, they will tour the Chateau country by motor, returning to this country in time for the younger Beggs to resume his studies in the junior class at Harvard.

Winchester residents who thought they were unbearably hot last Wednesday should have remembered Traffic Officer Noonan of the local Police Department, on duty under the blazing sun in Winchester square. Almost anything seemed cool by contrast.

Master Ralph Ambrose was host to a number of his young friends at his home on Vine street last Friday afternoon, the occasion being his 10th birthday. Among those present were the Misses Dorothy Hamilton, Barbara Patterson and Marion Ambrose; with Robert and Richard Winton, Jackie and Buddie Carlson, Robert and Freddy Scholl, Roy Mellett, Bruce Colpas and Harold Ambrose.

SQUARE DANCE FESTIVAL IN CONCORD

The Young Farmers and Homemakers of Middlesex County are sponsoring an Outdoor Square Dance Festival to be held on the Emerson Playground in Concord Monday evening, Aug. 8, commencing at 8 o'clock. In case of rain the dance will be held in the spacious Concord Armory near at hand. Lights have been installed the turf clipped close for excellent dancing and refreshments will be served.

Five of the finest dance callers hereabouts will do all the calling. They include Charlie Baldwin of Norwell who is bringing his orchestra; Lawrence Loy, the Victor recording artist from the University of Massachusetts; Bob Treyz of Boxboro; Al Smith of Winchester and the popular Joe Tropeano of Lexington.

Five championship dance demonstration sets will also attend, two of the most colorful being the Yankee Whirlers and the Satucket Barn Dancers.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger M. Tolman are at Chesham, N. H. for the next month.

CAMP FELLSLAND NEWS

The third week of Camp Fellsland, the camp for all local Scouts, opened Sunday with over 100 boys in camp.

Mr. Jim Wilkins, Stoneham, has been added to the staff and Dr. Robert G. Millican, Scoutmaster of Troop No. 7, Winchester, is in camp with his boys. Mr. Carleton Spinney of Medford, a member of the Council Camp Committee, is also on the staff this week.

Mr. Donald Higgins of the National Office is expected in camp this week for four days from Thursday to Sunday to make a survey of camp program.

A letter was received from Midshipman Cedric Thompson, former member of the camp staff, who regrets not being able to be at camp this summer.

The Council Camp Committee will meet at Camp Fellsland on Friday, July 29th, for a special meeting. Supper will be served the group at 6:30.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Hakanson returned last week from a stay at Lake Winnepesaukee and have been visiting friends at Orient, L. I., the past week.

Customers' Corner

How do you like the layout of your A&P store?

Planning a super market is like putting together a jig-saw puzzle. All departments—dairy, produce, meat, baked good, coffee, groceries—must be fitted together in a way that will assure you of convenient, efficient shopping.

We try to avoid narrow or cluttered aisles, dark corners, hard-to-reach shelves and jammed up check-out stands.

Are we succeeding in your A&P? Can you locate foods you want easily? Is there good light and ample room for comfortable shopping?

If not, please let us know. We will appreciate any suggestions you may have that will help make your A&P a better place to shop.

WINCHESTER POST NO. 97 THE AMERICAN LEGION

The annual convention of the Mass. Dept. of the American Legion is being held from July 28 to 30, 1949, in Boston, Mass. As usual Winchester Post No. 97, the American Legion, has sent delegates to this important convention which is a preliminary to the National Convention to be held at Philadelphia, Pa., in August.

Climaxing the State Convention will be the parade to be held on Saturday afternoon, July 30, 1949. All members of Winchester Post No. 97 are urged to participate in this parade. The point of assembly for the members of Winchester Post will be the Copley Square Hotel on Huntington avenue, at 1:45 p. m.

The regular monthly Social Night of Winchester Post, No. 97, the American Legion will be held at the Post Home on Vine street, on Thursday evening, August 4, 1949. Capacity crowds are always in attendance at these monthly social nights.

Sunday afternoon, while on the way to a fire in the Highlands a piece of local apparatus was cut off by the driver of an automobile. The registration of the car was secured and the owner, a Somerville man, was ordered to report to Police Headquarters here.

A SURGEON COMMENTS ON SUMMER ACCIDENTS

Summer time - the vacation time - offers as good an example as any of that old adage in reverse, "Practice what you preach." Father talks sagely all winter to his son about common sense, then proceeds to chop off a toe with an evil-minded ax, or allow a spar to fall on his head while attempting to emulate a Sir Thomas Lipton. Mother teaches first aid faithfully for ten months of the year and spends the remaining time suffering from poison ivy.

However, accidents are always with us; so what can be done to ease the pain and mend the tattered skin. Assuming that Mr. and Mrs. Vacationist will break bones, head, and skin, and preferably in an area long on woodsy views but short on medical facilities, what is the first step toward a return to a fair degree of health? Their own little tin box marked "First Aid," let us agree, will not go all the way. Its use, one might say, may only delay proper care for hours to days. If it contained just one thing, pads of sterile gauze sponges, with a little adhesive to hold them on, it would be worth its weight in gold; that is, unless it contained a bottle of one of the loudly sung antiseptics. Any water approved for drinking purposes poured gently through the wound from a carefully washed glass or pitcher is the safest way to clean a fresh wound, short of the doctor's office or a hospital. After one hour, any cleaning of a wound should be left to the doctor. This applies to burns as well. Better leave a burn to the open air than anoint it with the usual household ingredients such as baking soda, butter, or lard. Above all, avoid its careful inspection by solicitous bystanders who breathe and cough while they inspect. A burn immediately out of the flame or boiling water is relatively sterile. Infection is introduced by human contact. Apply the sterile gauze, and take an aspirin if it hurts. If a doctor should not be available even for days, leave on he original dressing, no matter how soiled the outer layers may become.

Most bleeding will stop after gentle pressure on the wound with sterile gauze. Hemorrhage which requires a tourniquet usually needs one on each side of the wound. To attempt to decide, according to the book, whether it is arterial or venous blood may result in an academic triumph at the expense of the patient. Elevate the arm or leg if other measures fail.

What should be done about a stepped-on nail? The first thing to be done is to immunize the infant with tetanus toxoid at six months of age. Vacationists, old and young, should be immunized against tetanus, or lockjaw. Seventeen million service men and women in the last war can testify to its effectiveness. Tetanus not only may develop in nail puncture wounds, but in any other wounds, large or small. Cover the nail puncture with sterile gauze, or clean cloth, until medical attention is available. If that is not soon, soak the foot or hand in warm water. Squeezing or probing is bad.

It will be wise for vacationists on arrival to inquire into the available medical facilities even ahead of the meal schedule. The nearest hospital will undoubtedly give good advice in the matter of selection of a doctor. Other possible sources of this information are a Red Cross office, director of a nearby boys' or girls' camp, town official, or the owner of the hotel. The important thing is to make the inquiry before the accident occurs.

A SURGEON COMMENTS ON SUMMER ACCIDENTS

Summer time - the vacation time - offers as good an example as any of that old adage in reverse, "Practice what you preach." Father talks sagely all winter to his son about common sense, then proceeds to chop off a toe with an evil-minded ax, or allow a spar to fall on his head while attempting to emulate a Sir Thomas Lipton. Mother teaches first aid faithfully for ten months of the year and spends the remaining time suffering from poison ivy.

However, accidents are always with us; so what can be done to ease the pain and mend the tattered skin. Assuming that Mr. and Mrs. Vacationist will break bones, head, and skin, and preferably in an area long on woodsy views but short on medical facilities, what is the first step toward a return to a fair degree of health? Their own little tin box marked "First Aid," let us agree, will not go all the way. Its use, one might say, may only delay proper care for hours to days. If it contained just one thing, pads of sterile gauze sponges, with a little adhesive to hold them on, it would be worth its weight in gold; that is, unless it contained a bottle of one of the loudly sung antiseptics. Any water approved for drinking purposes poured gently through the wound from a carefully washed glass or pitcher is the safest way to clean a fresh wound, short of the doctor's office or a hospital. After one hour, any cleaning of a wound should be left to the doctor. This applies to burns as well. Better leave a burn to the open air than anoint it with the usual household ingredients such as baking soda, butter, or lard. Above all, avoid its careful inspection by solicitous bystanders who breathe and cough while they inspect. A burn immediately out of the flame or boiling water is relatively sterile. Infection is introduced by human contact. Apply the sterile gauze, and take an aspirin if it hurts. If a doctor should not be available even for days, leave on the original dressing, no matter how soiled the outer layers may become.

Most bleeding will stop after gentle pressure on the wound with sterile gauze. Hemorrhage which requires a tourniquet usually needs one on each side of the wound. To attempt to decide, according to the book, whether it is arterial or venous blood may result in an academic triumph at the expense of the patient. Elevate the arm or leg if other measures fail.

What should be done about a stepped-on nail? The first thing to be done is to immunize the infant with tetanus toxoid at six months of age. Vacationists, old and young, should be immunized against tetanus, or lockjaw. Seventeen million service men and women in the last war can testify to its effectiveness. Tetanus not only may develop in nail puncture wounds, but in any other wounds, large or small. Cover the nail puncture with sterile gauze, or clean cloth, until medical attention is available. If that is not soon, soak the foot or hand in warm water. Squeezing or probing is bad.

It will be wise for vacationists on arrival to inquire into the available medical facilities even ahead of the meal schedule. The nearest hospital will undoubtedly give good advice in the matter of selection of a doctor. Other possible sources of this information are a Red Cross office, director of a nearby boys' or girls' camp, town official, or the owner of the hotel. The important thing is to make the inquiry before the accident occurs.

HEAVENS TO BE SURVEYED FOR FIRST TRUE SKY ATLAS

A four-year scientific campaign is in the making to probe the mysterious outer reaches of space on an unprecedented scale, and to provide the world with the first definitive Sky Atlas in mankind's history.

The work will enlist the facilities of the celebrated observatory on Palomar Mountain, California, and the efforts of some of the nation's most outstanding astronomers. These scientists confidently expect discoveries of major importance to develop in the exhaustive search to be made of the stellar ghost world and galactic universes that exist millions of light years beyond our solar system.

And they hope for clues that eventually may lead to answers on many questions now baffling and unsolved: How does the entire universe look and operate? Does space curve somewhere out on the edge of the vast stretches of the heavens? Can a key be found to the long-veiled secrets of the cosmos, particularly with regard to the small corner of it occupied by the relatively little known component which includes the earth?

A Job For "Big S"

To be known as the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory Sky Survey, the research project will utilize the space-covering, wide-angle Schmidt photo telescope, industrious partner of Palomar's 200-inch glass giant.

The "Big S," as the 'scope is known, is expected to complete the survey job in approximately four years, whereas it would take the 200-inch telescope some 5,000 years to cover the same ground! This is because the giant 'scope is a pinpointing instrument of maximum penetration, while the 48-inch Schmidt can capture on a single 14 X 14 inch plate a swathe of the heavens equal to a dozen diameters of our moon.

Unusual phenomena recorded by the sharp photographic eye of the "Big S" will be the subject later for intensive, small-area study by Palomar's 200-inch marvel. Project astronomers estimate that the results of the Schmidt survey will keep the big 'scope and many other observatories here and abroad busy for a half century or more, scrutinizing what has been turned up.

Palomar astronomers credit the Schmidt with being able to penetrate with high fidelity ten times deeper into the heavens, and to cover 1,000 times the space volume ever touched in the few previous and ineffectual attempts to chart the skies photographically.

The Schmidt makes possible pictures of hitherto unknown sharpness and clarity at enormous distances. It can reach out some 300 million light years to obtain them. (A light year is the distance light travels in one year, or about six million million miles).

The Survey Technique

Using much the same technique that aerial photo mappers employed in World War II, the Schmidt will systematically scan broad quadrangles of the heavens.

The resultant Sky Atlas will include some 2,000 reproductions of photographic plates, each with an overlap varying from 10 to 20 per cent, depending on the areas represented. Virtually identical exposures of each area will be made using both blue and red filters to permit comparisons of the widely different pictures obtained in the different colors.

From the eminence of Palomar, the Schmidt's photographic eye can reach with high accuracy three-fourths of the heavens surrounding the earth. An additional 10 per cent can be covered in some degree, but a supplementary survey will be needed to obtain this area and the remaining 15 per cent "down under" with the desired fidelity.

Weather conditions and the impossibility of working on moonlit nights are the big factors limiting the pace of the Survey's progress. Even given ideal conditions, Palomar astronomers expect to obtain no more than four pairs of matching red and blue photographic plates in a single night. A blue exposure will require about 30 minutes; a red, approximately one hour.

When completed, the Survey will record some 500 million stars and perhaps 10 million complete stellar systems of extra-galactic nebulae.

World Benefits Seen

In size, the Sky Atlas will be the equivalent of some 20 oversized volumes. The plates will be reproduced on double weight photographic paper stock, according to present plans. Each plate will carry the astronomic coordinates of the area it depicts. Any textual material probably will be held to a minimum and limited to descriptions of how important plates were obtained. The task of cataloguing the myriad contents of every photographic plate obviously will require decades.

HOLLIS — DONAGHEY

White gladiolas and candelabra decorated the altar of Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon, July 31, for the marriage of Miss Barbara Gray Donaghey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Donaghey of Glenwood avenue, to Alvin Dana Hollis, son of Mrs. Raymond F. Hollis of Medford, and the late Mr. Hollis. Rev. Miller C. Lovett, pastor of the Medford Hillside Methodist Church, performed the 4 o'clock double-ring ceremony, and the bridal music was played by Miss Doris Watson. Richard Crooker of Medford sang "I Love Thee" and "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown having a fitted bodice of lace over satin with a round neckline and short sleeves and a full skirt of nylonette extending into a train. Her fingertip-length veil of tulle was caught to a Victorian style heart-shaped headdress trimmed with seed pearls and orange blossoms, and matching lace mitts completed her costume. Her flowers were white roses, stephanotis and babies breath arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Mrs. William Campbell of Medford was the bride's honor attendant and the bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Gales of Medford and Mrs. Ernest Goobie (Betty Corbett) of Somerville.

All the bridal attendants wore identical dresses of light colored taffeta fashioned with round necklines, fitted bodices and full tiered skirts. The honor attendant wore green and one bridesmaid, orchid, the other wearing yellow. All wore lace mitts to match their dresses and heart-shaped coronets of lace and flowers trimmed with seed pearls. Their flowers were old fashioned bouquets of white, orchid and pink asters.

Earl McCabe of West Roxbury was best man for Mr. Hollis, and the ushers were Kenneth A. Donaghey of Winchester, brother of the bride; William Campbell and Clarence Pierce, Jr., both of Medford.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church hall where the decorations were spring flowers and green. Members of the bridal party assisted in the receiving line with the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to York Harbor, Me., Mr. and Mrs. Hollis will make their home in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1947. Mr. Hollis attended Massachusetts Trade School and is now studying at Franklin Institute. During the war he served for 18 months in the United States Navy.

EWALT — CONLEY

Miss Mary Jean Conley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Conley of Chisholm road, and Burton Edward Ewalt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris B. Ewalt of West street, Stoneham, were married Sunday afternoon, July 31, at 4 o'clock at St. Mary's Rectory by Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan.

Miss Conley was given in marriage by her father and attended only by Miss Jean I. Burke of Winchester. Henry G. Anderson, Jr., of Stoneham was Mr. Ewalt's best man.

The bride wore an ankle-length dress of frosted white organdie over pale blue taffeta fashioned with a cowl neckline and a bouffant skirt with a bustle back. Pale blue mitts and a horsehair picture hat with streamers to match her dress completed her costume and she carried a cascade bouquet of gladiolas and stephanotis.

Miss Burke wore a pale yellow dotted Swiss dress with an off-the-shoulder neckline and a bouffant skirt. Her picture hat also matched her dress and she carried a cascade bouquet of copper and yellow gladiolas.

An outdoor reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, who assisted in receiving with the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Conley, wore a blue crepe gown with matching hat and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Ewalt, mother of the bridegroom, wore aqua lace over taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. Ewalt and his bride went by motor to New York State and Canada for their wedding journey.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Ewalt graduated from Medford High School and from Northeastern University.

MILITARY WEDDING

Miss Mary Alice Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mullen of Foxcroft road, and Lt. Fritz Thiede Sabbow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Sabbow of Barbara Lane, West Medford, will be married Saturday morning, August 6, at 10 o'clock at a military wedding service at St. Mary's Church.

Lt. Sabbow is the executive and training officer of H and S Company of the 101st Engineers Combat Battalion, better known in and around Medford as the Lawrence Light Guards.

A platoon of Light Guardsmen will act as honor guard at the wedding and eight commissioned officers of the 101st Engineers will act as escort and execute the sabre manual.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. William McGuire, formerly of Governor's avenue, Winchester, announce the birth of a son, Thomas Rhodes, on July 26th at the Hartford Hospital, Hartford, Conn. Mrs. McGuire is the former Barbara Weld daughter of Dr. Stanley B., and S. Frances Felker Weld of West Hartford, both former Winchester residents.

TWOMBLY—HOUSER

At the summer home of her parents, Owl's Head, Bristol, N. H., on Saturday afternoon, July 30, Miss Betsey Tenney Houser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Houser of Stone road, Belmont, became the bride of Phillip Norton Twombly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Twombly of Lawson road. Rev. Donald B. Fitzsimmons of Winchester and the Hackley School, Tarrytown, N. Y., performed the 4 o'clock ceremony which took place before a simple altar which was placed in a natural setting of spruce, fir balsam and rock fern overlooking Newfound Lake.

Miss Houser was given in marriage by her father and had for her only attendant her sister, Mrs. L. Duane Asay of New Haven, Conn. Gray M. Twombly of Paul Smith's, New York, was his brother's best man.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white pique with a shoulder cape trimmed with self daisies. Her fingertip-length veil fell from a circlet of matching daisies and she carried the prayer-book, belonging to her grandfather, the late Rev. Henry M. Tenney of Oberlin, Ohio, which her mother had also carried at her wedding.

Mrs. Asay wore a pale blue pique dress with a full skirt and an embroidered bertha. Her bouquet combined chrysanthemums and astors in shades of rose, with fern, and she wore a circlet of blue and white bachelor's buttons in her hair.

A reception was held under the pines at Owl's Head immediately after the ceremony with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. The house decorations were bouquets of gladiolas, cat-tails, chrysanthemums and astors. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Twombly of Prospect Park, Pa.

Upon their return from a honeymoon spent on Cape Cod Mr. and Mrs. Twombly will live in Boston.

The bride is a graduate of Jackson College for Women at Tufts, class of 1947. Mr. Twombly, who is associated with the Seaboard Sales Corporation, graduated in 1947 from Boston University College of Business Administration where he was a member and president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity and a member of the Scarlet Key. During the war he served with the 10th Mountain Division of the United States Army.

EDDY FAMILY REUNION

Winchester Man Association President

Prof. Robert Devereux Eddy of Fairview terrace is national president of the Eddy Family Association which will hold its annual reunion at Rebekah Hall, Swansea, Saturday, August 6. Following a picnic lunch at 12:30 and an address by the Rev. John Shade Franklin of Brooklyn, N. Y., former chaplain of the 182nd Infantry of the famed World War II Americal Division, the Eddy group will visit the Old Eddy Burial Ground nearby.

Top project before the Association this year is the preparation of a second supplement to the 1930 Genealogy, "The Eddy Family in America," bringing up to date genealogical data concerning thousands of Americans living today who are descended from John and Samuel Eddy, Pilgrims who came to Plymouth in 1630, and featuring the war records of members of the family. Mrs. Ruth Story Eddy of Providence, R. I., is the genealogist and Mrs. James Williamson Eddy of Natick is secretary of the Association. Miss Ruth Bosworth Eddy of Swansea is local chairman.

The Eddy Family roster is studded with leaders in community, state and national life. Among prominent Eddy's are Nelson Eddy, film and radio star, Major-General Manton S. Eddy of Chicago, Dr. Sherwood Eddy of missionary and Y. M. C. A. fame, and Dr. Walter H. Eddy of New York and Washington, foremost food authority. Names other than Eddy in the family range from Abbot to Zowatski!

DALTON FAMILY REUNION

The Dalton family living in and around Winchester gathered last evening at the home of Mr. Edward Dalton on Water street to greet a sister from Cork City, Ireland, Mrs. Catherine Deasy, now in this country with her daughter, Shiela, stopping at the home of another daughter, Mrs. John Cronin of Medford. It is 40 years since the Dalton brothers and sisters have been together.

Greeting the visitor from Ireland last evening, besides her brother here and her daughter in Medford, were two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Murphy and Mrs. Owen Grant of Winchester and two brothers, Andrew Dalton of Winchester and John Dalton of Stoneham. There were also all the members of the family, including nieces and nephews who had never seen their aunt who stayed in Ireland.

Mrs. Deasy and her daughter arrived in this country on the Auretania, which docked on June 17.

EIGHTY-THIRD BIRTHDAY

Mrs. John F. O'Melia of Oak street was among those who assisted in the birthday celebration of her mother, Mrs. Katherine Noonan, on Monday at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Florence Salvati, 98 Pine street, East Woburn, Mrs. Noonan was 83, and about 85 relatives and friends attended her party. Included were her seven daughters, 37 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Mrs. Noonan has been a resident of the south end of Woburn for more than 60 years.

CHARLES HUBBARD HERRICK

Charles Hubbard Herrick of 371 Columbus avenue, Boston, a former resident and member of one of Winchester's prominent old time families, died suddenly Tuesday, August 2.

Born in Chelsea August 28, 1866, Mr. Herrick was the son of Moses Augustus, and Jane Ripley (Hubbard) Herrick. His father was one of the Water Board, including D. N. Skillings and James H. Dwinell, who built the town's north and south reservoirs.

Mr. Herrick spent his boyhood on the old Herrick estate on Highland avenue which later became the site of the Snyder estate. The Herrick house was moved further down the avenue and is now occupied by F. Manley Ives.

Mr. Herrick attended the Winchester schools and graduated from Winchester High School, organizing in 1884 the school's first baseball team, of which he was captain and star pitcher. He was graduated from the old Mechanics Arts School of Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1886.

In that same year he entered the employ of the Western Electric Company in New York City, manufacturers of telephone and telegraph apparatus. Later he joined the Sun Electric Company in Woburn, assisting in the design, installation and operation of the first power plant in that city for alternating current transmission of light and power.

From Woburn he went to the Thomson-Houston Electric Company in Lynn, installing alternating current apparatus at many points in New England and assisting in the construction and equipment of the first electric street car for use on the then Cambridge Division of the West End Street Railroad.

In 1888 he joined the Wright Electrical Engineering Company in Boston, specializing in consulting and constructing engineering for electric light, power and traction. In 1890 he assisted in the installation of electric power to operate the Dorchester avenue drawbridge over Fort Point Channel in Boston, believed to be the first one of its type so operated.

In 1897 he became associated with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston as commercial engineer and agent, equipping all Boston newspapers, fire and police stations, department stores and many hotels, theatres and manufacturing establishments with the company's electricity. He resigned in 1908 to become New England representative of the National Meter Company of New York for the sale and installation of their Nash gas engine for the supply of light and power. Among others were installations for William Filene's Sons and Raymonds in Boston.

When the National Meter Company went out of business in 1926 he engaged in the profession of consulting and constructing engineer for specialties in electrical, mechanical, civil and radio engineering.

He was a fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and also held membership in the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Society of Civil Engineers and the New England Electrical Exchange. He was a charter member of the Illuminating Engineering Society. He was the designer, inventor and patentee of several important electrical controls and appliances.

Among his clubs were the Engineers Club and Electric Club, both of Boston, of which he was a charter member; the Massachusetts Rifle Association of Woburn and the Winchester Tennis Club. He was a member of the Church of the Epiphany and of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, also of the Episcopalian Club of Boston.

He was a thirty-second degree Mason, being a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, King Cyrus Royal Arch Chapter and Newburyport Commandery, Knights Templar; Amesbury Council, R. and S. M., and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Herrick had made his home in Boston for the past 15 years. His last home in Winchester was in the so called Andrews house off High street on Andrews Hill, the only house there for many years. He was the last of his family.

Funeral services will be held on this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kelley and Hawes Chapel. Rev. James Tryon, Episcopal clergyman, of Medford, will officiate. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

TWOMBLY — WALLENFELS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ruth Ann Wallenfels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Wallenfels of Wolfeboro, N. H., to Everett Marshall Twombly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Twombly of Lawson road, on July 25 at Sanford, Maine.

The bride graduated from Jamaica High School, Long Island, N. Y., from Brewster Academy in Wolfeboro and is attending the University of New Hampshire.

Mr. Twombly, a veteran of three years' service in the United States Navy, graduated from Winchester High School and from Brewster Academy. He is entering his junior year at Middlebury College in Vermont, and is making his home with his bride for the present at 16 Lawson road.

PARENTS OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Preston of 11 Brantwood road, are the parents of a daughter, Shelley, born July 28th at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mrs. Meriel T. Preston, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Chefalo, and Mr. Burnham G. Preston, all of Winchester.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Elizabeth Simonds, Mr. and Mrs. August Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. James Chefalo.

SWIMMING MEET BACK AT LEONARD

Well Known Swimmers to Compete Here Saturday

The swimming meet sponsored by the Boston American-Record and the Winchester Park Department and being held Saturday, August 6, commencing at 2:30, will be held as originally planned at Leonard Field pool instead of at Palmer Beach.

Announcement was made last week that the meet, a New England A.A.A.U. sanctioned affair, had been shifted to Palmer Beach when it was feared that Leonard Field pool would not be ready for use, due to water conditions there.

Since that time it has been learned that the trouble at Leonard was pumps rather than water and the difficulty has been corrected. The pool will be ready for use Saturday and will provide a much better setting for the meet than Palmer Beach, particularly from the spectator angle, it being much easier to see the races there, theoretically, than at Palmer. Of course if the competitors and judges and officials are going to stand in front of the finish line no one is going to see much anyhow, but Director Anne Murray has been promised police assistance to keep the finish line clear and give the gallery a peek at the interesting part of the races.

From the competitors' standpoint Leonard Field pool, one of the best outdoor layouts in New England, is superior because the turning boards are official and the standard length apart. Name swimmers who have competed at Leonard have praised the pool and A.A.A.U. officials have also praised it highly. The low water at Palmer right now made that layout even less desirable.

Miss Murray has received some good entries for Saturday's meet and there should be some excellent competition.

In the N.E.A.A.A.U. junior 300 meter individual medley the outstanding entrants are Charles Weatherbee of the Ionic Boys Club, Worcester; James McGowan of the Metropolitan Swimming Association and Walter Lincoln of the Bunker Hill Boys Club.

Winchester's "Bob" McGrath is among the leading entries in the 100 yard breastroke open event for men, but he will have stern competition from Bob Mattson of Worcester and other capable swimmers. Bob is the A.A.A.U. backstroke champ, but his favorite event has not been carded for Saturday's meet and there is no 100 meter freestyle, at which he also excells.

Several Winchester swimmers are entered in the 50 yard freestyle for boys 12 years old or under, including Bob Crockett, Jack DiBona, Bob Bartlett, Bob Beckett and Pat McDonough.

On the women's side of the meet leading entries for the N.E.A.A.-A.U. junior 100 meter freestyle championship are Lois Aspinall of the Worcester Aquamaids, Beverly and Jean Laramee of the Olneyville, R. I., Boys Club Auxiliary, Pat McCarron and Mary McNamara, both of the Metropolitan Swimming Club.

Roberta Coon, Sonia Smith and Diane and Joan McNeill are Winchester entries in this event and local fans would like nothing better than to see one of these local lassies land in the money.

In the 100 meter open breaststroke are the capable Senior sisters, Jean, Joan and Marion of the Wanskuk Boys Club Auxiliary; as well as their clubmate, Louise Sherlock, another veteran performer The capable Coralie O'Connor of the Worcester Aquamaids is also entered in this event with two more Worcester girls, Mary O'Connor and Beverly Gauthier.

Attractive Marion Senior of Wanskuk will be favored to win her favorite event, the 100 meter open backstroke, her chief competition being expected from her teammate, Louise Sherlock. Little Virginia Smithers, 12 year old Metropolitan Swim Club star, who won the 1500 meter race at Woburn recently, is also entered in the backstroke as are those Worcester dependables Coralie O'Connor and Lois Aspinall.

For the 50 yard freestyle for girls 12 and under the Winchester entries include Nancy Donaghey, sister of Barbara Donaghey Hollis, former 100 meter champ; Gail Stratton, "Marnee" Walsh and Noreen Johnson. Virginia Smithers is also entered in this event and it should be interesting to see how the local kiddies stack up against the youthful standout.

Officials include Ben Levias and Al Houston of the A.A.U., Lou Goddu, Helen Jay Carroll, Ted Bartlett, Larry Santapaul of the Bunker Hill Boys Club and "Dutch" Holland.

UNION SERVICE

The Union Summer Service of the Protestant Churches will be continued this Sunday at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church at 10:45 a. m. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. William H. Sleeper, Jr. will sing two soprano solos, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Samuel Liddle and "In Heavenly Love Abiding" by Eduard Lasson.

Miss Sylvia Smith will be the organist.

FREDERIC PERCYVAL LEWIS

Frederic Percyval Lewis of 44 Mt. Vernon street, assistant Registrar of Voters for Winchester, died Thursday morning, August 4 in the Winchester Hospital, after a brief illness. He collapsed Tuesday morning while on his way from his home to the center and was removed to the hospital at that time, being attended by Dr. N. C. Fontneau. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage with other complications and though his condition was reported as improved on Wednesday, the improvement was not lasting.

Mr. Lewis was born in Woburn June 20, 1879. He was the son of Frederick H. Lewis, an organist and music teacher, and of Annie Soule Lewis, for many years a popular teacher of pianoforte in both Winchester and Woburn. After receiving his early education in the Woburn schools he was graduated from Harvard and spent two years in musical study abroad, principally in Paris, Berlin and Leipzig. While abroad he played on most of the famous organs of Europe, including that in the Cathedral at Colonne.

Mr. Lewis commenced the study of music at an early age, and while a boy in school played the organ at Trinity Episcopal Church in Woburn. Strangely enough he last played regularly as organist at that same church a few years ago before his retirement.

He succeeded his father as organist and director of music at the Unitarian Church in Woburn and served in this capacity for many years. He also served as accompanist years ago for a series of choral concerts, with outstanding soloists, in old Lyceum Hall in Woburn.

After the death of his father Mr. Lewis and his mother came to Winchester in 1905. They lived for many years at 1 Maxwell road and later at 131 Washington street until Mrs. Lewis' death December 5, 1939. Following his resignation as organist and director of music at the Unitarian Church in Woburn, Mr. Lewis substituted at many churches in this district and was also organist for Masonic bodies in and around Winchester. He was a member and fellow of the American Guild of Organists.

Mr. Lewis was a member of William Parkman and Mystic Valley Lodges of Masons, of Mt. Horeb Lodge of Woburn and of the Royal Arch Chapters in both Winchester and Woburn. He was well versed in the history of both Woburn and Winchester and took a keen interest in current events in both places.

On his mother's side he was a descendent of George Soule, who came to this country in the Mayflower, and of Capt. Miles Standish and John Alden of the Plymouth colony.

He was appointed Assistant Assessor of Winchester March 23, 1922, continuing in that capacity until 1938. April 1, 1939, he was appointed Assistant Registrar of Voters, a position he held at the time of his death. He was responsible for the information concerning the residents of the town that appeared in the Street Lists and also made several surveys of school and pre-school age children for the School Department, his figures being often quoted in connection with the building or enlarging of school buildings. He took the greatest pride in his work and his own street list books contained a wealth of statistics which often proved of value in locating persons.

As a young man Mr. Lewis was well known as a swimmer and canoeist, often representing the old Intertou Canoe Club of Woburn. An ardent walker, until his health began to fail, he regularly walked to surrounding cities and towns whenever his business or inclination called him to them.

Mr. Lewis was the last of his family, his only survivors being an aunt, Mrs. Henry P. Smith of Wellesley Hills, and several cousins.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed when the Star went to press.

NEW TRAFFIC CONTROL BOX

A new control box for the traffic signals in the center is being installed on the easterly side of the railroad tracks opposite the present traffic tower. The controls are to be mounted on a pole there and can be operated by the Police officer in the square, obviating the trip to the second story of the traffic tower with its consequent loss of time. Incidentally they will be locked when not in use.

The new controls are expected to expedite the flow of traffic after the passing of a train when motor vehicles pile up in the center. It is expected that they will be put in operation in the near future though the exact date has not been set. They will not replace those now in the traffic tower which can be used as desired. After the square is cleared of traffic the signals can be replaced by a flasher from the new control box.

FATHER SLINEY IN MUNICH

Cards received from Rev. Edmund C. Sliney, retired Army colonel and former pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, place him in Munich, Germany.

Father Sliney retired as pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church in the spring, asking at that time to be put on the inactive list so that he might travel abroad. He has visited the Dominican Munchen-Frauenkirch in Munich and Therese Newman, the famous Stigmatist at Konnerarenth, Bavaria.

He plans to visit the Central European countries, after which he will fly to the Scandinavian Penninsula, thence to Italy, Greece and Tripoli. From the Mediterranean territory he will go to the British Isles, concluding his trip with a long visit in Ireland and returning to the United States from "the auld sod."

SAMUEL N. WEBBER

Samuel N. Webber, former widely known Boston sportsman who had been making his home at 2 Greeley road, with his daughter, Mrs. Viola W. Warren, died Saturday, July 30, at the Boston City Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Webber was the son of Mendell S., and Adelia H. (Nasson) Webber. He was born 81 years ago in Springvale, Me., but spent his boyhood in Beverly and commenced a long connection with the sports and recreation field when he became manager of the Alcazar Billiard Parlor in Lawrence. Later he operated parlors in Salem and Providence before going to Boston where he was established for 40 years and widely known both as a pool and billiard professional and as a star in hockey, baseball, and polo before the turn of the century.

Mr. Webber managed the pool rooms of the old Derby House on Cambridge street in Boston and later was manager of the game rooms at the old Adams House. Finally before his retirement about 15 years ago he had his own establishment at 1 Court street and on City Hall avenue. He knew personally such stars of the game as Schaeffer and Willie Hoppe, with whom he had played, though Mr. Webber was better known for his ability as a pool player. His establishments were always exclusive and enjoyed a high grade of clientele.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church. Rev. Donald B. Tarr officiated. Interment was in Greenlawn Cemetery, Salem.

MISS MAUDE C. FARRELL

Miss Maude C. Farrell, a native of Winchester and veteran of World War I, died Tuesday, July 26, at her home, 1607 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton.

Miss Farrell was the daughter of Thomas E., and Hannah (O'Connell) Farrell. She was born 55 years ago in Winchester and was educated in the Winchester schools. During World War I she served as a chief yeoman in the United States Navy, and she was a member of the Bessie Edwards Post of the American Legion. She had been living in Brighton for the past 17 years.

The funeral was held Friday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. John O'Neil. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

DAVID R. RUSSO

David R. Russo, eight year old son of Anthony Russo, formerly of Winchester and the late Mary E. Theisen, formerly of Schenectady, New York, died Thursday, July 8, at an out-of-town hospital after a long illness. The little boy was born while his parents were living in Albany, N. Y., but after the death of his mother, his father returned to his home town and is now proprietor of Russo's Auto Electric Service on Main street in Woburn.

Besides his father David leaves two brothers, Pfc. Anthony L. Russo, U.S.M.C., stationed at Camp LeJeune, N. C.; and Robert J. Russo, U.S.C.G., stationed at Camp May, N. J. Also surviving is the grandfather, Michael Russo of this town.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

DANIEL J. O'CALLAHAN

Daniel J. O'Callahan of 700 Washington street, a long time and widely known resident of Winchester, died Wednesday afternoon, July 27, after a long illness.

A native of County Cork, Ireland, Mr. O'Callahan came to this country as a young man. He made his home in Winchester for more than half a century, and was well known about town as landscape gardener.

Mr. O'Callahan is survived by his wife and daughter, Mrs. George J. Campbell. Two sisters, Mrs. Dennis McKeering of Winchester and Mrs. Nellie Ellis of Malden, also survive.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

COSIMO SIMONETTA

Cosimo Simonetta, 78, of 25 Marion street, died early Sunday morning at his home after a long illness. A native of Italy he had been a resident of Winchester for more than 30 years.

Mr. Simonetta leaves his wife, the former Catherine Russo; a son, Dominic, of Winchester; and two grandchildren, Cosimo D., and Catherine F. Simonetta.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS BARBARA DONAGHEY HONORED AT PRE-NUPTIAL PARTIES

On last Friday evening Mrs. Edward C. Gales of Medford entertained the Bridal Party of Miss Barbara Donaghey and Mr. Dana Hollis, after the rehearsal of the wedding attendants in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church in Winchester. The occasion turned out to be a double celebration, as it was also the 20th Birthday of Miss Marjorie Gales one of the Bridesmaids. A festively decorated Birthday cake was one of the surprises of the evening.

Mrs. William Campbell and Miss Marjorie Gales were also hostesses at a Miscellaneous Shower for Miss Donaghey at Mrs. Campbell's home in Medford. The affair was a complete surprise to the bride-to-be, who expected to spend the evening with the Campbells and her fiance, only to find a group of her friends gathered in the living room. After being escorted to a gaily decorated chair, a large Wedding Bell suspended from the ceiling was opened and Miss Donaghey, showered with confetti. After opening the many lovely gifts, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Streamers of pink and white decorated the room, with tiny umbrellas stretching between the double doors and a larger one from the center of the ceiling. After all the presents had been admired Miss Donaghey expressed her sincere thanks to all present. Several selections were then played on the accordian by the host, "Bill" Campbell, to the delight of the guests, and Mr. Hollis sang "The Lord's Prayer". It was late when the party ended with the guests extending all good wishes for a happy future to the bride and groom-to-be.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Clifford Horton also of Medford, for another miscellaneous Shower and Miss Donaghey received many more beautiful gifts. At the end of the evening a paper was read by the matron-of-honor who recorded everything said by Miss Donaghey as she opened her packages, arousing much amusement.

Another party was given Miss Donaghey by her Dept. of the Hardware Mutual Casualty Co. of Boston, the members of which presented her with a beautiful white spread and a white wool blanket, as well as individual gifts, with more good wishes for happiness in the years to come.

JUNIOR RED CROSS MEMBERS ATTEND WELLESLEY LEADERSHIP TRAINING CENTER

Doris Casey and Arthur D. Hall, Junior Red Cross delegates, are attending the Junior Red Cross Training Center at Wellesley College from August 2 to August 12.

The aim of the training center is to train young people for democratic leadership in the Junior Red Cross through gaining a thorough knowledge of its principles, its program, and its organization.

The Center will demonstrate to three hundred boys and girls how a large voluntary organization like the Red Cross gets its work done in the community, the nation, and the world.

In discussion groups under qualified Red Cross and school leaders, the delegates will learn how to insure the health and safety of a community through water safety, accident prevention, nursing; they will learn about the cooperation of all community groups to meet the terrors of disaster; they will examine chapter structure and learn how councils, committees, and other types of organization may be built up to provide opportunities for all to serve.

These delegates will bring back to their Junior Red Cross members an awareness of how young people in the nation's schools can take a leading part in their community, thereby becoming better adult citizens, with an appreciation of the great values of our institutions and an active participation in them.

FLOWER MISSION

With the cooler weather and dampness even the weariest flower is perking up. If your garden has been less productive this year than previous years you know how much you've missed flowers. Bear that in mind Tuesday A. M.'s before 9:00.

Every Tuesday morning through September hampers are at the R. R. station for your contribution even if you can only spare two or three blooms. Representatives from all the Churches are taking turns filling these hampers for unfortunate people not helped by special charities. Old folks, young folks confined to hot dingy city rooms with illness. Think of the heat this summer as you enjoy your own beautiful grounds and try to cull at least one blossoms for Tuesday A. M. before 9:00 at the R. R. station.

TO ENLARGE PROFESSIONAL BUILDING

Whitten Brothers, local builders, have the contract to build an addition to the Professional Building on Dix street, occupied by a number of Winchester physicians, surgeons and dentists.

The addition is small, only six by nine feet and is an extension of the second story of the building on the side nearest the Congregational Church. The addition will increase the office space of one of the doctors and also enlarge two laboratories.

Maguire Motors	14	6
American Legion	13	7
White Shirts	12	8
Sport Center	8	12
Old Men	8	12
St. Mary's	7	13
K. of C.	7	13
Beggs and Cobb	5	15

The annual mid-summer madness, known as the Town Softball League playoffs, gets underway at Ginn Field on Monday evening. The semi-finals of the playoff for the League championship is a best two-out-of-three series to be played on Monday through Friday evening, all games at Ginn Field. The finalists will then meet in a best three-out-of-five series on alternate evenings the following week, also at Ginn Field.

Monday evening's game will be between the first place Atomics and the third place Maguire Motors. These two teams have met twice during the regular schedule with the Maguire Motors winning the first encounter 11 to 7 and the Atomics retaliating in the second meeting by a margin of 9 to 4. The Atomics will be favored in this series because they did end in first place with only three defeats and they posses good pitching in Andre Redding and Pat Patterson. The Maguire Motors cannot be discounted, however, for they are in the middle of a hot streak with six straight victories and Marty Joyce has blossomed into an outstanding pitcher.

On Tuesday evening the second place Sons of Italy will meet the fourth place American Legion. As in the case of the other semi-finalists, these two teams have split even in their two regularly scheduled contests. Where the first semi-final promises to be a tight, low-scoring series, this series looks as though it will be a free-scoring affair as both teams possess considerable power at the plate an neither team has an outstanding twirler. The Sons of Italy are the defending champions and, as such, must be favored until they are dethroned.

Interest is running high for the playoffs and a tremendous crowd is expected at Ginn Field on all five evenings next week. The present Town Softball League is three years old and in each of the preceding two years a different team has won the title. Two years ago it was the Sachems and last year the winner was the Sons of Italy. Will history repeat itself and a new champion be crowned this year? Three of the four semi-finalists are newcomers to a playoff series with only the Sons of Italy repeating from previous years. The experts are predicting that a new champion will be crowned in about three weeks but the experts have been wrong before and may very well be wrong on this one. Everyone will have fun finding out except the umpires but, according to Jim Penaligan, the umpires are not supposed to have fun anyway. Players and fans are reminded that the starting time of all playoff games has been moved up to 6:15 p. m.

BACK FROM FELLSLAND

Scout Laurence Erhard of Troop 12 Winchester together with his cousin, Scout Richard Port of Troop 110 Chelsea, have returned from Camp Fellsland in Amesbury, near Salisbury Beach where they had one of their most enjoyable vacation periods. Meeting fellow Scouts from Winchester, Stoneham, Woburn, Medford and Burlington was a wonderful experience while the fine camp life with its sports, swimming, scoutcraft, etc. easily would capture the fancy of any boy. The boys enjoyed canoeing, archery, rifle range, volley ball, handicraft, and say that the cooking as turned out by George, former Navy Cook, was equal to Mother's. The Scouts provided their own entertainment in addition to the movies at camp and Laurie played western songs on the piano while Cousin Richie who has sung many times this past year over the radio and on stage, thrilled the scouts with his fine voice.

Robert Laverty, of 15 Orient street, participated in the removal of men from the U.S.S. Livermore which ran aground on Bearse Shoals, off Chatham last Friday. Seaman Laverty was on a weekend training cruise aboard the U.S.S. LCI (L) 1093 when she received orders to proceed to the Livermore. The LCI removed 120 Naval Reservists from the Livermore and brought them to Boston after supplying them with emergency food and water rations.

RILEY AND WARE THREATENED LORING-GREENOUGH

In the broiling sun and heat of last Saturday afternoon, July 30, the Winchester Tennis Team betook itself far afield to the vicinity of the Arnold Arboretum to play a return match of Old Colony tennis with the Loring-Greenough Club. So much of the local talent was either on vacation or prostrated by the heat that Captain Jim Riley was forced to reach to the very bottom of the barrel and drag up as a partner for himself in second doubles Jim Ware Sr. - - that's right, senior. Old Man Tennis' partner huffed, puffed, and dragged; he could always be counted upon to be at exactly the same spot where last observed on the court. He reports that he had a marvelous view of the contest waged by his famous partner against Warren Sholes and Goodwin Millar: the first set being yielded 6-3 and the second taken with the impressive score of 6-4. By that time Jim, The Renowned, weakened from his long struggle against two opponents plus an unknown factor, and he was forced to yield the last set 6-1. It is felt, however, that the taking of the second set constituted a fair threat to Loring-Greenough's ultimate victory; hence the title of this our composition.

There were, of course, five others along on this expedition. Charlie Watson beat Jim Smith 8-6, 6-2; Bud Nutter yielded to Bill Vuori 7-5, 8-6; Ed Williams beat Ed Sheer 6-3, 6-2; Deb Bellows and Whit Gray yielded the first doubles to Hollis Blue and John Keiran at 6-1, 6-3.

COMMENTS ON POISONING OF INFANTS FROM MARKINGS ON DIAPERS

The attention of the newspaper reading public has, in the past month or two, been called to the possibility of infants being poisoned from contact with diapers which have been marked with identifying marks using certain kinds of inks. The problem is one which has been apparently somewhat exaggerated in the front page publicity which it has received.

Dr. Kagan, and his co-workers, reported in the May, 1949, Journal of Pediatries on seventy-two cases of poisoning of infants from inks containing aniline dyes. These investigators have pointed out that aniline dyes produce poisoning through absorption of the substance through the skin of the infant to the blood stream. When the dye reaches the blood stream of the infant, normal oxygen-carrying hemoglobin of the blood is converted to a material called Methemoglobin, which is not capable of carrying oxygen. This situation results in insufficient oxygenation of the infants body tissues and produces a cyanotic or blue baby. This type of phenomenon is by no means new or characteristic of the aniline dyes alone. Experiences with some of the early forms of sulpha drugs resulted in similar poisonings on rare occasions. For this and other reasons, these early sulfa drugs have been largely or completely discontinued in their use. Inasmuch as the amount of dye present in an infants diaper is rather small, and the oxygen-carrying reserves of the infants blood rather large, it is logical that it follows that such aniline dye must remain in contact with the infant's body for a long period of time to produce poisoning. The only exception to this statement is in the case of a premature infant, where because of the small size of the baby and its smaller hemoglobin reserve, the process may take place more quickly.

Prevention of such poisonings is extremely simple. Following stamping of aniline dye, the diapers are boiled or laundered under standard commercial laundry conditions. The dye becomes fixed into the fabric and no absorption into the infants body takes place.

The writer has contacted, within the past week, a representative sample of the larger commercial supply services in this area, in an effort to determine whether this problem is a significant one. Seven-five per cent of those contacted reported that they did not use any marks of any sort on their diapers. The remainder were apparently well informed on the problem of aniline poisoning and reported that the diapers were allowed to dry for twenty-four hours following stamping with the identifying mark, and the diapers were then laundered in the usual fashion before being issued. It would, therefore, seem that though aniline poisoning in infants is a possibility if aniline dyes are carelessly used, but in this particular locality the problem probably does not exist, because the commercial diaper companies are well aware of the problem and of the methods of prevention.

ACCIDENT ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

Driver Unhurt as Car Turns Turtle

Louis J. Crescenzi of 73 Clark street, Medford, escaped injury when his car tipped over on Highland avenue near Lawson road shortly before 11 o'clock Tuesday night.

Officers James F. Noonan and John J. Murray were sent by radio to the scene of the accident and were told by Crescenzi that his car had struct a stone that was in the middle of the roadway.

As the officers reconstructed the accident from the tracks of the car, the machine, a Pontiac sedan, had left the roadway in front of the residence of Mr. Cecil Covert, 376 Highland avenue, at the driveway and had proceeded for about 100 feet along the grass plot at the side of the road before striking the stone which was in the plot in front of the residence of Mr. Don S. Greer, 372 Highland avenue. The force of the impact tore the stone, weighing between 25 and 35 pounds from the ground and deposited it in the middle of the street.

The Pontiac continued across the street some 90 feet and finally tipped over near the residence of Mr. Curtis Ware at the corner of Highland avenue and Lawson road.

The car was badly damaged about the right side and the right front wheel was broken. Men had righted the car before the police arrived and it was towed to a garage in Woburn. Crescenzi told the Police he was uninjured.

BICYCLIST COLLIDED WITH AUTO

Joseph Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Smith of 25 Salem street, complained of injuries to his wrist and elbow Tuesday morning when he was knocked from his bicycle in a collision with an automobile on Lake street at the entrance to the town yard.

J. Robert Humphries of 16 Baldwin street, Malden, the operator of the car, an Olds sedan, told the Police he had backed the car into an open space near the entrance to the Town Yard to turn around. As he did so young Smith rode his bicycle from the town yard and made a left turn, colliding with the right rear side of the Olds.

The boy's father, a town employee, was at the yard and told Humphries he would take his son to a physician for an examination.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB SNIPE SKIPPERS SET SAIL FOR REGATTAS

There'll be no official Snipe Fleet races this week-end and next at the Mystic because most of the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet's sterling skippers are out to conquer new worlds.

Dick Simonds, Bart Sullivan, Bill Cusack, Mel Moller, Ned Morse, Holbrook Bugbee, the Swanson brothers, Al Litchfield, Pete Redding and some of the others are off to Marblehead for Race Week and the New England Championships.

We're willing to wager that one of the above skippers will sail the sheets off any salt water skippers and come home with the New England Crown. And that the lion's share of trophies will return to Winchester. Let's go, Gang!

Ken Cook and Jack Streeton have a much tougher task ahead of them, but if they sail with the same skill and daring they've shown on the Mystic, they should be in the upper brackets of the Nationals, if not right on top.

So close is the point score standing between these two boys that Jack moved into first place last Saturday afternoon by scoring a third while Ken finished fourth. Mel Moller won the race going away and Dick Simonds stole second from Jack.

Sunday morning, while Dick Simonds was scoring a slick victory, Ken Cook moved back into first place by coming in fifth while Jack wallowed in the wake and came in eighth. Ralph Swanson brought SWANEE in second and Mel Moller finished third.

Incidentally, while Jack and Ken were having a rather poor weekend (for them) Dick Simonds with his first and second pulled to within easy reach of the two leaders in the standing.

NOT VACATIONING!

The Star's report, made last week, to the effect that Rep. Harrison Chadwick is enjoying a vacation at Three Mile Island, Lakeport, N. H., has been found to be incorrect. Perhaps premature is the better word, for Mr. Chadwick had planned to go to Lakeport and was prevented by the fact that the Legislature didn't prorogue, being engaged with Governor Dever's tax proposals and other matters of moment. As a consequence Harrison is on the job in the State House and didn't know just how much longer he would be there when he called to venture a mild protest over our report that he is enjoying himself when what he actually is doing, under existing conditions, scarcely comes under that head. Rep. Chadwick doesn't want his constituents to think he isn't on the job when there is a job to do. We are sorry we gave them that idea, because we do not think so ourselves!

Attorney Leo F. Garvey, with Mrs. Garvey and their family, is spending a month's vacation at East Alton, N. H. Leo has been burning the midnight oil putting his outboard in shape and the East Alton fish are in for a going over once he arrives. Meanwhile, what "Rog" McTighe will do for competition at the Country Club we wouldn't know.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

In spite of the heat of the past week, competition in the Playground Baseball League continued as spirited as ever, especially in the Intermediate and Senior divisions. Games in the Junior division, scheduled for Thursday and Friday afternoons, were wisely postponed by Playground Supervisor, Ted Bartlett, because of the extreme heat.

The race in the Senior division remained as close as ever with all the teams within one game of each other. John DiIorio twirled the first shutout in this division as he blanked Loring Avenue over the seven inning route by a score of 8 to 0. Ginn Field nosed out Leonard Field 4 to 3 as Stowell Symmes bested John DiIorio in a very well played game in which Ginn Field pulled off three double plays on ground balls to the infield.

Leonard Field defeated Loring Avenue 8 to 4 in the Intermediate division to move up to within one game of the pace-setting Loring Avenue nine. Leonard Field is getting good pitching from Roddy Delorey, Chuck West, and "Moose" Bellino and is now in a good position to take over the leadership in this division.

On Friday morning of this past week a Senior and an Intermediate team from the Stoneham Playgrounds were entertained by the Winchester fields. The Stoneham Seniors defeated the Leonard Field Seniors by a score of 11 to 7. The Ginn Field Intermediates had better luck, however, and defeated the Stoneham Intermediates 8 to 3 at Manchester Field.

The younger boys' softball league continued to be a stand-off during the past week as each playground won one game and lost one. The best game was the 5 to 2 victory of Ginn Field over Loring Avenue but the most hectic game was the Leonard Field win over Ginn Field by a score of 23 to 22. The teams took turns in taking the lead but in the last half of the seventh Leonard Field rallied from a 22 to 20 deficit to score three times to win 23 to 22.

WARRIORS AND CONCORD IN 3-3 TIE

A pickoff play in the 7th saved Winchester from defeat in its Paul Revere League game with the Concord Town Team at Concord Tuesday evening, the clubs finishing in a 3-3 stalemate.

The Warriors had to come from behind to gain their tie as Concord had a 3-2 edge going into the 7th and last inning.

Joe McKee, who had been effective in the pinches, opened the 7th with a single to right. "Pegger" Lancelotta ran for "Old Folks" and advanced on Sammy Provinzano's sacrifice, scoring on Bellino's hit to right.

Lancelotta relieved McKee in the 7th and walked Hayes with one away. The "Pegger" got Hayes off first on a pickoff play by three feet and the out helped plenty for O'Sullivan hit a double to deep center field that would easily have scored the winning run for Concord. Freddy Patterson played well for the Warriors at first and got himself a hit his only time at bat. The summary:

OLD COLONY LEAGUE TENNIS

The second year of post-war Old Colony tennis is well under way by now; the various teams began last week-end their play of return matches. As of Saturday, July 30, the relative standings of the five teams was as follows:

Lexington	19 points
Winchester	13 points
Loring-Greenough	12 points
Belmont	11 points
Wellesley	5 points

On June 25 Winchester defeated Loring-Greenough at the Packer Courts on Palmer Street at 3 to 2. On July 3 the local boys traveled to Belmont and yielded 4 to 1. Then on July 9 Wellesley came here and yielded 3 to 2, but when on July 16 Winchester traveled to Lexington it was necessary to yield 3 to 2.

BIG DOIN'S AT PALMER

There were big doin's at Tuesday evening's matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, it being seldom if ever in the history of the organization that three such outstanding events have occurred at any one session at the beach courts.

To name these epochal events in the order of their importance you would be forced to give precedence to the all-but-unheard-of fact that "Wild Willie" McLaughlin did not win a single match during the session. Not often, if ever before, has the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset left the courts at the end of a session skunked, but that is what happened Tuesday, believe it or not.

Mr. McLaughlin couldn't even win with Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. When "Willie" occasionally goes down to defeat paired with the Secretary or President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele little is thought of it. No one can ALWAYS carry the President and Secretary on his back, but when the famous "Lake Street Lancers", Messrs McLaughlin and Pridham, take it on the chin, that, chum, is news; comparable to the man biting the dog or the Fair Deal trying to save money.

And that brings us to the second red letter happening of the evening. Briefly and boiled right down to oil, this second entry for "the book" was none other than the defeat of Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham by the Scribe and Mr. Teele, two straight at that, to rub it in!

At the last meeting of the warriors but one the President and Secretary gave the Lancers "the works", but no one ever thought the like would happen again, at least this season.

Well it did, and were the officers happy! Mr. Teele vented his feelings in deep whoops of joy that bothered the fishermen as far distant as Quigley's point. The Secretary collapsed weakly and mopped his brow, wondering if such good fortune could actually be his'n.

We might say a bit about the games. In the first Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Pridham led 19-8, a fairly good lead for a team of their caliber. However double headers by both Mr. Teele and the Scribe made the score 20-19 before you could say Jack Robinson and so confounded the Lancers that the officers went on to a 25-20 victory, play being spiced by pointed remarks on the part of Mr. Teele concerning the McLaughlin form!

In the second game the President and Scribe went like the proverbial house afire until they led 24-10. Even they figured they could rot out at those figures but Mr. Pridham asked his partner if he had ever heard of teams losing at 24, and Mr. McLaughlin's ready response in the affirmative seemed to upset both Mr. Teele and the Secretary.

Flinging ringers from both ends, some of which were covered and some unfortunately not, the Lancers forged ahead like the dickens until the score stood 24-23. Mr. McLaughlin after consecutive double headers flung up two that skimmed the stake and the Secretary had an easy chance.

Buck fever has affected many a better competitor than the Secretary and subsequent events proved its influence upon his pitching arm and eye; for neither of his shoes landed in the box and it was "no score". Mr. Teele did not trust himself to speak and the Secretary's comment could hardly be printed with propriety. After all, this is a family newspaper!

Both Mr. Pridham and Mr. Teele had one on, but Mr. Pridham picked up the odd point and it was 24 apiece.

This time Mr. McLaughlin's first shoe was on and off and his second one struck on the prong. The Secretary, shutting his eyes, after missing his first one, and exhorted vigorously by his partner to do something for pity sakes, hung the second one on the pin, and collapsed weakly in the sand while Mr. Teele hollered to high heaven.

The third of the outstanding events of the evening was the covering of a Teele double header by no less a person than the lowly scribe. The event occured well after dark which accounts for it in large measure, since had the Scribe been aiming he probably would have landed outside counting distance. As it was, he landed both his shoes on top of Mr. Teele's and the President, still nurturing the warmth in his heart engendered by their victory over Mr. McLaughlin and "Thin Finger" was the first to congratulate his late partner.

WARRIORS NIPPED LINCOLN 7—6

Winchester Warriors won their Paul Revere game from the Lincoln Mohawks last Sunday afternoon, 7-6, making it four wins in five starts against this admittedly good club. Vern Slack, who pitched Sunday's game, is probably the only pitcher to beat the Mohawks three times in one season since the Lincoln club commenced playing in the Paul Revere League 21 years ago.

At that Vern wasn't as effective as usual, but he got great support from his mates, especially his outfield and the local boys also hit the ball hard.

Tim Connors' single and steal, followed by Sammy Bellino's single was good for one run right off the bat and two infield outs got Bellino over in the same first inning. Lincoln put together three singles and a walk to tie it in the second.

Bobby Farrell tripled to deep left center in the third, scoring Bellino and Olivier, and in the 4th Dick Murphy's double and Al Plummer's single were good for another run. Both teams scored in the 5th to give Winchester a 6-3 edge.

In the Lincoln 6th Spooner walked and made third on B. Gudz's single to right, Plummer dropping Farrell's perfect peg to third which was in time. Slack then hit Holmes to load the sacks.

Farrell caught a line drive against the right field bleachers and gunned a perfect strike to the plate to hold the runner on. Slack then forced in two runs with bases on balls, but again with the sacks loaded, Bellino grabbed Macone's line drive and got Holmes at the plate as he tried to score after the catch, Modoono making a fast and effective tag.

Timmy Connors saved Slack a lot of trouble in the 7th when he went toward the line to pull down a hard hit drive and peg to Jim Olivier for a double play at second base.

Lincoln tied it in the 8th on two singles and a sacrifice, but in the 9th a walk to Farrell, followed by singles by Sammy Provinzano and Dick Murphy sent the fans home happy. The summary:

JUNIORS BEAT ST. PATS.

The Winchester Junior Legion defeated the St. Patrick's of Stoneham by a score of 13 to 8 in a free-hitting contest at Stoneham on Sunday afternoon. "Major" Daniels and Leo Williams sparked the Winchester attack as Daniels had a perfect day at the plate with five for five and Williams collected four hits, including a double and a triple.

Charlie DeFilippo pitched the first six innings for Winchester but was not too effective. His teammates did not give him much help, either, as they committed no less than seven errors behind him. When the locals took a 9 to 8 lead in the top of the seventh, Coach Bartlett inserted Daniels to protect the lead. Daniels continued his recent fine pitching by holding Stoneham scoreless as he fanned four batters while giving up only one hit in his three-inning chore.

The Board of Health has been busy investigating the method of "sanitary fill" being used to cover rubbish at the town dump, their concern being prompted by the bad underground fires which have taken place there recently. The Star is informed that the method in use has not been the correct one and a change in operations will obviate the fire nuisance. This will be good news, especially to the Firemen.

An executive of one of the largest businesses in Winchester visited the Star office this week and while here commented upon the appearance of the Aberjona River from Mt. Vernon street to the northward. It does not make a picture in which the town can take much pride. Aside from the lack of water which even the most critical can not blame upon the local authorities, there is a disgraceful quantity of filth and debris in the river which to say the least looks out of place for a town as civic minded and attractive as Winchester. Any one visiting town, with or without the idea of settling here, could well exclaim at the looks of our river and wonder if its appearance is an index of our public pride in town property. The late Lewis Parkhurst devoted a great deal of time and effort and not a little of his own money to improve the Aberjona along the lines suggested by the eminent landscape engineer, the later Herbert J. Kellaway. The friends of both are happy that neither is here to see the river now.

GARBAGE

At the outset Mr. Editor permit me to apologize for using your valuable space to discuss such an ordinary subject as garbage. And yet garbage may be a most important subject because the way it is handled could affect the health of the community. In my neighborhood the garbage is collected at irregular periods and during the recent very hot weather it remained uncollected for at least a week. Complaints made to appropriate town officials appeared to be quite ineffective.

As a town meeting member I am wondering if this below par service is the result of (1) bad management or (2) failure of the town to provide adequate equipment. Perhaps there are other good and sufficient reasons which are receiving the attention of our officials.

However, if conditions do not improve it would seem appropriate to place the matter before the next Town Meeting for review.

FREE MEN FORGING THEIR CHAINS

By H. W. Seaman

July 14, 1949

Editor of the Star:

Enclosed is an article which struck me as the best word picture I have yet seen of the bountiful life a Socialistic or Communistic government can offer.

Perhaps if you can find room to print this article sometime, it may set a few wheels turning in the minds of us Americans who have a heritage comparable to none which I personally would not like to give up.

Very truly yours,
Parker N. Blanchard
54 Samoset road

On the day when the last of the enemy countries surrendered I took from my kitchen wall a picture that had hung there from September 3, 1939, when British went to war. It was in glowing colors, the the faithful likeness of a sirloin steak, thick and wide, surrounded by a heap of French fried potatoes, which here in England are called chips. Possibly it was not, strictly speaking, a work of art, but through six years of war its promise sustained us: "There's a good time coming, and we shall enjoy good food again.

"Yes," we would say to ourselves, "there will be good food again, plenty of it, and we shall be free to choose our jobs, to drive our motorcars, to see our country lanes once more, and even to go to other countries. But what we shall enjoy most is freedom from the restraints and compulsions that we have imposed on ourselves in order to fight the war."

Pictures on Parade

We did not expect miracles, but surely it was reasonable to suppose that we should be freer and better fed after the war than while it raged. "The dawn is here," said Sir Hartley Shawcross, the Attorney-General. "We are marching towards the sunshine of a greater liberty than our people have ever known. To make the people happy, to let the people sing, is certainly the object of the Labour Government." Dr. Dalton, another Socialist Minister, surveying the future, found a song in his heart. Mr. Ernest Bevin looked forward eagerly to the not distant day when any one of us could "buy a ticket at Victoria station in London and go where the hell he liked without a passport."

"We are the masters now," cried Sir Hartley Shawcross, promising to treat us kindly and make good use of the boundless opportunities that the new age offered. What a hammering and sawing would be heard in the land as a million new houses went up to replace those destroyed by bombs! The world would be hungry for manufactured goods, and a country that had built ships and tanks and guns could surely turn its hand to producing goods that we could enjoy at home or sell abroad. True, after two exhausting wars in one lifetime, we were a poorer country than we had been, and no doubt we were tired; but our national prestige was high, for we had earned the world's respect.

That was four years ago. And now, on this very day of writing I find half a page of a London daily newspaper which has consistently supported the Socialist Government devoted to a rhapsodic description of a plate of bacon and eggs. "Bacon and eggs! Do you hear? I want— I insist upon—I DEMAND—BACON AND EGGS. Don't tell me the stuff can't be produced. Don't cram me with statistics of feeding stuffs. Don't kid me with talk about the resurgence of British agriculture. I'll believe you when next I get a plate of bacon and eggs. Not one egg, or two eggs, but THREE EGGS.....Sitting snugly in the frying pan on a cushion of thick and sizzling bacon ....." And so on into three columns, including: "Bacon and eggs. Eggs and Bacon. BACON AND EGGS!"

Only yesterday a fellow citizen, a clerk living in a London suburb, was fined and denounced as a Black Market Beast for buying 24 eggs at a price which in American money would amount to $2. It was his first offense. "He was only trying to feed his family," said his wife. "Now all the money we had saved to pay the rates, the mortgage, and the electric light bill has gone and they've got Arthur's name down at the police station."

You see how it is with us now. We like to talk about food. We talk about food as Americans, during another Noble Experiement, talked about forbidden potions —wistfully, ruefully, or when one has managed to get hold of something that another has not tasted for years, boastfully. But of course, there is no actual prohibition of food. Each of us, at this writing, gets his weekly dole of two ounces of bacon, two ounces of cheese, two pints of milk, twenty cents' worth of meat, and so on. Once a week we queue at the grocer's and the butcher's for the making of one fairly square meal, at less than cost price. What we don't pay over the counter we pay in taxes. At present rates, a single man begins to pay income tax of 15 per cent when he earns, again in terms of American currency, $10.-60 a week. Before he earns $20 a week, he pays 30 per cent. At $30 a week it is 45 per cent.

The walls of the prison close in day by day; the area of enterprise shrinks. Day by day the ceiling of opportunity is lowered. We prisoners are charged more for the expense of the multiplying jailers. Food and drink diminish in quantity and quality month by month. There is no incentive to bold undertakings except a heartless propaganda which urges all dogs collectively to jump the moon while keeping chained each dog with a spring or heart in him. Socialism, as now interpreted here in England, is competition without prizes, boredom without hope, war without victory, and statistics without end.

—London Sunday Times—

The purchase tax on leather travelling bags and other "luxuries," is 100 per cent; on house curtains and other semi-luxuries at 66 2/3 per cent; and on such necessaries as toothbrushes and carpets 33 1/3 per cent. Most of the 70 cents we pay for one ounce of tobacco or 20 cigarettes or one cigar ten-cent quality is tax. Part of these taxes comes back to us in food subsidies to support the illusion of cheap rations; and it also has been figured out that Marshall Aid provides for each of us one rationed lunch and one rationed breakfast each week. These figures change in the presence of elections —as in the case of beer which it has been made easier for consumers to obtain.

Please forgive a recital of the sordid details and bear with me, as not long ago I had to bear with my American friends who tried to rend my heart with tales of steak then retailing at $1.50 a pound and butter at $1.25, adding, "At least you get equal shares in England." Brothers, we do not. If I were a lawbreakers, consorting with spivs, I could buy all the steak, butter, pork chops and cheese my family could eat. But I should have to pay far more than Americans have ever paid for such provender.

There is, however, no need for me to go into the black market for good food. Hanging in my larder are three Hungarian sausages weighing three pounds apiece, and all are solid pork. They cost me $3 a pound, over the counter, and no Ministry of Food spotter could have tapped me on the shoulder on my way out of the shop and have accused me of dark dealings. To make such sausage in England is illegal. Our Ministry of Food buys them at less than $2 a pound and pockets a fatter profit than any shopkeeper would be permitted to make.

Profits—for the Government

Similarly, the Government offers to supply me, at $1.50 a pound, with jellied beef which has been bought in Ireland at 18 cents, canned in Holland, and sold to the Ministry of Food at 75 cents. The grocer can sell me Camembert cheese from France and Bel Paese from Italy, but not English Stilton or Cheddar. Without trafficking with bootleggers, I can buy dollops of caviar at God knows what price, and barrels of oysters at $16 a hundred. Yet only the other day, a woman of 65 selling chestnuts in the street, was trapped by an inspector into selling a ten-cent bag of peanuts, thereby falling afoul of Article 3 (1) (a) of the Processed Nut Kernels Order and Regulation 55 of the Defense (General) Regulations. The official name is planned economy. Thanks to planned economy, the fish shops of this seagirt, herring-glutted island are now filled with Norwegian kippers and bloaters. Thanks to planned economy, farmers who were paid subsidies to plant potatoes and onions have had to destroy their crops because they produced too many, and because the Ministry of Food has imported great quantities of potatoes and onions from the Continent.....

Blessings and Ifs

Ah, well, we do not live by food alone. Daily we are exhorted to count our blessings. "Free" teeth, wigs, spectacles, phenobarbitone. State pensions of $6.50 a week at 65, if the cost does not break the nation's back. The same spokesmen point to the headway we have made towards economic recovery, and if we complain, tell us we are rocking the boat, scaring well-heeled tourists away—to Paris, where there is promise of gayer moments.

The Englishman's regard for law and order is profound, and his respect for politicians, though somewhat shaken lately, is still the wonder of all beholders. So, neither amused nor indignant, he merely asks what the fuss is about, when he reads in an American magazine of an American who received by post from England a small white box with, instead of the wedding cake which it had contained, a note from His Majesty's Postmaster-General, pointing out that he had been obliged to remove the contents, the unlicensed export of food being forbidden. To the Englishman such prohibitions are as the will of Allah. He reads stranger things in his newspaper every day. For example:

"Off-the-ration lollipops—candies mounted on four-inch sticks—are getting scarce. It's because of the timber license needed for the sticks: four hundredweight to make a million."

"Submitting designs for his new house to the South-East Hampshire

The power to choose the work I do,
To grow and have the larger view,
To know and feel that I am free,
To stand erect, not bow the knee.
To be no chattel of the State,
To be the master of my fate,
To dare no risk, to lose, to win,
To make my own career begin,
To serve the world in my own way,
To gain in wisdom, day by day.
With hope and zest to climb to rise,
I call that Private Enterprise.

Herbert Casson

Mr. Casson is a Britisher. It was another Britisher who wrote that what we have we prize not; but lost, we know its value. His name was Shakespeare.

Area Planning Committee, Mr. K. J. Kilford has been told that the window in the hall must be square, because a round window would be 'out of place' in a rural area."

That does not seem at all remarkable to a man who lives in a Council house, where he may be forbidden to keep hens, dogs, or chickens, hang the washing in the back yard, choose his own color for the front door, choose his own flowers for the front garden, or take down or put up a fence. In Plymouth, a Council tenant can keep ten chickens only if he buys a coop from the Council for $60. At Seacombe, Cheshire, tenants have had to dig up their flowers by order of the local council, which plans to turn all the gardens into uniform grass squares.

But we own the railways now, don't we? Indeed we do, and the net benefits so far are prettier trains (in blue, dark green, crimson lake, plum and "spilt milk") and higher fares. Buses are cheaper, and it is not to be expected that a Government monopoly will tolerate such competition. So soon we shall own the buses too, and pay more. We own the electricity undertakings, and the prices of light and power have risen. We own the coal mines, and get less and dearer coal. The current crack is that a difference between the National Coal Board and Old King Cole is that Old King Cole knew how many fiddlers he had.

Newly nationalized undertakings, at the time of writing, show deficits totalling $500,000,000. "Each deficit," writes a disgruntled customer, "would have been large enough in the days of private companies to make the shareholders vote the board out of office."

But under Socialism, as everyone knows who has tried to sue the Post Office, the customer is always wrong. He is not even permitted to know the salaries he pays to some of the higher officials, and when he complains of the quality or the price of the goods they supply, he is told the Ministers of State are not bound to answer questions about the workings of the concerns they control!

Four years of Socialist rule have driven home the not surprising lesson that it is generally more satisfactory to do business with one's fellow citizens than with politicians, and to discuss wages and terms with ordinary employers than with controllers of State monopolies. Three years ago the Tobacco Workers' Union passed a resolution urging the nationalizing of their industry. After observing the results of nationalization in other industries, the tobacco workers have rescinded the resolution. "We do not think," says a spokesman, "that we can get any better wages and conditions under nationalization. In each industry nationalized the commodity has increased in price."

It took railway signalmen only twelve months of nationalization to find out the same thing. Opinion, the organ of the signalmen's Union, calls this "a shock to those of us who expected so much." They complain that (1) a wide gulf exists between management and operatives; (2) pin-pricking economies are worse than ever they were under "company" rules; and (3) there is bad organization.

Higher Pay? That's Sabotage!

Under our planned economy, workers who ask for higher wages are accused by Sir Stafford Cripps of attempting to sabotage the national effort. The Daily Express, agreeing, adds: "Under free enterprise, higher wages and greater production are linked together. The State, with its clumsy controls and its improvident, expensive rationing system, impedes the natural working of supply and demand. It frustrates the direct contact between higher wages, increased demand, and greater output. Until the contact is restored, our efforts will be futile."

As I was saying, I took that picture of a steak from my kitchen wall four years ago. Once it carried comfort, but today it would be only a cruel commentary on the way we live now. And if anyone now sends us a Sears Roebuck catalogue, it will send me howling to the mourner's bench.

NATIONAL POSTAGE STAMP EXHIBIT TO BE HELD IN BOSTON, AUGUST 16-20

Enthusiastic stamp collectors from all parts of the country and several foreign countries will gather in Boston from August 16-20 to attend the 63rd Annual Convention and Exhibit of American Philatelic Society.

The meeting this year will be held in Horticultural Hall under the leadership of Dr. Howard K. Thompson, prominent Boston physician.

Philatelists, or stamp collectors, as they are generally called, will have an opportunity to see many postage stamp rarities at this year's exhibit. Theodore Steinway will exhibit his famous collection of Great Britain Penny Blacks. Some of the many other notable exhibits include the Peplon collection of Japan, pages from the Luff Reference and the Israel collection of Cuba and 36 pages from the collection of Cardinal Spellman, submitted by Regis College in Weston.

The American Philatelic Society, sponsor of the exhibit, lays claim to being the oldest and largest hobby society in the world. It was founded in 1886 to promote the hobby of stamp collecting. Present membership is more than 11,000.

McGRATH WINS AGAIN

Bob McGrath, ace of the Winchester Swimming Club and Bowdoin College sophomore, defended his Massachusetts State 100 meter backstroke championship in convincing fashion last Saturday afternoon at Lexington, winning this event over 16 competitors in the annual meet of the Lexington Recreation Department at the Municipal Pool.

Bob swam the distance in 1m 13.8s, considered good time for the course and under the existing conditions. The temperature was at 99 during much of the competition.

Diane McNeill of Winchester won her heat in the women's 100 meter novice backstroke, finishing fourth in the final. Roberta Coon was also a heat winner in this event but her time was not fast enough to make the final.

ARLINGTON JUNIORS EDGED WINCHESTER

Although the Winchester Junior Legion played their best game of the season, they lost a close one to the Arlington Hoboes by a score of 1 to 0 at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. It was no disgrace to the locals to drop this one for they were playing an older and more experienced outfit and, in fact, did very well to make it as close.

The Hoboes showed a fine pitcher in Jack Hough, last season's Arlington High ace. He struck out twelve local batters with a sharp breaking curve and a good fast ball. He did pass five Winchester batters, however, which combined with the two Winchester hits and an Arlington error put eight runners on the bases, one more than the visitors managed to put on the sacks. A hit by the locals in either the first, second, or fifth innings when they left two runners stranded each time would have won the game for Winchester.

Charlie DeFilippo twirled excellent ball for the local Junior Legionnaires as he gave up only four singles, struck out five, and granted a solitary base on balls. Ironically enough, the lone pass spelled defeat as the batter was the lead off man in the fourth inning and eventually scored the only run of the game. It was a fine performance by DeFilippo, however, and he will not lose many games if he can continue that brand of pitching.

KIMBALL — WILCOX TEAM ESSEX WINNERS

Mrs. Allen Kimball, former club champ, and Miss Marilyn Wilcox carried the Winchester Country Club colors to a win in the second flight of the ladies invitation Essex County fourball tournament at the Essex Country Club last Friday, beating Mrs. Henri Prunaret and Miss Marie T. Bourneuf of Charles River, 1 up.

In the semi-final round Mrs. Kimball and Miss Wilcox won another notable victory when they defeated by the same 1 up score Mrs. F. H. Tarr, Jr., and Mrs. C. K. Delamater of Rockport.

JUNIOR LEGION AT HOME SATURDAY

The Winchester Junior Legion will play two home games at Manchester Field this coming week. The first comes on Saturday afternoon when the locals entertain the St. Patrick's of Stoneham in a return match. Because of the difficulty of playing a full game in the present shortening twilight hours, the Junior Legion is planning to play Saturday afternoon games at home during the month of August.

The second home game of the week comes on the regular Wednesday evening when the Junior Legion plays the Rosebuds of Somerville. This is an aggregation of fast, young ball players which has posted an outstanding record of victories this season and the locals are eager to cross bats with them.

ICEBERGS HAVE A SLOW YEAR: FEWER PERIL SHIPPING LANES

The international Ice Patrol of the U. S. Coast Guard reports the 1949 season for the floating ice masses was the shortest and mildest on recent record.

This means that fewer icebergs drifted south from Greenland waters to harass North Atlantic shipping lanes, points out the National Geographic Society. Fewer bergs survived the tempering influence of ocean currents and sun to make the long voyage.

Danger Zone

The Grand Banks area off the southeast coast of Newfoundland, in the path of the world's busiest water trade routes, is the iceberg danger zone. In this area Coast Guard cutters operate from early March through June, daily broadcasting iceberg locations to merchant and passenger ships.

Most of the icebergs menacing North Atlantic steamship lanes are born in the glaciers along the western Greenland coast. As the ice from the vast inland masses reaches the sea, it noses out into the water until bouyancy lifts it up. The lifting action cracks off the front of the glacier, and the dislodged ice floats loose in Baffin Bay to begin its long drift southward.

The newly-spawned iceberg has about 1,800 miles to travel, if it is to reach the Grand Banks area — a two to three year trip. Many are too small and disintegrate in northern waters. Some ground on the shores of Labrador and Newfoundland. Still others, caught in the eddy of the warm Gulf Stream, melt off the Greenland coast.

Like Marble and Castles

There are two easily distinguishable types of bergs — "solid" and "drydock." The former looks like a great mass of white marble and usually rides low in the water. Its sides, washed by frequent tipping, are rounded.

A drydock berg looks like a towered castle. It has two high sides, or pinnacles, with a low passage in between. This variety will not tip, but sails solemnly and majestically on its voyage to oblivion.

Antarctic seas have even more icebergs than the Arctic. Born from the enormous ice-cap that covers Antarctica, they are usually tabular, flat, and steep-sided. These bergs, larger than their northern cousins, are often one mile or more in length, and a few have been found to measure 20 to 30 miles.

The Coast Guard today wages a mechanized battle against the Arctic cakes. Equipped with radar, loran, airplanes, and underwater sound equipment, it scouts the Grand Banks waters with scientific precision—plotting the positions and drift of bergs on charts.

"SPIRIT" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 7.
GOLDEN TEXT: "O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me .... Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?" (Psalms 139: 1,7).
SERMON: Passages from the bible (King James Version) include:
"The king shall joy in thy strength, O Lord: and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice! ... Be thou exalted, Lord, in thine own strength: so will we sing and praise thy power" (Psalms 21:1, 13). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Let us feel the divine energy of Spirit, bringing us into newness of life and recognizing no mortal nor material power as able to destroy. Let us rejoice that we are subject to the divine 'power that be.' Such is the true Science of being" (p.249).

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Great Britain, Sweden, and Iceland celebrate their national holidays in June, notes the National Geographic Society. Great Britain's, observed June 9 this year, celebrated the birthday of King George VI, although the birthday anniversary actually falls on December 14. Sweden's, on June 16, celebrated the 91st birthday of Gustavus V, now in his 42nd year as king. Iceland on June 17 celebrated its fifth anniversary as a republic.

Because soldiers of Marseille, marching into Paris to take part in the attack on the Tuileries in 1792, sang Rouget de Lisle's battle song with such spirit and vigor, it became known as the "Marseillaise."

The plumber, who would be lost without lead pipe and solder, takes his name from the Latin plumbum, meaning lead.

Halley's comet, which put on such a brilliant show in the heavens in 1910, will again be visible to the naked eye on a return visit in 1986. It had a tail about eighteen million miles long when it swept near the earth in 1910.

"DAYS OF YORE"

August 4, 1899

The movement that is said to have started, or that may be attempted in the future, to change the name of Wedgemere back to Mystic will certainly result in failure. The change was suggested by the patrons of the Boston and Maine who use that station, and as they are the ones most interested, Wedgemere it will be for all time.

Owing to a failure to secure the promises of all the business men to observe Trader's Day by closing their stores, it has been decided not to have such a day this year.

Mr. Clifford Hawes last week lost a valuable silk umbrella while out riding. Friday afternoon about two hours after the Star had been printed Mr. Charles F. A. Currier left it at this office to be given to the owner. An ad. in the Star, as a rule, does the business.

Judge Littlefield took a party of gentlemen on a trip to Providence, R. I., Thursday. They went by train and returned by the electrics. A genuine Rhode Island clam bake was much enjoyed, also the sail down the river and the ride on the electrics.

Miss Eliza Chaloner and Mrs. Theo. P. Wilson took the steamer for Yarmouth ,N.S., today. They will go to Digby by rail where Miss Chaloner will visit relatives. Mrs. Wilson will remain at Digby for a few days, then continuing on to Halifax, passing a few days at each of the pretty towns on the line of the railroad. She will be absent several weeks.

The recent test of the hydrants on Highland avenue show the water pressure to be one-half again as much as that in the center of the town. This is caused by the new stand-pipe and citizens on the hill will be pleased to know that a hose coupled on to a hydrant will throw a stream that the steamer need not be ashamed to imitate.

Mr. Thomas Norman and Judge Littlefield have removed the fences from the street line of their adjoining estates and the effect is quite pleasing.

The Highland avenue schoolhouse has been painted and the roof partly reshingled.

Mr. Reuben Davis went to Bar Harbor this week, his first vacation for many years. He is deserving of rest and a change.

Mr. Ralph Redfern is to go to Salt Lake City to engage in the mining business. He is a first class young man, also one of the town's brightest, with a good future before him.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Jones drove over the road to Rockport, Mass., last week Thursday, where they very pleasantly passed a week, returning yesterday. The journey took a day each way, they traveling leisurely, enjoying the scenery and landscape.

A course of social assemblies will be given in Lyceum Hall under the management of Mr. Charles E. O'Connor and Mr. Joseph Donahue, commencing Tuesday evening, August 8, and continuing each Tuesday and Saturday evening until further notice. Dancing from 8 to 12.

Who says J. A. Laraway and Company are not hustlers? Listen: there have been 76 permits for plumbing issued since April 12. Thirteen have gone to outside plumbers with the remaining 53 divided among our 7 master plumbers, of which the hustlers captured 23.

Now the Metropolitan Park Board says it is going to do nothing about the Playground until the Railroad gets out. In the meantime the interest goes steadily on upon the more than $60,000 we have contributed toward a playground which is still in the dim future.

Is such a ridiculous name as Wedgemere, meaning Wedge pond, to be fastened on Mystic Station without a vigorous protest? Without consulting the town at all the name which has stood for about half a century was changed to an entirely inappropriate one, but Mr. Sanborn said that when the new station was built, if the people still strongly objected to the name, Wedgemere, they would consider the question, so that now is the time to protest against calling a station on the Mystic, Wedge Pond. (Echoes)

I wonder how much water the fountain on the common uses that the Water Board should shut it off on account of the drougth? The "stay-at-homes" like to see it going, it is a part of the common's adornment. The middle reservoir is full, the north nearly full, why this scare? (Echoes)

August 8, 1924

It is reported that tomorrow will witness a unique event in the annals of the town. A "berry picking contest" is to be staged by Fireman Harry Brown and Motorman Jack Carney. Dry, hot weather, followed by light rain, has been agreed upon as furnishing ideal conditions for such a contest, and as both the contestants are warmly supported by large followings, the stage appears properly set for some interesting events.

Despite the heroic efforts of Motorcycle Officer Edward O'Connell of the Winchester Police to reach him before he sank, Henry Horn, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn of Loring avenue, lost his life in the waters of Wedge Pond last Tuesday afternoon about 1:30 when he went down in about 25 feet of water at a point approximately 75 feet from the shore in the rear of the residence of Mr. M. C. Ambrose near the Knights of Columbus house on Vine street.

The Davidsons (Captained by Exalted Ruler George T. Davidson) and the Dinneens (captained by Esteemed Leading Knight Maurice Dinneen) struggled manfully to an 8 to 8 tie in the baseball game which featured the outing of Winchester Lodge of Elks at Wardhurst in Lynnfield on Wednesday. The Davidsons lined up with F. H. Scholl, c; James Callahan, p; John Coakley, John Donaghey, William Cleary, A. A. Morrison, G. T. Davidson, Daniel Lynch, William McMullen and Jack Hanlon. For the Dinneens there were Maurice Dinneen, c; Dr. J. H. O'Connor, p; Terrane Cullen, Thomas Fallon, H. Finnella, Arthur Day, George H. Lochman, L. Flanders, Manlino Moffette and J. Morrison. Ted Connors was umpire and John Lynch, scorer.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McLaughlin of Border street sailed Saturday on the S S Cameronia from New York for Londonderry, Ireland, where they plan to visit relatives and friends, being gone about three months.

Officer Reagan was rendered unconscious and suffered injuries to his head and body and Officer Harrold was somewhat shaken up Friday night when the Ford car of the Winchester Police Department crashed into a pole on Washington street as the two policemen with Officer William Cassidy were removing two men, whom they had previously arrested for drunkenness, to the local station home. The accident occurred as the machine swung from Swanton street into Washington street, and was caused by one of the men kicking Officer Reagan, the driver of the machine in the head rendering him unconscious. The men reached police headquarters and subsequently the Woburn Court, from which they started an indefinite stay at the State Farm.

The newly organized Winchester Town Team won its first game last Friday evening when it defeated the Mystics of Woburn on Manchester Field, 5-4. Jack Harriman pitched for Winchester and "Dinny" McManus for Woburn. Jim Fitzgerald broke up the game with a triple with three on in the last inning. Tansey relieved Harriman in the same inning when Woburn threatened.

Dr. James H. O'Connor has been appointed Secretary of Winchester Lodge of Elks to fill the unexpired term of Michael J. Dennen, who resigned this week because of poor health.

Miss Georgia Locke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Locke of Winthrop street, won the championship for fancy diving at Camp Billings, Vt.

Announcement was made at the Town Hall Tuesday morning by the Board of Selectmen of the appointment of Dr. Harry Yeates Nutter of Mt. Vernon street to the office of treasurer for the town of Winchester in place of Mr. George H. Eustis who recently resigned after 14 years of continuous service.

Winchester has sweltered through the hottest week of the summer. Starting last Monday afternoon the mercury has flirted with the 90 degree mark for a greater part of the time, which, combined with the high humidity that has accompanied this week's weather, has produced conditions that have been all but intolerable.

Miss Leah McIntosh was the week-end guest of Miss Aurora Rondina at the Rondina cottage at Rindge, N. H.

Henry T. Martin, S. J., will spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Martin, of Pickering street, preparatory to sailing next Wednesday for Kingston, Jamaica, where he will engage in teaching for the next three years.

In the Father and Son Golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club two Winchester teams were tied for second best net J. L. S., and E. T. Barton and F. H., and Sears Walker carding 66s. The team of C. S., and G. C. Cook, no club given, were the winners.

Mark Kelley of this town, well known to followers of local baseball, pitched Sunday for the Woburn Town Team against the South Boston All Stars at Christopher J. Lee Playground.

Miss Horea Foster of Stone avenue invited a number of friends to see a night-blooming cereus which blossomed in her garden Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nowell were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sanborn at their North Sandwich, N. H., home.

Mr. Theodore R. Godwin is in town for a brief stay. He is located in Florida, where he has been running a cattle ranch for the past six months.

FATHER-SON TOURNEY AT COUNTRY CLUB

The popular Father-Son tournament was still in full cry at the Winchester Country Club when the Star went to press yesterday afternoon with play scheduled to continue until 8 o'clock last night.

At mid-afternoon no one had beaten the 73 posted on Wednesday by John and John Nies, Jr., of United Shoe, which set aside the first round 74 made on Tuesday by Ben and Bob Ayers of Worcester. The home club Monahans, Judge and Joe, Jr., who flew back from the New Englands at Portland for the Winchester tourney equalled the Ayers' figures Wednesday night.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for the week ending Thursday, Aug. 4, as follows:

New dwellings at 28 Franklin road and 7 North Gateway.

Alterations to buildings at 15 Dix street and 13 Church street.

Reshingle dwelling at 16 Lebanon street.

CAMP MOUNT PERO ELECTS BEST CAMPER

The entire camp voted Mike Cantella as the season's outstanding camper. The camp's insignia was presented to Mike at a campfire ceremony Friday night. The selection was based on sportsmanship, cleanliness, cooperation, sincerity, and friendliness. A weiner and marshmello roast terminated the campfire activities.

Jackie Coakley proved to be the boy to make the most improvement in swimming progress with Ernie Cantella next in the swimming and diving activities. Campers Pete Quine, Ernie Cantella, Joe Cussen, Eddy Morse, and Hollie Petri made a trip to Lake Winnepesaukee where they spent most of the day in a classy speedboat. Each of the boys had a chance at the controls. They feasted on hot-dogs, sandwiches, and punch as well as fruit. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morton of Winchester proved to be congenial as well as excellent hosts for this occasion. While these boys enjoyed this activity, campers Charly and Dave Petri, Mike Cantella, Roger Bainbridge, Paul Berman, Albert Simone, and leaders Dud, the body, Samoiloff and Jesse Wade made a cruise around Lake Winnepesaukee aboard the Sophie C.

Roger Bainbridge won the finals in archery taking a lead of ten points over David Petri. Anthony Mucera, a new arrival at camp enjoyed the fishing at Loon Lake. The lake must be getting nearly cleaned out of perch and pickerel as the boys are catching their limit these days. Roland A. Nault, the director caught the prize pickerel. A snapshot was taken of this one to show Charlie Koch of the Sport Shop. Tuesday the campers enjoyed the day at Wellington Beach, Newfound Lake. Swimming contests and outdoor lunch proved to be the highlights of the day.

The season's big event is to take place Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Winchester campers to climb Mt. Washington with a sightseeing trip en-route as well as sleeping below the timber-line include Joe Cussen, Paul Berman, Anthony Mucera, and Al Simone.

A playoff baseball game with the Plymouth team is scheduled for Saturday morning.

Winchester BOY SCOUT News

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Last week we enumerated the Merit Badges available to Second Class Scouts. If, in the course of discussing specific requirements for Merit Badges, we do not reach the subject which you as a reader are specifically interested in, please do not hesitate to call the Boy Scout headquarters on South Border road, or any Scout or Scouter whom you may know. They will be glad to answer your questions and put you in contact with a member of the District Advancement Committee who will be pleased to discuss the Merit Badge Counselor problem with you. If you will only make the effort, you will find the results most interesting. There is no obligation if you talk the matter over, but few will do so without realizing the simplicity of the job from their individual viewpoints and wanting to become a part of this great movement.

In addition to First Aid and Personal Health, which were discussed last week, a Second Class Scout may study two more subjects which will later be required for advancement beyond Star rank, Safety and Pathfinding.

The requirements for these badges are as follows:

Pathfinding:

1. Demonstrate a general knowledge of the district within a three mile limit of the local Scout Headquarters, or his house, so as to be able to guide people at any time, day or night, to points within this area.

2. Know the population of the five principal neighboring towns and cities as selected by his Guide or Counselor. Demonstrate direction for reaching them from Scout Headquarters or his house.

3. If in the country, know the breeds of horses, cattle, sheep, and hogs owned on the five neighboring farms; if in the city, demonstrate directions to tourist camp and to five places for purchase of food supplies.

4. Demonstrate how to direct tourists from his home to gas, oil, tire, and general auto repair service.

5. Give telephone number, if any, and directions for reaching the nearest police station, fire fighting apparatus, Court House or Municipal Building, the nearest county Farm Agent's Office, doctor, veterinarian, and hospital.

6. Know something of the history of his community and the location of its principal places of interest and public buildings.

7. Submit a scale map, not necessarily drawn by himself, upon which he has personally indicated as much as possible of the above-required information.

Safety:

1. Submit evidence of having satisfactorily done one of the following:

(a) made a safety inspection of his home and premises, listed conditions which might prove dangerous, and taken practical measures to remedy at least two such conditions; or

(b) actively shared in the safety work in school over a period of at least ten weeks and at all times done his best by example and attitude to interest his schoolmates in safety activities; or

(c) built a cabinet for the safe and proper storage of medicines and poisons; or a kitchen cabinet for storage of lye, "lysol," ammonia, etc.; or suitable play pen for the baby, screening, if desired, for out door use; or gate guarding stairs for children; or safety rail for cellar stairs with painted white stripes on lowest step; or built and filled sandbox for slippery walks; or recommended a needed safety device for home or Troop and when approved by Counselor, made such a device.

2. Demonstrate how he would make himself visible while walking on the road at night; explain on which side of the road he should walk, day or night, and why.

3. (This requirement may be waived under certain circumstances. In all other cases, evidence must be produced that all practice and tests have been conducted under a range officer whose appointment has been approved by the local or National Council). This requirement does not necessitate the Scout's supplying a gun.)
Demonstrate with a modern gun:
(a) direction he should point the muzzle when picking it up and tell why;
(b) other safety precautions which should always be taken to avoid accidents when handling a gun or passing it to another person, and tell why.

4. Demonstrate with a full size axe, the correct way to carry it safely; how to handle, carry, and store safely different kinds of farm tools such as scythe, sickle, and pitch fork, or sharp-edged tools about the home or shop.

5. Demonstrate
(a) with another boy, what action he would take and tell why, if a child's clothing caught fire;
(b) with two other boys, the method he would use with a twenty-foot rope, and with a board, to rescue a fourth boy who had broken through ice;
(c) how he would save himself if he had broken through ice, and there were no help in sight.

6. Submit and comment on newspaper accounts which he has gathered within a period of the past six months describing at least three different kinds of accidents due to any of the following causes:
(a) stealing rides on automobiles or street cars;
(b) hitch hiking;
(c) crossing streets or highways;
(d) reckless driving;
(e) failure to observe a traffic law.

7. Explain, in discussion with his Counselor, or dramatize with members of his Patrol, what he considers the main safety hazards involved in modern transportation, industry, recreation, and in the home, indicating general ways in which they should be met, including ways for dealing with specific problems such as:
(a) escaping gas;
(b) wire dangling from electric line;
(c) safe storage and use of gasoline;
(d) running engine in closed garage;
(e) three ways of turning in fire alarm, citing best local method giving exact location of nearest fire alarm to his home or place of employment;
(f) appearance of blasting caps, their use, and precautions against untimely explosions.

It is apparent that any boy who who is familiar with the material covered in the above requirements for these Merit Badges would be well enough informed on how to take care of himself so that his parents would have little cause for worry. Wouldn't you feel pretty safe if your son or daughter were being escorted by such a boy? Of course you would, and you yourself would feel confidence in the advice or help you received from such a young man in an emergency. Yet this is only the beginning of what Scouting has to offer, and what the Merit Badge system can do for a boy. We need help in providing Scouts with adequate coverage of the multitude of Merit Badge subjects. Only by the offer of many people can these skills be covered fully and thoroughly, and can the boy studying a subject get the extra tid-bits, those bits of historical lore and stores of use that make a subject so interesting.

Examine, for example, requirement 6 of Pathfinding. The Scout must know something of the history of his community. Is it encouraging for him to be asked to memorize the date of founding or incorporation of a City? Not unless he can have a familiar site pointed out and be told the interesting story of how the event took place. Only someone with real knowledge of his subject can add these morsels of fun and adventure which are the essence of Scouting

SPINACH HOLDING ITS GROUND ON AMERICAN DINNER TABLES

It may be spinach and unpopular with some folks, but Americans in general like it. This year they will eat about 180,000 tons of the bright green leaf bought over grocers' counters in fresh, frozen, and canned form.

That's the estimated size of the commercial spinach crop. It does not include the tons grown in backyard vegetable gardens or retailed by local hucksters.

The figure is well under the quarter-million-ton crops of recent food rationing years. Compared with prewar production, however, notes the National Geographic Society, it shows that spinach is holding its own in the national competition of pot-herb greens.

Texas Winter Garden Leads

As much as the markets will take is sold fresh. Last year, for example, 114,000 tons of spinach were shipped to fresh markets from coast to coast. The rest—about 49,000 tons—matured for the most part when fresh markets were well supplied. It went to processors at prices lower than the fresh-market level, and became the year's pack—canned and quick-frozen.

Texas' renowned Winter Garden area of huge truck crops leads the nation in producing spinach for fresh-market sale. Spinach leaves grow best where soil is rich, water is plentiful, weather is cool without frost, and days are short. The Winter Garden country touching the Rio Grande 130 miles southwest of San Antonio provides these conditions from November to April when most growing areas have too much frost.

A sheep and goat ranging area until 1920, the Winter Garden, hanks to irrigation, now covers five counties. It pours forth onions, cabbages, potatoes, iettuce, spinach, beets, peas and beans in late winter when they bring top prices.

Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande, Crystal City, and Carrizo Springs are its busy centers of spinach shipping in season. At Crystal City, growers in 1937 erected a heroic-size plaster statue of their special hero, Popeye the Sailor.

Near Eagle Pass, one of the biggest onion growers switched gradually to spinach 20 years or more ago. Riding on a national trend to spinach, source of iron, calcium, and vitamins A and C, he increased plantings to cover eight square miles and made his crop of the leaf a million-dollar annual business.

Predates Christian Era

Rivaling Texas in spinach production, California turns four-fifths of its crop over to the processors. Fort Smith on the Arkansas River is center of a fast-growing spinach empire on both sides of the Arkansas-Oklahoma state line. In the east, there are important spinach-growing counties spotted from Virginia to New York.

Spinach was grown in southwest Asia before Christian times. The Arabs cultivated it in North Africa centuries ago, and the Moors are said to have introduced it to Spanish soil. The plant is a member of the versatile goosefoot (Chenopodia) family.

BAIA, BRAZIL'S CITY OF FESTIVALS CELEBRATES ITS 400TH ANNIVERSARY

In 1549 -- nearly three quarters of a century before the Pilgrims landed, and 16 years before the founding of St. Augustine, oldest of U. S. cities -- a little Portuguese settlement was born at a strategic site under the "hump" of the Brazilian coast.

Its full name was Sao Salvador da Bahia de Todos os Santos, "Holy Savior of the Bay of All Saints." Now more popularly known as Bahia, or Baia, according to the new simplified spelling, it is celebrating its 400th anniversary this year in colorful religious festivals.

Baia is both a museum of early Brazil and a center of modern Brazilian industry, notes the National Geographic Society. Its double personality is expressed on two separate levels, linked by elevators, cable cars and steep roads.

Around the broad shimmering bay are the wharves, warehouses, and banks, the big export offices, and the city market. High above, amidst tropically luxuriant vegetation, rise the old colonial mansions, state buildings, libraries, colleges, and many churches.

Baia was the Brazilian capital until the government seat was removed to Rio de Janeiro in 1763. It is still the capital of rich and fertile Baia State. Traces of the city's original military character remain in the old forts built in and around the harbor when rival European powers were seeking land and treasure in the New World.

Baia's early role as the ecclesiastical hub of Portugal's South American possession is still in evidence in its numerous convents, monasteries, and scores of churches, with their gilded interiors, sacred paintings, and elaborately decorated furnishings.

It is in keeping with the traditions and customs of the city that this anniversary commemoration will take the form of religious festivals. For in Baia, now grown to a metropolis of half a million people or more, a festival, honoring various patron saints in procession, music, and ceremony, seems always under way.

Colonial Flavor Lingers

In the upper city, away from the modern avenues, the flavor of a mellow colonial life also lingers on in time honored Portuguese names and culture, and in the iron grillwork and wooden balconies of the soft-tinted old homes.

Down in the busy commercial city are other hangovers of the past. One characteristic figure is that of the street vendor - - a Baiana "mammy" whose ancestors long ago were brought over from Africa as slaves. Her turban, voluminous skirts, jingling ornaments, and draped shawl are a heritage from the African Sudan. From Africa, too, came many a recipe for the sweet and hot tidbits sold from the tray of this wandering merchant.

Baia's first period of prosperity was based on the early slave and sugar traffic. When slavery was abandoned and the sugar fortunes waned, new commercial and industrial enterprises appeared, growing out of the soil of surrounding Baia State.

As the state port, Baia today is a trade center for such products as cacao, tobacco, broom fiber, coffee, hides, and still some sugar. Through the city flows some 98 per cent of northern Brazil's big cacao output. Its Cacao Institute is a model of modern functional architecture.

EDITOR'S CAREER REACHES FIFTY-YEAR MILESTONE

In the spring of 1899 a young man of 23 took a job that, to all outward appearance, had no future.

The job was to edit a slim, technical journal which only a learned few read. It had no money in its coffers, no other employees on its staff, and no paid contributors. Editorial "offices" consisted of desk space occupying half of a cramped and littered rented room.

Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone, was anxious to keep this floundering venture afloat. He was then president of the National Geographic Society. The publication he sought to save was the Society's official organ, the virtually unknown National Geographic Magazine. The young man he brought to Washington for the seemingly impossible job was Gilbert Grosvenor.

The spring of 1949 finds the editing job still very much in existence, though not quite as intimidating as a half century ago. And it finds Gilbert Grosvenor still very much preoccupied with it five decades after taking charge.

This achievement explains why Dr. Grosvenor was honored in special ceremonies at Constitution Hall here, May 19, on his editorial golden jubilee. No other living American magazine editor approaches his record for continuity of service.

The early years were hard and far from encouraging. Pennies had to be pinched, for the Magazine's financial fortunes continued highly precarious. Indeed, from 1899 to 1904 the young editor got his salary only because Dr. Bell contributed it out of his own pocket. Over the five year period the inventor advanced a total of $6,900 for this purpose.

Grosvenor's editorial duties called for something of a jack-of-all-trades. Besides being responsible for planning and handling the content of the Magazine, for increasing membership in the Society, for bookkeeping and fiscal reports, it was one of his chores to address by hand all the envelopes in which copies were mailed. That done, he would carry the Magazines on his back to the post office.

Luckily, the Magazine was slender in those days and the monthly editions (which cost only $169 to print) ran less than 1,000 copies. The chore would be considerably more onerous today, when some two million copies go in the mails monthly. Since the spring of 1899 the Magazine and the National Geographic Society have risen from an insignificant customer of Washington's post office to a position second only to the U. S. Government, both in the volume of mail and the postage costs it represents.

Despite the difficult times the National Geographic Magazine encountered in these early years, it had acquired — unknowingly perhaps — a basic asset which was to make it a nationally known institution and an internationally recognized authoritative publication.

This asset was young Grosvenor's zealous conviction, shared by Dr. Bell, that geographic subjects could be lifted out of the dry-as-dust phrases of technical papers, interesting only to experts, and presented with all the color, adventure and popular appeal that would attract the lay reader, while still keeping accuracy paramount.

Such a transformation did not occur overnight. The Magazine the new editor took over was heavily on the technical side and time elapsed before the new policy began to produce tangible results.

If any definite date can be fixed for when the corner was turned, it may well be 1905. The number of members receiving the Magazine zoomed upwards 260 per cent that year. The Society's employees increased to a total of four persons, including a messenger boy for editorial errands. And, with some misgivings, Editor Grosvenor authorized the purchase — at the extravagant price of $20 — of a treadle-operated machine to address the mailing envelopes, so long tediously done by hand.

For the editorial task he undertook in 1899, Gilbert Grosvenor had no background of specialized training or professional experience in the magazine or newspaper worlds. People today would say he started "cold."

Most of his formative years were spent abroad, perforce out of close touch with the currents of American life. He was born in Turkey where his father, Dr. Edwin A. Grosvenor, was professor of history for two decades at the American-sponsored Robert College at Constantinople (now Istanbul). Turkey was "home" until he returned to the U. S. with his parents for college education.

His scholastic career at Amherst was brilliant and he graduated with many honors. Like so many honor students before and since, however, he soon discovered that academic awards guaranteed no short cut to speedy preferment in the work-a-day world. Upon graduation he took an unexciting post as teacher at the Englewood (N. J.) Academy for Boys. Here he was instructing in French, German, Latin, algebra, chemistry and public speaking when he received the invitation from the National Geographic Society. At Alexander Graham Bell's request he came to Washington to try his hand at editing.

Perhaps his youth abroad, his familiarity with distant places, his love of travel equipped him with an intuitive "know how" in the geographic field which he applied with marked advantage in his vocation. His educational and teaching background proved a bigger advantage than appears at first glance.

In his early efforts to popularize articles on geography, Editor Grosvenor found a helpful and welcome ally in the new arts of photography and photoengraving. He saw to it that the National Geographic Magazine lost no time in enlisting them to increase both the Magazine's popular appeal and educational value.

The publication started using pictures on an unprecedented scale. When color photos supplemented black-and-whites, he promptly undertook to bring readers illustrations in natural colors. In both fields of photography, the emphasis was on superior quality and technical excellence in reproduction.

The lavish use of photo illustrations in the National Geographic has been credited with exerting an early and important influence on the development of the visual journalism so familiar to Americans today. Some of Dr. Grosvenor's admirers claim that he was a leading pioneer, just as they believe that his concept of popularized geography blazed the trail for the understandable, down-to-earth treatment of scientific subjects which newspaper readers now have come to take for granted in the daily press.

Besides sparking the development of the photographic content of the Magazine, Grosvenor felt that maps could be made as interesting and important. As soon as finances permitted, the nucleus of a cartographic staff was assembled and the first of the National Geographic maps appeared as supplements to the Magazine.

In very little time they became a reference standby for accuracy and precision. When World War II engulfed the globe, the Geographic maps were utilized on an extensive scale by Anglo-American arms, and the top leaders of the Western allies voiced their appreciation that the maps were so available — and so useful.

A quiet-mannered man, with the benevolent mien of a professor emeritus, Dr. Grosvenor at 73 professes to see nothing magic in the formula he used to make the Magazine a success. To him, the revolution he engineered was a matter of obvious common sense.

After the corner was turned in 1905, the fortunes of the Magazine and the National Geographic Society advanced steadily. Its headquarters expanded in more commodious quarters. Annual reports record substantial increases both in circulation and membership virtually ever since. Only depression intervals in the 1920's and 1930's saw any ground lost, and that little was speedily recovered.

In his half century as editor, Dr. Grosvenor has passed on articles submitted by many of the world's great — presidents of the United States, statesmen, explorers, scientists, men of arms, and travelers. His has been the final say in the selection of photographs from some of the outstanding men in this field.

In addition, he has played an active role in the planning and preparation of virtually all of the hundred and more expeditions which the Society has sponsored to various parts of the world.

Despite his editorial responsibilities and the duties as President of the National Geographic Society, which he assumed upon election in 1920, "the Chief," as his staff calls him, has squeezed in time for extensive travel in both hemispheres. Associates say that in a dull, minimum year, he will log well over 10,000 miles. Very often he has run up several times that total.

Geography and the Society are his major hobbies, as one might suspect. Next rank his interests in birds and in sailing. He is not a little proud of his proficiency as skipper of his 52-foot auxiliary yawl, "Elsie," but birds are the sure-fire subject to rouse his enthusiasm. He never tires of talking about them, individually or collectively.

Among his incidental interests are the humorous stories, cartoons, and jests about the National Geographic that have appeared through the years. Next to the visitor's register at the Society's headquarters is a scrapbook, which the staff knows as the "Funny Book." It was started at Dr. Grosvenor's direction and into it goes a miscellany of such clippings — many of them first spotted by "the Chief."

One post-war cartoon, for example, shows the Marines leaving a Pacific island after V-J day, while down the beach a sun-helmeted expedition dashes ashore after a leader who bears the National Geographic flag. The caption: "Well, here we go again."

Dr. Grosvenor considers the "Funny Book" a valuable item among the Geographic's extensive equipment. "A sense of humor is a fine thing," he has said, "and this is a good reminder not to take ourselves too seriously."

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL RECEIVES FEDERAL FUNDS

Edward H. Kenerson, President of the Board of Directors of Winchester Hospital, announces receipt of approval by the Surgeon General of the Hospital's application for federal funds in support of its building program. This federal aid, to the amount of one dollar for every two raised by the Hospital, will make possible enlargement and modernization in accordance with plans drawn by the architects, James H. Ritchie and Associates.

Winchester Hospital's service extends beyond the confines of the town itself to a large neighboring area. It has for several years been operating under severe pressure for additional bed capacity, and takes satisfaction in the recognition of its usefulness by the approval of its application to the Surgeon General through the Division of Hospital Survey and Construction of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. On Hospital Day, May 12, 1949, Mr. Kenerson announced that the Building Fund gifts from private individuals had reached more than $500,000., and that early beginning of construction was assured. Enlargement of the Hospital's capacity from 72 to 104 adult beds, and bassinets from 20 to 40, will be followed by thorough renovation and reconstruction of existing units.

SWIMMING MEET WITH ARLINGTON

The Winchester Swimming Club, a team comprised of Winchester boys and girls from eight to sixteen years of age, will compete in a swimming meet with Arlington on this Sunday, August 7, at Reservoir Beach in Arlington.

The youngsters on the Winchester team have been working out for the past several weeks and are now ready for competition. The Arlington team will have an edge in experience since they have already had several dual meets. Yet Winchester has some good swimmers, particularly among the older girls, and the meet should provide some close competition and good swimming.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Downes of Cambridge street announce the engagement of their daughter, Rose, to Mr. Herbert Warren Arnold, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Warren Arnold of Allen road.

Miss Downes is a graduate of the May School and of Radcliffe College. Mr. Arnold attended Boston College and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, receiving the degree of LL.B. from Boston College School of Law. During the war he served in the Navy as radar officer aboard a cruiser in the South Pacific.

FULLER — NELSON ENGAGEMENT

Announcement has been made in Los Angeles of the engagement of Marye Elizabeth Nelson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Byron Graff to Harold Sylvester Fuller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Fuller of Hancock, N. H., and formerly of Winchester.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Los Angeles High School, is a student of piano and voice. Mr. Fuller graduated from Dartmouth College, where he was a Chie Phi and a Sphinx.

ITALIAN RESIDENTS TO CELEBRATE ASSUMPTION FEAST

The annual Feast of the Assumption will this year be celebrated in Winchester on August 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14th.

At Shore Road Field, a program including carnival features with many attractions for young and old will be open to the public. On August 14th, at 2 p. m. beginning at Shore Road Field, a procession with the statue of the Virgin Mary and with many participants will march through Washington, Swanton, Chester, Harvard, Irving, Florence, Olive, Cedar, Tremont, Oak, Holland and Spruce streets, ending at Shore Road Field.

On Saturday and Sunday evenings a well known band will render concert music at the field.

On August 15th, feast day of the Saint, a mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church.

The Committee, which includes George Tofuri, Chairman, Robert Fiore, Treasurer, John B. Mercurio, Secretary, Orazio Fiore, Alfanso, Cucolo, Victor Ficociello and Joseph DiTucci, wish to thank each and everyone who in some way helped to make this celebration a success.

The committee regrets that the fireworks usually displayed at this annual affair will not take place, due to circumstances beyond their control.

BRIDAL SHOWER

A bridal shower for Miss Mary Jean Conley of Chisholm road was held at the home of Mrs. Muriel Dyson, 70 Central street, Somerville, on Thursday, July 21st.

In a setting of yellow and green, Miss Conley was pleasantly surprised by her friends and was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

The guests included the Misses Anne and Eleanor Dalton, Louise and Bunny Perkins, Marilyn Tucker, Jean Burke, Joan and Nancy Laverty, Eileen Monty, Betty Dolloff of Lexington, Midge Dyson, and Mesdames Peggy Rallo, of Stoneham, Rose Nilo of Somerville, Barbara Dryden, June Cross, Elsie Laverty, Gladys Conley, Muriel Dyson, and Mrs. M. B. Ewalt of Stoneham.

MISS SONJA D. WEEKS HAS BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Sonja Dorothy Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Weeks of 15 Fells road, celebrated her seventh birthday on August 3rd with an afternoon party.

Among those helping to make it a happy occasion were: Cathie Washburn, Judy Murray, Gail Henricks, Beverly Bonnell, Susan Weeks, Sonja Weeks, Douglas Thomson, Donald Murray, Bruce Bonnell, all of Winchester, Gail Sandgren of Lexington, Bobby Weeks of Sharon, and Dean Anderson of Medford.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmar Sandgren of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sandgren of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell B. Weeks of Sharon, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Lawrence Anderson of Medford.

A good time was had by all.

OBSERVED 25th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Morrow of Kenwin road observed their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday evening, August 6, at a party given in their honor by their daughter, Miss Ruth Mae Morrow, at the Hunt Room of the Town Line Cafe in Woburn.

Garden flowers made an attractive background for the party at which the Morrows were presented with a silver service and other gifts in silver. A buffet supper was served and there was dancing to McCarter's Orchestra.

BERTRAM BREWER

Former Waltham Engineer Native of Winchester

Bertram Brewer, former city engineer of Waltham, who died Monday, August 8, at his home, 44 Black Rock road, Cohasset, was a native of Winchester, having been born in this town August 15, 1869. His parents were Charles, and Clara (Conant) Brewer and the family home was on Lake street. He had been away from Winchester for many years.

Mr. Brewer was city engineer of Waltham for 20 years. He had lived in Cohasset since his retirement 20 years ago. His wife, the former Lillian A. Moulton, died in 1929. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Frederick W. Buis of Wolfeboro, N. H., and Mrs. Clara Hovey of Upper Montclair, N. J.

Mr. Brewer was a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, Massachusetts Horticultural Society, South Shore Nature Club and the Royal Arch Chapter of Waltham.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Wentworth & Sons Chapel in Waltham with Rev. Frederick V. Stanley, pastor of the Beechwood Congregational Church in Cohasset, officiating. Interment was in Mt. Feake Cemetery, Waltham.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR F. P. LEWIS

Funeral services for Frederic Percyval Lewis, assistant registrar of voters and for more than 40 years a resident of Winchester, were held on last Saturday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel.

Officers of Mystic Valley Lodge of Masons, of which the deceased was a charter and life member, conducted the services, headed by the Master, George F. Deroo, and Chaplain, Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Bailey delivered the brief eulogy. Organ music was played by Mary Ranton Witham, organist and music director of the Unitarian Church. Interment was in the family lot in the old cemetery in Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Lewis, whose home was at 44 Mt. Vernon street, died August 4 at the Winchester Hospital, after a brief illness. He was born June 20, 1879, in Woburn, was graduated from Harvard and studied music abroad for two years. He was a member and fellow of the American Guild of Organists.

A resident of Winchester since 1905, Mr. Lewis was appointed Assistant Assessor of Winchester March 23, 1922, and became Assistant Registrar of Voters April 1, 1939. As a schoolboy he played the organ in Trinity Church, Woburn, and later succeeded his father as organist and director of music at the Unitarian Church in Woburn, holding that position for many years. He last played regularly at Trinity Church in Woburn, though he frequently substituted for organists throughout the Mystic Valley.

Mr. Lewis was a Mason, a member of William Parkman and Mystic Valley Lodges, of Mt. Horeb Lodge of Woburn and of the Royal Arch Chapters of Woburn, Medford and Winchester. He left no immediate family.

MRS. ELIZABETH C. DODD

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Dodd, widow of Silas W. Dodd and mother of Stephen H. Dodd of 86 Bacon street, died early Wednesday morning at the Brawn Nursing Home in Stoneham after an illness of three weeks. She had made her home with her son in Winchester for the past two years, her 91 years making her one of the town's oldest residents.

Mrs. Dodd was born in St. Louis, Mo., November 14, 1857. She was educated at Mary Institute in St. Louis and spent most of her married life in New Jersey. Following her husband's death many years ago she had made her home with her son, latterly in Lowell, Hartford and Boston, coming with him and his family to Winchester two years ago. She was a member of the First Congregational Church.

Besides her son, Mrs. Dodd leaves five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held on this Friday afternoon at 2:30 in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the Rev. Donald B. Tarr officiating. Interment will be in Rosedale Cemetery, East Orange, N. J.

MARIO LONIGRO

Mario Lonigro of 106 Swanton street, died Tuesday afternoon, August 9, at his home after a long illness.

Born in Italy 70 years ago, he had made his home in Winchester for the past 40 years, being employed by Beggs & Cobb as a leather worker for 35 years until his retirement in 1945. He was a member of Winchester Lodge, 1580, Sons of Italy in America.

Mr. Lonigro's wife, the former Grace Agri, died four years ago. He leaves a son, Peter Lonigro of Winchester; a sister, Mrs. Frank Patari of Boston, and three grandchildren.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn high mass of requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Miss Elizabeth Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Collins, left town Tuesday with her brother, Clark Jr., for Iowa City, Iowa. She will serve as Director of Occupational Therapy at the State University of Iowa Hospital. Clark Jr. is also located in the West near Iowa City. They are making the journey by automobile.

REV. EDWARD D. MAGUIRE

Roxbury Pastor was Native of Winchester

Rev. Edward D. Maguire, pastor of St. Patrick's Church in Roxbury and a native of Winchester, died suddenly on Thursday, August 4, of a heart attack, while attending to his pastoral duties in the rectory of his church. He had not been known to be in poor health and his sudden passing came as a severe shock to his parishioners and many friends throughout the Greater Boston archdiocese, and especially to older residents of Winchester, among whom he and his family have long been widely known. He and his older brother, Rev. Eugene A. Maguire, pastor of the Blessed Sacrament Church of Hough's Neck, were often in Winchester to visit their old home on Lincoln street and it was seldom that one was seen without the other.

Father Maguire was the son of the late James, and Mary (McCarthy) Maguire. He was born October 6, 1892, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School for two years before going south to Elliott City, Maryland, to enter preparatory school and then St. Charles College where he commenced his studies for the Roman Catholic priesthood. He continued his studies at St. John's Seminary in Brighton, having been in the same group of students as Archbishop Cushing.

Father Maguire was ordained March 22, 1918, by the late Cardinal O'Connell at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston. His first assignment was as assistant at St. Angela's Church in Mattapan where he remained for 13 years. He then was assigned to St. John's Parish in Cambridge, where he remained 11 years, going from there to the pastorate of St. Zepherin's Church in Cochituate. He had been pastor of St. Patrick's in Roxbury since January of 1947.

Besides his brother in the priesthood he leaves a sister, Miss Margaret Maguire, and a brother, Patrick F. Maguire, the latter widely known as a pharmacist in both Winchester and Woburn.

The office of the dead was chanted in St. Patrick's Church Sunday afternoon, after which the body lay in state until 9 p. m.

A mass for the children of the parish was celebrated at 8 o'clock Monday morning, followed by a solemn pontifical funeral mass at 10 o'clock.

Bishop John J. Wright, D.D., was celebrant, assisted by a Winchester priest, Rev. Charles A. Donahue, pastor of St. Theresa's Church, Roxbury. Deacons of honor were Rev. Joseph J. Leonard, pastor of St. Theresa's Church, Revere, and Rev. Daniel Golden, pastor of St. Monica's Church, South Boston.

The actual deacon was Rev. Francis L. Keenan, pastor of St. Michael's Church, Lowell; the subdeacon, Rev. James M. Daley, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Medford; master of ceremonies, Rev. Frederick McManus, Cathedral of the Holy Cross; crucifer, Rev. John Quinlan, pastor of Blessed Sacrament Church, Middleton; thurifer, Rev. Leo N. O'Day, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Groveland; and accolites, Rev. Francis Murphy, Star of the Sea Church, Squantum; and Rev. George E. Hanlon, S. J., of the Immaculate Conception Church, Boston.

Book bearer was Rev. John M. Quirk, Blessed Sacrament Church, Hough's Neck; gremial bearer, Rev. Francis McLaughlin, St. Joseph's Church, Medford; bugia bearer, Rev. Frank Scannel, S. J., Boston College High School; and mitre bearer, Rev. Frank Griffin, S. J., Boston College High School.

Rev. Hugh F. Blunt, LL.D., pastor of St. John's Church, Cambridge, under whom Father Maguire served, both in the parish and in St. John's Parochial School, delivered the eulogy, speaking intimately of his late assistant and paying high tribute to him as a man and as a priest.

Officers of St. Vincent de Paul's Society in St. Patrick's Parish served as honorary bearers. An overflow crowd attended the funeral.

Seated in the Sanctuary were twelve monsignors, and scores of nuns were present, representing St. Patrick's Parish School, the Little Sisters of the Poor, Sisters of Charity and the Dominican Order. Mt. Pleasant Council, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus; Holy Name Society, St. Patrick's Alumnae and the Legion of Mary were also represented.

Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery where Rev. George E. Hanlon, S. J., a cousin of Father Maguire, led a large group of priests in the committal prayers.

Goddu of Marshall road, has been set for Wednesday, Aug. 31. The ceremony will take place at four-thirty at the Chapel, Ashville School, Ashville, N. C.

EXTRA!

Temperature below 90 (88) as the STAR went to Press.

MORE AND MORE HEAT

The heat that has kept Winchester sizzling since early June continued this week, after another hot week-end. Temperatures were in the 90s Saturday and Sunday, with Sunday the hotter day of the two.

Monday and Tuesday were hot with temperatures well over the 95 degree mark, and Wednesday was a real scorcher, one glass in the center showing 100 degrees and the other 102. Readings up to 108 or higher in the sun were reported at hot spots around town.

Wednesday forenoon Isabel N. Lydon, 71, of 426 Main street, became ill while standing beside Hevey's Pharmacy, apparently waiting for the bus. Her condition was called to the attention of Officer Alfred Poole who immediately called Headquarters for the police ambulance. Mr. William Sheehan of Hevey's Pharmacy, assisted by bystanders, cared for Miss Lydon until the arrival of the ambulance, in which she was taken to the hospital by Officer Poole and Officer John Hogan.

Emergency treatment was administered at once by a nurse, after which Miss Lydon was attended by Dr. Phillip J. McManus.

The seriousness of her illness was not known at once, but it is believed that the extreme heat contributed to her condition.

What has made the heat spell so difficult to endure has been the hot and sticky nights which by no means have been conducive to restful sleep. Lawns and shrubbery around town, unless constantly watered, have become parched and yellow, and the low water and polio scare has reduced the numbers at the town beaches to unbelievably low figures. Town playgrounds have become veritable dust-bowls, and it seems that some steps should be taken, if the water is available, to wet these fields down occasionally, or especially the hard and soft-ball diamonds which are being used. Dust from the powdery soil is constituting a health menace, both to the players and spectators at the games.

DEMPSEY — STEPENUCK

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at St. Thomas Aquinas Church in Jamaica Plain on Saturday afternoon, July 30, when Miss Mary Anne Stepenuck, daughter of Mr. Jacob Stepenuck of 24 Dane street, Peabody, became the bride of Edward Philbin Dempsey, son of Mr. Patrick Dempsey of 907 Main street. Rev. Fr. John L. Parsons performed the ceremony at 1:30 o'clock.

The bride wore an ankle-length dress of white lace with a shirred bodice and a matching halo hat with tulle veiling. Her flowers were white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis, centered with a large orchid.

Miss Barbara P. Dempsey, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. She wore an ankle-length dress of orchid satin with a wide collar and large pouch-like pockets. Her headdress was a circlet of yellow tea roses and orchid satin and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of roses matching those in her hair. Stephen Stepenuck, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Dempsey.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge with the bride's sister, Mrs. James H. Wheat, and Miss Katherine Dempsey, sister of the bridegroom, assisting in receiving.

After a honeymoon spent at Hyannis and Falmouth on the Cape and touring Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey will be at home in Cambridge after September 1.

The bride, a graduate of the Beverly Training School for Nurses and of Boston University, class of 1948, is nursing instructor at the Rutland Veterans Administration Hospital in Rutland. Mr. Dempsey attend Boston College and is a field agent for the State Department of Public Health.

SOFT BALL FINALS START MONDAY

Finals for the championship of the Town Soft Ball League commence Mondav night at Ginn Field with the Maguire Motors meeting the winner of the playoff series between the Sons of Italy and the Legion.

The series will be best three in five games and will be played on alternate nights, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. In the event of rain games will be played the following night. Games start at 6:15.

Maguire Motors won a final berth by eliminating the Atomics, league leaders in the top half of the playoffs, two straight.

CHILD INJURED ON HEMINGWAY STREET

John Porter, 4, of 4 Garden street, Woburn, escaped serious injury Wednesday afternoon when he ran into an automobile being driven west on Hemingway street, by Augustine W. MacDonald of 22 Hemingway street.

Mr. MacDonald told the police the little boy ran from the southerly side of the street behind a car parked in front of the residence of Edward A. McKenzie of 8 Hemingway street. Mr. MacDonald said he stopped his car, but young Porter ran into it, sustaining injuries to his nose and a scratched arm.

The boy was taken to the office of Dr. Francis Logue in Woburn and then to his home.

BIDS IN FOR MYSTIC SCHOOL

Proposals from ten General Contractors for the construction of additions to the Mystic School were received by the Building Committee at the office of the Superintendent of Schools at four o'clock last Thursday, August 4th, and were opened in the presence of the contractors. The proposals received were as follows:

J. E. D'Amore, Inc.	$217,900
Vara Construction, Inc.	219,740
Steed-Barber Corporation	223,000
Walter L. Ritchie	223,846
Eisenberg-Marden Corp.	226,150
Bossi Construction, Inc.	229,229
White Construction Co.	229,700
Frankini Construction Co.	237,300
Grande & Son, Inc.	238,297
Bond Brothers, Inc.	246,704

The estimated cost of the work reported at the Town Meeting by the Committee was $222,500.

J. E. D'Amore, Inc. carried a plumbing sub-contractor who had informed the Architect that he had notified all General Contractors that his proposal was not to be used because it was in error. Substitution of the next low plumbing sub-contractor in D'Amore's list of sub-bidders made the Vara Construction, Inc. low bidder.

No recognition could be given to the action of the plumbing subcontractor, however, until after the sub-bidder's proposals were opened which, under the law, could not take place until a General Contractor had been selected.

After an opportunity had been given the Architect to study the proposals and investigate the low bidders, a meeting of the Committee was held and J. E. D'Amore was selected as General Contractor for the work. The proposals submitted by the major sub-contractors were then opened and reviewed.

On Tuesday the J. E. D'Amore Co., Inc. informed the Committee that they were unable to use the plumbing sub-contractor named in their proposal. The Committee then rescinded its previous action and selected Vara Construction, Inc. as General Contractor.

The sub-contractors approved by the Committee are as follows:

Roofing and Flashing	Bacon Roofing Company
Lathing and Plastering	Frederick A. Connor
Painting	F. A. Blomquist Co.
Plumbing	Wm. H. Mitchell & Son Co.
Heating and Ventilating	A. L. Butler & Co.
Electrical	Edwin C. Lewis, Inc.

The final selection of sub-contractors established a contract sum of $225,862.00.

Work on the project is to be started immediately and two of the new classrooms are scheduled to be ready for use January next.

SEIDLE — EUSTIS

At King's Chapel in Boston on Tuesday, August 9, Miss Harriet Johonnott Eustis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Eustis of Church street, became the bride of Dr. Charles A. Seidle of Bethlehem, Pa., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Seidle. Rev. Frederick M. Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association, read the marriage service at noon and a wedding breakfast for the immediate families was served after the marriage at the Parker House, Boston.

Miss Eustis was given in marriage by her father, and was unattended. Robert Seidle of Washington, D. C., twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Dr. and Mrs. Seidle are to make their home in Bethlehem, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and received her M. A. from Columbia University. Dr. Seidle received the degree of Ed. D. from Columbia and is associate dean of students at Lehigh University.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Word has been received of the death on August 6th of Mrs. Helen T. Briggs, aged 69 years, and wife of Mr. Herbert T. Briggs, both former well known residents of Winchester. Mrs. Briggs was the former Helen Towne of Calumet road and her husband was a resident of Central street. Mrs. Briggs collapsed and died at Naples, Florida, of a heart attack while in swimming. Her husband was vice-president of the E. N. Rollins Company, Devonshire street, Boston, until 1928, when he was elected president of the Public Industrials Corporation. Besides her husband Mrs. Briggs leaves a son and a daughter.

OFFFICER O'CONNELL IMPROVED

The condition of Patrolman Archie T. O'Connell of the police department, who has been seriously ill with bleeding ulcers at the Winchester Hospital, is reported as much improved. He was removed Wednesday by Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Officer John J. Dolan in the police ambulance to the Chelsea Naval Hospital where he will recuperate. Officer O'Connell, one of the older men of the local force, is a veteran of World War I, having served in the Navy.

WINCHESTER REPUBLICAN 21 CLUB

Ten members of the Winchester Republican 21 Club were present in Millbury at the Summer Convention of the Republican 21 Club of Massachusetts. Honorable Warren G. Harris was host to the outing, which included airplane rides from Windle Airport in Millbury, swimming, motor boat rides, waterskiing, and aquaplaning on Lake Singletary. A picnic supper was followed by a short business meet-

HOME FROM WEST COAST

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cullen of Bacon street, accompanied by their daughter, Franceline and sons, James, Jr., Frank and Bryan, returned to Winchester last Friday at 5 o'clock in the morning from Oakland, Cal., where Mr. Cullen attended the National Convention of County Officials. Incidentally Mr. Cullen, a Democrat, was authorized to go to the convention by his Republican colleagues on the three-man Board of Middlesex County Commissioners.

At the convention Mr. Cullen aroused considerable comment by calling attention to the inconsistency of the National Association of County Commissioners in advocating an increase in Social Security coverage and benefits when one of the primary objectives of the organization is to combat the intensification of Federal control.

The Cullens made the trip west by automobile, returning by way of the Great Lakes and crossing Lake Michigan on the Milwaukee Clipper. From there they came east to New York and Niagara on their way back to Winchester.

Their younger daughter, Lorraine, and her small brother, Jerry, did not make the trip, Lorraine at her own request staying with Jerry at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Anne K. Fitzgerald, in Woburn.

SAILING FOR ENGLAND TODAY

William Adriance Withington of 174 Mystic Valley Parkway is sailing from Boston today, August 12, on the S. S. Nova Scotia for the British Isles, returning from Liverpool September 12 on the S. S. Newfoundland, both boats being of the Furness Line.

Mr. Adriance, during his short stay abroad hopes to visit friends and meet British geographers as well as see various parts of the British Isles.

He is a member of the Department of Geography at George Washington University in Washington and has been continuing his teaching this summer, teaching Economic Geography and a review course in geography for Foreign Service applicants. In addition to his teaching duties he found time for a 25 mile hike with the Boy Scouts in the mountains near Washington. He is the son of Mrs. Margaret Adriance Withington of this town.

"JACK" SANBORN ILL

John A. Sanborn of Apple Way, Nahant, former Winchester resident and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oren Cheney Sanborn, whose estate, Aigremont, is now occupied by Marycliff Academy, is reported as quite ill with a heart ailment at the Lynn Hospital.

Mr. Sanborn, known familiarly as "Jack", was stricken with a heart attack last Friday while stopping at Twin Mountains in the White Mountains. He was treated at Rochester, N. H., and driven to his home in Nahant, accompanied by his wife, Edith.

Saturday he was removed to the Lynn Hospital where his condition was regarded as serious and he was placed in an oxygen tent. He and his sister, Mrs. Helen Sanborn Hamlin of Temple, N. H., are the last of a family well known in Winchester in the early nineteen hundreds.

MATTSON WON FEATURED 800 METERS

McGrath and Roberta Coon Winchester Winners in Swimming Meet at Leonard

Bob Mattson of the Ionic Boys Club, Worcester, edged Kerry Donovan of the Wanskuk Boys Club, Rhode Island, to win the New England A.A.A.U. senior 800 meters freestyle championship in the swimming meet held last Saturday afternoon at Leonard Field Pool under the auspices of the Winchester Park Department and the Boston American-Record.

This 800 meter swim turned out to be the feature event of the meet with the closest competition imaginable all the way. Donovan, holder of the senior 100, 200 and 400 meter crowns, was definitely out to add the 800 meter title to his list and he made a great bid to carry out his objective. Mattson beat him in the first of four trial heats by slightly less than seven seconds, but not more than two or three feet separated the pair at the end of the grueling final.

For half of the 32 laps the pair were right together, swimming stroke for stroke. Donovan seemed to have a slight edge on each of the back stretches, but the stocky Mattson hung on grimly and for the most part the two boys made their turns together.

Midway through the second half of the race Donovan put on speed and drew away from Mattson until he led by two body-lengths. Mattson in turn spurted and drew up even again. It was even-Stephen then until the 31st lap with Mattson perhaps a head in front on some of the up stretches and Donovan returning the compliment on the return 25.

On the 31st lap Mattson really made his bid and was a body-length ahead of Donovan at the turn, adding to his lead on the back stretch, until at the gun lap he was a good three body-lengths in front.

Donovan cut this lead a length at the turn and really poured it on down the back stretch, with Mattson stroking grimly to hold his lead. He couldn't do it as Donovan gradually closed the gap, but as Mattson tagged up the winner, Donovan was still two or three feet back in a great finish. Both boys must have had the same time, 10m 53.2s, which was fast enough to send the officials diving into the statistics for a possible record.

The 800 was the only senior championship carded. Next to it and carrying even more local interest was the 100 yards breastroke open event for men, in which Bob McGrath, ace Winchester swimmer, was entered.

Bob had to face Bob Mattson in the one-race final and despite leading off the first two turns, finally lost by a scant three yards to the Worcester churner in 1m 13.9s, a poor last turn proving too big a handicap over the last 25 meters.

Another event in which there was plenty of Winchester interest was the N. E. A. A. A. U. junior 100 meter freestyle championship for women. Diane and Joan McNeill, Sonia Smith and Roberta Coon were local entrants with Roberta getting into the final by virtue of a fourth heat win in 1m 24.3. Sonia was second in the third heat to Lois Aspinall of the Worcester Aquamaids, the ultimate winner, and Joan was third in the second heat, won by Mary McNamara of the Metropolitan Swim Club of Boston.

Lois Aspinall outswam the strong but not-so-smooth Lorraine LaBelle of the Brockton Elks over the last 25 meters to win the final by a body-length. Further back Joanne Willis of the Brockton Elks just edged Roberta Coon for third place, spurting in over the last two or three meters.

There was a good sized crowd on hand for the meet despite the heat, and visitors who make the rounds of such events thought it the best of the season from a competitive and crowd standpoint. This was flattering to Meet Manager Anne Murray, Park Department lifeguard, who handled the multitudinous details and has been a busy girl with details for the past three weeks.

Anne and Lifeguard Addison Augusta were among the officials as was Don Armstrong, Winchester Red Cross Swim instructor. Frank "Dutch" Holland was referee and starter, Herbert Holm was chief judge, Al Houston, clerk of course, and Larry Santapaul, chief timer. Following is the summary:

Splashes and Turns

Helen Jay Carroll, Miss Winchester Swimming, came up from the Cape for the meet in her new "Chevvie". Whatever good comes to Winchester in swimming is largely due to her vision and efforts.

Up Worcester way the folks are raising funds to send the 18 year old Mattson to the Pacific Coast to compete in the Nationals.

Winchester didn't have any winners in the 12 and under class but Jack DiBona, Bob Crockett, Pat McDonough and Joe Bellino were in there trying on the boys side, and all but DiBona placed in their heats, Crockett and Bellino taking seconds. DiBona was just nosed out for third in his heat.

Both Winchester's placing finalists, Bob McGrath and Roberta Coon, were victimized by bad final turns. That old last turn just about means the race too if it is any way close at all.

The A. A. A. U. officials couldn't use Lou Goddu as a timer because he is not a member of their Union. That's a laugh to those who know Lou's ability with a stop-watch. There was no more capable timer on the raft last Saturday and few as good!

The police and lifeguards had the dickens of a time keeping competitors and visiting firemen off the officials platform and from in front of the stands. Just why competitors and coaches feel they have the right to sit on the platform in front of those trying to keep track of the meet, let alone the spectators, is hard to understand.

The officials surely didn't give Louise Sherlock any the best of it when they made her swim the 100 meter breaststroke right on top of the 100 meter backstroke, two tough races, the breaststroke being particularly taxing. The pretty Wanskuk girl would have had to swim both events without any rest had it not been for Larry Santapaul of the Bunker Hill Boys Club, chief timer, who noticed the error and insisted on Louise having a chance at least to get her breath. The fact that Miss Sherlock finished last in the breaststroke indicates how tired she was. She won her heat easily and should never have been last in that final field.

This young Smithers lassie looks like quite a swimmer. She was two seconds faster than her nearest rival in the girls' 50 and good enough to win her heat in the open backstroke for women, though she didn't make the final.

Little Miss Smithers is all decked out between races in sweat clothes with her name on the back of the shirt like a prize-fighter or your favorite garage mechanic. She is 11 and unbelieveably good at distances around a mile, having a truly great kick.

Young as she was, Ginny wasn't the meet's youngest participant, young tow-headed Gerry McNeill, a three, or was it a two-year older, giving an exhibition dive off the pier and doing a bit of swimming in deep water.

The workers at the officials' and press table surely appreciated the cold tonic provided by Jack Conway of the American-Record who was covering the meet with a photographer.

One of the hardest workers at the meet was Frances Buzzota, who served as swimming messenger between the officials platform and press table.

Frances won the novice 100 yard freestyle at the Cape Codder Meet at Falmouth two or three weeks ago and is a husky girl who should improve as she goes along.

One of the kiddies in the younger girls race caught a cramp or something half way down the course. She was quickly towed to safety by Lifeguard Bob, or was it Dick, Horn. Anyway it was one of the Horns! and he did a swell job with the kids on the float, too! After all Officer Jack Elliott couldn't be everywhere ALL the time!

Mrs. George Schiraga and two daughters, Phyllis and Paula, of Highland terrace, are enjoying a two weeks vacation on the Cape with friends. Mrs. Martha Thurston of Center Ossipee, N. H. is acting as governess for the two younger children in the absence of Mrs. Schiraga.

NIES OF U. S. SHOE WON FATHER - SON EVENT

John and John Nies, Jr., of United Shoe won the 30th Father and Son Golf Tournament at the Winchester Country Club with a one-over-par 73, posted on Wednesday, the second of the three day tournament.

A Winchester team, the Monahans, Judge and Joe, Jr., finished in a tie with Ben and Robert Ayers of Worcester, a stroke off the championship pace, carding a 74 on Wednesday after flying down from Portland where they participated in the New England Amateur Championships. The Ayers turned in their figures to lead the field in Tuesday's opening round play. Dave and Jim Wilcox of Winchester had the best third-day round Thursday with a 75.

Dr. Edward Cooney and son Ted, 16 of Charles River, won net honors with a 75-13-62. Once again a Winchester team finished in a tie for second honors, this time a four-way tie, with Ralph and Doug Wilde having a reduced 64 to match the cards of the Wenham team of B. H. and Ben Bowden, R. H., Jr., and Ben Chittick, 3rd, of Salem and John and Bob Mitchell of Bear Hill.

R. H. Chittick, Jr., won the prize for father playing with two sons, posting a 64-68-132 to top the 65-70-135 turned in by the old Winchester favorite, Percy Goodale, now playing from Woods Hole. Goodale played with sons, Bob and Ben. Chittick with R. H., 3rd, and Donald.

Arthur Billingham, Jr., of Needham and nine-year-old Arthur, 3rd, won the division for father playing with son under 12, having an 88-19-69. Gordon and Bob Tobey of Bellevue were second with 95-22-73, and John and Kent Graham of Weston, third, with 94-20-74.

Percy and Jim Goodale won the grandfather and grandson division with a 92-33-69.

MAYNARD BEAT WARRIORS AGAIN

The Maynard Polish American Club continued to prove tough for the Winchester Warriors, edging the local entry in the Paul Revere League series last Thursday evening at Maynard, 4-3.

Gerry Dee held the Warriors to two hits, and though wild, was good enough in the clutch to squeak by, aided by good fielding. Maynard touched Bobby Farrell for seven hits and all four of their runs in the first two innings.

The game was called during the Maynard 7th because of darkness with two men on and no one out. It was a good call, in fact the locals had nothing but praise for the officiating all through the game, calling it the best of the year.

The Warriors went ahead in their half of the 7th. Patterson, batting for Farrell, worked Dee for a pass and the speedy Slack ran for Freddie, who is no Mercury on the sacks. Connors popped up, but Bellino drove a single through the box that almost took Dee's glove off.

Olivier fanned, but Slack and Sammy pulled a pretty double steal and were brought home by Sammy Provinzano with a double.

The Winchester Junior Legion will play the Beverly Junior Legion at Manchester Field on Saturday afternoon. Although the locals defeated Beverly in their previous meeting by a score of 5 to 2, Beverly was runner-up to the Lynn Junior Legion in the Essex County League and does have a good club. Winchester played one of its best games of the season in that first game and will have to repeat that performance to win this one.

On Wednesday evening the Junior Legion will entertain the Greenwood Bobcats at Manchester Field. This is a smartly uniformed group of youngsters composed of several Wakefield High and Melrose High School players. This is rough competition for the locals but Coach Bartlett is confident that his charges will give a good account of themselves.

MAGUIRES WIN OPENING PLAYOFF

The Maguire Motors drew first blood on the Atomics by defeating them 6 to 5 at Ginn Field on Monday evening in the first game of the semi-final series of the playoffs of the Town Softball League. A large crowd was rewarded by witnessing an excellent game as the Maguire Motors twice came from behind to defeat the Atomics in the final inning. Marty Joyce hooked up with Andre Redding in a fine pitcher's duel with Joyce having the edge because of his ability to bear down in the clutch, coming up with two important strikeouts in critical spots.

George Clark was the hero for the Atomics as he crashed a three-run homer in the fifth inning to give the Atomics a 5 to 3 lead. The Maguire Motors scored two runs in the top of the seventh to win. Perry opened with a single through the middle. Wilson attempted to sacrifice and when Redding threw the ball into right field, Perry scored the tying run and Wilson moved to second, Treacy then singled to drive in Wilson with the winning run, "Beany" Perry and Jim Treacy collected three hits apiece for the winners and Perry had a perfect night with three hits and three runs scored in three trips to the plate.

LEGION OVER SONS IN PLAYOFF

The American Legion won the first game of their semi-final playoff series by defeating the Sons of Italy by a score of 11 to 4 at Ginn Field on Tuesday evening. Gange started on the mound for the Sons of Italy but his tenure was brief as the Legion scored four runs with only one out in the first inning. Procopio relieved at this point and turned in an excellent performance until the fatal seventh inning.

After that wild first inning the game settled down into a good contest. The Sons of Italy kept pecking away at the American Legion lead during these six innings and only superb defensive plays by Tony DeTeso, Tex Farrell, and Babe Olivadoti prevented the Sons of Italy from getting more runs and taking the lead. The American Legion really salted the game away in the top of the seventh inning. After the leadoff man doubled, the next two batters were retired and then four consecutive hits, a base on balls, and three more hits accounted for seven runs before the next batter grounded out. It certainly was a terrific display of power by the American Legion and it is this power that is going to make them a hard team to beat.

MAGUIRES ELIMINATE ATOMICS

The Atomics, leaders of the town Softball League at the end of the regular season, were knocked out of the playoffs for the championship at Ginn Field Wednesday night when they lost their second straight to the third-place Maguire Motors Team, 7-2.

Those seeing the team for the first time wondered how the Atomics ever finished in first place in the league. Perhaps it was the heat, but the losers lacked hustle, were ineffective defensively and futile at the bat, though perhaps the pitching of Marty Joyce was responsible for that. The fact was the Atomics couldn't hit a barn with a handfull of shot when hits meant runs.

Strategically it was hard to see why the Atomics sent their second-string Pat Patterson after this game which they had to win to stay in the playoffs. The strategy backfired and by the time Redding relieved in the Atomics 5th the game was lost.

WINCHESTER GIRL "HONOR CAMPER"

Anita Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Watson, 14 Webster street, Winchester, was one of two campers who received the "Honor Camper" award on Sunday, July 31, at the close of the first two weeks of the girls' camping season at Camp Stella Maris, Wingaersheek Beach, West Gloucester.

Reverend John J. Sheehan, Camp Director, presented the award to Miss Watson. One of forty-four campers, Miss Watson has been selected as an outstanding camper in every way, having shown outstanding qualities in camping, courtesy, friendliness, and helpfulness.

The highlight of the past two weeks has been the exceptionally fine swimming. The morning beach period was given over each day to swimming instruction under the direction of Miss Joan Wall of Lexington, Waterfront Director, assisted by Miss Marilyn Lynch of Roslindale.

In the afternoon beach period the girls spent much of the time in the water and minded not at all the terrifically hot weather experienced here in Winchester and elsewhere.

Janice Ann Collins, 6 Parker road.

Sheila McGowan, 49 Canal street.

Ruth Wilson, 12 Loring avenue.

M. Gale Watson, 14 Webster street.

Anita Watson, 14 Webster street.

Reverend John J. Sheehan, Camp Director, states that there are still vacancies for the final four weeks of the Camp season. Information may be obtained by writing to the Camp Secretary at 27 Sheridan circle, Winchester.

WINCHESTER BEAT ARLINGTON

Winchester Warriors beat the Arlington DAV Team in a Paul Revere League game on Manchester Field last Sunday afternoon, 9-5, behind "Pegger" Lancelotta. Aside from two big innings the home team played lackadaisical ball, but came from behind twice to salt away the game.

Winchester's big five-run fourth came after Arlington's pitcher, Cashman, had hit a home run to deep center in his half and had to sprint around the sacks in the wilting heat. Hanson of the visitors also also hit for the circuit.

Lancellotta pitched a smart game, bearing down only when he had to in the early frames and holding the visitors to a single scratch hit over the final three innings.

Plummer, Provinzano and Modoono continued their effective hitting for the Warriors.

MAKING REAL MONEY

Editor of the Star:

I was very pleased to see that you considered my letter worth publishing.

I did note one error. The following paragraph is now corrected.

"A local wheatgrower, Mr. Germaine, who is on a semi-retired basis looking after some of the town property, says that his land, consisting of 28 quarter sections of 160 acres each is now cared for by his three sons and two hired men and that they have 2200 acres of it sowed with wheat with an expected yield of 30 bushels to the acre."

With a support price just below $2.00 a bushel that is a sizeable income produced by five men.

Yours, sincerely,
James A. Cullen,

WATER PLANS FOR DRY SEASON WORKING SUCCESSFULLY

Editor of the Star:

The Water Board is taking a great deal of satisfaction in seeing its plans for a dry season working successfully. The normal use of water in the town is about one million gallons per day. In July the average use was two and one half million gallons per day. On August 10th we had the highest day on record - three and one half million gallons.

We now have three water supplies - the reservoirs in the Fells, the wells near Pond street and the Metropolitan supply for the land west of Cambridge street. We are now using about one and one half million gallons per day from the reservoirs, one-half million gallons from the wells and three-quarters of a million gallons from the Metropolitan supply. The reservoirs are down about 5 ft. The department has been able to supply all the necessary water for the town and hopes to be able to continue. A number of surrounding towns have had to limit the use of water.

In 1939 from the records kept by the Department it became very evident that an additional water supply was necessary for a dry season and the wells were installed and used in 1940 to 1943, carrying us over a dry period. They were then shut down and not used until this year.

In 1946 it became obvious that with all the building in the town on the hills west of Cambridge street a new high service tank would be necessary. About that time the Metropolitan District built a large distribution tank on Turkey Hill in Arlington near the Winchester line. Fortunately we had a large main very near this supply and this was connected to the Metropolitan main. By this connection the town saved over $30,000 which would have been the cost of a new tank. With this additional supply we are able to get over a million gallons per day from the Metropolitan and it does not cost us any more than the pumping expense when we had the old tank.

The Board hopes to be able to continue to supply all the water that is necessary for the consumption of the citizens. We have had the very finest cooperation from the Finance Committees in our planning which has been a great help.

The Board anticipates that the Town will receive a very large income in 1949 from the use of water.

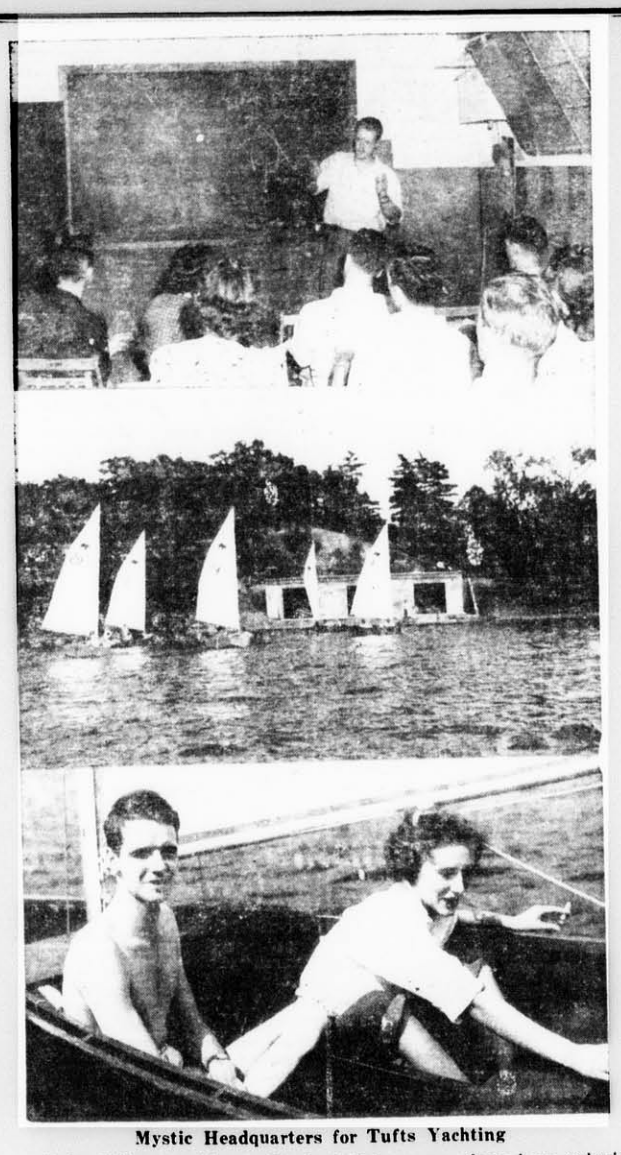
Water and Sewer Board,
E. C. Sanderson, Chairman.

NEW LOW RENT VETERANS' HOUSING

The approval of preliminary plans and specifications for a low-rent veterans' housing development at Stoneham at an estimated cost of $515,000, has been announced. This project will be located on Washington and Calthea streets, and will comprise 12 buildings housing 48 units, of which 28 units will have 2-bedroom accommodations and 20 units will have 3-bedroom accommodations. The buildings will be of frame and brick veneer construction, with full basements and central hot water heating. Electric stoves and electric refrigerators will be installed in each unit. Drying yards and playing areas are provided for in the plans and specifications for the convenience of the occupants.

Upon the approval of final plans and drawings by the State Housing Board, authorization will be given to the Woburn Housing Authority to proceed with the advertising for construction bids. It is anticipated that actual construction on this development will be underway late in August.

Governor Paul A. Dever has also announced the second low-rent housing development at Woburn. This development will be located on Webster street, and will be constructed at an estimated cost of $642,000. It will consist of 9 buildings housing 60 units; 33 units will have accommodations for 2-bedrooms, and 27 units for 3-bedrooms. The buildings will be of frame and brick veneer construction, with full basements and central hot water heating. Electric stoves and electric refrigerators will be installed in each unit. Drying yards and playing areas are provided for the convenience of the tenants.



Mystic Headquarters for Tufts Yachting

Top picture - Novices attend shore school classes held in the boatshop located in spacious quarters of the college maintenance department building on the campus. The instructor in the picture is Yachtsman Ted Wood of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Both light and heavy weather courses are given, and all Yacht Club members must also pass swimming tests and demonstrate their ability to handle a boat before being allowed to sail.

Center picture - Jumbo sailors head into the Tufts Yacht Club after a cool afternoon sail. The club has a fleet of twenty boats, the gift of various alumni, including Franklin J. Lane, Tufts trustee of Drexel Avenue, Winchester, who is a member of the Yacht Club's advisory committee. Under the leadership of Commodore Herbert J. Wainwaring of Wollaston and Vice-Commodore John A. Coe of Manchester, Conn., plans are underway to sponsor intercollegiate and intramural regattas in conjunction with a projected full fall program.

CAMP MOUNT PERO TERMINATES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

There has been many a Winchester boy who has enjoyed a wonderful season of outdoor life at Camp Mount Pero in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Campers Al Simone, Anthony Mucera, Paul Berman, Joe Cussen were among those who left for the hot city this week.

The highlight of the season was the ascent of Mount Washington via the Tuckerman Ravine Trail with an overnight stop at the Hermit Lake Shelter. The boys found that the 46 degree temperature atop the high peak a good reward for their efforts. A sightseeing tour of Franconia, Crawford, and Pinkham Notches made the trip one well-worth remembering.

Many of the campers are taking home with them not only a mental picture of the camp's beautiful scenery but pictures they have ably painted in vivid colors under the expert tutoring of Dudley Samoiloff of Highland avenue. Three of the prize paintings were framed and kept in the camp's lodge.

Al Simone pitched the camp to a 15 to 3 victory over the Plymouth junior town team Monday morning. Paul Berman played third base while Anthony Mucera played second base.

The camp closes this week with a final archery tournament as well as badminton tournament.

Cards received from Mr. and Mrs. James S. Murray of Everett avenue who are spending the summer abroad with their daughter, Elsie, placed them at that time in Venice. They have visited Paris, Nice and Rome, and after Venice go on to Lake Como, Luceren, Paris, again, and London. They report perfect weather and many American tourists everywhere with hotels, generally, full.

WINCHESTER SWIMMING CLUB DEFEATED ARLINGTON

The Winchester Swimming Club traveled over to Reservoir Beach in Arlington, last Sunday, and defeated a swimming team from Arlington, 42 to 28. The meet was close right up to the two relays, which were both won by Winchester.

Thirteen year old Jimmy Carroll was the individual standout, winning the 100 meter backstroke for boys and the 50 meter freestyle for boys, 12 to 14, as well as swimming a good leg in the boys' relay.

The owner of the concession booth donated a very fancy ice cream cake to the winning team. This was brought back to the McNeills' front porch in Winchester, where it was rapidly disposed of by the swimmers.

The next meet will be on Tuesday, August 16, when Reading will come down to Leonard Beach to compete with the Winchester swimmers.

The summary:

25 Meter Freestyle for Girls, 8-10:

THE McTIGHE VERSION!

The STAR had the idea that Attorney Leo F. Garvey had gone up to New Hampshire to enjoy a surcease from his labors with torts and replevins and to build up new energy for another exacting year at the law. Now we find 'taint so at all, and what really happened is that Leo went away to lick his wounds and get over a 10 down golfing defeat in 18 holes suffered at the hands of Roger McTighe their last time out. No less than Don Abbott, Leo's old partner of the "long knockers" days, vouches for this statement, or at least he did not deny it. We offer it solely for what it may be worth, withholding judgement pending further information from the New Hampshire fishing regions.

W. B. C. SCORES WITH SHIP WRECK PARTY

In spite of the heat more than a hundred members and guests came to the novel affair. The Club House was decorated with giant palm trees, monkies, octopus, and even a line with the poor ship wrecked man's, (or woman's) clothes out to dry, suspended over an old dory. These clever touches were done by Ann Freyer and Mrs. Sandborn.

Commodore Strawbridge and his wife Ruth came realistically by water, paddling to the Club in an old boat. The Commodore was mistaken for Robinson Crusoe, with his beard and shock of black hair. But instead of his man Friday the Commodore had picked up somewhere on his seafaring travels a buxom mermaid, well wrapped in a slinky green condemned parachute, which was most affective.

There were all sorts of costumes though with a modern ship wrecked trend.

Gloria West had quite the most novel costume for the girls. She was draped with burlap sacking even to her hat and shoes. Everyone agreed that she won first prize for the women.

The judges, Bertie and Jim Newman and Earl Deener, found it impossible to decide between Ray Strawbridge and George Jones, so they were asked to flip a coin, with George winning. George Jones made a perfect Long John Silver, with a patch on one eye, clothes that were torn and mended, mended with marlin and twigs, the ship's compass which he had salvaged was suspended around his neck, and an old oar served as a crutch.

After the awarding of the prizes a treasure hunt was in store, which led the enthusiastic searchers over the entire Club House and grounds; beneath boats and canoes, around the piers, behind life-preservers, there wasn't a nook left out. Mrs. William Davies finally found the treasure in the brick fireplace where the clams and lobsters are cooked for the now famous Clam Bakes.

The rest of the evening was spent dancing with the excellent music of Jim Tantillo's orchestra.

Thanks are due Ann and Carl Freyer and their committee for a mighty good time.

So many of the club fleet are at Marblehead for Race Week that all races on the Mystic are called off until the skippers return on the thirteenth.

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES

Big Ed Martin, Winchester Country Club ace and former State champion didn't make it in the New Englands at Portland, but he made a great try, being finally knocked out in the semi-finals by Art Butler of Portsmouth, by the close score of 1 up. Most experts thought Martin was one of the ones to beat and he lived up to that expectation at least. Jackie Harvey and the Monahans, Judge and Joe, Jr., were other Winchester members in the New Englands, but none of them got into the money rounds. Cal Geary, who used to play a lot of golf at Winchester and now is a member at Concord, was also in the tourney.

Play in the Club Seniors Championship Tournament has reached the final with J. H. O'Connor slated to meet J. W. Kidder for the crown this week end, weather permitting. Kidder won his way into the final by beating F. W. Damon in the heat of Tuesday afternoon, 3 and 2. Play in the "seniors" is limited to members not younger than 55 and is match play, ¾ difference in handicap.

Entries are being made for the mixed foursome match play tournament for the Maurice F. Brown Trophy, big feature of the early fall at the Country Club. There will be a qualifying round with handicap from September 3 through September 11 with entries closing September 1. Players must qualify for the first flight of 32 pairs. Maximum handicap for women is 30 and for men, 24.

LEGION CUT DOWN ROSEBUDS

The Winchester Junior Legion won an easy 9 to 0 victory over the Rosebuds of Somerville at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. The locals hit harshly against the mediocre Somerville pitching, rapping out 12 hits in six innings, and the visitors committed four costly errors to help to swell the Winchester total.

Charlie DeFilippo and Stowell Symmes divided the local pitching assignment with each twirler granting only one safety during his tenure. John Power and Dan Joyce paced the Winchester attack with three hits apiece, one of Joyce's going for three bases. Leo Williams also added a triple to the Winchester attack.

NATICK EDGED WINCHESTER JUNIOR LEGION

The Natick Junior Legion edged the Winchester Junior Legion by a score of 5 to 4 on Sunday afternoon at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital. The locals were paying their annual visit to the Veterans' Hospital to play for the entertainment of the patients and were the guests of the management for swimming, bowling, and a swell feed after the game.

A three-run homer by Zaniboni in the second inning provided the margin of victory for the Natick Junior Legion. Even though behind 4 to 0 the locals kept battling and almost caught Natick in the final inning when they scored once and left two runners on the bases. A bit of poor base running in the previous inning when Winchester had a runner tagged out at the plate cost them at least a tie and a possible victory. This was the third one-run defeat for the locals this week and, although they are hard to take, each one teaches a valuable lesson and gives added experience.

JUNIORS BEAT BEVERLY FOR BART

The Winchester Junior Legion won a nice victory over the Beverly Junior Legion by a score of 5 to 2 at Beverly on Thursday evening. The locals combined timely hitting with excellent defensive play to win this well-deserved triumph over a strong Beverly outfit. The Beverly Junior Legion had been nosed out by Lynn for their County Championship and Lynn, in turn, whipped Woburn, the Middlesex champs.

"Major" Daniels was on the mound for Winchester and pitched good ball, although he had some trouble finding the plate and issued seven bases on balls which kept him in trouble. He was able to bear down in the pinches, however, and allowed Beverly to collect hits in only the first and sixth innings as they left nine runners on the bases.

TRUCK RAMMED CAR

A Plymouth sedan, owned by Francis R. D'Angeli of 142 Washington avenue, Somerville, was badly damaged at 10:30 Wednesday forenoon when it was rammed while parked at 83 Main street in front of the residence of Mr. Charles C. Bond, by a G. M. C. truck, owned by the New England Pipe and Supply Co., of 294 Rutherford avenue, Boston. Fortunately no one was in the car at the time of the accident.

The driver of the truck, Reginald C. Roderick of 9 Bellevue terrace, Somerville, told the police he was driving north on Main street and was cut off by a passing car, making it necessary for him to swing his truck into the Plymouth to avoid a collision with the moving machine.

The fire department hosed down the street of gasoline which leaked on to the road from the wrecked Plymouth.

Mrs. Edward A. Bartlett of Mt. Pleasant street left town Wednesday to visit relatives in Harrisburg, Pa. Her departure is particularly inopportune for those who want to know the score from inning to inning in the soft-ball playoffs for "Marge" is a pretty good scorer and can tell you "just about" what the count is most any time at all.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Leonard Field moved into the leadership of both the Intermediate and Senior divisions of the Playground Baseball League as they won two games in each division during the past week. This marked the first time this season that Loring Avenue has been out of first place in the Intermediate division and the race between these two fields for the championship of this division should be very close.

The best game of the week was the 3 to 2 victory of the Leonard Field Intermediates over Ginn Field. Roddy Delorey and "Moe" Mahoney were the rival pitchers in this contest and both twirled excellent ball. "Red" McLaughlin continued his mastery over Loring Avenue by again pitching his Ginn Field to a victory by a score of 10 to 4.

Ginn Field was involved in two hectic games in the Senior division. They edged Loring Avenue 12 to 11 after trailing 11 to 7 as late as the sixth inning by rallying in the seventh and eighth innings. The tables were turned on them, however, by Leonard Field as Ginn Field had a 12 to 3 lead and saw it melt away as Leonard Field staged almost a fictitional comeback to win 13 to 12.

Leonard Field and Loring Avenue are all tied up in the competition in the younger boys softball league as Leonard Field won both of their games during the past week. With only six games remaining for each team, this race should be nip and tuck right down to the final contest. The Leonard Field girls completed a very successful week for their playground by defeating the Loring Avenue girls at softball by a score of 16 to 12. Thus, Leonard Field won eight athletic contests during the past week without suffering a loss.

ST. PAT'S OVER JUNIORS, 7 - 6

The Winchester Junior Legion was defeated by St. Patrick's of Stoneham at Manchester Field on Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 6. This evened the series for the season between the two teams as the locals had previously beaten the visitors at Stoneham. After spotting Stoneham a 7 to 0 lead in the first three innings, Winchester made a game attempt to pull out the game and a hit in the clutch in either the sixth or the ninth inning would have done it.

John DiIorio made his first start of the season on the mound for the local Junior Legionnaires but was hit harshly by the visitors. In the first two innings Stoneham collected nine hits which were good for six runs. DiIorio tightened up after that and gave up only three hits in the next four innings. Charlie DeFilippo pitched the last three innings and permitted only two hits in that stretch. In a spirited comeback from such a poor start, Winchester drove Corkum from the mound in the sixth but Norden relieved in that inning to effectively silence the locals' bats.

"GOING TO THE FAIR?"

Anne Marie Haley of Newtonville is having quite a time making up her mind as to just which of the multitude of Fairs she will enter her potential "blue-ribbon-winners" — "Bossy", the cow; and "Sugar", a trained pony. Anne has some help, however, from a booklet just published by the Information and Research Department of the Boston Chamber of Commerce which lists all of the New England Agricultural Fairs for the coming fair season.

"SOUL" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 14.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy; I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones" (Isaiah 57:15).
SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging. And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me . . . And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way" (Mark 10:46,47,52). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Like the great Exemplar, the healer should speak to disease as one having authority over it, leaving Soul to master the false evidences of the corporeal senses and to assert its claims over mortality and disease" (p. 395).

BEETHOVEN'S TOWN TO BE WEST GERMAN CAPITAL

Hopes for the future are stirring among the ghosts of the past at Bonn.

Selection of the city as provisional capital of the new West German State has presented an important political and reconstruction role to this German community, located on the west bank of the Rhine River about 15 miles south of Cologne (Koln). The honor comes to a city which may be said to be almost as old as the hills, or Seven Mountains, which range along the east bank of the Rhine near by.

Bonn was founded about 10 B. C. by the Roman legions of Emperor Augustus, notes the National Geographic Society. Named Bonna or Castra Bonnensia, it was one of 50 strong points constructed by Augustus' soldiers along the Rhine. Roman domination ended about 70 A. D. when Bonn saw the imperial legions go down in defeat. From that time until the 13th century the city was of little importance.

Then the seat of the electors of Cologne was transferred to Bonn, and walls were built around the city. During subsequent centuries the walled town was frequently besieged during the Continent's recurrent wars. In 1717 the city's walls were leveled, and in 1814 Bonn fell to the Prussians. After World War I Allied occupation forces were quartered in the city.

This long history of fortification, siege, and occupation, however, left few of its marks on the charming placidity of Bonn life. Always somewhat slow to change and resistant to innovation, the city for many years has been known chiefly for its university and as the birthplace of Beethoven. Not over large in size, Bonn had a population of about 100,000 before World War II broke.

GI Played Beethoven Piano

Beethoven's home has been restored and turned into a museum, and the garret in which he was born in 1770 has been preserved in its original form.

During the advance of the Allies through the Rhineland in World War II, an American wandered into the Beethoven museum one night and, finding a piano, struck up a few chords of "Moonlight Sonata," one of the composer's most noted works. Quite unwittingly, he was playing Beethoven's own piano.

There always has been much to see in Bonn. Its Munster, a restored church with five towers, is a fine speciment of Romanesque architecture. The Alter Zoll, the city's last remaining old bastion on the river, commands an excellent view of the Seven Mountains. The provincial museum contains a large exhibit of prehistoric and Roman antiquities, which includes a Neanderthal skull, one of the earliest known cranial specimens.

More than half of Bonn's buildings were destroyed during World War II, but the havoc was by no means as complete as at other large Rhineland cities. The Munster's cloisters were battered; Beethoven's home was hit by a shell; and the university was badly smashed. However, most of the town's historic relics and treasures remain intact.

The business men of the town and all citizens interested should not forget to attend the hearing before the Board of Selectmen this Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the matter of a new street across the pond to Swanton street, there connecting with the new freight yard. The Board will meet in front of McLaughlin's shoe store at the above hour.

The schooner yacht "Cytie" of Boston with Mr. Fred Joy, Miss Alice Joy and Mr. B. G. Abercrombie of this town, ran ashore last Monday while passing through Woods Hole. The party were the guests of the owner of the yacht and were going from Nantucket to Newport. They landed at Woods Hole and suffered no great inconvenience.

The Blakie Bros. will soon erect a two story business block at the corner of Church and Common streets.

A young man in a neighboring town advertised for a wife under an assumed name, and his sister answered the advertisement, also under an assumed name. Photographs were exchanged, and now the young man thinks there is no balm in advertising, and the old folks think it pretty hard to have two fools in one family.

Mr. Edmund Garrett, the artist, sailed on the Winnifredian last Wednesday for England where he will do some painting in Warwick. A large party of friends saw him off.

Wednesday a number of gentlemen went on a fishing trip, taking a boat at Swampscott. A total of 116 fish were caught, individual catches being Reuben S. Davis, 21; Henry F. Johnson, 20; John D. Boyce, 13; Frank Pratt, 11; Harry McLaughlin, 10; Clyde Bell, 8; James McLaughlin, 8; George E. Pratt, 7; George H. Guernsey, 5; William T. Dotten, 5; Royal S. Carr, 4; A. William Rooney, 4. Frank Pratt received a prize for the first fish, Clyde Bell, for the largest fish, a 20 pound cod, and Reuben S. Davis for the largest number caught.

Mr. James Noonan, driver of the Hook and Ladder, while working over some batteries in the engine house last Monday evening, received a drop of the solution in his right eye. While the eye will not be seriously injured it will be sore for some time and for a day or so was rendered useless.

Mr. George M. Wilcox has sold out his fish market and it has been consolidated with the People's Fish and Oyster Market, Pleasant street. The proprietors, Messrs. A. M. Freeman and W. C. Bartlett, will, as in the past, carry a full line of all kinds of sea food.

The local council, Knights of Columbus, gave a very successful lawn party on the grounds of the McKenzie estate last Thursday evening. The grounds were very prettily decorated and presented a gay appearance. Dancing was indulged in to a late hour, music being furnished by the National Orchestra. Dancing was in charge of the Grand Knight, J. Parker Colbert and Deputy Grand Knight George LeDuc, assisted by Dennis Foley, John O'Connor, Bernard Rogers, Thomas O'Connor, Charles O'Connor, and Joseph Donahue. Much of the success was due to Messrs. Wm. Christian, Edw. F. Maguire, Michael E. O'Leary and Wm. J. Daly. There was a large attendance, from 400 to 450 being present.

Why is not the Common watered? Is it not singular that we can allow free use of hose on private grounds and cannot afford it on this, which would be a beauty spot right in the center of the town if it had proper attention? You continually hear the remark from people riding by on the electrics, "Isn't it a shame to let the grass burn up so." The grounds of all our Park Commissioners are kept green by being well watered. The fountain is very attractive as it is, so refreshing.

Well of course we expect the Park Commissioners will clear out the Aberjona river from Walnut street through the playground to Mystic, so that boats and canoes can use it. It is also hoped that old Mystic Valley sewer pipe will be changed so that we can get throug there comfortably.

It has been decided to have a Traders' Day next Wednesday, Aug. 9. A fishing trip had been suggested, but owing to the many objections on account of its not being suitable for the ladies and families of the traders, a trolley excursion to Salem Willows has therefor been thought to be the most practical of all. If a party of fifty can be made up, a special car will be chartered and, should the number warrant, additional cars can be secured. Round trip tickets will be 50 cents each. An effort is being made to arrange a baseball game between employees of the Winchester Street and Sewer Departments for the outing.

August 15, 1924

During the height of last Sunday evening's thunder storm the Fire Department was called from Box 572 for a fire in the barn on Henderson's Farm off Ridge street. The firemen were fortunately able to smother the blaze before it made much headway as the barn, one of the largest and finest of its kind in town, was well filled with hay. It is thought lightning may have been responsible for the fire. The Fire Department were considerably delayed in getting to the scene due to the fact High street was not passable. Part of the department reached the barn by way of Swan road and others went over Arlington road, adding considerable distance to an already long run.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Higgins announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothea, to Mr. Maurice O. Reebenacker on Aug. 9. Mr. and Mrs. Reebenacker will make their future home in Medford.

The Police were notified Wednesday morning that the telephone pay-station in the Winchester Hotel, known locally as the "Cannon Ball", had been broken into and the cash box on the machine looted. The telephone instrument had been ripped from the wall and the entire lower section badly smashed.

Last Wednesday morning as a funeral procession was passing through the center a car bearing a New Hampshire registration cut through the line of vehicles from Main street into Mt. Vernon street. Officer James E. Farrell, on duty in the square, arrested the operator and he was fined $10 in the Woburn court, an additional $5 being levied for having no license in his possession.

Officer John J. Regan captured a truck, containing about 75 cases of beer last night in the square. He became suspicious of the two men driving the truck, and when they said their machine was laden with "ginger-ale" he decided to have a look. The cases were marked Gordon's "ginger-ale", but contained beer. The men were locked up and the prohibition officers notified. They will appear in court this morning.

Surviving members of the Winchester Post of the G. A. R. attended the big parade which featured the national convention of the Civil War Veterans in Boston last Tuesday. The local delegation made the trip in town and were driven over the parade route in the automobile of Mr. W. I. Palmer of Myopia Hill. Among the Winchester veterans were Messrs. Sumner Carr, Henry Smalley, and Peter Walling. Arrangements for the trip were in the hands of Mr. Thomas H. Barrett and were handled in his usual efficient manner. Mr. Barrett was the Winchester member on the general committee for automobiles covering the entire convention.

In last Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club A. Perley Chase and Phil A. Hendrick won the four-ball best ball tournament with a net 69. A. M. Bond and J. A. Wheeler were second with 71 and T. I. Freeburn and H. W. Stratton were third with 73.

Lt. (jg) Joseph R. Barbaro, U. S. N., is in town visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Barbaro of 43 Oak street this week.

Officer James Donaghey is sporting one of the new police uniforms this week. The new suits are easily distinguished by the high military collar on the coat.

The Star has heard much favorable comment about town over the general appearance of the high school grounds. They have seldom appeared to better advantage.

The residence of Mr. F. Manly Ives of Highland ave. was entered sometime between Tuesday, Aug. 5, and last Tuesday morning when the break was discovered. Admittance was gained by lifting the screen on one of the front windows and jimmying the sash with a chisel.

Winchester showed a surprising lack of respect for royalty last Saturday afternoon when the Legion ball tossers guillotined the colored Monarchs, 10-6, in an exciting old fashioned hit-and-run game on Manchester Field behind the effective pitching of the kid Southpaw, Francis Tansey. It was a great game to watch and well worth a quarter!

It is reported that on Monday at 11 o'clock at the State House, Boston, a hearing will be held by the State Department of Public Health on the pollution of the Aberjona River.

The work of remodelling the barn on the new Wyman School lot into an administration office building for various heads of the Winchester School Department was begun this week.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for the week ending August 11 as follows:

GILCHRIST'S New Medford Store at 67 Riverside Avenue - Just off Medford Square — To open next Thursday, August 18.

GILCHRIST'S OPENS MODERN STORE IN MEDFORD

Thursday Morning, August 18th

A completely modern store, Medford's first complete department store, offering the latest in color, style, quality and merchandise for every family and for every home will be viewed by those visiting Gilchrist's newest and most modern suburban department store, which opens its doors in Medford on Thursday, August 18 at 9:30 a. m.

Centrally located at 67-69 Riverside avenue in the new Medford Shopping Center, right off Medford Square, the store will be easily reached by both the Fellsway and Mystic Valley Parkway traffic. It is also conveniently accessible via route 60 from Belmont, Arlington, Malden, Melrose; via route 28 from Stoneham, Reading, Wakefield; via route 38 from Woburn and Winchester; via route 1 from Revere, Everett, Chelsea and the North Shore.

Nothing has been spared to make this the most attractive store in Greater Boston, with color and modern design as its outstanding attraction. A veritable rainbow of fifty-two color shades has been utilized to achieve a decor of distinction. Lighting is all recessed fluorescent.

Gilchrist's Medford Store, situated adjacent to the bus terminal, has many outstanding features, including the exceptionally large, free municipal parking area for its customers at the rear of the store, complete air conditioning the year around, and twenty modern fitting rooms.

Designed by the Barnes and Champney Company of Boston, Gilchrist's Medford branch truly becomes the "Store of Tomorrow" with 30,000 square feet of floor space on the street and downstairs floors. All types of merchandise may be found: women's, misses', juniors' clothes and accessories; men's and boys' wear and furnishings; radios, television sets, refrigerators, sinks, furniture, rugs, curtains, dishes, glassware and hundreds of other useful items. Among the many famous brands found in the store are Cannon, Clipper Craft, General Electric, Bigelow-Sanford, Kayser, Simmons, Arrow, Philco, Helen Kingsley, Slumberland, Dainty Dot, R. C. A., Teentimer, Vanta, Playtex, Jantzen, Maiden Form, Jonathon Logan, Loungees, Essley, Westinghouse, Emerson and countless other nationally advertised brands. Among the many features will be a well-stocked Lending Library containing mystery books, non-fiction and fiction of all types. Rental rates will be a modest 2c. and 3c. a day.

The large, streamlined display windows have been designed in the very latest style and are similar to those found on New York's Fifth Avenue. Hollywood lights and "bullet" spotlights kept aglow in the windows during the evening enhance the exterior beauty of the store.

Gilchrist's sales staff will be composed of residents of Medford and the surrounding trading area. All have received training in Gilchrist's high standards of courteous service and friendliness. As an added convenience extra clerks will be on hand to assist shoppers on opening day.

Gilchrist's has brought with them five liberal charge plans, which are being used in their five other department stores and may be used in Medford. They include Gilchrist's Monthly Charga-Plate Accounts, Gilchrist's Investment Purchase Plan, Gilchrist's Home Furnishings Budget Plan, Gilchrist's Thrift Check Plan and Gilchrist's 3-Month Charge Plan.

This fifth large branch store is indicative of the Gilchrist policy of bringing the advantages of "downtown shopping" to suburban areas. Gilchrist's has been the favorite store of New England families for 107 years through panics, depressions and four wars, continually enlarging its field of service. It is to be noted that there are only forty-two stores in the whole United States which can boast survival for such a long period.

The reason for this remarkable sturdiness and growth is that Gilchrist's has always managed to keep pace with the changing aspects of the merchandising world and has maintained a progressive retailing program designed to meet the needs, comfort and buying power of the public. The establishment of modern, efficiently organized branch department stores illustrates the sense of responsibility Gilchrist's has assumed in achieving these high standards.

After 107 years of growth with New England Gilchrist's faces the future with faith in the destiny of America and pride in the ingenuity of American industry. The company looks seriously ahead to carrying forth its great responsibilities to the community-as the new Medford store opens bringing all the advantages of a great metropolitan department store close to thousands of suburban homes.

CAMP FELLSLAND NEWS

For the third consecutive week Camp Fellsland is filled to capacity. The boys are surely enjoying their camp stay and if additional space was available many others would stay for a greater length of time. The boys are enthusiastic because of their great set of victories over Camp Pow Wow. These included victories in baseball, volley ball and basketball and swimming. Robert Benson of Troop No. 8, Medford, did an outstanding job in the baseball game by striking out 14 of the 17 men that faced him. Through his efforts we had a no hit, no run game.

The camp was honored by a visit from Mr. Donald Higgins of the National Boy Scout Camping Service for a four day period. During this period he personally questioned every camper and staff man as to their likes and dislikes, as well as general inspection of all camp property and programs. Of the 59 types of activities that he had listed Camp Fellsland had 53 of them available for the boys. On Friday evening Mr. Higgins sat with the Camp Fellsland administrative committee and complimented them on the facilities and the quality of the program. During the Camp Committee meeting tentative plans were presented for the addition of from two to three new sleeping areas so that a greater number of boys can be accommodted in 1950.

At last weeks Board of Review there were 47 different Scout advancement awards made. In addition a tremendous number of swimming and rifle awards and Tepee honor awards were made. The new C F arrowhead award is still the coveted badge to earn, but very few have been able to meet the requirements. To earn this badge a camper must show marked improvement in swimming, rowing, canoeing, archery, cooking, and rifle shooting and earn his Tepee award.

After this week there are only two more weeks for boys to enjoy life at Camp Fellsland as it closes on Aug. 21st with a final banquet and awards. During the last week of camp, from Aug. 14-21, campers who have previously been at camp are cordially invited to sign up for this final week. During the week there will be a special carnival, closing banquet and Campers Day when members of the staff become campers and campers themselves run the camp in place of the regular staff.

Quite a delegation of the Winchester Rotary Club took over the camp and its activities on Thursday afternoon and evening. The members, with a picked group of camp staff, participated in shooting at the rifle range, trying out the archery, trying out the boats and canoes at the waterfront and using the flutter boards and then inspection of all the property of the camp and winding up at the new Memorial Lodge where George, the camp cook, had prepared a sumptuous meal. In spite of the extreme heat the men who participated were high in their praise of Camp Fellsland and its facilities. It is hoped that in 1950 arrangements may be made whereby all the Rotary Clubs in the Fellsland area might participate.

LOCAL PRINCIPAL TEACHES IN UNIFORM

Captain Joseph C. Forte may be found this summer at the Boston Army Base taking a busman's holiday from his duties as Principal of the Mystic and Lincoln schools in Winchester. On active duty with the Coast Artillery Section of the Massachusetts Organized Reserve, Captain Forte finds that he is still teaching.

As a Unit Instructor, Captain Forte is in charge of conducting training operations for his brother reservists in the Coast Artillery. His assignment is part of the Army's Organized Reserve training program. Veterans who learned the tough lesson of preparedness on the battlefields of World War II are eager to join the Reserve and volunteer for short tours of active duty ranging from fifteen days to ninety days.

The reservist on active duty is given assignments that broaden and improve his military capabilities. The Army has adopted the policy of earn while you learn. While on duty the reservist draws full pay and travel allowances, as well as accumulates credit towards his promotion and eventual retirement.

While many reservists are attending formal Army schools this summer, college students and teachers like Captain Forte often prefer a system of learning by working after the long winter months of theory and books. The Army is happy, too, for these experienced veterans quickly grasp the fundamentals of their new assignments and are soon able to contribute effectively to the work of their organization.

Mrs. J. Danforth Bush (Annette Mason) of Newcastle, Del., with her daughter, Miss Martha Bush, and her aunt, Mrs. Percy Harrison, was in town over the weekend on the way to Nova Scotia by motor.

CALDWELL THRICE WINNER AT TEDESCO

Sheldon Caldwell, Massachusetts Interscholastic tennis champion and captain of this past season's team at Winchester High School, had himself a perfect average in the North Shore Junior Tennis Championships at Tedesco last week, winning the older boys singles and doubles and also the mixed doubles.

The towering Caldwell disposed of Ed Scheer of Jamaica Plain in the championship bracket of boys singles, winning 6-3, 6-0, 6-8, 6-2. Seeded Number 1, he was the only top-seeded player to come through, using powerful forehand drives to keep ahead of Scheer virtually all the way.

Caldwell, son of Park Commissioner and Mrs. Kenneth F. Caldwell of Bushcliff road, had a comparatively easy time beating William Harrington of Hingham in the semi-finals, 6-0, 6-2.

In the older boys' doubles Caldwell teamed with Dick O'Hearn of Brookline, whom he beat for the State interscholastic crown June 4, to win in the championship round from Charles Donovan of Swampscott and Jack Packard, III, of Tedesco. In mixed doubles his partner was Barbara Parks of Brookline, their win in the championship bracket being at the expense of Jody Davenport and Jack Packard of Tedesco, who had eliminated the favored team of Gladys Pelangi of Malden and Scheer in the semi-finals. Caldwell and Miss Parks won in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2.

Winchester was well represented in the North Shore tournament with Jo Ann Williams, Nancy Nutter, Diane McNeill, Sylvia Crowelli, and Theodora Whatmough playing in the older girls' division and Nancy Morse, Sylvia Crowelli, Alice Seager and Diane McNeill competing in the younger girls' class.

Bob Walsh competed with Caldwell in the older boys' class as did Jerry Whatmough and Harry von Rosenvinge, the last pair playing in both the older and younger boys' divisions.

On the girls side of the tournament Nancy Nutter and Sylvia Crowelli reached the older girls' quarter-finals before losing, Nancy to Ellen Katwinkle of West Newton, after a hard fight, 7-5, 4-6, 1-6, and Sylvia to the top-seeded Gladys Pelangi of Malden, 3-6, 1-6.

Theo Whatmough also advanced to the round of eight before losing to Jody Davenport of Marblehead, 0-6, 3-6.

In the younger girls competition Sylvia Crowelli survived the quarter-final round by beating Joan Sullivan of Belmont, 6-0, 6-2. Grace Donovan of Swampscott knocked Sylvia out of the tourney in the semi-finals, but had a tough time doing it being forced to deuce sets to win, 7-5, 7-5.

Nancy Morse also won her way into the quarter-final but was eliminated in that round by Betsy Lyons of Brookline, 1-6, 2-6.

Sylvia and Nancy teamed up in the younger girls doubles and did all right for themselves, reaching the semi-finals before being defeated by the ultimate champions, Grace Donovan and Harriet Shannon of Swampscott.

None of the competitors reached the money rounds in the younger boys' singles although both Jerry Whatmough and Harry von Rosenvinge survived the first round of play. In the younger boys' doubles Jerry and Harry teamed up and reached the quarter-finals, being defeated in that bracket by Bill Kerr of Belmont and Joe Barry of Newtonville, 0-6, 5-7.

Mr. James McCraven of Detroit, Mich., has been in town recently, visiting relatives here after an absence of 25 years. He is with the Ford Motor Company in Detroit, Mich., and gave his cousin, Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy of the police department, quite a surprise when he stopped in the center on the pretense of asking directions to his sister's home on Washington street. Mr. McCraven, incidentally, is a native of Winchester.

James R. Livingstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Livingstone, 12 Chestnut street, has been named to the Dean's List of Syracuse University's College of Business Administration by Dean Thomas Carroll. Fulfilling the B. average grade requirement for Dean's List rating during the spring semester, Livingstone is among the top ten per cent of his class in academic standing. He will return to the University as a junior in the fall. He is a 1945 graduate of New Hampton high school.

Mrs. Dorothy Roberts of Toronto, Canada, is in Winchester as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dana C. Pickering of Hemingway street. Mrs. Roberts is the daughter of the late Dr. Orion Kelley, a former well known Winchester dentist.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NOTES

Mr. Paine has been informed of his election as a Nominee in the American College of Hospital Administrators. Status as Nominee is the first one given to all members of the College. The fifteenth Annual Convocation ceremony will be held in September in Cleveland, Ohio, coincident with the meeting of the American Hospital Association, which Mr. Paine plans to attend.

The new Resident Physician is Brendan F. Crotty, M. D., who came to the Hospital in July for four months. Dr. Crotty prepared for college in Boston at the Mechanics Arts High School and the Boston Latin School. He took his B. S. at Boston College in 1941, and his M. D. at Tufts in 1944. A nine-months' internship was served at St. Francis Hospital in Hartford, Connecticut, before he entered the war in the Medical Corps of the United States Naval Reserve, with whom he served on the West Coast and in the Pacific. In October, 1946, Dr. Crotty enrolled for a six-months' course in Pathology in Mallory Institute of the Boston City Hospital, and in July, 1947, he became a Surgical Intern on the third Surgical Service of the same Hospital. Continuing that Service, he was a Junior Assistant Resident last year, and in July of this year was promoted to a Senior Assistant Residency and assigned to Winchester Hospital. Dr. Crotty is unmarried and makes his home with his mother in Jamaica Plain.

For the convenience of patients, their friends and staff members, the Winton Club shop has been put on wheels, and makes the rounds of the hospital corridors and rooms twice a week. The carefully chosen stock includes small gifts, cosmetics (talcum powder and other "refreshers" especially popular), stationery, stamps and postcards. The perambulating shop has its social as well as its material value to patients, and the articles it carries are welcomed for their low price as well as their good taste and practical usefulness.

To mark the end of a year of consultation on hospital problems and of planning for the future, the women of the Board gave a surprise luncheon party for their retiring chairman, Mrs. Wayne Thompson, just before she left for the summer in Center Sandwich, New Hampshire. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Erskine White, with the following women present, in addition to the hostess and the guest of honor: Mrs. Paul F. Avery, Mrs. Lyndon B. Burnham, Mrs. William L. Davis, Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux, Miss Constance Lane, Mrs. Howard A. Morrison, Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Mrs. James W. Russell, Jr., Miss Ruby Willis, and Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen. When meetings begin again in the autumn, Mrs. d'Elseaux will be in charge of the women's volunteer services which aim to supply assistance to the Hospital in every way in which volunteers can be used, and which look forward to giving more extensive help in the larger Winchester Hospital of the future.

With the comfort of patients and their friends in mind, En Ka has contributed the purchase price of an awning over the main entrance to the Hospital. It is seventeen feet in length, seven feet wide, and ten feet in center height, of fine quality, fade-resistant canvas on a metal frame. The brick-red outside harmonizes with the walls of the Hospital, and the inside is a restful dark green. It solves one of the problems of entrance and exit on days of storm or excessive sun, and will make pleasanter the first experience of the outside world to babies born here.

The Winchester Library book truck finds many eager readers on its twice-weekly rounds of the Hospital. The usual number of new books issued is about fifteen or twenty, with light fiction topping the choices. On Tuesdays, Miss Dutemple of the Library staff is with the truck, and on Fridays volunteers from the En Ka Society are in charge.

Another improvement which has helped during the very warm days is the installation of additional electric fans. These are of the most modern design, giving maximum cooling effect by displacing and circulating air without producing drafts directly on those in the moving air stream.

HOW TO GET HELP FROM THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

-- When Polio Strikes

1. At the first sign of illness, call your own doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the local Health Department and arrange for hospitalization or home care, as indicated. The National Foundation does not select physicians or hospitals. This is a family matter. If you have no family physician, call your City or County Medical Society, your Board of Health or the nearest hospital.

2. If your doctor says it is polio and requires hospitalization, the local Chapter of the National Foundation will help arrange for transportation to a treatment center. As soon as the patient goes to the hospital -- or if your doctor advises the patient can be treated at home -- get in touch with your Chapter of the National Foundation to arrange for any needed assistance.

a.) Most Chapters are listed in the telephone book under N for National Foundation, I for Infantile Paralysis and the letter starting the name of the county you live in, i. e., Washington County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. If you can't find it -- check with your doctor, hospital or Health Department.

b.) Your Chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns of the case through your physician, the hospital or the Health Department. However, late reporting or a heavy hospital load may delay this Chapter contact. If you do not hear promptly, telephone or visit your Chapter representative. You can ease your own worries sooner by making the approach yourself.

3. The Chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care. Adults are as eligible for help as are children. Discuss with your Chapter how much of the full bill the Chapter will pay.

a.) March of Dimes funds are used to help the medically indigent -- but this is not the same as "indigent;" it includes families of moderate income, who cannot meet the high costs of modern care of this expensive disease. The help is a gift -- not a loan. While families that can pay are expected to do so, no family is expected to impoverish itself to meet medical expenses for polio.

b.) Even if you can assume full costs for initial hospitalization, it is a good idea to see your Chapter. If yours should be a patient who is severly affected -- and this cannot be determined in the first few days -- you may need help later on. Bills incurred in the weeks before your Chapter assumes financial responsibility cannot be paid months afterward, but the Chapter will step in at whatever time you really need help. Have a frank, friendly talk with your Chapter representative at the beginning.

4. Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics, treatment after hospitalization and appliances such as wheelchairs, braces, etc., as needed. There are no hard and fast rules. Each case is decided upon individual medical and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

5. In addition, your Chapter can put you in touch with proper sources for nursing and physical therapy at home, can refer you to rehabilitation and vocational training agencies, will provide literature designed to foster better understanding of infantile paralysis -- so you will know what to expect and how to help your polio patient back to a useful life.

These services are made possible by the March of Dimes each January.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department's first call over the week-end came at 12 noon on Saturday for an automobile afire at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake. The machine, owned by Charles T. Traverse of 23 Pleasant street, Somerville, had a seat burned from a short circuit in a battery cable.

At 5:35 Saturday afternoon there was a tree reported burning near the home of Mr. Arthur Bryer, 432 Washington street, and 10 minutes later the department was called to put out a fire in a Buick roadmaster on Wedge Pond road. In this instance the fire was caused by gasoline overflowing on a hot exhaust pipe. The car was owned by Walter G. Drogne, 94 Rockland street, Swampscott.

Saturday's last run at 7:50 was for a recurrence of the ever-prevalent underground fire at the town dump.

Sunday's first run came at 11:23 in the forenoon for a grass fire at Eaton and Stevens streets. At 1:04 the department was called to put out burning grass and tree stumps set from a "campfire" started by boys on Palmer street.

AIR FORCE B-36 INSTALLATION GOING UP AT RAPID CITY

The group of prospectors who laid out Rapid City at the gateway to the Black Hills in 1876 never suspected it, but they had chosen a spot ideally suited for long-range bomber movements in almost any direction. Air Force planners of today intend to take full advantage of the strategic location. Work is now being pushed on the expansion of the air base there to accommodate Uncle Sam's far-ranging B-36's.

When the first aircraft began to fly some four decades ago, notes the National Geographic Society, Rapid City was, in the vernacular of the time, only a typical western "cow town." Cattle-raising was the leading occupation of the surrounding range country; saddle-making was one of the town's most important industries.

The rough-and-ready men who founded the town astride Rapid Creek thought they had a site that some day would become the distributing center for the western part of the state—and they ignored danger and the law in taking it. In 1876 the Black Hills area was Indian domain, occupied by the Sioux. United States treaties with the Indians forbade settlers to enter either the Plains country of South Dakota or the hills.

Begun as an illegal settlement, Rapid City was the target of frequent Indian raids, and its promoters met difficulty in attracting either business or settlers to the town. Most pioneers entering the region were prospectors or self-styled miners, eager for a share in the gold struck in the hills in 1874. They had little interest in settling permanently.

At one time the settlement counted some 200 residents, but fear of the Sioux soon reduced this number to a handful. Hopes for the town's survival were almost abandoned toward the end of 1876, then word came that the Government had lifted its ban on immigration into the area.

Rapid City took new hope. Stages brought permanent settlers to the community. Soon railroads linked it with other parts of the middle west, and the young city was firmly established.

In recent years there has been consistent growth. Each summer thousands of tourists flock to Rapid City for excursions to the Black Hills and Badlands, 30 miles to the southwest The population today numbers close to 14,000.

SABBOW — MULLEN

At a military wedding in St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 6, Miss Mary Alice Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mullen of 25 Foxcroft road, became the bride of Lt. Fritz Thiede Sabbow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Sabbow of 14 Barbara Lane, West Medford.

The bridegroom is executive and training officer of H and S Company of the 101st Engineers Combat Battalion (Lawrence Light Guards), and a platoon of Light Guardsmen in their colorful dress blues acted as guard of honor at the marriage, while eight commissioned officers of the 101st Engineers, all of whom are members of the Light Guard, acted as military escort and executed the sabre manual.

Large bouquets of gladiolas decorated the church altar for the 10 o'clock ceremony which was performed by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, who was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. At the conclusion of the mass the bride and bridegroom, as they left the church, passed under an arch of sabres, formed by the Light Guard officers, and between the ranks of the enlisted men.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a tailored gown of white faille silk, buttoned down the front with a bustle back and a full skirt extending into a court train. Her matching veil was arranged with a braided headpiece of white faille silk and she carried a missal with a matching white orchid and streamers of babies breath.

Miss Jacqueline LeBlanc of Lynn, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Rhoda Sabbow, sister of the bridegroom, was honorary maid of honor. Miss Nancy L. Kenney of York Beach, Me., and Miss Linda M. Fulgoni of Medford, formerly of Winchester, were flower girls and there were also two ring-bearers, Louis J. Fulgoni and Dennis J. Fulgoni, both of Medford.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas C. Mullen of Danvers, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Louise Landry of Lynn, cousin of the bride; Miss Sabina D'Alba of Cambridge, Miss Mary-Jayne Penta, Miss Anne Amico and Miss Dorothy Carroll, all of Winchester.

The honor attendants and bridesmaids wore light blue dresses with berthas and bustle backs and matching braided headpieces with blue veiling. Their flowers were blue delphinium with white stephanotis arranged in cascade bouquets, and the bridesmaids carried the same flowers. They also were gowned exactly like the honor attendants, but wore no veiling with their headdresses.

The small flower girls wore white frocks fashioned like the other attendants and also wore braided headpieces. They carried the conventional baskets of rose petals.

Joseph D. Pigott of Medford was best man for Lt. Sabbow and the usher corps comprised three brothers of the bride, William G. Mullen, Jr., and Robert H. Mullen of Winchester, Thomas C. Mullen of Danvers; John Zynsky of Medford; and William Rogers, William Kaitz and Robert Shed, all of Dorchester.

After the marriage a reception was held in the garden of the home of the bride's parents. The mother of the bride and the parents of the bridegroom assisted in receiving with the members of the bridal party.

After a motor honeymoon spent at Thousand Islands and in Canada, Lt. and Mrs. Sabbow will make their home temporarily in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of the Cambridge Preparatory and Graduate School for Girls.

Lt. Sabbow, who is associated with the management of the F. W. Woolworth Company, graduated from Medford High School in 1942 and from Huntington Preparatory School in 1943, being captain of the track teams at both schools. He was graduated from Fort Benning, Georgia in 1945 and from Suffolk University in 1949. Both he and his bride are members of the Campion Club and it was at a meeting of this organization that they met for the first time in September of last year.

ALLEN — HAWKINS

At a four o'clock ceremony in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Sunday, August 14, Miss Judith Margaret Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duane Hawkins of 242 Highland avenue, became the bride of George Ferguson Allen son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley B. Allen of Auburn, Me. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony which was followed by a reception in the parish hall.

Preceding the service Frank Strawbridge of Winchester sang Grieg's "I Love Thee Dear." Miss Sylvia Smith of Woburn, organist, played the bridal music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white marquisette over white satin, fashioned with a high round neckline, long sleeves and a chapel train, inset with Chantilly lace. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion was caught with clusters of stephanotis, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white delphinium and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Isminnie Chotinos of Nashua, N. H., as maid of honor and the bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Lee Hudson of Belmont and Miss Marcia Jeanne Allen of Auburn, Me., sister of the bridegroom, wore dresses of white French organdy over blue taffeta. They carried shower bouquets of pale pink carnations and blue and white delphinium. Miss Lynn Smith of Melrose, the flower girl, was dressed in an identical dress and carried a miniature bouquet. All the attendants wore matching flower wreaths in their hair.

Mark Litchfield of West Newton was best man for his cousin, and the ushers included Douglas Hawkins, brother of the bride; Richard Zacharian of Lawrence and Winchester Smith of Melrose.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hawkins wore a royal blue crepe gown with a grey feather hat and a corsage of sweetheart roses and stephanotis. Mrs. Allen, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in aqua crepe and wore a matching wide-brimmed nylon hat and a corsage of talisman roses. Mrs. Frank V. Hawkins, paternal grandmother of the bride, came in from Indianapolis, Ind., to attend the wedding. She wore a pink and white corsage with her own of grey crepe and Chantilly lace.

ISABELLA LYDON

Isabella Lydon, widow of Daniel J. Lydon and a long time resident of Winchester, died Friday, August 12, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness. She collapsed the preceding Wednesday afternoon in the center and was removed at that time to the hospital. Her home was at 426 Main street.

Mrs. Lydon was the daughter of Thomas, and Anne (Travers) Nolan. She was born October 7, 1876, in Ireland, but came as a girl of 17 to this country, settling at that time in Winchester and spending the remainder of her life here. She was a member of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's Parish and active in church affairs in her younger days.

Mrs. Lydon was married in Winchester June 14, 1905. Her husband died the following year. She leaves a son, Joseph D. Lydon of Wellesley Hills, and two sisters, Mrs. Arthur T. O'Leary of Winchester and Mrs. Mary Pyne of Somerville.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with high mass of requiem celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. CECELIA F. HALEY

Mrs. Cecelia F. (McCool) Haley of 16 Water street, widow of Timothy H. Haley, and a long time resident of Winchester, died Sunday evening, Aug. 14, at the age of 89. She was among the oldest residents of the town.

Mrs. Haley was born in Boston, but came to Winchester as a girl and had made the town her home for more than 75 years, enjoying a wide circle of friends and the esteem of all who knew her. For many years she had been a member of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's Church.

Mrs. Haley leaves a son, Henry T. Haley of Winchester, with whom she made her home, and a grand daughter, Miss Barbara J. Haley, also of this town.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS BEGLEY ENGAGED TO MR. LOCKE

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Begley of Medford announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Ellen Begley, to Herbert George Locke, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Ellis Locke of 132 Ridge street.

DANIEL REID

Daniel Reid, a former resident of Winchester, died Tuesday morning, August 16, at a convalescent home in Dedham, following a long illness. A widower, he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Fred M. Phillips, for some years, living with her during his five-year residence in Winchester. During that time the family made their home, first on Myrtle terrace and later on Orient street, leaving the latter address in 1942 to take up residence in Dedham.

Mr. Reid was born August 21, 1867, in Bradford, England. He came to this country in 1906, and before coming to Winchester made his home in Medford. He was a clock examiner and prior to his retirement 15 years ago, was employed by R. W. Hull in Boston. He was a member of Mystic Lodge of Odd Fellows in Medford.

Mr. Reid's wife, Margaret Rankin Reid, died in Winchester October 2, 1937. Besides his daughter in Dedham, he leaves two sons, Harry R. Reid of Cleveland, O., and Robert Reid of Boston; six grandchildren, five great-grandchildren; two brothers, Thomas Reid of Newton and Fred Reid of Morcambe, England and a sister, Miss Margaret Reid of Bradford, England.

Funeral services will be held on this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Kimball Chapel on Church street with Rev. Lawrence L. Barber, former pastor of the Arlington Congregational Church, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS NUTTER, MR. SNOW ENGAGED

Dr. and Mrs. Harrie Yeates Nutter of Mt. Vernon street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Carter, to George Lyman Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Ellsworth Snow of Glen road.

Miss Nutter was graduated from Colby Junior College in 1947. Mr. Snow who is a graduate of Harvard University, Class of 1942, served four years with the Army during the war with duty in the European theatre.

A spring wedding is planned.

RETURNED FROM YELLOWSTONE

Mrs. Maud Harkins of Eaton street, and her daughter Margaret Harkins of the Lincoln School teaching staff, have recently returned from a trip by auto to Yellowstone National Park, Wyoming, and Salt Lake City, Utah. En route they visited Mrs. Harkins' two sons, Attorney Thomas I., now of New York City and Robert L., Telephone Office Supervisor at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois.

PAUL REVERE PLAYOFF STARTS TOMORROW

Winchester and Lincoln in Home and Home Series

Playoff for the 1949 Championship of the Paul Revere Baseball League begins tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Lincoln with the Lincoln Mohawks and the Winchester Warriors as the opposing teams. The Mohawks won the second half of the league schedule with 12 wins in 18 games. Winchester was the first-half winner with only a single loss in 13 games. The Mohawks were second in the league standing the first half and Winchester edged Sudbury for second the second half.

The Lincoln Mohawks have dominated the Paul Revere League since the days when the Todd boys of Harvard were starring in the Mohawk lineup. This year Lincoln has had to divide honors with Winchester, with the Warriors having a slight edge, if anything, over the veteran Mohawks.

The series between the two clubs should be a corker, with both teams at pretty close to full strength, if not right at the peak. The Warriors will be without the veteran Joe McKee for this week-end, and "old folks" is a good guy to have around, both for pitching insurance and batting.

Manager "Lew" Warsky figures to send tall Vern Slack after the game at Lincoln and pitch either Bobby Farrell or "Pegger" Lancelotta against the Mohawks Sunday.

According to "Lew", Farrell is the most feared twirler in the league right now and the little fireballer has a lot of stuff when right.

Lancelotta is smart, relying on savvy to make every pitch count. With three like these boys available Winchester ought to be well set for pitching for the series.

The third game will be played at Lincoln August 27, with the teams coming back to Manchester Field Sunday, August 28, for the fourth contest.

RED CROSS — PARK DEPARTMENT SWIMMING MEET

The annual Red Cross - Park Department Swimming Meet will be held at Leonard Beach, this Sunday, and will begin at 2:30 p. m.

There will be freestyle events for all ages through fourteen years. Above that age there will be open freestyle, backstroke, and individual medley events for both boys and girls. There will also be an open diving event for boys. A group of Senior Life Savers will give a brief life saving demonstration. Sheets have been posted on the bulletin boards at both Leonard and Palmer Beaches, listing the events. All those who wish to swim in the meet must sign up on those sheets before 6:00 p. m. on Saturday.

Mrs. Gladys Dutting, Executive Director of the Winchester Red Cross, will award the Red Cross trophies, and Mr. Kenneth Caldwell, Chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, will award the Thomas P. McGowan Memorial Trophy.

Among the officials will be Mr. James Coon and Mr. Caldwell of the Park Board, Helen Carroll, who has done more for swimming in Winchester than any other person in recent years, and Anne Murray, head lifeguard at Palmer Beach.

Ice cream and cookies will be served to the contestants and officials after the meet.

WINCHESTER POST TO AID VETS

Commander Robert F. Murphy announced this week that Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, will assist all local veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance Dividends.

"Our Post will have the necessary applications which veterans will have to make to the Veterans Administration to get their NSLI dividends," Commander Murphy said. "Every veteran who held his NSLI policy for 90 days or more will have a refund coming to him. The Veterans Administration expects to pay out some $2,800,000,000 in these refunds. Payments per veteran are expected to average about $175, and applications should be filed as quickly as possible because it will take some time, perhaps months, before a veteran gets his refund check."

Commander Murphy explained that actually the Legion will put on the biggest manhunt in history trying to locate veterans eligible for the NSLI refunds. It is estimated that some 16,000,000 veterans are entitled to these refunds with the VA having the home addresses of only six million eligible veterans.

DR. SACHS AWARDED FULBRIGHT FELLOWSHIP

Dr. Ernest Sachs, Jr. of 8 Ardley road is one of 17 Americans awarded Fulbright Fellowships by the Institute for International Education. Dr. Sachs, who plans to do research in Neurology at the National Hospital at Queens Square, London, has been associated with the Department of Neuro-surgery at the Lahey Clinic for the past three years, and is a former National Research Council fellow.

Dr. and Mrs. Sachs (Jeanne O'Sullivan) with their two children and Miss Pauline O'Sullivan of Arlington will sail aboard the Queen Elizabeth on September 3. After a short stay in Paris attending the International Neurological Congress, they will make their home in London for a year.

The Sachses have been guests of honor at parties given by Dr. and Mrs. William Q. Wu of Cambridge, Dr. and Mrs. Harvey Ammerman of Jamaica Plain, Dr. and Mrs. Milton F. Brougham of Milton, Dr. and Mrs. Arminio Martinez-Niochet, and Dr. and Mrs. Erwin Hirsch of Boston.

WINCHESTER DAY AT BRAVES FIELD

Boys Between 10 and 15 To See Braves - Pittsburg Play August 24

Winchester boys between the ages of 10 and 15 years will have a free admission to the Boston Braves - Pittsburg base ball game on Wednesday, August 24th. The visitation will be under the auspices of the Youths' Committee of the Rotary Club of Winchester, Gordon Bird chairman and Charles A. Murphy president.

The Rotary Club will see that every boy who registers will receive free admission to the game and will take the boys to Brave's Field and return them to Winchester by bus.

Registration for Winchester Day at Brave's Field must be made at any Winchester Playground or at the Sport Shop not later than 5 p. m., Monday, August 22. Boys between 10 and 15 years only are eligible.

According to present plans the boys will meet at the rear of the Town Hall at 12 o'clock, the busses departing at 12:15. Proper supervision will be given by Rotarians.

WINCHESTER YOUNGSTERS IN MEREDITH SHOW

Several Winchester young people took part in The Lake Front (Winnepesaukee) Follies of 1949, annual production of the Veasey Shore Vacationists, given in Meredith, N. H., Saturday night at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Marvin of Chesterford road.

Children of the "Shore" families played the roles of the show, which comprised three acts, featuring a television scene and a 1949 gold rush which turned out to be a hunt for uranium. Written and directed by Mr. and Mrs. John Carr, the stage settings and decorations were by Gerard D'Amore.

In the cast were Holly Holliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holliver of Dorchester, John Carr, 3rd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carr, 2nd, of Medford; Douglas Nason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Nason of Oneida road; Barbara, Joan, Ruth and Bernard Marvin, Jr., children of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Marvin of Chesterford road; Bobby, Deborah and Joan D'Amore, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D'Amore of Arlington; Ann Burnett, granddaughter of Admiral and Mrs. Charles Martin of Charleston, S. C.; William Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cox of Woodside road; Ann Votaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. France E. Votaw of Madison avenue; Jack Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Costello of Sheridan circle; and Don Burns of Manchester, N. H.

A number of out-of-town guests attended the show, among them Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jellison of Stratford road, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bateman of Bacon street.

BERT SMITH PLAYS IN "CANDIDA"

Bert Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith, 119 Highland avenue, now appearing with the Group 20 Players, Unionville, Conn., will play Orell in Sunday night's production of Bernard Shaw's "Candida."

The special performance of the play will be given in Arena style on the auditorium floor as a part of the season's new "Pot Luck" theatre which has been organized to give the group an experimental outlet in contrast to its regular repertory shows.

Mr. Smith, seen this season as the unhappy Tom in Tennessee William's THE GLASS MENAGERIE, the stage manager in Thornton Wilder's THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH, the Rev. Chausable in THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST and Baptista in THE TAMING OF THE SHREW, also plans to direct an original one-act play, "Fire" early in September.

Graduated from Bates College, he spent a year as instructor of speech and interpretive reading at the University of Buffalo, and plans to enter Yale in the fall for graduate work in Theatre.

WINCHESTER SCOUTS TO RECEIVE AIR TRAINING

Five Winchester boys, James M. Daschbach, Jr., of 21 Crescent road, George E. Roghaar of 178 Wildwood street, Robert E. Surtees of 19 Stevens street, Robert L. Burnham of 72 Yale street, and Douglas W. Hawkins of 242 Highland avenue, are among the New England senior Boy Scouts who will receive special training as Air Scouts at Newburgh, N. Y., August 20-28, under the supervision of the United States Air Force.

The Winchester boys will take off with the Fellsland Council party by plane from the Bedford Airport Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, landing at Stewart Field in Newburgh. They will be accompanied by adult Scout leaders.

In all 350 senior scouts will go to Newburgh and local Scouting can take pride in the fact that of this number 50 will be from Fellsland Council.

WILL WED IN NOVEMBER

Mrs. John H. Lutz of Warner, N. H., announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Eileen Eugenie Lutz, to Mr. Erskine Norman White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine N. White of Rangely, Winchester.

Miss Lutz is a graduate of Colby Junior College and Maryland College for Women. Mr. White graduated from Exeter Academy and Yale University. He received his master's degree from M. I. T.

A November wedding is planned.

MISS MARY H. BARR

Veteran Winchester Teacher Succumbed

Miss Mary H. Barr of 31 Highland street, Reading, teacher of science in the Junior High School and a veteran member of the Winchester teaching staff, died Friday, August 12, at the Winchester Hospital, following an operation. She had taught in the Winchester schools since 1906.

Miss Barr was born July 19, 1881, at Keswick Ridge, N. B. She had been for many years a resident of Reading, was educated in the Reading schools and was graduated from Reading High School in 1899. Two years later she graduated from Bridgewater Normal School and through her teaching career she had taken graduate and extension courses at Columbia, Boston University and Harvard.

Miss Barr was first assigned in Winchester to the Gifford School. Later she taught at the old Washington School, being assigned to the Wadleigh School as a teacher of science and music in September, 1915. Later she taught science and latin, latin and mathematics and science and latin. She became a member of the Junior High School staff in 1932 and had taught science exclusively for the past 12 years. Her teaching associates and members of the School Department as well as many pupils and former pupils learned of her death with regret.

Miss Barr leaves a sister, Mrs. Nellie Farrington of West Claremont, N. H., and two brothers, Harry C. Barr of Reading and Robert J. Barr of Arlington.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Edgerly and Bessom Funeral Home in Reading with Rev. William Gunther, pastor of the Old South Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Reading.

MIDSHIPMEN HOME

Cadet-Midshipmen Allen Carlisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Carlisle, Jr., of 10 Reservoir street and Charles Phippen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Phippen of 221 M. V. Parkway, have returned to their homes on leave from the United States Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, Long Island, New York. Their annual leaves began on August 13, and will terminate when they return to the Academy on September 11.

Upon their return, they will continue their studies toward their final license examinations, the successful passing of which will entitle them to Ensigns' commissions in the United States Naval Reserve, with active service in the United States Merchant Marine.

Cadet-Midshipmen Carlisle and Phippen are currently fourth classmen in the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Corps, and will graduate in Feb. of 1953.

ARLINGTON ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The large faculty and complete music courses offered at the Arlington Academy of Music rate this school as one of the most desirable private schools in the state.

Two or three year concentrated courses in Vocational Music include Solfege, Harmony, Counterpoint, Instrumentation, Composition, History of Music and others. Special courses, such as Modern Dance Ensemble, Commercial Arranging and Improvisation are elective and very popular among the students registering this year.

The junior department offers several highly instructive class courses, as well as private lessons on all instruments. The voice and radio departments are under the personal direction of Miss Margaret Janis, Alfred Tory and Mario Mantini, well known radio stars.

WINCHESTER RESIDENT A WCOP "DINNER WINNER"

Mrs. Robert Jackson, of 50 Lincoln street, was a winner on the June 25th broadcast of the WCOP "Dinner Winner" program.

Because she answered the phone with the name of the food she was having for dinner instead of the usual "hello" Mrs. Jackson won a dinner for two at the Currier & Ives room of the Hotel Somerset, plus two tickets to the Braves night game of September 9.

COMING EVENTS

MRS. MINNIE (McFARLAND) FENDELL

Mrs. Minnie (McFarland) Fendell of 9 Harvard street, died suddenly Thursday, August 11, at a hospital in Cambridge, following an illness with pneumonia.

Born in Darling County, S. C., July 17, 1875, Mrs. Fendell came north as a young woman, settling in Winchester. Later she lived for many years in Saugus where she helped to build a church and was proprietor of a lunch-room. Following her retirement, caused by failing health, she returned to Winchester and had been living here for the past seven years.

Mrs. Fendell had no immediate family, being survived only by a niece, Miss Pearl McFarland of New York City.

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Bland Funeral Home in Cambridge with the Rev. Kenneth Bowen of Saugus officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

NUNS VISITING IN WINCHESTER

Four Winchester girls, all sisters of the Order of St. Joseph, have been in town this week on vacation.

Sister Mary Eulogius, the former Mary McCormack, and Sister Mary Kieran, the former Rita McCormack, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. McCormack of Winchester place. Sister Mary Eulogius has been stationed for some time in Natick. Sister Mary Kieran is being assigned to a teaching post this fall after being stationed in Framingham.

Sister Mary Bertille is the former Margaret Roache, daughter of Mr. Martin Roache of Harvard street. She is stationed at the Catherine Moore House in Boston. The last of the quartette, Sister Mary Eucebia, is the former Esther Callahan, daughter of Mrs. Bridget Callahan of Kendall street. She is stationed in Marlboro.

BETTY FIELD TO PLAY CAMBRIDGE

Betty Field, motion picture star and actress of the legitimate stage, will make her only appearance of the summer at the Cambridge Summer Playhouse, beginning next Tuesday, in Ibsen's "The Wild Duck." Miss Field, who is the daughter of Mr. George B. Field of Maxwell road, motored on for rehearsals from her summer home in Connecticut with her husband, Playwright Elmer Rice. She recently completed the film, "The Great Gadsby" with Alan Ladd.

Miss Field's long-standing desire to play "The Wild Duck" prompted her to give up her vacation to appear in Cambridge. She had refused numerous offers for other summer appearances.

MISS ANDREWS SHOWERED

Miss Marguerite Derro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Derro of Washington street, gave a miscellaneous shower at her home Tuesday evening for her brother's fiancee, Miss Marianne Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Andrews of Medford.

The affair was a complete surprise to Miss Andrews who received many lovely gifts from eighty relatives and friends at the party. After the packages were opened refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

WARRIORS LOST CALLED GAME TO LEXINGTON

Lexington won a 5-3 decision over the Winchester Warriors in a Paul Revere League game at Lexington August 9, the game being called by the umpire after Winchester had scored three runs in its half of the 6th. It was the second time in less than a week that Winchester had lost a game in this way and the boys didn't take too kindly to the procedure.

Going into the 6th Winchester trailed 3-5. Coon walked and McKee singled, Slack popped up trying to bunt, but Murphy's infield hit loaded the sacks.

Modoono doubled off the right field fence to clear the bases, after which the umpire immediately called the game, with the score reverting to the previous inning. A mild rhubarb was kicked up by the local players, but as usual the ump's decision stood.

JUNIORS WON AT GREENWOOD

The Winchester Junior Legion won a close game from the Greenwood Bobcats by a score of 4 to 2 at Greenwood on Sunday afternoon. Both pitchers turned in excellent performances in allowing only five hits apiece while each struck out nine opposing batters. Daniels was less liberal with bases on balls, however, and received better support from his teammates and thus gained the verdict over Kennefic, last season's Melrose High pitcher.

Kennefic tired in the late innings as Winchester rallied to come from behind. Trailing 2 to 1 going into the eighth inning, the locals scored threw past first base on Daniels' reached second when Stewart threw past first base on Daniel's ground ball. After Daniels went to third on a wild pitch, Williams scored him with a hard smash off the third baseman. Williams was erased on Burns' ground ball to shortstop, Burns reaching on the fielder's choice. Burns stole second and Cirurso delivered in the clutch with a single to right to drive in Burns with the winning run. Winchester scored an insurance run in the ninth after two were out on a single by DiIorio, a double by Daniels, and an error by Kimball.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB SNIPE SKIPPERS SCUTTLED BY SALT WATER SAILORS

Pass me the salt, Susy, I've got to eat a few words that appeared in this column re Marblehead Race Week a couple of weeks ago! To quote ". . . we'll bet anything you want that Winchester Boat Club's sterling skippers will sail the sheets off the salt water sailors at Marblehead and bring back the bulk of the trophies!" End of quote. Sad, but true, 'taint so!

The Boston Bay boys bagged all of the booty - with a single exception. Dick Simonds sailed off with the Pleon Yacht Club Trophy which is a single race prize. All of the other coveted cups went down the bay.

Apparently, while our heroes were reading their press clippings on the down-wind legs, the Boston Bay boys were sailing with Winchester's customary dash and daring and making off with the mugs. In any event, the Boston Bay contingent seemed set on giving our boys the business, and that they did.

True, the Swanson brothers, Ralph, Roger and Robert lost the New England Championship by only a whisker, and Dick Simonds, Jim Snow, Bart Sullivan and Bill Cusack showed flashes of their former brilliance, but like it or not, the winners (and there were three different ones) really deserved their victories.

Oh, well, next year we'll murder 'em. Anybody want to bet we don't?

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Loring Avenue regained the lead in both the Intermediate and Senior divisions of the Playground Baseball league during the past week. Their lead in each division is only half a game, however, and with just five games apiece to play in these last two weeks, they must continue to win to clinch the Playground championship.

The league-leading Leonard Field Seniors dropped both of their games during the past week and dropped out of first place. Ginn Field beat them 8 to 2 behind the steady pitching of Stowell Symmes in a game featured by the hitting of Tommy Drohan. Loring Avenue then added to Leonard Field's woes by defeating them 5 to 3 as Joe Callahan bested George Stevenson in a pitcher's duel. Stevenson had a 3 to 1 lead going into the sixth inning but a long single by Callahan with the bases loaded tied the score and then Stevenson wild pitched the winning run across the plate.

The Loring Avenue Intermediates moved into first place by defeating the Leonard Field Intermediates 6 to 4 in a good game. Jim Carroll was more effective than Chuck West and received better support from his teammates. Leonard Field missed an opportunity to move into a first place tie with Loring Avenue when they could do no better than tie Ginn Field 5 to 5 in an extra-inning contest.

The younger boys' softball remains all tied up as Leonard Field and Loring Avenue each won one game and lost one during the past week. This is the third successive week that these two teams have been tied for first place and with only four games apiece left to play, they may well end up in a tie for the championship.

WARRIORS, 8; CONCORD, 2

The Winchester Warriors gave Bobby Farrell grand support and plenty of runs to win last Thursday evening's Paul Revere Game with Concord at Concord, 8-2. Bob scattered five Concord hits, all singles, and has rightly become one of the most respected pitchers in the league.

The locals had two big innings. In the first with two away Modoono reached on an error and Farrell walked. Successive singles by Donaghey, Olivier and Coon were good for four runs and enough to win as things turned out.

Two hits and a walk gave Concord one in the 4th. Two singles and an error were good for another in the fifth.

The veteran Lincoln Mohawks won their way into the Paul Revere League championship playoffs with the Winchester Warriors by finishing out in front of the second half of the league schedule with a record of 12 wins in 18 games. Winchester, winner of the first half, finished second with a record of 11 wins and seven losses.

The Warriors won the first half of the league schedule with the excellent record of 12 wins in thirteen games. Lincoln finished second the first half, having a record of 10 and three.

Winning the first half so easily did something to the Warriors and they definitely let down the second half, though only once did they really get a shellacking, and that was a 7-0 defeat with a patched-up second string lineup.

The Second half has been a real dogfight among the first five teams with no club at any time having a safe lead in games won and lost, and the final game of the schedule between Winchester and Sudbury last Sunday deciding second place. Sudbury, Lexington and Maynard did a great job of knocking each other off, and Maynard bothered Winchester a lot over the second half.

WARRIORS BEAT SUDBURY 4-1

"Pegger" Lancelotta was too good for the Sudbury A. C. batters at Sudbury Sunday afternoon and the Warriors won their Paul Revere League game from Sudbury, 4-1, knocking Sudbury out of the championship playoffs. The win put the locals in second place in the league standing for the second half, after finishing first in the standing for the first half of the schedule.

Lancelotta pitched a smart game, varying his pitches, and virtually never throwing the same pitch twice. His fast ball really hopped and his curves and cross fire were equally effective. He got good support from his mates who were definitely "up" for this one.

Sudbury scored its only run in the 4th on a single, a stolen base and a single that took a bad hop over Donaghey's head into right field.

Bellino singled in the fifth and stole second and third. He scored on an error which gave Modoono a life. Modoono advanced on a passed ball and infield out, scoring on a passed ball.

Stanley Mullen, son of Park Superintendent and Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen of Park road, was taken to the Children's Hospital Monday morning when it was feared that he might be a polio victim. After several days however, his illness had not been diagnosed as polio, his temperature had gone down and there seemed few of the symptoms of polio present.

SONS EVENED PLAYOFF SERIES WITH LEGION

The Sons of Italy evened the semi-final series of the Town Softball League playoffs by defeating the American Legion by a score of 9 to 0 at Ginn Field on Friday evening. This game was a complete reversal of form by both teams over their performances in the first game of the series. In this game the Sons of Italy played excellent defensive ball and hit opportunely while the American Legion was porous defensively and could not bunch their hits against the effective pitching of "Hokey" Procopio.

Procopio and Gange shared the honors for the Sons of Italy, Procopio for his shutout pitching and Gange for his hitting. Procopio effectively silenced the big bats of the American Legion, scattering seven hits and granting only one base on balls. He was in trouble only in the third inning when the Legion filled the bases with two out but he fanned the last batter to end the Legion's only real scoring threat. Gange belted out two long home runs and these were the only extra base hits of the game. Sparkling defensive plays were turned in by W. Fiore, DeTeso, and R. Fiore while both Plummer and Donovan threw out runners at the plate on excellent throws from the outfield.

LEGION KNOCKED SONS FROM PLAYOFFS

The American Legion eliminated the Sons of Italy from the playoffs of the Town Softball League by taking the odd game of the semi-final series by a score of 10 to 9 at Ginn Field on Monday evening. As the closeness of the score indicates, it was an exciting game right up to the final putout even though it was a poorly played game with no less than eight errors being committed and fourteen bases on balls handed out. The Sons of Italy made a game attempt to rally from a deficit as large as 9 to 2 at one point but could not quite make it as they left the tying run on base in the final inning.

"Hokey" Procopio started on the mound for the Sons of Italy but did not have his stuff or his control and was reached for eight runs in the 3 and two-thirds innings that he pitched. Gange relieved Procopio in the fourth with two out and pitched good ball over the final 3 and one-third innings, allowing only two hits. Bob Saunders, on the mound for the Legion, was shaky but managed to survive even though it looked several times as though a hit or two would have had him out of there. Home runs in the game were hit by Al Tibaudo, Bill Fiore, and Sonny Swymer. Sam Bellino had a busy night in left field with seven putouts while Tex Farrell turned in several brilliant plays at third base. The wind made its Legion letter late in the game when it held up a home run ball long enough for the vets' left fielder, Al Plummer, to get under it with the sacks jammed.

HONOR CAMPERS AT CAMP STELLA MARIS

At the close of the second two-week camping period for girls at Camp Stella Maris, Wingaersheek Beach, West Gloucester, "Honor Camper" badges were awarded to the following three Winchester residents:

Janice Ann Collins, 6 Parker road
Sheila McGowan, 49 Canal street
Ruth Wilson, 12 Loring avenue

Reverend John J. Sheehan, Camp Director, in making the awards emphasized the fact that "Honor Camper" badges are awarded to those campers who have shown outstanding qualities in all phases of camp activity during the past two weeks. The girls were selected for their courtesy, friendliness, helpfulness, and cooperation at all times.

Exceedingly popular among their fellow campers, these three girls assisted by Miss Helen Delaney of Medford, entertained the group with many musical numbers. Their "Hill-Billy" number, their own favorite, is most enthusiastically received by their fellow campers.

The girls themselves are thoroughly enjoying their stay on Cape Ann. Their seashore camp located at Wingaersheek Beach affords them not only the opportunity of the usual beach activities but they have also enjoyed trips in the camp bus and boat trips out of Gloucester Harbor. On the boat trips they sail out of Gloucester Harbor and up the Annisquam River, or they cruise along by the Magnolia coastline and out by Eastern Point light. The camp bus affords an opportunity to visit the "Fisherman's Church", Church of our Lady of Good Voyage, in Gloucester; a trip to the artist colony at Bear Skin Neck, Rockport; a trip to Mount Ann Park; a trip to the Appleton Farm in Ipswich, a model and modern farm which has a number of pedigreed livestock.

Camp Stella Maris will close its season on Saturday, August 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr., and family are spending three weeks at Camp Rockywold, Ashland, N. H.

WILLIAMS TWO-RUN HOMER WON FOR JUNIORS

A long homerun to deep left field by Leo Williams with "Major" Daniels on base gave the Winchester Junior Legion a 3 to 2 victory over the Greenwood Bobcats at Manchester Field on Wednesday evening. As was the case in last Sunday's game, this was a close game between these two teams with the Williams smash providing the locals with the margin of victory.

Charlie DeFilippo started on the mound for Winchester but did not have his usual good control. Greenwood scored their two runs in the third inning when they collected two hits, a hit batsman, and two bases on balls. After DeFilippo passed Smith with the bases full to force in Greenwood's second run, Coach Bartlett brought in Stowell Symmes who struck out Donaldson to retire the side with the bases full. Symmes went on from there to pitch hitless ball over the final two innings to win a well-deserved victory for himself.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

During the past months numerous boards in the fence on both sides of the Bacon street incline to the bridge over the railroad have been broken and replaced. More boards than ever have been broken recently and as yet have not been replaced. A passing motorist last week saw three boys in the act of breaking these boards. Their parents should have the chance to pay for replacing them instead of the tax payers.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nowell and family are spending the month of August as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Connolly at their summer home in Hampton Beach, N. H. (Mrs. Nowell is president of the Winchester Emblem Club.)

The Foskitts, George and Viola and their youngest son, Loren have returned to Winchester after spending the past three weeks at Great Bay, Newington, N. H.

The School Committee has had signs erected at the two gates on Manchester Field, left open to permit the public to walk across the playing surface, forbidding bicycles and wheeled vehicles on the field, and warning those crossing the field while it is used for practice and games that they do so at their own risk. The wording of the latter sign led the STAR to believe that the restrictions placed upon the use of the field as a right-of-way by the public had been rescinded. Chairman Speers of the School Committee reassured us, however, that such is not the case, and that the rules made by the School Committee for the use of the field by the public, other than as an athletic field, still stand. We are glad to learn this and hope that these rules will be enforced much better this fall than they were in the spring. On one occasion then the track men had to stop running while three women walked abreast down the running track, refusing to get off when requested to do so by the coach. Their reply to his asking them to get off the track, which was in use, was reported as, "Why should we?" As for the bikes, they should really be kept off the playing surface of the field at all times, especially when it is in use. Not only are they dangerous to those playing on the field, but they are a nuisance to spectators at contests there.

MR. GARVEY SETS THE RECORD STRAIGHT!

August 14, 1949

Editor of the Star:

R. F. D. (not F. D. R.) just delivered my copy of the STAR, and I have just finished reading an amusing, if untrue, article entitled "McTighe's Version". This report is the most gross reportorial error I have ever chanced to gaze upon. In my judgment such a figment of the imagination could only come about as the aftermath of a lost week-end, probably at Owl's Head, Me., and to keep the record straight I herewith offer a true account of what occurred on the only occasion this year when your humble servant and Mr. McTighe have met upon the links.

May I advise your readers that this meeting between the local optical tycoon and myself took place about a month ago on Winchester's rolling fairways. At that time the debonair Mr. McTighe was carrying an "egg money" handicap, which in the phraseology of the inimitable D. Swain Abbott, former pro at Meaderboro Crossing, N. H., and now of Forest Circle, means a golfer who submits only his highest rounds in order to keep his handicap up, subsequently using his extra strokes to relieve unsuspecting fellow-travelers of their weekly "egg money" at golf for so much a hole.

I use the words "at that time" to fix the date of our meeting because shortly after my match with Mr. McTighe, Van French, the Sam Spade of the handicap committee, slashed the McTighe handicap two strokes, thereby putting an end to his nefarious "egg money" scheme.

On the first tee Mr. McTighe demanded from me the strokes to which he claimed he was entitled and I graciously acquiesced. He also advised that since he was not feeling too stout at the moment he would play only nine holes. This also met with my approval since nine has been my regimen for the past two years, generally speaking.

In the case of my match with Mr. McTighe I had to make an exception for at the turn the optical tycoon was in the ruck and to avoid his displeasure I yielded to his pleading to continue and play the back nine.

Just to show you, however, that right occasionally has its inning, at the end of the inward nine there was the old Garvey gonfalon still floating on high, unsmirched by ignominious defeat!

Your article refers to Mr. Abbott's tacit assent to Mr. McTighe's boast. Since this match which I have just described is the only one in which I have been involved with Mr. McTighe this season, and since it was played without the benefit of a gallery, it is difficult for me to conceive how my erstwhile partner could have any knowledge of the facts.

I can only hope that Mr. French didn't happen to see that "McTighe Version" article in his STAR last week and figure that the optical tycoon has improved so much that he now rates a lower handicap than mine. It will be back to the chicken farm for Roger if his happens.

I am herewith throwing down the gauntlet and will meet Mr. McTighe at the Royal and Ancient Scottish game at any time after September 1, the stakes to be fun, money or Mr. Abbott's coca cola suit. If he doesn't care to accept, I will gladly teach him some of the finer points of the game, for a consideration of course.

I must attach one stipulation to the match, if it is played. There must be an impartial score-keeper. After reading Mr. McTighe's report I think I'll need one.

Leo F. Garvey,
East Alton,
New Hampshire.

DEFICIT FINANCING

Editor of the Star:

No great nation ever approached bankruptcy and ruin more rapidly than our own under the Roosevelt Old Deal and the Truman Raw Deal, adroitly misnamed the New Deal and the Fair Deal respectively for ulterior political reasons. In 1928 there were 400 departments and bureaus in Washington. In 1948 there were 1812. In 1928 there were 570,000 employees in the Federal Civil Service, in 1948, 2,100,000. In the last twenty years the per capita debt has risen from $146 to $1759. It has not been a case of thrift and pay as you go, but all the time the government has been running into debt with an unbalanced budget. For more than a year the government has been spending each month more than its income. On August 4 the United States sold $1 billion in short term Treasury bills to take care of $800 million maturity. They called it "deficit financing". That sounds less alarming, better than the plain truth that it is broke and cannot pay its way. Call it anything you like -- delayed floundering, deceptive fantasy, deficit financing, it's all the same, you have to borrow in order to pay maturing notes, just deferring the day of reckoning, increasing the debt.

Ex-President Hoover in his 75th birthday address at Stanford University said "Along the road of spending, the government either takes over, which is socialism, or dictates institutional and economic life, which is fascism. We are on the last mile to collectivism through government collection and spending of the savings of the people." Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation said after his return from Europe, "The countries in which the trend away from socialism is most pronounced have made the greatest relative progress."

The First National Bank of Boston, the largest and oldest bank in New England, a sound institution of high repute says in its New England letter of July 29, "Instead of being a remedy, deficit financing will aggravate our basic problems, undermine our security, and unless checked, invite disaster." Edson B. Smith, the financial editor of the Boston Herald, writes in his financial column of August 3, "When the Treasury sells securities to commercial banks the net result is just the same as though the Treasury had printed paper money and paid its bills with it." In a recent editorial the Boston Herald says "Deficit financing at a time like this doesn't make sense so we might as well set it down to economic illiteracy on the part of the President."

In its New England Letter the First National Bank of Boston writes "Those who are concerned with the preservation of Federal fiscal integrity are branded as 'anti-social, 'economic illiterates', and 'ruthless men'. Arraigned against them is a powerful lobby of Federal employees who are mustering their strength to launch a huge spending program and to block the economies recommended by the Hoover Commission. Unless there is a fundamental change in our policies and national philosophy, we are headed for a crisis in a comparatively short period of time."

The national debt is now 250 billion dollars and is increasing every month. The annual interest on that vast sum is more than was the total national debt some years before the world wars and the advent of the Old Deal.

It has been said that five percent of the people think, ten per cent think they think and eighty five per cent never think. Herbert Hoover said, think it over. That is sound advice, join the five percent.

TELL ME, OH FATHER

Father must I go out to work?
No! No! my darling son.
We're Living now on Easy street
With funds from Washington.

We're cared for now by Uncle Sam
So don't get exercised.
We do not need to care a damn,
Because we're subsidized.

But if he's going to treat us well
And give us milk and honey,
Please tell me, truly where the hell
He's going to get the money.

Don't worry child, there is no hitch
About this glorious plan
He'll get this money from the rich
To help the common man.

But, father Won't there come a time
If we take all their cash
And they are left without a dime
When things will go to smash?

You need a lot of seasoning,
You nosey little brat.
You do too damn much reasoning
To be a Democrat!

PARKED MACHINE RAMMED

A Plymouth sedan, owned by William H. Buracker of 12 Stratford road, and parked facing south in front of the residence of Mr. John Doherty at 137 Highland avenue, was badly damaged about the rear-end when it was rammed shortly after 10 o'clock Wednesday night by a Plymouth coupe being driven south on Highland avenue by Robert C. Cochran of 4 Cypress court, Brighton. Cochran told the police his attention was diverted by the intersection of ways at Prince avenue and he thought the other car was moving. His own machine was wrecked.

FOR THE THIRD TIME!

Few who have followed this column will perhaps credit the following statement, but the fact still remains that at Tuesday evening's regular meeting of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, postponed from the week previous because of excessive heat, President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele and the lowly Secretary once again handed out the works to the haughty Lake Street Lancers, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset, and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham. To make it even more unbelieveable, also, the victory was achieved in straight games, the first coming after the Association's officers had been well behind the Lancers. Mr. Teele was so delirious with joy and the Secretary so dazed by his good fortune that both went completely to pot after their spectacular victory.

On the other hand Mr. Teele's caustic remarks about the McLaughlin form needled the Pride of Stow into a rash of ringers while Mr. Pridham announced that he was "mad enough to do something", and did! Let us in charity draw the veil over the remainder of the session.

The officers, however, won what Mr. Teele called "the big one" and he still felt good enough at the end of play to tell the boys that when he got back from Wells River he would be in to see them! That is the index! Mr. Teele is at peace with the world and his ego when he can mouth these significant words.

Mr. Charles S. Adams of Mystic avenue, popular veteran taxi operator, is at the Baker Memorial Hospital where he underwent an operation. He has had no setbacks and his condition is reported as good as could be expected.

Coach Paul Dorrington got his Woburn High football candidates out this week on an invitation basis and will start serious work for his team's participation in the football jamboree at Hudson September 9. These early starts make the teams that indulge in them look good during early season when they have a distinct advantage over schools who start later. In many instances however the early starters are on the stale side when the big late-season objective games roll around and lose their zip. From the middle of August through Thanksgiving is a long stretch for schoolboys playing a rugged game like football.

Lou Goddu of Goddu avenue, popular trainer of high school athletic teams, has been spending the week at his camp on Kezar Pond, Me. Reports of his fishing luck are eagerly awaited!

Tony DeTeso, former Winchester High and Tufts all around sports star, told the reporter he is starting his Stoneham High football men on a light conditioning program next week. Tony takes over the coaching reins at Stoneham this fall after a couple of very successful years at Wilmington and wants a chance to get acquainted with his boys before starting real work August 29.

Rev. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, informed the STAR this week that several clergymen from the tropics and equatorial Africa, whom he has met recently stated that the weather here last week was worse than anything they have experienced in their tropical stations. Anyone want to dissent!

Captain J. Edward Noonan of the Fire Department and Fireman Charlie Moran commence their vacations the end of this week.

The Fire Department was called again Wednesday night to put out another underground fire at the new town dump off Swanton street.

Monday evening's alarm from Box 48 at Sylvester avenue and Canal street turned out to be false and the police were notified in an effort to locate the responsible party.

WORLD WAR AND PARTITION HAVE EXPANDED CALCUTTA

Does the Indian Union's steaming, teeming port city of Calcutta, together with its suburbs on both sides of the Hooghly River, comprise the world's most populous metropolitan area?

At the last official count, made in 1941, greater Calcutta showed a total of not quite 2,500,000 inhabitants. Matched with official figures for other large cities at that time, India's industrial titan failed to rank among the ten largest cities in the world, notes the National Geographic Society.

A current dispatch, however, claims that 12,000,000 people are today quartered in the greater Calcutta region - - a larger total than generally claimed even for London or New York. The Calcutta estimate stirs a question - - What has been happening at India's great crossroads of trade between East and West?

Jobs Provide Lure

Lying behind the active Burma front, Calcutta was swollen by a steady influx of workers during World War II years. Railway shops, metal-working plants, and jute mills poured forth war materials. Military men of many nations were stationed at and near the city. Soldiers on leave boomed hotel and amusement trade.

When independence legislation in August, 1947, set up the separate states of India and Pakistan, the cleavage divided Bengal Province. Hindus and Parsees, unhappy in East Bengal and other parts of Moslem Pakistan, began a large-scale migration.

Because Calcutta in West Bengal offered prospects of employment, rations, and accommodations, the crowded city stood out as the refugees' goal. At its peak last September, the migration ran as high as 15,000 people a week.

The Hooghly, muddy and swift-flowing, is westernmost of the mouths of the Ganges River. Calcutta lies on its east bank 90 miles from the sea. Extensive wharves on both river banks at Calcutta mark the inland limit of ocean-going ships in the region.

A large shade tree under which European merchants traded with the East Indians 250 years ago determined the site of the city. Reasonably healthful today despite overcrowding, Calcutta long took for granted its recurrent epidemics, considered them inevitable products of summer's combination of 100-degree temperature and 100 percent humidity.

Sacred Cows Snarl Traffic

Calcutta was India's capital from 1857, when Victoria was proclaimed Empress, until New Delhi was built in King George V's day. Half the rich trade of prepartitioned India flowed through this one port.

Merchants in limousines, big motor trucks, buffalo carts, rickshas, and pushcarts today move together in traffic directed by efficient police in spotless white. Only cows, sacred to the Hindus, amble at will on the crowded streets. Many in number, they help themselves to grocers' vegetables or recline beside smart office buildings.

Beggars and peddlers are legion. Folding bazzars have formed a new section of the Chowringhee, main shopping thoroughfare. One of the largest is a cloth bazaar where some 200 merchants show textile wares.

On the river bank the maidan, the city's big park, contains historic Fort William, the handsome Victoria Museum, and the popular racecourse. The city's airport is being enlarged. Conversion of the rail lines from steam to electricity and building of a subway system have been proposed as means of easing the difficult traffic problem.

Across the river, Howrah sprawls without plan, getting its full share of the current growth. Some planners contend that Howrah occupies the logical side of the river, and will gradually become the heart of the metropolis.

Ever try green scrambled eggs?

If you are interested, you can get the necessary hen fruit in Yorkshire, England, where some barnyard, biddies have been acting up lately. They're laying eggs with green yolks. What's more, the eggs are good for you.

The behavior of the British chickens may sound a little fantastic at first, but the explanation is quite simple, notes the National Geographic Society. The color of the egg yolk is controlled by the diet of the layer.

A yolk will turn out to be a light yellow by keeping chicken away from greens, yellow corn, and all but a little alfalfa. A richer shade of yellow, sometimes red-orange, may be obtained by feeding heavily on yellow corn and alfalfa.

But an overdose in the hen's diet of such barnyard "delicacies" as fresh greens, cottonseed meal, or acorns from certain types of oak trees, will make her egg an outcast. It will show up with the greenish-colored yolk that has some Yorkshire farmers looking askance at their flocks these days.

Nutritionally, eggs with green yolks are just as good for human consumption as those with light or orange-yellow ones. But man's eating habits have accustomed him to the yellow yolk, which doesn't leave much market for other shades.

The consumption of eggs, one of the oldest and most widespread of foods, isn't restricted to the production of barnyard fowl. Eggs of almost all birds and of some reptiles and fish are eaten or have at one time in some corner of the world.

Those of ducks, geese, ostriches, plovers, alligators, crocodiles, turtles, penguins, gulls, albatrosses, and pelicans, among others, still are important diet items for many peoples today.

AUGUST 18, 1899

There was a railroad smash up last Friday afternoon just below the station. It was not an important one as is usual in such cases, only the derailment of four freight cars heavily loaded with ice which jumped a switch. The wreck obstructed travel on the inward tracks for about an hour and a half, and to one without experience in such matters it looked as if there would be considerable trouble in replacing the cars on the rails. The tracks on a siding were torn from the fastenings, and the cars were lying crosswise to the rails with their wheels buried to the hubs in soft earth. The accident took place at four o'clock and at six the cars had been taken away, all damage to the main tracks had been repaired and the trains running as usual. There was a large crowd of spectators attracted by the accident who took great interest in the systematic manner in which the work was prosecuted, and for once the man who knows it all had no suggestion to offer.

In Lynn this year the assessors have taxed all bicycles, whether high grade or cheap ones, at a uniform rate of $50, and the tax on each wheel comes to exactly 89 cents. This is believed to be the fairest system, on the whole, of any yet devised. (Wakefield Item).

Recently a couple in Arlington wanted to get married but were compelled to go to North Cambridge to find a parson. They were told on good authority that there were but two ministers in the whole of North Cambridge.

Messrs. Holland and Duffee, formerly with George M. Wilcox, have opened a fish market at No. 8 Thompson street, where a large supply of fish, clams and oysters can be found at all times.

Cities and towns owning a steam road roller have their names on the machines. Why not put Winchester on ours? It is a good advertisement and helps proclaim the fact that this is a progressive town.

A young woman, a stranger in town, entered the house of our efficient Chief of Police soon after midnight Thursday. It was reported that the Chief, through lack of courage or some other reason, refused to arrest the intruder and take her to the lockup. It has since transpired that the party who entered the house was a Miss McIntosh. Congratulations!

Mr. George E. Pratt went to Epping, N. H., Thursday where he will remain until Tuesday. With his family he will drive over the road on the return journey, by easy stages, occupying two days. He made the journey to Epping in the same manner.

Mr. George R. Brine, we understand, is to take a responsible position in the big clothing house called, "The Famous" which opened in Boston on the 24th inst.

The destruction of 13 fine large elm trees on Washington street caused by the widening of that thoroughfare, causes sincere regret to all lovers of trees. Had it been possible to save them, Tree Warden Nowell would have done so, as he is a staunch friend of the shade trees that adorn our highways.

Mr. E. A. Holbrook has bought the grocery business of Mr. W. F. Foster, Wentworth Block. Mr. Holbrook is one of Winchester's pioneer grocers and his reputation in this business in the past is a guarantee of the best goods, the best service and the lowest prices.

Traders Day has come and gone. The weather was the most perfect of the summer and about 100 took advantage of the day and went to Salem Willows in two specially chartered electric cars. It was the first outing in the history of the business interests of the town, and was successful in every particular but one, the single one being that more of business men with their families did not attend!

The annual tennis tournament of the Calumet Club was brought to a close last Saturday and was won by Donald Belcher in singles and Belcher and Gutterson in doubles. The finals in singles were played on that day, between Mr. Gutterson and Mr. Belcher, with Mr. Belcher winning, 1-6, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4. This makes Mr. Belcher the runner-up and entitles him to play Mr. Nowell, the present holder of the Calumet Trophy to see whose name will go on the cup for this year. Belcher and Gutterson beat Woods and Maynadier in doubles.

Once again the Italian residents of Winchester delighted the people of Winchester and surrounding places with one of their unexcelled displays of fireworks. The show on Manchester Field on Friday night was fully up to the standard set years ago, and even surpassed the former entertainments with its novel effects and brilliant coloring.

As early as July 26 Mildred Benson of Winchester, County canning Champion of 1923, had already put up over 200 jars of fruits, vegetables, fish and fruit products. Last year she canned 537 jars of products nd it looks as though she might beat her own record this year.

Tomorrow afternoon on Manchester Field the annual series between Winchester and Woburn will get under way when the Legion and the Woburn City Club lock horns in the first of a five-game series. Manager LeDuc plans to use Tansey and Mathews, and Mark Kelley will be in the outfield. "Jackie" Hevey will be in the Woburn lineup.

In the pitch darkness between two and three o'clock, after a wild chase in a commandeered car through Winchester, West Medford, Medford and Somerville, Officers Reagan and Hogan of the local police department finally rounded up and captured in the vicinity of the Medford City Yard, three occupants of a Ford touring car which had failed to obey Officer Reagan's signal to stop while going through Winchester square last Sunday morning. All but the driver drew ten dollar fines for drunkenness and disturbing the peace. The driver, Joseph P. Lennox of Medford, was found guilty of reckless driving, operating so as to endanger and refusing to stop for a police officer. He was given a suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction and fined $250.

In the Longwood Women's Singles Tournament on the grass courts at Chestnut Hill, Miss Gretchen Ginn of this town lost her match to Miss Cornelia Burgess of Worcester after a hard fight, 6-3, 9-7.

Brenda Bond, a Winchester girl, has been chosen by Fox to play Claire, the Irish society girl lead in the film version of "The Fool", the famous Channing Pollack play, which will be released late in the coming summer.

Efforts are being made by interested citizens to average the time of the Town Hall and Congregational Church Clocks. The idea is, to strike a sort of happy medium, whereby the five minutes difference now existing between the two time pieces may be done away with, the chimes at the Unitarian Church remaining as they are, and striking one minute ahead of the hour.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of Winchester's Water System. On September 20, 1874, 50 years ago, the water was turned on the high service pipes and Winchester went on the map as a town supplying its own water for fire and domestic purposes.

Due to oversight the name of Mr. George Dunnell of Medford was omitted from the list of G.A.R. members who attended the Grand Army parade in Boston last week. Mr. J. H. Bennett of the local Camp, Sons of Veterans, also attended.

Mr. Preston E. Corey of Cliff street sailed his new 23-foot power boat from Marblehead to Megansett over the week-end. He cruised as far as Scituate Friday afternoon, stopping there over night. On Saturday he went through the canal and down the coast to Megansett.

VISITING IN MISSISSIPPI

Mrs. Raymond Mandeville of 39 Loring avenue, Winchester has arrived in McCoombs, Mississippi for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, the former Norma Mandeville of this town.

Prior to Mrs. Anderson's marriage she was an honor graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1941. After her graduation she entered the WAC's in Boston as a dental technician. Shortly after, she was transferred to Vienna, Austria where she served as secretary to the Provost Marshall. Miss Mandeville met her future husband, Tech. Sgt. Robert E. Anderson, while in Vienna and was married there. Upon Mr. Anderson's discharge from the Army he and his bride went to McCoombs, Mississippi to take up residence in their new home. They have a daughter Roberta.

Extensive alterations are being made to the store front of the Winchester Drug Company on Main street next to the railroad crossing. An entirely new front will be installed featuring one large central entrance, flanked by display windows, instead of the two small entrances which have served the store so long.

CIVIL AIR PATROL NEWS

The Medford Flight of the Civil Air Patrol will discontinue its meetings for the next two weeks. During this time, the members will attend the two week Civil Air Patrol encampment at Westover Air Base, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

The encampment begins Monday August 15 and all cadets will be flown to and from the Air Base. Parents may visit cadets on visiting Sunday, August 21, from 11:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m. Competent officers, both male and female will supervise cadets throughout the entire encampment.

The Civil Air Patrol Air Show of July 16 and 17 was a great success and drew huge crowds of interested spectators.

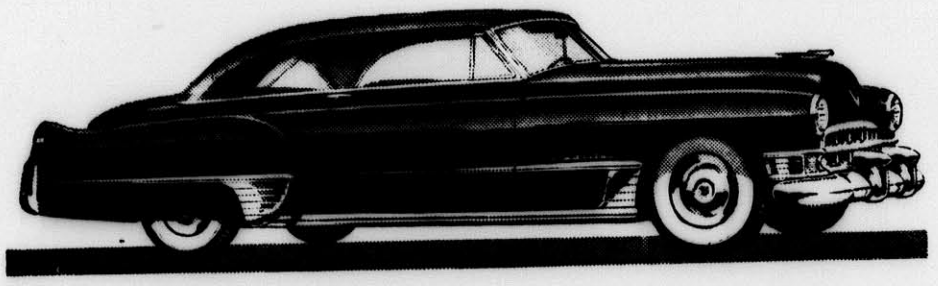
Presenting the New

Cadillac Coupe de Ville



ILLUSTRATED above is the Coupe de Ville—an ultra smart new Cadillac body type, designed for those who seek the low-swept lines and open-airiness of a convertible—combined with the comfort, convenience and safety of a closed car.

It is a classic example of modernity and practicality—one of the most desirable and most useful models ever to issue from the boards of Cadillac designers.

Yet—smart and beautiful as it is—the Coupe de Ville's greatest superiority lies in the chassis on which it is built. For, like all Cadillacs, the core of its goodness is found in its performance—in the wonderful capacity of its new V-type engine; in the soft, even, restful manner in which it rolls over the highway; in the easy, effortless response to steering wheel and brakes. It is, truly, a symphony in motion.

We should be pleased indeed to give you full details about this wonderful new body type—as well as the other beautiful models which grace our showroom. Why not come in at your earliest convenience?

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER NURSE'S AIDES HELP WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

This particular phase of Red Cross Service to the Community has had a varied and dramatic history. From 1940 - 1945, their help was indispensable, as our entrance into the war accentuated the shortage of nurses. It was thought that the end of the war and the return of the nurses from military service would eliminate the need for nurse's aides, but time has shown that the place of the nurse's aide in the hospital is a permanent one.

Since 1942 many women in and around Winchester have finished the prescribed course, have proven their worth and have shown that they can render a very valuable service to the hospital and the community.

As late as May of this year, a new class was trained to add to the number of those already serving in order that Winchester Hospital could be more adequately served.

From letters and calls to this Chapter from patients who have been served by these Nurse's Aides, we wish to publicly acknowledge their contribution, which is a true reflection of the spirit of service.

During the Month of May - - 12 different aides volunteered 337¼ hours; in June, 10 different aides volunteered 160 hours. These are but random examples -- the months vary according to the needs of the Hospital.

Understanding, tolerance, sympathetic interest, and a willingness to be of help is the story behind these volunteers who quietly, faithfully, efficiently, sometimes sacrificially have brought untold benefits to those whom they serve.

BEACH WAGON BURNED

A Ford beach wagon owned by Koko Boodakian of 14 Lochwan street was badly burned Monday forenoon as it was being towed along Swanton street by another machine.

As the two machines arrived about opposite the middle gate of Beggs & Cobb's tannery, the rear axle broke and one of the rear wheels came off. The broken axle punctured the gas tank and evidently a spark caused either by the break or the machine sagging to the ground ignited the gasoline.

As the firemen were approaching the vicinity of the fire they at first thought the tannery was on fire, so dense was the smoke. The beach wagon was virtually destroyed by the fire. The other machine was unharmed and the operators escaped injury.

STAR ADS BRING RESULTS

Early last Friday evening a resident of Kenwin road, while on the veranda of her home, narrowly escaped being hit in the head with a 22 calibre bullet, the missile passing through the screens of the veranda within a foot of her head. The police were notified.

IT'S CHEAPER BY TRAIN THAN BY PLANE

Look at the figures. See what you save on both one-way and round-trip train travel over the cost of plane travel. Flying is airport-to-airport. The bus or cab fare to and from your in-town terminal is extra . . . but the train — no matter what the weather — takes you safely and smoothly from in-town Boston to mid-town New York. No last-minute cancellation of schedules!

THE TRAIN SAVES YOU $1.36 in parlor cars $5.69 in coaches

WHEN YOU DRIVE . . . it costs you from $13.25* to $18.30* to make the approximate 218-mile trip from Boston to New York, or from $26.60 to $36.60 to make the round-trip by automobile — much more than by train.

* A.L.A. "Automobilist" figures show it costs from 6.08 cents to 8.38 cents per mile to drive your automobile.

Yes, any way you figure it — even on the crack extra-fare Merchants Limited, 3 hours and 55 minutes from in-town Boston to mid-town New York — you save money traveling by train.

The Misses Kenney of Myrtle street, have returned from a vacation on the North Shore.

Dave Sheldon and Bob Flynn succeeded in getting a huge turtle out of the Mill Pond on Wednesday, catching the big fellow with a line and hook. Sheldon had to go into the water to get the turtle before he could get his feet on bottom, for once there he would have snapped the line pronto. Police believe this turtle has been responsible for the destruction of several ducks and were delighted at his capture. Sgt. Cassidy shot the big reptile and he was removed to the town dump.

The Fire Department was called at 6:27 Tuesday evening for a fire at the old town dump off Summer street. At 6:38 Box 7-7-35 was put on for more help and the men battled the stubborn blaze until 1:41 Wednesday morning when the "all out" was sounded. Later Wednesday morning at 10:25 the men were called again to the New Dump off Swanton street for another underground fire there.

A bicyclist reported to the police Tuesday evening that he had been knocked from his wheel by a big Irish terrier while he was riding east on Oak street, his trousers being ripped and both hands scraped. The owner of the dog was notified.

Dick Smith of Winchester is among those invited to Northfield, Vt., for the opening of the Norwich University football season on September 1. Smith is a backfield candidate.

IRAN'S DEMAVEND, JURIST'S GOAL, DOMINANT PEAK OF SOUTHWEST ASIA

A Yankee tackles an Olympus in July when Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, accompanied by his son, tries a packhorse ascent of majestic Mount Demavend in northern Iran (Persia).

The jurist, known as an outdoorsman in the Pacific northwest, has scheduled his Asiatic mountaineering adventure for the first half of July, between visits to two newly independent Mediterranean states -- Lebanon and Israel.

A superb landmark 45 miles northeast of Tehran, the capital, and 45 miles south of the Caspian Sea, Demavend is the highest summit of southwestern Asia as well as of the seemingly endless series of Elburz Mountains ridges in which it lies. It towers to 18,934 feet above sea level, notes the National Geographic Society.

Thus, Demavend, paradise of Zoroaster, Persia's pre-Mohammedan prophet, is virtually twice as high as Mount Olympus, traditional home of the Greek gods. The two and Japan's Fuji are outstanding among the world's legend-steeped peaks.

Quiescent Volcano

Demavend outrivals any mountain in Europe. It rises some 400 feet higher than Mount Elbrus, 720 air miles northwest, generally ranked as Europe's highest. Elbrus lies in the Caucasus barrier that divides Asia and Europe.

The Elburz range is itself a 12,000-foot wall between the Caspian depression, with water surface 85 feet below sea level, and the Iranian plateau to the south. Citrus groves, rice, cotton, and hardwood forests flourish in the moist warm region to the north, but the plateau is largely arid for lack of rain.

Demavend's conical form and evenly sloping sides indicate its volcanic nature. Numerous hot springs around its base label it quiescent rather than extinct. Gaseous fumes issue from small fissures in its usually snow-filled, bowllike crater.

Conquered by Few

Few natives of the region have tried to scale the mountain, holding it in superstitious awe. The first ascent by a European was in 1837, and several Europeans and Americans have achieved the summit since. Obstacles offered are few aside from cold, thin air, and fatigue.

Shifting fields of powdery pumice close to the summit make it hard not to slide back two feet for each foot of advance. One who struggles upward for an hour at this stage of the climb can safely descend over the same ground in three or four minutes.

FIRST BLOOD FOR LEGION

14-11 Victory Nails First Championship Game

The Legion won the big first game of the playoff for the Town League softball championship Wednesday evening on Ginn Field, clubbing Marty Joyce for 18 hits and beating the Maguire Motors team, 14-11, after spotting the automobiles six big ones in the opening frame.

After this inning "Babe" Olivadoti held the Maguires scoreless until the sixth, when a single run trickled over. When the Legion hit Joyce to all corners of the lot and some loose play on the part of Maguire fielders permitted these hits to tally five runs in their seventh it looked like the game was iced for the military, but the automotives put on a rally in their half that could have meant the ball game easily.

Noonan, first up, walked and Mahoney hit a grandmother pitch for a home run over Plummer's head in left field, shortening the gap, 14-9. Another walk or two, followed by a wild pitch and a fly to left, made it 14-10.

With Perry on 1st and one away, Wilson bunted foul on his third strike, but Connors got a life when Stevenson tipped his bat and Treacy singled off Olivadoti's glove to fill the sacks.

As Big Bob Callahan strode to the plate things looked good for the Maguires for Robert is the League's hardest hitter and a grand-slam homer would have tied the game.

Robert didn't get a real piece of the ball but his sizzling bouncer climbed up Sammy Provinzano's chest for a hit and Perry was over with Connors advancing to third. Paul didn't hold up but dashed for the plate and that was that, for Sammy's perfect peg and a swell tag by Stevenson erased him standing up and the game was over.

Poor outfielding, especially, hurt the Legion, though a great running catch of a fly behind third by Connors with two on helped plenty. Perry made a great catch of a line drive at third and "Chucker" Roche and Olivadoti turned in a grand play at first on a wide grounder that Roche snared. The Maguires got one nice break when Roche laced a vicious liner right into Turner's hands with the sacks jammed.

There were three big rowdydows following umpires' decisions, two involving Billy Walden, who ruled an overthrow at third on a muff by Perry that the Legion protested vehemently, and also called Perry safe at second on a cutoff play that apparently had the runner off the bag. The other was a safe decision at first by Halvorsen on a low throw by Farrell, which Roche seemed to recover in time, at least according to the Legion cohorts.

Piggy DeTeso made a fine running catch of a fly in short left field and Sam Provinzano added to the Legion's obvious punch with four out of four.

Two Pontiac sedans were in collision on Washington street at Irving street on Sunday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock. Both cars were headed north on Washington street and one of them, driven by Samuel R. Roberto of 23 Irving street, stopped to permit approaching traffic to pass before entering Irving street. The driver of the other car, Robert A. Vallance of 300 Salem street, Woburn, told the Police he was unable to swing his machine far enough to the right in time to avoid the collision. Both cars were damaged but no one was injured.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Truck crops, we call our vegetables, but not because they are hauled to market in trucks. In this use, the National Geographic Society points out, the word truck is from the French word troquer -- to barter or exchange -- as has long been done in farmers' produce markets.

The University of Pittsburgh's 42-story Cathedral of Learning, if spread out in the usual style of college buildings, would crowd the 14 acres of land surrounding the structure.

Because its tough-husked fruit is a great navigator, the coconut palm has extended its sway around the earth, says the National Geographic Society. Tall palms overhanging coastal surf drop their seeds into the sea, which transports them to new homes hundreds of miles away.

Nevada is the most sparsely settled of all the 48 states. With a population of about 139,000, it has fewer than two people per square mile.

Seattle's deep, fresh-water harbor has saved both money and labor for the city's shipping industry. Barnacles, those pesky marine crustaceans that hop free rides at sea on ship bottoms, die in fresh water and drop off hulls of vessels, says the National Geographic Society.

Early Spanish settlers brought with them many of the domesticated animals common throughout the United States today. Among others, they transplanted horses, cattle, sheep, goats, pigs, burros, and cats into the Southwest which Spain held for more than 300 years.

The waltzing mouse of Japan, bred as a curiosity, suffers from a cerebral disease, says the National Geographic Society. One of these mice may suddenly start spinning at any time, in a whirling dervish performance that ends as unexpectedly as it begins, either in sleep or the pursuit of the activity in which the animal was engaged before the dancing impulse struck it.

Up in the heart of the Arctic Ocean icebergs are never seen. The reason for this, says the National Geographic Society, is that there are few Arctic lands with glaciers large and active enough to produce giant bergs. Most bergs are "born" along the western coast of Greenland and are found in near-by waters.

FOR SALE by Stacy

TODAY'S CHOICE LISTING On a Fells parkway site of great natural beauty is this charming Cape Cod style house: truly one of Winchester's strikingly beautiful homes - the kind you are unable to pass without admiring its loveliness. Built only ten years ago of best quality materials and workmanship, every detail is in good taste. It will meet your most exacting requirements for those de-luxe qualities found only in perfectly appointed superior homes: not a large hard-to-care-for house . . . Here are its chief features: a 25 ft. living-room with beautiful fireplace, screened flagstoned porch at side, a pine panelled study or den, a dining room of exceptional charm and good dimensions, a power ventilated kitchen as attractive as it is modern in its up-to-dateness (obviously planned by a woman for genuine efficiency). Conveniently placed in service passageway to living-room is a better than average sized toilet-lavatory with attractive tiling . . . There are three second floor bedrooms including a roomy master chamber with a good wardrobe closet and private tiled bath having stall shower. A second tiled bath with tub shower is provided for the other two bedrooms . . . In the basement is a well lighted recreation room with fireplace. The house is insulated and heated by forced circulation hot-water with oil burner. Two car garage with overhead doors under kitchen wing; hard surfaced drive with generous turn-around space. The lot contains nearly fifteen thousand sq. feet and is nicely landscaped with house well set back. Its Fells location assures rare comfort regardless of summer heat.

An immediate inspection is unreservedly recommended. Shown only by advance appointment. The owner has set the price at $25,000.

NECESSARIES OF LIFE BILL

The Governor suffered a stinging defeat because he brushed aside the advice of those of his own party, who believe in private enterprise, and adopted the recommendations of left wing state planners in his office.

The vote of 25 to 11 proves that there are enough Democratic and Republican Senators to stop the creation of a socialistic bureaucracy which would turn the present Necessaries of Life Division from a watchdog into a huge octopus, snooping into private business and harassing both employers and employees.

WINCHESTER GIRL FEATURED IN MAGAZINE "SEVENTEEN"

Betzy Chipman, seventeen year-old daughter of Prof. and Mrs. John Chipman of Lorena road, is being featured on the "Teens in the News" page of the September issue of the magazine, "Seventeen". Each month "Teens in the News" tells about teenagers who have made some outstanding achievement, and Betzy's winning of the American Association for the United Nations' high school national essay contest this spring made her eligible for this honor.

Betzy graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1949, being among the top ranking scholars of the class with honors work in English and membership on the permanent honor roll of her class and in the National Honor Society. At graduation she was one of a panel of four seniors who discussed the advantages and disadvantages of Federal aid to education, and she was also the winner of both the Washington and Franklin History Medal and the Mary B. Davis Memorial Scholarship of the Winchester College Club.

As a prize for winning the United Nations essay contest Betzy had her choice of a trip to Europe or $500. She chose the trip to Europe and sailed July 13, arrangements having been made by the American Association of the United Nations for her to go as one of a group of girls from the Putney School in Vermont. The Putney girls were going abroad with two instructors as chaperones and permission was granted by the Putney authorities for the United Nations essay winner to accompany the party.

Betzy has spent a busy summer abroad. After a stop in Paris she spent two weeks at a training camp for counsellors in the Alps and then served for two weeks as an assistant at a camp for French children at Moulin Baron, France.

This tour of duty over, Betzy and her party rode through the Chatean country on bicycles and then returned for another stop in Paris before sailing for this country, Tuesday, August 23. She expects to be at home by the end of the month and will enter Cornell University this fall.

LANE — DAVIS

Baskets of white gladioli, decorative greens and candelabra on the altar of the Franklin Street Congregational church in Manchester, N. H., formed the setting, Saturday afternoon, August 20, at 4 o'clock, for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Jane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester T. C. Davis of 49 North Adams street, Manchester, to James Brackett Lord Lane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane of 4 Drexel avenue.

Rev. George M. Hooten, Jr., officiated at the double ring ceremony for which Maurice Hoffmann, Jr. church organist, played the traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin, fashioned with tight fitting bodice, having a high neckline with Peter Pan collar, long sleeves and a bouffant skirt with train. Her fingertip length illusion veil was draped from a lace cap trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Attending the bride was Miss Louise L. Lane of Winchester, the bridegroom's sister, as maid of honor, wearing a gown of aqua taffeta and lace. Similarly styled gowns were worn by the four bridesmaids, Miss Marian Teel of Marblehead, in yellow; Miss Barbara Ann Clark of Lexington, the bride's cousin, rose; Miss Hilda Marion Lowd of South Easton, orchid; and Miss Jewell Currier of Newburyport, green. All wore floral head-dresses matching the colonial bouquets which they carried.

Franklin J. Lane, Jr., of Winchester, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man and ushers included G. Stimson Eveleth of Rye, N. Y.; Arvon A. Webster of Babylon, N. Y.; William C. Davis, the bride's brother, and John A. Coe of Manchester, Conn.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving the more than 300 guests at a reception held in the parish house auditorium directly following the ceremony. Mrs. Davis was gowned in lace-trimmed dusty rose crepe and wore a matching flowered hat and orchid corsage. Mrs. Lane wore a periwinkle chiffon gown with orchid hat and orchid corsage. Miss Nancy Hutchinson of Swampscott presided over the guest book.

On returning from a trip to Northern New England, Mr. and Mrs. Lane will leave for Ypsilanti, Mich., where they will live while the bridegroom studies for his master's degree in chemistry at the University of Michigan. For traveling the bride wore a pearl gray suit with dark blue accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Central High school, Manchester, N. H., and Jackson college where she was a member of the Chi Omega sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from Phillips-Exeter academy and Tufts college and is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. He served for three years with the Navy in the Pacific theatre.

WARREN — BISHOP

Miss Joan Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erle A. Bishop of Melrose was married to Donald Howard Warren, son of Mrs. Viola W. Warren of 2 Greeley road and Mr. Howard W. Warren of Wellesley, on Saturday, August 20th.

The marriage ceremony, performed by Rev. Donald Tarr, was held in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the immediate families attending.

The bride is a graduate of Boston University and is now teaching at Winchester Country Day School. Mr. Warren is a student at the School of Practical Art in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren are making their home at 2 Greeley road in Winchester.

TO BE NOVEMBER BRIDE

Mrs. Marshall Jones England of Ledgewood announces the engagement of her daughter, Betty Jean, to Theodore Addison Olsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Olsen of Portland, Oregon. Miss England, daughter of the late Mr. Marshall J. England, is a graduate of Abbot Academy, Skidmore College and the Nursery Training School of Boston. Mr. Olsen is a graduate of Reed College, Portland, Oregon, and the Harvard Business School. During the war he served with the Navy in all theaters and was released with the rank of lieutenant.

MISS HOPE RECEIVES DEGREE

Miss Hilda G. Hope has returned to her position as Public Health Nurse for the town of Winchester after a year's leave of absence during which time she has been studying at Boston University. She has majored in Health Education and did her required practice teaching in the Malden Junior High Schools under the supervision of Dr. Mary Spencer. On August 20th, one of 935 graduates, Miss Hope received her B. S. degree in Education.

OLD RAILROAD STATION PURCHASED

The property at the rear of the Bonnell Motors building on Main street is reported to have been purchased by Mr. Bernard Eckberg, who has started the erection of a house on Wedge Pond. This property contains the old Winchester railroad station which formerly stood at the north end of the railroad crossing in the center. When the present station was built the old station was moved to its present location. It still has the old lamp brackets for the oil lights and other interesting features.

FRANK GARLAND TROTT

Frank Garland Trott of 18 Mystic avenue, veteran sports and feature writer of the Boston Globe, died in his sleep Thursday morning, August 25, at the Winchester Hospital, following an illness of less than a week.

Mr. Trott was the son of Lemuel G., and Emma A. (Brookings) Trott. He was born November 13, 1871, at Council Bluffs, Ia., but lived as a boy in Somerville and was educated in the Somerville schools.

He worked for the Boston Globe for well over fifty years, as a sports writer and for the past two years, as a feature writer. His father was turf editor of the Globe and following his death, Mr. Trott took over his duties, covering harness meetings throughout New England and writing expertly about horses in a way that won him the confidence and respect of owners and trainers everywhere. His column, "Hoof Prints" was widely read by harness men and such prominent trainers as Walter Cox, "Pop" Geer and Ben White were intimate friends of his. For several years before his death he was known as the dean of harness horse writers in the country and his knowledge of horses was so esteemed that the eminent sculptor, Cyrus Dallin, had him criticise the mount he was doing for his equestrian statue of Paul Revere.

He was for some time president of the Down East Trotting Association, and he was particularly well known in and around Boston, one of his prized possessions being a handsome jeweled gold combination pocket and stop-watch which a group of Greater Boston horsemen presented to him as an expression of esteem.

In addition to his harness writing, Mr. Trott also wrote football years ago and in later years, hockey; being well known in both fields of sport. Football was very near to his heart and during his more active years he coached at Medford High and scouted and coached at Harvard, also handling the old Newtowne Club team in North Cambridge. He coached at Winchester High forty years ago and as opportunity permitted assisted several of the local coaches from time to time.

His own football background went back to the days when Harvard and Yale played at Springfield and he knew and saw play such gridiron immortals as "Pudge" Heffelfinger, Truxton Hare, "Ma" Newell, Frank Hinkey Jim Thorpe and Ted Coy. His knowledge of college football, ancient and modern, was extensive and his enthusiasm for amateur football, boundless.

Mr. Trott was an ardent canoist and water-man. A charter member of the Medford Boat Club and a member of the Winchester Boat Club, he spent much time on and around the Mystic Lakes and few had a greater love for, or more exact fund of knowledge about, the lakes than he. Often he did his writing from a canoe on "big Mystic" and there were few boys who frequented the lakes who did not know and like him.

He was an enthusiastic devotee of ice-boating, his boats, the Thelma and Marion, being well known among the Medford Boat Club fleet. He was long an authority about the ice and safety at the lakes, and for many years he kept a diary of weather and, especially, ice conditions there. He had visited the lakes on the day before he became ill.

Mr. Trott was a veteran of World War I. Too old to enlist in the Army at the time, he joined the YMCA overseas force, June 1, 1918, serving as athletic director attached to the 76th Division, in France until he was able to get into the army at Nevers, France, October 21, 1918. He was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant in Remount Squadron 319, Remount Division of the Quartermaster Corps, serving on convoy duty taking animals to field organizations and selling animals to the French government. He was honorably discharged June 10, 1919, and commissioned a 1st lieutenant in the officers reserve September 1, 1919. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

Mr. Trott came to Winchester from Medford 45 years ago, living first on Cutting street and for many years at his Mystic avenue address. He was a member of Fourth Estate Lodge of Masons, the newspaper lodge, in Boston; of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine and of the Hour-Glass Club.

On September 5, 1894, Mr. Trott married Gertrude Hutchinson in Cambridge. His wife survives, with two daughters, Mrs. Jan T. Friis of Tufts College and Miss Thelma Trott of Winchester. There are also surviving a brother, Edgar P. Trott of this town, and a sister, Mrs. William D. Elliott of Washington, D. C., and Toledo, Ohio.

Simple funeral services will be held for members of the immediate family only, and it is requested that no flowers be sent.

BLOOD DONORS WANTED

Donors are asked to meet this Friday evening at the Legion House on Vine street at 6 o'clock or at the Hospital at the same hour. Information may be obtained by telephoning Charles W. Meek, Jr., at Winchester 6-0259-W.

SECOND SON

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Eldridge (Winona Flint) are the parents of a second son, Charles Wadleigh Eldridge II, born August 19 at Lawrence Memorial Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and

COMMANDER JACKSON BIRD HAYDEN

Commander Jackson Bird Hayden, USNR, retired, of 30 Vine street, died Monday, August 22, at the Chelsea Naval Hospital after a long illness. Husband of the former Rebecca Rowe of this town, he had made his home in Winchester since his discharge from the Naval Aviation Corps after World War II. He was also a veteran of World War I, in which he served in the United States Corps of Engineers. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

Commander Hayden was the son of Edward A., and Julia (Bird) Hayden. He was born November 26, 1898, in Newark, N. J., receiving his education in the Newark schools and at Newark Engineering College. He interrupted his college course to enlist in the United States Engineers during World War I and served overseas, winning six campaign stars, and the Belgian Order of Leopold II for distinguished service.

After his discharge Commander Hayden became city engineer at Montclair, N. J., holding that position until May of 1941 when he enlisted in the Navy Air Corps with the rank of lieutenant. He won his wings as a Naval aviator at Pensacola, Fla.

His tours of duty during World War II took him to Floyd Bennett Field, N. Y.; Norman, Oklahoma; to Jacksonville, Fla., where he was a member of Rear Admiral Andrew McFall's staff; Adak in the Aleutians, where he served as executive officer; and to Attu, where he was commanding officer. He was promoted to lieutenant commander in November, 1942, and to commander in January, 1944. He was a member of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion.

Besides his wife, whom he married December 29, 1923, Commander Hayden leaves his mother, living in Nuttley, N. J.; and a sister, Mrs. Donald Taylor of Virginia Beach, Va.

Private funeral services were held on Wednesday in Bigelow Chapel at Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Lt. David M. Humphreys, protestant chaplain at the Chelsea Naval Hospital, officiated. Final interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

UNION SERVICE

Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, who has recently returned from Europe, is to be the preacher at the Union Service of the Protestant Churches of the town at the Unitarian Church, Sunday, August 28 at 10:45 A. M. Mr. Chapman went to Holland as a delegate to the International Congress for Liberal Christianity and Religious Freedom, where he had the opportunity of meeting many of the leaders of the Liberal Christian Movement in various parts of the world. He was accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and their daughter Paulette and with them he visited Belgium, Switzerland and France before returning to the U. S. A. In his sermon on Sunday he will give an answer to the question: "What is the basis for living in our world?"

STRICKEN WHILE WAITING TRAIN

Prof. Karl Woodward, 68, of Durham, N. H., retired professor of Forestry at the University of New Hampshire, was stricken with a heart attack at Winchester Station Thursday forenoon while waiting for the inbound 11:08 train. He had come to town with his wife and a friend to visit friends here, but finding his Winchester friends away from home, had determined to go to Boston shopping.

Fire Chief James E. Callahan, who was at the station when Prof. Woodward became ill, notified Officer Alfred E. Poole of the Police Department, who radioed immediately for the Police Ambulance.

Officers John F. Hogan and James E. Flaherty responded with the ambulance and removed Prof. Woodward to the Winchester Hospital, Officer Poole following in the Cruiser.

KIDDIES DAY AT BRAVES FIELD

Three hundred and fifty happy youngsters were taken on Wednesday by the Rotary Club of Winchester to the Boston Braves-Pittsburgh Pirates baseball game at Braves Field where they were guests of the Braves management.

Seven big buses took the party to Boston, there being 28 Rotarians accompanying the youngsters as well as Playground Supervisor Ted Bartlett and Officer John J. "Jomma" Dolan. Rotary President Charles A. Murphy and Gordon Bird handled the local arrangements with George Franklin leading the singing and Allen Wilde, the cheering.

THE PICTURE OF THE DAY

It's early Monday a. m., a "Weary Willie" in barefeet, is seated on the threshold of the Boot Repair Shop, waiting for it to open. The character is looking sadly at two (2) pairs of shoes which are completely worn thru on the soles! -- You have guessed it! It's Ken Pratt just returned from two weeks at the Square Dance Camp at Manomet, on Cape Cod.

DAUGHTER BORN

PETER LAWRENCE SIBLEY

Peter Lawrence Sibley, a former well known Winchester boy and high school football captain, died suddenly Saturday, August 20, in Wrentham, while driving to his home in Foxboro from Schenectady, N. Y., where he was employed by the General Electric Company. He was in his 29th year.

Mr. Sibley was the son of Robert H., and Mary (Woodberry) Sibley. He was born in Calcutta, India, but grew up in Winchester where the family home was at 22 Mason street until 1943. He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1938 and in his senior year was co-captain with Gerald Ficociello of the school's Middlesex League championship football team, rated by many as one of the best in the school's history.

He was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the class of 1942, being a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity and playing on the football and varsity lacrosse teams. He was also an ardent skier.

After college he joined the Atlantic Transport Command of the Pan American Airways, serving as flight engineer on transports flying from Miami to South American ports, to Dakar in Africa and as far distant as Karachi, India. After the war he was with Pan American in Brownsville, Tex., and later with a combine of Pan American and General Electric engaged in experimental work in Schenectady, N. Y.

Last November Mr. Sibley joined the Foxboro Company in Foxboro, manufacturers of industrial instruments and controls, as a sales engineer, remaining with this firm until the first of August when he returned to Schenectady as a sales engineer for General Electric.

Mr. Sibley leaves his wife, the former Dorothy Farrar, two sons, Peter L., Jr., and David Sibley; his parents, residents of West Falmouth for the past two years; and a brother, Robert H. Sibley, Jr., of Brookline.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternooon at the Waterman Chapel on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Cremation was at Forest Hills Cemetery.

VISITOR FROM BENNING

Stanley W. Mobbs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Mobbs of San Francisco, Cal., formerly of Lake street, was in town this week visiting friends and stopping with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James T. Mobbs of Lake street.

Stanley is in the army, stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, where he is an athletic officer. At high school in San Francisco he was a member of the basketball team and before being transferred to Benning he was on the Fort Ord team out on the coast.

While in Winchester he looked up the members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, for all of whom he had messages from his father, "Willoughby" Mobbs, former champ of the beach courts at Wedge. Tactfully he declined to comment on his father's proposal, printed in the STAR not so long ago, that Mr. Teele be deposed as president of the Association and a new election held.

ENTERTAINED ACTRESS DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Field of Maxwell road entertained at luncheon on Wednesday Mr. Field's daughter, Betty Field, actress and motion picture star who has been playing in Ibsen's "The Wild Duck" at the Cambridge Summer Playhouse this week. Miss Field was accompanied to Boston by her husband, Playwright Elmer Wright, who was also a member of the luncheon party on Wednesday. Reviews of Miss Field's playing, both in the "Wild Duck" and in her latest picture, "The Great Gadsby", with Alan Ladd, have been very flattering.

MISS CLARK ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. James Noble Clark of Winchester and West Harwich announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. Joseph Durant, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Durant, of Miami, Florida.

Miss Clark, a graduate of the Winsor School, made her debut in Boston, and attended Vassar College.

Mr. Durant is a graduate of the Miami schools and will complete his law studies at the University of Miami.

A December wedding is planned.

MISS COLLIANDER, MR. DeMINICO ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar R. Colliander of 48 Forest street announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Mr. Frank William DeMinico, son of Mrs. Marianna DeMinico of 38 Florence street.

Both Miss Colliander and her fiance are graduates of Winchester High School. Mr. DeMinico served during the war with the 4th Division of Marines, seeing action in several campaigns in the Pacific Theatre and being wounded on Iwo Jima.

No date for the marriage has been announced.

REV. PAUL HARMON CHAPMAN HOME

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Harmon Chapman and daughter, Miss Paulette Chapman, returned on Saturday from Europe, where they spent two months visiting various countries. Mr. Chapman went to Holland as a delegate to the International Congress of Liberal Christ-

MRS. PREBLE QUIZ SHOW WINNER

Mrs. Herbert F. Preble of 11 Edgehill road is spending this week-end in New York as the result of winning last Friday's Quiz Program, "Cinderella Week-End", sponsored by Station WBZ.

Her win gives her the trip to New York by plane for herself and a companion, a traveling wardrobe and permanent, a dozen nylons, two pairs of gloves, a photograph, a $100 set of table and pocket lighters by Evans, all expenses at the Hotel Statler while in New York and $20 in spending money.

The visit also includes a veritable whirl of theaters, nightclubs and restaurants, the only catch being that upon her return she has to appear on the program Monday, August 29, to give an account of her trip.

Mrs. Preble won a preliminary contest and a blanket on Tuesday, August 16, making her eligible for the final competition Friday, August 19. At this time she competed with three other daily winners for the week-end prize trip, being adjudged the winner. The STAR extends congratulations and "happy landings!"

WINCHESTER RESIDENTS WELCOMED IN IRELAND

Sheila writes the STAR on August 12 from Giblin, Clomany, in County Donegal, that they made the 250 mile trip from Shannon Airport to Giblin by car through the beautiful Irish countryside, receiving a warm Irish welcome wherever they chanced to stop. Sheila's aunt and family, including a cousin named Sheila, came on from London to meet the Winchester visitors and the young folks had fun getting acquainted and visiting points of interest together.

The Cullens are returning to this country in September, and though they have found Ireland charming, they report there is no place like Winchester. Incidentally they have enjoyed getting the STAR regularly while on their visit to the "auld sod."

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Neiley of 47 Forest Park avenue, Adams, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne, to Mr. Donald S. Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert B. Daniels of 65 Orchard street, Adams.

A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1947, Miss Neiley graduated from Colby Junior College in 1949 and is now associated with the Williams College Placement Bureau at Williamstown.

Mr. Daniels graduated from Adams High School in the class of 1943 and served in the Navy during the war, spending 24 months in the Pacific Area.

The wedding is being planned for September, 1950.

NO CRIME COMMITTED

Sunday morning shortly after 1:15 a passing motorist informed Officer Thomas Kennedy that a group of young men, some on bicycles and some on roller skates, were acting in a peculiar manner on Cambridge street near the Boat Club.

Officers John Boyle and Thomas Parsons went to investigate and found that six young men, all employees of a roller skating rink, were on their way to Lowell.

Two of the six were riding bicycles and the other four were having a sailor's holiday and skating to the mill city. The police found no crime was being committed, and though questioning the sextet's judgment permitted them to go on their way.

PRIZE WINNING FLOWER ARRANGEMENT

Mrs. Joseph W. Butler of Lewis road, while spending a few days recently in Rockport at the summer home of Mrs. Robert M. Stone of Foxcroft road, entered an arrangement of annuals from Mr. Stone's garden in the Rockport Flower Show, which is held yearly at the Art Association gallery.

Mrs. Butler won one of the first prizes for her arrangement of pinks, dahlias, zinnias and salpiglossis. The judges reported in the Gloucester Times that her "arrangement of annuals in an antique Canton china container was completely charming in its outstanding form and color harmony."

LEADERS FOR SALLY DRIVE MET

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, Davenport F. Davis and Mrs. William W. Davis, 3rd, were among local leaders from six cities and towns meeting last night at Domine Manse in Bedford to discuss plans for the coming Salvation Army 1949-50 Greater Boston annual appeal. Arlington, Bedford, Burlington, Lexington, Winchester and Woburn were the communities represented, all included in District 1, of which Herbert O. Alderson of Arlington is chairman. William A. Nicol, director of the provincial Public Relations Department of the Salvation Army, was present.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Walton Brooks McDaniel, 2nd, Librarian, Born: August 30, 1897 at Winchester, Mass.

Walter Brooks McDaniel, 2nd, a librarian of note, is known widely as an authority on the history of medicine. The son of Ralph Boyer and Helen (Nolan) McDaniel, he attended Harvard College, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1920, and thereupon started his career as instructor of English at the University of Pennsylvania. This was followed by a similar position at Brown University during the academic year 1922-23, after which he taught for two years in the public schools of Boston and Brooklyn.

As the next phase of activity, Mr. McDaniel served as instructor of Latin at New York University until 1933; and, incidentally, it should be noted that, during this period, he also pursued graduate studies which resulted in the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy in 1928 and 1932 respectively.

Mr. McDaniel has been librarian of the College of Physicians, Philadelphia since 1933, and it is primarily in this capacity that he has received national recognition. The scope of his accomplishments may perhaps be best described by citing the fact that he has been lecturer in History of Medicine at the University of Pennsylvania Graduate School since 1941, was a member of the executive committee and editor of the Medical Library Association between 1936 to 1939, was co-founder and has been president of the Philadelphia Metropolitan Library Council since 1943, and has been secretary of the American Association of History of Medicine since 1944.

In addition he is the author of "The Poems of Catullus", published in 1931, and has written numerous articles pertaining to his profession.

SPORT CENTER OPENS SEPTEMBER 6

The Winchester Sport Center, Winchester's fine bowling alleys on Winchester place, is re-opening Tuesday, September 6, for the fall and winter season.

Fourteen last-word alleys are available for bowling enthusiasts with a spacious lounge and ladies room, as well as a soda bar, all under the personal direction of John Navarro, who from the start has conducted the Sport Center on a high plane.

Last season a number of leagues functioned on the alleys at the Center with individual bowlers keeping busy the alleys not being used by the various organizations.

This season plans are being made for another successful year with the same fine conditions prevailing. Manager Navarro invites every one to make the Center their bowling headquarters.

RECEIVED B. U. DEGREES

Three residents of Winchester were among the recipients of degrees from Boston University on Saturday, August 20, at summer commencement exercises held at Symphony Hall with President Daniel L. Marsh as speaker.

Alice May Gaffney of 4 Black Horse terrace received the degree of Master of Education from the School of Education. She already held the Bachelor of Education degree.

Hilda Gertrude Hope of 37 Glen Green received the degree of Bachelor of Science from the School of Education.

Mark Edmund Strawbridge of 47 Myrtle terrace received the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the College of Business Administration, majoring in management.

AT NEW HAMPSHIRE UNIVERSITY MUSIC SCHOOL

Benson E. Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris L. Snyder has been among the 235 schoolboy musicians attending the two-week summer Youth Music School at the University of New Hampshire with courses being given in orchestra, band, voice and music appreciation under the direction of Prof. Karl H. Bratton, chairman of the University's music department.

High point of the school will be a public concert Saturday night at 7 o'clock by the combined orchestra, band and chorus, directed by Frank Simon, eminent bandsman; Prof. Traugott Rohner of Northwestern University and Prof. Harry L. Wilson of Columbia University Teachers College.

WINS HARVARD FELLOWSHIP

"Dick" Fenno, son of Mr. Richard F. Fenno of 75 Church street, was recently awarded a teaching fellowship in Political Science at Harvard where he will commence studying for his doctorate in the fall. He received his Master's Degree from Harvard last June.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Fenno received his bachelor's degree from Amherst, though he attended Williams with a service unit during the war. He climaxed a brilliant scholastic career at Amherst by winning election to Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society. He is narried to the former Nancy Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer G. Davidson of Park avenue.

LEGION MADE IT TWO STRAIGHT

The Legion made it two straight in the playoff for the championship of the Town Softball League last Friday evening, edging Maguire Motors 13-12 in a hectic ding-dong battle on Ginn Field.

The Legion had to come from behind three times to win this one, which looked safely in the Maguires' rear-deck trunk when the military came to bat with a two-run deficit in the last of the 7th. Marty Joyce had pitched a scoreless 6th inning and with his speed most spectators expected him to get by the 7th unscathed.

Sonny Swymer, first up tried a bunt, but Joyce turned in a nice play on his tap, getting the runner at first with a pretty back-hand toss.

Haggerty doubled to center and stole third. DeTeso, with two home runs and a triple, popped up to Noonan and there were two away and only one run on.

Farrell worked Joyce for a pass and Plummer brought in Haggerty with a single to right, Tex pulling up at second. Joyce was really bearing down and burning his fast one through there, but he was slightly off center on enough pitches to walk both Stevenson and Olivadoti, forcing in the tieing run and leaving the sacks loaded with the dangerous Harold Donovan coming up.

The field was in an uproar as "Dunnie" took two strikes, white hot through the middle, and then lifted a whirling lop-sided fly ball just inside the foul line on the first base line to the home side of half way.

Joyce ran in for what looked like an easy out, but Marty, tight as a taut E-string, didn't cushion the ball properly and it bounced from his finger-tips across the foul line into the crowd, Plummer scoring the winning run.

It was a tough spot for Marty. He had improved toward the end of the game and looked good to win, though once again he was hit hard by the Legion sluggers. Officially he made the only Maguire error, but in fairness to Marty it should be said that poor outfielding once again hurt plenty.

On the other hand there were a couple of sparkling plays turned in by Maguire gardeners, Connors pulling down a long drive from Stevenson's bat that was labelled and Bobby Wilson making a great throw from right field to third base, erasing Swymer trying to advance two bases on Haggerty's single.

Poor base-running hurt the Maguire cause plenty, chucking away at least two runs. DeTeso made a great play on Connors in the top of the 7th, taking Treacy's well hit grounder toward third and trapping Paul off that bag, finally running him down very very close to that home plate.

Bob Wilson opened this inning with a hit to center, but was out trying to stretch it, Provinzano to DeTeso. Connors then went all the way to third when Provinzano fumbled his drive to center, only to be caught off third on Treacy's grounder. Big Bob Callahan ended the inning by grounding hard to DeTeso who got Treacy on a force at second.

Play in the two championship playoffs to date has been anything but high grade, but there has been plenty of real excitement to make up for the errors and questionable strategy. Pitching for both teams has been poor, with Joyce, however, looking capable of pitching much the best ball of any of the twirlers in the series.

GREENWOOD BY 6-3

The Greenwood Bobcats defeated the Winchester Junior Legion by a score of 6 to 3 at Greenwood on Sunday afternoon. Kennefic, last season's Melrose High pitcher, was a bit too good for the locals as he struck out eleven Winchester batters and scattered seven hits over the nine innings. The locals went down battling, however, as they scored twice in the eighth and left two runners stranded. Again in the ninth Winchester filled the bases with two out but could not produce the hit that might have won.

"Major" Daniels was on the mound for Winchester and pitched good ball after the first inning when Greenwood scored three runs on two singles, a double, and a triple. The irony of it was that both extra base hits were flukey and both came with two strikes on the batter. It is to the credit of both Daniels and the rest of the team that they kept in there fighting all the way and almost pulled out the game in the eighth and ninth innings.

RED CROSS-PARK DEPARTMENT SWIMMING MEET

The annual Winchester Red Cross-Park Department swimming meet was held at Leonard Pool last Sunday afternoon with some good swimming and close competition holding the interest of a large crowd which viewed the meet under ideal conditions.

Interest centered as usual in the awarding of the McGowan and Red Cross Trophies. Mr. Kenneth F. Caldwell, chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners, presented the Thomas P. McGowan Memorial Trophy, given in memory of a former park superintendent, to Sonia Smith for her good swimming and fine sportsmanship during the summer. The Red Cross Trophies for improvement and cooperative effort in swimming during the summer, went to Roberta Coon and Douglas Hawkins. Mrs. Elizabeth Downey of the local Red Cross Chapter made these presentations.

Ann Neville and Sonia Smith were the only double winners of the afternoon. Eight-year-old Ann won the 25 meter freestyle for girls, both eight and under and ten and under. "Sonny" won the open hundred meter freestyle for girls and the girls 150 meter individual medley event. "Wimp" Burtnett copped the boys open 100.

A group of junior life savers gave a brief life saving demonstration, midway through the program, and after the meet ice cream and cookies were served to the swimmers and officials. The summary:

JUNIORS LOST AT SOMERVILLE

The Winchester Junior Legion lost a tough 4 to 2 ball game to the Rosebuds of Somerville at Trum Field, Somerville, on Saturday evening. Winchester collected nine hits to only two by the Rosebuds but the locals left eleven runners stranded on the bases.

Winchester scored twice in the first inning on singles by Kenton and DiIorio, a base on balls to Williams, and a single by Joyce. In four of the remaining six innings Winchester had at least two runners on base but each time they came with two out and the following batter could not produce a hit to drive in the needed runs.

Somerville scored three runs in the fourth inning when they obtained their two hits. The leadoff batter singled and then two bases on balls filled the bases with nobody out. DeFilippo almost worked out of this jam as he struck out the next two batters and had two strikes on the third batter when he tripled to left center to drive in three runs. DeFilippo struck out eleven Somerville batters in the six innings but did issue five bases on balls, two of which were converted into Somerville runs in the fourth.

WINCHESTER HOCKEY CLUB PLAYERS AWARDED MEDALS

The Amateur Hockey Association of the United States has awarded silver medals for hat tricks scored in the course of the 1948-1949 season to six members of Winchester Hockey Club, and a zero club medal to its goal tender for scoring shutouts. These medals are all suitably engraved, each with the name of the player to whom it was awarded.

The following were recipients of hat trick medals:

Dave Merrow
Wimpy Burtnett
Don Armstrong
Scott Doub
Roy Monson
Frank Livingstone

The zero club medal was awarded to Scott Connor.

Congratulations to these boys for getting national recognition for their fine work last season.

TWO STRAIGHT FOR MOHAWKS

The hustling Lincoln Mohawks beat an ineffective Winchester Warriors nine in the second game of the Paul Revere League championship playoff Sunday afternoon at Manchester Field, 16-9. After the game Manager Warsky stated frankly his boys had played the poorest brand of ball they had shown all year.

By comparison with the hustling veterans from Lincoln the local boys looked sluggish and they made several mistakes, both of commission and commission that helped the visitors to several runs. At least five fly balls, and perhaps six, were lost by fielders being blinded by the bright sun, good ball hawks like Sammy Bellino and the veteran Sam Provinzano, turning their backs and covering their heads as they suddenly went blind when about to grab flies. Three of these sun-muffs were made by Winchester fielders and two by Lincoln players, but Winchester's muffs hurt more because they came when the locals were away behind and trying to get in the game. After a bad first inning, when he was really slapped around for nine big runs on some solid hitting, Farrell held his own with Lincoln's Gudz, but the damage was done in the opener. You just can't spot a club like Lincoln nine runs and hope to win. At that Winchester left 18 men on the sacks and there were two or three times when luck on some solid hits would have helped a lot.

Hard hit balls by Modoono, Olivier and Timmy Connors went right at Lincoln fielders with men on the bases for heart-breaking outs instead of runs.

Winchester got 16 hits, one more than Lincoln, but when hits meant runs the local boys just didn't have it, and some weird umpiring on the bases didn't help their chances any.

The Warriors made a great try in the 9th. Bellino opened with a single and every one was safe when Provinzano's slow roller to shortstop couldn't be played anywhere in time. Olivier walked to load the sacks.

Kenny Donaghey then drilled a long fly past L. Cunningham in right field which only fast fielding held to a triple, clearing the cushions. Donaghey scored as B. Gudz and Holmes were getting Connors at first, with the Lincoln second baseman two feet off the bag in foul territory when he made the catch. Murphy and Patterson were routine outs and the game was over.

LEGION MADE IT THREE STRAIGHT

10-9 Victory Clinched Softball Championship

The Legion made it three straight Monday night at Ginn Field, its 10-9 victory over Maguire Motors giving the Post the 1949 Championship of the Town Softball League.

If any one had suggested as these two teams squared away that the Military would win in three straight, he could have gotten all sorts of odds, for the Automobiles were general favorites in view of expected superior pitching from Marty Joyce. This pitching superiority was never as pronounced as it should have been, though of all those who have toiled on the rubber during the hectic series Joyce and Olivadoti, in the opener, have been the only ones to show flashes of pitching form.

It has been the power of the Legion that decided the series. No matter how far ahead the Maguires could get in the early stages the Military always seemed able to stage that big rally that got them back into the ball game.

Neither team has resembled championship form, but on the whole the Legion has made the fewer vital mistakes. This particularly is true in the vital matter of base-running, there having been hardly a game in which the Maguires haven't thrown away from two to five runs by questionable tactics on the base-paths.

In the outfield, bar Paul Connors, the Legion had a big edge, many of the Military's extra base hits being misjudged or muffed by the Maguire gardeners. Whatever choice there was in the infields belonged to the Maguires and both teams got good catching from the mastodonic Stevenson and Bobby Callahan. The closeness of all the scores indicate there really was little choice between the two clubs.

You can't help wondering at the strategy of the Maguires in sending Minotti after this vital game the Automobiles had to win to stay in the series. After the fate of the Atomics in the preliminary playoffs, with a second stringer chucking the payoff game, it would have seemed much better judgment to have sent Joyce after Monday's game, or at least to have inserted him earlier in the contest when the Automobiles had a 7-2 lead.

Marty held the Legion scoreless after he was inserted midway through the 5th and working on a 7-2 lead he would have been hard to beat.

With one away in the Maguire's 7th and the score 10-9 against the motor boys, Bobby Wilson, an adept bunter, laid down a pretty one and got on safely when Johnny Stevenson couldn't make his throw. On a three and nothing count on Paul Connors Bobby tried to steal and was out a city block, taking the tieing run off the bases. Connors walked, but Treacy lifted a towering fly to Sonny Swymer and the Legion had carried out its objective.

Johnny Stevenson, with two doubles and a home run, over Wilson's head in left field, was the leading batter Monday, though Chucker Roche and Saunders each got three hits for the Legion and Wilson got three for the losers.

Paul Connors robbed Stevenson of a second home run when he crossed over fast into right center in the fifth to knock down his wicked drive that would have reached the tall grass with plenty to spare.

"Junie" Treacy, too, made a swell running-in catch along the left field foul line late in the game that saved an extra base blow and Babe Olivadoti cut off a Maguire run or two when he went behind Tex Farrell with two on and grabbed a bouncer over the Legion third sacker's head, narrowly missing a force play at third.

LINCOLN WON PLAYOFF OPENER

Six big errors gave the veteran Lincoln Mohawks a 7-5 win over the Winchester Warriors in the opening game of the Paul Revere League championship playoffs last Saturday afternoon at Lincoln.

"Pegger" Lancelotta, pitching for Winchester, deserved a better fate, only two of Lincoln's runs being earned. He knew he had to go all the way, because with Slack at the Yankee's training camp in Plattsburg, N. Y., Joe McKee on vacation and Sam Tompkins in New Hampshire, Manager Warsky was left with only "Pegger" and Bobby Farrell, carded to work Sunday's home game.

The Mohawks iced the game in the 6th with two away. Gudz singled, but was forced at second on Spooner's grounder. Spooner was run down between second and third on Holmes' bouncer to Lancelotta with Holmes making second. An error gave Davis a life and Bent singled in Holmes for one run.

Wood then hit a 3-2 pitch out of the park for a three-run homer, giving Lincoln a 7-1 edge.

The Warriors scored three in their 8th. With one down Provinzano tripled to right and scored on Olivier's single. Freddie Patterson, hitting for Modoono, singled to left and Farrell drove in run number 2 with a single to right. Patterson was over on Plummer's fly to left. Wood then made a great play on Murphy's bid for a hit, leaping high in the air to spear his bounder and force Farrell at second.

Ken Donaghey opened the 9th with a long drive to center that conservative base running limited to a double, Manager Warsky refusing to take any chances. Lancelotta brought him in with a one-shot to right and Bellino followed with a single to center. Sam Provinzano's safe hunt filled the bases with no one out and only two more runs needed to tie.

Bent was very effective in the pinch, forcing Olivier and Patterson to pop up and getting Farrell on a grounder to second.

JUNIOR LEGION PLAYS TWO RUBBER GAMES AT HOME

The Winchester Junior Legion will conclude their season with two final contests at home over the week end. On Saturday afternoon they will play the St. Patrick's of Stoneham at Leonard Field and on Sunday afternoon they will meet the Rosebuds of Somerville at Manchester Field.

Winchester has split the two games played with each of these teams previously this season and will be gunning for the rubber game in each of the series. Coach Bartlett is expected to throw "Major" Daniels at the St. Patrick's on Saturday and to come in with Charlie DeFilippo against the Rosebuds on Sunday. Both of these boys have shown steady improvement this year and the locals would like nothing better than to finish up their season with two victories and the series edge over both of these teams.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

This is a big week in the Playground Baseball League as it is the final week of the season and both the Intermediate and Senior division champions will be decided in games to be played this week. Only the Loring Avenue Juniors have clinched their championship and a trip to Braves Field next week to see the Braves-Cardinals' game on Tuesday.

Ginn Field won three games in the Senior division during the past week to take sole possession of first place in that division for the first time this year. Loring Avenue, on the other hand, dropped three games during the week to drop down to third place in the league standing. The best game of the week and of the season was the 1 to 0 Ginn Field victory over Loring Avenue. The only run of the game was unearned as Joe Callahan allowed the winners only three hits but his teammates could get only three off Charlie Murphy and Ginn Field was tighter defensively.

The other two Ginn Field victories were earned by Stowell Symmes and Charlie Murphy. Symmes beat Loring Avenue 4 to 1 while Murphy beat Leonard Field 7 to 2, aided by two really great catches in right field by Tommy Drohan. Leonard Field beat Loring Avenue in the other Senior division game by a score of 5 to 4 to give George Stevenson sweet revenge over Loring Avenue. Eddie Crowley was the hero for Leonard Field in this one as he stole home with the winning run in the seventh inning.

Loring Avenue is the leader in the Intermediate division but must beat Leonard Field in their game this week to clinch the title. Four good games were played in this division last week with three of them decided by one run in the final inning. In the first game Loring Avenue beat Leonard Field 7 to 6 as "Jocko" Serika drove in the winning run in the seventh. The second was an extra-inning game as Ginn Field defeated Leonard Field 7 to 6 as Marvin Wilson drove in Kit Carlton in the eighth to win for Ginn. Ginn Field did it again as they defeated Loring Avenue 9 to 7 with Paul McManus driving in the two winning runs in the sixth. The final game was equally as hectic as Leonard Field turned the tables on Ginn Field by a score of 5 to 4. "Moose" Bellino won this one in the last of the seventh when with the bases full, two out, and two strikes on the batters, he allowed himself to be caught in a rundown play off third base and worked out of it to score the winning run.

The Loring Avenue girls' softball team won their playground championship by defeating the Leonard Field girls by a score of 9 to 8. This is the third consecutive year that the Loring Avenue girls have won the softball championship. They might also be considered the champions of Stoneham, too, for they defeated a Stoneham playground girls' team at Loring Avenue Friday afternoon by a score of 14 to 9.

Now that the town's river and ponds are so low, due to the prolonged drougth, wouldn't it be an excellent time to clear them of the accumulated rubbish and filth that are not only unpleasant to look at but also constitute a menace from the health angle. Our town waterways can be a distinct asset, but as they have been neglected in recent years they have come to be anything but a credit to the community.

After last Sunday's game on Manchester Field, in which his Winchester Warriors were defeated in a Paul Revere League championship playoff, your Star reporter talked with Manager Lew Warsky, and found him much more concerned with the condition of the field than over the loss of his second game in a row to the Lincoln Mohawks. Manager Warsky believes that by another year, unless something is done immediately to improve conditions, Manchester Field is going to be ruined insofar as its playing surface is concerned. Right now the sun-baked surface is as hard as cement and for the greater part wholly without turf. There are grass and weeds on the field to be sure and at a distance the appearance is deceiving. On the field the playground has already become a veritable dust-bowl. By another year, if nothing is done, it will have to be resurfaced to be what the town should have for an athletic Field. Manager Warsky can not understand Winchester's failure to care for a $90,000 athletic plant, now it has bought one, and in support of his bewilderment told the Star of the beautifully kept fields on which his Warriors have played in Lincoln, Lexington, Concord and Maynard, communities surely no better able to care for municipal fields than Winchester. The Star has deplored the neglect of the town's new athletic field from the very first and like Lew Warsky wonders why! A man could profitably be kept busy on Manchester Field daily during the months it is in use. Managers of teams using it this summer have had to rake, roll, line, fill and water to have it fit to play on. That is asking a lot of men giving their time, effort and money to promote baseball in town. Visiting players are frankly puzzled at the condition of our new field and we couldn't help hearing the umpires as they left last Sunday agreeing that you can't catch a fly ball because of the sun, or a ground ball because of the condition of the field. These seemed to us sad commentaries on an athletic plant that stands the taxpayers $90,000 and is, only two years old.

WE EXPECTED THIS!

Editor of the Star:

Your recent communication from the Barrister in the wilds of New Hampshire leads me to believe that he hasn't reconciled himself to the fact that he is really on vacation, because from the tone of his letter he apparently thinks ne is still down in East Cambridge trying to confuse those groups of twelve men, before whom he appears from time to time.

However, for Mr. Garvey's information, the same Handicap Committee to whom he referred, rather flippantly, I thought, has just finished performing a major operation on his handicap which will eliminate any further discussion of strokes, because from now on there can be no argument! So far as Sam Spade goes he is just out of a job!

With reference to Mr. Garvey's challenge, it is always a pleasure to accept a defy from, and play with, the ancient and honorable Leo. May he come back soon and rested well!

Sincerely,
Roger McTighe
7 Orient street.

61 YEARS AGO!

THE STAR is indebted to Water Commissioner Edmund C. Sanderson for the following article which should prove of interest to Winchester residents, old and new. The date of the article should be about 1888.

August 18, 1949

Edmund C. Sanderson,
26 Dix Street,
Winchester Mass.

Dear Mr. Sanderson:

I enclose clipping that came to hand among some old papers that had been received by the writer from a deceased party in Winchester. Thinking it might be of some little interest to you, I am sending it along, as it is of no value to me.

I am sorry I cannot give you the date of this clipping.

With best wishes
Yours very truly,
Henry L. Weston

WINCHESTER

One of Boston's Most Beautiful Bedrooms.

Attractions Which Make It a Desirable Town to Live In Its Industries, Residences, Public Buildings, Schools and Churches.

Winchester, Jan. 3. - Winchester is one of Boston's most beautiful bedrooms.

The Lowell railroad passes through the town. There are three stations. The view from either side of the road is picturesque. On the right or easterly side, after a level of a quarter mile, the land rises until it reaches the high ridge which forms the easterly bounds of the town. Stately residences abound almost to the highest ridge. To the west the country is level.

The town was incorporated in 1850, having been made up of portions of Woburn, Arlington and Medford. Arlington was then West Cambridge. The larger portion was taken from Woburn, and, before its incorporation, this part of Woburn was known as South Woburn. It was named for Colonel William P. Winchester, who gave the town the sum of $3000, "to be appropriated to the erection of a Town Hall or any other proper object of municipal expenditure."

The growth of the town has been somewhat rapid, as in 1850 its population was 1353; 1855, 1801; 1860, 1937; 1865, 1868; 1870, 2645; 1875, 3099; 1880, 3803; 1885, 4390. Today the population is about 5060.

The valuation of the town in 1886 was as follows: Real estate, $3,156,578; personal property, $1-113,196; total, $4,269,774. In 1887; Real estate, $3,230,745; personal property, $1,007,760; total, $4,238,-505.

While the town claims to be a quiet and fashionable place of residence, its manufacturing interests are of considerable magnitude. First in importance is the leather manufacturing industry, Loring & Avery, tanners and curriers, do about the largest business in that line in the country. Then there are John Maxwell & Co., Blank Brothers, Charles F. Jordan, J. S. & P. Blank, Warren Johnson and P. Waldmeyer & Co. Other manufactures are: Piano cases, Cowdry, Cobb, Nichols & Co.; piano action, Henry W. Symmes; watch hands, Goodell & Winn; organ action, Sylvanus Elliott; machinery, Joel Whitney, N. E. Whitney, Louis Goddue; felting and wool wadding, Charles N. Bacon; furniture, S. C. Small & Co., and the Winchester furniture Co.; jewelry, Jackson & Co.

For years the town has been noted for the florist business, and the following-named carry on the business on a large scale: S. W. Twombly & Sons, J. R. Newman & Sons, W. G. Wentworth, Joel F. Hanson and W. J. Stuart.

There is a well organized and disciplined fire department. The apparatus consists of fire hose carriage, one hook and ladder truck and one steamer. The police department is an effective adjunct of the town, but its duties are light, for the people are quiet and law abiding. The water works were put in operation in 1874, and the high service system in 1885. A large portion of the town is supplied with the water. The streets are lighted by gas, and so are many of the public and private buildings.

The public schools are numerous, and hold a high position in the Commonwealth. There are the high, centre grammar, Wyman, Chapin, Gifford, Rumford, Highland, Washington and Mystic. There is a public library which was founded in 1859, and has about 7000 volumes. Of the churches there are the First Baptist, Rev. Joseph F. Fielden pastor; First Congregational, Rev. Charles R. Seymour pastor; St. Mary's, Rev. P. J. Daly and Rev. D. Lee pastors; Methodist Episcopal, John H. Mansfield pastor; Church of the Epiphany (Episcopal), Rev. John W. Suter rector; Unitarian, Rev. J. L. Marsh pastor; Bethany Society, no pastor.

The town has now in process of completion a town hall, which, when finished, will be one of the fine buildings of the county. Beside two halls, there will be apartments for all the town offices and the public library. The building will cost about $30,000.

Of organizations there are many, among them being the Calumet Club, which has beautiful quarters in the Miller block, and was organized in 1880; William Parkman Lodge, F. and A. M., organized in 1864; Winchester Historical and Genealogical Society, organized in 1884; A. D. Weld Post, 148, G. A. R.; Council 150, A. L. of H.; Lodge 556, K. of H.; Council 1162, R. A.; Mutual Benefit Association; Commandery 223, U. O. G. C., and the Village Improvement Society.

One of Woburn's railways terminates in this town, and one of the pressing needs of the town is its extension to Medford. A large proportion of the best residences of the town have been built within 20 years. Among the wealthy citizens are the following named: Moses A. Herrick, Charles M. Ayer, Samuel W. Twombly, S. S. Langley, G. W. T. Riley, William Boynton, J. E. Nickerson, Samuel L. French, Elisha D. Bangs, James F. Dwinell, Edmund Dwight, Joseph H. Tyler, Marshall Symmes, Stephen H. Cutter, Alexis Cutting, Freeman A. Loring, David N. Skillings, John C. Mason, Edwin Ginn, Stephen Thompson, John Maxwell, Henry G. Miller, James Houston, William P. Greeley, James Newman.

MAY BE FREED OF 1948 TAX

The Board of Assessors would like to bring the following to the attention of the citizens of Winchester.

Chapter 277

This act, approved May 10, 1949, is temporary in that it expires by its own limitation on October 1, 1949, but provides that disabled veterans who failed to apply may now apply in respect to 1948 taxes assessed to them and if they qualify by applying and have a Veterans Administration certificate as of January 1, 1948, may be freed of their 1948 tax as if they had applied and qualified as of October 1, 1948. The law is as follows:

Chapter 277

AN ACT EXTENDING THE TIME FOR APPLICATION BY DISABLED VETERANS FOR ABATEMENT OR EXEMPTION OF TAXES ASSESSED IN NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY-EIGHT.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section fifty-nine of Chapter fifty-nine, and section three A of chapter sixty, of the General Laws, any disabled veteran of any war in which the United States was engaged may make an pplication for abatement or exemption of taxes assessed to him for the year nineteen hundred and forty-eight at any time prior to October first, nineteen hundred and forty-nine, for such abatement or exemption.

BACK FROM 10,000 MILE TRIP

High School Principal and Mrs. Wade L. Grindle of Lincoln street are back in town after completing a 10,000 mile motor trip to the west coast, including stops at San Francisco and Los Angeles, Denver, Col., Santa Fe and Roswell, New Mexico, where they spent some time with Mrs. Grindle's sister, Mrs. Arthur Stevens.

The Grindles also took a trip through the Rockies and visited their son, Dr. Lincoln Grindle, who is resident physician at the County General Hospital in San Diego. Incidentally they found San Diego the ideal place to live from the standpoint of climate.

On the return trip Mr. and Mrs. Grindle saw the ghost mining towns of Nevada, passed through Salt Lake City and Cheyenne and stopped in Carney, Neb., to visit Mrs. Carl Beggs, the former Janet Hayward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray V. Hayward of Fairmount street.

While in Wisconsin the Grindles went to the University of Wisconsin and had an interesting visit with Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, dean of the School of Education at the University, who will be remembered as directing the memorable school survey in Winchester several years ago.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT BEING PLANNED

As the end of August looms and darkness falls ever earlier upon the Packer Courts, it has long been the good custom in Winchester to plan a Town tennis tournament with a view to determine Town champs in Men's and Women's Singles, Men's Doubles, and Mixed Doubles. This year is not to be an exception, and Warren Branch of Middlesex street, who is this year's chairman, tells us that it is planned to begin some of these events on Saturday, September 10. Right now is the best time to pick your Doubles partner and register your entries with Warren. The entry fee remains as always; it reminds one of the Medes and Persians: 25 cents per person per event. So go to it, folks! Surprise yourselves as well as Warren by registering your entries early and without prompting. Call him at WInchester 6-0493-R.

BEAUTIFUL AFRICAN DRUG PLANT BOTH BENEFICIAL AND SINISTER

The promising new plant source for the disease-fighting drug, cortisone, is a vine with strangely beautiful flowers and a history of both beneficial and sinister use.

This vine, with the tongue-twisting name strophanthus sarmentosus, belongs to the big strophanthus family whose members are scattered about tropical Asia and Africa, notes the National Geographic Society.

The sarmentosus variety has been found entwined about tall trees in various equatorial regions along the underside of the big West African bulge. It is easily identified by its green seed-containing double pods, resembling steer horns, and by its white flowers with their pink and purple touches, and long, tangled streamers.

Culture Forbidden Natives

Since laboratory study has indicated that the seeds of this vine offer the most likely additional supply for the scarce and expensive arthritis drug obtained so far only from animal glands, a research expedition by the U. S. Public Health Service and the Department of Agriculture has been dispatched to West Africa to make collections and study the possibilities of cultivation.

Cultivation of the strophanthus vine is now forbidden in Africa because of the highly poisonous character of its seeds. From several wild species of the plant, however, West African natives long have made lethal tips for their arrows.

So widespread is this practice that the strophanthus is often referred to as the Arrow Poison Vine. The deadly extract is related to that taken from the so-called Zulu Arrow Poison tree, Acokanthera, of East Africa. A tiny concentration on the point of a needle is said to be sufficient to kill a man within a few minutes if injected into his veins.

West African tribesmen also make a strophanthus brew for use in ceremonial trials by ordeal. In such trials a person accused of breaking tribal laws is required to drink the bitter mixture. If he dies, he is deemed guilty; if not, innocent. The number found guilty, African plant collectors have observed, is not surprising.

On the beneficial side, greatly diluted doses from strophanthus kombe, hispidus, and other species, act as a heart stimulant, such as digitalis, and once were used widely in the treatment of heart diseases.

The strophanthus appears to be a tough and adaptable plant. On its native ground it has shown ability to withstand long periods of drought. One group of seeds, which its collector successfully transplanted in southern Florida, came from vines which had flourished on the rocky, sun-cracked hillsides of the Fouta Djallon in French Guinea.

The sharp, jagged surface of this dry highland has been compared with that of certain lava fields, with the difference that the lava spreads are barren, whereas this African region supports not only the strophanthus sarmentosus but a number of other interesting fruit and flowering plants.

Various species of the strophanthus also are found in heavily forested Liberia - - one of the major objectives of the current U. S. expedition in its search for specimens and potential sites for large-scale cultivation.

AMERICAN TOWNSFOLK SHOW INDEPENDENCE, PRONOUNCE PLACE NAMES AS THEY PLEASE

The fact that the 100-year old village of Mole Hill, in Ritchie County, West Virginia, was renamed Mountain early in July doesn't keep old timers there from calling it Mole Hill, according to reports.

In many another American community, notes the National Geographic Society, the name of the place is pronounced as the inhabitants see fit - - often unconventionally.

Place names taken from Europe provide good examples. In Maine, the town of Calais is pronounced to rhyme with palace. Rheims, New York, disregarding its French origin, rhymes itself with screams. South Dakota's Pierre is one syllable, rhymed with deer. In Ohio, Versailles is rhymed with curtails.

America has more than a dozen Berlins. In New England at least, towns of that name are locally pronounced Berlin, accented like Merlin. Newark in New Jersey and elsewhere is nuerk, but Delaware's town is new-ark, the ark plain and clear.

Quincy is quinzy in Massachusetts. Pennsylvania's pretzel town is Ephrata, while Washington's air-base town of the same name is pronounced ee-fray-ta. Elgin's "g" is soft in Illinois and hard in Texas.

Florida's New Smyrna, if spelled phonetically as locally pronounced, would be new Summerha. Detroit's Hamtramck is sounded as if the "c" were an "i". Vade Mecum, North Carolina is vaid meekum - - something that Caesar wouldn't understand.

Prague, rhymed with frog when European style is followed, is ryhmed with plague in Oklahoma. So is Montague in Texas, although usually a three-syllable name.

In England and Canada, Thames is pronounced temz. The river in Connecticut and the street in Newport, Rhode Island, are pronounced - - of all things - - thames. Reading, a popular place name in America, is generally redding, but comes out reeding in Michigan, at least.

Michigan's Mikado is very completely Americanized to my-kay-dough. Bolivar is rhymed with un-Spanish Oliver in several states. Oregon's Coos is rhymed with moose, but New Hampshire's has two syllables. Nevada State is never ne-vay-da, as are towns in Ohio, Missouri, and Iowa.

"CHRIST JESUS" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, August 28.
GOLDEN TEXT: "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16).
SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught. And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned? Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me. If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself" (John 7:14-17). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Mystery does not enshroud Christ's teachings, and they are not theoretical and fragmentary, but practical and complete; and being practical and complete, they are not deprived of their essential vitality" (p. 98).

SHELL COLLECTING IS HOBBY GAINING MANY ENTHUSIASTS

These and many other kinds of shells are found in endless variety in the seas, along the coasts, and on the land of the globe. Any one group, or the shells from any single geographical location, can provide the alluring material for a lifelong hobby, says Rutherford Platt in the National Geographic Magazine for July.

Collectors also specialize in certain sizes, Mr. Platt notes in his color-illustrated article, which he titles "Shells Take You Over World Horizons."

For example, most of the 100,000 species of shells so far known and named are less than ½ inch across and range down to microscopic. In the larger brackets, a collection is not complete until it has a giant clam shell more than big enough to bathe the baby in. The largest weigh as much as 500 pounds.

Shells are the products of a group of animals so old, scientists say, that they were apparently already highly developed in the Paleozoic era more than 300 million years ago, the earliest time from which any kind of animal remains are known.

Warmer waters breed the largest numbers of species as well as the most colorful. But the chilly coasts of Maine, Alaska, and Patagonia, and the fresh-water streams of Labrador and British Columbia have their full share of shell-gems.

Of the two chief categories of shells, the univalves (single-shelled) far outnumber the bivalves (two-shelled). The univalve is the higher form, having a head with mouth, tentacles, and eyes, and is an inhabitant of the land and of trees as well as of fresh and salt water. The bivalve is almost exclusively a sea denizen.

All mollusks bear a remarkable organ called a mantle, an apparent pad of animated skin which secretes the shell. This shell material is soft momentarily when secreted, but it quickly hardens, whether under water or in the air, to become one of the earth's most time-resistant materials. It is colored with pigments made by the lowly creature from chemicals in its environment.

Look at an ocean wave as it crashes on the beach, suggests Mr. Platt. As it topples its momentary cross section is a logarithmic spiral. This same dynamic spiral is the fundamental pattern of growth of cone, conch, cowry, snail, and nautilus shells.

Because they possess this inherent spiraling ability, combined with the permanence of their structure when built, shells are the most vivid examples in all nature of this principle of growth. Even though the shell spiral is physically stationary, it seems whirling toward an infinitely greater magnitude.

In the chambered nautilus, subject of Oliver Wendell Holmes' famous poem, spiral growth is so perfect that each new coil of its shell is exactly three times the width of the coil preceding it. Types of terebra increase their coil only one and one-quarter times at each complete turn. California's abilone multiplies its coil diameter by ten — so fast that the shell never completes one revolution.

Architects and sculptors borrow from the snail and the scallop their precise and dynamic curves to animate marble with the fluidity and living beauty which are the shell collector's constant joy.

50 YEARS AGO

August 25, 1899

The Winchester Golf Team defeated Weston at Winchester last Friday, 11 holes to 4. F. A. Russell, W. D. Sanborn, C. T. Whitten and J. P. Tucker played for Winchester.

Mr. Arthur O'Leary left his wheel in front of Sanderson's store last Friday for a short time and when he returned some one had stolen it. This is the third wheel stolen within a few weeks.

Gibson Monroe, an employee of the McKay Metallic Fastening Company, while going to dinner last Saturday, was run over by a bicyclist. He sustained several bad bruises and a severe scalp wound, necessitating five stitches to draw it together.

Captain J. Frank Spicer of Winchester has been promoted for gallantry at Guantanomo and is now a major in the U. S. Marines.

The Boston and Maine Railroad has laid one set of rails the entire length of its new freight yard. There is yet much to be done before the old yard is abandoned but the completion of the new yard will not take long after earnest work is once commenced.

Last Sunday afternoon an electric car jumped the track on Church street inconveniencing hundreds of people desiring to travel to points on that line. Travel from Arlington was suspended for over 3 hours and the vicinity of the Arlington terminus was crowded with people who came out on the West End cars expecting to transfer to points on the Winchester road without delay. The scene was about the same in Winchester center. The car slid partly off the tracks and had it been immediately removed to the side of the street, travel would not have been so long delayed.

It is amusing to see the small children of Hon. S. W. McCall and others riding horse back, a daily occurrence. The animal is a pet and his care for the little folks is as thoughtful as it is gentle. Sometimes two and three are seen on his back at a time cantering up and down Highland avenue. No doubt many lumps of sugar, and other dainties are his reward, and he deserves them.

The oil engine used for pumping water into the high service stand pipe is being vigorously tested during the long dry spell. It works as slick as a whistle under the charge of engineer Walter Dotten, and the entire plant is as clean and as shiny as is possible to keep it.

It is understood that Samuel J. Elder, Esq., will deliver the address on the occasion of the dedication of the new Masonic Temple in Boston, which will take place early in October. Mr. Elder is a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons of this town.

While at Winthrop Beach last week Mr. John Maxwell, among other fish, caught a mamouth flounder. He is said to be high line on fishing trips.

Mr. Henry T. Schaeffer is a member of the committee on resolutions for the Democratic State Convention to be held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, September 21.

Mr. Minot Hurd and Mr. Francis Hall have returned from a trip to Liverpool, being absent about five weeks and seeing the sights as only a couple of American boys can. They were fortunate in not encountering any stormy weather on the passage and are certainly looking somewhat heavier than before they took the trip.

During the thunder storm Tuesday evening the lightning struck Mr. F. A. Cutting's house on Oak Knoll doing considerable damage by ripping up shingles, plaster, etc. The dwelling of John Daley, 20 River street, was struck by lightning shortly after 6 o'clock and members of the family were badly frightened. Miss Eliza C. Daley, who was asleep when the bolt entered the house by way of the chimney sustained a severe shock to her nerves. Several fuses in the fire signal system were burned out, but Chief Waldmyer made repairs at once, and the system was in working order in a short time. A large tree on the Corse estate, Washington street, was blown down and other trees on the hillside were levelled.

It is now nearly September 1 but the landscape architect's plans for the Playground have not even been commenced and it looks very much as if nothing would be done this fall. Why would it not be a good idea to call on our Park Board at the coming town meeting for some information? Who would let his private business go on in this way?

Approximately 2,000 gallons of alcohol being transported through Winchester in a large truck were siezed by Sergt. William H. Rogers of the police department at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Sgt. Rogers did not like the way the truck was being driven at the intersection of Main and Washington streets, stopping the machine to question the operator. While doing so, he became suspicious of the truck's cargo and an investigation disclosed the contraband. The alcohol was in 200 boxes, each containing two five gallon cans. The driver of the truck, Frederick B. Austen of 40 Warren street, Charlestown, was booked for transporting liquor in violation of the 18th amendment.

Miss Ethel Knowlton, formerly of the Exchange, has entered the training school of the Winchester Hospital.

Lt. John Harrold, the universally popular official of the Winchester Police Department, and Mrs. Harrold quietly observed the 37th anniversary of their marriage at their home on Myrtle street last Saturday.

Winchester Legion, with Mark Kelley pitching great ball, took the first of a three game series from the Woburn City Club, 3-0, last Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field in about as slick an exhibition of the national pastime as one could wish for. Besides his fine pitching big Mark scored "Ernie" Matthews with a long triple to right in the 4th. "Chucker" Roche made the play of the game when he threw out Nelson at home in the third. There are few better outfielders short of the big time than the Woburn boy and former Tufts star.

Wednesday evening saw the premier try-out of the big four tube neutrodyne radio receiving set which the En Ka Sorority of this town is presenting to the Winchester Home for Aged People. The radio was bought with the proceeds of the recent En Ka show, Marcheta.

Winchester tennis enthusiasts playing in the Essex County Championships at North Andover this week end include Tom Jansen, Wallace Blanchard, James Riley, Dr. R. B. Blackler, Stephen Thompson and Max Fish.

Town election officials appointed by the Selectmen include: Republicans: George J. Barbaro, Harriette C. Elmer, Robert M. Hamilton, George W. Johnston, Harrie Y. Nutter, Frank T. Olmstead, Kenneth M. Pratt, William E. Ramsdell, W. Allan Wilde, Charles N. Bacon. Democrats: Anna V. Cullen, Harry J. Donovan, George J. Dunbury, Dwight Elliott, Timothy H. Haley, Frank I. Humphrey, George F. LeDuc, Leo J. Mawn, Royal McCarthy, Robert H. Sullivan.

Edgar Pitts Taylor, Winchester High, 1923, has passed entrance examinations for Massachusetts Institute of Technology and will enter in the fall. He is spending the month of August camping in the wilds of New Brunswick.

Miss Dorothy Nowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Nowell of 19 Winchester place had a ninth birthday party at her home last Friday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Morrissey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelley. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cyr, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Quinn, Merle Smith, Lawrence Smith, Mary and Helen Murphy, Dorothy Cassidy, Rosalie Cyr, Theresa McAdams, Constance Titilah, Marion, Margaret and John Nowell, Franes, Erma and Florence Fisher, Virginia and Frank Nowell and Florence Smith.

Miss Ruth Chamberlin has returned to Paris for a two months visit. She is traveling with six other young women and a chaperone. They have toured Italy and Switzerland and are leaving for England in two weeks. While crossing on the Berengaria and again at Lido she did exhibition tango dancing with Mr. Allan Craven of Yale and they have also danced at the Four Hundred Club with "Sleepy" Hall and his Yale Orchestra. She has been invited to dance at the Intercollegiate Ball at Clandges' the 16th but has not accepted.

E. A. Tutein's Artichi in the racing at Marblehead last Saturday covered the 8½ mile course for boats in her class in 2:06:35.

Officer William E. Cassidy and his wife have returned home after a visit to St. Anne de Beaupre Quebec, and Montreal, besides other places of interest in Canada. Officer Cassidy will be welcomed back by his many friends as he is a popular fellow on the west side route.

The six weeks session of the Winchester summer school closed last week. This year there has been an average enrollment of 50 pupils which the School Department considers a good showing. Mrs. Anna T. O'Sullivan, one of the town's veteran instructors, has been in charge of the school this year, assisted by Mary H. Barr. Special emphasis has been placed on English and arithmetic. As usual the sessions have been held in the Prince School building.

PLAYING BALL ON CAPE

Two Winchester boys, Al Switzer and Carl Pihl, are currently sparkling for the Harwich Hoboes baseball team. This club has compiled a 11-2 record on Cape Cod this summer.

Switzer played first base for the Harvard Freshmen this last spring. In the last three games for the Hoboes, Pihl who is batting in the clean-up spot, has hit two triples and two home runs.

ARLINGTON ACADEMY FALL TERM ANNOUNCED

The fall term at the Arlington Academy of Music begins on Tuesday, September 6th, 1949. In the full-time division there are six departments all of which are scheduled between the hours of 9 a. m. and 2 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Ruth Ryan, Registrar, predicts a large enrollment of both junior and senior, private and special students this year and cites as an indication the early registrations already filed. Several of the Vocational Music Certificate holders have registered for the new Third Year Course, and will specialize in Instrument Teaching, Solo work or Arranging.

Again, because of the many junior and adult special students and evening ensembles, the administration finds it necessary to keep the Academy open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., Monday through Friday as well as Saturday morning and afternoon. As usual, the music aptitude tests will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays during the balance of the summer. The same days are also reserved for interviews with prospective music students and their parents.

The seven-year plan of Dean Ward's, which aims at the training of talented young music students from junior high school on, is beginning to show results in some of the musicians now of high school age. Briefly, the plan embodies concurrent theoretical and ensemble training together with private lessons.

It pays to Advertise in the STAR.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NOTES

On July first, Dr. Charles N. Curtis became Hospital Pathologist, continuing the three years of service he had already given to the Laboratory as an associate of Dr. Donald S. Nickerson, whom he is now succeeding in full responsibility. Dr. Nickerson remains on the staff as Consultant. Dr. Curtis took his A. B. at Bowdoin in 1937, and his M. D. at Tufts in 1941. Other changes in the staff include the return of Mrs. Bernard F. Stygles, who as Miss Eleanore C. Niegorska was in the laboratory from 1942 to 1948.

Winchester Hospital has long been interested in the increasing cooperation between various forces related to the health of the public, especially those of community health nurses, Visiting Nurses, and community and area hospitals. It is good sense to have all these agencies, engaged in caring for the sick and guarding those in good health, consult with each other on the sharing of their responsibilities. In many communities, methods to this end are made effective by having the hospital the actual coordination center, where executive offices of all health agencies are located and where thorough-going clearance is accomplished.

To keep abreast of national planning in this field, there has been in Winchester for the past two years a monthly luncheon conference of social agency heads, including Mr. Paine, Administrator of Winchester Hospital. For 1949-50 the officers of the group are: Chairman, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf; Co-Chairman, Mr. Norton F. Demsey; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Mortimer Downey; Chairman of the Program Committee, Miss Hilda Hope; Co-Chairman of the Program Committee, Chief Charles Harrold; Publicity, Mr. Francis McFeeley.

In accordance with the desired closer cooperation between agencies serving public health and welfare, a tea for informal consultation with the Visiting Nurses of Winchester and neighboring towns will be given by the Nursing Staff of Winchester Hospital in the Nurses' Home on the afternoon of August 31st. Pouring for the tea will be Mrs. Edward H. Kenerson, wife of the Hospital Board's President, and Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux, new head of the volunteer service organization. Invitations include the Visiting Nurse staff and the committee chairman in Arlington, Medford, Melrose, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Waltham, Wilmington, and Woburn, in addition to Winchester.

SEEK COSMIC RAY SECRETS IN FAR NORTH RESEARCH

An expedition of American scientists will seek new clues this month to the secrets of cosmic ray activity at 20-mile altitudes, near "the top of the atmosphere," over the Canadian outpost settlement of Churchill on the shore of Hudson Bay.

The coming project was announced today by the National Geographic Society which will sponsor the research together with the Bartol Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania. The National Defense Board of Canada is cooperating in the undertaking. It is part of a continuing program of cosmic ray research instituted in 1946 by the two sponsors and supported by the Air Force and the Office of Naval Research.

A major objective of the expedition is to develop experimental evidence whether the sun is surrounded by a constant magnetic field similar to that possessed by the earth. There is considerable scientific controversy on this subject.

Test For Theory

Dr. Martin A. Pomerantz of the Bartol Foundation, who will head the expedition, believes that a study of cosmic ray behavior at high altitudes in the Far North may lead to the answer for this riddle.

Data pointing to the importance of the coming project resulted from previous experiments conducted as far north as 52 degrees geomagnetic latitude and at altitudes of 30,000 feet, utilizing specially equipped B-29's. The geomagnetic latitude of Churchill, Manitoba, is roughly 69 degrees north, (ten degrees greater than the more familiar geographic latitude), and the coming research program will be conducted at heights in excess of 100,000 feet, or more than three times the altitudes possible in the B-29 tests.

The theory due for a test is that cosmic rays should increase in intensity as the North Pole is approached, since one is moving farther away from the equator where the earth's magnetic field is the strongest.

However, if the sun possesses a magnetic field of sufficient magnitude, its effect would be superimposed on that of the earth's magnetic field. In that event, the intensity of these primary rays would remain constant north of a particular latitude.

To Use Geiger Counters

Geiger counters, the now familiar atomic age instrument for reporting radioactivity, will do the high altitude detective work for the scientists in a number of free-balloon flights.

Each flight will take aloft a four-fold coincidence arrangement of Geiger counters. This arrangement, Dr. Pomerantz explained, will act something like a telescope in the sense that it will produce a signal whenever a cosmic ray particle goes through in a certain direction.

All data will be continuously transmitted by radio to a receiving station on the ground. Information regarding the atmospheric pressure, and hence the altitude, the temperature within the apparatus, and cosmic ray intensity, likewise will be received throughout the duration of the flights and recorded on a moving paper tape. A special trailer will serve as the party's mobile laboratory.

Weather A Factor

In directing the program, Dr. Pomerantz will be assisted by two colleagues from the Bartol Foundation, Robert J. Kerr, and Robert C. Pfeiffer, both of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania. Dominion authorities promise that additional assistance will be provided by Canadian meteorological personnel stationed at Churchill, now the location of a defense installation.

Dr. Pomerantz and his party planned to leave for Churchill about August 1, and hope to complete their program of field work in a month.

The August period was selected because it usually has the most favorable weather conditions for the work at the Canadian outpost -- minimum surface winds at sunrise when the instrument-laden balloons will be launched, and very light precipitation.

Waning Rays Noted

Previous research has established that primary cosmic ray particles (those impinging upon the top of the earth's atmosphere) are affected by the earth's magnetic field when they arrive from an as yet undetermined source or sources in outer space. In fact, the earth acts like a huge mass spectograph in separating particles of different energies.

This phenomenon gives rise to what is called the latitude effect. As one proceeds toward the equator, strongest zone in the earth's magnetic field, the rate at which cosmic particles arrive is observed to diminish. This is caused by the exclusion of rays of lower energy.

ORDER SONS OF ITALY IN AMERICA

WINCHESTER LODGE NEWS

On Sunday, August 28 at 2:30 p. m. a softball game between the Old Men and the Young Men of the Lodge will be fought - pardon me, I mean played at Ginn Field. There have been many softball games played that were in a class by themselves, but at present, it is predicted that this will be the game of games.

Such "Stars" as Jack Pantaleo, Dom Provinzano, Tony Ficociello, Mingy Frongillo and Tommy Ross are scheduled to be on the Old Men's lineup.

The riot squad of the Winchester police force is probably going to be present as well as a contingent of firemen to cool off some of the players during the game.

Plans are progressing rapidly on the Winchester Lodge's Degree Team trip to Atlantic City on September 29 where they will install the newly elected officers of the Supreme Lodge of the Order Sons of Italy in America.

This Installation ceremony is the first in the history of the Order, so the Degree Team and its Committee are working fervently to raise the money necessary for the trip, as the personnel of the Degree Team is 20 men.

Party Manners
for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits . . . and party line service is smooth.
It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

It's polite to be prompt. Answering the telephone as quickly as possible shows consideration for the person who is calling. Telephoning at "off peak" hours — in the middle of the day, or evenings after 8 — is also appreciated.
A NOTE to all party line users
As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.
Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines — because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years.
Until the time comes when we can provide everybody with the exact grade of service desired, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.

VOL. LXIX NO. 3 — THE WINCHESTER MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1949 — PRICE SEVEN CENTS

COLLETTE — MacISAAC

At Corpus Christie Chapel on 121st street off Broadway in New York City on Saturday, August 20, Miss Mary Carolyn MacIsaac, daughter of Mr. John A. MacIsaac of Salem street, was married at high noon to Gerald Collette, formerly of Luxembourg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collette of Luxembourg and Macon, France. Mr. MacIsaac and the bride's sisters, Miss Eileen and Miss Betty MacIsaac, went to New York for the ceremony and Mr. MacIsaac gave his daughter in marriage. Mrs. Collette came from France by plane for her son's wedding.

The bride wore an ice-blue taffeta dress and matching picture hat with veiling of French illusion and matching slippers. Her flowers were two white orchids.

She was attended by Miss Annette Croughwell of New York City formerly of Winchester, who wore a taffeta dress of robins-egg-blue, with a coronet of pink and blue flowers, matching the shades of the tiger-lilies in her bouquet. Stacey Widdecomb of Phoenixville, Pa., was Mr. Collette's best man. A reception was held after the ceremony at the apartment of the honor maid on West 11th street in Greenwich Village.

The bride, a graduate of Winchester High School and a former secretary at the Winchester National Bank, is now secretary to the president of Carl Reimers Co. Inc., Fashion Advertising Agency in New York. Mr. Collette, European distributor for General Motors and other automobiles, holds the Ph.D. degree in economics from the University of Zurich in Switzerland and the M.B.A. from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He is now a management trainee for Bendix, International, a division of the Bendix Airplane Corp., in New York. He and his bride will make their home in Great Notch for two years, after which they will live in France.

CRESSINGER — McGRAIL

Wearing white organdy over satin with a matching veil caught to a satin crown, and carrying white gladiolas centered with yellow roses, Miss Lillian Elizabeth McGrail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James McGrail of Elmwood avenue, was married on Sunday afternoon, August 28, at St. Mary's Rectory, to H. Grant Cressinger, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Grant Cressinger of Forest street, Providence, R. I. St. Mary's pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the 3 o'clock ceremony and a reception for one hundred guests was held out-of-doors at the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss McGrail was attended only by her sister, Miss Dorothy McGrail of Winchester. She wore a yellow marquisette dress with a Nile green sash, matching her picture hat, and carried an old fashioned bouquet. Mr. Cressinger was best man for his son.

After a wedding journey by automobile through Maine Mr. and Mrs. Cressinger will live in Cambridge.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1946, and attended Regis College and Boston University. Mr. Cressinger is at Boston University completing his course in Business Administration.

Among out-of-town guests at the marriage was Miss Mary Alice Wagstaff of Easton, Pa., a former Winchester girl and classmate of the bride at Winchester High School, who spent a week with the McGrails preceding the ceremony. The bride's brother, Robert, also came on from Caribou, Me.

WINCHESTER BUILDER HONORED

Theodore L. Freeman of Canterbury road, President of Brooks Park Inc., has been named Chairman of the National Home Week program in the town of Winchester, it was announced today by George S. Alexander, executive vice president of the Home Builders Association of Greater Boston, sponsors of the celebration in this area. The program will be observed all over America, September 11-17, 1949.

The progress and achievement of the home building industry will be brought before the people of Winchester in dramatic fashion by all concerns having a stake in the construction and completion of new homes. The focal point will be the many new homes under construction and the new methods and equipment used to enable all to own their own homes. A Nation of home owners is a Nation of democracy.

National Home Week will be celebrated for the purpose of bringing before the citizens of Winchester and of every other community a factual report on the industry and to create better public understanding of housing problems.

V. F. W. MEETING SEPTEMBER 7

Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold an important meeting in connection with the transfer of their building on Wednesday evening, September 7, at 8 o'clock in Lyceum Hall. All members of the Post are urged to attend.

DON'T FORGET TO RETURN YOUR WINCHESTER STAR FROM YOUR SUMMER ADDRESS.

JAMES ROSE

WINCHESTER MAN RETIRED FROM SWIFT ORGANIZATION

James Rose of 39 Central street concluded nearly half a century of service with Swift & Company on September 1 when he retired from the New England Dressed Meat and Wool Company, a Swift associated plant in Somerville, of which he had been manager since 1932.

His broad service with the company has taken him to nearly all Swift plants in the United States and Canada and to many of the sales units in this country and abroad.

Mr. Rose was just 15 years old—the same age as the company—when he started work as a messenger in Swift's New York abattoir in June, 1900. Gustavus F. Swift, the founder, was then active in the business.

From 1902 until 1913 Mr. Rose was at the company's Harrison, New Jersey plant, spending eight years in the sales division. He was then transferred to Chicago, serving as manager of the Packing House Market. In 1925 he traveled extensively in Europe, visiting Swift sales agencies. Upon his return he served in the company's executive offices until his transfer to Boston in 1932.

During his service in the Chicago general offices and in Boston, Mr. Rose worked under five sons of the founder — L. F. Swift, Edward F. Swift, C. H. Swift, George H. Swift and Harold H. Swift. Only two of the sons survive — George H. Swift, Boston, the company's New England representative, and Harold H. Swift, chairman of the board.

Mr. Rose has lived in Winchester for the past 17 years and has many friends about town. A former member of both the Winchester Country Club and Winchester Boat Club, he is a Mason, a member of the Algonquin Club, Beacon Society of Boston, the Somerville and Boston Chambers of Commerce and the Church of the Epiphany.

Two of Mr. Rose's sons are associated with the company—James at the Jersey City plant, and Richard, in the general offices at Chicago. A third son, Walter, is manager of the Presbrey Refractory company, Taunton.

CALKIN — ROBINSON

On Saturday, August 27, in the quaint old Baptist Church at Salisbury, N. H. Miss Joan Estey Robinson became the bride of Mr. Thomas Bailey Calkin of Scituate and Antrim, N. H. A reception followed in the garden at "Duncruising", the summer home of the bride's parents, Commander and Mrs. Elmer Bliss Robinson of Stetson Hall. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Thomas F. Lindley of West Concord, N. H.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tissue faille with a lace bodice. Her fingertip-length veil was attached to a coronet of matching net and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Her sister, Mrs. James A. M. Gustin of Winchester, was matron of honor, wearing a blue figured organdy gown with white headdress and carrying white gladiolas. The bridesmaids, wearing similar gowns and head-dresses, were Miss Constance Severance of Concord and Miss Patricia Walker of Lebanon, N. H., classmates of the bride at University of New Hampshire. The small flower girl, Miss Diane Dorgen of Concord, wore a yellow organdy gown and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums.

The best man was Mr. Leslie Erb of Antrim, N. H. Serving as ushers were Mr. George Robertson and Mr. James Hill of Scituate and Mr. Thoeodore B. Robinson of Winchester, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Robinson wore a gown of pink nylon with a pink hat and a corsage of white gladiolas. Mrs. Calkin, the bridegroom's mother, wore a gown of blue crepe with a black velvet hat and a corsage of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Calkin served three years with the Navy in the Pacific. Following a wedding trip to Cape Cod he and his bride will live in Antrim, N. H. until they return to college in September to complete their senior year at University of New Hampshire.

HIGH SCHOOL MAKE UP EXAMINATIONS

The usual make up examinations for pupils of the Winchester High School who have failed subjects will be given Tuesday morning and afternoon, September 6 at the High School.

All pupils who are taking one examination will report at the High School office before 9 a. m. Those who will take two or more examinations will report before 9 a. m. and before 1 p. m.

BANNISTER — WILD

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Bass River Community Church on Saturday afternoon, August 27, when Miss Joan Wild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Franklin Wild of 40 Everett avenue, became the bride of Henry Faxon Bannister of Cincinnati, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, N. J., and Squirrel Island, Me. The decorations in the 200 year-old Cape Cod church were white gladiolas, cymbodium ferns and wrought iron candelabra.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a classic wedding gown of cream white satin with long pointed sleeves and a full train. The veil, having been worn by her mother, was of double illusion, finger tip length, trimmed with rose point lace and caught with orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of Easter lilies.

The Rev. William Stafford Scott performed the marriage ceremony which was followed by a reception at "Idlewild", summer home of the bride's parents in Bass River.

Miss Wild's attendants were Mrs. George Clark of Winchester, matron of honor; Mrs. Robert Jennings of Allison Park, Pa., Miss Edna Wild of Winchester, all sisters of the bride; Miss Elizabeth Roberts of Beverly, formerly of Winchester, and Miss Ruth Bannister of Montclair, N. J., sister of the bridegroom. They were dressed in rainbow pastel marquisette gowns and wore matching horsehair picture hats with open crowns. Their flowers were Colonial bouquets of sweet peas in pastel shades combining the colors of their dresses.

Mr. Bannister's best man was his brother, Lemuel Bannister of New York City and the ushers included another brother, Richard Bannister of Montclair, N. J., Robert P. Wild of Winchester, brother of the bride; Henry Faxon of Brookline, cousin of the bridegroom; Gordon Warren and David Richardson, both of New York City and Hildreth Clark of Quinebaug, Conn.

The bride's mother wore an aqua jersey gown and her corsage was of talisman roses. The bridegroom's mother wore white gladiolas with her black and white printed chiffon dress.

After a wedding journey to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Bannister will live in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of Colby Junior College. Mr. Bannister prepared for college at Milton Academy and is a graduate of Harvard.

STONE — BURTNETT

Miss Florence Jeanne Burtnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Burtnett of 36 Wildwood street, for her marriage to Walter Ernest Stone, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Stone of Lewis road, Belmont, on Saturday afternoon, August 27, wore a gown of bridal satin with a marquisette yoke and carried a prayerbook with an orchid. The ceremony took place at 3 o'clock at the Plymouth Congregational Church in Belmont, and was performed by the Rev. John Fitzsimmons in a setting of white gladiolas, ferns and candelabra on the altar, and early fall flowers in the windows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her only attendant Mrs. Betty Ericson of Belmont, sister of the bridegroom. She wore a blue marquisette and lace dress with a pink gladiola headband, matching the flowers of her bouquet.

Melvin Stone of Cochituate was his brother's best man and the ushers were Arthur G. Burtnett, Jr., of Winchester, brother of the bride; J. Wendell Warren of Sharon, Wendell Ericson of Belmont, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; and Delbert Jackson, Jr., of Brookline.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, who assisted in receiving with the parents of the bridegroom, the best man and matron of honor.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to Maine Mr. and Mrs. Stone will live at 1148 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Stone prepared at Hebron and attended Dartmouth, while serving as a lieutenant in the Navy during the war. He later attended Boston University and is now studying for his dental degree at Tufts Dental School.

ENTERTAINED PHILADELPHIA VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Russell of Harvard street entertained Mr. Russell's cousin, Mrs. Dorothy Moore of Philadelphia, Pa., last Saturday evening, August 27. Mrs. Moore had been spending several days in Boston.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jeremaine Moore and Mrs. Sarah Rudolph, all of Philadelphia; Mrs. Mable Hayes of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snowden and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rhone of West Medford and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bryan and Mrs. Mary Smith of this town.

ENTERTAINED SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. William Selberg of 8 Marchant road, entertained for dinner Saturday evening at the Winchester Country Club Mr. and Mrs. Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Texas. Their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hubbard of Watertown, Mr. and Mrs. Matty Brown of Billerica, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Johnson of 7 Ainsworth road, Winchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Myles Baker of Kansas City.

Mr. Nelson was in town to captain the challenging team against the Ryder Cup team for the matches at Belmont Country Club this past week-end.

MERENDA — WILLIAMS

St. Mary's Rectory was decorated with white chrysanthemums, asters and gladiolas on Saturday afternoon, August 27, for the marriage of Miss Norma Aline Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Williams of Sarasota, Fla., to Charles Francis Merenda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Merenda of Nelson street. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's Church, performed the ceremony at 3 o'clock.

The bride wore a gown of traditional white satin, fashioned with a short train and a V-shaped neckline trimmed with lace. Her fingertip-length veil, trimmed with the same lace, was caught to a tiara of seed pearls, and she wore around her neck a double strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. George Jardine of Gloucester was her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Merenda of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Bette O'Donnell, also of Winchester.

They all wore period style dresses of taffeta, the honor attendant wearing blue, Miss Merenda, orchid; and Miss O'Donnell, green. All wore maline headpieces trimmed with small flowers to match their dresses and carried Colonial bouquets.

John Amoroso of Winchester was Mr. Merenda's best man, and the ushers were Robert Merenda, brother of the bridegroom; and Charles Doucette, both of Winchester.

A reception was held during the evening at the Kernwood Banquet Hall in Malden, with the parents of the bridegroom assisting in receiving with the members of the bridal party. Mrs. Merenda, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in pale grey crepe de chine over dusty rose tafetta and wore a flax-blue feathered hat and corsage of sweetheart roses and stepanotis.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York and Wolfeboro, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. Merenda will live at 191 Belmont street in Everett. For her traveling costume the bride wore a brown gabardine suit with matching hat and a corsage of talisman roses.

The bride graduated from Sarasota High School in Florida and attended Florida State University at Talahassee. Mr. Merenda graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1946 and served in the United States Coast Guard during the war. He is now associated with his father in the Merenda Floor Company.

SMITH — UNDERWOOD

White gladiolas decorated the altar of the Church of the Epiphany on Monday afternoon, August 29, when Miss Charlotte Anne Underwood, daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Underwood of Salisbury road, and the late Mr. Underwood, was married there to Duncan Bruce Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bruce Smith of Library, Pa. The rector of the church, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, read the service at 4 o'clock, and a reception followed at the home of the bride's mother.

Miss Underwood was given in marriage by Mr. Everett Barnard, a close friend of her father. She wore a white marquisette gown with a Venetian lace bertha and a long veil of old family lace. Her bouquet combined stephanotis with English ivy.

Mrs. James H. Coon, Jr., of Winchester was her sister's honor attendant and the bridesmaids were Miss Jaclyn Geerts of Winchester and Mrs. Gilbert Martin Andreen of Vanderbilt, Texas, sister of the bridegroom.

All the bridal attendants wore dresses of white organdy dotted with green, and large white horsehair hats with open crowns and long green streamers, matching the English ivy of their bouquets.

Donald J. L. Lin of Pekin, China, was best man for Mr. Smith, and the ushers were Gilbert Martin Andreen of Vanderbilt, Texas, Robert Finley-Rochelle of Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich., Leland A. Hale of Green Tree, Pa., and James H. Coon, Jr., of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Library, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of the Brimmer May School and of Stephens College in June. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Missouri.

SHAUGHNESSY — PERKINS

Miss Louise Evelyn Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph T. Perkins of Maple road, and Maurice Francis Shaughnessy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Shaughnessy of Roberts street, Biddeford, Me., were married at St. Mary's Rectory on Monday, August 29, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon by the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan. Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony and the wedding breakfast which took place at the Towne Lyne House in Lynnfield.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Perkins had as her only attendant her sister, Miss Kathryn Perkins. Phillip Shaughnessy was his brother's best man.

After a wedding journey to Lake George, N. Y., Mr. Shaughnessy and his bride will make their home in Brighton.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Westbrook Junior College. Mr. Shaughnessy is studying law as a sophomore in the Boston University Law School.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES AUGUST 22

The following were drawn for jury service, to report at Cambridge October 3:

ARTHUR WILLIAMS FURLONG

Arthur Williams Furlong, retired agent of the Eastern Steamship Company and father of Mrs. Richard Brackett of 153 Cambridge street, died Saturday afternoon at a nursing home in Medford. He had been living in Winchester with Mrs. Brackett for the past four years, following the death of his wife, Frances Witherbee Furlong. His death occurred four years to the day after the death of his wife.

Mr. Furlong was the son of Charles W., and Mary Eliza (Smithers) Furlong. He was born March 24, 1867, in Charlestown and grew up in that section of Boston, attending the Charlestown schools and graduating from Boston Latin School.

All of Mr. Furlong's business life was spent in the field of transportation. He was for many years in freight transportation with the Boston & Maine Railroad and later was New England agent for the Dairy Shippers Dispatch with offices in Boston. He was last until his retirement ten years ago New England agent for the Eastern Steamship Company with headquarters in Portland, Me. He was for 40 years a resident of Somerville, and for 13 years made his home in Portland. After his retirement he lived in Harwich until the death of his wife.

Mr. Furlong was a life member of King Solomon Lodge of Masons in Somerville, a member and past grand of Oasis Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Somerville; a member of Mizpah Chapter, O. E. S., of Marlboro; and of the Railroad and Steamboat Agents Association and of the Portland City Club. He was also a former member of the Boston Fruit and Produce Exchange.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 12:30 at Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiated. After cremation the ultimate interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. LENA MAE TARBELL

Mrs. Lena Mae (Yeaton) Tarbell, widow of Charles Webster Tarbell, passed away in Boston, Monday, August 29, following a long illness.

Mrs. Tarbell was born in Epsom, N. H., on April 12, 1869. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Mary Yeaton, and was educated in the schools of Epsom. After teaching in Epsom, she went into business in Boston. During her business life she lived both in East Boston and in Allston.

She married Charles Webster Tarbell in Swampscott, in 1917, and went to live in the former Tarbell home on Prospect street in Winchester. While in Winchester she became very active in the Fortnightly Women's Club, serving on many of its committees.

For many years she was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, and was a past worthy matron of Keystone Chapter in Roxbury. Mrs. Tarbell also retained her membership, until her death, in the Business and Professional Women's Club of Boston, and in the Women's Club of East Boston.

Miss Caroline E. Yeaton of Swampscott is Mrs. Tarbell's only surviving sister. She is also survived by a neice, Mrs. E. Gardner Chapin, of Salem, Mass., and by a nephew, Mr. Carl A. Ackermann of Swampscott.

The funeral service was conducted by the minister of Mt. Vernon Church, Boston, of which Mrs. Tarbell was a member.

MISS MATILDA CURRIN

Miss Matilda Currin, former Winchester hair dresser and beautician, died Sunday, August 28, at a nursing home in Medford, after a week's illness that followed a long period of failing health. She formerly lived for a short time at 146 Forest street, now the home of her niece, Mrs. Charles F. Brown, and latterly at 8 Elm street.

Miss Currin was born 88 years ago near Montreal in Canada. She came to Southbridge as a girl and grew up in that town. She made her home in Winchester for 20 years and during 13 years of that time was proprietor of the Harper Method, beauty shop, in the Lyceum Building, retiring because of poor health.

Besides her niece in Winchester, Miss Currin leaves a nephew and niece in California and a nephew in Kentucky.

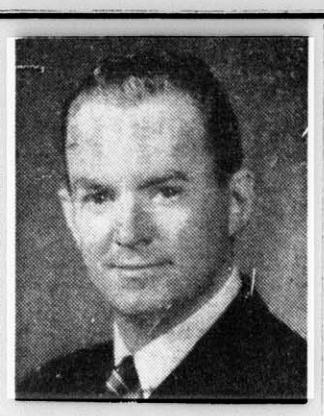
Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with the Rev. John Snook, Jr., minister of the Crawford Memorial Church, officiating. Interment was in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Southbridge.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTER RETIRED

Jeremiah F. Maloney of Rangely Ridge, for 42 years attached to the Winchester Postoffice and assistant postmaster there since July 1, 1919, retired on Wednesday, August 31.

Mr. Maloney was appointed a clerk November 15, 1907, by the late J. Winslow Richardson, then postmaster, subsequently serving under the late James H. Roach, Patrick F. Fitzgerald, John F. O'Connor and George H. Lochman, as well as under Vincent C. Ambrose, who left the postal service to join the Winchester Trust Company staff, and the present incumbent Thomas J. Gilgun.

Mr. Maloney is married and he and Mrs. Maloney are planning to spend the winter in Pinehurst, N. C.



Rev. John Snook, Jr., Crawford Memorial Methodist Church Pastor To Speak Sunday, September 4, at 8 A. M. on The Evangelical Hour Over Station WBZ on "The Secret of Greatness and Power."

WILLIAM DUDLEY COTTON

William Dudley Cotton of 29 Wildwood street, Boston attorney with offices at 54 Devonshire street, and former alderman of Boston, died Sunday, August 28.

Mr. Cotton was the son of William Dudley, and Elizabeth (Kehew) Cotton. He was born November 1, 1875, in Boston, was graduated from Roxbury Latin School and from Harvard cum laude, in 1897, receiving his law degree from Harvard Law School in 1900.

Mr. Cotton served for two terms as an alderman of Boston. He was a trustee of the Roxbury Latin School and an officer of the Roxbury Home for Aged Women, the Roxbury Charitable Society and the Boston Provident Association.

He was a member of the American Protective League, Bureau of Investigation in Boston during World War I and during World War II he was an air raid warden. He was a vestryman of St. James Church, Roxbury, and later served in that capacity at St. John's Church, Jamaica Plain, and at the Church of the Epiphany. He had made his home in Winchester for the past 25 years.

Mr. Cotton leaves his wife, the former Hester Sherman; two sons, William D. Cotton, Jr., and Sherman Page Cotton; a daughter, Miss Helen E. Cotton; a brother, John, and a grandson, Sherman Page Cotton, Jr.

Services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany with the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, officiating. Burial took place Wednesday in Forest Hills Cemetery, Forest Hills.

MRS. HELEN ANDREWS DAVIS

Word has been received of the death in Southport, Conn., on Monday, August 29, of Mrs. Helen Andrews (Bufford) Davis, widow of George Brinton Davis and a former resident of Winchester.

Born in Somerville, the daughter of Frank Gale, and Estelle (Andrews) Bufford, Mrs. Davis was in her 80th year. She and her family lived in Winchester during the early nineteen hundreds, their home being at 2 Calumet road. Her late husband was prominent in the old Calumet Club in its heyday.

The Davises left Winchester in 1917 and Mrs. Davis had been living with her daughter on Harbor road in Southport, Conn., where she died. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Estelle Andrews Roberts and Mrs. Melora Thayer Herold.

The funeral was private.

MRS. LARAWAY OBSERVED BIRTHDAY

Many thoughtful friends joined Mrs. J. A. Laraway of Lloyd street in observing her 75th birthday last week. A small family party was held and over sixty cards and letters were received during the day.

One surprise came in the evening when a picture of Debbie-Jill Barone, youngest granddaughter of Mrs. Laraway, was shown over Television on the Small Fry Club from New York and an announcement made of her grandmother's 75th birthday anniversary.

Mrs. Laraway came to Winchester over fifty years ago after her marriage to Jonas A. Laraway, who was, until his death in 1939, a well known participant in local town affairs.

Mrs. Laraway has three daughters living in Winchester; Mrs. Harold H. McKinley, Mrs. Carl E. Morse, and Mrs. William D. Barone; a son, Edson S. Laraway of Groton, Conn., and ten grandchildren.

TEA FOR WINCHESTER TEACHERS AND PARENTS

On Tuesday the 6th of September, the Teachers from all the schools in Winchester will meet with Dr. Forbes H. Norris, Superintendent of Winchester Schools, in the Wyman School Auditorium. Following this, at 2:30 p. m., all parents and guardians of school children are most cordially invited to tea in the Wyman School Kindergarten Room to meet Dr. Norris and the teachers. Formerly, it has not been understood that parents were invited, and it is sincerely hoped that this year as many parents as possible will take this opportunity to meet the faculty.

This tea is sponsored by the Winchester Mother's Association, with Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth as chairman of the refreshment Committee. Assisting Mrs. Wadsworth will be the presidents of each school chapter of the Mothers' Association.

The Church Organist and Director of Music, Mary Ranton Witham will be at the console of the organ and Mrs. Dorothy Perkins, soprano soloist of The Unitarian Choir will sing again at this service. Having returned recently from Europe, Mr. Chapman feels very strongly the challenge to America and Americans which is presented by the world situation today. His sermon will be a message to Americans and is entitled: "All things are yours - but. . . ."

HOME FROM OGONTZ

Returning to their homes this week after spending the summer at Ogontz White Mountain Camp, Sugar Hill, New Hampshire, are the Misses Andrea Litchfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Litchfield of Niles Lane; Miss Barbara Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton of Rangely road; Miss Susan Pond, daughter of Mrs. Shepard Pond of Salisbury street; Miss Dorothy and Miss Barbara Collins, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stone of Foxcroft road and the Misses Barbara and Jean Buffum, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Buffum of Yale street.

At camp, Andrea Litchfield won an honor merit in horseback riding and Susan Pond and Barbara Eaton and Dorothy and Barbara Collins received commendations for their articles submitted to the camp Magazine "The Fagot."

Barbara Buffum won the mid-season golf tournament and Jeannie Buffum was the youngest camper to be included in the Junior Honor Trip to Lost River.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS!

The STAR extends Sunday-best birthday greetings to our good friend, Patrick H. Craughwell, the "Sage of Swanton Street", who is observing his 80th birthday today.

"Pat" isn't quite his usual spry self yet, after his severe illness and operation at the Winchester Hospital during the winter and early spring. He is up and around however and in excellent spirits. Long an active participant in our town meetings and a frequent contributor to the STAR, Mr. Craughwell has at his fingertips a wealth of interesting information about Winchester's past and the men and women whose vision and labors have made the town what it is today.

His host of friends will join the STAR in a hearty "Top of the Mornin'" and best wishes for many happy returns.

ERNEST MERRITT RICHARDSON

Ernest Merritt Richardson, who died Monday, August 29, at his home in Winchester October 10, 1886, the son of William and Rachel Richardson, old time residents of the town.

Mr. Richardson leaves a son and two daughters, a sister, Mrs. Ethel R. Butterworth of Winchester, and a brother, Almon E. Richardson of Melrose.

TAX COLLECTIONS AHEAD OF LAST YEAR

Checking with Tax Collector Donald Heath about real estate tax collections the Star learned that collections this year are actually ahead of last year, despite the reported tightness of money. In '48 14.3 percent of the real estate taxes had been collected. This year 18.7 percent were in on that date. Assessors' commitment this year is also larger, the figure being $1,247,380.20 against $1,206,156.60 in 1948.

MASSACHUSETTS SPCA ISSUES APPEAL

In an annual appeal to all animal lovers, Dr. Eric H. Hansen, President of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, yesterday urged vacationists not to abandon their animal pets when closing their summer homes for the season.

"Many well-meaning citizens," stated Dr. Hansen, "are likely to lose sight of the fact that these unfortunate creatures, left behind to forage for themselves, will ultimately starve or become diseased as a result of such unkind and inconsiderate treatment. We, therefore, cannot stress too strongly the importance of vacationists taking their pets with them when returning to the city, thereby eliminating untold suffering to the animal world."

As has been the Society's custom for many years, placards have been posted at various resorts throughout the Commonwealth, warning against abandoning animals by summer residents returning to their homes. Furthermore, a reward of twenty dollars is offered by the Society for the conviction of anyone guilty of such cruelty.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

The Fortnightly opens its sixty-ninth season with a gala affair scheduled for Thursday, September 15, at the Winchester Boat Club, a "Dessert Bridge" under the direction of Mrs. Sidney A. Burr — second vice-President of The Fortnightly — with special entertainment planned by the Fortnightly's Chairman of Dramatics — Mrs. Milton G. Galucia. Many will recall with pleasure the party of last year, the club house filled to capacity, its charming decorations, the excellent bridge prizes provided for each table, and many other interesting effects. With additional attractions planned for this year's party, members will want to make their reservations early. Now is the time to invite relatives and friends to reserve the date — September 15, 1:00 P. M. — for his high-light of events, "The Fortnightly's Club House Fund Dessert Bridge." For reservations contact Mrs. Sidney Burr — WI 6-1203-M - Watch the "Star" for further information.

All Fortnightly members will be interested in the New England Conference of State Federations of Women's Clubs to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, September 12 to 14. Of special interest to Massachusetts members will be the fall meeting of the Massachusetts Federation to be held on Monday, September 12, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. Mrs. A. Chesley York of Medford, our own Federation President, will preside at the Massachusetts dinner on Monday evening, September 12, at the formal opening of the meetings.

Mrs. Ralph G. Swain of Brockton, Mass. will serve as General Chairman of the Massachusetts' interests.

The New England Town meeting — a special feature of every conference — will be held on Tuesday, September 13, with Miss Margaret Howison of Milford, N. H. - vice-president of the conference, presiding.

Many officers of the General Federation of Women's clubs are expected to be present for the Tuesday evening banquet.

Mrs. Harold Given, President of The Fortnightly, has already appointed delegates to represent Winchester at this New England Conference and many other members of The Fortnightly are planning to attend this eventful affair.

VISITING IN WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Roberts were in town last week visiting Mr. Roberts' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roberts of Hemingway street.

The younger Roberts were married June 4, 1949, at Christ Episcopal Church in Springfield, Ohio. Mrs. Roberts is the former Rena Ewell Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Furney Howard of Williamstown, N. C. A graduate of the training school of Norfolk General Hospital, Norfolk, Va., she is now on the staff of the Springfield City Hospital. Her husband is a sophomore at Wittenberg College and has been attending summer school there.

Last week Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roberts were pleasantly surprised when a casual invitation to spend an evening at a cousin's home turned out to be a shower attended by relatives and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chilness of Stoneham.

Robert J. McGuinity of Grand Blanc, Mich., a former well known Winchester boy, is in town this week on his annual visit. Although spending a fortnight with relatives in Somerville, "Bob" has not slighted his many old friends here, all of whom are glad to welcome him. When at home he is busy in Detroit making new Chevrolet cars.

RAY DOREY

RAY DOREY HEADS NEW MUSIC SHOW ON WHDH, BOSTON

Ray Dorey, New England's own top singer, soon will be taking over the fast-moving hour from 7:00 to 8:00 p. m. on WHDH, Boston. As of Labor Day (Monday, September fifth), Ray Dorey, veteran of the networks and Benny Goodman's band, carries on as disc-jockey in the slot which Tommy Dorsey has held down for the last two years at 850 on the dial.

From Burlington, Vermont, to WHDH, Boston, via Augusta, Maine, the University of Maine, Pittsfield, Boston, New York and all around America has been Dorey's background for the new show.

Ray, who has recorded for Majestic, Bluebird and RCA Victor records, brings a great voice, both for talking and singing, to the Boston independent.

ORDER SONS OF ITALY IN AMERICA

WINCHESTER LODGE NEWS

On Sunday August 28, a Softball game between the Old Men and the Young Men of the lodge was played on Ginn Field, before a large crowd, considering the weather.

The Old Men took the lead in the first inning and held it, the final score being Old Men 7, Young Men 4.

The Old Men started their scoring in the first inning, with Joe Ciarcia getting a single, Mulligan Fiore getting passed and Hokey coming up and cleaning the bases with a home run.

They scored their fourth run in the second on errors by the Young Men. Their fifth run was a homer by Robert Del Grasso as a result of a misjudgement of the ball by the right fielder. Their sixth and seventh runs were a homer by Harry Chefalo scoring Al DeMinico who had been given a pass.

The Young Men went hitless the 1st two innings but in the 3rd they scored a run on Skitchy Penta's single and Bob Fiore's double Choppers Gangi came in with the second run in the fourth on a double and a single by Sam Tibaudo. Their 3rd and 4th runs were scored in the fifth on a single by Paul Lentine who bunted safely, a single by Nick Molea, a long out to right field scoring Lentine and a double by Choppers scoring Nick for their fourth and final run.

In the sixth and seventh innings both teams went hitless, as both teams tightened up behind their pitchers. The comedy of errors ended in the fifth.

Both Maxie De Mambro for the Old Men and Choppers Gangi for the Young Men pitched a good game but their support wasn't quite up to par, especially the Young Men, as most of the runs and home runs were scored on errors.

Notes on the game

The old story the "youth must be served" was knocked for a loop in this game . . . The "old men" of the lodge still have what it takes when it comes to playing ball according to Hokey . . . The Old Men took a good natured ribbing when "Dynamite" Lentine beat out a bunt in the 5th . . . It was hard to tell whether we were watching a softball game or a swimming meet as most of the players were in swimming trunks or shorts.

BUSY WEEK-END FOR FIREMEN

A busy week-end for the members of the Fire Department commenced Friday afternoon at 12:40 with an alarm from Box 7-7-47 for a brush fire on Russell's Hill in the North End. At 3:05 the same afternoon there was a brush fire in the Highlands working from Woburn onto the Winn property to the north of the Watch-hand Factory and destroyed a number of fir trees.

Saturday afternoon at 2:15 Officer William E. Cassidy of the Police Department discovered a brush fire near the Winchester Brick Company in the Highlands, which also seemed to have originated in Woburn.

Friday night, Saturday afternoon and night, Sunday night and Monday forenoon the local department was aiding the Metropolitan authorities to fight a bad forest fire in the Fells near the old Sheep Field between the Middle and North Reservoirs. The small auxiliary pump of the old Civilian Defense Days was put to some use at these fires, after its long stand on the Station floor.

MAN ARRESTED FOR ROBBING CHURCH POOR-BOX

Sunday afternoon shortly after 5:15 Officer Alfred E. Poole of the Police Department took from a bus in the center a man who had allegedly robbed the poor-box at St. Mary's Church.

Janitor Ed Dalton of the Church had noticed signs of the poor-box at the church being tampered with before Sunday, and was on the lookout for the person or persons responsible.

Sunday afternoon he saw a stranger around the church and checked, finding the poor-box had been rifled and its contents removed. As he left the church he saw the stranger getting on a bus.

Mr. Dalton beat the bus to the center and had Officer Poole remove the suspect, who was found to have $7.71 on his person, which the Police say he took from the church poor-box.

The man was locked up at Headquarters, charged with larceny from the poor-box. He gave his name as John E. Nagle of 14 Montfern avenue, Brighton. In court Monday morning he was sentenced to the reformatory at Billerica. Police say he has a long record, and upon the completion of his term in the reformatory he will find the Brighton Police awaiting him with a warrant for non-support of his wife and children.

ST. PAT'S WON ODD ONE

The St. Patrick's of Stoneham won the season's series from the Winchester Junior Legion by taking the odd game by a score of 7 to 4 at Leonard Field on Saturday afternoon. Effective pitching in the tight spots by Paul Norden kept the locals under control they left twelve runners on the bases and never could develop a big inning.

"Major" Daniels, on the mound for Winchester, could not seem to bear down to retire the third batter in two different innings and Stoneham collected four runs in the first and three more in the seventh. In each case, all the scoring came with two out and Daniels could have had a shut out if he were able to retire that third batter each time.

In the first inning Stoneham had a runner on first via an error with two out and then a triple and four consecutive singles accounted for four runs. In the seventh the Stoneham lead off man was passed, sacrificed to second, another pass followed, then came a strike out for the second out, but Daniels passed the next batter to fill the bases and Norden tripled to drive in three runs. "Major" must learn to bear down and throw that ball a little harder with men on bases in order to become an effective pitcher.

JUNIORS WON LAST ONE

The Winchester Junior Legion went on a slugging spree to wallop the Rosebuds of Somerville by a score of 20 to 7 at Manchester Field on Sunday afternoon. This victory gave the locals the series' edge for the two teams had split even in their two previous meetings. It was a tie game at 4 to 4 until the fifth inning when the locals exploded for six runs and the game blew wide open. Strangely enough, five of the six runs scored by Winchester in this inning came after two were out and an error kept the inning alive when the side should have been retired.

Everybody in the Winchester line up hit safely except Williams, with Daniels pacing the attack with four hits in five trips to the plate. Charlie DeFilippo banged out a double and a triple while Tommy Dee and Johnny Farrell pounded out long home run drives down the left field foul line. Netto hit a home run to center field for the visitors.

PLAYGROUND OUTING

Sunburns were very much in evidence around the Loring Avenue playground last Friday as the result of a playground outing at Crane's Beach in Ipswich the day before. Forty five youngsters from the Loring Avenue playground contributed the necessary funds to hire a bus for the trip and had a grand day for themselves under the supervision of playground instructors Jean Monson, Marjorie Mahoney, and Tom Bane.

The weather man cooperated nicely by providing a perfect day for such an outing as the youngsters enjoyed the beautiful sand dunes and the clear, cold water. Needless to say, an amazing quantity of sandwiches, hot dogs, ice cream, and soft drinks was consumed with Paul Murphy and Jerry Hooper taking the honors in this field. This is the third consecutive year that the girls and boys of the Loring Avenue playground have organized and financed such an outing and it certainly makes a grand finale to a successful playground season.

Cards have been received in Winchester from Rev. Edmund C. Sliney, former pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church now traveling in Europe. Father Sliney sent his cards from Tromso in Norway, which he characterizes as the most beautiful country he has ever seen. This really means something for the former local pastor and Army chaplain has been all over the world.

MOHAWKS WOUND UP SERIES

Won Third Victory at Lincoln, 7-1

J. Gudz held the Winchester Warriors to four hits last Sunday at Lincoln and the veteran Mohawks won their third and deciding victory of the playoff series for the Paul Revere League championship, 7-1.

Vern Slack, just back from a tryout with the New York Yankees at Plattsburgh, pitched for Winchester and was combed for 14 hits, but in fairness to the tall right-hander it should be said that his support was not exceptional and several of the Mohawk hits and runs came after the side should have been retired.

Gudz, a pitcher Winchester belted for 16 hits in losing the second game of the playoff series, was ahead of the Warriors all the way, and when you can't get but four hits and can only bunch them in one frame you aren't too likely to finish in front.

Jimmy Olivier doubled in the first and rode home on Sammy Provinzano's one-shot to left. The other Warrior hits were garnered by Slack in the 5th and Donaghey in the 7th, both singles with two out.

STRANGER IN TOWN

August 29, 1949

Editor of the Star:

During the past week I had as a guest at my house one of my acquaintances from Mars. And a rather unusual guest he was. He seemed to be long on ideas on which this town is currently quite short. I think that almost all of the readers of your paper will be interested in what he had to say.

As well as I can recollect, it went something like the following.

Stranger: "Hi, Bill. I trust you have been well since we last met."

Bill: "Oh, sure. Never better. How about yourself?"

Stranger: "Simply great."

"Say, Bill, something disturbed me quite some bit as I made my approach this afternoon. I had to look twice before I could believe my eyes. Things have changed so much! Why, when I was here about twelve years ago this town was one of my favorite stops. Remember? You folks had just finished that beautiful renovation job on the river. And look at it today. It's a crying shame. The feelings of the people towards it must be closely parallelled with its tide. When it's high or on the flood they remark, 'Aren't we lucky to have such a beautiful stream flowing thru our midst!' And when it's low, or not flowing at all, they simply pass it by as quickly as possible, assuming, quite selfishly, that the rains will soon come and make it 'all nice' again.

"Surely, some one of your elected government bodies must be responsible for its deplorable condition. Why don't you folks demand that that body attack the stream's unsightliness now, while the moment is opportune? The only comment I've seen in your town publication recently is one short tirade by one of its own personnel. And he failed, I can't quite understand why, to mention the persons responsible to you.

Bill, is this river to remain undisturbed until some ill befalls one of the townspeople?

You know, just because a town is as big as some cities doesn't mean that it must put up with city type habits and inaction. Not, that is, unless the people wish it."

SMELLS, ODORS AND PLAIN STINK

Editor of the Star:

For the past month or so I have been telling my friends and acquaintances about the rather pungent odors that I thought came from the low flowing, if at all, Aberjona River at the Wedgemere station, but I guess I was wrong.

This morning, it being Monday, the 29th of August, with a humidity up around the billions or something, I betook myself to catch the eight o'clock train and while waiting the three or four minutes I came to the conclusion that the above-mentioned odors were, on this morning in the plain stink class. I decided that it came from some other section than the river, although my smelling apparatus isn't any too good, at least my sense of direction is, and it occurred to me that perhaps these selfsame smells were coming up from the ground, there being two or three manholes in the immediate vicinity of the station.

Perhaps some of the town's sleuths and the Board of Health may be able to find a solution to this mystery, and it is a wonder to me that there hasn't been a lot of kicking and complaining from those who have to board the train at Wedgemere.

Does anyone have an answer and has anyone else noticed these odors?

Ernest Dudley Chase

STATEMENT BY SENATOR HARRIS S. RICHARDSON REPUBLICAN SENATE FLOOR LEADER

The legislative session now closed revealed two striking facts:

1.) The Republican Party is the only hope for voters - whether Republican, Democrat, or independent - who seek relief from continued rising costs of government and new taxes which destroy steady jobs and devour workers' wages.

2.) Under Governor Dever the ambushed Democratic Party has been betrayed into the hands of socialistic schemers who prefer state bureaucracy, monopoly and control to free enterprise on which all private jobs depend.

Last January Republican legislators began as a seemingly hopeless minority. But the Governor threw away his mandate by sneaking out from under cover, after the election, a combined spend-thrift-socialistic program.

Today Republicans, in opposing this double-edged menace, alone represent majority opinion. Strengthened by this confidence we shall continue to fight the people's battle in the months ahead.

ROTARY NEWS

The regular meeting of the Winchester Rotary Club was called to order by President Charles Murphy at 12:20 p. m. Thursday, August 25, 1949. The five minute delay was agreed upon by the Board of Directors in the interest of showing John (Always Late) McLean how the meetings start.

So, after a late start, a couple of sheep were welcomed back to the fold, namely, Forbes Norris and Vice Prexy Wade Grindle. Along with them we welcomed a couple of former Winchesterites, Stanley Mobbs, Jr., who came all the way from San Francisco, and Sam Graves, who made the long trek from Wellesley. Of course, Jim McGrath was there sporting a new shirt-donated by the boys of the Friday Night Whist Club.

Jim Cullen and Wade Grindle have really been going out of their way in the make up department, Wade having made up a meeting in Madison, Wisconsin, and Jim making up at a Kiwanis Club in La-Crosse, Wis. There's one for the book.

Of course, George Clarke was absent again, and I have it on good authority he was out at Bear Hill practicing his putting with a cue stick - someone should tell George that ain't legal.

John Navarro told of his trouble with the City Clerk of Boston, and the meeting adjourned at the usual time. It was then that we noticed Phil Gallagher was absent and Price Wilson had left early.

CORRECTION

In the listing of property transfers through the office of P. T. Foley in last week's STAR the designation of the Benson property on Washington street, sold to Delia Hanley of this town for a home, was inaccurately described. It should have been described as property of the late John and Augusta Benson instead of as the former home of Dr. Harry L. Benson, though it was also the home of Dr. Benson for many years.

PLAYGROUND CHAMPS SAW GAME

Thirty-eight Winchester boys, winners of the Playground baseball and softball championships were guests of the Braves Management at the Boston-St. Louis Cardinals baseball game at Braves Field Tuesday afternoon.

The Park Department provided transportation to the game in a special bus, and the boys were accompanied by Playground Supervisor Ted Bartlett and Instructors "Joe" Harris and "Kenny" Donaghey. Loring avenue had two teams in the party, winners of the intermediate and junior baseball titles. Ginn Field was represented by the winners of the Senior Boys Baseball Championship while Leonard Field had its younger boys softball championship group along.

The boys enjoyed seeing the Braves wallop the league-leading Cardinals and cheered lustily as four home runs were belted out by the contending teams. Incidentally it speaks well for local enterprise in reporting that three of the four balls hit into the right field stands were recovered by Winchester boys, Dave Russo, "Denny" McManus and Roger Delorey.

The trip to the game marked the official closing of the town playgrounds for the 1949 season.

EXPLORER POST 6 MT. KATAHDIN EXPEDITION

Fine weather enabled them to make many climbs of the numerous peaks of the mountain. Some members of the party were fortunate in seeing bear and deer.

The Explorers making the trip were Stafford Rogers, Advisor, Dave Archibald, Buzz Bird, John McElhinney and Robert McElhinney.

Plans are already under way for another trip next year.

SOLD BY STACY

Papers were passed on Tuesday transferring ownership of residence property at 319 Highland avenue from Harold A. and Ruth C. Smith to Frances B. Brace of Boston who purchases for a home. The broker in the transaction was Edward G. Stacy, local Realtor. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have moved to 17 Bacon street.

COMPLETING WATER-SEWER INSTALLATIONS

Water and Sewer Department crews are installing both services in Cranston road and Franklin road in the Symmes Hill section below Symmes Corner. These installations will complete the water and sewer distribution system on the east side of the tracks. Work is being carried on by Asst. Supt. John Albert Harrington in the absence of Supt. James D. Halwartz, now on vacation.

The completion of these east side installations will leave only those of Hutchinson road and Ridge street to be done. It is expected that Hutchinson road will be done this year, leaving only Ridge street for the future.

This revolutionary new method—exclusive with Superior—has been designed especially to do your family washing . . . towels, table linens, sheets, pillowcases, shirts, dainty dresses, pretty aprons, colorful pajamas, etc. . . just as you would do them at home.

You Don't Have To Sort Your Laundry — JUST SEND IT —

Everything is individually washed, starched, dried and finished. Your laundry has its own individual washer, drier and ironer. From start to finish it never touches anyone else's clothes. Super-Maid Service is "individually yours" . . . 20 lbs. for only $3.98.

Have your garments dry cleaned the "Superior" way. Give your Superior route salesman these garments at the same time he picks up your laundry.
Ask him about the Superior Economy Laundry Bundle and other Superior services.

Where can you hire a Super-Maid to do your family washing for only $3.98 per week?

DEATH NOTICE

Davis, Helen Andrews Bufford, in her 80th year, of Harbor road, Southport, Conn., wife of the late George Brinton Davis, daughter of Frank Gale, and Estelle Andrews Bufford, died August 29 at her daughter's home in Southport. Born in Somerville. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Estelle Andrews Roberts and Mrs. Melora Thayer Herold.

NEW SURFACE

Workmen have been busy this week resurfacing with asphalt the parking lot at the First Congregational Church. The smaller lot on the Dix street side of the church was done last week.

GRANDSON O'MINE

I long for words to tell the story
I long for colors to picture the glory
Of that little Grandson O'mine.

Ten little fingers in rhythmic row
Adorning my walls wherever they go,
Ten little toes in pattering song
Making sweet music all the day long.

Brown eyes of splendor, lights ever appearing
To sparkle and gleam in innocence endearing
"Nana" he calls me. How sweet is the sound
"P'ease Nana, what's 'at"? His questions profound.

Curls top his head in shining array
Curls shot with gold. "How lovely", we say.
To-day he is two. The years slip away.
His Daddy was two - - seems yesterday.

His toys are many, his books piled high
But he'll drop them all to help "Nana" make pies.
Oh, I wish I could tell you, I long to express
What the baby smile means, the hands that caress.

The fun that we share, the joy he has brought
Is Heaven bestowed, God's love expressed.
Dear little Grandson O'mine.
By Nellie R. Hultgren.

CARS CRASHED AS DRIVER SLUMBERED

Two cars were wrecked and a woman driving one of them was taken to the Winchester Hospital shortly before nine o'clock yesterday morning when the driver of the other car fell asleep and the machines crashed head-on on Highland avenue opposite Highland terrace.

Bernard O'Doherty of 21 Poole street, Woburn, told the Police he dozed off as he was driving his Ford sedan north on Highland avenue while on his way home from his night's work. He lost control of his car which swerved across the street and collided with a Renault sedan, being driven south on Highland avenue by Dorothy E. Dearborn of 310 South street, Reading.

Both machines were so badly damaged about the front ends they had to be towed away. Miss Dearborn was thrown against the windshield of her car which was broken by the impact. She sustained a fractured nose and multiple cuts and abbrasions about the head and injuries to her left knee. Mr. O'Doherty sustained slight cuts and bruises and a shaking up, but was not badly injured.

RAIN!

The heavy thunder storm of Wednesday night brought down three inches of rainfall and improved the condition of the town's ponds almost beyond belief.

The reservoirs were raised five inches by the rain and the Mill Pond from a disgusting mud-flat became filled over night. The mudflats at Wedge were all covered yesterday morning and the water much clearer there. Both ponds at Winter were reported as covered with water and Horn Pond Brook was running very full. So deep was the water on Cross street under the Main Line B & M Bridge that lanterns were placed there by the Police to warn motorists.

MET. TO AWARD SCHOLARSHIPS TO MUSICAL YOUNGSTERS!

NEWS OF THE BERNNARDS

While Mrs. Edith Bolster of Washington street was in Seattle taking music courses at the University of Washington she stayed with former residents of Winchester, Mrs. Bertram Bernnard, her daughter, Ruth, and her son, Bill, now living in Seattle.

She and Miss Bernnard took a motor trip to Oregon, Salt Lake City and through the Colorado Rockies with stops in Wyoming, at Yellowstone and Grand Coulee.

Bob Bernnard has been for more than a year civilian manager of the Navy Officers' Club in Kodiak, Alaska, and is planning to remain in this position for at least another year. His brother, Bill, is chief counsellor for the public school's adult education center in Seattle.

Mr. W. Allan Wilde left Thursday to join his wife, who has been vacationing at Dexter, Maine. They will return to Winchester on Wednesday.

WINCHESTER TO START REAL FOOTBALL WORKOUTS NEXT WEEK

With the return of Coach Henry Knowlton from Camp Wyanoke last week plans for the coming football season got under way, although it will not be until next week that real serious work will commence for the first game of the season with Milton at Milton September 17.

Coach Knowlton commenced preliminary work Wednesday of this week, candidates who are in town reporting for light work and conditioning exercises, with backs doing some punting and passing. Next week practice will commence in earnest.

What sort of team Winchester will field this year is conjectural. Coach Knowlton himself believes he may have a pretty good team, though in the same breath he admits he may have a hard time beating any one.

Last year's club was pretty much a senior outfit and those he is counting on to start in the place of the graduates are short of experience, though most of them saw some service last season.

The locals will be big on the rushline, at least, with Murphy and Mason at ends, Caputo and Stevenson at tackles, Hutchins, Suppa and Burbank as guards and Tony Cirurso at center. You'll have to go back to Sarto Walsh's team to get more beef than that. Whether these boys have the speed and savvy necessary to play good varsity ball remains to be seen. They have the size, that's certain.

Behind the line there is Captain Paul Amico, a two-year veteran, to start at fullback. If "Paulie" can duck the injuries that plagued him last season, he ought to have a great year. Dannie Devlin at blocking back, saw a little service a year ago and Coach Knowlton is sort of figuring on Dick Richmond and Bob O'Brien for wing and tailback respectively, both being sprinters on the track team.

Once again no one knows much about how these boys are going to go on four-quarter varsity competition. Perhaps some of them won't even be in there after a few scrimmage sessions. The team is pretty much wide open this year. There are only one or perhaps two jobs where there is any inside track to the position.

DUCK RESCUED

Last Saturday morning several reports came in to the Central Fire Station that a duck was in some sort of trouble at the Mill Pond across Mt. Vernon street.

An investigation was made and it was discovered that a duck had gotten himself caught about the breast on a fish-hook and the line on the hook was fastened to a good sized stick, too big for the duck to disengage himself.

While a good sized audience watched from the bridge Fireman Joseph Donahue got the duck off the hook and back into the water, assisted by Mechanic Bobby Haggerty. Upon his return to Headquarters Fireman Donahue's friends presented him with an old Wilkie button to wear on days off and special occasions. So far as could be learned Mechanic Haggerty received nothing!

WARRIORS WON THIRD PLAYOFF

Joe McKee in Great Relief Pitching Role

Effective relief pitching by Joe McKee featured Winchester's first, and, as things worked out, only win of the playoff series for the Paul Revere League Championship with the Lincoln Mohawks at Manchester Field last Saturday afternoon, the Warriors finally outslugging the visitors, 10-6.

"Old Folks" was called in by Manager Lew Warsky in the 7th inning with two men on, one out, the top of the batting list coming up and Winchester nursing an 8-6 lead.

"Pegger" Lancelotta had held the Lincoln sluggers scoreless in three of the first five innings but in the first and third, bases on balls and a costly infield miscue permitted the visitors to score three runs in each frame. Lancelotta faltered a bit in the 6th and McKee commenced to warm up in real earnest. When the Arlington veteran was greeted by Davis's triple to open the 7th and then after Plummer had tossed out Connelly, hit Wood, the ex-milkman was rushed to the hill to put out the fire.

He did just that. Facing him with two on was E. Cunningham, a real slugger who hits a terrifically long ball. McKee sneaked over a third strike on the big right fielder, who beefed loud and lustily at what looked like a good pitch. Macone then lifted a towering fly to Sammy Bellino in deep centerfield and McKee had barred the door.

L. Cunningham opened the 8th with a single but was forced at second on Spooner's rap to Plummer. Bellino took B. Gudz's fly in center and Plummer gobbled up Holmes' fly back of third.

McKee fanned Davis for the first out in the 9th, but J. Gudz, batting for Bent, stroked a crisp single to center. Wood skied to Bellino but E. Cunningham was passed and there were two of the four runs needed to tie aboard.

Macone bounced one between first and second which Donaghey scooped up and tossed to McKee who crossed the bag a step in front of the Lincoln runner.

Hits by Timmy Connors and Olivier in the first, followed by Donaghey's double that Macone lost in the sun, gave Winchester two runs. Provinzano brought in Donaghey with a hit to left. Bellino's infield hit, a walk to Donaghey and Plummer's double along the right field foul line added two in the 3rd. A walk, an error and Connor's hit to right brought in two in the 4th.

Bellino's single to center and stolen base followed by Donaghey's hit over short was good for a run in the 6th. Hits by Plummer and Murphy, Modoono's sacrifice and McKee's infield out added one in the 7th and in the 8th Donaghey's triple to the center field banking, followed by Plummer's hit to left ended the Winchester scoring at 10.

Donaghey and Plummer each got three hits, with "Al" getting a double and Donaghey that triple which a faster runner could easily have stretched into a home run. Bellino pilfered three bases and played well afield while Timmy Connors made a sparkling catch of a foul fly with two on that few thought he'd even get near. Most spectacular play of the game was the relay from Connor to Olivier o Modoono that nipped Macone trying to stretch his hefty triple to a four-baser in the 6th. Modoono played the ball beautifully at the plate.

He's Driving His Letter of Introduction!

A Cadillac doesn't tell who you are—but it speaks most eloquently of what you are!

It says, as plainly as if it spoke the words, that you're a man or a woman of discriminating taste; that you're a person of achievement in your own world of affairs; and that you have the utmost consideration for the safety and comfort of those who ride with you.

In business, in finance, and in the professions—the owners of Cadillacs stand apart. The Cadillac crest has become a mark of achievement in every community and in every noteworthy walk of life.

This, of course, is an extra value that comes to the owner of a Cadillac car . . . a pleasing addition to the wonderful performance, the matchless comfort, and the unbelievable endurance which are inherent in every car that carries the Cadillac name.

If you would like to know what a pleasure it is to "drive your letter of introduction"—come in at any time for a ride that's a revelation.

LOCAL PICTURES WANTED FOR 1950 CALENDAR

Unusual or interesting pictures and photographs of Winchester's beauty spots, historic sites, homes, gardens, summer and winter scenes, are urgently needed for inclusion in the 1950 Winchester Calendar, now being compiled by the Social Service Guild of the Women's Association, First Congregational Church. With so many lovely scenes in the town, the Calendar Committee is appealing to all amateur photographers to lend their pictures for inclusion in the Calendar. All pictures will be carefully handled, credited, and all will be returned.

Mrs. George E. Connor, 403 Main street, WI 6-0545-M, is chairman of the 1950 Calendar, and will call for any pictures. On the committee is Mrs. James L. Jenks, Jr., Mrs. John B. Wills, Mrs. Edward Bartlett, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mrs. Harold Smith, and Mrs. Edmund C. Filler, Director of the Social Service Guild.

Last year the Guild published the 1949 Winchester Calendar, with many breath-taking pictures of the town. Copies of that Calendar were sent to friends in many parts of this country, Canada, South America and to lands abroad, with special requests for copies from Winchester, England. This year marking the 100th anniversary of the town, the Committee hopes to include pictures that will show townspeople and those who have never visited here just how interesting and attractive Winchester is, and how historic!

LATE VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Roberts of Westland avenue are spending the month of September at Bailey Island, Me., in their new five-room red ranch house, designed by their neighbor, Evander French of Hutchins & French, and built this spring.

The Roberts' vacation was delayed this summer by the late prorogation of the Massachusetts General Court at which Mr. Roberts had been in constant attendance as legislative counsel for the Massachusetts Real Estate Board and Massachusetts Real Estate Association.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

For the first time in the three-year history of the present Playground Baseball League the regular season ended in a three-way tie for first place in the Senior division. After playing eighteen games apiece this summer, the Senior teams of each of the three playgrounds had won nine games and lost nine games. Loring Avenue beat Ginn Field 10 to 6 on Friday morning to bring about the three-way tie.

This necessitated a special play off series for the championship and Ginn Field defeated Leonard Field 9 to 2 on Friday afternoon. The final game was played on Saturday morning and Ginn Field nosed out Loring Avenue 2 to 1 in an eight inning contest that was a thriller. The Ginn Field Seniors thus had to play three games in two days and their two-man pitching staff of Charlie Murphy and Stowell Symmes turned in a remarkable job. Murphy went all the way in the losing contest on Friday morning, Symmes pitched the victory Friday afternoon, and they divided the pitching assignment on Saturday morning with Murphy getting the victory.

Loring Avenue won the Intermediate division championship by defeating Leonard Field 7 to 2. Leonard Field could have tied up this division by winning this game but Charlie DeFilippo on the mound for Loring Avenue was too much for the Leonard Field boys and kept them in check all the way. DeFilippo, "Jocko" Serica, and Tom McDonough pounded out extra base hits to provide the winning runs for Loring Avenue.

In the only division that was not close right down to the final game, the Loring Avenue Juniors won their division championship by winning twelve straight games. They packed too much power for the other two fields and received good pitching from Delorey and Morgan.

The younger boys' softball championship was not decided until the final game when Leonard Field defeated Ginn Field to annex the title. Ginn Field had defeated Loring Avenue earlier in the week by a score of 7 to 6 and had hopes of knocking off Leonard Field as well which would have put Leonard and Loring into a tie for first place. The Leonard Field boys were not to be denied, however, and won the championship for the second consecutive year.

Thus, each playground is represented by at least one championship team. Loring Avenue boasts of champions in the Junior and Intermediate baseball divisions, Ginn Field in the Senior baseball division, and Leonard Field in the younger boys' softball competition. This is the first championship for Ginn Field in three years of endeavor in the present playground setup and reflects much credit to instructor Joe Harris and his boys. As a reward for their championship achievements, the players of these four teams were the guests of the Braves management at the Braves-Cardinals game on Tuesday, going in on a bus provided for that purpose by the Park Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Meek of Church street, with Mr. and Mrs. William Hanna of Pawtucket, R. I., return Saturday from a trip to Niagara Falls and on to Toronto, Canada, and Kingston, returning by way of Thousand Islands, Saranac Lake and Lake Placid with visits to points of interest along both Lake Champlain and Lake George.

Monday forenoon a box-car jumped a switch at the freight yard north of the center and tipped over, partially blocking the in-bound tracks. No one was injured and a wrecker soon had the car righted and removed with little inconvenience.

Last Friday night shortly after 10:30 two boys threw what was at first thought to be some sort of torch into the hedge of a house on Pickering street. Officers Irving Reardon and John Elliott went to investigate and found the thing to be a railroad flare. The boys had been frightened away, and there was little damage done the hedge.

Mr. Marshall W. Symmes of Main street arrived home yesterday from Philadelphia where he attended the National Convention of the American Legion. He reported the weather as very hot.

David Harris, son of Mrs. T. W. Harris of 23 Stevens street, returned home Tuesday from Venezuela, where he has been employed by the Gulf Co. for the past three years. He will remain in Winchester until the first of November.

Mr. John McLean of Kenwin road, who recently broke his hip, celebrated his 87th birthday on Wednesday at the Winchester Hospital. He wishes to thank the many kind friends who remembered him with cards and gifts.

It is reported that Mr. Gordon Parker of Ledgewood is quite ill at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston.

KEN COOK KEEPS SNIPE FLEET LEAD

Ken Cook, the converted Comet skipper, kept his slender lead over Jack Streeton in the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet Championships by scoring a thrilling, if slightly lucky, victory over Jack last Sunday afternoon.

Jack had sailed to victory Saturday afternoon, with Cookie a spectator, and had taken over first place by a couple of points, so Sunday's race was run with the chips down.

Jack sailed to an early lead with Ken a close second, and so they sailed for two full laps. That's when lady luck forsook Jack and smiled at Ken. While Jack's "Wild Hare" wallowed in a flat spot, Ken's "Fantasy" flew by in free puff, and from then on it was Cookie's race.

As near as we can figure it on our fingers and toes, Ken is about 18 points ahead of Jack with only six races to go. If you want to witness some really thrilling racing, get down to the lake the next few weekends.

Fleet Facts

Last Sunday afternoon, Ted Elliot, the Winchester Ski equipment tycoon, proved once again that he should stick to the waxed boards instead of the boats. Ted ushered his Snipe out into the upper Mystic in a 20 mile per hour breeze and before you could count to twenty, his good ship was bottoms up. When rescue crews finally drew alongside the upside-down ship, Ted was perched on its bottom - moaning because he'd lost his pet pipe and tobacco pouch overboard. Last sail Ted took, he lost his mast overboard — guess he'd better sign up for Jack Streeton's shore school .... That was a pip Bill Hall pulled, too. It's a good thing he had his outboard moored with a thin rope or our brand new dock would have wound up at Medford. Next time untie before you take off, Bill.

Club Chatter

There are a few tickets left for the Clam Bake and Dance, Labor Day evening at the Club. Maybe if you call Tom Sanborn, the Club Steward, right away, you'll be able to attend this wonderful annual party .... If you can't get tickets to the Clam Bake, come on down and dance, anyway.

At the request of Commodore Strawbridge, the water in front of the Club was tested by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and has been O. K.'d for swimming. Actually, the water tests better in the bay than anywhere else on the upper Mystic.

CIVIL AIR PATROL NEWS

Now that camp is over all the Civil Air Patrol is slowly slipping back into the familiar routine of civilian life. It seems strange to be attired in gay summer clothes rather than regulation khaki. Perhaps the Officers and Cadets may appear the same, but in reality they have all undergone a change, for this encampment was an experience never to be forgotten.

Those from the Boston Area took off from Logan Airport August 15 and landed that afternoon at Westover Air Base, Chicopee Falls, Mass. They were soon piled with bedding and baggage and sent on their way to the barracks. The afternoon was spent cleaning the barracks and getting acquainted with their comrades.

For the next two weeks they lived regular army life, rising at 5:00 A. M. and having lights out at 10:30 P. M. They even had K. P. Some of the classes given were Transport Operations, Navigation and Briefing, Chemical Warfare, and Aquatic Training. These were taught by regular Army officers and they were all extremely interesting.

It was a sad day when the Civil Air Patrol broke camp and left Westover Field on August 27, but the friends that were made and the experiences had will never be forgotten.

Those cadets attending the encampment from Winchester were Elaine Hersey, Jacqueline Fritch, and Henry Dellicker.

BARTLETT SCHOOL RE-OPENS SEPTEMBER 7TH

The Bartlett School, 34 Bartlett avenue, Arlington will reopen for the seventeenth season on Wednesday, September 7. Pupils four years old are eligible for kindergarten and those four and a half for Sub Primary. Pupils five years by October first can be enrolled in Bartlett first grade. During the past sixteen years, many Winchester children have saved a year in school by attending Bartlett first grade where they have been fully prepared to pass sucessfully examinations for promotion into Winchester second grade. Many Winchester pupils have remained in the second and third grades. This year a fourth grade is being added. Small classes insure individual attention.

Norene D. Casey, Director, is a graduate of Boston Teachers' College with twenty-four years teaching experience. There are seven assistant instructors. Transportation is provided. Reasonable tuition. Winchester references available.

FELLS FIRE DRIVEN UNDER GROUND

Winchester ...emen who had assisted the Metropolitan District Commission crews since last Friday in fighting the big fire in the Fells around the Sheep Fold between the Middle and North reservoirs were finally ordered to return to quarters Wednesday. By that time the fire had been confined to a peat bog east of the town line near the Sheep Fold where it continued to burn underground and seemed likely to continue to do so until there is a real rain storm. Metropolitan crews were continuing to pump water from the town reservoirs on the burning area Wednesday and Thursday.

An area about a mile long and half a mile wide was burned over, and there were also two other spots burned, one at the rear of the Sanitarium on South Border road and the other in back of Wright's Pond. The local department laid between 2600 and 2700 feet of hose from the Causeway to the Sheep Fold in fighting the fire.

NO FIRE IN WELL FIELD

The chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, Mr. Edmund C. Sanderson, has asked the STAR to report that there has been no fire recently at the West Side well field. Numerous querries about trees being destroyed by fire at the well field prompted Mr. Sanderson to issue the denial.

LESTER G. WHITTAKER

BUYS WINCHESTER CONSERVATORIES

The sale of the Winchester Conservatories to Mr. Lester G. Whittaker of 7 Cottage avenue is announced this week. He will continue to conduct this popular flower mart, giving a lifetime experience in the flower business to serving Winchester and surrounding towns.

The sale comprises the retail side of the business only, Mr. C. H. Kennedy of Crescent road having taken over the wholesale department, which will be continued as usual.

Mr. Whittaker has been a resident of Winchester for the past ten years, and his wife, Muriel (Livingstone) Whittaker is an Arlington girl. He has three children, all attending the Wyman School. He is a Rotarian, Elk, Mason and Odd Fellow.

Mr. Whittaker will be assisted by Mr. John Perkins, a graduate of Simmons School of Floral Design, University of Mass., and has been associated with the Plaza Florist Shop in Boston.

As in the past the Conservatory will make daily deliveries in greater Boston and telegraph flowers anywhere, Mr. Whittaker being secretary of the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association.

METHODIST CHURCH FALL PROGRAM BEGINS

The Sunday morning service at 10:45 A. M. will open the Fall program at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will speak on the subject, "Launch Out."

Sunday School will open the last Sunday of the month but there will be a nursery during church the next two Sundays to allow parents to attend morning worship.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship will meet this Sunday evening to plan their Fall activities. The time of the meeting is at 6:30.

The Sunday School Board has its initial meeting next Wednesday at 8 P. M.

The Women's Society of Christian service will conduct its first meeting next Thursday at 2 P. M. The pastor will preach on the subject of "Stewardship." Dessert will be served at 1:30.

A "Home-coming Supper" is being planned for Wednesday the 28th of September.

The first Official Board meeting of the Fall will be held the 20th of September, instead of the 27th as planned.

A program of Visitation Evangelism is being planned in collaboration with the Mass. and Federal Council of Churches for the week of September 26th and there will be a reception of new members the 9th of October.

With a full Sunday School staff ready to serve, and the various organizations of the church getting set for activities, the Methodist Church looks forward to a spiritually beneficial year.

RESIDENTIAL COMMITTEE FOR SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

The precinct chairmen for the coming Salvation Army drive have been hard at work for several weeks, and will have a final meeting on Monday, September 12th, at the home of Mrs. William W. Davies III, at 10 o'clock.

The committee is as follows:

Residential Chairmen: Mrs. William W. Davies III and Mrs. Alexander Clark.

Vice-Chairman: Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker.

Precinct Chairmen:

1. Mrs. Robert L. Low and Mrs. George H. Gowdy.
2. Mrs. Ralph P. Webster Jr., and Mrs. John T. Horn.
3. Mrs. Nelson K. Brown and Mrs. H. L. deRivera.
4. Mrs. Arthur P. Schmidt and Mrs. Melvin H. Sidebotham.
5. Miss Dorothy Welsh.
6. Mr. H. J. Erskine, Jr.

DR HANS WAINE APPOINTED TO FOUNDATION

A former Winchester resident who in recent years has been engaged in research, teaching and practice in the field of rheumatic diseases in Boston and in California has been appointed medical director of the New England Chapter of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, it was announced today by Weston Howland, chairman of the group with headquarters at 201 Devonshire street, Boston.

Dr. Hans Waine, formerly of 6 Ledgewood road, Winchester, will head the organization dedicated to battling diseases that cripple more than seven million Americans.

The 42-year-old German-born physician and former newspaper editor, who won a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Muenster seven years before receiving his medical degree at Harvard, will direct activities of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation in Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Dr. Waine, who now makes his home at 238 Chestnut street, West Newton, with his wife and children, came to the United States in 1931 as an exchange student at Columbia University. The following year he returned to Germany to become foreign editor of the Berliner Kreuzeitung. When Adolf Hitler became chancellor, Dr. Waine abandoned journalism and Germany and came to the U. S. to study medicine at Columbia and at Harvard, where in 1937 he received his M. D. degree.

Dr. Waine pursued postgraduate studies in surgery and medicine at the University of California, and came back to Boston in 1939 as a research and teaching fellow at Harvard Medical School. For two years he was an associate of Dr. Walter Bauer, leading authority in rheumatic diseases, at the Lovett Fund Arthritic Clinic at Massachusetts General Hospital.

For seven years prior to his appointment as medical director of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation in New England, Dr. Waine was on the faculty of the University of California Hospital and was also engaged in private practice in rheumatic diseases in San Francisco.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Reynolds, formerly of Winchester and of Scarsdale, N. Y., and now of Los Angeles, California, recently announced the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth to Mr. James Foshay Scherfee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Scherfee of Los Angeles and grandson of Mr. James Foshay, former Superintendent of schools in Los Angeles. Dr. Reynolds was on the faculty of M. I. T. for 24 years and is now head of the Department of General Engineering at the University of Southern California.

Miss Reynolds graduated from Winchester High in 1944 and from Middlebury College in 1948 and at present is completing the clinical requirements for a certificate in the School of Occupational Therapy at U. S. C.

Mr. Scherfee graduated from Los Angeles High School, after which he spent 30 months in the Army and was awarded a Bronze Star for bravery while serving with the 10th Mountain Division in the Italian campaign. While at Pomona College, Calif., where he was graduated this last June, he served as Y. M. C. A. president, business manager of the Glee Club, and member of the tennis team. He will enter Union Theological Seminary in New York in the fall.

The young couple are making wedding plans for next year.

SOCIAL TEA FOR TEACHERS AND PARENTS

The tea for all the teachers and parents of all the school children held at the Wyman School Auditorium Tuesday, September 6 was a great success. This Tea, sponsored by the Winchester Mothers' Association, gave the parents a chance to meet the faculty on a social basis. It was apparent, both from the number of parents attending, and the intermingling of teachers and parents, that this Tea was a tremendous success.

The refreshment committee, headed by Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth, served a delicious punch on this hot day, with various assortments of cookies. Assisting Mrs. Wadsworth were the presidents of each chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association: Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, Junior High Associates; Mrs. Alexander M. Clark, Lincoln; Mrs. Paul C. Dunn, Mystic; Mrs. William T. Haggerty, Noonan; Mrs. Paul E. Nason, Parkhurst; Mrs. Paul E. Lamarche, Washington; Mrs. Paul C. Lamb, Wyman, and their helpers.

OUTLINES TEACHERS' CONCEPTS

Supt. Norris Opens School With Basic Plan For Successful Year

The following extract from the address delivered to Winchester teachers and parents by Supt. of Schools Forbes H. Norris outlines the concept of Winchester's public schools. At Tuesday afternoon's meeting held at the Wyman School, marking the opening of the public schools for the coming year, probably the largest gathering of its kind was assembled to hear Dr. Norris' address and to greet the large teaching staff.

The outline of Dr. Norris' address follows. It will undoubtedly be of interest to all readers of the Star.

Concepts - Basic To a Successful Year

In planning and working for a most successful year, there are some footings or foundation stones on which we should base our work. More than one person has failed because he did not take into account certain principles or fundamentals which underlie all good structures. Today, I would like to discuss briefly with you, two of the concepts which I consider basic.

The first of these concepts is concerned with our profession. In a day when pride in one's work and the service that can and should be given are subordinated to poor craftmanship and getting by, it seems appropriate to examine and analyze the frame of reference within which I do my job. Am I an asset or liability to my professional group here in Winchester? Is the role I play of such a character as to contribute definitely to the achievements of our schools? Am I doing my part in building a pride in the schools that this Town should have? There are too many people in the teaching profession who take an apologetic attitude toward teaching, they don't hold up their heads. Some even portray teaching as a disagreeable, non-contributing, unattractive field of work which is a refuge for martyrs, mediocrities and misfits.

The truly professional person always retains the learner attitude; there is within him the same thing that arose in the Athenian society of the Periclean age with its "claim of excellence," its desire for "distinction."

As a teacher in the public schools of this country, I should understand and appreciate the role of the school in maintaining our way of life. It is not the instrument of any group or clique; rather it is an attribute of government devoted to promoting the general welfare, to establishing justice and tranquillity, to building homogeneity and cohesiveness in our population, and to inculcating a spirit of union and unity in a way that is not possible for any other group, or agency. You have every reason to be proud of the role you can play in shaping the lives of your pupils, and in that way the destiny of your nation.

The practice of American public education is to help the student get the facts, to try to help him learn to think, and to urge him to reach his own conclusions. It is not surprising that the heart of American public education is the same as that of Americanism; it is independent thought. Our public schools have not tried to produce indoctrinated automatons, but individuals who can think and who will think always for themselves. "The basic principle of American government, and one that accounts for the importance of education in this country, is that if the citizens learn to think and if they will think for themselves, the Republic is secure." The basic principle of the communist, fascist, or falangist is that the people cannot think, or cannot be trusted to think for themselves. In our hands there are being entrusted the future thinkers, or non-thinkers of this land.

In my role as a truly professional person, I must see that my work registers in the daily lives of my pupils. "What am I doing for these boys and girls?" should be asked by the teacher of himself every day. Education is not a cure all. It is a stimulant rather than a specific.

"In our own individual development the present is but a short breathing spell between what we have done and what we intend to do. But what we intend for today depends on what we did yesterday. And all together depends on the interaction of our personality with our environment. Our personality, however, is largely determined by our dead ancestors, and so is our environment."

"Nations and civilizations, in this respect, are not different from personalities. Whenever in the history of mankind, for example, in the French Revolution, a people tried to build a gigantic dam between its future and its past, the waves of the past grew and grew in momentum and finally broke through the artificial barrier"

We must not forget the power of education as demonstrated by Hitler and Lenin. It was educated people who shouted, "Heil, Hitler," and who gave sadism and shrewdness to Lenin's cause. There, education simply deepened the distortions of the mind. "The educated agitator is the most dangerous man in the world except for one — the educated nonparticipator. Learning that makes a man turn his back on reality is treason to the stewardship of humanity."

"True education implies participation. What does it profit society to sharpen the keenest minds for science and to leave government to the crackpots, the dull wits, the greedy exhibitionists? Education is negation if there is no participation in making progress real."

ROTARY TO BUILD GIRL SCOUT CABIN

The Rotary Club is going to build the Girl Scout Cabin in the Fells! By that it is meant that the men of the club are literally going to build this new building for the Girl Scouts of Winchester with their own hands. Recently it was voted by the Rotary Club of Winchester to contribute the planning, supervision, and the fruits of their own labors to this most worthy community cause. With the money already raised and the hope of more to come from interested parents and people of Winchester, it is expected that the additional efforts in the way of planning and cost labor by the club members will enable this well planned building to be erected early this fall.

Under the able leadership of Al Elliott as Chairman, together with Nick Fitzgerald, Harry Chefalo, Sid Elliott, Bill Cleary and Charlie Murphy, plans are already under way to make this one of the most unique community efforts that the Rotary has ever undertaken. Working closely with this committee is the Girl Scout group headed by Brad Hersey. What group of men are better able to produce a really great house for the 600 Winchester Girl Scouts? The new plans drawn by Bill Davies have been approved by State and National officials - the ground has been broken - the water and sewer are already laid - and part of the money necessary for the equipment, building materials and skilled labor has already been pledged. Much material such as bricks for the fireplace, roofing, paint, plumbing equipment and kitchen equipment have already been offered at cost, with the necessary planning and installation being given free.

The date for the actual building of the cabin has not, as yet, been set for there is much work to be done before the actual culmination of all these plans. There is more money to be raised, more equipment to be furnished either free or at cost, much sifting of eager members of Rotary into various committees that can best do the work suited to their individual talents. The committee under Al Elliott and Brad Hersey would appreciate any and all help in either or all of these needs. Further details will appear in the Star. In the meantime the committee is going ahead with plans for one of the best Girl Scout cabins in the country.

CONGRESSWOMAN ROGERS TO SPEAK AT FALL-WINTER FASHION SHOW

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester will open its fall season Wednesday, September 21. The event will be a fashion showing which will be held in the First Congregational Church Parish Hall. The models will be professional Hart models. Among some of the garments, that will be featured, are suits, coats, casual afternoon wear and evening gowns. Quality and classic good taste will be stressed.

The program will begin at 1:30 P. M. with the serving of homemade dessert. The president, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, will preside. Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers will speak briefly on current events.

Chairman of the committee in charge of this event is Mrs. Frank R. Creelman and the co-chairman is Mrs. Samuel Cole. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Francis G. Chase, Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy, Mrs. William Cusack, Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, Mrs. John M. Murray, Mrs. Alvin S. Mancib, Mrs. Allan Wilde, Mrs. James McGovern, Mrs. Ralph Bonnell, Mrs. Donald Davis and Mrs. Woodford Wilcox.

E. SHELDON ANDERSON

E. Sheldon Anderson of Reading, formerly of Winchester, died Thursday, September 1 after a brief illness. Mr. Anderson was born in New York City, on January 17, 1906. He leaves his wife and one son, E. Sheldon Anderson.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 11 a. m. in the Ripley Chapel, First Congregational Church. Rev. Donald B. Tarr officiated at the services. Interment was in Forest Glen Cemetery, Reading.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. T. Price Wilson announce the marriage of their daughter, Jane, to Mr. Joseph P. Day, III of South Acton, Mass.

The candle-light ceremony was performed at 8:00 p. m. on Friday, September second by the Rev. Carl Hempel of the Universalist Church, South Acton.

FIRST SON

Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Colony (Margaret Carter) of the Parker road are the parents of a second child and first daughter, Nancy, September 3, at Phillips House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Walker Carter of West Newton, and Mrs. John M. Colony of Newton Center. The great-grandfather is Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox of Newton Center.

MUSICALE TEA TO BE PRESENTED

A musical tea will be presented on Sunday afternoon, September 18 at 4:15 in the New Hope Baptist Church.

The musicale is under the auspices of the Flower Circle and is for the benefit of the New Hope Baptist Church.

ATTENTION

The girl Scout Office will be open mornings only throughout September, unless an appointment is made with Mrs. Metcalf.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE TO START SEPTEMBER 25

The Salvation Army 1949-1950 Greater Boston Annual Appeal for $457,000 in Winchester received its preliminary launching today when 2,000 appeal letters were mailed to residents.

But the full heights of the Appeal will begin September 25, when volunteer workers, under the direction of Mrs. William W. Davies, III, conduct a house-to-house canvass.

In the meantime campaign leaders are consolidating their organization, and making plans for the canvass.

Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools, is general chairman of the Appeal for human needs. He will be assisted by Ralph L. Purrington, vice chairman.

Treasurer is Davenport F. Davis, with Mrs. Alexander M. Clark working with Mrs. Davies as residential co-chairman.

Residential vice chairmen are Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker and Mrs. Lewis M. Foster.

E. Dean Duncan is business district chairman.

But these are only a few of the Winchester citizens who will be voluntarily giving their time and efforts for the people's Appeal.

A portion of the funds donated will be retained locally to serve the local needy, without red tape, regardless of race, creed or color.

A citizen's committee will administer the funds, spending each dollar immediately for such expenditures as medical and dental assistance, and providing food, clothing and fuel for the Winchester impoverished.

The remainder of Appeal funds will go into the Greater Boston fund to help support and maintain 30 Salvation Army neighborhood corps centers, departments and institutions.

Among the institutions, benefiting Greater Boston residents, are the Evangeline Booth Home for unmarried mothers, the Booth Memorial Hospital, Camp Wonderland and the Missing Persons Bureau.

Winchester and 45 other cities and towns are included in this friendly Appeal, and The Salvation Army is asking only two-fifths of the funds required to support its agencies.

NARROWLY ESCAPED DROWNING

Brian McCormack, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. McCormack of Winchester place, had a narrow escape from drowning through the noon hour last Friday when he slipped and fell into Black Ball Pond at the Shore road bridge while watching some older boys fishing nearby.

The water is deep at that point and the little fellow was in imminent danger of drowning. His plight was seen by Mrs. Everett Kimball of Westley street, who was on her way to the center. Mrs. Kimball ran down Shore road crying for help and her cries were heard by William F. Oliver of Winchester place, a truck driver in the employ of the Town Highway department, who was eating his dinner at home.

"Red", as he is known to everyone around town, rushed from the house and got to the pond in time to plunge in and bring little Brian ashore. The child had gone down twice before his arrival.

Meanwhile the Police and fire department had been notified and the Police ambulance with siren shreiking wheeled through the center and down Shore road, followed by the aerial ladder truck of the Fire Department. The Fire Department's service truck, towing the life-saving boat, made a short cut from the rear of the Central Station through the vacant lot to the north of Cullen's Barn into Shore road.

Little Brian was taken to the office of Dr. Charles Rooney, who ordered his removal to the Winchester Hospital. Later in the day his father, widely known as a former football star at high school and the present proprietor of McCormack's Apothecary, told the Star that his small son was all right.

DR. CHIDLEY RETURNS TO PULPIT SUNDAY

Dr. Chidley returns to his pulpit Sunday, at the First Congregational Church, at 10:45. Dr. Chidley will begin a series of Fall sermons under the heading, "Accent on Living", and will preach on "If You Had Only One Wish". The dates and subjects of the other sermons are listed below.

September 18
"What is God Doing?"
September 25
Family Day at Church - "What Manner of Child?"
October 2
World Wide Communion Sunday - "Mysteries Around the Cross."
October 9
"Success Story"
October 16
Laymen's Sunday - Men's Club in charge of service
October 23
"Life, Labor, and Reward"
October 30
Forum Sunday - "Your Attitude is Everything."

BANE SCOTTISH GAMES WINNER

In the 96th Scottish Games held recently in Cambridge under the direction of the Boston Caledonian Club, Thomas R. Bane of Winchester won two first, two second, and one third place in the weight events.

Tom is a junior at Tufts where last May he was the recipient of the Scoboria Trophy presented annually to the athlete showing the greatest improvement.

GODDU — FALL

Couple Married at Asheville School, North Carolina

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Marshall Fall of Asheville School, North Carolina, and Mr. Robert Fenno Goddu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Goddu of 11 Marshall road, this town, took place on Wednesday, August 31, at Asheville School, the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David R. Fall. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Arthur Brooks in the Chapel at four-thirty. The music for the wedding was by Joseph Privette. Mr. Fall gave his daughter in marriage.

The couple were attended by Mrs. John Cheesborough, Jr., of Asheville and Mr. Everett Twombly of Winchester. Miss Susan Norris of Madison, Wis., Miss Trudy Brennan of Worcester, Mass., Miss Virginia Simmons, cousin of the bride, of Winnetka, Ill., and Miss Mimi Ambler and Miss Jane Morrison of Asheville were bridesmaids.

The ushers were Messrs. Robert Ganz of Cambridge, Mass., Frederick Harrington of Duxbury, Mass., and David Fall and Boyd Fall, brothers of the bride, of Asheville.

The bride wore a dress of white satin, made princess style with scalloped neckline and five-yard train. She wore a long veil of illusion over which was a short veil of rosepoint lace with rosepoint cap. Her bouquet was of glamellias and tuberoses with a center of white orchids. Mrs. Cheesborough wore a faille dress of navarre slate blue with low square neckline and bustle. Her velvet cloche matched her dress and she carried a bouquet of white dahlias. The bridesmaids' dresses and hats were similar to the matron of honor.

A reception followed the ceremony at Memorial Hall, Asheville School, the parents of the bride and groom assisting. Mrs. Fall's dress was of beige faille with brown hat and a corsage of brown orchids. Mrs. Goddu wore pale rose crepe with hat to match and a corsage of white glamellias. Decorations at the reception were effective with gladiolas, asters and chrysanthemums and huckleberry fern placed amid lighted tapers.

The couple are now enjoying a wedding trip to Bermuda. Mrs. Goddu is a graduate of Chatham Hall, Va., and will graduate from Radcliffe College in February. Mr. Goddu is a Harvard graduate and is working for his Ph.D. at M. I. T.

They will make their home on Hillside avenue, Winchester.

DREW — RUSSELL

White gladioli, dahlias and asters decorated The Music Hall in Winchester last Saturday afternoon for the marriage of Miss Jane Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Russell of Manchester road, to Mr. Donald Brightman Drew, son of Mrs. Alfred W. Drew of Wedgemere avenue, and the late Mr. Drew. The four o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Paul Harmon Chapman of the Unitarian Church in Winchester.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white slipper satin gown with sheer yoke, fitted bodice and full train. Her full length veil was caught to a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis. Miss Phyllis Russell, her sister's maid of honor, wore an aqua gown with satin bodice and tulle skirt. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Jean Browning, were a similar gown of orchid. Both attendants carried bouquets of yellow daisy chrysanthemums with matching headdresses.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Russell wore a dusty pink gown with matching tulle hat and a corsage of rubrum lilies. Mrs. Drew, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in pale blue crepe, with pink hat and corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mr. Richard L. Drew of Campello was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Mr. Philip W. Drew, brother of the groom, Mr. Charles W. Blanchard, Mr. Robert L. Nichols of Medford, and Mr. Courtney A. Crandall of Arlington.

After the reception at The Music Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Drew left on a wedding trip to Cape Cod.

BOSTON EDISON COOKING SCHOOL

"Cooking can be an outlet for creative ability," says Emma Maurice Tighe, Boston Edison Home Economist. Deploring the attitude that cooking is a bore or a chore, Miss Tighe insists that cooking, like dancing, painting, writing or piano-playing, can and should be a method of expression for the housewife.

"The woman who puts as little imagination into preparing a meal as she does into boiling a pot of water is missing," says Miss Tighe, "not only a lot of fun but also the chance to do something creative in a culinary way."

Proof of the pudding, this pudding at any rate, will be attempted by Miss Tighe during the cooking school to be presented by the Boston Edison Company at John Hancock Hall next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Along with the opportunity to win numerous door prizes and a grand prize of a Hotpoint Pushbutton Electric Range, those attending the cooking school will see popular Miss Emma Maurice Tighe demonstrating the finer points of electric cooking, maybe artistically, maybe creatively, certainly educationally.

Tickets to the cooking school are free and are obtainable at any of the Boston Edison Shops.

DR. PADELFORD ON TRIP

Dr. Norman J. Padelford is enjoying a six weeks' trip to England and the Scandinavian countries on behalf of a proposed summer study project of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. Padelford, professor of International Relations at the Institute, sailed on August 12 and spent two weeks in London, Oxford and Cambridge, seeing university authorities, M. I. T. alumni and various government and business representatives. Then he flew to Stockholm to spend a week in Stockholm and Oslo before returning to London. Letters from Stockholm are most enthusiastic about the city, the Royal Institute of Technology, and conditions there. He will return to Winchester in time for the opening of the Institute.

LIBRARY HOURS

The Public Library will resume its winter schedule of hours beginning next week, September 12 as follows:

ADULT DEPARTMENT - Open Monday through Friday 10 A. M. to 9 P. M.
Saturday 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.
CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT - Open daily 10 A. M. to 6 P. M.
All departments will be closed Sundays and holidays.

The library will be closed this week Saturday on the summer

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Katharine Sergeant White, Editor
Born: September 17, 1892 at Winchester, Mass.

Katharine Sergeant White is ranked s one of the outstanding personalities in the field of magazine publishing. The daughter of Charles S. and Elizabeth B. (Shepley) Sergeant, she was a student at the Windsor School and subsequently attended Bryn Mawr College, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1914.

With the exception of the early years of her career, during which she served as executive secretary of the Consumers' League of Ohio, Mrs. White's professional activities have been confined to the New Yorker magazine. Starting as a member of its staff in 1925, she was given assignments of steadily increasing importance and, since 1943, has been an editor of the publication. In this connection, it should be noted that her duties have included the purchasing of fiction and poetry, and it is primarily in this capacity that she has received widespread recognition. Furthermore, she is the author of numerous articles and reviews of children's books, and was co-editor, with her husband, of "A Subtreasury of American Humor", published in 1941.

Mrs. White has been married twice - - to Ernest Angell and to Elwyn Brooks White - - is the mother of three children, and maintains homes in New York and North Brooklin, Maine. Incidentally, Mr. White is a well known writer whose works include "Every Day is Saturday," 1934. "The Fox of Peapack", 1934; and "One Man's Meat", 1942.

Hackett and Miss Aura E. Kepler, Supervisors of Public Health Nursing from the Massachusetts State Department of Public Health. Arlington was represented by Miss Caroline A. Fandel and Miss Ethel M. Fisher; Medford by Mrs. Anselma H. B. Binding, Miss Lucy A. Barker, and Miss Mary B. Kidd; Reading by Mrs. Madeleine VanValkenburg, Mrs. Vivian C. Lander, Miss Mary A. Teixeira, and Mrs. Mermet V. Dykens; Wakefield by Miss Katherine T. O'Grady and Miss Kathleen Loubris; Wilmington by Miss Anna Butters and Miss Esther H. Nichols; Winchester by Mrs. Henry E. Moffette, Mrs. Jane H. Lord, Miss Alice Petersen, and Miss Hilda Hope, and Woburn by Miss Eleanor Burke. Hostesses were Mrs. Angeline O'Leary, Miss Esther Lynch, Miss Mildred Bagley, Miss Ella Dailey and five staff nurses. On behalf of the Board of Directors of Winchester Hospital, Mrs. Edward H. Kenerson and Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux presided at the tea table, and the arrangements for the refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Edward A. Morrison with the help of Miss Marguerite Poore, Hospital Dietitian. A half-hour of formal discussion preceded the tea hour, with resulting progress toward closer cooperation between Winchester Hospital and the Visiting and District Nurses throughout the Hospital's service area.

WINCHESTER LODGE NEWS

The annual Banquet of the Winchester Lodges will be held on October 12 as in the past. Plans are progressing rapidly to make the banquet this year one that will be long remembered.

The annual banquet has been the outstanding event of both the Ladies' and Men's Lodges for many years. Since the beginning of the Winchester Lodges this event has taken place every year even during the war.

During the war when many members of the lodge were away the Columbus Day banquet was held in a small way, by either a small banquet or a gathering of whatever members could attend to observe the day.

The Degree Team of the Lodge and its committee is working hard rehearsing and completing plans for its trip to Atlantic City, N. J., where they will install the Supreme officers of the Supreme Lodge on Sunday, October 2, 1949.

On September 24 the committee is running a Cabaret Dance in the Waterfield Hall. The music will be furnished by the Black and White Orchestra of Beverly.

The committee went to considerable trouble to obtain this orchestra of seven men as they are in demand on the North Shore. This orchestra performed recently in Winchester for this committee and it was the opinion of all those present that this band is in a class by itself.

If you want to have yourself a good time see any members of the Degree team for tickets. The members of the degree team are:

Angelo P. Tofure, Dominick Provinzano, Cosimo Simonetta, Albert Tibaudo, Dr. A. L. Maietta, Frank Procopio, Dominick Molea, Carmine Frongillo, Antonio Saraco, Anthony Ficociello, Eugene Rotundi, Sam Tibaudo, Frank Penta, Nicholas Ronzio, Angelo Amico, Americo Fiore, Ralph Cefali, Frank A. Dattilo, Frank Faietta, Antonio Jacobellis and Ven. James Violante.

There will be a meeting of the A. C. A. on Monday, September 12, 1949 for the annual election of officers. Many other matters of importance will be taken up. Remember, every member can attend.

The coming Salvation Army Drive opens next Monday night with a dinner at the Boston City Club. Winchester officials conducting the local phase of the drive will attend in a group.

Winchester BOY SCOUT News

TROOP 3

Council Fire will be held Monday night, September 12th. Yes, we're going to spend the evening out at our camp site. It's wild and beautiful in the Birch Ravine, but we love it that way and know you will too. If you are eleven years old or older and like good clean wholesome adventure in the wilds, join us at the First Congregational Church at 7:00 sharp and we'll supply transportation. Old Scouters who know their way be sure to be at the Birch Ravine by 7:30.

Our last get-together was at the Birch Ravine in June. We had a grand Wienie Roast. Five Cubs, Burtie Kneeland, Terry Stowe, Dickie Gaffney, Peter Bramhall and John Cotton cooked for the men and you know they didn't do a bad job at all. You would almost think they were seasoned Scouts.

We had some mighty fine reports from the Patrols on their week-end activities. The Hawk Patrol who under Bill Johnson's leadership won the Patrol Contest reported on their award trip to Mt. Washington. It was a fine trip in the Cullen's Jeep. The only trouble was going up and down Mt. Washington in a single day did not give us time enough for all the exploring we wanted, but two nights out were fun and the mountain was beautiful.

You should have seen those AMC Hut Men with their pack racks loaded bounding down the cone from the summit. It was really a sight, 120 lbs. one man weighed in at the Lakes of the Clouds Hut while we were there. On top there was still a lot of ice in the cellar of the Summit House. The Railroad was running and the Engineer let us up into the cab. The men at the weather bureau also let us look around a little and supplied refreshments. Mr. Burrows said people can travel as fast as the train. We tried it but the train left us way behind. Anyway, if we had kept up we would have missed that view down into the Great Gulf. If you haven't seen it it's worth the climb just to look into that wild bowl. Mr. Burrows also told us the Jewell Trail was so smooth you could almost ride a bike down it. Did they make bikes differently when he was a boy? Mr. Cullen is one grand man to have along on a trip! We're not telling how he got the Hot Dogs cooked.

The Eagles reported on their trip to Plum Island. It was a real exploration. We had the whole area to ourselves except for the birds - birds, that's right, they were everywhere song birds, shore birds and water birds. We birds who went along are the ones though who can really sing about that trip by car and Mr. Snow's boat. Can you imagine camping out on a deserted section of an Island?

The Boothbay Gormets reported on the Beaver Patrols trip to Mr. Whitten's summer home. We all ate so much that we even felt full. All meals were as hearty as Thanksgiving Dinner and we did them justice. No, we're not a Sea Scout unit but we also had a wonderful boat ride for four hours of cruising around Boothbay Harbor. We all are going to have summer homes at Boothbay, but the real fight is over which one of us can have meals like those at the Whittens.

What happened to the Panther Patrol? Well you see it is this way. There just wasn't any more transportation in Winchester so we dispersed for the week-end and joined up with the other patrols. You notice it was our leader, Sammy Rocray, who made the report for the Beaver Patrol. He just naturally took it over for the week-end. If you know of any Dads or good scouts who can supply occasional transportation let us know. We have five trips planned for this year and though we want to climb Mt. Everest we will settle for more nearby exploration.

Poor Johnnie Merrit had to read a letter he received from Scout Headquarters. It was the announcement of his free week at Camp Fellsland won by selling over 200 tickets to the Scout Exposition. We are looking forward to hearing how he made out at Camp. He also got the original drawing of one of the Mark Trail comics. He won second prize in the contest. We saw the original Buzzie Bird received for 1st prize. They're much clearer and bigger than those in the paper.

Mr. Burrows says he has the result of the Camporee to announce at Birch Ravine Monday night. Both the Panther Patrol and the Hawk Patrol think they know how they made out and are already making plans for displaying those Blue Ribbons. Hope they won't be disappointed. See you Monday night at Birch Ravine and bring along a friend or two. Don't forget your Dad. We're looking for some good Tenderfoot material for none of us will be Tenderfeet by November. Remember both eleven and twelve year old fellows can become Scouts now.

LIBRARY PARK

The resurfacing and renovating of old Library Park in Woburn brings back memories to those who played or watched baseball games there prior to and immediately after World War I. Many a red-hot Winchester-Woburn high school and semi-pro baseball game has been played on the battle-scarred surface of Library Park and the infield there, though of the skin variety was very fast and smooth. In the days when the late George LeDuc and Jim Murray were managing Winchester-Woburn semi-pro ball huge throngs saw the pitchers battles at Library Park between Winchester's Ray Tift and "Doc" McMahon of Woburn. That was the hey-day of local semi-pro ball, now alas gone with the dodo. It's good to know the old field is being put in shape again. The ghosts of star ball players of yesteryear will hover over the old battlefield and probably wonder why the youth of the city is playing soft ball now instead of the old line national game of baseball!

CHARLES ROCHE, JR.
Harvard Halfback

WINCHESTER BOYS ON HARVARD GRID SQUAD

Three Winchester boys, Charles D. Roche, Jr., John D. West, Jr., and Charles S. Walsh, Jr., are among the candidates for backfield positions on the Harvard varsity football team this year. All are former Winchester High School gridiron stars, Walsh captaining the '44 eleven and West, the State Class C championship team two years later.

All three boys were members of the '44 team, though West, then a sophomore, played little that year. Jolting Sammy Tibaudo as a junior was having a great year at fullback in '44 and the burly West had to be content with a second string role that year. He was regular fullback the next two years and with his admitted speed and 200 pounds was probably the best straight bucker Winchester ever had.

"Chucker" Roche, a two year veteran of Harvard football and a regular tailback at Cambridge last year, filled the left halfback post on Walsh's great team at high school, being outstanding both on offense and defense. He is definitely a player on whom the Crimson coaches are counting this year, punting and passing as well as running for a true triple threat. He has also played on the Harvard baseball team.

Sarto Walsh was quarterback on his team in high school and afterward played in the backfield at Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., being at that time headed for Yale. After service with the Army in China he decided on Harvard and last year was a regular in the Crimson freshman backfield, playing left halfback and catching for the nine.

In a conversation with Coach Knowlton, who handled all three boys in high school, Coach Valpey of Harvard, himself a resident of Winchester, learned that Walsh had been an effective blocking back and quarterback at high school, and subsequently decided to try out the former Winchester captain in this important slot.

West played right halfback, (the bucking slot), on the Harvard freshman team of two years ago, and his work during the following spring practice caused the Crimson coaches to count on him as starting fullback last year. The books, however, threw Big Jawn for a loss and he was unable to play in '48. With his conditions removed and his 196 pounds of brawn, West ought to be valuable at Cambridge this fall.

Fire at the Town Yard caused an alarm from box 41 Tuesday morning when a tar truck ignited as the tar was being heated. The firemen responded promptly to the alarm and beyond damage to the truck wheels and under-body, no serious consequences resulted.

STAY-AT-HOMES ENJOY GALA HOLIDAY WEEK-END AT WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB

Once again, the gang that refused to buck the terrific traffic, crowds and dangers of "going away" over the Labor Day week-end, spent a perfect three days at the Winchester Boat Club. Ideal weather, plus perfect swimming conditions, plus swell sailing weather all topped off by the Holiday evening Clam Bake and Dance, added up to a wonderful week-end.

As usual, the Clam Bake was the final and feature attraction, and as usual, the clams, lobsters, and all the fixin's were prepared to the queens taste by the kings of the club's chefs. The food vanished quicker than a mink coat in a bargain basement and after the feast, the feasters and perhaps forty or fifty additional club members and their guests, enjoyed dancing to Mr. Marshall's smooth orchestra. Truly an evening to remember.

Fleet Facts

After three years of trying, the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet finally won back the inter-club trophy from the Medford Comet Sailors. And they did it the hard way - in the Medford sailors' own boats!

Last Sunday afternoon Jack Streeton, Ken Cook, Al Litchfield, John Powers and Carl Freyer went down to Medford and took on the best of Medford's skippers. And after two thrilling two lap races, wound up winners by a slim two-point margin. Good work, boys!

Mal Moller skippered his "JAM" II to a very important victory over the Winchester Boat Club Snipe move into third place in the Fleet last Monday morning, to move into third place in the Fleet standing, only a single point behind Ken Cook and Jack Streeton.

Talk about the closeness of the American League baseball race — here are Jack, Ken and Mal virtually tied with but four races to go. Technically Jack is in first place with a score of 1619 2 5, Ken is second with 1619 1 5 and Mal third at 1618 ¾, but a win next race will put any one of the three in first place. If you want to see some really thrilling races with all the chips on the table, better plan to be on or along the shores of the merry Mystic the next two week-ends.

Lawn Care THE REG

Fix up your lawn NOW

Enjoy a nicer turf this fall and next year.

1. Weeds Bad? Get rid of them by easy application of Scotts WEED & FEED.
2. If broad-leaved weeds are no problem, skip step one, apply TURF BUILDER @ 10 lbs. per 1,000 square feet.
3. Sow Scotts Lawn Seed at 2 to 3 pounds per 1,000 square feet.
4. Cut lawn regularly. If clippings are heavy, catch or rake up clippings to prevent smothering young grass.
5. If possible, keep lawn moist to hasten germination and seedling growth.

That's all . . . cost with Scotts Lawn Care Products is modest—between $3 and $4 per thousand sq. ft. Do job in a jiffy with a Scotts Spreader — rent one or own one at small investment.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUT BUILDING FUND
573 Main Street, Winchester

Editor of the Star:
A report of progress: To those who have contributed - thanks a million!

To those who are about to contribute - a gentle nudge!

We have come a long way since we wrote you last May about our plans for a Year-Round Center for Winchester Girl Scouts in the Fells off South Border road. Then we had only a permit from the MDC for the free use of this beautifully wooded site with its acres of trails for nature hikes, bird walks, skiing, its huge playfield for archery, softball, parades and pageants—and a faith in the future.

That faith has been partially fulfilled by the gifts of almost 500 people totalling $7,600. Of this amount we've spent the better part of $2,500 to run town water and sewer 360 feet to the site—a permanent and foolproof safeguard well worth the money. Our former cabin, too small for our growing Scout population of over 500, was sold for $900 for use by VFW.

The Girl Scouts themselves have done a heart-warming job of raising money: Suzie sold seashells (6c), Ellen picked blueberries ($1), Mary cleaned house (25c), Jean's baby-sitting (80c); one troop sold fat ($7), another made and sold fudge ($12). It's a big effort—but a small total.

Now the Rotary Club has made this the bang-up community wide project that it should be by offering their personal labor for the actual construction. However, with our bank balance at $5,500, we must have another $4,000 to cover the cost of materials, machines, equipment, and specialized labor before there will be any nails to pound. Watch the Star for details.

Bill Davies' excellent plans show ample cooking facilities both inside and out for small and large groups. The Office is really the combined Staff Room and Health Unit. The main room, insulated and heated for winter use, will house a good leisure time library, games, crafts, and plenty of room for dancing and theatricals. The balcony will sleep twenty girls for overnights, weekends, and weekday summer camping.

We have no alumnae association. We rightly depend on the understanding support of Winchester citizens like you to make these far-sighted plans come true for your Winchester girls (more than half of them are Scouts, you know). Our only income is our allotment from the Community Fund for minimum operating costs. Therefore we must meet the entire cost of the building and equipment in this drive—our only one in twenty years.

The Community Fund has reasonably asked us to complete this campaign by September. Let's finish the job now. Ask your neighbor—tell your friends. "Buy a log today." Send your contribution to James B. Willing, Treasurer, 16 Ledyard road, Winchester.

With sincere appreciation.
Olive K. Miller, Chairman
August, 1949

CORRECT PHONE NUMBER

Editor of the Star:
Considerable confusion has resulted from an article in the STAR of September 2, in which it was requested that my home address and telephone number be deleted from the Winchester Guide. The article was apparently submitted to the paper by the editor of the Guide in order to correct a mistake in my home telephone number. Under the Classified Section of the Guide the number was recorded as WInchester 6-2019 instead of WInchester 6-3019.

I should greatly appreciate your calling this matter to the attention of your readers.

Yours sincerely,
Gustav G. Kaufmann, M. D.

THIS IS ONE WAY TO REDUCE THE TAXES

Bath, Pa. (AP)—Tax Assessor Alex McRiel said he was fed up with job—"it wasn't worth it." So he slashed $419,000 from East Allen Township tax rolls, wrote out his resignation, sent it to the Northampton County Board of Commissioners and went home.

The harried assessor said he found himself caught in a squeeze between township taxpayers, who are his friends and neighbors, and the State Board of Tax Equalization.

Last year's assessment roll for the township was $1,166,000. The state board found the actual value of the assessed property was $5,600,000. This made East Allen's ratio between real and assessed value the lowest in the county.

The state board ordered McReil to increase the assessment total to 30 per cent of the real value. McRiel complied. Everyone's assessment was raised.

A storm of protests followed McReil's action.

"It got so that I couldn't step outside my house without being grabbed by somebody who wanted to tell me what he thought of me doing a thing like that. Even my friends were against me," he said.

For the $7 a day fee he received for days actually worked, "it wasn't worth it," McReil added.

HOME FROM MAINE

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. MacDonald, their son Alastair and daughter Harris, of 37 Wedgemere avenue, returned on Labor Day from their summer home on Chebeague Island, Casco Bay, Maine. During the summer the family spent some time in Quebec City, on the Gaspe Peninsula and in New Brunswick. While on Chebeague Island, Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald entertained Miss Dorothy Brandt and Miss Martha Whiting from Winchester; also Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. James, Miss Catherine James, Miss Lucile Symmes and Miss Hollie James and her fiance, Mr. William Williams. Harris will enter the Junior Class of Winchester High School this week, and on September 13th, Alastair will return to Vermont Academy, Saxtons River, Vermont.

Lester G. Whittaker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester G. Whittaker has returned to his home on Cottage avenue after spending the months of July and August at Camp Medomic in Washington, Maine.

INCREASE IN GRADE SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

Winchester's public schools opened on Wednesday with ninety two more pupils enrolled in the first six grades and kindergarten than were present on opening day last year.

By Monday, September 13, a year ago, enrollment of elementary school pupils had increased by sixty-eight. A similar number of late registrants this year will increase the total grade school enrollment by at least one hundred and fifty over 1948-1949.

The return to Winchester schools of several youngsters who have been attending out-of-town schools was especially apparent at the new Parkhurst school. Already one classroom there has an enrollment exceeding the standard set by the Committee.

High school enrollment figures disclose sixteen fewer pupils than in 1948; Junior High School enrollment shows a decrease of twenty-six. Late registrants will likewise cause a revision of these figures upward.

Distribution of high school pupils is as follows:

Grade 9	212
Grade 10	218
Grade 11	138
Grade 12	140

Enrollment by schools was as follows:

	1949 Sept. 7	1948 Sept. 8
High School	710	726
Jr. High School	342	368
Lincoln	222	200
Mystic	247	224
Noonan	208	199
Parkhurst	162
Washington	234	219
Wyman	327	466
Total	2452	2402

GRID TEAM SCRIMMAGES

Sixty-five uniformed candidates reported to Coach Henry Knowlton last Wednesday afternoon as the squad played host to the visiting Concord High School team at Manchester Field. The highlight of the afternoon was a spirited scrimmage between the contenders for Class B and Class C honors respectively.

Captain Paul Amico, only remaining player who started games in 1948, teamed with Pete Gilberto, Dan Devlin, John Richmond, Paul McGowan, Jost Michelsen, Bob O'Brien, Bill Maggio, and several other backs to get a first taste of strong opposition. In the line were Tony Cirurso, John Caputo, Sandy Burbank, Dave Hutchins, Bob Mason, Walt Murphy, Sanford Stevenson, Dom Suppa, John Shields, and others who have had considerable game experience and are leading contenders for this year's rushline.

Commenting on his squad, Coach Knowlton pointed out that some forty freshmen are soon to report to their coach Carl Reed, thus bringing the total players to something over one hundred.

Knowlton praised his coaching staff composed of Ted Bartlett, Carl Reed, and Andy Lentini. No newcomer to Winchester football, Lentini brings a wealth of experience as player and coach to his large squad of line candidates.

Knowlton also praised the spirit of this year's squad of which Captain Amico is the leader and hardest worker.

Opening game a week from tomorrow will be at Milton, against a team whose predecessors have always been up front in Class C competition.

On the strength of their showing against Concord after only a few days of practice, this year's team will deserve the support it is sure to have. Concord, showing the conditioning and timing wrought from spring practice and several weeks' training in the late summer, was able to open up its attack which will be used in its first game which comes this week.

The complete roster of sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors follows: Captain Paul Amico, Bernard Boyle, Harry Brown, Bouldin Burbank, John Caputo, Earle Carrier, Roland Carlson, James Casey, Anthony Cirurso, Herbert Clark, Frank Corby, John Ciarcia, Edward Cullen, Edward Crowley, Peter Coon, Dominic Cirignano, Dan Devlin, Henry Dellicker, Richard Errico, John Farrell, Seward Ferrera, Carl Fiorenza, Peter Gilberto, Victor Griffiths, George Haggerty, Robert Hicks, David Hutchins, Robert Johnson, Tom Joy, Dave Keniston, Prescott Keyes, Todd Kneeland, Frank Lentini, William Maggio, John Mangano, Robert Mason, Robert McElhinney, Tom McElhinney, Robert McLaughlin, Charles McLaughlin, Paul McGowan, Don McDavitt, Fred Mottolo, Frank Mooney, John Mooers, Jost Michelsen, Walter Murphy, Mike Nagle, Robert O'Brien, Michael Patterson, Henry Peluso, Robert Rand, Art Regan, John Richmond, Don Rizzo, Eugene Rotundi, Dudley Samoiloff, John Shields, Langdon Smith, Sanford Stevenson, Dominic Suppa, Stowell Symmes, Richard Treacy, James Walden, Robert Welch.
Managers: John Borden, Dave Fessenden, Tom Gallagher, Jack Mills, and Dave Matthell.

"SUBSTANCE" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, September 11.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit" (1 Corinthians 2:9, 10).
SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they? . . . Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? . . . But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:26, 31, 33). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"In divine Science, man is sustained by God, the divine Principle of being. The earth, at God's command, brings forth food for man's use. Knowing this, Jesus once said, "Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink," presuming not on the prerogative of his creator, but recognizing God, the Father and Mother of all, as able to feed and clothe man as He doth the lilies" (p. 530).

ERNEST G. BEATON DEAD

Ernest G. Beaton, husband of the late Minnie Smith Beaton of 9 Hill street, East Woburn, died Thursday, September 8, at his home after an illness of three months. For many years Mr. Beaton made his home on Oak street, this town. He was 71 years of age.

Mr. Beaton was the son of Hugh and Mary Campwell Beaton and was born in Gloucester. He was a machinist by trade and for many years worked for the Whitney Machine Company of this town, being employed there at the time the business was discontinued. For the past 20 years he had been associated with the Woburn Machine Company.

He was a charter member of Winchester Lodge of Elks and was at one time Captain of the Winchester Fire Department call men.

Mr. Beaton is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Tirrell, Mrs. Joseph Lisacki and Mrs. George Spinney, and two sons, George A. and James H. Beaton, all residing in Woburn. He leaves twelve grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, with solemn high mass of requiem at St. Joseph Church, East Woburn at nine. The interment will be in Calvary cemetery, Woburn.

INDOOR WRESTLING STARTS TUESDAY AT STONEHAM VFW

Indoor wrestling, so popular last fall and winter at the Stoneham VFW hall, will be resumed this coming Tuesday when top wrestlers in this section are brought to the ring for the entertainment of mat fans of this area. The bouts will be staged at the VFW hall in downtown Stoneham and will be held under the banner of the Stoneham Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The main bout next Tuesday night will feature Roland Meeker of Shrevesport, La., and Jackie Nichols from Richmond, Maine, both well known in the grunt and groan business in the East. Both boys have appeared hereabouts in the past and have thrilled fans with their performances inside the ring.

The semi-final of the night will see Tiger Tasker from Canada coming to grips with Bernie Bernard of Birmingham, Alabama. Tasker is well known to fans in this area and has displayed some top action in the past.

Featured in the special bout of the night will be Ivan Vatkuroff, known as the "Russian Giant," and Gary Ross from Montreal. Ross stands six feet, four inches in height and he will be someone to watch when he steps into the ring Tuesday.

The first bout of the night starts at 8:30 and a big crowd is due to be on hand for this first program of the fall and winter wrestling season for fans in this area.

BARTLETT SCHOOL RE-OPENED SEPTEMBER 7TH

The Bartlett School, 34 Bartlett avenue, Arlington reopened for the seventeenth season on Wednesday, September 7. Pupils four years old are eligible for kindergarten and those four and a half for Sub Primary. Pupils five years by October first are eligible for a test to enter Bartlett first grade. During the past sixteen years, many Winchester children have saved a year in school by attending Bartlett first grade where they have been fully prepared to pass successfully examinations for promotion into Winchester second grade. Many Winchester pupils have remained in the second and third grades. This year a fourth grade is being added. Small classes insure individual attention.

Norine D. Casey, Director, is a graduate of Boston Teachers' College with twenty-four years teaching experience. There are seven assistant instructors. Transportation is provided. Reasonable tuition. Winchester references available.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The world's biggest baby is the elephant's young, which weighs from 150 to 200 pounds at birth. The Indian and African species differ considerably. The larger African elephant, with its huge, floppy ears, has a hollowed out back, while that of the Indian variety is arched.

The 20th century began January 1, 1901, not 1900, as is often assumed, notes the National Geographic Society. This is true because the first century would have covered only 99 years if the 19th century ended on December 31, 1899.

Fish can be frozen in solid ice for long periods and still survive. Naturalists say they should thaw out gradually, however.

Hailstones are made of layers of compact snow and ice, formed about a central core like an onion, says the National Geographic Society. They are built up like this through the freezing of rain drops and successive gathering of coatings of snow and frost.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SCHOOL

Reopening Day at the First Congregational Church School will be September 25 at 9:30 a. m. for the Junior High pupils, and 10:45, for Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary, Junior, and Intermediate Departments.

The Church School Board of Directors will meet Wednesday, September 14, to complete plans for the reopening. On September 19, at 6:45 p. m., the entire staff will meet in the kindergarten room for a supper and instructions for the reopening of the school followed by the first session of the Teacher Training Institute especially for new teachers. Resource leaders are Dr. and Mrs. John L. Lobingier, Miss Irene Macaulay, Director of Religious Education of the Wellesley Hills Congregational Church, and Mrs. Warren T. Powell, well-known teacher, lecturer, and author.

Twenty-two Junior High and Forum representatives attended summer conferences at Wilbraham, Deering, N. H., Pine Woods, Mass., Camp Cowasset, and Camp Becket. They have all returned full of enthusiasm and ideas and inspiration for the coming season of the Senior Forum. Committees are already at work arranging for the reopening of Forum on October 2 with a supper, registration, candlelight service with installation of officers, and an inspirational address by Rev. Dwight Smith, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church in Boston.

RETURN FROM SEATTLE

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mason of 5 Lewis road, returned this week from a visit with their daughter, Jean Amy, a stewardess with United Air Lines, located in Seattle, Washington.

The trip was made by plane to Omaha where Mr. and Mrs. Mason joined Mr. and Mrs. Carol C. Mason of Kansas City. The party motored from Omaha to Seattle via Black Hills, South Dakota, Glacier National Park, Banff, Lake Louise and Yellowstone.

Mr. Carol C. Mason formerly resided in Winchester at 5 Sheffield road.

SMITH HOUSE DAMAGED BY FIRE

The residence of Lester F. Smith, 106 Ridge street, was damaged by fire on Monday evening shortly before six o'clock, a telephone alarm being sent in followed by an alarm from box 143. The blaze was caused by an oil burner in the kitchen. There was quite a lot of damage, the kitchen being burned and the house being smoked up.

What is my conception of my profession? What is yours? Is it big enough, and comprehensive enough to bring real progress? Do I see my true role and the true role of the public school? With an opportunity and a challenge like that, can I help being proud of the title —Teacher?

Another concept that I am concerned with is that of the American way of life. If I am to be a good teacher, I should have a good concept of what this means. What is my concept of the American way of life? Several ideas go to make this up.

The great American word is freedom, not license, not dictation, and as I see it, this word freedom implies a sense of duty, of responsibility, of achievement. It's a thing that has to be earned. It means freedom of thought, of speech, and of assembly. "Asserting the dignity of man, and of every man, America has proclaimed and protected the freedom to differ." Each man is supposed to think for himself. "Difference, disagreement, discussion decided by democratic processes are required to bring out the best in citizens." The idea of freedom is basic, but it is being misused, misinterpreted and misdirected. The schools must try to teach it as a thing to be won, not given.

In contrast to this idea of freedom is the idea of despotism. We don't like to hear that word, but it is a very real danger today. Despotism is the arbitrary and uncontrolled exercise of power over the lives of men. It is the controlling idea and belief of Fascists, Nazis, Falangists, as well as Communists. Perhaps we owe a debt of gratitude to Stalin and his cohorts for dramatizing and objectifying the dangers of despotism in a bigger and more vivid way than anyone else. The mentality which says it alone knows what is right and wise for people is the dictator mentality. It is to be feared and fought against bitterly; it is un-American in every sense of the word.

Freedom is basic in my concept of the American way of life.

Vision, foresight, recognition of trends and changes are characteristics of the American way. To hear some people talk, you would think the American way of life consisted of unanimous tribal self-adoration. We can brook no opposition. Today there are witch hunts, and un-American committees whose mottoes seem to be: "down with criticism, down with protests, down with unpopular opinions, down with independent thought." Toynbee in his Study of History gives as one of the causes for the defeat or death of a civilization the fact that a people becomes so obsessed in their worship of tradition, of a past accomplishment, of a technique that they remain blind to new conditions until they are on the brink of disaster. The only way to fight an idea is to have a better idea. You can't shoot it. If your idea isn't good in a crisis, it isn't any good.

The whole theory of our government is a theory of peaceful change. Many of the changes that Marx and Engels demand in the Communist Manifesto have taken place in this country and they have come without communism, without dictatorship, and without revolution. Some people seem to abhor the thought that they might be believing in something the communists do. Would we be so blind as to renounce everything on which we might find ourselves agreeing? The Communist Manifesto demands free education for all. Are we therefore, to recant and renounce the American doctrine of free education for all? Such an attitude of mind is a very serious threat to the ideals on which this government was founded.

What would the F. B. I. say of Thomas Jefferson, who in his First Inaugural said, "If there be any among us who wish to dissolve this union, or change its republican form, let them stand undisturbed, as monuments of the safety with which error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it?"

Whenever a nation becomes afraid of criticisms or comparisons, then it is really time to be afraid.

Vision and foresight, not suppression and medievalism, are important parts in my concept of the American way of life.

Former President Franklin Roosevelt dreamed of a nation of Freedoms. One of those was Freedom from Fear. But in my concept of the American Way, I would wish to include a certain kind of fear, and it is a very real fear. If we would keep this nation on its true course, we must keep alive a fear of stupidity, of injustice, of dictatorship, of being afraid of being unpopular. There are too many of us today not writing, talking, voting our honest convictions for fear of being unpopular, of being called intolerant, of being called un-American. Quite often stupidity and injustice are going unchallenged because no one dares to speak against them. Some of the methods being used today to persecute people into conformity are little better than the European purges and pogroms. Today we do not execute a man or throw him in jail because he is supposed to differ with the official dogma, but we do assassinate his character or throw him out of work.

A very real fear of stupidity, of injustice, of dictatorship is a part of my concept of the American way.

The dignity and worth of labor are basic to my concept also. Work is a very unpopular word anymore. Too often, public office is no longer considered a public trust, and the government is not only an employer to be exploited, but a munificent Santa Claus who has endless dollars to be squandered on counts and no-accounts at home, as well as abroad. The final contest in America may be one between declining ignorance and increasing appetite, even if there is intelligent and courageous participation by men and women of adequate education. The more powerful and inclusive government becomes, the larger the number of those who look to it for a living. Their greediness will outrun the rise in its revenues and will exhaust its resources unless education reaches the level where the necessity of restraint is realized. "Millions want to drink milk without feeding the cow."

Man has to work, and being unemployed has consequences far beyond those of a merely physical nature. Work is not only a means of procuring a livelihood; it is a mental and moral necessity. It saves one from the torture of uselessness, aloneness and boredom; it gives life regularity and order; it gives a feeling of dignity. "Work connects man with his neighbors, it incorporates him with objective and super-personal fellowships without forcing him to surrender his Self. Rather the individual Self is realized in that way. For only through spontaneous activity can he attach himself to abiding values; without work being possible all converse about human ethics and sympathy is just idle talk and a frivolity."

"If an unemployed person is asked whether he would give up our Bill of Rights for a decent job, he might choose the latter, though he would soon learn that there is no real satisfaction from work done in a slave atmosphere. No just society can expose a man to the crucial choice between work and the birthright of freedom; a society which does so is neither democratic nor free, even though it may pretend to be so."

Somehow and in some way, we in the schools must help restore the dignity and worth of labor.

Respect for property and the rights of others is an essential also. In recent years, the term of landlord has become almost an obscenity. Property, whether public or private, is nothing to be respected. The other fellow doesn't count. It is amazing and appall- to see how many of us have no regard for the little common courtesies, of how callous and careless we are concerning the rights and feelings of others. Whether it's the property of the railroad, the town, or the next door neighbor; whether it's an elderly stranger, a fellow worker, or a close relative, our pupils all too often show an utter lack of regard for the so-called homely virtues, and so do we adults. Quite often we sense a feeling of antagonism toward anything and everything. School and home must work together closely to try to restore these traits so essential to our American way of life.

Respect for property and the rights of others is very important in my concept.

Two basic concepts. One concerns me and my work; the other is the society in which I find myself. It is my hope that, as we start another year, each and all of us will be on strong ground and as we go forth to teach may it be our goal to emulate figuratively, the Master Teacher, who was able:

To make the blind to see;
and the lame to walk;
and the deaf to hear.

WINCHESTER'S OLD HAND TUB IN DEMONSTRATION

We are indebted to Mrs. George H. Hamilton of this town for the following extract from the Wilton (N. H.) Journal of August 25. It is of interest to us here in Winchester through historical sentiment. The Journal, in its account of the "Old Home Week" at Wilton, gives an interesting account of the firemen's demonstration, and has this to say:

"The demonstration of the Old Excelsior was then given by the fire department. The firemen claim this would have been better if they had had a well or cistern to have pumped from. Old Excelsior is one of our oldest relics of the town and many people feel that it should always be preserved in memory of the many firemen who have set such a fine example for the younger generation. Old Excelsior was built in 1851 originally for the City of Winchester, Mass. Wilton purchased it around 1870.

"Engine Company No. 1 for the Old Excelsior was organized in 1873. This past week a Mr. Reed of South Weymouth, Mass., who is a collector of old hand tubs and old firemen relics, found a badge of wilton's which was borne in some old muster. He sent it to Warren Foster, who in turn passed it over to Michael Shea, who was one of the members of the old Excelsior company. Michael Shea has presented it to the fire department to be put in the glass case with the old trumpet."

FINE NEW RESTAURANT

Winchester residents will be interested in the opening of the new Cadillac Restaurant at Davis Square, Somerville. This fine new restaurant will open next Thursday, September 15th. It will be the finest restaurant north of Boston and will contain every appointment found in the finest city night clubs. Situated at 214 Elm street, Davis Square, it is within easy driving distance from Winchester. The dining room and cocktail lounge has a seating capacity of 225. Only the finest foods will be served, prepared by experienced chefs.

Holland of 12 Hancock street, and Mr. Charles Lawton Haggerty, son of Mrs. James Haggerty of 161 Swanton street was solemnized at St. Mary's rectory on Sunday, September 4, at three o'clock, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, rector of the church, performing the ceremony.

The couple were attended by Mrs. Albert E. Walker, the bride's sister, and Mr. John P. Cassidy, both of Winchester. The ceremony was attended by immediate members of the two families.

The bride wore a gold satin suit with brown accessories and carried a nosegay of white and gold chrysanthemums. The matron of honor wore a steel blue satin suit with brown accessories and carried a nosegay of pink and blue chrysanthemums. The mother of the bride wore peacock blue with gold accessories and a corsage of gardenias. The mother of the groom was dressed in a grey silk print with black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses.

A reception followed the wedding, being held at the home of the bride's mother on Hancock street. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. The residence was decorated with white gladioli and there was a large attendance of friends.

They will make their future home at 730 Main street, Winchester.

REPORT OF HIGH AND JUNIOR HIGH BUILDING COMMITTEE

By vote of the last Winchester Town Meeting, there was established the High School and Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee.

"The duty of the Committee shall be to consider in the light of present and future public building needs of the Town, the necessity, desirability and feasibility of:

1. Enlarging the Junior High School Building.
2. Enlarging and modernizing the High School Building.
3. Combining, jointly using and enlarging the facilities of said buildings.
4. Providing an auditorium and cafeteria building.
5. Constructing a new new High School Building in another location.
6. Locations available for a new High School Building.

"And in general to consider what and by what practical means increased and improved accommodations and facilities may be provided for the pupils of the seventh to twelfth grades inclusive for educational purposes."

This Committee feels that the Town is entitled to an interim or progress report, and the following is accordingly submitted:

The Committee consists of Rachel T. Kimball, Chairman; Ruth Higgins, Secretary; Howard R. Bartlett, William W. Davies, Robert J. Fletcher, Charles H. Gallagher, Charles E. Jellison and Leslie A. Tucker, and has been meeting bi-monthly since its organization in May. Inspections of the present Senior and Junior High School facilities have been made and discussions have been held with Superintendent Norris and other school officials. Figures have been compiled, sites considered, and several preliminary studies made. It is expected that in due course an architect will be engaged for consultation and the preparation of plans.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB PICNIC

The Wednesday Night Club of the First Congregational Church will open the new season with an old fashioned picnic on Saturday, September 24th. Kim Archibald is handling over-all arrangements for the event which will be held at Sheep Fold picnic grounds in the Fells at Chandler road and Route 28 opposite Spot Pond.

Members and their friends are urged to be on hand at four o'clock to take part in soft ball, horse shoes, and other games. The recreation committee, headed by Milne Blanchard and Howard Wittet, promises that there will be enough different activities to be fun for all.

By 5:30 everyone should be ready to dig into the picnic supper provided by Pat Archibald and her food committee. After supper there will be some community singing for those who like to sing. At 8:00 the group will come back to the Church for a square-dancing session.

Members and friends are invited to attend all or any part of the day's activities. Reservations may be made by calling WInchester 6-1548-W or 1233-M. Anyone needing transportation should call Larry Cooper at WInchester 6-2571-W.

New officers elected last May for the coming season are Ed Robinson, president; Marjorie Dyer, vice-president; Emily Lewis, secretary; and Larry Pexton, Treasurer.

MISS JEANNE MUZZEY WED TO ENSIGN EATON

In the Church of the Epiphany, Winchester, Saturday, Miss Jeanne Louise Muzzey of Medford, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Muzzey, became the bride of Ensign William Tapley Eaton, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Eaton of Winchester. The Rev. Dwight W. Hadley officiated at the ceremony and a reception followed at the home of the bridegroom's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shurtliff Eaton of Winchester.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Norman C. Muzzey of Medford, and had as her only attendant Miss Joyce Kingston Bush of Somerville. Mr. John Sterling Eaton of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Ensign Douglas B. Guthe, USN, of Pawling, N. Y., and Msdn. Joseph K. Stanley, USN, of Cambridge.

The bride attended Nasson College and was graduated from the Garland School. The bridegroom was graduated from Tabor Academy and in June from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He is now serving aboard the USS Henley, based at Norfolk, Va., where they will make their home after October 1.

V. F. W. AUXILIARY TO SPONSOR DANCE

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary are sponsoring a dance on Friday evening, September 23, in Waterfield Hall. Gilgun's Orchestra, well known around here, will play for the dance.

Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald is chairman of the affair and will turn the proceeds over to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Building Fund.

SECOND DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Breton (Jane Kimball) of 9 Webster street announce the birth of a second daughter, Joyce Ellen, on Sunday, September 11, at the Symmes Arlington Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball of Cabot street and Mr. and Mrs. James Breton of Portland, Me.

HERBERT T. WEST

Well Known Resident Died Friday

Herbert Thomas West, a well known resident of this town where he had resided for many years, died on Friday, September 9, at his home, 24 Mason street, after a long illness. He was 74 years of age.

Mr. West was born in Savannah, Ga., his parents being Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Minex West. He was educated in the South and throughout his entire life was associated with the rosin and turpentine industry, being located in Savannah, Jacksonville, St. Louis and abroad. In 1913 he established his own company, the West Company at 132 Library street, as manufacturing and distributing chemists of pinetree petroleum, derivatives and chemicals.

He was an ardent gardener and his Winchester grounds were always a source of interest to Winchester people with their beautiful flowers and arrangement. He was likewise interested in photography and many of his flower pictures have been used in illustration of books on horticulture. Several of his prints were selected for international exhibits.

Mr. West is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gretchen H. West, a native of Milwaukee, Wis., and one son,, Kenneth West, U. S. N., now on the staff of Admiral Blandy at Norfolk, Va.

Funeral services were private and were held in Cambridge at Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn on Monday, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church officiating. The interment was at Mt. Auburn.

WILLIAM F. KERRIGAN

William F. Kerrigan of 26 Westley street passed away at the Winchester Hospital on Sunday, September 11th after a brief illness.

For over 30 years Mr. Kerrigan worked for the Highway Department and for the past nine years was one of the caretakers at Wildwood cemetery.

He was born in Ireland 65 years ago, and lived in town for the past 40 years. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church.

He leaves his wife, Nora (O'Brien) Kerrigan; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Guy of Cambridge; a son, Neil C. Kerrigan of this town; two sisters, Mrs. Jeremiah McCarron of this town and Mrs. Thomas Marshall of Roxbury; a brother Daniel Kerrigan also of this town; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning, September 14th, with a solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Father Thomas F. Sennott was celebrant with Father John O'Neill as deacon and Father Patrick J. Kelley of East Woburn as sub-deacon.

The bearers were, John McCarron, Jeremiah McCarron, George McHale, Matthew Connolly, Neil Marshall and Anthony Concannon.

Interment was in Calvary cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father John O'Neill.

REV. JOHN J. SHEEHAN TRANSFERRED

Rev. John J. Sheehan, former curate at the Immaculate Conception Church, Winchester, has been named assistant at the Church of St. Mary of the Annunciation in Danvers. Fr. Sheehan served two years at the Immaculate Conception Church and left last spring to conduct the affairs at Camp Stella Maris in West Gloucester, a summer institution for boys and girls.

While in town his C. Y. O. work developed the drum and bugle corps and the girls' drill team of the Parish, which had won prizes in many archdiocesan competitions.

During World War II, Fr. Sheehan served as a Navy Chaplain and saw active service as a Lieutenant in the South Pacific.

MARY W. LINTON

Mrs. Mary W. Linton died September 14th, after a short illness, in Edgartown.

Mrs. Linton was the sister of Lewis L. Wadsworth of Wedgemere avenue, and made her home with him. She was the widow of J. Albert Linton of Montreal.

Funeral services will be held at Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn cemetery, Cambridge, at 11 o'clock Saturday, September 17th.

MRS. MICHELSEN TO SPEAK

The first meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society is to be held on September 22nd, at 2 o'clock, at the home of the President, Mrs. Jost J. Michelsen 8 Fairview terrace, Winchester.

The Auxiliary is fortunate to have as its first speaker, Mrs. Michelsen, who will tell us some of her experiences on her recent trip to Europe this past summer.

PROMOTIONS AT POSTOFFICE

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun announces the appointment of Edward J. Martin of the local office to the position of Assistant Postmaster. Mr. Martin has been with the office for 36 years. At the same time, Postmaster Gilgun announced the appointment of Dennis J. Collins to the position of Superintendent of Mails. Mr. Collins has 30 years of service at the local office.

RESERVED SEATS FOR SEASON TICKET HOLDERS

Faculty Manager G. Hartley Curtis has announced that seats will be reserved at all home games, including the Woburn game, for season ticket holders.

To be on sale soon at McCormack's, Hevey's, and Purtle's drug stores, the five dollar ticket will entitle the holder to a reserved seat at each of the five home games.

ARTHUR W. LOFTUS

Arthur W. Loftus, for thirty-two years a resident of Winchester, passed away Friday evening September 9th, at his home in Rangeley. Although critically ill in October of last year, he had been able to spend the summer months at his home in Hillsborough, New Hampshire from which he had returned the Thursday previous to his death.

Mr. Loftus was the son of Joseph D. and Frances (Knox) Loftus. He was born in Winthrop, Massachusetts on January 5, 1871. Shortly after his birth, the family moved to Chelsea, where Mr. Loftus was educated in the public schools. As a young man he joined the family firm of J. D. Loftus & Co., oil manufacturers in Chelsea, and at the death of his father he became its Junior Partner.

Shortly after his marriage he moved to Winchester, purchasing the home in Rangeley in 1918 from the Edwin Ginn estate. Due to ill health, Mr. Loftus was confined to his home for many years and although unable to take an active part in civic and social affairs, his interest in them remained always keen, and all who knew him were attracted by his quiet kindly personality and by his friendly humor.

Mr. Loftus is survived by his wife, Marguerite L. (Dolan), three daughters; Esther E. (Mrs. Philip C. Putnam) of Center Ossipee, N. H., Ruth L. and Mary Virginia of this town, and a brother, Joseph F. of Chelsea, and Hillsborough, N. H.

Funeral services were held at St. Mary's Church in Winchester at 10 a. m. on Monday, September 12th. The Mass was sung by Rev. Cornelius J. Hogan, and the pall bearers were Dr. Richard W. Sheehy and Mr. James A. Newman of Winchester; Mr. Edwin S. A. Benson of West Newton, and Mr. Charles F. Smith of New York. Interment was in the family lot at Glendale Cemetery, Everett, Massachusetts.

JOHN A. McLEAN

John Alexander McLean, 87, of 4 Kenwin road died at the Winchester Hospital, Friday, September 9th. Mr. McLean was a native of Prince Edward Island, Canada, and had lived for 44 years in Winchester Highlands.

He retired in 1937 after serving in the maintenance department of the Boston and Maine Railroad. He was a member of Crystal Fount Lodge of Odd Fellows of Woburn for 51 years and a former Deacon and Superintendent of the Sunday School of the Second Congregational Church of Winchester.

Mr. McLean was a widower and leaves one son, Frank W., two daughters, Mrs. George H. Morse and Mrs. Arthur A. Belville and one grandson, Kenneth T. Morse, all of this town. The services were held Sunday afternoon in the Second Congregational Church with the pastor Rev. Donald Maccallum officiating. Burial was in Wildwood cemetery.

CYNTHIA NEWTON IN MADEMOISELLE

Miss Cynthia Newton, daughter of Mrs. P. Stewart Newton of Prospect street, receives the following sketch in the September issue of "Mademoiselle" by Polly Weaver under the title "The Artist In Selling":

Cynthia Newton

Cynthia Newton transferred to Rhode Island School of Design from Bradford Junior College to specialize in typography and lettering. After earning her B. F. A. degree there she did her first freelance work for Houghton Mifflin in Boston; next, dollar-an-hour designing for an advertising artist. Now work comes to her as fast as she can take it. Cynthia spent her summer in Europe visiting typefounders and calligraphers.

CENSUS TAKER WANTED

Superintendent Forbes H. Norris of the Winchester public schools is eagerly awaiting applications for the position of Census Taker, held for many years by the late F. Percyval Lewis.

Work of the census taker should begin immediately and will continue for about two months. Salary is $350.00.

Applicants who can do methodical and accurate work are invited to apply to Dr. Norris at the Administration Building, 84 Washington street.

ATTENTION SWIMMERS!

All swimmers who won a medal at the local Red Cross meet, Leonard Beach, this year, please meet at the Town Hall Saturday, September 17th on the second floor, Park Department, between 10 and 11 o'clock, to receive medals.

UNIQUE PROGRAM FOR THE WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB ART GROUP

A most interesting course is in store for the College Club Art Group. It is called "Museum Treasures," and will give each one an opportunity to know intimately six outstanding Art Museums in this vicinity. Visits have been planned to the (1) Worcester Museum of Art, (2) the Addison Gallery at Andover, (3) the Fogg Museum in Cambridge, (4) the Museum of Contemporary Art in Boston, (5) the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, and (6) the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum.

Preceding each museum trip there will be a library study-group in which the particular museum will be studied, — its unique function, its educational facilities, its most valued possessions. Thus when the trip is made each member will have a background of appreciation and understanding.

The museum trips will come on the following dates:

Friday, October 21, the Worcester Museum, with Mrs. Kenneth Hall and Mrs. John Carr as chairmen.

Thursday, November 17, the Addison Gallery, Andover, with Mrs. Fred Abbe as chairman.

Friday, December 9, "In the Laboratory" at the Museum of Fine Arts. This unusual meeting is planned by the Museum as a very special favor to the Winchester College Club Art Group.

Friday, January 27, the Museum of Contemporary Art, with Mrs. Murray Moore as chairman. The one hundred winning Christmas paintings in the Hallmark international competition will be on view at this time, — fifty French and fifty American paintings.

Friday, February 24, the Fogg Museum in Cambridge, with Mrs. John Chipman as chairman. The current exhibitions here at this time will be one showing the "Madonna in Art," and also one exhibiting the work of Maholy-Nagy, the "modern" in architectural forms.

Friday, March 24, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, with Mrs. Langley Keyes as chairman. Oriental Art, in which this museum excels, will be the subject of study.

Thursday, April 27, at the Gardner Museum, the year's study will end with a musical and tea. Mrs. Adin Bailey is chairman of this meeting.

If you are interested in this exciting study of six museums you are invited to join the group, whether you are a member of the Winchester College Club or not.

For further information or enrollment please call one of the following members of the steering committee:

Mrs. J. L. Lobingier, chairman, WInchester 6-1407-W.
Mrs. Gerald Barrett, WInchester 6-1552-R.
Mrs. R. W. Wyman, WInchester 6-1209-M.
Mrs. Murray Moore, WInchester 6-1466.
Miss Katherine Masters, WInchester 6-1156-W.

DEDICATION OF PARKHURST SCHOOL SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 25

The Lewis Parkhurst School Mother's Association through its president, Mrs. Paul Nason of Oneida road, and the Winchester School Committee, through its secretary, Dr. Forbes H. Norris, have set two-thirty on Sunday afternoon, September 25 as the date for the formal dedication of the Parkhurst School.

Mrs. Nason will preside at a public gathering to be addressed by Mr. Daniel Barnard of the Building Committee, Mr. Philip Wadsworth, Town Moderator, Mr. William Speers, Chairman of the School Committee, and representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion who will present flags of the Commonwealth and of the Nation to the new school. Special invitations have been sent to the Parkhurst family.

Details of the dedication ceremony to which all Winchester residents are invited will be published in next week's Star.

AFTERNOON TEA

Mrs. John Wile entertained at a tea at her home, 5 Churchill road, on Tuesday of this week in honor of her mother, Mrs. Maude Mick of Buckhannon, West Virginia, who has been visiting here for the month of August but who returns Thursday to West Virginia Westleyan College where she is a member of the staff.

Those present were: Mrs. Fred Parks, Mrs. Arthur McGonagle, Mrs. Katherine Abbott, Mrs. Donald Abbott, Mrs. Frank Marshall, Mrs. Earle McCrea and her mother, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Carl Morton and her mother, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Richard Cronin, Mrs. Alvah Cross, Mrs. George Cross, Mrs. Henry Chase and Mrs. K. William Bartlett Cox.

A delightful tea and refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Chase.

MRS. ABRAHAMSON ENTERTAINS TEACHERS

Before delivering his annual address to the assembled teachers of Winchester's public schools at the Wyman School on September 6, Dr. Norris introduced Mrs. Mildred Abrahamson, teacher of Grade One at Wyman School, who sang "Song of the Open" by Frank La Forge, "Why Do I Love You?" by Jerome Kern, and as an encore "Matilda" by Liza Lehmann.

Mrs. Abrahamson then led the singing of teachers' favorite hit tunes of other years: Pack Up Your Troubles, Bicycle Built for Two, Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet, School Days, and America.

Miss Eleanor Anifantis, Director of vocal music was accompanist.

MRS. WINSLOW SMITH TO SPEAK TO JR. MRS. GUILD

The opening meeting of the Jr. Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church will be held Tuesday evening, September 20 at 7:45 p. m. in the Ladies Parlor.

Mrs. Winslow Smith (Eleanor Greene) of Winchester, a former member of the Guild will speak on "Highlights of the Vassar Summer Institute of Euthenics". Mrs. Smith attended this institute last summer, and together with other parents, social workers, and teachers, studied Family Relationships with particular emphasis on the problems as related to the mother. Those who heard Mrs. Smith speak on "Discipline" at the panel discussions at the Lincoln and Mystic schools will be happy to learn of an opportunity to hear her again, because she presented many problems confronting every mother and discussed solutions concisely and tersely.

Mrs. Smith is assistant Director of the Appointment Bureau at Radcliffe College. She is extremely interested in early childhood education and is the mother of young twins.

Mrs. David F. Choate, Jr., the new chairman of the Guild, cordially invites all interested women to come and spend a most worthwhile evening.

Social chairman Mrs. Charles Whitten and her committee will serve refreshments.

INSTALLATION OF WINCHESTER POST NO. 97, THE AMERICAN LEGION

On Saturday evening, September 24, 1949, the annual installation of the Officers of Winchester Post No. 97, the American Legion will be held at the Legion Home, 34 Vine street at 8 P. M.

The State Dept. Commander and all the State Officers will be present. The County Commander and all the County Officers will also be present.

The Installing Officer will be the newly-elected County Commander, Paul McGreenery of Belmont Post No. 165.

Commander Robert Murphy will be installed for the second year. This is the first time in many years that a Commander has been elected for a second term.

Mrs. Joseph McKee will be installed as the President of the Auxiliary of the Post. This will be second term of office for Mrs. McKee also.

Since this will be a Joint Installation of the Post a large crowd is anticipated. These installations are always one of the high-lights of the American Legion and the ceremony is one well-worth attending. All members of the Post, their wives and members of the Auxiliary are urged to set aside this date as a most enjoyable evening is in store for them.

STAFF AND KEY SOCIETY TO PRESENT OPERETTA

William S. Williams, of 15 Ridgefield road, recently elected president of the Winchester Staff and Key Society, has announced that the organization will present its annual musical production, a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, early in December.

The first rehearsal for the 1949 production will take place the first week in October at a time and place to be announced next week. L. Hassler Einzig, who directed last year's successful production of "The Pirates of Penzance," will coach the forthcoming performance.

Other newly elected officers of the Society are James Perrin, vice-president; Mary L. Allen, 71 Church street, secretary; George S. Hebb, Jr., 3 Stowell road, treasurer; Leonard H. Sherman, 56 Yale street, membership; Mrs. Hall Gamage, 64 Salisbury road, production; Dr. F. Milne Blanchard, 4 Dix street, music; George E. Connor, 403 Main street, publicity; Mrs. Robert B. TO PRESENT GILBERT & SULLIVAN'S H M S PINAFORE

Winchester High School Boys and Girls Glee clubs will present Gilbert and Sullivan's H. M. S. Pinafore in the High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, December 9 and 10th.

It will be under the direction of Miss Eleanor Anifantis, assisted by Thomas Morse of the faculty.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The first meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club will be held on Wednesday, September 21 at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John B. Wills, 238 Highland avenue.

There will be table settings with appropriate flower decorations arranged by some of the members, as a part of the program. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

WENDELL — RICHARDSON

Cymbodium ferns with white gladiolas and larkspur decorated the First Congregational Church on Saturday evening, September 10, for the marriage of Miss Dorothea Richardson, daughter of Senator and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson of Mt. Pleasant street, to Harlan Leonard Potts Wendell, son of Dr. and Mrs. James I. Wendell of the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony, assisted by Rev. Theodore E. C. Speers of New York City. J. Albert Wilson, church organist and choirmaster, played the bridal music.

Miss Richardson was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of pale ivory satin, fashioned with a high round neckline, a fitted bodice with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt terminating in a long train. Her full-length heirloom veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white orchids with bouvardia and stephanotis.

Mrs. Hector C. Petri of Geneva, N. Y., was matron of honor. She wore a blush satin dress with a bertha trimmed with a matching fold, and a matching hat. Her bouquet combined pink pom poms with Finch sweetheart roses.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Sherburne, Miss Ruth Allen, Miss Joyce Pitman, Miss Jane Coulson, all of Winchester, Miss Jane McKee of Wellesley Hills and Mrs. John A. Maynard of Winchester. They wore pale green satin dresses fashioned like that of the honor attendant and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of Pinocchio roses and Marguerites.

John P. Wendell of Warren, Pa., was best man for his brother, and another brother, Dr. James I. Wendell, Jr., of Pottstown, Pa., was a member of the usher corps, with Franklin T. Richardson of North Beverly and Harris S. Richardson, Jr., of Marblehead, brothers of the bride; Michael P. W. Stone of New York City; Walter H. Brown of Westfield, N. J.; Chadwick Johnson of Philadelphia, Pa.; James S. Lipscomb of Cambridge and John S. Crowley of Rochester, N. Y.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Music Hall, 55 Bacon street, with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Richardson, mother of the bride, was gowned in grey crepe, the bodice trimmed with matching sequins, and a corsage of purple orchids. Mrs. Wendell, the bridegroom's mother, wore white orchids with her gown of Navy blue lace over a full pleated skirt, and lace stole. Ken Reeves' Orchestra played for the reception.

Mr. Wendell and his bride went to Bermuda for their wedding journey. Upon their return they will live at Princeton, N. J.

The bride made her debut during the 1943-44 season and is a graduate of the Brimmer May School in Boston and of Smith College in the class of 1947. Mr. Wendell prepared at the Hill School, Pottstown, Pa., and is a graduate of Yale University in the class of 1946, graduating from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1948.

SALVATION ARMY CHASES GLOOM

Have you ever been lonely? Most everyone has at sometime or other whether he admits it or not. One of the best cures for loneliness is to know that someone has done a thoughtful, friendly favor that shows you're not forgotten - - just when you need it the most. That's just what the Salvation Army Winchester Service Fund does here for Winchester folks every year. It's all done in a quiet, friendly way, no red tape - - just a neighborly lift over a tough spot.

A toy racer at Christmas is important to Johnny partly because it's bright and has wheels - - but partly because he has something to show that he has not been forgotten.

Old fashioned soft chocolate drops bring a twinkle of appreciation to elderly Nellie's smile that's not as toothy as it used to be - - mostly because they've been given by thoughtful friends who took this "sweet" way of chasing away loneliness.

How can a Mother be lonely with a houseful of kids? Because she feels alone in facing the problem of how to buy a decent mattress when all the available money must be spent on shoes.

New linoleum is a cheery reward for years of scrubbing to keep a home a healthy and attractive place for the family. Homemaker service for a brief period when mother is ill is one of the best insurance against a costly relapse.

These and many, many other services are provided by the Salvation Army Service Fund Committee because twenty percent of the total fund raised annually remains in Winchester and is administered by Forbes Norris as chairman, and Davenport Davis, Treasurer.

And incidentally, if you know anyone who is lonely and wants to chat with the new neighbor - - call Mrs. William Davies and offer to solicit for the Salvation Army.

KINDERGARTEN AND FIRST GRADE HOURS FIXED

COOK REGAINS SNIPE FLEET LEAD

Last Saturday afternoon when one of the four remaining "crucial" races for the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet Championship was scheduled to be sailed, Ken Cook was among the missing. Jack Streeton who was one-fifth of a point ahead of him in the standings, sailed a leading race all the way to win and add to his narrow lead.

However, Sunday morning, the third from last race, Ken Cook was on hand and sailed to a very important victory, while Jack was placing third. Quick reference to the comptometer indicates that Ken is one full point ahead of Jack with Mel Moller 4 points in the rear, with but two races to go. These are to be sailed Saturday and Sunday, September 17 and 18, and if you are not at hand to witness the final competition between these three skippers you will be missing one of the greatest free sporting events of the year. Plan to line the Mystic and cheer your favorite to victory.

Last Sunday afternoon the Fleet was visited by six skippers from the Squantum Yacht Club. A team race was set up between the visitors and our heroes. Even on their own lake and their own boats our stalwarts blew high, wide and handsome and let the visitors sail off with a victory by two points. Perhaps they were playing the part of good hosts but it looks more like they have a host of reading to do on how to sail successfully.

J. Stanley Barnes, Jr., will enter the University of New Hampshire on Tuesday, during Orientation Week. He will major in the Hotel Administration Course. Mr. Barnes graduated from Manlius Military school last June.

HAGGERTY — McDERMOTT

The wedding of Miss Virginia Lillian McDermott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David H. McDermott of Garfield avenue, Woburn, and Mr. Edward Francis Haggerty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haggerty, Sr., of Loring avenue, Winchester, took place on Saturday, September 10, at St. Charles Rectory, Woburn. The ceremony was performed at three-thirty in the afternoon by Rev. Fr. Leo Flynn.

The couple were attended by Miss Edythe Haggerty of Winchester, triplet sister of the groom, and Mr. Charles Haggerty, Jr., the brother of the groom.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white brocaded satin with sweetheart neckline, dropped waistline with full skirt and long pointed sleeves. Her head piece was heart shaped and covered with brocaded satin. She carried a prayer book and white roses. The maid of honor wore an old fashioned peacock blue gown with sweetheart neckline and matching mitts. Her picture hat matched her gown and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Hunt Room at the Town Line, following which the couple left for a wedding trip to New Hampshire. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents, Mrs. McDermott wearing a street length dress of aquamarine with brown accessories and a corsage of red and white roses, and the groom's mother a street length dress of royal blue with darker blue accessories. Her corsage was also of red and white roses.

Mrs. Haggerty, a gradute of Woburn High School, has been associated with Swift & Co. in the firm's Boston office. Mr. Haggerty is a graduate of Winchester High School, Class of '41, and is employed by the Mouradian Oriental Rug Co.

ASMAN— JOHNSTON

Miss Nancy Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Johnston of 19 Dix street, was married on Saturday, September 10, to Mr. Robert William Asman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Asman of 142 Mallino Drive, Rochester, N. Y. The ceremony was performed at four o'clock by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Winchester, with music by Mr. Kenneth Reed of New York City. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The couple were attended by Miss Ruth Asman of Rochester, N. Y., sister of the groom, and Mr. Richard G. Haspy, of New York City, groomsman. The ushers were Messrs. William F. Johnston and Malcolm W. Johnston, twin brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a dress of ice blue satin, with high neckline and stand-up collar, and light blue illusion veil fastened with a crown of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of light blue delphinium and white roses. The maid of honor wore dusty pink satin bodice with marquisette skirt and matching satin coronet. Her bouquet was of assorted shades of asters.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Music Hall, attractive with decorations of white chrysanthemums. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents and Miss Miriam Fuhrman, aunt of the groom. They are enjoying a honeymoon in the Adirondacks.

Mrs. Asman attended Bennington College in Vermont. She has been associated with the National Broadcasting Company in New York for the past two years, doing both radio and television work. Mr. Asman attended Champlain College and Columbia University. He served two years in the Navy and has been an announcer with the N. B. C. in New York. At present he is announcing for station WGVA, Geneva, N. Y.

A graduate of Winchester High School, Private McElhinney was transferred to Parris Island, S. C., where he will undergo ten weeks of basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

LINDBERG — AINSWORTH

On Saturday, September 3rd, at a 4 o'clock ceremony at the Wilmington Methodist Church, Miss Vada L. Ainsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Ainsworth, of Wilmington, became the bride of Frederick L. Lindberg, son of Mrs. Arthur Murphy of Newton. Rev. Otis A. Maxfield officiated at the marriage, a double ring ceremony, before a candlelighted altar decorated with white gladioli, asters and palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy white satin, trimmed with seed pearls. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a white prayer book with white gardenias and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Phyllis Lindberg, sister of the groom, and Ruth Cavanaugh, wore gowns of peacock blue taffeta and carried colonial bouquets of talisman roses with blue and gold streamers and matching headpieces.

Mr. Clifford Lindberg served his brother as best man. The ushers were Mr. John Murray and Mr. Everett Twombley, both of Winchester.

Music at the ceremony was provided by Mrs. W. T. Staveley, organist, and soloist, Mrs. Albert Lambert of Methuen, cousin of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church vestry. White gladioli were used in the decorations. Mrs. Ainsworth received in a gown of grey crepe and matching Chantilly lace. She wore a grey feather hat and a corsage of pink baby orchids. Mrs. Murphy wore a gown of pink crepe with lace with brown accessories and wore a brown orchid.

Miss Constance Lindberg, sister of the groom, attractively gowned in pink dotted swiss with flowered tiara, was in charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to Maine, the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with navy accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Lindberg will be at home in Winchester after October first.

TO BE MARRIED SATURDAY

The wedding of Miss Marianne (Theresa) Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Andrews of 158 Harvard street, Medford, and Mr. Thomas Francis Derro of 431 Washington street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Derro, will take place this coming Saturday, September 17th at Somerville. The ceremony will take place at St. Clements Church at four o'clock and will be performed by Monsignor Barry. The bride will be given in marriage by her father.

The couple will be attended by Mr. Robert Quine of Winchester and Miss Natalie Andrews, the bride's sister. The three bridesmaids will be Miss Marguerite Derro, sister of the groom, Miss Jean Albanese of Medford and Miss Roberta Pisco of Revere. Ushers for the ceremony, all of Winchester, will be Messrs. Ralph Muehlig Samuel Buzzotta and Russell Weldon.

Miss Andrews plans for her wedding dress a creation of Skinner satin trimmed with Chantilly lace. Her maid of honor will wear seafoam satin and the bridesmaids turquoise blue.

They are planning to spend their honeymoon in Canada.

CUB PACK SEVEN NEWS

The fall round-up meeting of Cub Pack Seven will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday, September 23, 1949, at the First Baptist Church, Winchester. This month eighteen of the pack's Cubs will graduate into scouts. This unusually large number is occasioned by the recent change in the Cub age limit. The ages now are from 8 to 11 years instead of 9 to 12. After welcoming the new eight year Cubs movies will be shown.

MARRIED AT WOBURN

The wedding of Miss Norma Jean Fagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fagner of Alpena avenue, Woburn, and Mr. Lewis Wilson Chaulk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Chaulk of 12 Park avenue, Winchester, took place on Sunday, August 28, at four o'clock at the Woburn Methodist Church, Rev. Henry Beukleman, pastor of the church, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and Mr. Frank Batten of Woburn was best man. Mrs. David Lentz, of Woburn, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. George Hetzel, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Hooper, both of Woburn; Miss Anne Donovan and Miss Regina Crafferty, both of Brighton, and Miss Dorothy Chaulk and Miss Barbara Chaulk, sisters of the groom, both of Winchester.

The bride was attractively attired in a white slipper satin gown with a gathered bodice buttoned down the front, a smartly designed Peter Pan collar trimmed with seeded pearls and a full length train. Her full length white tulle veil on bonnet design was trimmed with matching pearls and edged with fine heirloom lace. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis shower bouquet with her New Testament.

The matron of honor wore a ruffled off the shoulder aqua marquisette gown smartly fashioned with a bustle and a gathered bodice. She carried yellow roses and wore a matching headpiece.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses in orchid, yellow and pink and carried unique white baskets of cut flowers matching their costumes. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and baskets of white gladioli, candelabra and vases of white roses.

A reception followed the ceremony, being held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. George C. Hetzel, 128 Lexington street, Woburn. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. Ushers for both the ceremony and reception included Messrs. Arthur Chaulk of Natick, Ralph Fagner of Woburn, David Lentz of Woburn and Earnest Carroll of Somerville.

The couple will take a wedding trip to Newfoundland. Mrs. Chaulk is a graduate of the Lawrence Memorial Hospital Training School of Medford, and has been serving at the Choate Hospital in Woburn. The groom is an employee of J. H. Winn Sons, Winchester.

They will make their future home at 12 Park avenue, Winchester.

WINCHESTER COUNCIL OF GIRL SCOUTS

Under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Parsons, the following girls spent the week of August 24-31 at Mount Katahdin in Maine: Carol Cleaves, Virginia Dyer, Carolyn Edgar, Diantha Lamb, Susan Ordway, and Judith Snell. After spending the night at the Millinockett Hotel we drove 30 miles to Roaring Brook, where we left the car. We were met by the ranger and his two donkeys, who carried the food for the 3½ miles to the camp, while we followed behind with our packs. On the following day we went up the Cathedral trail to the top, where we ate our lunch and then proceeded to Pamola Peak via the Knife Edge. The day was very hazy, with a very strong wind, which almost blew us off, but we managed to get down without any casualties. On succeeding days we made trips to the North Basin, Pamola Caves, and to the summit again on a day of excellent visibility. As no trip is complete without a Snipe Hunt, we followed tradition and spent Sunday evening banging rocks together and sitting in a dry river bed, but to no avail. We just couldn't find any snipes, probably because they could foresee the coming storm, which struck on the following day. We spent that day playing cards. We were very sorry when the time came to shoulder our packs, again, and start back to Roaring Brook. We all learned a great deal, and had a wonderful time. We are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Parsons for making the trip possible.

We are looking for troop leaders — especially in the Parkhurst, Noonan, and Washington school districts — Anyone interested, please contact the Girl Scout office WI 6-2592 — as soon as possible. We do not expect our leaders to be able to teach the girls all the requirements, so have program consultants who have volunteered to help with specialized projects — Therefore anyone with an interest in girls is eligible to become a leader. Several 2 hr. morning courses are given at the Girl Scout office to all leaders during the Fall and Spring — Please help us if you can — Our 600 girls need your help — Call us too, if you have any special hobbies that you can share with the Winchester Girl Scouts.

WON DISTINGUISHED RIFLE MEDAL

David Shiverick, 17, won the Distinguished Rifleman's Medal it was announced by the National Rifle Association here today.

Young Shiverick first took up the target sport four years ago. After a steady climb through the 14 lower rankings, he finally reached the top drawer of the junior shooters—the Distinguished Rifleman's Medal.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Shiverick of Forest street. He is a senior at the Winchester High School and an active member of the Camp Wyanoke Junior Rifle Club.

Fireman John Pearson is ill at the Baker Memorial Hospital. Fred Scholl of the Fells Plumbing Co. is also ill at the same hospital.

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUT NEWS

Troop 3

Get the moths out of your Scout Uniform and press it up for a really impressive meeting Monday night at 7:00 at the First Congregational Church. We'll have snappy games followed by graduation ceremonies.

The Council Fire meeting last Monday night was a mighty fine experience. Sitting around a camp fire out in the woods is hard to describe.

Eddie Cullen from Explorer Post 6 led the singing. Buzzie Bird and Dave Archibald gave vivid descriptions of the Explorer Trip to Mt. Katahdin and Bob Burnham described the wonderful experience the Senior Scouts had during their 10 days at Annapolis.

The real fun came from watching the pillow fights astride a log skillfully lashed to a tree by Sammy Rocray and Trevor Smith. Even the new boys Dick Gaffney, Peter Bramhall, Bill Spinney, Dick Lowry and Bill Harlow had a chance to try it.

WARNS ON FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Editor of the Star:

I would like to have the following notice inserted in the Winchester Star relative to unsafe 1¼ gallon fire extinguishers that have been brought to my attention by the State Fire Marshall.

Unsafe 1¼ Gallon Soda and Acid Fire Extinguishers

The State Fire Marshall conducted an investigation recently into the death of a man in Brockton who was killed when attempting to use a 1¼ gallon fire extinguisher. The investigation revealed the extinguisher he used had charging instructions for a 2½ gallon type (twice the size of the one used). The overcharge of soda and acid resulted in an explosion of the extinguisher upon its attempted use.

The imprinted material on these extinguishers is as follows:

National Standard
For Fire, Turn Bottom Up.
To Stop, Turn Back.

Charging and care directions: Fill tank with water to charging line inside. Add 1½ lbs. bicarbonate of soda. Screw cover on and shake well to dissolve. Remove cover and place bottle half full of sulphuric acid 4 fluid ounces, in cage. Screw cover on tight. When used, empty entirely, clean thoroughly, and recharge annually. Record same on card attached. Protect from Freezing.

The above instructions are suitable for a 2½ gallon extinguisher and will result in a double charge in these 1¼ gallon extinguishers. These extinguishers were manufactured in Boston and several hundred sold prior to 1936.

Anyone possessing a 1¼ gallon soda and acid fire extinguisher with above instructions on it will kindly contact the Fire Department immediately.

Chief — Fire Dept.

MRS. BARNES RESIGNS AS CHAIRMAN OF SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Editor of the Star:

I regret that I cannot serve as Residential Chairman for the Salvation Army Drive this year, and will appreciate very much the great help by the workers of last year's drive to cooperate with the new chairman, Mrs. William Davies, III.

Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes

August 26, 1949

Mrs. John Stanley Barnes,
7 Ravenscroft Road,
Winchester, Mass.

Dear Mrs. Barnes:

I thank you very much indeed for your kind note of August 24 and certainly am glad to hear that you are improving in health after your serious operation.

You certainly did a splendid job for us as Winchester Residential Chairman and it is reassuring to know that we have a good Chairman in Mrs. Davies and that you will be standing by to help.

With kindest regards and best wishes.

Sincerely yours,
W. A. Nicol
Provincial
Public Relations Secretary.

NEW GREGG AT UNIVERSITY SECRETARIAL SCHOOL

The New Simplified Gregg Shorthand will be introduced this fall at the University Secretarial School in both the day and evening classes. The fall term will open on Monday, September 19.

Many graduates from local high schools have registered for the shorthand classes. Under the new system, theory principles are reduced permitting the learner to write with greater ease and fluency.

A number of students from Winchester have enrolled in both the day and evening divisions. The location of the school in Harvard Square is particularly convenient for those who are interested in evening classes in shorthand and typewriting.

BUILDING COMMITTEE REPORT

It should be clearly understood that any conclusions which have been reached so far are strictly tentative, that this report is intended to be largely a statement of some of the problems involved with the purpose of promoting general consideration and solicitation of suggestions and that the Committee has made no final decisions as yet.

The nearest to an exception to the foregoing statement is the belief that the present facilities for the Seventh to Twelfth grades must be enlarged and improved. The Committee has been studying the question of the probable number of future pupils, and although such figures cannot be forecast with complete accuracy, all of the evidence points to substantially increased school populations within the next few years, particularly in the higher grades. In addition, the present structures are not now satisfactory for their current use, the Senior High building being especially inadequate. It seems clear that some kind of new High or Junior High facilities (or both) must be provided in the very near future.

In determining new school facilities, the first question raised was whether the six upper grades were to be divided "three-three" or "two-four". Under the present arrangement, the seventh and eighth grades are together in Junior High School, and the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades comprise the Senior High School, although the ninth grade occupies the Wadleigh building. Also, the two schools share certain joint facilities. The School Committee and the School Administration recommend the grouping of seventh, eighth and ninth grades in Junior High School, with a three year Senior High school. The Building Committee accordingly began its thinking along these lines.

Another question to be solved is whether to have certain facilities, such as the assembly hall, cafeteria and playgrounds for the joint use of both schools, or whether to make each school entirely self-sufficient. The former plan would, of course, necessitate locating the schools close together, preferably on the same plot. Separation of the Junior and Senior High Schools geographically and the making of each school self-sufficient as to facilities appears to be desirable from educational and administrative standpoints. With the foregoing in mind, a number of alternatives present themselves.

1. There is the possibility of enlarging and improving the present buildings. This is probably feasible in the case of the Junior High School, but questions have been raised as to the wisdom of putting substantial amounts of money into the present Senior High building. The Committee has considered the age of the building, its condition, and its somewhat undesirable location for a school since it is between two busy, noisy streets.

2. There is the possibility of converting this structure into a two-year Junior High (it would clearly be too small for a three-year Junior High) and building an addition to the present Junior High building to make it a four-year Senior High School. The addition would have to be very extensive in such case.

3. There is the possibility of enlarging the Junior High School building to accommodate the expected school population (either for a two or three year course), and constructing a Senior High (either four-or three year, as the case may be) on the present location or elsewhere.

4. The present Junior High building might be enlarged and converted into a Senior High for tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, and a new three-year Junior High School constructed.

Other solutions have been considered and still others may occur to the reader.

The question of a site for a new school, if there is to be one, has been the subject of consideration and discussion. Several possibilities have been suggested, including the former Ginn Estate, the Shore Road field, the former Skillings property, additional land adjacent to the Junior High School property, and the land between Palmer Street and Wedge Pond, adjacent to Palmer Playground. It should be noted that enlarging the present buildings would not solve the problem of acquiring additional land. An addition to the Senior High would necessitate taking property along Main and Washington streets, and the substantial enlargement of the Junior High Building might cause encroachment on the athletic fields to such an extent that more land at the south end of Manchester Field would be needed.

The above are some of the questions which are confronting the Committee and have had consideration. The thoughts of the Town are earnestly solicited. The Committee will welcome suggestions from interested citizens on any phase of the problem. Suggestions may be made to any member of the Committee listed above, or sent in writing to the Chairman, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, 18 Cabot street, Winchester.

The High School and Enlarged Junior High School Building Committee.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Mothers' Association of the George Washington School will open its season with a tea on Tuesday, September 20th, at 3:30 p. m. This tea, arrangements of which are under the direction of Mrs. Frank Carver, Chairman of the Social Committee, especially welcomes new teachers, and the mothers of the Kindergarten into the Association. At the same time, it offers a pleasant opportunity for all mothers and teachers to meet. Children, through the second grade will be cared for in the Kindergarten room, so that all mothers may feel free to attend.

PARENTS URGED TO ATTEND BAND AND ORCHESTRA MEETING

All parents of boys and girls who are now members or would like to be members of the Winchester High School band or orchestra are invited to a meeting at the high school auditorium next Monday evening, September 19, at eight, to discuss band and orchestra plans for the year with Director Fred Felmet.

Mrs. Ernst W. Farley of Richmond, Va., is visiting her son, Mr. James E. Farley of Rangely.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

> "... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act. ..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
3—Decision by arbitration.
4—Decision by neutral referee.
5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employes, and are the most highly paid of all employes on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employes of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"

"MATTER" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, Septemebr 18.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7).
SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him" (Luke 5:12, 13). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"The Principle and proof of Christianity are discerned by spiritual sense. They are set forth in Jesus' demonstrations, which show—by his healing the sick, casting out evils, and destroying death, 'the last enemy that shall be destroyed,' — his disregard of matter and its so-called laws" (p. 210).

2 Winchester Place Winchester

WInchester 6-0765

One of the several Westford homes to be opened to the public this Saturday, September 17, is this attractive residence remodelled by Mr. and Mrs. Philip T. Prescott from an old barn dating from the early 1700's. Known as the old Haywood place, Edgar Allan Poe was a frequent visitor here.

OLD COLONIAL HOUSES OPENED TO PUBLIC AGAIN IN WESTFORD

Once again, several early American homes will be open to the general public in the old New England hill town of Westford, with several of the same houses visited last year and a number of additional ones to meet the request of many lovers of old homes. The visitation will be made on Saturday, September 17.

There are several typical central chimney houses to be seen, displaying original features such as horizontal panelling, corner cupboards, and old Dutch oven fireplaces.

One of the homes to be opened for the first time is the well-known Tavern, facing the green. It was said that at this inn Daniel Webster courted Grace Fletcher.

Then there is "October Hill," which dates back to 1686 when the land was purchased by Joseph Butterfield from an English major. The first school in Westford was held in its upstairs rooms.

For those interested in remodelling, there are two old barns, dating in the 1700s, which have been converted into interesting and unusual homes to conform with modern comfort yet they bear the marks of early history.

The tour will start at the fine old First Parish Church whose Paul Revere bell has tolled over the villagers since 1763. The homes will be open from 1 to 5 p. m., after which a baked bean supper will be served in the church.

COLBY TEA

On Thursday afternoon, September 8, Mrs. David F. Choate, Jr. of Brookside avenue, gave a tea for Colby College students in honor of her niece, Miss Arlene Tobey of Hampton, N. H., who is transferring to Colby this fall from Mary Washington College in Virginia.

Mrs. Philip Livingstone of Brooks street, a Colby classmate of Mrs. Choate's, poured.

Guests present included Sally Blanchard, Patty Poot, Joanna Johnston, Ann Jennings, Norma Bergquist, Alice Jennings, Elizabeth Jennings, Ruth Sheehan, and Harriet Sherman, all of Winchester. Also present were Ann Orth, Patty Merrill, Carol Smith, and Deborah Brush, coming from Newton, Waban, and Chestnut Hill.

VISITING WINCHESTER

L. I. "Babe" McEwen and three-year old daughter, Marylu, are arriving by train this weekend to visit his mother and family.

The McEwens recently moved into a new house in a recently developed residential section in Quincy, Illinois. It is a ranch type on a large plot of ground overlooking the country at the edge of the city. The house has an unusual interior. The spacious living room has walls of clear heart California redwood. The kitchen is done in knotty pine brushed with ash stain. The three bedrooms are finished in knotty pine, finished natural. A large recreation room with a fireplace is an important part of the basement.

Mrs. McEwen, a native Quincy, Illinois girl, who always greatly enjoys Winchester, is unable to accompany her husband on this trip. Mr. McEwen and daughter plan to remain about ten days.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

The Winchester School Committee has authorized Dr. Forbes H. Norris, Superintendent of Schools, to accept an accident policy covering high school athletes.

Work is progressing rapidly at the Mystic School, where the Vara Construction Company has been excavating and building forms during the last week.

The Committee has learned that repairs on the high school boilers necessitated by the insurance inspector's report will cost in excess of two thousand dollars. New tubes were installed and other repairs were made to the boilers during the summer.

The Junior and Senior High School Building Committee reported numerous meetings have been given over to inspection of the buildings involved and discussion of several different plans for construction.

The resignation of Miss Pauline Crockett, high school English teacher, was accepted. Miss Crockett will be teaching in Stamford, Connecticut, this year.

The members of the Committee were pleased to receive "Thank You" letters from Anthony Peluso and Blair Currie, both of whom were awarded Jere Downes Scholarships.

Approved by the Massachusetts Legislature on June 28, 1949, is an act reading as follows:

Chapter 71 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 2, as amended by section 1 of chapter 246 of the acts of 1938, and inserting in place thereof the following; — Section 2. In all public elementary and high schools American history and civics, including the constitution of the United States, and in all public high schools the constitution of the commonwealth and local history and government, shall be taught as required subjects for the purpose of promoting civic service and a greater knowledge thereof, and of fitting the pupils, morally and intellectually, for the duties of citizenship.

Approved June 28, 1949.

Principal Wade L. Grindle of Winchester high school reports that those topics are already a part of the high school curriculum.

Police Chief Charles Harrold has been asked by the School committee to survey the area near the Parkhurst school with an eye to pupil safety on crossings and intersections.

NOEL ADVANCED BY BORDEN COMPANY

Frank Noel of 244 Washington street, Winchester, has been promoted to assistant eastern sales manager of the Borden Company's Ration-ayd Department, according to John K. Westberg, Ration-ayd general manager. For the past four years a Borden sales representative in the New England area, Mr. Noel will operate out of Borden's New York office. He will assist William N. Shearer, the eastern sales manager, in handling Borden's line of animal and poultry feed supplements.

Stewart Chaffe will resume his secondary school work at New Hampton School for Boys, New Hampton, N. H., when the school opens on September 19th for its 129th year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe of 7 Warren street.

Johnny Jones, 11 years old, heads his class in arithmetic and spelling, plays a fast game of basketball, and is captain of his Grade's baseball team.

His parents attribute a good part of Johnny's vigor and all-round ability to the fact that he has been drinking Hood's Supertest Grade A Milk ever since he was a baby. And Johnny himself is enthusiastic over Supertest. He knows that plenty of it every day is helping him to grow up sturdy and full of health. But above all, he likes its delicious flavor.

"I never have any trouble making Johnny drink all the milk that doctors say a growing boy needs," says Mrs. Jones. "He drinks a whole quart of Hood's Supertest every day!" ADVT.

WINCHESTER AT MILTON TOMORROW

Kickoff time is set for two-thirty as Winchester High School opens its football season at Milton tomorrow afternoon. Both schools have promoted last year's reserves to fill out the varsity positions hard hit by graduation.

Milton's only back from last year's Class C Champions is Costello, billed as an outstanding passer and ball handler for their T formation. Two linemen are the other returning veterans.

Winchester also has one veteran in the backfield, Captain Paul Amico, but Quarterback Dan Devlin, a letter man, also saw plenty of backfield duty. Center Tony Cirurso completes the trio of former letter winners.

Milton's line is reported to be as heavy or heavier than the local line. The Red and Black backs are a bit heavier than the Milton ball carriers.

To date Paul McGowan and James Casey have shown up well among the reserve backs and may take over part of the kicking and passing duties.

Coach Knowlton stresses the fact that competition among the candidates for each position is one of the reasons he faces the new season with enthusiasm. This is borne out by his nominating more than eleven players as his starting team.

WINCHESTER AT SWAMPSCOTT

Winchester High meets stern opposition Saturday when it journeys to Swampscott for its annual battle with the Sculpins of Swampscott High.

Swampscott beat St. Mary's of Lynn Saturday by three touchdowns and can well prove a bit too good for Winchester tomorrow, though the local coaches and players are conceding nothing and are going to Swampscott to win.

The Sculpins are further along all round than Coach Knowlton's charges, having had the advantage of spring football and having been out since mid-August to get ready for participation in the big Jamboree at the Lynn Stadium the first of September. At Lynn Swampscott lost by a touchdown to Peabdoy in their abbreviated game.

Coach Knowlton saw the Swampscott team on that occasion and Asst. Coach Lentine scouted the Sculpins last Saturday. Both report Swampscott is big and rugged and well coached, as are all Martin directed teams.

Winchester will line up as it did against Milton with Murphy and Mason at ends, Caputo and Stevenson, tackles, Suppa and either Burbank or Hutchins, guards; and Cirurso, center. Behind the line will be Captain Paul Amico at fullback, O'Brien and Richmond at halfback and Devlin, quarterback.

Against Milton Winchester looked both good and bad, as was to be expected. The line did a good job late in the game when Milton threatened to score, and a lot of the weaknesses that showed in the first game will disappear as the boys have more experience in varsity play. The locals really had only one experienced player on the field at Milton. You can't expect too much from boys who are playing their first big time game.

Winchester won, which is what counts, and beat the defending Class C champs in Milton. The locals should be better for this win as they face Swampscott, and they will need to be.

PROTESTANT CHURCHES OF WINCHESTER TO HOLD FAMILY DAY AT CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

The Protestant Churches of Winchester are opening their church year next Sunday with special services in most of the churches under different titles. It will be Rally Day at the First Baptist Church, Religious Education Sunday at the Second Congregational Church, Rally Day and Family Sunday at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, and Family Sunday at the Unitarian Church. The Church of the Epiphany will begin its Church School year October 2nd. The First Congregational Church will hold Family Day at Church with full choir of over one hundred voices, including the Junior Choir. The Church School will open in all departments, with the exception of the Forum.

The Ministers of these various churches are looking forward to full congregations next Sunday. Strangers are welcome at each of these houses of worship, and it is hoped that Protestants of Winchester will cooperate in this interdenominational enterprise.

DIABETES DETECTION WEEK OCTOBER 10 - 16

Winchester is to cooperate in the Nation-wide Diabetes Detection Week October 10-16.

During this week residents of the town are urged to take a sample of their urine to their family physician or to any of the town's physicians, all of whom are cooperating in the detection week activities. Samples will be examined for traces of diabetes at no expense to those who submit them, and it is hoped that every one will participate in this National attempt to detect symptoms and to prevent the spread of diabetes, which is among the major physical scourges of the country.

National Diabetes Detection week is paralleling the Tuberculosis detection drive which had such good results in the medical profession's attempt to discover and prevent the spread of the Great White Plague.

THE MARY WITHAM SINGERS BEGIN REHEARSALS

Members of the Mary Witham Singers will hold their first meeting of the season at Mrs. Witham's home, 75 Bacon street, next Monday at 7:30 P. M. Rehearsals are of special importance at this time in preparation for an interesting engagement which the Singers have in early October.

Young women who wish to join the group will be cordially welcomed by Mrs. Witham and her Voice Committee on any Monday evening at 7:15.

DR. JAMES A. LAMPHIER

COMMUNITY FUND 1950 RED FEATHER CAMPAIGN

Organizational plans for the Community Fund 1950 Red Feather Campaign were announced this week by Davenport F. Davis, Winchester Chairman. Working with Mr. Davis as Committee Chairmen are: Mrs. Neal Borden, Administration; Mrs. James M. Beale, Clubs and Organizations; Charles Butler, Residential; Charles Koch, Retail; Leslie Scott, Industry; Martin Swanson, Advance Solicitations; Mrs. Herbert Ross, Educational; Ray E. Mauger, Jr., Publicity.

This year the Community Fund will represent 341 Health and Social Service Agencies. Over 40,000 volunteers in 47 cities and towns of Metropolitan Boston will take part in this drive. The Fund goal, to be announced at a future date, will be the amount needed to keep these Red Feather Agencies going. "It should be pointed out" said Mr. Davis, "That the money raised by the Community Fund goes to meet the current operating expenses of our Hospitals, and other health and welfare organizations.

HICKS — DALLAHAN

At St. John's Church in Canton, on Saturday morning, September 17, Miss Elizabeth Madelyn Dallahan, daughter of Mrs. Robert V. Dallahan of Canton and the late Captain Dallahan of the United States Marine Corps, was married to Frederick Lewis Hicks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hicks of Cliff street. Rev. Arthur J. Sheehan, S. J., officiated at the ceremony which took place at 10:30 o'clock and was followed by a reception at the Bell House in Sharon. Mrs. William Reynolds of Canton was soloist.

Miss Dallahan was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Edward B. Sheehan. She wore a gown of traditional white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and hoop skirt extending into a long train, edged with fine lace and caught with tiny white rosebuds. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion was caught to a matching satin crown and her bridal bouquet combined stephanotis and babies breath.

Miss Joan Dallahan of Canton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids, also sisters of the bride, were Miss Maureen and Miss Lavinia Dallahan.

All the bridal attendants wore satin dresses with hoop skirts, the honor maid wearing ice blue and the bridesmaids, dusty rose. All wore braided satin coronets to match their dresses and carried deep purple asters, the bridesmaids' bouquets being tied with purple ribbons.

Edward E. Hicks of Winchester was best man for his brother and another brother, Robert Hicks of this town, was one of the usher corps, the other members of which were William Everett, Francis Poirier and Kenneth Harvey, all of Winchester.

After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will live in Dedham.

The bride is a graduate of the Chandler School. Mr. Hicks, who is an accountant, graduated from Winchester High School and from Tufts College, where he played on the football team and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

SHERBURNE — LAUTER

At a candlelight ceremony at 5:30 on September 16, in the chapel of the Hyde Park Methodist Church in Tampa, Florida, Mrs. Wilna Baskin Lauter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamden Holloway Baskin of Clearwater, Florida, became the bride of Mr. William Haven Sherburne, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Haven Sherburne of Winchester. Dr. O. Alton Murphy, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony which was performed in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal two-piece afternoon gown of yellow brocade. Her headdress was of matching brocade and she wore a corsage of orchids. Her only jewelry was an heirloom necklace, a gift from the groom.

Miss Cynthia Baskin, her sister's only attendant, was gowned in green taffeta. She wore a matching velvet beret, and corsage of orchids. Dr. W. Haven Sherburne was best man for his son.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the Columbia in Tampa.

REV. PAUL CHAPMAN'S FAREWELL SERMON

The Winchester Unitarian Church will join with the other Protestant Churches of the town in observing Family Sunday on September 25 at 11:00 a. m. Members and friends are urged to attend in family groups to strengthen the cooperation of the church and the home.

In his previous sermons, since his return from Europe, Mr. Chapman has dealt with some of the religious and emotional trends which are sweeping through the life of the world today. His concluding sermon of this series is entitled: "As a Man Thinketh -".

The service of worship will be held in the sanctuary with Mary Ranton Witham at the organ and Dorothy Perkins as soprano soloist. Small children will be cared for in the Parish House during the church hour.

SPEAKER AT MASONIC LODGE OF INSTRUCTION

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been chosen to give the address at the opening meeting of the 1949-50 program of the Thirteenth Lodge of Instruction composed of Masonic Lodges in the Sixth District, to be held at Gilman Square, Somerville, with King Solomon's as the Host Lodge. The subject of his address will be "America's Supreme Hour."

Rev. Bailey is Chaplain of the local Mystic Valley Lodge A. F. and A. M. and is on the Speakers Bureau of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

YOUR GREATEST FOE - YOURSELF

The pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. John Snook, Jr. will center his message in the problems of the dual nature of man—the waging of good and bad in the personality of every individual Ways and Means of allowing the better of our natures to dominate will be presented from a scriptural background.

HATCH — BENNETT

At a four o'clock candlelight ceremony in the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church Saturday afternoon, Miss Althea Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Bennett became the bride of Mr. George W. Hatch son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch of Winchester.

Before an altar adorned with palms, white gladioli and chrysanthemums the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell T. Loesch.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin trimmed at the neck and sleeves with Chantilly lace. Her skirt with full length train was pleated to a fitted bodice. She wore her mother's veil of embroidered illusion, caught into a halo of Chantilly lace and orange blossoms and carried a crescent bouquet of white gladioli, Fleur D'Amour and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Huggins of Milton, Miss Lucy Goldthwait and Mrs. Howard Deese of Melrose, Miss Jean Hatch sister of the groom, of Winchester, and Miss Margery Anderson of Groton and Miss Margaret L. Knapp of Colorado Springs, Col., both cousins of the bride. They wore matching gowns of lichen green satin and carried arm bouquets of copper-rose colored gladioli with fern with matching headpieces. Another cousin of the bride, Mrs. Alan Balfour of Portland, Me., with Mrs. Lawrence Lantz of Reading attended the guest book.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Donald Hatch was the best man and the ushers included the bride's brother Mr. Kendall Bennett, Mr. Howard Deese of Melrose, Mr. Paul Mannix of Milton, Mr. Donald Wrisley of Winchester, Mr. Leonard Erikson of Malden and Mr. Frederick Snow of New Jersey, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a gown of toast colored crepe with green feathered hat and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Hatch, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in peacock blue crepe and wore a bronze feathered hat with matching dahlia corsage.

After a wedding trip to Maine the couple will reside in Melrose.

PARKER — MacALLISTER

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place in the chapel at Princeton University on Saturday, September 10, when Miss Jean Lorita MacAllister, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Archibald Thomas MacAllister of Princeton, N. J., became the bride of Larimore Foster Parker, son of Mrs. Gordon Parker of Ledgewood road and "Singing Brook Farm," Charlemont, and the late Mr. Parker. Officiating was the Rev. Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and uncle of the bridegroom. A reception was held after the ceremony at Lawrence Lodge, Lawrenceville, N. J.

The bride was gowned in old ivory satin and wore a halo of stephanotis on her tulle veil. The same flowers also encircled the white roses of her bouquet.

Mrs. T. Burnet Fisher of Omaha, Neb., and Miss Alice Wolff of New York City, attended the bride. They wore dresses of gray faille and halos of purple asters, matching the flowers of their Colonial bouquets.

George P. Seeley, Jr., of Englewood, N. J., was Mr. Parker's best man, and his brother, Frederick Seeley, ushered with the bridegroom's brother, Harrison Parker of Washington, D. C.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Fine's School and of Bryn Mawr College. Mr. Parker graduated from Mt. Herman School, served in the Army and is now a senior at Princeton, where he is a member of the Princeton Key and the Seal Club.

STONE — RICHARDS

Miss Helen May Richards of Ipswich, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Richards of Lynnfield Centre, and Mr. Clarence Hammond Stone of Winchester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henry Stone, were united in marriage on September 17th by the Rev. Stanley Hall-King of Ipswich. The attendants were Mrs. Elbridge Russell and Mr. Joseph W. Stone, brother of the groom.

A pretty reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul R. Goodhue of Ipswich, from four to five o'clock.

After a wedding trip to New York and Pennsylvania Mr. and Mrs. Stone will reside at 61 Howard avenue, Lynnfield Centre.

MISS SIMONDS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rumsey Simonds of Cabot street, Winchester and Nantucket announce the engagement of their daughter Joanne, to David Quentin Scott, Lieutenant, United States Air Force, son of Commander and Mrs. Kenneth Schurch Scott of Westtown, Pennsylvania.

Miss Simonds graduated from the Winchester High School, attended Colby Junior College and The Rhode Island School of Design. Lieutenant Scott graduated from The Westtown School and studied at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts before joining the Air Force. An October wedding is planned.

GORDON PARKER

Gordon Parker of 7 Ledgewood road, president of the Parkwood Corporation of Wakefield and widely known in Winchester where his family has been prominent civically and socially for many years, died Friday, September 16, at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston following a month's illness. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Parker was born September 25, 1889, in Winchester, son of the late Harrison, and Fanny (Fletcher) Parker. His boyhood was spent in the old Parker homestead, "Red Roof" on Main street, since torn down, and he was educated in the Winchester schools and at Winchester High School. During World War I he served in the U. S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant (j. g.), being for a time Junior Aid to the Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard and later being attached to the lumber section of the Bureau of Construction and Repair in the Navy Department at Washington. He was also in charge of the office for spruce production for the Navy in Boston.

His earliest business experience was with the Palmer & Parker Co., of Charlestown, dealers in mahogany, of which he became vice-president. In 1937 he established the Parkwood Corporation, manufacturers of laminated compressed veneers, of which he was president. He was a member of the First Congregational Church which he had served in various capacities, having been both treasurer and chairman of the Prudential Committee.

In 1922 Mr. Parker married Mary Shumate Stuart of Greenville, S. C., who survives with three daughters, Alice Stuart Parker of Winnetka, Ill., Mary Stuart Parker, a junior at Connecticut College for Women; and Katherine Olcott Parker, a sophomore at Colby College; two sons, Harrison Parker of Washington, D. C.; and Larimore Parker, a senior at Princeton University and three sisters, Mrs. Reeve Chipman of Andover, Mrs. Sidney Lovett of New Haven, Conn., and Miss Eugenia Parker of Denmark, Me.

Services were held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Bigelow Chapel of Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Rev. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and brother-in-law of the deceased, was the officiating clergyman.

WALTER IRVING PEARSON BADGER

Walter Irving Pearson Badger, a former resident and member of one of Winchester's prominent families, died Monday morning, September 19, at the Laconia, N. H., Hospital. He made his home in Meredith, N. H., and for the past 20 years had been inactive, due to ill health.

Mr. Badger was born in Boston March 21, 1890. His parents, the late Daniel B., and Lizzie F. (Pearson) Badger, were well known old time residents of Winchester and Mr. Badger grew up in this town, attending the Winchester Schools and graduating from Winchester High as president of his class in 1910.

On April 14, 1915, Mr. Badger married Eleanor Briggs of Winchester who survives, with a son, Donald, of Seekonk; and two brothers, Erastus B. Badger of Winchester and Paul B. Badger of Nantucket.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Van Pelt funeral home in Meredith, N. H., with the Rev. Paul A. Nystedt of the Meredith Baptist Church officiating. Interment took place on Thursday in Elmwood Cemetery, East Bridgewater.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. MARY W. LINTON

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary W. Linton of Wedgemere avenue were held on Saturday forenoon, September 17, at 11 o'clock at the Bigelow Chapel of Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiated.

Mrs. Linton, sister of Lewis L. Wadsworth of this town, died Wednesday, September 14, in Edgartown after a short illness. She had made her home with her brother in Winchester since 1926 and for the past 13 years had spent her summers in Edgartown at Oxbow Lodge, her brother's summer residence.

Mrs. Linton was the daughter of the late Lewis L., and Anne (Kelley) Wadsworth of Boston. A native of Calais, Me., she married J. Albert Linton of Montreal, Canada, and lived in that city twenty years until her husband's death.

Besides her brother in Winchester she leaves four nephews and twelve grand nephews.

MRS. RACHEL MacDONALD LITTLE

Mrs. Rachel MacDonald Little of 968 Main street died Friday, September 16, at her home. She was the widow of William Little and for the greater part of her life lived in the Mt. Pleasant street section of Woburn. In her more active years she was prominent in the affairs of St. Charles Women's Sodality, of which she was a member at the time of her death.

Mrs. Little leaves a brother, John MacDonald, and several nieces living in Winchester and Woburn.

The funeral was held from the McLaughlin Funeral Home in Woburn Monday morning with high mass of requiem solemnized at St. Charles Church at 9:00 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn.

FRANK MIGLIACCIO

Frank Migliaccio of 32 Chester street, a veteran of World War I, died Wednesday morning, September 21, at the Winchester Hospital, following a brief illness with heart disease. He had been at his work on Monday as usual and his sudden passing came as a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Migliaccio was the son of Peter and Giovanna (Siniscara) Migliaccio. He was born December 30, 1895, in Calabria, Italy, but came to this country as a boy, and after a brief residence in Pennsylvania, settled in Winchester where he had lived for the past 37 years. He was an architect and stone mason and for the past 20 years had made his home in the house he designed and built at 32 Chester street.

During World War I Mr. Migliaccio entered the service May 25, 1917, at Fort Slocum, N. Y., in K Company of the 52nd Regiment of Infantry. He was later assigned to the 105th Engineers and served overseas for nearly a year, being honorably discharged June 26, 1919. He was a member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

On December 15, 1921, Mr. Migliaccio married Josephine Bruno of Winchester, who survives him, with two daughters, Joan and Carolyn Migliaccio of Winchester; six sons, Frank, Jr., of Patterson, N. J.; James, in the service, at Camp Lee, Va.; Anthony, in the service at Edgewood, Md.; Joseph, Richard and Gerald Migliaccio, all of Winchester; two brothers, Joseph Migliaccio, living in Italy, and Anthony, living in South America; and two grandchildren.

Military honors will be accorded at the funeral which is to be held this Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

The Flag Salute will be led by Miss Cunningham and the National Anthem by Mrs. Mildred Abrahamson.

Following the program in the auditorium, classroom teachers and representatives of the Mothers' Association will be hostesses in the various classrooms which will be open for public inspection.

POLICE RECEIVE LIEUTENANT'S EXAM MARKS

Members of the Winchester Police Department who took the examination for promotion to lieutenant have finally received their individual marks, which however are unofficial, pending the usual two week period for filing appeals. No list has been furnished the Selectmen by the Civil Service Commission, nor will one be submitted until the appeal period is past.

Nine members of the local department passed the examination with seven of the nine receiving marks better than 91 percent, which is an excellent showing.

Sgt. Joseph J. Derro tops the unofficial list with a mark of 98.13. Others who passed include Sgt. Edward F. Bowler and Patrolmen John J. Dolan, Archibald T. O'Connell, Henry P. Dempsey, William T. Haggerty, James F. Noonan, D. Irving Reardon and John J. Murray.

NEW TRAIN TIME

The most important changes in the new time on the steam railroad which goes into effect Sunday, September 25 is the elimination of two Sunday trains, the inward 6.32 p. m. and the outward 5.00 p. m. These two trains are dropped. The former inward 10.15 Sunday night train will leave at 10 p. m.

There are several changes in the week-day trains both inward and outward, and commuters will be wise to secure one of the convenient pocket size time tables from one of the following firms:

E. H. Butterworth - Jeweler
M. G. Moffett - Taxi
Winchester Co-operative Bank
Winchester National Bank
W. Allan Wilde - Insurance.

WINCHESTER AT SWAMPSCOTT

Winchester High meets stern opposition Saturday when it journeys to Swampscott for its annual battle with the Sculpins of Swampscott High.

Swampscott beat St. Mary's of Lynn Saturday by three touchdowns and can well prove a bit too good for Winchester tomorrow, though the local coaches and players are conceding nothing and are going to Swampscott to win.

The Sculpins are further along all round than Coach Knowlton's charges, having had the advantage of spring football and having been out since mid-August to get ready for participation in the big Jamboree at the Lynn Stadium the first of September. At Lynn Swampscott lost by a touchdown to Peabdoy in their abbreviated game.

Coach Knowlton saw the Swampscott team on that occasion and Asst. Coach Lentine scouted the Sculpins last Saturday. Both report Swampscott is big and rugged and well coached, as are all Martin directed teams.

Winchester will line up as it did against Milton with Murphy and Mason at ends, Caputo and Stevenson, tackles, Suppa and either Burbank or Hutchins, guards; and Cirurso, center. Behind the line will be Captain Paul Amico at fullback, O'Brien and Richmond at halfback and Devlin, quarterback.

Against Milton Winchester looked both good and bad, as was to be expected. The line did a good job late in the game when Milton threatened to score, and a lot of the weaknesses that showed in the first game will disappear as the boys have more experience in varsity play. The locals really had only one experienced player on the field at Milton. You can't expect too much from boys who are playing their first big time game.

Winchester won, which is what counts, and beat the defending Class C champs in Milton. The locals should be better for this win as they face Swampscott, and they will need to be.

The Protestant Churches of Winchester are opening their church year next Sunday with special services in most of the churches under different titles. It will be Rally Day at the First Baptist Church, Religious Education Sunday at the Second Congregational Church, Rally Day and Family Sunday at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, and Family Sunday at the Unitarian Church. The Church of the Epiphany will begin its Church School year October 2nd. The First Congregational Church will hold Family Day at Church with full choir of over one hundred voices, including the Junior Choir. The Church School will open in all departments, with the exception of the Forum.

The Ministers of these various churches are looking forward to full congregations next Sunday. Strangers are welcome at each of these houses of worship, and it is hoped that Protestants of Winchester will cooperate in this interdenominational enterprise.

DIABETES DETECTION WEEK OCTOBER 10 - 16

Winchester is to cooperate in the Nation-wide Diabetes Detection Week October 10-16.

During this week residents of the town are urged to take a sample of their urine to their family physician or to any of the town's physicians, all of whom are cooperating in the detection week activities. Samples will be examined for traces of diabetes at no expense to those who submit them, and it is hoped that every one will participate in this National attempt to detect symptoms and to prevent the spread of diabetes, which is among the major physical scourges of the country.

National Diabetes Detection week is paralleling the Tuberculosis detection drive which had such good results in the medical profession's attempt to discover and prevent the spread of the Great White Plague.

THE MARY WITHAM SINGERS BEGIN REHEARSALS

HICKS — DALLAHAN

At St. John's Church in Canton, on Saturday morning, September 17, Miss Elizabeth Madelyn Dallahan, daughter of Mrs. Robert V. Dallahan of Canton and the late Captain Dallahan of the United States Marine Corps, was married to Frederick Lewis Hicks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Hicks of Cliff street. Rev. Arthur J. Sheehan, S. J., officiated at the ceremony which took place at 10:30 o'clock and was followed by a reception at the Bell House in Sharon. Mrs. William Reynolds of Canton was soloist.

Miss Dallahan was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. Edward B. Sheehan. She wore a gown of traditional white satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice and hoop skirt extending into a long train, edged with fine lace and caught with tiny white rosebuds. Her fingertip-length veil of French illusion was caught to a matching satin crown and her bridal bouquet combined stephanotis and babies breath.

Miss Joan Dallahan of Canton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids, also sisters of the bride, were Miss Maureen and Miss Lavinia Dallahan.

All the bridal attendants wore satin dresses with hoop skirts, the honor maid wearing ice blue and the bridesmaids, dusty rose. All wore braided satin coronets to match their dresses and carried deep purple asters, the bridesmaids' bouquets being tied with purple ribbons.

Edward E. Hicks of Winchester was best man for his brother and another brother, Robert Hicks of this town, was one of the usher corps, the other members of which were William Everett, Francis Poirier and Kenneth Harvey, all of Winchester.

After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Hicks will live in Dedham.

The bride is a graduate of the Chandler School. Mr. Hicks, who is an accountant, graduated from Winchester High School and from Tufts College, where he played on the football team and was a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

SHERBURNE — LAUTER

At a candlelight ceremony at 5:30 on September 16, in the chapel of the Hyde Park Methodist Church in Tampa, Florida, Mrs. Wilna Baskin Lauter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamden Holloway Baskin of Clearwater, Florida, became the bride of Mr. William Haven Sherburne, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. W. Haven Sherburne of Winchester. Dr. O. Alton Murphy, pastor, officiated at the single ring ceremony which was performed in the presence of the immediate family.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal two-piece afternoon gown of yellow brocade. Her headdress was of matching brocade and she wore a corsage of orchids. Her only jewelry was an heirloom necklace, a gift from the groom.

Miss Cynthia Baskin, her sister's only attendant, was gowned in green taffeta. She wore a matching velvet beret, and corsage of orchids. Dr. W. Haven Sherburne was best man for his son.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the Columbia in Tampa.

REV. PAUL CHAPMAN'S FAREWELL SERMON

The Winchester Unitarian Church will join with the other Protestant Churches of the town in observing Family Sunday on September 25 at 11:00 a. m. Members and friends are urged to attend in family groups to strengthen the cooperation of the church and the home.

In his previous sermons, since his return from Europe, Mr. Chapman has dealt with some of the religious and emotional trends which are sweeping through the life of the world today. His concluding sermon of this series is entitled: "As a Man Thinketh -".

The service of worship will be held in the sanctuary with Mary Ranton Witham at the organ and Dorothy Perkins as soprano soloist. Small children will be cared for in the Parish House during the church hour.

SPEAKER AT MASONIC LODGE OF INSTRUCTION

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been chosen to give the address at the opening meeting of the 1949-50 program of the Thirteenth Lodge of Instruction composed of Masonic Lodges in the Sixth District, to be held at Gilman Square, Somerville, with King Solomon's as the Host Lodge. The subject of his address will be "America's Supreme Hour."

Rev. Bailey is Chaplain of the local Mystic Valley Lodge A. F. and A. M. and is on the Speakers Bureau of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

YOUR GREATEST FOE - YOURSELF

The pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. John Snook, Jr. will center his message in the problems of the dual nature of man—the waging of good and bad in the personality of every individual Ways and Means of allowing the better of our natures to dominate will be presented from a scriptural background.

HATCH — BENNETT

At a four o'clock candlelight ceremony in the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church Saturday afternoon, Miss Althea Elizabeth Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Bennett became the bride of Mr. George W. Hatch son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Hatch of Winchester.

Before an altar adorned with palms, white gladioli and chrysanthemums the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell T. Loesch.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of slipper satin trimmed at the neck and sleeves with Chantilly lace. Her skirt with full length train was pleated to a fitted bodice. She wore her mother's veil of embroidered illusion, caught into a halo of Chantilly lace and orange blossoms and carried a crescent bouquet of white gladioli, Fleur D'Amour and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Huggins of Milton, Miss Lucy Goldthwait and Mrs. Howard Deese of Melrose, Miss Jean Hatch sister of the groom, of Winchester, and Miss Margery Anderson of Groton and Miss Margaret L. Knapp of Colorado Springs, Col., both cousins of the bride. They wore matching gowns of lichen green satin and carried arm bouquets of copper-rose colored gladioli with fern with matching headpieces. Another cousin of the bride, Mrs. Alan Balfour of Portland, Me., with Mrs. Lawrence Lantz of Reading attended the guest book.

The bridegroom's brother, Mr. Donald Hatch was the best man and the ushers included the bride's brother Mr. Kendall Bennett, Mr. Howard Deese of Melrose, Mr. Paul Mannix of Milton, Mr. Donald Wrisley of Winchester, Mr. Leonard Erikson of Malden and Mr. Frederick Snow of New Jersey, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a gown of toast colored crepe with green feathered hat and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Hatch, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in peacock blue crepe and wore a bronze feathered hat with matching dahlia corsage.

After a wedding trip to Maine the couple will reside in Melrose.

PARKER — MacALLISTER

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place in the chapel at Princeton University on Saturday, September 10, when Miss Jean Lorita MacAllister, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Archibald Thomas MacAllister of Princeton, N. J., became the bride of Larimore Foster Parker, son of Mrs. Gordon Parker of Ledgewood road and "Singing Brook Farm," Charlemont, and the late Mr. Parker. Officiating was the Rev. Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and uncle of the bridegroom. A reception was held after the ceremony at Lawrence Lodge, Lawrenceville, N. J.

The bride was gowned in old ivory satin and wore a halo of stephanotis on her tulle veil. The same flowers also encircled the white roses of her bouquet.

Mrs. T. Burnet Fisher of Omaha, Neb., and Miss Alice Wolff of New York City, attended the bride. They wore dresses of gray faille and halos of purple asters, matching the flowers of their Colonial bouquets.

George P. Seeley, Jr., of Englewood, N. J., was Mr. Parker's best man, and his brother, Frederick Seeley, ushered with the bridegroom's brother, Harrison Parker of Washington, D. C.

The bride is a graduate of Miss Fine's School and of Bryn Mawr College. Mr. Parker graduated from Mt. Herman School, served in the Army and is now a senior at Princeton, where he is a member of the Princeton Key and the Seal Club.

STONE — RICHARDS

Miss Helen May Richards of Ipswich, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Richards of Lynnfield Centre, and Mr. Clarence Hammond Stone of Winchester, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Henry Stone, were united in marriage on September 17th by the Rev. Stanley Hall-King of Ipswich. The attendants were Mrs. Elbridge Russell and Mr. Joseph W. Stone, brother of the groom.

A pretty reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul R. Goodhue of Ipswich, from four to five o'clock.

After a wedding trip to New York and Pennsylvania Mr. and Mrs. Stone will reside at 61 Howard avenue, Lynnfield Centre.

MISS SIMONDS ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rumsey Simonds of Cabot street, Winchester and Nantucket announce the engagement of their daughter Joanne, to David Quentin Scott, Lieutenant, United States Air Force, son of Commander and Mrs. Kenneth Schurch Scott of Westtown, Pennsylvania.

Miss Simonds graduated from the Winchester High School, attended Colby Junior College and The Rhode Island School of Design. Lieutenant Scott graduated from The Westtown School and studied at the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts before joining the Air Force. An October wedding is planned.

GORDON PARKER

Gordon Parker of 7 Ledgewood road, president of the Parkwood Corporation of Wakefield and widely known in Winchester where his family has been prominent civically and socially for many years, died Friday, September 16, at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston following a month's illness. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Parker was born September 25, 1889, in Winchester, son of the late Harrison, and Fanny (Fletcher) Parker. His boyhood was spent in the old Parker homestead, "Red Roof" on Main street, since torn down, and he was educated in the Winchester schools and at Winchester High School. During World War I he served in the U. S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant (j. g.), being for a time Junior Aid to the Commandant of the Boston Navy Yard and later being attached to the lumber section of the Bureau of Construction and Repair in the Navy Department at Washington. He was also in charge of the office for spruce production for the Navy in Boston.

His earliest business experience was with the Palmer & Parker Co., of Charlestown, dealers in mahogany, of which he became vice-president. In 1937 he established the Parkwood Corporation, manufacturers of laminated compressed veneers, of which he was president. He was a member of the First Congregational Church which he had served in various capacities, having been both treasurer and chairman of the Prudential Committee.

In 1922 Mr. Parker married Mary Shumate Stuart of Greenville, S. C., who survives with three daughters, Alice Stuart Parker of Winnetka, Ill., Mary Stuart Parker, a junior at Connecticut College for Women; and Katherine Olcott Parker, a sophomore at Colby College; two sons, Harrison Parker of Washington, D. C.; and Larimore Parker, a senior at Princeton University and three sisters, Mrs. Reeve Chipman of Andover, Mrs. Sidney Lovett of New Haven, Conn., and Miss Eugenia Parker of Denmark, Me.

Services were held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the Bigelow Chapel of Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Rev. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and brother-in-law of the deceased, was the officiating clergyman.

WALTER IRVING PEARSON BADGER

Walter Irving Pearson Badger, a former resident and member of one of Winchester's prominent families, died Monday morning, September 19, at the Laconia, N. H., Hospital. He made his home in Meredith, N. H., and for the past 20 years had been inactive, due to ill health.

Mr. Badger was born in Boston March 21, 1890. His parents, the late Daniel B., and Lizzie F. (Pearson) Badger, were well known old time residents of Winchester and Mr. Badger grew up in this town, attending the Winchester Schools and graduating from Winchester High as president of his class in 1910.

On April 14, 1915, Mr. Badger married Eleanor Briggs of Winchester who survives, with a son, Donald, of Seekonk; and two brothers, Erastus B. Badger of Winchester and Paul B. Badger of Nantucket.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Van Pelt funeral home in Meredith, N. H., with the Rev. Paul A. Nystedt of the Meredith Baptist Church officiating. Interment took place on Thursday in Elmwood Cemetery, East Bridgewater.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. MARY W. LINTON

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary W. Linton of Wedgemere avenue were held on Saturday forenoon, September 17, at 11 o'clock at the Bigelow Chapel of Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge. Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiated.

Mrs. Linton, sister of Lewis L. Wadsworth of this town, died Wednesday, September 14, in Edgartown after a short illness. She had made her home with her brother in Winchester since 1926 and for the past 13 years had spent her summers in Edgartown at Oxbow Lodge, her brother's summer residence.

Mrs. Linton was the daughter of the late Lewis L., and Anne (Kelley) Wadsworth of Boston. A native of Calais, Me., she married J. Albert Linton of Montreal, Canada, and lived in that city twenty years until her husband's death.

Besides her brother in Winchester she leaves four nephews and twelve grand nephews.

MRS. RACHEL MacDONALD LITTLE

Mrs. Rachel MacDonald Little of 968 Main street died Friday, September 16, at her home. She was the widow of William Little and for the greater part of her life lived in the Mt. Pleasant street section of Woburn. In her more active years she was prominent in the affairs of St. Charles Women's Sodality, of which she was a member at the time of her death.

Mrs. Little leaves a brother, John MacDonald, and several nieces living in Winchester and Woburn.

The funeral was held from the McLaughlin Funeral Home in Woburn Monday morning with high mass of requiem solemnized at St. Charles Church at 9:00 o'clock. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Woburn.

FRANK MIGLIACCIO

Frank Migliaccio of 32 Chester street, a veteran of World War I, died Wednesday morning, September 21, at the Winchester Hospital, following a brief illness with heart disease. He had been at his work on Monday as usual and his sudden passing came as a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Migliaccio was the son of Peter and Giovanna (Siniscara) Migliaccio. He was born December 30, 1895, in Calabria, Italy, but came to this country as a boy, and after a brief residence in Pennsylvania, settled in Winchester where he had lived for the past 37 years. He was an architect and stone mason and for the past 20 years had made his home in the house he designed and built at 32 Chester street.

During World War I Mr. Migliaccio entered the service May 25, 1917, at Fort Slocum, N. Y., in K Company of the 52nd Regiment of Infantry. He was later assigned to the 105th Engineers and served overseas for nearly a year, being honorably discharged June 26, 1919. He was a member of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

On December 15, 1921, Mr. Migliaccio married Josephine Bruno of Winchester, who survives him, with two daughters, Joan and Carolyn Migliaccio of Winchester; six sons, Frank, Jr., of Patterson, N. J.; James, in the service, at Camp Lee, Va.; Anthony, in the service at Edgewood, Md.; Joseph, Richard and Gerald Migliaccio, all of Winchester; two brothers, Joseph Migliaccio, living in Italy, and Anthony, living in South America; and two grandchildren.

Military honors will be accorded at the funeral which is to be held this Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

DEDICATION OF PARKHURST SCHOOL SUNDAY

Next Sunday afternoon, September 25, at two-thirty, Mrs. Paul E. Nason, President of the Lewis Parkhurst School Mothers' Association, will call to order a public meeting in the school's auditorium for the purpose of formally accepting the new school.

On the stage with Mrs. Nason will be the Building Committee, the School Committee, representatives of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Miss Martha Cunningham, head of the teaching staff at the Parkhurst school.

Musical selections by the Public School Faculty Trio will open the program. After an address of welcome, Mrs. Nason will introduce Mr. Daniel Barnard, Chairman of the Building Committee, who will formally present the new school to the Town of Winchester. Mr. Philip Wadsworth will accept the school for the Town of Winchester and Chairman William Speers will accept for the School Committee.

Representatives of the American Legion and of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will then present flags for the school donated by their organizations.

The Flag Salute will be led by Miss Cunningham and the National Anthem by Mrs. Mildred Abrahamson.

Following the program in the auditorium, classroom teachers and representatives of the Mothers' Association will be hostesses in the various classrooms which will be open for public inspection.

POLICE RECEIVE LIEUTENANT'S EXAM MARKS

Members of the Winchester Police Department who took the examination for promotion to lieutenant have finally received their individual marks, which however are unofficial, pending the usual two week period for filing appeals. No list has been furnished the Selectmen by the Civil Service Commission, nor will one be submitted until the appeal period is past.

Nine members of the local department passed the examination with seven of the nine receiving marks better than 91 percent, which is an excellent showing.

Sgt. Joseph J. Derro tops the unofficial list with a mark of 98.13. Others who passed include Sgt. Edward F. Bowler and Patrolmen John J. Dolan, Archibald T. O'Connell, Henry P. Dempsey, William T. Haggerty, James F. Noonan, D. Irving Reardon and John J. Murray.

NEW TRAIN TIME

The most important changes in the new time on the steam railroad which goes into effect Sunday, September 25 is the elimination of two Sunday trains, the inward 6.32 p. m. and the outward 5.00 p. m. These two trains are dropped. The former inward 10.15 Sunday night train will leave at 10 p. m.

There are several changes in the week-day trains both inward and outward, and commuters will be wise to secure one of the convenient pocket size time tables from one of the following firms:

E. H. Butterworth - Jeweler
M. G. Moffett - Taxi
Winchester Co-operative Bank
Winchester National Bank
W. Allan Wilde - Insurance.

MOUNT HOLYOKE CLUB MEETS

The Winchester Mount Holyoke Club had their fall meeting at Mrs. Martin Swanson's home this last week to complete their plans for raising their remaining pledge towards the "Two Million for Mount Holyoke." One project decided on was to contribute articles to be sold at the Mount Holyoke Christmas Bazaar to be given by the Boston Holyoke Club at the Y. W. C. A. on December 8th. Some will contribute small antiques from their homes to the Corner Cupboard Booth. Others will meet on successive Thursdays beginning October 6th at "Our Own Workshop" in Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey's home at 29 Woodside road to create articles to be sold at other Booths. Mount Holyoke Club members are urged to bring their lunches and spend the day (10:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.) when possible. Coffee will be served. Everyone will be welcome for any time they can give.

On a beautiful August day last summer, a delicious lobster luncheon and bridge was given at Mrs. James Allen's summer home in Rockport. Mrs. Christine Greene assisted Mrs. Allen in this successful project. Among those attending were the following Winchester residents; Mrs. Gerald Barrett, Mrs. John Clark, Mrs. Clinton Farnham, Miss Dorothy Clark, Mrs. Frederick Hatch, Mrs. W. P. Keyes, Mrs. Frank McCullough, Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs. Daniel Morse, Mrs. William C. Ross, Miss Helen Smiley, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Robert Stone and Mrs. James Willing.

Mount Holyoke is again welcoming Alice Dixon Bond to Winchester this year to continue her most interesting "Book Talks". They will be held as usual at the Winchester Library at 10 o'clock on October 18, November 15, December 13 and April 11.

EN KA BOARD MEETING

The executive board of the En Ka Society held its first fall meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Thomas M. Righter, Jr., on Thursday, September 15. Present were Mrs. Vera McKenzie, Mrs. Samuel Cole, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. Donald Connors, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Frank d'Elseaux and Mrs. Irving E. Jennings.

The vacancy on the board, caused by the Resignation of Mrs. E. George Pierce, Jr., as chairman of the important Civic committee, was filled by appointing Miss Eleanor Dow to that position.

A report of interest was that of Mrs. Connors, chairman of the Ways and Means committee. Plans for the 1950 Street Fair are well under way, and all the key positions are filled.

WINCHESTER SONS OF ITALY LODGE NEWS

On Sunday, September 11 the Lodge's Softball team played a double-header with the O'Brien Club of Somerville; winning both ends of the doubleheader, 6 to 2 and 7 to 2 Hokie Procopio pitched the first game and Sammy Bellino pitched the second one.

On Sunday, September 18 the same club played the local Lodge's Softball team, losing the first one; Sons 9, O'Brien Club 5. The second game was called on account of rain in the second inning.

Everything is set for the Cabaret Dance being run Saturday night by the Degree Team. The dance is being held at the Waterfield Hall, the proceeds of which are helping to defray the expenses of the Degree Team's trip to Atlantic City, N. J., where, on October 2, they will install the officers of the Supreme Lodge.

The music for this dance is being furnished by the Black and White Orchestra of Beverly. This orchestra is in demand all along the North Shore where they have built up quite a reputation as a dance orchestra. Tickets for this dance may still be obtained at the clubhouse on Swanton street.

Plans are completed for the 16th Annual Banquet of the Winchester Lodges, which is being held on October 12, 1949 in Lyceum Hall. The music is being furnished by Ellis' Orchestra. Tickets for the Banquet may be obtained from the following committee: Philomena Corbi, chairman; Frances Errico, Lillian Frongillo, Nellie Venardi, Nellie Pizzano, Dolly Vespucci, Ellen Ronzio, Rose Penta, Dominick Provinzano, Philip Muraco, John Paonessa.

STAFF AND KEY

Owing to a conflict in dates and the unavailability of a hall, the Winchester Staff and Key Society has announced that its annual Gilbert and Sullivan production has been postponed until next spring. It had been planned originally to stage the show this coming December.

THE MYSTIC GLEE CLUB STARTS REHEARSALS FOR 10TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON

Rehearsals got under way last Monday night at Masonic Hall for Winchester's well known Mystic Glee Club. Under the friendly and capable baton of conductor Keith Snyder of Reading, over fifty men buckled down to the pleasurable task of learning the music for the first of a three-concert, tenth anniversary season. The Christmas concert is scheduled for Saturday December 17, 1949.

President Robert O. Carlson of Wedgemere avenue, in behalf of the club, welcomed Mr. Snyder back as well as the ever popular Mary Louise Wood, accompanist. Mrs. Wood has been accompanist since 1941. Six new prospective members were also introduced by the chairman of the Voice Committee, Ragnar Brandt, who announced that voice trials will soon be arranged for these men and any others who may turn up in the next week or two. As a matter of public notice, the Mystic Glee Club is especially interested in securing at least six additional good top tenors for this season (as what club isn't). For information call Mr. Brandt at WInchester 6-1233-W.

Plans for the tenth anniversary season were discussed at the home of Mr. Carlson a week ago Monday by the Board of Directors. Further and more specific plans for the anniversary concert itself, to be held in March, will be discussed at the home of Hon. Pres. Carl Wood next Wednesday evening.

Following the rehearsal, which was a surprisingly good one for a starter, the entertainment Committee, headed by E. Verne Chapman, produced a bit of refreshment for the social hour which wound up the evening. It was the the consensus of the club's opinion that the music selected for this coming concert is the finest they have had the pleasure of singing. A balanced program is always striven for and has been attained this time with considerably more substantial and lofty music being in evidence than was heard last spring. This is in keeping with the pattern set whereby the winter concert is the more ambitious of the two annual appearances. Several humorous selections are also on the program as well as four delightful Christmas carols, heard less frequently than the familiar ones.

Chairman of the Sponsoring Membership Committee Revely H. B. Smith told the men that the campaign for new and renewed memberships will start soon. In the meantime, before the campaign has even started, checks for the season's membership are beginning to come in in increasing numbers. A grand season is forecast for Winchester's Mystic Glee Club.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The president, Mrs. William W. Goodhue of the Winchester Garden Club, released the following three important notices: First - The Garden Club Federation of Mass. will hold its Annual Meeting Thursday, October 6 at the Copley Plaza Hotel, Boston. Registration 10 A. M., Business 10:30 A. M., Luncheon 12:30 P. M. Members interested telephone Headquarters, KEnmore 6-3059. Second - The Gore Mansion is having Open House October 10 - 11 from 1 to 5 P. M. This is in the interest of restoring the Gore estate gardens. Tel. WInchester 6-1154 for information. Third - Mrs. Harold M. Twombly, Garden Clubs Service Chairman of this district, asks for volunteers to work in the gardens with the patients at Bedford Hospital. This being specialized work, a lecture-course for volunteers will be held at the hospital October 18 - 19 at 1:30 P. M. information obtained from chairman, WInchester 6-0484.

"Dave" Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Coon of Brooks street, is attending Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington. "Dave", who has been playing with the Winchester Warriors for the past two seasons, originally entered Harvard, but left the big university in favor of the much smaller far western college.

WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION SPONSORS COMMANDER IRVING JOHNSON NOVEMBER 22

Now that the worthy young recipients of Winchester Scholarship Foundation awards are on the point of beginning their college careers, the Ways and Means Committee of the Winchester Mothers' Association is already at work preparing to raise additional funds for this fine cause.

At a meeting held recently at the home of the chairman, Mrs. John S. Swift, definite arrangements were announced for the appearance in Winchester on Tuesday evening, November 22, of Commander Irving Johnson, famed skipper of the "Yankee." Comdr. Johnson will present at the High School auditorium "Yankee's Wander World", a complete new color film of wanderlust and adventure, a deep sea yarn of the brigantine Yankee which sailed from Gloucester, Massachusetts, with a young amateur crew on a year and a half's cruise among the South Sea Islands and many romantic places far off the beaten track. The Yankee was equipped with forty cameras plus diving gear and underwater photographic equipment, and the resulting saga of the adventure presented in story and film by the captain should be of appeal to everyone who has ever yearned to get away from the workaday world.

Secretary - Mrs. George A. Saltmarsh
Treasurer - Mrs. Frederick M. Ives, Jr.
Tickets - Mrs. Richard D. Bolster and Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth
Program - Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker
Ushers - Mrs. Kenneth MacArthur
Special arrangements - Mrs. George Blackwood
Publicity - Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr.

Please watch the STAR for future announcements concerning the event.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Members of The Fortnightly of Winchester attending the Autumn meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs and of the New England Conference of State Federation of Women's clubs held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, Mass., September 12-14 were as follows:

Mrs. Harold H. Given, President of The Fortnightly, Mrs. George Budd, Mrs. Edward Grosvenor, Mrs. William Priest, Mrs. Marshall Symmes, Mrs. Clifton Hall, Mrs. Lora Rhodes, Mrs. Kenneth Hiscoe, Mrs. Warren Whitman - State delegates. Mrs. Milton Galucia, Mrs. William Hultgren - club delegates.

All reported an excellent meeting, with much good work accomplished.

It was a delightful treat indeed to peek into the Winchester Boat Club on Thursday of last week with "The Fortnightly Club House Fund Dessert Bridge" under way, the display of Autumn flowers beautifully arranged, the many bridge tables attractively dressed, the colorful fall hats nodding here and there and the gay chatter of the card players, all combined in presenting a very charming picture.

The main hall of the club house was well filled in spite of gray skies and intermittent showers. The lake was, as always, a lovely thing to see, with the many boats dancing in glee as the huge raindrops beat into the water.

Mrs. Harold Given, President of The Fortnightly, hostess for the day was on hand to greet, in her gracious manner, each guest as she arrived.

Dessert was served at one o'clock followed by a "musical quiz" under the direction of Mrs. Milton Galucia, Chairman of The Fortnightly Dramatics. Prizes were won by the "lucky few" and several old-time familiar songs were sung and enjoyed by all.

Much credit is due Mrs. Sidney Burr, Chairman of the Club House Fund committee and her faithful workers for the success of this "bridge," the first Club House Fund raising project of the season.

Early Game Pass and Safety Gave Locals Win in Grid Opener

Winchester High got by Milton, 8 - 7, at Milton last Saturday afternoon, an early game touchdown via the pass route followed by a safety providing the necessary points to squeak by the home team's touchdown and successful conversion.

Statistically Winchester's advantage was more pronounced. The locals made 11 first downs and 144 yards on the ground to Milton's four first downs and 98 yards, and in the air Winchester completed three of nine passes for an added 54 yards. Milton made two of its ten passes good for 24 yards, but the losers had the advantage in ball handling, fumbling not at all while Winchester bobbled three times, recovering once. The locals lost only 10 yards in penalties while Milton was set back 50, several of its penalties coming when they hurt badly.

Physically the teams were very evenly matched, with Winchester's big line being matched by the home team, though behind the line the local boys seemed bigger if not faster. On the line Winchester had the edge in play, but the Milton backs seemed more effective than the local ball-handlers, all well on the green side of experience. Cirurso spearheaded the Winchester line-play effectively.

Errico flubbed the opening kickoff which was received by Power at the Milton 23. An offside penalty sent Milton into the air and Dannie Devlin intercepted a pass and was downed at the Milton 45.

Amico bucked for five and Bob O'Brien picked up two off tackle. Amico bucked for a first down at the 30, but Richmond lost two on a reverse and a jump-pass by Amico over center failed to click. On third down Amico dropped back and arched a pretty pass to his left out in the flat to Devlin who grabbed the ball around the twenty and went all the way, driving the last few yards along the sideline in approved Bartlett fashion. Smith and Michelsen went in to convert at placement, but a penalty for too much time put the locals back five yards and Smith's kick didn't get in there.

Not long after the kickoff Amico intercepted a screen pass and bulled his way to the 24, but Milton held for downs at its 19 and Macdonald picked up three at tackle. On the next play Milton lost 15 yards for holding and with the ball on his seven, McGonigle was trapped back in the end zone on what looked like a pass play, Mason dropping the Milton boy for a safety that won the game as things turned out.

Milton had its best chance of the first half at the beginning of the second quarter when O'Brien muffed a booming Milton punt and Fox recovered at Winchester's 15. Swan went nearly all the way on an off tackle slant, but a fifteen-yarder for clipping set Milton back to Winchester's 28, and the locals forced a kick. The half ended with Milton completing a pass for its initial first down at Winchester's 30.

Winchester had rushed Milton's second half kickoff out to its 30 when an Amico fumble was recovered by Milton at Winchester's 34. Hurley and Macdonald made it first down at the 23, where a five yard penalty and two-yard loss on an end run put the ball back on the 30. Swan sliced off tackle to the 14, Hurley swept Winchester's left end to the three, and a naked reverse with Swan carrying was good for the touchdown with Bartolotti adding the extra point on a pretty placement.

Winchester dominated play from then until the last few minutes of the game the locals foolishly elected to pass on fourth down and lost the ball at the Milton 30.

Immediately the entire complexion of the game changed as Hurley, taking the ball on a delayed pass after a fake buck, swept off his own right tackle and cut out sharply, dashing to Winchester's 16 where Tony Cirurso made a game-saving tackle as Mason slowed down the runner's interference.

Three attempts to advance the ball by rushing resulted in a loss of five yards and a pass fell incomplete on the fourth down.

Winchester was called for defensive holding on the play and Milton had another chance from Winchester's 15. This pass was also incomplete and Winchester took over, holding the ball and rushing out to its 44 as the game ended.

The summary:

MILTON BRIEFS

Winchester made a nice appearance in their new nylon jersies, white with scarlet numerals and black bands. The boys will make an even trimmer appearance with the addition of their scarlet stockings.

Coach Knowlton generally insists upon his teams wearing stockings, not only because of the improved appearance of the boys but to prevent small nicks and scratches that can cause trouble. He relented Saturday because of the heat.

Milton was loud in its praise of the Winchester High School Band, and the young local musicians did look and sound well, even in their initial performance of the year. Fred Felmet has done a great job of building and deserves 100 percent support from everyone, especially the parents of members of his band.

Milton had a good band also, but after listening to Winchester the Milton tooters sounded a bit on the thin side. Milton did have the best euphonium player we have happened to hear in a school band. We learned that his name is Charlie Quirk and that he made the All New England Band. He is good!

And while on the Milton side, the Milton top drum-majorette was the best school baton twirler we remember seeing in many years. With little apparent effort she did all the usual evolutions, smoothly and very near perfection. She got a nice hand from the Winchester crowd and deserved it.

One of Winchester's cheerleaders, Mary Marabella, threw out her knee while going all out for the Red and Black. Dr. Bill Barone took time off from looking out for the footballers to reduce the knee and get it back in. Pretty strenuous business, this yell leading!

The general tag and pass football in progress on the gridiron between the halves didn't aid the bands any in their playing and marching, but the police, both of them, took no notice, and as far as we know there were no actual casualties.

Coach Ted Bartlett missed the game, being tied up for the afternoon preparing for his brother, "Al's" wedding, at which he served as best man. "Bart" would surely have sweat out last Saturday's "closey" and the bench at Milton would have been much the smoother had he been on it during that final quarter.

The STAR being a family newspaper, we won't print the opinions we heard about the trip to Milton, especially by those who took the Cottage Farm Bridge route. Lou Goddu's summing up of his ride over was especially to the point and pyrotechnic in its quality.

Big John Gorczynski, last year's line coach, was on the bench at Milton, and was a big help to Coach Knowlton in spotting the opposition's defensive lineups. This year's line coach, the capable Andy Lentine, was scouting Swampscott.

WINCHESTER ATHLETES AT B. C.

Quite a little group of local boys are attending Boston College this fall, including Edward McGrath, William, Robert and Elmer Zirkel, Jerome and Aidan Underwood, John Haggerty, Frank P. Hurley, Jr., David Harrigan, Sherman Saltmarsh and Wellington Burtnett. There is some good athletic talent in this group, the Zirkels being better than average schoolboy golfers, Saltmarsh and Burtnett being good hockey players with "Salty" a good miler and Burtnett, a regular end on the high school football team last fall. The Underwood twins were outstanding distance runners and cross country men at high school last year.

BATTLE ROYAL AT STONEHAM

A battle royal, one of the big action features of the mat game, will highlight next Tuesday evening's card at the weekly wrestling show of the Stoneham Veterans in VFW Hall, commencing at 8:30. Guy Ross of Montreal and Tom Casey of Ireland are pitted against Bernie Bernard of Birmingham and Tiger Tasker of Toronto in this feature.

Manuel Bonico of Waltham and Nick Condos, Greek wrestler out of Miami, will clash in the semi-final and the special bout will pit Irish Jackie Gallagher against Jack Marshall of Colorado.

Among Winchester boys entering Tufts this fall are two of last year's high school athletes, Jimmy Quine and Paul Roche. Quine, president of the school Athletic Association, played tackle on the football team. Roche played both varsity basketball and baseball at high school.

COOK CAPTURES CHAMPIONSHIP

Streeton Second, Simonds Third In Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet Standings!

Ken Cook and his blue streak Fantasy emerged as the 1949 champions of the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet during a weekend of some of the hottest and most heartbreaking sailing of the season. For slick sailing, we give you Dick Simonds who managed to come from behind in the standings to finish third by virtue of a sweet second on Saturday and a sensational first on Sunday. For heartbreak, we give you Mal Moller, who entered the final race of the season in first place and wound up in fourth place when he bounced off of a buoy at the end of the first lap and was disqualified. The disqualification gave him a 12th and dropped him out of the money.

Mal moved into first place by running away with Saturday's race while Cookie finished third and Jack Streeton fourth.

On Sunday Ken finished fourth and Jack fifth and although it wasn't a very spectacular way for Cookie to close the season, he had "cooked" Jack's goose to cop the championship.

Saturday, the six races for the Alden Sherman Memorial Trophy begin. Daw Blamire, who has copped this cup two years, in a row, will have to sail 'way over his head to keep it on his mantle another season.

Here are the final standings of the fleet. Look them over and notice how close the final averages are, you'll readily realize why '49 was one of the finest seasons ever.

DILLINGHAM BACK EAST TO ATTEND HARVARD

"Pete" Dillingham, star running back on last year's Winchester High School football team and a letter winner in both basketball and track, returned to Winchester the first of the week from Columbus, Ohio, where he spent the summer with his parents, Lt. Col., and Mrs. Paul W. Dillingham, at the Columbus General Depot of the United States Army.

"Dill" has been working out with the high school football team this week and next week leaves to enter the freshman class at Harvard where he will be a candidate for the yearling eleven, living in Suite 21, Holworthy Hall, in the Harvard yard.

During the summer "Dill" worked as a materials handling man, first in the plate room of the Lustron Corporation, manufacturers of prefabricated steel houses, and later in the warehouse of the Armstrong Furnace Co. The work at both plants was rugged and the former Winchester tailback is in excellent shape.

Both he and his sister, Ann, who was in the class of '51 at Winchester High before going to Italy with her parents, won cups for diving at the officers swimming pool at the Army Depot in Columbus, Paul winning his from the high board, and Ann, the women's low board competition.

FROM LONDON DAILY EXPRESS

Editor of the Star:

Recently friends of mine sent me the attached editorial from the London Daily Express, which perhaps you have seen, but it occurred to me that this thing ought to be printed in the STAR in order to show that there is at least one newspaper in the British Isles with a clear understanding of what's what! I'd be most happy to have you reprint it, if you can spare the space.

Unfortunately, I haven't the date of its publication, but it was about four weeks ago.

Cordially yours,
Ernest Dudley Chase

From the London Daily Express

These touchy people

What is the matter?

The fine bearing of our people during the war used to be symbolized by the phrase "London can take it!" Judging by the undignified outbursts of hysterical resentment over American comment on our situation it looks as though all we can take today is dollars. But criticism? Never!

The Americans have said some candid things about Britain recently. But we took the dollars. We crawled until we got them. And after the first injection we accepted Marshall aid, which continues us in comfort and ease while it is still coming in.

One noisy section

Now, when there is a prospect of the dollar tap being turned off at the main, or at any rate being reduced in such a way as to bring us up against a more rigorous way of life, we do not say "Thank you for your kindness."

Not at all. We give the impression of behaving like an ungrateful pack in full cry for more.

But let there be light on this unedifying spectacle. Let it be known to the Americans that the abuse hurled at their heads does not represent the spirit of the British.

This is not the voice of the people. There is a growing number who realise the folly of negotiating this loan. There is a wide section who feel that Britain should face her situation without any further fact-concealing anaesthetics from the Washington surgery.

But these people are also conscious of the generosity and high idealism which inspired America's actions.

Who, then, inspires the squawking?

The Communists, the near-Communists, the fellow-travellers, and all those elements of the Left whose main object and principal purpose is to seek after the Totalitarian State.

This man our friend

Mr. Roy Howard, president of the American Scripps-Howard newspapers, arrives here at the height of the controversy. He says he is "amazed" at the criticism of the articles now being published in his newspapers under the title "Utopia on the Rocks."

And so, Mr. Howard, are most English people who remember your unswerving support on behalf of arms for Britain in the dark days of 1940 and '41 before America came in the war.

To infer that Mr. Howard is taking part in an anti-British conspiracy is to fail completely to understand the character of this great newspaper man whose long career has been devoted to friendship and association between his own country and ours.

He wrote as he saw

And, of course, Mr. Howard's chief editor, Mr. E. T. Leech, was perfectly entitled to write about conditions as he saw them during his visit to this island.

We may not like all Mr. Leech writes. But how often has comment in hostility to America's actions been published in Britain without anyone complaining about our right to voice it?

The idea of squealing every time anything critical is written about us is quite intolerable.

From the first

The attitude of the Daily Express toward the American Loan has been emphasized over and over again. There is now a growing opinion that the newspaper was right in declaring that these methods of dole brought damage to Britain's economic structure - although few gave us any support at the time.

It is only fair to say that the Express is often in that position, and is thus brought into conflict with those we frequently support and most admire in public life.

Their chance

There is the case of Mr. Churchill, who was really responsible for the American Loan.

He made the keel of the ship. He built the ribs. He raised the mast.

And then the Socialists became cabin passengers in that ship, using the money to further their madcap voyages on the seas of nationalisation!

'BEGUILING PROPAGANDA'

To the Christian Science Monitor:

Commenting on your editorial feature, "Men of Distinction," a New York reader, Walter Weir, writes: "Their concentration on the unusual and abnormal can only serve to spread confusion and misunderstanding rather than comprehension and intelligent guidance."

This writer submits that drunkenness and crime resulting from it is abnormal, but it is not unusual. On the contrary, it is very common. Telling the truth about it does not "spread confusion and misunderstanding" because it makes it so comprehensive that any intelligent person does not need to strain his mentality to understand all of it.

The situation that disheartens all thoughtful lovers of pure social life and the welfare of the young is the amazing increase in the consumption of alcoholic beverages especially by teen-age boys and girls. The United States Commerce Department reports that Americans spent $9,600,000,000 on alcoholic drinks in 1947. Total spending on alcoholic beverages, including taxes, was $140,000,000 more than in 1946, and was up over $6,000,000,000 from prewar 1939.

Would Mr. Weir remove all red lights that say "stop" because they warn of the horror that may result from their violation? Would he stop the social workers and the church from teaching youth, for its own good, the evil resulting from drink just because it is "abnormal" and is not pleasing to the liquor interests?

At the time of the first world war, when the canteens were prohibited from selling liquor to the soldiers, the outstanding president of Harvard University, the late Charles W. Eliot, said he thought it was time for him to stop indulgence forbidden to the defenders of our country. In his book, "A Late Harvest," he writes:

"It is only since 1917 that I have been a total abstainer, but that is now six years ago, and I want to testify here, now, that by adopting total abstinence after having had the opposite habit for over seventy years, one loses no joys that are worth having, and there is no joy-killing about it. On the contrary, I enjoy social life and working life more since I ceased to take any alcohol than I did before. . . ."

The superintendent of a large hospital for the insane, in an address before our medical society, said he became a total abstainer when he found from the study of case histories what a large number of inmates were there as the result of alcoholism.

"A considerable number of ordinary individuals make and have made sane use of alcoholic beverages," writes Mr. Weir to The Christian Science Monitor. I submit that the use of any beverage that does more harm than good, that is not a stimulant in the sense that it increases strength of body or mind, that slows nerve reaction and physical power, and for that reason is not allowed athletes whose success depends upon the greatest possible strength and agility; that even in moderate use may lead to excessive use with all its attendant dangers—the use of that beverage is not sane.

By alluring advertising and beguiling propaganda, the distillers have greatly increased the sale and consumption of liquor, and, therefore, they are responsible for the increased crime, disease and unhappiness resulting from it.

The solution of this great social and economic problem of alcoholism is not as simple as Will Rogers stated. He said: "It is easy to solve the liquor problem; let respectable men and women stop drinking."

All honor to The Christian Science Monitor for its labor for righteousness. I am sure it will feel no qualms, even though, on occasion, it may deem it best to reveal the "unusual and abnormal" phases of alcoholism.

HE CANS LOBSTERS ALIVE

The following article appearing in the September 17 issue of the Saturday Evening Post holds interest to our readers in that Joseph R. MacDonald of 15 Brookside avenue, with his collaborator, D. Fulton Dean of 247 Forest street, claim to be the originators of the unique process described for the shipment of fresh lobsters.

The Post article follows:

Science has finally succeeded in making New England deep-sea lobsters feel at home in a hermetically sealed can of fresh water while being shipped cross-country to epicurean tables as far away as Florida and California. A recent shipment to a Los Angeles hotel arrived alive and snapping seven days after being canned in Boston, thanks to a chemical compound which took ten years to perfect.

When Joseph R. MacDonald first tackled the problem in 1939, deep-sea lobsters, callously indifferent to America's growing taste for them, died off with a rapid-fire fatalism that frustrated efforts to ship them at moderate cost. Even when air-expressed in ice, they suffered a 10 per cent mortality from high-altitude "bends." A healthy two-pound New England lobster, delivered in California, cost as much as twenty-eight dollars.

MacDonald fitted up a small laboratory and staffed it with marine biologists. More than $168,000 and 32,000 lobsters were expended in experimentation, he says before his idea became a reality. All that he will say about his process now, pending patenting, is: "A pinch of powdery substance in each can does the trick. It supplies six elements which are highly beneficial to the lobster. The same substance also controls certain harmful factors."

The powder is dropped in each can in a small bag resembling a tea bag. To insure that no lobster will come out of his corner fighting, the big claws are usually banded in the canning process.

MacDonald's firm guarantees that its lobsters will remain alive for six days after processing, and dates its shipments accordingly. Some have popped out of their cans as frisky as ever after sixteen days in hermetic confinement.

The same formula, with variations, is credited with keeping lobsters active in fresh-water tanks for four weeks, trout alive in cans for eight days, food fresh for twenty days with a startlingly low bacteria count, and roses in static bud for two weeks.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB HOLDS FASHION SHOW

The First Congregational Church was the scene of a memorable occasion Wednesday afternoon, September 21. It was a Fall-Winter Fashion Show presented by the Women's Republican Club of Winchester and R. H. Stearns Company of Boston.

The program opened with the serving of luscious home-made desserts. The president, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, presided at the meeting and introduced a number of invited guests. Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, was introduced and spoke a few words of greeting. Others taking bows were Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts, State Committee Woman of Sixth Middlesex District, Mrs. James Rendle, president of Malden Women's Republican Club, Mrs. George W. Sarano, president of Lexington Women's Republican Club, Mrs. Hollis M. Gott, president of Arlington Women's Republican Club, Mrs. Edward W. Rowe, president of Cambridge Women's Republican Club, and Mrs. George Bussell, president of Medford Women's Republican Club. Mrs. Barnes announced that regrets were received from Mrs. Charles Howard, National Committee Woman, and from Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers who was to have been the speaker but was unavoidably called back to Washington on Tuesday by the Republican Whip for a very important bill.

Mrs. Barnes then introduced Mrs. Frank R. Creelman, chairman of the ways and means committee, who was responsible for the event and presented her with a lovely corsage. Mrs. Creelman thanked the club members, the members of the ways and means committee and especially Mrs. Samuel Cole, the co-chairman, who had arranged the beautiful floral decorations. She then presented Muriel Williams Hart, who did a marvelous job of commenting on the clothes worn by the charming models. The clothes were beautiful and it was the consensus of opinion that it was the most delightful fashion show ever put on in Winchester. While the evening clothes were being shown Mrs. Charles W. Blanchard, Mrs. Donald Drew, Mrs. Edward E. Kuypers and Mrs. Richard Harlow circulated among the guests and presented each lady with a vial of perfume, a gift from R. H. Stearns Company. The gifts were carried in baskets which were beautifully decorated and loaned from Cummings The Florist of Woburn and Winchester.

FUN AND HEALTH FOR CHILDREN, SALVATION ARMY GOAL

Have a good vacation? Then you'll be glad to know that over 200 mothers and their babies had a good vacation, too, furnished by the Salvation Army. Did Billy "grow a foot" in camp? Over 1,000 other boys and girls "grew a foot" at the Salvation Army Camp Wonderland in Sharon, Mass. All these vacations were possible because of the money you give to the annual Salvation Army Friendly Appeal.

Back in 1879 when the Salvation Army was first organized in the United States many people thought of it as mainly helping the "down and out." Luckily with the passing years our public welfare laws have improved, unemployment insurance has been established, and our taxes go further toward providing basic needs. This means that private funds collected by the Salvation Army can go toward a really constructive program with more lasting benefits for all of us.

The excellent Boston Day Nursery is a first step in teaching children how to get along together, how to have respect for property of others, how to "take turns." The South End Boys' Club report shows that the games rooms were used 28,937 times last year. That means a lot of fun for lots of boys — but it also means that 28,937 times boys were not throwing rocks at trains, cutting flagpole halyards, and the like, because they had a lot more interesting things to do. The modern medical and dental clinics operated by the Salvation Army are primarily to prevent disease and teach regular health habits. The whole community benefits from these progressive methods of preventing delinquency and disease, and from the good comradeship of playing and learning and giving together.

JUNIOR MRS. GUILD

On Tuesday evening, September 20, after a business meeting conducted by Director Mrs. David F. Choate, Jr., the Junior Mrs. Guild of the First Congregational Church had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Winslow Smith reporting on "Vassar Summer Institute of Euthenics". A summer ago Mrs. Smith and her young twins spent four weeks on Vassar Campus with other parents and their children, doctors, social workers and teachers. The children had expert supervision by well trained and experienced people while the adults made an objective study of the problems confronted in all family relationships, from child behavior to planning a more efficient kitchen. In summarizing her study of childhood problems, Mrs. Smith stressed the importance of our attitudes in dealing with children, our remembering that the emotional climate in which the child lives is controlled by our automatic nervous system, that each child punches the time-clock of development at a different moment, and that we should remember not to ask of our children, too much, too fast, too soon.

At the close of a most rewarding evening, Mrs. Charles Whitten, Mrs. Charles Crede, Mrs. Ashley Lewis and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, Jr., served coffee and attractive sandwiches.

Members were reminded of the Women's Association meeting next Tuesday evening, September 27, at 8:00 p. m. when husbands and guests are invited to hear Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, president and minister of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society. The Junior Mrs. and Business and Professional Women's Guilds will be hostesses at that time.

Mrs. Ormand Hessler, program chairman, announced that everyone should save the date of Tuesday, October 25, for an old-fashioned barn dance to which husbands and friends will be cordially invited.

Mrs. Richard Caldwell, Fair table chairman, asked that all donations for the Fair be left with her as soon as possible. If more convenient for members, articles will be called for if requested of Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Arnold Goodwin or Mrs. George Nettleton.

MYSTIC SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION PRESENTS CLARE TREE MAJOR PLAYERS

On next Friday night, and all day Saturday, September 30th, and October 1st, reserved seats will be on sale at Filene's for the forthcoming series of two plays sponsored by the Mystic School chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association, Mrs. Robert Swisher, General chairman, announced last week.

Again this year it has been decided to present two of the nationally popular children's plays, staged by the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre of New York.

The children were so delighted with the two Clare Tree Major plays brought here last year, that it has been decided to present two more of her plays this year .... thereby bringing added pleasure to the children of Winchester while raising money for our annual contribution to the Winchester Scholarship Fund and other school projects.

The first play will be presented to the Winchester children on Monday, October 24th. It will be "The Five Little Peppers." This is the story of the adventures of the lovable Pepper family .... Come see how they get themselves out of one difficulty after another, and what fun they have doing it.

The second play will be "Cinderella." This is probably the best loved story of all the children stories, and Cinderella will be here on Monday, February 6.

Both of these plays will be presented at the High School Auditorium. All seats are reserved.

Mrs. Swisher pointed out that because the children enjoyed the plays so much last year most mothers will be pleased that their children will have the opportunity to see these two very good plays without the necessity of taking them to Boston on Saturday morning.

Remember, first come, first best served with their choice of seats. Mrs. George Niles is ticket chairman.

THE WAR IS OVER ..... BUT REMEMBER

While the global, all-out, devastating war ended in Europe in 1945 and in the Pacific in August of that same year, the war still isn't over for the many service men and women who are still fighting their own individual, personal fight back to health and their place in the community.

To the Veterans Hospital must come constant reminders that the people outside have not forgotten. Just a cardboard pumpkin on a food tray at Thanksgiving time, a carnival cap at Halloween can be good medicine. To maintain a man's importance, he must mingle occasionally with people outside the hospital; a baseball game, a trip to the Zoo, man to man conversations, hobbies, any one of them may be their first step toward recovery.

From Bedford Veterans Hospital has come a call for active volunteer participation in their rehabilitation program for servicemen.

Rehabilitation is learning to do a lot of little things — the little things that you and I take for granted, but that mean dignity and lead to personal independence for the severely disabled.

Gray Ladies are requested for daytime work as well as evenings. Staff Aides are needed. Volunteers are asked to instruct in the various crafts. Special emphasis has been placed on the need for men for Sports and the Manual Arts.

Surely there must be something you can do to help a veteran regain the status of a productive citizen.

G. W. MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION OPENED SEASON

On Tuesday at 3:30 o'clock the Mothers' Association of the George Washington School opened its season with a tea successfully planned and served by Mrs. Frank Carver, Social Chairman, and her committee consisting of Mrs. Robbert Holland, Mrs. John Kennedy, Mrs. Hendrix, Mrs. Joseph Cussen, Mrs. George Neville, Mrs. Francis Parsons, Mrs. James Chaffe, Mrs. Frederic Parks, Mrs. William Watkins, Mrs. Huckins, Mrs. Richard Huff, and Mrs. Fairfield.

Our new President, Mrs. Paul La Marche opened the meeting by heartily welcoming the Mothers and teachers, particularly the new ones. She then called upon Mrs. Russell Leafe, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to tell some of her projects for raising money for the Scholarship Fund Committee of which Mrs. Ben Marshall is Chairman.

The first project, a Variety Show in October, featuring some excellent local and outside talent, promises to be most entertaining.

Miss Rich, our popular Principal, then spoke on "The New Look in Education." She cordially invited the parents to visit the school at any time to see their children at work and play in the school. This close interrelation between pupil, home and school, Miss Rich referred to as the corner stone of the New Look in Education — and firmly believes that out of this interrelationhip will come an interdependence which will one day promote an interdependence of Nations. She also stressed that if the school, working harmoniously with the home, can make the pupil feel adequate and happy as well as informed — it has given him the greatest heritage possible. Speaking further, she called attention to the very successful bands Miss Goodwin and Mr. Felmet have had in the past, and hoped that all the pupils' would take adavantage of this excellent opportunity to study some musical instrument.

It is of much interest to add that in the Musical Aptitude test given last spring for all the Winchester schools, Stephen Marshall 5th grade pupil in George Washington School, rated highest, as a potential musician.

At the end of the meeting, close to 125 Mothers and teachers gathered around a beautifully decorated tea table. The teachers and our new President, Mrs. Paul La Marche, wore gay corsages, gifts of the Association.

The tea table was presided over by Miss Rich and Mrs. Ben Marshall our retiring President.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE STARTS

With final plans completed and voluntary workers having been given their assignments, Mrs. William W. Davies, III, has announced that a door-to-door canvass will be conducted in conjunction with The Salvation Army Greater Boston Friendly Appeal in Winchester. The canvass will get underway on Monday.

The preliminary launching of the campaign for human needs began early this month when appeal letters were mailed to Winchester residents.

Mrs. Davies, who is overall residential chairman, urges workers for a complete canvass to assure success of the Appeal for $6500.

"Every street and home must be canvassed," she said, if our goal is to be met. Last year we went over the top. There is no reason why we can't meet with the same success this year."

On the heels of Mrs. Davies' statement, General Chairman Dr. Forbes H. Norris reports that Scituate became the first of 46 cities and towns in the Friendly Appeal to reach its quota of $1200.

"In fact," he added, "the figures are now close to $1500 and more contributions are still coming in."

Among other key leaders in the Winchester drive are Ralph L. Purrington, vice chairman; Mrs. Alexander M. Clark, residential co-chairman; Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker and Mrs. Lewis M. Foster, residential vice chairman; and E. Dean Duncan, chairman of the business district.

Davenport Field Davis, treasurer, will accept individual donations if not given to workers.

FORUM YOUNG PEOPLE TO SPEAK AT THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Three young people, David Archibald, Virginia Bullard, and Richard Rush, will speak briefly at the morning church service of the First Congregational Church regarding their experiences at the summer conferences which they attended last summer as representatives of the Forum. David Archibald attended the second conference at Pine Woods, Virginia Bullard was at Wilbraham Academy and Richard Rush was a delegate to the first conference at Pine Woods. These three young people are representing the 22 Forum and Junior High members who attended conferences at Wilbraham, Pine Woods, Cowasset, Becket, and Deering. It was the largest representation this church has ever sent, and all 22 delegates came back with new enthusiasm and ideas for the coming year in Forum. High School young people are invited to attend the Family Day service with their parents on Sunday. Dr. Childley will speak on "What Manner of Child?"

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The new president, Mrs. Frank J. Robinson, greeted the many members of the Winchester Home and Garden Club in a charming manner at the first meeting on September 21 at the attractive and hospitable home of Mrs. John B. Wills.

Mrs. Robinson called attention to the Federation meeting to be held at the Copley Plaza at 10 a. m. on October 6, and to the East Middlesex Region benefit and tea for Gore Place Garden at Waltham on October 10-11.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell, who said now was a good time to renew burnt-out lawns, and to divide and replant perennials, leaving room for spring additions.

Mrs. Mitchell then commented on table settings which were placed in turn on a beautiful Colonial table. Mrs. A. P. Aitken used a fruit arrangement with red goblets and white candles and pottery. Mrs. Edwin Chesterman used fall colors from yellow to dark brown with a centerpiece of small dahlias. Mrs. Mitchell combined dusty pink, orchid and violet with an arrangement of pink sedom and petunias, and also a fruit alternate. Mrs. Harrie Y. Nutter had a fruit centerpiece with accessories in harmonizing fall colors.

Many members wore corsages that they had made from their own garden flowers, which added to the festivities of the social hour with refreshments served by Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. O'Leary of Kendall street, with their son, John, a member of the Star press-room staff, have been in Ohio this week visiting their daughter, Mrs. Katherine Traverse.

TWO INJURED IN CRASH ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

Two persons were hospitalized with injuries received Thursday forenoon when a new Pontiac sedan and a DeSoto sedan were in collision on Cambridge street at the intersection of Wildwood street.

According to the police the Pontiac was being driven south on Cambridge street by Henry J. Smith of Gray Gables, Buzzard's Bay. The DeSoto was owned by Maguire Motors of upper Main street and operated by Thomas F. Guthrie of 27 Clyde street, Belmont. Police say he was leaving Wildwood street and crossing Cambridge street in a westerly direction.

The force of the collision drove the two cars some fifteen feet across the road and overturned the DeSoto. Both cars were disabled and had to be towed away. A piece of fire apparatus washed the spilled gasoline from the street.

Riding with Mr. Smith was his wife, Mrs. Hazel Smith, who sustained a broken arm and other injuries. Mr. Guthrie was believed by the police to be quite badly injured and was unable to give any coherent account of the accident. Both he and Mrs. Smith were removed to the Winchester Hospital in the Police Ambulance by Officers James E. Farrell and John F. Hogan.

"Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (I Corinthians 2:12). Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:

"Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and unreal. Spiritual understanding unfolds Mind, — Life, Truth, and Love, — and demonstrates the divine sense, giving the spiritual proof of the universe in Christian Science.

"This understanding is not intellectual, is not the result of scholarly attainments; it is the reality of all things brought to light" (p. 505).

THE RAINBOW MOTHERS' CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Rainbow Mothers' Club met at the home of Mrs. Edith Hanlon, 116 Burlington street, Woburn on Tuesday, September 20. Old and new business was transacted. Plans were made for the Installation Supper for Rainbow Girls to be held on Friday, September 23, in Masonic Hall, Winchester.

A delicious refreshment was served by the hostess, Mrs. Hanlon assisted by Mrs. Hodge and Mrs. Chalk as co-hostesses.

We are looking forward to a larger attendance of Mothers at our October meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Fudge, 19 Fairmount street, Winchester.

DERRO — ANDREWS

Miss Marianne Theresa Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Andrews of 152 Harvard street, Medford, and Thomas Francis Derro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Derro of 431 Washington street, were married Saturday afternoon, September 17, at St. Clement's Church in Somerville. White gladiolas made an attractive setting for the 4 o'clock ceremony which was performed by Rev. Mgr. Robert Barry. Music was by St. Clement's Church Choir.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Andrews had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Natalie Andrews of Medford. Miss Marguerite Derro of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Jean Albanese of Medford and Miss Roberta Pisco of Revere were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of Skinner satin with a bodice of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip-length veil was caught to a crown of the same lace and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and gardenias.

The honor maid wore a seafoam green satin dress with a matching poke bonnet and carried an old fashioned bouquet. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of turquoise blue satin with headpieces of ostrich feathers and turquoise tulle veiling. Their flowers were mixed carnations arranged in cascade bouquets.

Robert Quine of Winchester was Mr. Derro's best man, and the ushers were Ralph Muehlig, Russell Weldon and Samuel Buzzotta, all of Winchester.

After a wedding trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Derro will live in Stoneham at 25 Maple street.

The bride is a graduate of Medford High School. Mr. Derro graduated from Winchester High School and Wentworth Institute. He is now associated with his father in the business of the Derro Construction Company.

HALL — KAKNES

Miss Evelyn Marie Kaknes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Kaknes of 16 Pierrepont road, became the bride of Warren Callam Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hall of Portland, Me., on Sunday, September 4. Rev. Donald B. Tarr officiated at the 5 o'clock ceremony which took place in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church and was followed by a reception at the Yankee Doodle, in Lawrence.

Miss Patricia Kaknes was her sister's only attendant. Creighton M. Gogas, cousin of the bride, was best man for Mr. Hall.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Westbrook Junior College.

After a wedding trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Hall will make their home in Plattsburg, N. Y.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Burgoyne of Norwood street are observing their 55th wedding anniversary on Sunday, September 25.

Latest reports on Fred H. Scholl, who underwent an operation at the Baker Memorial Hospital, Boston, on Tuesday are that he is resting comfortably.

Mr. John White of Calumet, Mich., has been in town this week visiting his brother, Mr. Erskine N. White and his mother, Mrs. Stanley White of New York who is stopping at the White residence in Rangely.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Lybeck of Everell road are back in town after spending the summer in their summer home on South Main street in Kennebunk Port, Me.

WINCHESTER BOYS WITH HARVARD ON THE COAST

Winchester is well represented in the Harvard football party at Palo Alto in California where the Crimson meets Stanford University on Saturday. The veteran "Chucker" Roche, left half-back, and reserve backs, John West and Sarto Walsh are the Winchester players along, with Hal Knowlton, brother of Winchester High's Coach, Henry Knowlton, and himself a former Winchester football Captain, one of the trainers with the team.

Clippings from the STAR Files

FIFTY YEARS AGO

September 1, 1899

In view of the fact that all the towns and cities in this section, so far as known, have boards of trade, or associations of the business interests, it seems singular that Winchester should have so long neglected this important matter. Such an association of the mercantile interests is absolutely necessary if the home trade is to be kept where it rightfully belongs. Why is it so many hundreds of tons of coal are brought into Winchester by outside dealers? Why such large quantities of groceries and provisions? These are only a few questions that might come before such an association.

William Smith and Roland Simonds returned this week from a delightful trip to the Land of Evangeline.

Contractor Thomas Quigley is making quite a hole in the town ledge on Highland avenue and Eaton street. For the first time system has been used in getting out the stone, and about a few months constant work would now be required to clean up the whole business. When this is done the entire neighborhood will be glad.

The Jewish cemetery in Montvale and Winchester Highlands was formally opened on Sunday, August 20. There was a very large attendance. The cemetery is the property of Pride of Mass. Lodge A.B.A., a Boston organization.

A piano organ, drawn by a horse, was one of the sights of Thursday. This bespoke a prosperous season for the two Italian owners.

While Mr. Barron was riding his wheel last Saturday on Washington street he was attacked by two dogs. While freeing himself from one the other succeeded in tearing a good sized hole in one of his stockings. Fortunately no blood was drawn. We learn that these same dogs have made similar attacks, and in one instance tore a man's trousers beyond repair. Chief McIntosh put them where Winchester will have no more trouble from them.

The famous Kentucky saddle horse "Searchlight" has been purchased by Thomas W. Lawson from S. J. Look of Lexington, Ky., for $3,500.

At "Governors Day" at South Framingham last Friday, Mr. Ed. B. Smalley of this town was selected orderly of the day for Brig.-Gen. Matthews.

Each year sees Wildwood Cemetery growing more and more beautiful. How many of the inhabitants take the trouble to go over and see this charming burial place for the departed? All who visit the cemetery, either on foot or in carriages, will be well repaid many times for their trouble, and we know the cemetery commissioners would be pleased to have them do so.

The flower Mission has closed for the season. Thanks have been received from Boston for the many beautiful flowers sent in this dry summer, and the committee feel much pleased with the success of the work.

There is a general feeling that our schools are not what they should be and that some action must be taken to improve them. It is suggested that the school committee be increased to six members, two of whom shall be women, as under all the circumtances, the best way to bring about the hoped-for improvement.

We hear of a case where a citizen had induced a friend to come out and look at some Winchester real estate, and the first remark he made upon alighting from the train was, "Well you don't take much care of your common." This may not have had much to do with his locating in Arlington, but all such things have their effect and our Park Board should not neglect its public duties the way it has.

At the Foresters picnic in Woburn last week Mr. Victor Place won in placing the 16-pound shot bag 33 ft. 5½ in.

Why is it that in low priced houses where there is a bathroom, they always put in a set bowl at an added expense of $25 or more, beside $2 a year for the faucet, when a basin could so easily be swung over the tub without expense and serve the same purpose.

Who is to care for our dirty ponds? Somebody has got to, either the owners, the town or the State Board of Health. All pieces of water large or small should be kept clean as well as the land and we ought to recognize it. We don't want these malaria breeders.

25 YEARS AGO

September 5, 1924

Mr. Samuel J. Elder of this town, who is traveling in England this summer with his daughter, Miss Margaret M. Elder, recently figured in a rescue on the River Dee, near Chester, in which he saved a canoeist from being drowned after his craft had been run down by an excursion steamer. English papers made much of the rescue and Mr. Elder undoubtedly proved his worth in courage and abiiity.

Winchester Legion won a decisive victory over the Woburn City Club, 11-1, in the second game of the series between the two clubs on Manchester Field Labor Day afternoon. Winchester hit Linscott, visiting pitcher hard while big Mark Kelley, as in the series opener, stopped Woburn with four hits. "Mex" also scored a pair of runs on three nice hits, including a lofty triple that went into the river and had a lot to do with Linscott's downfall.

The float entered by Winchester Lodge of Elks in the big Labor Day parade under the auspices of the Wakefield Lodge was awarded the second prize of $50 in gold, first place going to Gloucester by a narrow margin. The foundation of the float was one of G. W. Blanchard's trucks which was decorated for the occasion in the Elks' colors of white and purple. Mrs. Ben Cullen, representing Charity, was depicted seated upon a throne beneath a huge arch surrounded by several kiddies, including Fred Scholl, Jr; Donald Fenton, Rita Moffett, Margery Horne and Mathew Murray. At the rear of the float was painted a large Elk's head and symbols of the lodge, the work of Mr. Carl Larsen. A feature of the Winchester float was the singing of popular songs in the various towns through which the parade passed by "Sonny" Murray.

Midshipman Harry B. Heneberger is spending September leave from the Naval Academy at his home, 43 Myrtle terrace. During the summer he was with the battleship fleet in European Waters. He is a member of this term's graduating class at Annapolis.

In order to stimulate and further paddling on the Mystic Lakes Marshall Symmes has offered a fine silver trophy to be raced for by club four crews.

J. L. S. Barton, F. F. Nazro and J. A. Dolben all had 73s to tie for gross honors in last Saturday's medal play at the Winchester Country Club. Scott Hanford's 68 was best net.

Little Mary Doherty of Winchester won the novice race for girls in the M. D. C. 's second annual swimming carnival at Sandy Beach on Mystic Lake last Saturday afternoon. In the races for older competitors Mary also made a fine showing, placing second in the 50 and 100 yard sprint races and also finishing second in the 200 yard event.

Last Monday's thunder storm was more severe than many supposed and did considerable damage about town, striking the residence of Benjamin Todesca on Tremont street and also the double house on Water street owned by John F. Cassidy and occupied by T. Henry Haley and James F. Maguire. A huge oak in front of the home of Claude H. Fleming on Grassmere avenue was also completely riven by a heavy bolt of lightning, big splinters weighing more than 100 pounds being hurled 50 ft. Shingles were ripped from the Fleming house and Mr. Fleming was knocked down by the force of the shock when the tree was struck.

This fall sees two new Reo owners in town, both enjoying balloon tires, disc wheels and the latest wrinkles. They are Messrs. Barton K. Stephenson of Walnut street and Howard L. Bennett of Highland avenue.

Florist George F. Arnold has a fine dahlia exhibition in his windows on Common street. Each blossom is ticketed with its name, and the variety and beauty of the flowers have excited much comment. They are from the gardens of Miss Hattie E. Snow.

H. M. S. PINAFORE REHEARSALS IN FULL SWING

Rehearsals for H. M. S. Pinafore, the tuneful Gilbert and Sullivan operetta to be presented by the high school glee clubs early in December are uncovering a surprising amount of talent developed by Miss Eleanor Anifantis, supervisor of vocal music, during the past two years of special work with both boys and girls glee clubs.

The selection of principals and their supporting cast is progressing rapidly, and the fact that Pinafore is the first operetta to be presented by high school pupils in recent years is adding to the interest always aroused by a Gilbert and Sullivan show.

Two evening performances are planned for December 9 and 10. Proceeds from the operetta will be used to purchase choir robes for the glee club and properties for the dramatic club of the high school.

STIMULATING PROGRAM

A stimulating program of speakers ranging from a specialist on alcoholism to an explorer was announced yesterday by Mrs. George Blair, Chairman of the Evening Group of the Women's Alliance, for the new organization's second winter schedule.

The aim of the seven meetings, to be held the first Monday evening of each month at the Unitarian Church, is to provide a thought-provoking form with universal appeal. Coffee will be served following the talks and discussion. Mrs. Blair stressed that everyone in the town was welcome.

Speakers are Dr. Joseph Thimann, Medical Director of Washington Hospital, "Personality Disorders," October 3; Dr. Robert L. Nichols, Head of Dept. of Geology, Tufts College, "Beyond the Arctic and Antarctic Circles," November 7; Mrs. Marjorie Seavey Humphries, Director of the Juvenile Clinic of the National Assoc. of Women Lawyers, "The Juvenile and the Law," December 5.

Others will be Prof. Carle Zimmerman, noted Professor of Sociology at Harvard, "Family Relations," January 9; February 6, speaker to be announced ; March 14 meeting in conjunction with the Afternoon Alliance, Mrs. Adele Hoos Lee will give readings; April 3, Miss Muriel Goodwin, British Vice Consul, "Conditions in Britain."

Officers of the Evening Group this season are:

Chairman .. Mrs. George Blair
Secretary .. Mrs. Robert B. Williams
Treasurer .. Mrs. Olive M. McKinnon
Program .. Mrs. Melvin Sears
Refreshments .. Mrs. Robert Low
Service .. Miss Dorothy Gove and Mrs. Peter Laban

CONFERENCE DELEGATES MEET

Sunday evening September 18, at 5:30, 22 delegates from the Forum to the summer conferences of 1948 and 1949 met at the First Congregational Church to reminisce about their experiences at the various conferences, and to suggest plans for the coming year. Enthusiasm ran high as the young people talked over the fun and inspiration they had had and the friends they had made. Mr. Leon Fernandez, Sr., was introduced to the group and spoke briefly about his hopes for the coming year, in his new role as Forum Superintendent and advisor to the Senior Class. Mr. Fernandez bought "cokes" for everyone, and Mrs. Richard M. Rush sent cookies. Those present were: Cynthia Morse, Betty Ann Parker, Virginia Bullard, from Wilbraham Conference, Carolyn Padelford, Mary Jane Davis, and Peter Coon from Camp Becket Conference, Dick Rush, David Archibald, Gordon Bird, Bob Burnham, and Nancy Kittell from Pine Woods Conferences, Leon Fernandez, Barbara Macaulay from Deering Officers' Conference, Edward Tarr and Janet Archibald from Cowasset Junior High Conference, Nancy Ross and Jennifer Meigs from Camp Yiu Ch'ing, Trevor Smith, Danny Blanchard, Donald Cameron, Marjorie Zinn, and Norman Makechnie from last year's conferences. Also invited, but unable to attend were Pat Kaknes from Wilbraham, John Atkinson from Yiu Ch'ing, Emily Hood from Northfield Missionary Conference, and Lois Bigelow, Dorothy Brandt, Dick Wickerson, from the 1948 conferences.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SCHOOL OPENING

Final preparations for the enrollment of nearly 500 children at the Church School of the First Congregational Church are being made for the opening on this Sunday, Sept. 25. Twelve Forum young people will be assigned to strategic points throughout the Parish Hall to guide parents and children to the proper class-rooms. This will be a splendid help to the many new parents of Winchester who have stated their intention of registering their children in this Church School for the first time.

All departments from Nursery for children from 2½ to 4 years of age, through Intermediate, children of the 5th and 6th grades, will begin at 10:45, the time of the morning worship service of the church. The time for the opening of the Junior High Department is 9:30 o'clock.

Since this is to be observed as Family Day at the church service, parents are invited to bring their children to the opening of the Church School, then attend church while the children are in their classes.

The teaching staff is as follows: Nursery, Superintendent, Mrs. Alexander M. Clark. Teachers, Mrs. F. M. Cooper and Mrs. Otis R. Jason.

Kindergarten, Superintendent, Mrs. Colver P. Dyer. Teachers, Mrs. Harold H. McKinley and Miss Sylvia Smith.

Primary, Superintendent, Mrs. Charles M. Vanner. Teachers, Mrs. Raymond J. Carter, Mrs. Carl G. Richmond, Mrs. Clifton W. McNeill, Mrs. Lucien B. Lillie, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Mrs. Ira A. Miller and Mrs. William B. Howells.

Junior, Superintendent, Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald. Teachers, Mrs. Chester W. Smith, Mrs. Malcolm G. Dodge, Mrs. George E. Nettleton, Mrs. Fred J. Schiffmacher, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Henry W. Isaman.

Intermediate, Superintendent, Mr. Edward A. Robinson. Teachers Miss Agnes Neilsen, Mrs. Alfred G. Nelson, Mr. Richard B. Lewis, Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, and Mrs. Franklin McDermott.

Junior High, Superintendent, Mrs. Norman J. Padelford. Teachers, Mr. Charles R. Fish, Mr. George E. Traut, Mr. Otis R. Jason, Mr. J. Andrew Millican and Mr. Lawrence W. Hayes.

The Senior Forum for High School young people meets for the first time at a supper meeting on Sunday, October 2. The Superintendent is Mr. Leon E. Fernandez.

In addition to these people many more have volunteered to serve as associate teachers and helpers. Mr. Chester W. Smith serves as Executive Superintendent of the School.

WINCHESTER TOASTMISTRESS CLUB

The Winchester Toastmistress Club will be represented by Mrs. Helen Pietz, President, of Medford, and Miss Hilda Hope, Vice-President, of Winchester, on the Speakers Bureau Committee of the T. B. X-Ray Program in Boston.

The Club is furnishing 15 speakers for this T. B. Program, all of whom have developed their ability to speak and think on their feet, with poise and confidence through the Club's training program.

Winchester Toastmistress Club is affiliated with Toastmistress International, having over 200 clubs throughout the country and several foreign branches. The purpose of Toastmistress Clubs is to promote improvement, through study and practice in conversation, speech, group leadership and critical listening.

The importance of the T. B. X-Ray program cannot be stressed too strongly as everyone should become familiar with its significance. Other groups supplying speakers on this program are the Boston Toastmasters who will supply about 40 speakers. The medical profession will furnish speakers as will the Speaking Organizations among the Boston Bankers. On the Committees there will be Negro and Chinese persons representing their people.

Tennis Balls at Wilson the Stationer. Star office Bldg.

Traffic through town was very heavy last Sunday as many drove through Winchester on their way to visit the Jewish cemeteries to the north of the town in Montvale. There were thousands of visitors at the cemeteries, but for all the heavy traffic no accidents were reported in connection with the visitation.

ROTARY OUTING

A small, select group of Rotarians were entertained at John 'Nino' Navarro's place at Point-of-Pines on Thursday last evening. It was select because although every member of the club was invited only those who had ever been or wanted to be or ran for selectmen of Winchester showed up probably thinking that it was a left-wing party caucus. However it turned out to be nothing more or less than a clam bake.

Upon arrival the guests were greeted by their host who was gowned in a saffron colored pair of nylon trousers with a matching field green blouse of the sheerest material -the whole effect being of a slightly overdressed prima donna long after her prima days were lost. The many roomed mansion was wisely turned over in its entirety to the party, the host having decided that other people or servants might be in the way or at least badly hurt before the evening was over. At the rear of the house in what used to be a two car garage there was a rumpus room daintily decorated by Nino in old fish nets that he had caught on his boat in the dark of the night while getting the lobsters from strange traps set in odd places. A juke box played Nocturnes and Fugues while the guests drank stale cokes and hard cider to wash down some delightfully damp potato chips left over from the Dewey campaign. As soon as the riot squad had cleaned out the majority of the guests and the patrol wagon arrived with Joe Moffett they all sat down at a long table in the spacious yard and expectantly awaited the food.

Meanwhile Charlie Murphy had found not only a free pin ball machine and was beating the glass in trying to win nickels from Sid Elliot and Ben Brennan but he had also discovered a deep freeze wherein was the supplies to run the 'Country plete' for the following year. He and Gene Pollard who was supposed to be cooking the lobsters and clams proceeded to make quite a dent in the cold meats and potato salad. Soon however the noise from the guests was so loud that they reluctantly served up the clams and lobsters. Some of the more gullible guests who had not eaten any lunch in anticipation of a feast, such as Phil Gallagher and Don Heath had to have two lobsters while Pat Foley and Abbot Bradley went around eating clams that were left by the more polite guests. Other food must have been served for everyone seemed to have had enough to eat and after an hour or more they gradually pushed away from the table and repaired to the sun porch where television finished the evening on a sober note.

Taken all in all it was a party that might have put Elsa Maxwell to shame and except for a few like Don Simonds who went around complaining that he had had no water at his place nearly everyone else felt that John had finally come through after two years of promises and gustatory talk. A word to those who couldn't or wouldn't make it this time . . . Don't miss the one in '52.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

A somewhat smaller increase in the Monday-after-school opening enrollment than was anticipated produced some rather interesting figures. In a year when kindergarten age children were expected to send enrollment figures upward, an actual decrease of twenty appears. Partial explanation of this fact may be the 1949-1950 ruling that children must be five years of age on or before December 31.

However grades one, two, and three show increases that are in keeping with the general trend all over the nation.

The distribution of pupils in the public schools is as follows:

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL PARENTS-FACULTY ASS'N

At the request of the faculty of the High School, a parents-faculty group is being formed. An organization committee met at the home of Mrs. James Coon on Thursday evening, September 15th. Those present were:

Mr. Wade L. Grindle, principal of the H. S.
Mrs. George Marks, president of Winchester Mothers' Ass'n.
Mrs. Edward Stacy, representing H. S. faculty
Mr. Otis Jason, representing H. S. faculty
Mrs. Joseph Derro
Mr. John Donovan
Mrs. Frank Hawkins
Mr. Waldon Hersey

Mrs. Russell Symmes was unable to attend, but is serving as a member of the committee.

It is planned that this group shall become a chapter of the Winchester Mothers' Association and work along similar lines to the other chapters, but in closer touch and having some joint meetings with the Junior High Associates.

In order to expedite the formation of the High School chapter, a nominating committee and a constitution and by-laws committee were appointed.

The nominating committee has Mr. Donovan for its chairman with Mr. Grindle serving ex-officio, Mrs. Stacy, Mrs. Derro, Mrs. Mullen, and Mr. Hersey.

Mr. Jason is chairman of the constitution and by-laws committee, with Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Symmes assisting.

On the evening of the High School Open House, time will be allowed at the beginning for the parents and faculty to meet in the auditorium and act upon the reports of these committees.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Mr. Paine, the Hospital's Administrator, has returned from the four-day Building and Equipment Conference held at Colby College, Maine, under the auspices of the Division of Hospital Survey and Construction of the Public Health Service of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the national government. About sixty men and women were in attendance, representing a dozen hospitals, all of them with approximately the same problems and all of them receiving federal aid for building. Matters of equipment, in relation to the professional services of a hospital staff and the comfort of patients, engaged most of the time of the conference.

On September fifteenth the Hospital welcomed back from her year of study the Superintendent of Nurses, Miss Laura Rogers, and said farewell to Mrs. Angeline R. O'Leary, Acting Superintendent during the past year. Mrs. O'Leary's excellent service has left the Hospital and the community much in her debt.

DEDICATED TO THE PUBLIC INTEREST . . .

Today we dedicate to service in the public interest the largest electrical generating unit ever installed in New England. On the basis of preliminary tests we believe that it is today the most efficient and economical steam electric generating unit in the world — measured by the amount of fuel necessary to produce a kilowatthour of electricity. With Edgar No. 4 on the line, Boston Edison now has a total generating capacity of 639,160 kilowatts, as compared with 389,160 kilowatts ten years ago.

Thus the electrical needs of Greater Boston — its industries, its commercial establishments, its homes — are being anticipated. The completion of Edgar No. 4 is the first major step in a program of construction involving very large capital outlays over the next few years. The necessary funds are being provided by individuals, insurance companies, and financial institutions who, by their purchase of Boston Edison securities, are demonstrating that they share our confidence in the future growth and prosperity of the New England area.

Where Sixty Minutes
Seem but Half an Hour!

You rest your hand on the beautiful steering wheel and press your toe—ever so lightly—against the obedient throttle . . . and you're off on a wonderful journey.

Your ride is free and easy and restful. You just sit—and relax—and enjoy the scenery—and the companionship of those about you. Conversation is as easy as if you were sitting in your own drawing room—for the car is so quiet you can hear the soft ticking of the electric clock.

The labor of driving is almost non-existent. The big powerful motor moves you in and out of traffic as if by automatic propulsion. Steering is little more than a response to your wish. Brakes are light to the touch and velvety-smooth in action.

You are as relaxed and care-free as the happy passengers around you.

For you do little more than the thinking—and the car does the rest.

And then a familiar landmark looms in the distance. Can it be that you are there?

You look at the clock and you look at the speedometer—and, surely enough, the time and the distance have passed, and your journey is over.

Better come in and see for yourself that—when you sit at the wheel of a Cadillac—sixty minutes seem but half an hour!

Distinguished by a Beauty All Its Own!

Any way you look at it, there's an unmistakable stamp of distinction about the new Pontiac. It's a beauty from the front and it's a beauty from the rear—it has a personality all its own.

Whether you see the "Silver Streak" in city traffic—notice it ahead of you on the highway—or look at its smart, silhouette at the curb—you know immediately that it's a Pontiac and something very special among automobiles.

But those who drive a Pontiac know that its performance is equally unmistakable. There's nothing quite like a Pontiac for sparkling alertness, for smooth, effortless power. And, as the miles unfold, you'll appreciate Pontiac's fine-car comfort and luxury and the amazing driving convenience of GM Hydra-Matic Drive.*

And what does all this cost? Far less than you think—for Pontiac, wonderful as it is, is priced just above the very lowest. Pontiac is, in fact, the lowest-priced straight eight in America.

We would like very much to give you the whole Pontiac story—a story that covers everything that makes a car really good. Why not come in soon?

SAFE-T-NEW DRIVER VIEW! You can really watch the miles unfold, thanks to Pontiac's new, wide windshield which is optically curved for better vision. Pillars are slimmer, the hood is lower, all windows are larger—everywhere you look Pontiac gives you a whole new driving horizon!

The Most Beautiful Thing on Wheels—
Plus All These Added Advantages!

1. America's Lowest-Priced Straight Eight. 2. Completely New Bodies by Fisher. 3. Wider Seats—Added Room. 4. Wide, Easy-Access Doors. 5. New Wide-Horizon Curved Windshield. 6. COMMUNITY CONCERTS OPEN THURSDAY OCTOBER 20 WITH DE PAUR INFANTRY CHORUS

The hundreds of subscribers to Winchester's Community Concert Series will welcome the announcement that this year's series will open on Thursday evening, October 20, at the High School auditorium with the widely celebrated De Paur Infantry Chorus. This magnificent Negro chorus of thirty-six voices was trained and directed by Leonard De Paur, one of the world's greatest living directors.

Paul Makovsky, the brilliant young violinist will appear as the second attraction on Tuesday evening, January 3, and the final concert will be given on Thursday, March 23 by Nicole Henriot, the much heralded French pianist who made her American debut in January, 1948.

All these artists are of the high caliber that is expected of Community Concerts, and the Winchester Smith College club whose scholarship fund benefits from the proceeds, is proud of the privilege of making it possible for them to appear locally.

Among those planning to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nason, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. William Schrafft, Mr. and Mrs. James Harlow, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, Jr., Sen. and Mrs. Harris Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Davenport Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. GIRL SCOUT NEWS

As is usual with a volunteer organization, there is a need for helpers; and the Winchester Girl Scouts do need leaders! With this in mind, Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, our Executive Director met with representatives of the Mothers' Association of each school last Tuesday morning. Any mother who is willing to be a leader, or who is willing to help with a troop is urged to call at the Scout Office in the Lyceum building or phone WInchester 6-2592. If you have a specialty or hobby or just like girl and Girl Scouting, we shall welcome you and your assistance!

To the Girl Scouts of Winchester . . . a special note: Please check with your parents to see if they have sent their donation to the Scout Cabin Fund! Also, please note the advertisement for the Cabin, and ask your Dad to please check whatever he can and will help with . . . and send it in, as requested. Perh ps there is something he can do to help that is just what we need! This is a Girl Scout Cabin for Winchester, and we want and need the cooperation of all the Girl Scout families of Winchester . . . in time and work, and/or money. "Buy a Log Today" or sign up for helping with the Cabin as the Rotarians are doing! Let's make this a real community Cabin . . . for the Girl Scouts and their activities!

Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. George Cary, Commissioner, announce that Troop Rallies are scheduled as follows:

Parkhurst - Monday, September 26th at 3:15.
Lincoln - Tuesday, September 27th at 3:15.
Mystic - Wednesday, September 28th at 3:15.
Wyman - Thursday, September 29th at 3:15.
Washington, - Friday, September 30th at 3:15.
Senior Scouts - Monday, October 3rd at 2:30 at the Girl Scout Office.
Noonan School - Tuesday, October 4th at Noonan - 3:15.
7th and 8th grade - Wednesday, October 5th at 2:30 at Lyceum Hall.

Unless announced otherwise in the schools.

This means that all girls who are Scouts or who are interested in becoming Girl Scouts are urged to be present at their School at the time and the day designated . . . See you there!

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB PICNIC

Reservations are coming in well for the Wednesday Night Club Picnic which is being held this Saturday at Sheep Fold picnic grounds, Stoneham.

Plans have been completed for games starting at four o'clock, picnic supper at five-thirty and square dancing at the church starting at eight o'clock. It is hoped that members will be able to enjoy the entire program, but they will be most welcome at any part which they are able to attend.

Reservations may be made by calling WInchester 6-1548-W or WInchester 6-1233-M. Anyone in doubt about how to get to the picnic grounds or needing transportation should call Larry Cooper at WInchester 6-2571-W.

In case of rain the picnic supper will be served in the Parish Hall at five-thirty.

Miss Sally Blanchard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Blanchard of Mt. Pleasant street, after completing two years at Jackson College, entered the Boston Nursery School this week.

COFFEE HOUR AT MORNINGS OF DIVERSION

A group of Winchester Wellesley Club members, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Roy W. Wilson, will be in charge of the coffee hour at the Winchester Mornings of Diversion to be held this fall at the Music Hall, starting on Friday, October 7. This is the second series of three morning lectures and concerts which the Wellesley Club has sponsored in order to raise money for the 75th Anniversary Fund of the college. The topics this year include a survey of the theatre in the 20th century, a piano concert and discussion of contemporary music, and an analysis of U. S. - Foreign Relations.

Speakers will be Eldon Winkler of the Wellesley Summer Theatre on October 7, Gregory Tucker of the Longy School and M. I. T. on October 28, and Saville Davis of the Christian Science Monitor on November 18. All of the "Mornings" will be held on Friday with coffee served at 10 o'clock and the lecture following at 10:30. Among those who will assist Mrs. Wilson during the coffee hour are Mrs. John L. Graves, Mrs. Parker Heath, Miss Gertrude Hall, Mrs. Whitelaw Wright, Mrs. Alan A. Smith, Mrs. Ralph E. Sexton, and Mrs. Ralph S. Vinal.

Among the subscribers are Mrs. Clarence Whorf, Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, Mrs. William Lunsford, Mrs. Harry Whiton, Mrs. Albert D. Swazey, Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, Mrs. Austin T. Bunker, Mrs. William O. Thompson, Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Mrs. Murray S. Moore, Miss Eleanor Dow, Mrs. Russell Symmes, Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, Mrs. Ernest Wright, Mrs. R. N. Hallowell, Mrs. T. A. Fisher, Mrs. Ransom E. Smith, Mrs. Herbert Preble, Mrs. Thomas Hennessey, Mrs. Lindsay H. Caldwell, and Mrs. George Gowdy.

Also Mrs. Joseph T. McCauley, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. Paul B. Leverette, Mrs. James Flynn, Mrs. Frank R. Creelman, Mrs. George K. HOBBY CENTER FOOD SALE

A famous chef from a popular Boston hotel will make the decorated cake to be auctioned off at the Craft and Food Sale of the Winchester Hobby Center on Saturday, October 1st, from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m.

That's just one of the highlights of this benefit to be given so that the activities planned for both children and adults can be carried on at the Center this year. Other special cakes, including a surprise cake for a child's party, will be up for bidding. Then among the special exhibits are the herb recipes of great-grandmother's time collected by Mrs. Enid Fairbairn, a descendant of Governor Bradford, in her popular herb cook book "Grandma's Way With Herbs." The Craft and Food Sale will also feature her hand-dipped bayberry candles and her old-fashioned sea moss hand lotion.

There will be all types of hand made and originally designed textiles, leather, wood, metal, jewelry, and woven articles - - timely suggestions for your Christmas list.

Homemade candy, as well as tantalizing specialties of some of Winchesters best cooks will be available and you can buy the makings of a real Yankee supper from clam chowder to bake beans.

So if food is your hobby, or arts and crafts, visit the Winchester Hobby Center, 12 Bacon street, Saturday afternoon, October 1st, from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. Come if you can, help if you can, or if you'd like - - just contribute. Contact Mrs. Henry Harris, WInchester 6-2683.

DANCING ASSEMBLIES

Last week the chairmen of the various sixth grade Dancing Classes met, along with the seventh and eighth grade committee members, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth. Mr. Russell Curry and Mr. Harry Raymond of the Curry School of Dancing discussed policies and procedures for the benefit of the new chairmen and gave us the schedules for the different schools.

For those who have recently come to Winchester, or those whose youngsters are newly in the sixth grade, we of the committee would like you to know that these dancing classes carry on from sixth grade through the Freshman year in High School. Too, boys as well as girls usually attend all four years. We urge every parent to visit sometime during the term's classes to see for yourselves how much the children learn and the fun they have!

The chairmen this year are: Mrs. John Page, for Wyman School; Mrs. Sears Walker, for Mystic; Mrs. Frank McDermott for Parkhurst; Mrs. Clarence Donaghey for Noonan; Mrs. Kenneth Cullen for Lincoln School; and Mrs. C. C. Peters for Washington School. Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth is chairman of the eighth grade Committee and Mrs. James K. McElroy is chairman of the seventh grade Committee.

KNOCKED FROM BIKE IN COLLISION WITH CAR

Charles Carlson, 9, of 3 Euclid avenue, was painfully injured last Friday afternoon shortly after 5:30 when he was knocked from his bike in a collision with an automobile at Forest street and Garfield avenue.

According to the Police James J. Haggerty, Jr., of 12 Baldwin street was driving a Graham Paige sedan westerly on Forest street when the Carlson boy rode out of Garfield avenue onto Forest street at a good rate of speed.

Haggerty veered his machine sharply to the left, but was unsuccessful in his attempt to avoid a collision, the impact of which knocked the Carlson boy from his bike, but strangely enough did not damage the machine badly.

The youngster was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. William F. Hickey, Jr., for a cut on the left leg and an injured left shoulder. Three stitches had to be taken to close the cut in his leg, but his injuries were not considered serious and he was discharged after treatment.

Police say Officer William E. Cassidy, who investigated the accident, was told by another boy that he and young Carlson had been racing on bicycles before the accident.

THE SENIOR FORUM PLANS FOR OPENING SUPPER

The Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will open its twelfth successive year on October 2 with a registration supper and candlelight service. Dr. Dwight Smith, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Congregational Church in Boston will address the young people. His subject is "The Salt of the Earth."

Committees have been at work for some time to assure a big turnout and a successful evening. Marjorie Zinn and Dorothy Parker, assisted by Mrs. Ernest L. Parker and Mrs. Carl Morse, are in charge of the supper. Mildred True and Janet Easton assisted by Mrs. Carl Richmond will decorate the tables. Dorothy Brandt and Jerry Moulton, assisted by Dr. Milne Blanchard will head the Glee Club and choir. Brenda Bow and Dick Rush are planning the worship service culminating in a beautiful candlelight ceremony. Harris McDonald and Janet Macaulay are in charge of the altar flowers.

Before the supper there will be a social hour of getting acquainted in the Ladies' Parlor at 4:45, under the leadership of Nancy Kittell and Gordon Bird, Jr.

Robert Singer, last year's Forum President, will pass on his office to Leon Fernandez. Other officers to be installed are: Vice President, Barbara Macaulay; Recording Secretary, Mary Baylies; Corresponding Secretaries, Cynthia Morse and Betty Ann Parker; Treasurer, Herbert Skerry; Assistant Treasurer, David Archibald.

David Snow and his committee under the direction of Mr. Lyndon Burnham, hope to have an issue of Forum Flashes out soon.

Each class is having a hot dog roast before Forum opens or immediately afterwards, to discuss some of the Forum plans and to become acquainted with their new Forum advisers. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fernandez are sponsoring the Senior Class and representing the Forum on the Board of Directors. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ulfelder will sponsor the Juniors, Mr. and Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves the Sophomores. The Freshmen advisers will be announced soon. The Juniors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Burnham last Sunday, at 4:30, and the Seniors will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fernandez Saturday, October 1, after the football game. Sophomores will have a picnic this coming Friday at the Sheepfold, leaving the church at 4:30. Freshmen will have their picnic next week.

OBSERVED 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Edward S. Larned of 149 Highland avenue observed her 90th birthday on Tuesday, September 27, being at home to neighbors and friends during the afternoon and entertaining her family and out-of-town friends during the evening. Assisting in the celebration of the momentous event were Mrs. Larned's three daughters, Miss Dorothy Larned, dean of Framingham State Teachers College; Mrs. John Hamilton Clarke of Winchester and Mrs. G. Fred Ashworth of Squantum.

In excellent health, Mrs. Larned thoroughly enjoyed her birthday celebration and the many flowers, cards, gifts and other expressions of good will. An appropriately decorated birthday cake featured the refreshments. Mrs. Larned is one of seven children, all but one of whom is living and in close touch with one another.

HOW TO TELL TIME BY THE TOWN CLOCK

First look at the Town Clock. But don't be alarmed.

Second, substract one hour from the time indicated.

Third, add two minutes for accuracy.

If these directions are followed, you will have a fairly correct idea of the time a-day.

Note: You only have to do this for an indefinite period twice a year.

LOCAL SHOPPERS ATTEND A & P OPENING

Hundreds and hundreds of Winchester and Woburn residents were on hand to greet the new A & P supermarket at Main and Fowle streets, Woburn, Wednesday night at its preview and Thursday morning at the grand opening.

The modern supermarket features more than 3,000 different food items in its eight complete food departments.

"Installation of these food departments, each fitted with the most modern equipment available, enables us to offer the public the most complete service in the company's history," according to Joseph W. Kelly, vice-president of A & P.

"This store combines the practical results of years of experimental work. Although some of the innovations are still in the experimental stage, we are convinced that this type of food outlet will be the accepted standard in the near future."

A parking area surrounding the new supermarket accommodates more than 100 automobiles, Mr. Kelly pointed out.

An innovation in the supermarket is the installation of an air-cooled meat cutting and packaging room. All cutting, weighing and packaging of meats will be done in the glass-enclosed room, completely visible from the floor of the store, before the items are placed in self-service refrigerated cases.

Manager of the supermarket is Ernest Dufour. He is assisted by Donald Nolan and the following department heads: Edward Nowell, meats; Alex Napolitano, produce; and John Marre, coffee-dairy.

Departments specializing in the handling of foods are bakery, candy, fresh produce, frozen foods, grocery, dairy, coffee and meat. Each department has the self-service feature.

Development of completely new and streamlined shelving permits the display of a wider variety of fruits and vegetables. Other features include fluorescent lighting and a new type checkout stand that is expected to expedite the checking out procedure.

WINCHESTER COUNTRY DAY SCHOOL OPENS

The Winchester Country Day School opened its Fall term on Monday, September 19. This year Mrs. Walter M. Ennis, Jr., director of the school, announces the addition of a kindergarten group. The teaching staff includes Mrs. Donald Warren, Miss Virginia Symmes, and Mrs. Ennis. Mrs. Warren and Miss Symmes have studied at Boston University and the Nursery Training School of Boston.

The first Mothers' Tea was held on Monday afternoon, September 26, at the school. Mrs. Ennis welcomed the mothers and then talked of the plans for the year ahead. Mrs. Warren and Miss Symmes then spoke, telling what the children in their groups could expect to gain from their play and work. Following this each teacher went to her own room and talked with the mothers of her children.

The school's first project was discussed and planned for Friday, September 30, when the kindergarten group will attend the Hamid-Morton Circus in Boston.

COMMUNITY FUND HEADQUARTERS OPENS AT POLICE STATION

The headquarters for Winchester's 1950 Red Feather Drive opened this week in the basement of the Police Station. Serving as base of operation for over 700 Winchester workers, the Headquarters will be operated by Mrs. Neil Borden with her co-chairmen Mrs. Wade Grindle and Mrs. Frank Horn. Also working at the Headquarters will be Mrs. Opal Beggs, Mrs. Glen Browning, Mrs. Florence Butler, Mrs. Frederick Craven, Mrs. Frank Hawkins, Mrs. Ronald King, Mrs. William Kugler, Mrs. William Martin, Mrs. Francis Millett, Mrs. Leta B. Mills, Mrs. Eleanor Moffatt, Mrs. Helen Monroe, Mrs. Ruth Morse, Mrs. James Murray, Mrs. Helen F. McNeilly, Mrs. Ruth Strawbridge, Mrs. Erskine White. The telephone number at Headquarters is WI 6-3463. Headquarters are open 10 a.m - 12 noon - 2 - 4 p. m. afternoons.

VISITATION EVANGELISM AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

During Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week a Visitation program was conducted by the Methodist Church. Sixteen men, including eight ministers visited throughout the parish and were very successful in setting a challenge for Christian Fellowship and Church Membership to a number of new people who have expressed their interest in the church.

DISTRICT DEPUTY MADE FIRST VISITATION IN WINCHESTER

On Tuesday evening, September 20, District Deputy Metropolitan P. E. R. James L. Kelleher of Medford Lodge, No. 915, was guest of Winchester Lodge of Elks, his first visitation, representing Grand Exalted Ruler Emmett T. Anderson. He was escorted by P. E. R. J. Frank Kelley, Grand Esquire.

The official suite was comprised of exalted rulers and officers of this district and also included Past District Deputies, Warren Cox, Harry McGrath, and eight past exalted rulers of Winchester Lodge. John O'Brien of Cambridge Lodge, president of the Massachusetts Elks Association was also present.

The district deputy was assisted by John J. Ward, Grand Secretary, who is Secretary of Medford Lodge, and the officers of Medford Lodge were the Grand Lodge Officers.

District Deputy Kelleher spoke highly of the cooperation he has received from the local lodge and extended to Winchester Lodge the greetings and best wishes of the Grand Exalted Ruler.

Gifts from the lodge were presented by Past Exalted Rulers William H. Holland and Charles E. Farrar.

RICHARDSON AT EPIPHANY CLUB

Senator Harris S. Richardson, Republican floor leader of the upper chamber on Beacon Hill, was guest speaker Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Epiphany Men's Club in the parish hall.

Introduced by the club president, Adm. William H. Buracker, Senator Richardson discussed frankly the highly controversial question of the transportation of parochial school children in buses paid for by tax money.

Senator Richardson urged his listeners to weigh well all aspects of this question before signing or solliciting signatures for referendum petitions seeking the repeal of a law passed by the State Legislature in 1936 permitting public school buses to transport children to private schools.

For himself, Senator Richardson is against the petition to have the repeal placed on the ballot, believing the proposal to exclude private and parochial school pupils from public school buses is sure to be beaten in any election by Democratic, and a great number of votes from Republicans, sincerely opposed to changing the existing statute because of the religious issues involved.

MRS. TILLEY'S 92ND

Mrs. George W. Tilley of 5 Lloyd street had her 92nd birthday Wednesday, September 28, and put in an active day, receiving neighbors and friends who dropped in with congratulations and best wishes, and having a delightful visit with relatives who drove to Winchester from Mrs. Tilley's old home in Newport, R. I., for the occasion. Among the Winchester visitors was Mrs. Tilley's rector, the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, of the Church of the Epiphany.

Mrs. Tilley received many flowers, cards and gifts, being particularly pleased with a handsomely decorated birthday cake, appropriately inscribed and sent by her family in Newport.

Active again after an illness in the spring, Mrs. Tilley has lived alone since the death of her husband, keeping her own house, the doors of which are always open to neighbors and friends, or any one in need of the inspiration this remarkable little woman can so well supply. The Star salutes her and extends very special birthday greetings!

POLAND — AUBREY

The marriage of Miss Nancy Jean Aubrey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Ewart Aubrey of Wynnewood, Pa., to Mr. Burdette Crawford Poland, of New York City took place on Wednesday evening, September 7, at Chester, Pa., in the chapel of Crozer Theological Seminary, of which Dr. Aubrey was president until he recently joined the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania. The Rev. Robert E. Keighton of the Seminary, former pastor of the Narberth (Pa.) Baptist Church performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Seymour Markle Jenkins (Georgiana Crawford) of New York, and Mr. Burdette K. Poland, of Deerfield, both former residents of Winchester. He is the grandson of Mr. Frank E. Crawford of this town.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by the sister of the groom, Mrs. Roy Pierce (Winnifred Poland) of Ithaca, N. Y., as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Enid Harris and Miss Margaret Goodman, both of Chicago, and the flower girls were Anne Cassady and Mary Pritchard, of Chester.

Edward Knudson, of Reading, was best man. The ushers were Donald Aubrey, brother of the bride; Roy Pierce, brother-in-law of the groom; Thomas E. Shepherd, Jr., of Newton, a cousin of the groom; and Robert Alfandre, of Washington, D. C.

The bride attended Swarthmore College, and is a graduate of the Peirce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia.

The bridegroom, an alumnus of Swarthmore College, class of '48, has been studying at the University of Grenoble, Grenoble, France, during the past year. He and his bride will live in Princeton, N. J., where he will be a graduate student in the Department of History at Princeton University.

GIANNOTTI — FIORE

The altar of St. Marv's Church was decorated with white and red carnations on Sunday afternoon, September 25, for the marriage of Miss Eleanor Ann Fiore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orazio Fiore of 43 Spruce street, to Peter Joseph Giannotti, son of Mrs. Rose Giannotti of 43 Highland street, Woburn. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Arnold Callahan, lyric tenor, was the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown designed and made by the mother of the bridegroom, of slipper satin, Princess style, trimmed with tulip lace and having a three-yard train of the same lace lined with rose. Her matching veil was held in place by a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a prayer-book decorated with a white orchid and streamers of babies breath.

Miss Sue Fiore of Winchester was her sister's only attendant. She wore a turquoise and aqua dress with a shoulder cape and a matching bonnet trimmed with Dubonnet feathers. Her flowers were red roses arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Joseph Burnarosa was best man for Mr. Giannotti and the ushers were Robert Fiore of Winchester and Robert Amari of Woburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Giannotti went on a motor tour of New Hampshire and Maine for their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, and Mr. Giannotti graduated from Woburn High School.

OBSERVED GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Foss of Winchester Arms, well known residents of Winchester, formerly of 15 Symmes road, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, September 25, with a family party at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Kibbe, 55 Fletcher street. The occasion was doubly significant in that it also marked the 89th birthday of Mr. Foss, now retired and one of those who recalls with pleasure his days of membership in the old Calumet Club.

Twenty relatives attended Sunday's anniversary party which was held during the afternoon and included a luncheon featuring an appropriately decorated anniversary cake. Mr. and Mrs. Foss were remembered during the day with flowers, gifts and many messages extending congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Foss were married in Malden September 25, 1899. They have made their home in Winchester for about 25 years, and besides their daughter, the former Beulah Foss, have three grandchildren, John Foss Kibbe, Anne Foss Kibbe and Linda Adams Kibbe.

OBSERVED 55TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Burgoyne observed their 55th wedding anniversary Sunday at their home on Norwood street. No formal celebration was planned but the Burgoynes received many flowers and other congratulatory messages, with many relatives and friends calling through the day to extend best wishes in person. Mr. Burgoyne has only recently recovered from a severe virus infection, but both he and Mrs. Burgoyne were in good health on their anniversary and able to greet their visitors personally and enjoy the day to the

FRED H. SCHOLL

Fred H. Scholl of 51 Vine street, prominent Winchester Elk and formerly steward of the old Calumet Club, died early Friday morning, September 23, at the Baker Memorial Hospital in Boston. He entered the hospital September 9 and underwent a serious operation on the Tuesday preceding his death.

Mr. Scholl was the son of Fred and Emilie (Vollmer) Scholl. He was born July 23, 1887, in New York City, but spent his boyhood in Newport, R. I., being educated in the Newport schools and working in that city as a pharmacist. He was also a member of the Newport Artillery Company, an important military organization, which in those years often acted as governor's escort on state occasions.

Mr. Scholl came to Winchester from Newport 36 years ago, first working in the pharmacy of the late Frank H. Knight, now McCormack's Apothecary. Later he was for 25 years steward of the old Calumet Club on Dix street, serving in that capacity until the club went out of existence. With the closing of the club he operated a restaurant on Main street in the center prior to World War II, during which time he served as a guard at the Roxbury Steel Company. At the time of his illness he was in the employ of the Fells Hardware Company on upper Main street, and he was also widely known to patrons of the Winchester Theatre through his service as a special police officer there.

Prominent in Greater Boston Elks' circles, Mr. Scholl was a charter member of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E., of which he was exalted ruler during 1926-27, and which he served often through the years as a member of important lodge committees. He served as treasurer of the Lodge's first charity ball in 1922 and was a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the 25th Anniversary of the lodge in May, 1947. He was District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler of Massachusetts Central in 1933, his homecoming visitation at the town hall in that year being an elaborate ceremonial. Besides the Elks he was also a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

On September 9, 1914, Mr. Scholl married Emily A. Thorne of Winchester, who survives him with two sons, Fred H. Scholl, Jr., and Robert W. Scholl, all of Winchester; and a brother, William J. Scholl of Belmont.

The Elks funeral ritual was exemplified Sunday evening at the Scholl residence by the officers of Winchester Lodge, headed by Exalted Ruler Francis W. Tansey.

The funeral took place Monday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis O'Neil. Rev. Fr. Patrick Kelley of St. Joseph's Church, East Woburn, was deacon and Rev. Fr. John O'Neil, subdeacon.

Bearers were six nephews of Mr. Scholl, Fred, Arthur and Emil Beauchamp of Woburn, William and Albert Queenin of that city and Albert Thorne, Jr., of Winchester. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

BUSINESS WOMEN MEET OCTOBER 5

The Business and Professional Women's Guild, First Congregational Church will meet Wednesday evening, October 5, at 7:30 in the Ladies' Parlor. There will be dessert and coffee served by Helen Monroe, Social Chairman, and her committee, followed by the business meeting and the program.

Miss Josephine Durrell of Melrose will speak on "Finger Painting," with a demonstration and exhibit, showing how this art may provide relaxation, hobby, and pleasure to women who work. Guests are very welcome, and a special invitation is extended to women in business or the professions.

PORTRAIT OF WINCHESTER WOMAN

Mr. Frederick Wallace is exhibiting a new portrait of Mrs. Laura Cochran of 18 Bonad road at the Guild of Boston Artists, 162 Newbury street, Boston. Mr. Wallace is well known as a portrait artist having won the portraiture prize several different times at the annual Jordan Marsh Art Exhibit. During the summer, a portrait by the artist was exhibited at the Winchester Public Library. Mrs. Cochran is wearing an off the shoulder black gown with a black lace mantilla draped over her

JOHN FRANKLIN STACKPOLE

John Franklin Stackpole of 16 Everett avenue, retired real estate operator who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, at that address, died Thursday morning, September 29, at the Winchester Hospital, after a long period of failing health.

Mr. Stackpole was born in Portland, Me., August 10, 1871, the son of John F., and Adelaide (Montgomery) Stackpole. He was for many years, until his retirement in 1940, engaged in the real estate business under the firm name of Brown and Stackpole with offices in the Park Square Building, Boston. He long owned and successfully operated Gray Gables Inn on Buzzard's Bay, former summer home of Ex-President Grover Cleveland.

He was responsible for the development of Gray Gables, a private colony of more than 100 houses on Buzzard's Bay; also developing Wellesley Park, Wellesley; Tahanto in Pocasset, Interlaken in Arlington, Quincy Shores, Quincy; and other large developments in New England.

A Mason, Mr. Stackpole was a life member of Somerville Royal Arch Chapter, Soley Lodge of Somerville, Coeur de Lion Commandery, Knights Templar, of Boston; and a member of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. He was also a member of the Central Club of Somerville, Boston City Club and an honorary member of The Tide Club of Cape Cod.

He formerly lived in Arlington on Robinhood road, and later on Buzzard's Bay before coming to make his home with his daughter in Winchester four years ago. Mrs. Meyer is the only survivor. Mr. Stackpole's wife, Mrs. Jane H. Stackpole, having died in May, 1942.

Masonic services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church by Clarence W. Russell, past master of William Parkman Lodge with the Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman as chaplain. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

REV. CARLTON P. MILLS

The Rev. Carlton P. Mills, a former resident of Winchester and educational secretary for the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts under Bishop Lawrence from 1904 to 1919, died Friday night, September 23, at his home in Nantucket at the age of 92.

A native of Williamstown, Mr. Mills was graduated from Williams College in the class of 1878, and from the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge in 1885. He was ordained a deacon in the latter year and in 1886 was ordained to the priesthood at the Church of the Epiphany, both ordinations being made by Bishop Paddock.

Mr. Mills was first rector of the Church of the Ascension in Waltham. He later served as rector of St. Paul's, Newton Highlands; St. Luke's, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Church of the Ascension, Boston; and St. Chrysostum's Church, Wollaston. He last served at the Church of the Redeemer in Lexington, retiring from his rectorship there and from the active ministry in 1926.

Mr. Mills came to Winchester from Wollaston in 1907, living at that time and for some years at 56 Fletcher street. He later lived on Arlington street before going to Lexington and after resigning from his rectorship there he returned to Winchester, living at 5 Lagrange street until he left town to take up residence in Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. Mills leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Roberts, wife of the Episcopal Bishop of Shanghai, China, and Mrs. Paul B. Badger of Nantucket.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Episcopal Church in Nantucket.

ATTENDING EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

Mrs. Merton Grush of Everett avenue is among those from Winchester attending the General Convention of the Episcopal Church which opened Tuesday in San Francisco. She is at the convention in an official capacity, representing all the women's work groups of the Episcopal Church in New England. On her way west she stopped and visited one of the church's western mission stations to study methods in use there at first hand.

Other Winchester residents at the convention are Archdeacon and Mrs. Arthur O. Phinney of Yale street, who left Boston by plane for San Francisco on Wednesday.

RECEIVED DEGREE IN ARCHITECTURE

Mr. Christopher D. Wadsworth of Cambridge, whose wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Heath of Everell road, has recently received his degree of Bachelor of Architecture from Harvard University, and is now an instructor of Architectural Design and Structural Design at the Mass. School of Art.

Mr. Wadsworth and his wife, who also has a degree in Architecture from the Harvard Graduate School of Design, are starting their own practice of Architecture and Interior Design. They have nearly completed the decorating of a modern house near Worcester.

TO ADDRESS WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Women's Republican Club will hold a meeting at the Music Hall, 55 Beacon street, Wednesday, October 5 at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, will preside. The speaker for the afternoon will be Representative Charles Gibbons, Republican Floor Leader. Tea will be served after Mr. Gibbons' address.

Many people compare Representative Gibbons to Abraham Lincoln, who was the first president of the Republican party. Charles Gibbons, the oldest of six children, was born in a two-room log cabin in the little town of Girdler, Kentucky, where his father was a country Baptist preacher. His early education was received in a one-room country schoolhouse. A resident of Stoneham, he was elected Representative from the twenty-second Middlesex District in 1943 and has served on the House Committees on Counties and Transportation and on the powerful Ways and Means Committee for four years, the last two as its vice-chairman. Representative Gibbons has the distinction of being the first minority floor leader of the Republican party in Massachusetts history.

WYMAN SCHOOL FALL MEETING AND TEA

The Fall Meeting and Tea sponsored by the Wyman chapter of the Winchester Mothers Association will be held on Wednesday, October fifth, in the Wyman School Auditorium at 2:45 P. M. This event will give the Mothers an opportunity to meet the teachers of their children. Miss Lawry will welcome the Mothers and Mrs. George A. Marks will speak on the "Winchester Scholarship Foundation." Arrangements have been made so that younger children will be cared for in room one.

DONATIONS ASKED

Donations for the Handkerchief Table would be gratefully appreciated at the first meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League to be held on October 21st at the home of Mrs. Thomas I. Freeburn, 35 Cabot street.

WINCHESTER ART ASSOCIATION

Opens Season October 4

The Winchester Art Association opens its 1949-50 season on Tuesday evening, October 4, with dual features that promise to be most interesting.

Mr. Holmes Hurll of Boston will give a talk on puppetry and illustrate his talk with an exhibition of puppets. Mr. Hurll is an advertising man with a hobby for puppets that has developed to professional status. He makes his own puppets, stages his exhibits and designs and makes all the costumes for his shows. There will be colored slides to illustrate his talk.

The additional, but important feature of the exhibition will be a showing of colored posters loaned by the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. One group is composed of French theatrical posters by the famous French artist, Jules Cheret. Artist Fred Taylor has a group of English and Continental posters used for resort advertising.

Among the French group will be shown a portrait of our beloved American actor, Joseph Jefferson, as Rip Van Winkle.

The posters will be on exhibition at the Winchester Library during the month of October.

EIGHT O'CLOCK CLUB TO MEET

The Eight O'Clock Club of the First Baptist Church will hold its first meeting of this year at the home of the President, Mrs. David B. Thoms, of 20 Maxwell road.

Mrs. Herbert D. Lamson has been invited to direct a group of discussions on child psychology. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 4, at 8:00 P. M.

LEWIS PARKHURST MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The first regular meeting of the Lewis Parkhurst Mothers' Association has been called by its President, Mrs. Paul E. Nason for Thursday, October 6th at 2:00 P. M. in the Auditorium of the Lewis Parkhurst School. Every mother or guardian of Lewis Parkhurst school children is considered a member of this organization, and it is sincerely hoped that as many as possible will attend this first meeting.

A subject of interest to all will be explained by Mrs. George A. Marks, "The Winchester Scholarship Foundation."

Mrs. Marks worked on the original committee establishing this foundation, and knows the workings of it completely.

A social hour with the teachers will follow at which tea will be served by Mrs. William F. Morton, Social Chairman, and her committee.

AWARDED NAVY YARD PRIZE

Frank M. Milne of 32 Pickering street was awarded a check for $15 last Friday in the Navy's Beneficial Suggestion program at the Boston Naval Shipyard. Milne was awarded the check for a new method of using gun barrels in the Outside Machine Shop where he is employed. He was the third time Milne was awarded a check in the Navy's suggestion program.

Forty-nine men and women were awarded checks for money-saving ideas they submitted in the shipyard's suggestion program, which encourages the submission of ideas to save time, money, materials or improve morale. Suggestions submitted by shipyard employees and adopted since the first of the year are resulting in savings of over $1,000 a day at the Hub shipyard.

Star adv. bring results.

ELDON WINKLER

Eldon Winkler, director of Wellesley Summer Theatre, who will open the 1949 Mornings of Diversion sponsored by the Winchester Wellesley Club at the Music Hall on October 7 with a talk on The Theatre Today - A Resume.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES STRESSED

"Recognition of extra curricular activities as important educational aids to the development of resourcefulness, initiative, responsibility, and leadership is one of the responsibilities of the American school," declared Principal Wade L. Grindle of Winchester High School last Friday morning as the school convened to hear from representatives of the school's clubs and organizations.

President Robert L. Walsh of the Student Council introduced the leaders or representatives of the many activities which make up an important part of school life.

In order of appearance they were Joan Wolsey, President of the Art Club; John Power, President of the Athletic Association; John Rocray, President of the Dramatic Club; Shirley Roberts substituting for Marjorie Mahoney, President of the Library Club; David Holdsworth, representative from the Mathematics Club; Miriam Parker, representative from the Music Appreciation Group; Sergei Sorokin, Editor of the school newspaper, The Red and Black; Marjorie Carroll, President of the Junior Red Cross; David Shiverick, President of The Rifle Club; Ruth Halm, member of the executive board of the Science Club; Bruce McGovern, representing the Spanish Club; and Bette Fitzgerald, representing the Thrift Association or banking. President Walsh represented the Student Council.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Glee Clubs of Winchester High School under the supervision of Miss Anifantis will present the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta H. M. S. Pinafore on December 9 and 10. This is the first operetta to be produced here in many years. The selection of principals and their supporting cast is progressing rapidly. Mr. Morse has charge of coaching the acting; Mr. Hayward, general business manager; and Mr. Weafer, staging.

Proceeds from the operetta will be used to purchase choir robes for the glee club and properties for the dramatic club.

The Winchester High School "Octette," under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Anifantis, had its first rehearsal on Friday, September 16. The members are Dorothy Brandt, Shirley Cary, Janice McCarthy, Joan McFarlane, Fay Carroll, Rebecca Jackson, Phoebe Greenwood, Nancy Dowe and accompanist Margaret Reid. The Octette is looking forward to a successful season with many engagements, the first of which will be Tuesday, October 25, singing for the Guild of the Infant Saviour at Lyceum Hall.

Elementary schools will close at two-thirty on Wednesday, October 19, to permit teachers to attend a professional meeting to be held at the Winchester Public Library. Notices of the shorter afternoon session will be sent to the homes by the various schools.

Thirty-five students enrolled in Winchester High School this year are new residents who formerly attended schools in Florida, New Hampshire, Vermont, Ohio, California, Virginia, New York, Maine, Guam, and Rhode Island, and in the Massachusetts towns and cities as follows: Woburn, Medford, Boston, Somerville, Winthrop, Burlington, Newton, Dedham, and Arlington.

UNIVERSITY SECRETARIAL SCHOOL

Another course in the new simplified Gregg Shorthand will begin on Monday, October 10, in both the day and evening divisions of the school.

Students now studying the new simplified Gregg Shorthand are making excellent progress, and the faculty believe that many of them will have attained a working speed in three months.

The location of the University Secretarial School in Harvard Square is particularly convenient for residents of Winchester who plan to attend the evening sessions.

97 Yard Run By McGowan and Smith's Place Kicking Featured

Winchester High won a 21-18 victory over Swampscott High last Saturday afternoon at Swampscott, scoring its first win over the Sculpins in three years.

Statistically, Winchester made 10 first downs and 193 yards on the ground to six first downs and 46½ yards for Swampscott on the ground. The Sculpins had a big edge in the air, completing eight of 19 passes for 137 yards, while Winchester couldn't complete any of its five forwards. Winchester fumbled six times to Swampscott's four, both clubs being hurt by their inability to hold on to the ball. Winchester lost 30 yards, and Swampscott, 40, to the white pants.

Winchester marched right down the field after taking the opening kickoff at its 21. Captain Paul Amico gained most of the ground in bull-like thrusts through the line, but both O'Brien and Dick Richmond turned in first down rushes to help. Amico climaxed the drive by hitting off tackle from the Swampscott seven to the one, and then slanting off right tackle for the score.

Langdon Smith and Jost Michelsen went into the game for the conversion and Smith booted in the extra point perfectly from placement.

Swampscott came right back. Karlyn took Errico's kickoff at his 20 and sprinted along the far sideline past everyone on the Winchester team, being pulled down from behind by Dan Devlin on the Winchester 22.

Karlyn, carried on a sweep to the Winchester 4 and Cordero added two off tackle. Cordero was piled up for a four yard loss. Carden was held without gain, but Winchester was called for offside and with the ball on the one yard line as the result of the penalty, Karlyn skirted Winchester's right end for the score. The try for point after was blocked.

Dave Hutchins paved the way for the second Winchester touchdown in the second quarter when he recovered a Swampscott fumble at Winchester's 35. With O'Brien and Richmond spelling him once each, Amico battered his way down the field to the Swampscott ten, belting his way over from there in three tries. Again Smith kicked in the extra point.

Swampscott took to the air with the resumption of play after the half, and with Karlyn doing some effective pitching to Carone and Keiver advanced deep into Winchester territory. Paul Amico intercepted a pass at his ten and got up five yards before he too fumbled. A Winchester boy recovered, but in turn fumbled, and Swampscott finally recovered at the Winchester 15.

Tony Cirurso broke up the next passing flurry by intercepting a pass at the Winchester five, but once again Amico fumbled on first down and Swampscott recovered at the 10.

The whole complexion of the game changed in an instant when Swampscott attempted an end sweep and the runner was hit hard by a Winchester secondary. The ball squirted from his arms into the eager hands of Paul McGowan who cut to the sidelines and galloped 97 yards for a touchdown with Mason and Murphy slowing a gaining Swampscott tackler just long enough to enable the tiring McGowan to go the distance. For the third time Smith kicked a perfect placement goal for the extra point with Michelsen holding.

With a 21-6 lead Coach Knowlton got his second and third stringers in there and Swampscott started the final quarter by taking the ball on downs at its 33 as a fourth down pass play failed.

An exchange of punts gave Swampscott the ball at its 48 as Bedard ran McGowan's punt back 35 yards. Karlyn then hit Kiever twice for first downs at the Winchester 40 and 30 yard stripes. He missed a third pass, but on second down he fired a long one to Corcoran who ran away from defender Jost Michelsen for the score. Once again Winchester blocked the kick.

Coach Knowlton got his regulars back in there, but Swampscott quickly recovered an O'Brien fumble at the Winchester 35.

It looked like Winchester had barred the door when Amico intercepted a Karlyn pass, but the local boys were offside on the play and Swampscott had another shot from the Winchester 30.

This time Karlyn hit Carone with a long pass that took the ball to the Winchester 12. Karlyn and Carone picked up six in two tries and on third down Karlyn passed to Kiever right at the coffin corner, the runner being knocked outside a foot from the Winchester goal. Carone reversed for the goal, going over standing up. The kick was no good again and the whistle blew four plays later. The summary:

WATERTOWN HERE SATURDAY

Winchester High plays its first home football game of the season Saturday afternoon at 2:00 at Manchester Field, playing Watertown High. Extra seats have been borrowed from Stoneham and for the first time there will be a reserved seat section for adult holders of season tickets.

Winchester is taking two wins in two starts into the Watertown game, but in the boys from the arsenal town the locals are meeting as strong a team as they will face all season.

Watertown, a legitimate Class B team, opened last Saturday by defeating Dedham 20-7. Dedham is no setup so it would seem that Winchester has its work cut out for tomorrow afternoon.

If the Watertown weights are right, there is little choice physically between the starting lineups, but the local coaches who scouted Watertown last Saturday brought back the report that Winchester's opponents tomorrow are big and rugged. This will be nothing new. Watertown has always been big and rough, yet the locals have played the visitors fairly even since resuming relations in 1945 after a lapse of 15 years.

Winchester and Watertown have split the four games they have played since resuming relations, the locals winning in 1945, 13-0, and in 1946, 7-0. Watertown took the next two, winning 7-0 in '47 and 6-0 last year.

A big improvement was noticeable in Winchester's showing at Swampscott over its play at Milton, and this week the Coaches have been working hard on the team's defense. With a green team this fall most of the early-season effort had to be directed toward getting the team's attack to function. As a consequence the locals have not been too potent defensively, especially in stopping an air attack.

With any kind of a day there will be a big crowd on hand, and if you don't have a reserved seat, you better get to the field early.

The opening of the big new A & P Market in Woburn this week recalls the proceedings which have been instituted against the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company to compel its division into seven companies. With its usual attack on so-called big business and much talk of crusading against monopolies the Government, while constantly attempting to get for its agencies an ever greater concentration of power to direct the every-day lives of the people, is decrying a food chain which by efficiency in purchase and distribution and the elimination of middle-men's profits, has been able to hand on to its customers substantial savings in their purchase of food. Customers of the A & P, and many of them are the "little fellows" to whom the "Fair Deal" pays loud-mouth lip service, may not know that the A & P is the largest food chain in the world. They may not, and probably do not know, that its share of the nation's grocery business, only 11.6 percent in 1933, had declined to 6.4 percent in 1947. If they did, they probably would wonder about that "monopoly" accusation. They do know that food prices are low at A & P, and it could just be that forcing higher prices for what they eat by breaking up the company will not appeal to President Truman's little friends as action in their interest.

GARRITY FALL CUP WINNER

Club Championship Reaches Final at Country Club

T. Edmond Garrity won the Fall Cup golf tournament at the Winchester Country Club last weekend, beating Don F. Connors in the final round, 3 and 1. This is a handicap tournament.

Walter "Tyke" Wilcox and David W. Shean, Jr., are finalists in the important Club Championship tournament, which is a scratch event with the semi-finals being played last week-end.

Wilcox beat Charles S. Eaton in the round of four, 6 and 5, while Shean beat J. Norton Kidder, 2 up.

The Childrens' Corner promises to be a popular spot for young and old alike at the Craft and Food Sale sponsored by the Hobby Center this coming Saturday afternoon, October 1, from 1:30 to 5:30

PARKHURST SCHOOL ACCEPTED

Citing the spontaneous and unanimous choice of the name of Lewis Parkhurst for the new elementary school on Andrews Hill as Winchester's tribute to a loved and honored citizen, Mr. Philip Wadsworth, Town Moderator, spoke for all of Winchester's citizens as the new school was formally accepted from the Building Committee last Sunday afternoon. In extending his remarks, Mr. Wadsworth said the Building Committee had prevailed over topographical and economic adversity to provide a modern school.

Mrs. Paul E. Nason, President of the Lewis Parkhurst School Mothers' Association presided. In her brief remarks, Mrs. Nason called the occasion a special day for residents west of Cambridge street who have eagerly awaited opening of "The school on the hill."

Mr. Daniel Barnard, Chairman of the Building Committee, introduced members of his committee and complimented those who had the foresight to purchase a school site to relieve the Wyman school of the extra burden caused by the large number of children from the rapidly developing district. He particularly mentioned Mr. William Parsons, Chairman of the school building site committee, former members of the school committee, Mr. Neil Borden and Dr. Harry Mueller, who had been ardent workers for the school, and Dr. Forbes H. Norris, Superintendent of Schools, who had so ably interpreted school needs for the Building Committee's use.

Captain Richard Rush, speaking for the School Committee in the absence of Chairman William Speers, praised his fellow committee men, and said that his personal opposition to the school had been largely replaced by a feeling of satisfaction with the modern Parkhurst School. Captain Rush spoke for the Committee as thankful for Winchester's answer to a pressing school housing situation and said that he believed the town would recognize the further need for an improvement in junior and senior high school facilities.

Parker Blanchard, Finance Officer of Winchester Post 97 American Legion presented an American Flag for the new school and said the Legion shared the belief that children would think of it as a symbol of America.

Mr. Thomas Duddy, Commander of Aberjona Post, No. 3178, Veterans of Foreign Wars, presented the flag of the Commonwealth to the new school and drew the applause of the audience at mention of the V. F. W. building in construction.

After the Pledge of Allegiance led by Miss Martha Cunningham, and The Star Spangled Banner by Mrs. Mildred Abrahamson, the audience adjourned to the classrooms for further inspection.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the Winchester Public School Faculty Trio, composed of Miss Helen Goodwin, Mr. Fred Felmet, and Miss Eleanor Anifantis, supervisors of vocal and instrumental music.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH FORMS ORCHESTRA

The First Congregational Church has added an orchestra to its church organizations as an outlet for the many talented musicians in the society.

Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, wife of the church pastor, entertained the members of the orchestra Wednesday evening at a buffet supper at the Chidley home, "Grey Rocks" on Fernway. A rehearsal and pleasant social hour followed the supper.

Already the orchestra has two engagements, being scheduled to play at the Harvest Home supper of the church on October 19 and again at the Parish Players opening production of the season, November 3-4-5, in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire.

Mrs. Robert A. Drake and Mr. Herbert Clement, the latter studying at the New England Conservatory of Music where he is specializing in orchestra, are joint directors of the new musical group.

Members include Mrs. Horace P. Abbott, Mr. James S. Allen, Mrs. William M. Burrows, Mr. T. Parker Clarke, Mr. Herbert P. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Rex T. Crandall, Mrs. Robert A. Drake, Mrs. Colver P. Dyer, Miss Helen Goodwin, Mrs. Winfield S. Hanson, Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, Mr. H. Kelsea Moore, Jr., Mrs. George E. Niles, Miss Lenore Rich and Mrs. Donald P. Stone.

WINCHESTER "CASEYS" HELD OUTING

Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, "210", held its annual outing last Sunday at the Tyngsboro Country Club with one of the largest and most successful affairs to be held in recent years.

Leaving Winchester about ten o'clock in the morning, the Knights found everything in readiness at the club, due to the excellent planning of Chairman Bill Dailey and his hard working committee.

The day was spent playing various games, such as golf, tennis, softball, horseshoes and shuffleboard. One specialty race, a live chicken race, was won by Brother Joe Nash, with Joe Noonan, second, and Mitch Mawn, a poor third.

Reports of the horseshoe competition seem to be unofficial and fragmentary with some saying "Willie" McLaughlin was the winner, and some saying "no"! Apparently the distance was 46 ft. which is not to McLaughlin's liking, he being used to the strictly official length of 40 ft. between stakes!

At noon an excellent meal, was catered by Emil Beauchamp, consisting of Roast Stuffed Chicken with all the fixings, and here's hoping Brother Dick Nihan had enough. Your correspondent almost forgot Brother Leo Garvey and Brother Foley took top honors for the Golf Match.

It was a day long to be remembered with the brothers already looking forward to next year's outing.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The Winchester Guild of the Infant Saviour will hold a dessert bridge on Tuesday, October 11 at 1:30 in Lyceum Hall. Mrs. Chester R. Powers, is chairman and will be assisted by the board.

At the October 25 meeting the new spiritual director, Rev. Thomas H. Kennedy will be the guest speaker. Entertainment will be provided by the Winchester High School Octette under the supervision of Miss Anifantis.

A meeting was held recently at the home of the president, Mrs. Chester R. Powers to make plans for the bazaar to be held November 29.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED

September 24 marked the Joint Installation of Winchester Post No. 97, the American Legion and its Auxiliary.

Distinguished guests headed by Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers, and State and County Officers of the American Legion and Auxiliary were among the large crowd of over four hundred people who attended this event.

The opening prayer was given by the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, Pastor of the First Baptist Church. Later in the program the Rev. Mr. Bailey also gave an address to the assemblage.

MONDAY EVENING FORUM

Alcoholism and drug addiction, two of the nation's most serious social problems, will be discussed by Dr. Joseph Thimann, Director of the Washingtonian Hospital, Monday, October 3, at 8:00 p. m. at the Unitarian Church.

Dr. Thimann is sponsored by the Evening Group of the Womens Alliance. The subject of his talk will be "Personality Disorders." An internationally known specialist in his field, Dr. Thimann is well qualified to speak with authority on this subject. The Washingtonian Hospital in Boston is unique in America as the only hospital devoted exclusively to the treatment and rehabilitation of alcohol and drug addicts.

The forum will be held in the Metcalf Union Room and is open to the public. A discussion period will follow. Coffee will be served in the Ladies Parlor by Mrs. Earle F. Littleton, and Mrs. Ralph M. Manning.

INTERESTING TV PROGRAM

For the first time in television a program will be broadcast this Friday evening over WBZ-TV opening the Community Fund drive. The program will be broadeast from 8.30 to 9 p. m. just preceding the speech by President Truman.

Winchester Unitarian Sunday School will not open before Sunday, October 9th on account of redecorating and painting.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY MET HERE

The first regular meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society was held on Thursday, September 22nd, at the home of the President, Mrs. Jost J. Michelsen of Winchester.

Following a short business meeting, Mrs. John M. Wilcox, chairman of the Program Committee, introduced Mrs. Jost J. Michelsen, who gave a very interesting talk on her seven weeks trip in Germany this past summer. Mrs. Michelsen told of the post-war conditions concerning the people in general, education, medicine, religion and business.

AUXILIARY DANCE

On Saturday evening, October 8, 1949, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Winchester Post No. 97, the American Legion, will hold a Pre-Columbus Day Dance at the Legion Home, 34 Vine street, at 8 P. M.

Friends of the Post and the Auxiliary are also invited to attend. A wonderful evening of dancing is in store for everyone. Further enjoyment is added to the evening's pleasure when each one who attends knows he or she is aiding the Auxiliary in their work at Bedford Veteran's Hospital. Be sure to make October 8th a "must" on your pleasure calendar.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Freeburn have returned to Danville, Ill., having spent two weeks vacation with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Freeburn, 35 Cabot

"UNREALITY" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, October 2.
GOLDEN TEXT: "The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit" (Proverbs 12:5).
SERMON: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:
"Thou shalt not kill. Neither shalt thou commit adultery" (Deuteronomy 5:17,18).
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include:
"Infidelity to the marriage covenant is the social scourge of all races, 'the pestilence that walketh in darkness, ... the destruction that wasteth at noonday.' The commandment, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery,' is no less imperative than the one, 'Thou shalt not kill' " (p. 56).

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB BOARD MEETING HELD

A most successful board meeting of the Women's Republican Club was held Wednesday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes. A roll call showed that every officer and committee chairman was represented. Coffee, which Mrs. Frank R. Creelman poured, was served before the meeting.

Mrs. Barnes announced that all meeting places had been arranged. The Board members voted to subscribe to the Salvation Army Drive. Mrs. Philip J. Woodward, chairman of the Education Committee, announced that tickets are now available for the current event series of lectures. The first three of the series will be morning coffee lectures at the Music Hall. The date of the first lecture will be Wednesday, October 19 and the speaker will be Mr. William E. Mullins, political reporter of the Boston Herald and expert on both State and National Politics. The second lecture will be held on Thursday, November 17. Mrs. Vera Cazmay, nationally known lecturer on current events and third president of Women's Republican Club of Cambridge will be the speaker. The third lecture on Wednesday, March 15 will bring Mr. Thomas Temple Pond, former New England Chairman of the National Economy League and prominent Boston Insurance Executive. On Monday, April 10 at 8:30 p. m. the ever popular Mr. Philip Cummings will speak at the Lewis Parkhurst School. Mrs. Philip J. Woodworth is in charge of tickets.

SCHOOL LIBRARY A BUSY PLACE

Seating but forty-two students, the Winchester High School library accommodated students who made about 1,500 appearances during the first weeks of school. During that period 893 of the library's 5,757 volumes were borrowed for the customary two-week period.

The library subscribes to four daily newspapers and 35 periodicals. Two hundred new books are being added this fall.

Equipped with the customary card catalogue, vertical file, Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, Current Biography, Americana and Britannica encyclopedias, Dictionaries of Biography, American History, etc., and a large number of other reference volumes, the school library provides the students and faculty with the reading materials necessary for the success of the educational program, with materials for recreational reading, and with the reference facilities to stimulate an interest in books and reading.

Instruction in the use of library facilities is a regular part of the library's service. Other service features are the maintenance and charging out of selected reference books for various subject teachers, filing pamphlets, unbound magazines, and other items for "source papers", and preparing bibliographies for special subjects.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., is attending the meetings in Cleveland, Ohio, of the American Hospital Association, the American College of Hospital Administrators, and allied organizations. A well-balanced program consists of six general sessions and group meetings at which experts will be heard and members will discuss such topics as (1) the working of compulsory health insurance, (2) the elements of good hospital care and how to organize to obtain it, (3) the relationship of the hospital to the community and of the nation's hospitals to the government and the public, and (4) problems of securing funds from public and private sources. Among the many morning meetings is one of hospital administrators and hospital architects, another of pediatric divisions of general hospitals, and a third of hospital purchasing agents. The second annual congress of women's hospital auxiliaries is being held concurrently, and is considering subjects ranging from the understanding of a hospital's financial problems to the organizing, recruiting, and training of volunteer workers. The Directors of Winchester Hospital expect to profit from Mr. Paine's report of these meetings.

Miss Mildred Bagley, Obstetrical Supervisor, is taking a four-hour semester course in Obstetrical Nursing at Boston University.

The Modern Woman

appreciates the efficiency of paying household and personal bills by check. That's why so many women have opened ThriftiCheck accounts at the Winchester Trust Company and are making use of this convenient, inexpensive service.

The only cost is $2 for twenty checks. Your name is printed on every check without charge. Open your account with any amount you wish to deposit. No minimum balance is required. There is no service or maintenance charge.

NOONAN - WASHINGTON SCHOOLS

The Washington School reports quite a sharp increase in new students with a loss of very few of last year's. The entire school enjoyed a movie on Maryland last week. This week Mr. Felmet gave musical aptitude tests to fourth and fifth grade students to test their tone and pitch and to find their qualifications for playing instruments requiring good pitch and tone. The third grade will present what promises to be a very worthwhile assembly on October 17, their first of the year.

The Noonan School also has an increase in enrollment with one second grade having twelve girls and twelve boys. On Thursday, September 22, the school saw a film on Maryland. Their aptitude tests were given on September 28. October 17 is the date for their Red Cross Good Citizenship Assembly.

The first grade students are eagerly awaiting the growth of the grapefruit seeds they have planted.

For social studies the second grade is making booklets on "People Who Come to Our House."

The third grade is studying the American Indians.

The fourth grade has received books from the Winchester Library to aid them in their study of Switzerland for social studies.

The fifth grade, besides busily reviewing fourth grade work, are studying the early explorers, the compass, and printing. The students have brought to school compasses and are carrying out typical activities in connection with this unit. Miss Sullivan's class has started a book club for their library reading.

The sixth grade is striving for a closer teacher-pupil relationship. The front of the room is decked with a personal envelope for each student in which he places notes to the teacher and she in turn answers them.

Each afternoon the sixth grade holds a music appreciation program in which the students are responsible for information regarding the composers. They are preparing for their work in junior high by learning to do research work and make oral reports and for future good citizenship by studying our town government.

LOCAL BREAKS SOLVED

The Winchester Police, and especially Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy, have been busy since the first of last August working on a series of breaks and the thefts of small sums of money from physicians' offices in town.

Yesterday Sgt. Cassidy took into custody two boys living in town, one 14 and one 15 years of age. At Headquarters one of the boys was identified by the secretary of one of the physicians as having been at his office one morning before opening time.

Police say the boys admitted that one of them had stolen the sums of money from the physicians, but the older of the two insisted that he had taken the money from him and was going to return it over the past week-end, being unable to find an opportunity to do so.

Chief Charles J. Harrold stated that restitution of the money has been made and that there will be no prosecution.

Outstanding Values: (1) In highly desirable mid-town neighborhood, a "quality built" house; only 25 years old and in perfect condition, clean throughout and ready to move into: 6 rooms and bath plus sun-parlor and basement gameroom. H. W. heat with oil burner. Price $17,900. See it - make an offer. (2) A fine home of the older type but in good condition; 8 rooms, 2 baths, hot-air heat with oil-burner. Price $17,500. Is also ready to occupy. See it - make an offer. (3) Attractively situated Parkway home, near High School and Public Library; an excellent buy for a small family and is in good repair: modern kitchen, 4 nice bedrooms and bath. Oil heat. Price $16,000. See it - make an offer.

DO YOU PLAN TO BUILD? Let me suggest a most desirable building lot, on a quiet non-thoroughfare street - 13,128 square feet, with a majestic elm, beautiful birch and maples creating a setting of exceptional beauty; a level deep-soiled lot with no betterments to pay. Set-off from neighbors assures unusual privacy. Such lots are hard to find. This is your opportunity to acquire a choice site for your home.
